International Debate Team Here Oct. 19

For the third time in recent years, Pacific Lutheran College will be host to the famous international debaters from Oxford University in England. The English forensics team will be on the campus Monday evening, Oct. 19, at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Chapel-Music-Speech building.

The local appearance of the Oxford men will be sponsored by the PLC Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta working through the Department of Speech.

John Rydgren and John Osburn, senior debaters, have been selected to represent PLC in this event. "This is the highest honor which can be given a college debator," Prof. Theo. O. H. Karl, chairman of the Department of Speech, said Thursday. Janet Klippen, junior speech major, will act as mistress of ceremonies.

The topic for debate will be: "Resolved That Approval Should Be Given to the Far Eastern Policy of the Present American Administration." The PLC team will take the affirmative side of the question.

Taking the negative side will be Patrick Mayhew of Berkshire, England, and John Peters of Surrey, England. Mayhew attended Tonbridge School, Balliol College, Oxford University. Peters studied at Downside School in the same college.

The Oxford style of debate will be employed. This calls for four 10 minute constructive speeches, and four five-minute speeches in rebuttal.

"In the past the visit of the international debaters has been one of the highlights of the school year," Prof. Karl stated, "and we are sure that this year will be no exception. We have an excellent team in Rydgren and Osburn, and we expect them to give the English visitors an interesting and highly competitive evening."

Glen Johnson to Be Inter-Club President

The Inter-club Council meets October 6th. Glen Johnson, vice-president of the Student Body, will serve as president. Elwood Rieke, vice-president; Faith Bueltmah, recording secretary; Mina Raaen, corresponding secretary; Richard Stuhlmiller, parliamentarian. The treasurer will be appointed by the student council.

Jo Hanssen Is New Editor of Mooring Mast

Jo Hanssen, freshman, was chosen editor-in-chief of the Mooring Mast by the Associated Student Body, and approved by the Faculty Committee on Publications, Mr. Milton Nesvig, adviser, announced recently.

Other students holding offices on the staff are: news editor, Eleanor Jackson; business manager, Jerry Slattum; copy editor, John Shannon; advertising manager, Donna Miller; sports editors, Ronald Johnson and Catherine Sannerud; and make-up editor, Joan Kittelson.

Lutes Battle For 'Handsomeness' Crown

Seven masculine lovelies presented themselves to the student body Wednesday night on the steps of Old Main to vie for the title of "Handsomeness."

Contestants in the annual contest are Bob Ross, senior, who is sponsored by Blue Key Club; John Holum, junior, sponsored by Spurs; Kenneth Robinson, freshman, sponsored by Cloyer Creek; Jirayr Kayaian, freshman, sponsored by the freshman class; Duane Romo, sophomore, sponsored by the sophomore class; and Don Morris, junior, sponsored by day room girls; David Wold, sophomore, sponsored by Kappa Rho Kappa.

The winner and the runners-up will be crowned by Homecoming Queen Luella I during the half-time of the Powder Puff Bowl game. "Handsomeness" will receive a mug with a picture of himself and a medal.

Stanley Jacobson and Gordon Huesby of Alpha Phi Omega are co-chairmen of the contest.

"This is one of the fastest-moving campaigns we've ever had," Gordon enthused.

Voting began Wednesday evening in the lobby of Old Main. Students paid a penny a vote, the proceeds perhaps will go to the proposed Student Union Building lounge.

The final returns were not available when the paper went to press.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the two new dormitories will be held on Founders Day, Wednesday, Oct. 14, the 59th anniversary of the founding of the College.

Viking Club Elects Phil Wigen Prexy

Phillip Wigen was elected president of the Viking Club at the first meeting, held last Tuesday.

Other officers selected at this time were Duane Romo, vice-president; Thelma Nygaard, secretary; Luella Vig, treasurer; and Ernie Carlson, Inter-club Council representative. Professors Trygve O. Svare and Gunnar J. Malmn were elected as co-advisers.

The Viking club is an organization promoting interest in the study of Scandinavian languages, music, and culture.

Nielson Elected Soph President

Topper Nielson is the new president of the Sophomore class as the result of the recent election.

Other officers are: Anne Stewart, vice-president; Jean Cogburn, secretary; Gordon Strom, treasurer; Elwood Rieke, Inter-club council representative.

Miss Runbeck Taking Over Michelson Post

Junet Runbeck has been appointed to the college faculty to take the place of Ruth Michelson who has taken a year's leave of absence for health reasons. Miss Michelson left the campus last week for Portland, Ore., where she is staying with relatives.

Miss Runbeck, who will be supervisor of teaching training, was graduated from PLC in 1935. She received her B. A. degree from the College of Puget Sound. For the past 10 years she has been a primary teacher and librarian in Tacoma Public Schools. Prior to that she taught in Issaquah.

The new faculty member is active in local educational circles, and holds membership in the Tacoma Association of Classroom Teachers, the Washington Educational Association and the National Educational Association. She has been granted a year's leave of absence from Tacoma to help out the College in this emergency.

Langlie Will Crown Queen Tonight at 8

With only a few last minute preparations left to make, all of Luteville is anxiously awaiting the official beginning of the 1953 Homecoming festivities. That time is 8 p.m. tonight in the C-M-S auditorium when Queen Luella I will begin her three-day reign.

Assisting Queen Luella in her regal duties will be Princesses Alta and Gloria.

Governor Arthur B. Langlie will crown the Ketchikan beauty as the main attraction of Coronation Night. Also on the star-studded program will be some of the best talent PLC has produced in the last decade.

Following the Coronation, a pep rally will be held adjacent to the gym. Waiting to "pep up" the Lute rosters will be the yell squad, Coach Marv Harshman and his Gladiators, the band and the Queen and her court.

After this, alums will gather in the SUB for an informal coffee hour.

Saturday, football will take the spotlight. At 9 a.m. the frosh "Bruising Bustles" and the upperclass "Galloping Girdles" will do battle for the feminine pigskin championship. At halftime, PLC's Handsome Harry will be crowned and the annual frosh vs. soph tug o' war will be held.

Immediately following, at 10:30, some 24 floats will leave Parkland for the traditional Homecoming parade. The floats were constructed with the theme, "PLC Grows with Washington" in mind.

At 2 p.m. in Lincoln Bowl, the Gladiators will square off against the Central Washington Wildcats.

The annual alumni banquet will be held at 5:30 in SUB.

Feature of Theatre Night, scheduled for 8:30 in the C-M-S auditorium, will be Jack Rank, nationally known Shakespearean actor. He will present "The Taming of the Shrew," in which he portrays all the characters.

Sunday morning the "Choir of the West" will make its first appearance. They will sing two numbers at the morning worship service, to be held at 11 a.m. in the C-M-S. Dr. J. P. Pflueger will deliver the sermon.

Throughout the day, visitors will be taken on guided tours of the campus and open house will be observed in all dormitories.

Ivy Hall Girls Vote To Let Boys Come In

Boys calling for their dates in Ivy Hall will no longer have to stand out in the rain.

"They're not allowed to come inside," was the complaint registered by the girls to the student council last week, "so we just have to let them stay out in the rain 'til we're ready."

A meeting was held with Miss Margaret Wickstrom, the Dean of Women, and it was decided that boys should be allowed to call for their dates in the general lounge of Ivy Hall from 6:30 to 9:30 on Friday and Saturday evenings.

Lutes Should Observe Parking Rules

Here at Pacific Lutheran College we have very few rules, but those we have, have a definite purpose. One of these is that no cars are to be parked directly in front of the school. The curb has been painted yellow to show this and still cars park here daily. You may say, "Why have this rule anyway." Here is your answer:

In times past, as is done now, students dash off the front curb without looking and are not seen by oncoming cars. The result can be very tragic as it was once in the past when a student was injured. We don't want this to happen again, so if you drive a car to school please use the parking area provided for you.

Right Attitude Makes School

"Well, the old campus has certainly improved!"
 "Things weren't this nice when I graduated."
 We're liable to hear a lot of that sort of comments this weekend as the alumni come back and view the rapidly growing, ever improving institution that is Pacific Lutheran College.

And we will be proud; proud because here we have something of which we can justly boast, these fine buildings, this beautiful campus that seems to be constantly developing under the hand of a Divine Sculptor. But let us not forget that the stately buildings and a lovely campus alone do not make a great college.

Pacific Lutheran's greatest asset has always been, is now, and will never cease to be the attitude of its students. Let's show the graduates that we're still moving ahead on that point, conduct ourselves with the poise and maturity expected from our school, and do nothing to shame ourselves or campus.

Predictions For The Future

By Ron Johnson

Sheepishly I pulled my head out from the pit of my stomach and smiled weakly at the editor, who towered menacingly above me. "You're writing a column for this week . . . see," she said. I smiled.

"And make it good," she continued, "None of that old slop about welcoming the freshmen to the campus. Some of the big issues . . . see!"

"But, but . . ." I started to protest, but to no avail. The generalissimo had womanfully strode from the room.

Having exhausted all possible topics for a column, I decided to fall back on the old standby—predictions.

Sept. 21—Dr. Eastvoid opens the present school year amid grinding of TV cameras. A good year is in prospect.

Oct. 1—Weather bureau states yesterday's snowfall earliest in Tacoma's history.

Oct. 19—Lutes lose conference championship to UBC by one point.

Nov. 28—Thanksgiving. Yippee!

Dec. 19—Everyone gets double cuts for starting Christmas vacation one day early.

Jan. 3—Bookstore mobbed. Students start studying.

Feb. 1—New term starts with 88.3% of frosh on probation.

June 4—Young men's fancy turns to thoughts of working in Alaska.

Glad-about Town

By Ed Kennedy

It is not often nowadays that grand opera attracts a sell-out audience, but such was the case at Tacoma's Temple Theatre Tuesday evening when the Northwest Grand Opera Association presented Puccini's "La Boheme." Although this is one of the most appealing of all operas, its box office popularity was undoubtedly enhanced by the presence of the great Brazilian soprano Bidu Sayao.

Mme. Sayao's characterization of Mimi is one of her best roles, and on this occasion she proved that even when she is not in top vocal form she can still put across the fragile, pathetic little flower maker with convincing artistry and sing the "Addio" better than most of her contemporaries. Gabor Carelli as Rodolfo got off to a slow start but steadily improved through the evening. As Marcello, Edwin Dunning was consistently fine, while Sylvia Woolfson lacked vocal color and even accuracy as Musetta.

Eugene Linden, the conductor, kept a good balance between orchestra, soloists, and chorus, and kept the action moving at a pace that did not lag but also did not destroy the poignancy of the story and the music. The audience demonstrated its enthusiasm frequently and sufficiently—we hope—to insure more operatic productions in Tacoma.

Students to Receive Saga During Summer

The 1953-54 Sagas will be distributed some time during the summer months, Marciel Fink, editor-in-chief, has announced.

This was the result of a student vote taken during student body day in the chapel Tuesday. Ninety-five per cent of the students who were present voted for the summer distribution.

"This arrangement will save the student body $1,100," she revealed, "due to a special arrangement with a California printer."

Boys Against 'Dutch Treat' Suggestion, Claim It's Against Too Many Traditions

Boys at PLC believe that "going Dutch" on a date is against too many traditions and not a good practice, according to a recent poll. The girls, however, are of the opposite opinion.

Ron Johnson: "Informal occasions yes, formal no."

Donald Mann: "Under no circumstances."

Ed Beufler: "Sounds like a good idea, but it won't work."

John Rydgren: "Economically yes, traditionally no—but then."

Walt Ball: "Better if the girl pays for it all."

Bill Hansen: "It's okay for the Dutch."

Garnet Lund: "Depends on the nationality of the personality involved."

Ron Smith: "As a rule no."

Dariene Haugen: "Occasionally yes, but as a habit no."

Iris Nordman: "It's only fair."

Greta Johnson: "I think it's okay"

if the boy is working his way through college."

Beverly Sveningsen: "Depends how much you want to go out."

Dave Nesvig: "I think it's a great idea. It gives the girls a chance to show their appreciation. I heartily agree with Dr. Eastvoid's position."

Carolyn Haagner: "The girls will have to expect to pay occasionally."

Lorraine Schmik: "When it comes to a choice between staying home with the girls or paying to go out with a boy, I'll pay any day."

June Sather: "I think it all depends upon how well you know the boy. Some could run that custom into the ground."

Helen Van Dyke: "Some boys are too proud to suggest it themselves, so it's up to the girl. If she has been out with him enough times and she thinks it would be appropriate, she should offer."

Eleanor Jackson: "Sometimes it's a lot more fun to go Dutch."

Western Defeats Lutes, Score 8-7

In the opening game of the Evergreen Conference play the PLC Gladiators met defeat at the hands of the Western Washington Vikings. Although they played an outstanding game, a couple of bad breaks and a hard charging Viking line proved to be too much for the Lutes.

PLC kicked off to Western in the opening stanza and the ball came to rest on the Western 18 yard line. Both teams were forced to punt on fourth downs until a pass to Ron Billings brought the ball to the Western 32. Two more plays brought the Lutes to the Western 15 when Burger of Western capitalized on a Lute fumble and galloped 85 yards for the first score of the game. The try for point was no good and the score was 6-0. From there on the game see-sawed back and forth for the rest of the first quarter and the score stood at 6-0 at the quarter.

Early in the second quarter the Lutes were again in scoring position when another fumble put the ball in the hands of the Vikings. Both teams showed strength on defense and the half ended 6-0 with Western threatening just once when they lost the ball on downs on the PLC 10 yard line.

In the third quarter Western controlled the ball much of the time and in the last few minutes of play in the quarter PLC got control of the ball on their own 11. An attempted punt was blocked into the end zone and the whole Western line converged on the ball for a safety and the third quarter ended with Western leading 8-0.

PLC scored midway in the fourth stanza when Carl Ferguson intercepted a pass and romped 48 yards for the TD. Billings' kick was good and the score stood 8-7. Neither team was able to get into scoring position for the remainder of the game and it ended with PLC on the short end of the score.

The game was evenly contested through the biggest part of the game, and the Lutes showed good spirit throughout the game.

News from the Bench

By Ron Johnson

Homecoming—a beautiful queen, a beautiful weekend, a winning team, and spirit. All these things prevail at most homecomings.

The weather may not be excellent, but it usually turns out pretty nice.

There isn't always a beautiful queen, but PLC has always had one, and this year is no exception. We are extremely fortunate to have such a pretty girl, who combines beauty and devotion to PLC.

A winning team; not always! At homecoming, a team will fight its heart out to win that all-important game. Defeated game after game, a team will upset a nationally ranked team in their homecoming game. Such is the winning spirit that burns in the hearts of all football players.

As I said, all these things prevail, but the most important of those listed above is "spirit."

Spirit is a hard word to define. To most people, it means loyalty, standing up for one's school, cheering at football games, et cetera. That is part of the definition, but the most important is usually ignored.

Homecoming brings alumni, parents, and friends to our campus. May I wish all of these a hearty welcome, and a pleasant weekend here at PLC. Proud of my college, I'm always anxious to show visitors around, direct them to their destination, and tell them about the school in general. This, to me, is the missing part in the definition of the word "spirit." All of you should be very proud of PLC, and glad to show visitors around the grounds. This will promote friendship, and may help the school in other ways; you can never tell.

Let's have the biggest, loudest, noisiest cheering section ever heard in Lincoln Bowl tomorrow. Bring the team out of the huddle with a tremendous "fight" or "charge." Yell until you are completely hoarse; then start clapping your hands! When your hands are broken and bruised, click your teeth together, but do it loudly. Make a lot of noise; let the team know you are there.

As for my predictions last week, we'll pass over them quickly. Iowa 54, WSC 12. My prediction: WSC over Iowa. Then there Cougars got treed. Whitworth 42, EWCE 7. Mine: Eastern over the Pirates. Who' hopen? CWCE 33, UBC 12. Again I miss. The Canadians must have been watching the coronation on TV the night before. WWCE 8, PLC 7. Mine: PLC 14, WWCE 13. Oh, well, what's a point either way between friends?

UW 28, OSC 0. Yippee! I got one right!

Next week: USC 42, UW 13; Oregon 19, WSC 13; Whitworth 27, CPS 13; PLC 20, CWCE 13.

Trinity was too must for Hobart, and the Statesmen were dumped. 32-0. Hobart will come back, and knock out a victory.

Ball, Billings to Appear On TV Sports Show

Little All-American Ron Billings and Co-Captain Jim Ball will appear on Bob Robertson's TV Sport show tonight at 6:00. They will also be heard on Robertson's radio show immediately following the TV broadcast. Tune in Channel 13 and hear Ron's and Jim's opinions for the game tomorrow.

Frank Karwoski will be heard tomorrow morning at 10 on KTNT.

Player of the Week

Our choice for player of the week goes to a very reliable halfback wearing the numerals "51" and goes by the name of Frank Lancaster. Standing six feet and weighing a rugged 190, Frank has seen lots of action with the Lutes and will more than likely see plenty more as the season passes.

Last week at Bellingham Frank played an outstanding game at his secondary position on defense plus doing some fine, hard running from his halfback slot on offense. He did a nice job of stopping those dangerous Western passes then applied some bone-crushing tackles as the Western backs attempted to move the ball forward via the ground.

Frank has proven himself as a sixty minute man. In the first three ball games he has seen close to 60 minutes in each contest, getting only a brief rest before the four minute rule in the fourth quarter.

On this coming Saturday when PLC plays host to the Central Wildcats Harshman's protege will be called upon to pack that pigskin and stop the Wildcats, both of which he is more than capable of doing. When at the game Saturday keep your eyes on those numerals "51"—you will be watching a real football player.

Intramural Opens; Tacoma Winner

Opening the intramural season Tuesday afternoon, Tacoma won a forfeit from Central Parkland and Western showed power in downing Northwest Barracks, 20-6. The Lesters, Bud and Bob, each scored a touchdown, and played an outstanding game.

Tacoma and Western should be fighting it out for the title this year, although the Faculty may have a razzle-dazzle outfit. This remains to be seen.

Gladiators, Central Wildcats to Tangle For Homecoming

Still looking for their first win of the season, the Lutes take on the Central Washington Wildcats tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at Lincoln Bowl.

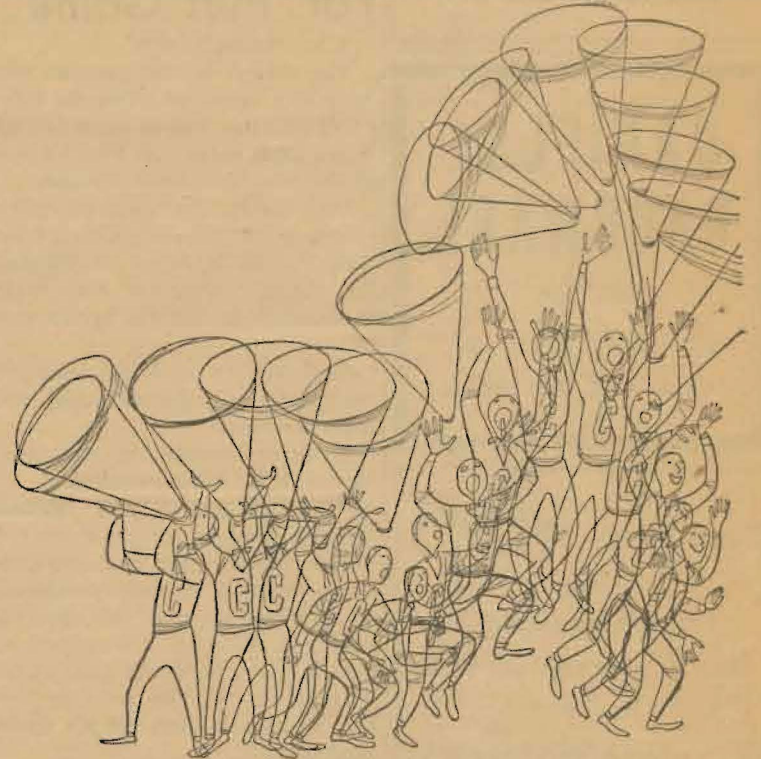

The Wildcats from Ellensburg, fresh from walloping UBC, are out for blood. They're a fresh, young ball club, with lots of spirit and hustle. The Lutes will have a battle on their hands.

Marv Harshman, looking over his charges last Tuesday, had little comment on the game tomorrow. He said that the Gladiators will be out to win, and they will do their best.

With the loss of Bob McAdams, Harshman needs another end. Ball and Billings are good 60 minute men, but a reserve is needed. Phil Nordquist and Jack Ellingson are next in line for the job.

The PLC mentor was a little disappointed in the Lute play last week, and hopes for a better showing this week.

Lutes Vote On Project For Lounge

Plans for a student-financed lounge in the upper Student Union Building were laid open to a vote of the student body during Chapel Tuesday morning.

Of the 272 students who voted, John Rydgren, ASB president, disclosed 242 were for the plan and 30 were against it.

"However, all the votes have not come in yet," John said, "and we can draw no conclusions until they do."

Plans include adding a radio-phonograph, movable screens, lounge fixtures, and furniture to the room.

Reserved use of the SUB will be limited as possible but it will still be available for movies, recitals, or like affairs.

The games which are now upstairs, shuffleboard and ping pong will still be there with the addition of chess and checkers.

Hours will be until 10:00 a.m. weekdays and Sundays and 11:00 or 12:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

In order to make these plans a reality, pledges of three dollars apiece must be obtained from a great majority of the students.

Girls Ready For 'Puff Game

Who's going to win? The answer to that question will be known tomorrow when the Powder Puff game will be played. This tussle takes place each year as part of the Homecoming festivities.

Both teams, freshman and upperclassmen, have been practicing for three weeks in hopes of winning the championship, and each team is confident that it will be the winner.

According to Jo Schwartzwalter, captain for the upperclassmen, her team is a cinch.

However, Captain June Sather of the freshman team remarked:

"The freshman girls' football team is looking for their victory on the Powder Puff grid. Beware, upperclassmen, we mean business; we have no heavyweights, but we have will. We want the support of all freshmen, boys and girls alike. If not, we will be wearing our beanies all semester, but it's up to you."

At this point anyone can win and the game on Saturday should prove a very entertaining game.

Lute Band Selects Instrumentalists

Glen Hull will serve as president of the band this year. Other officers include John Reay, vice-president; Barbara Howard, secretary-treasurer; Thomas Householder, chaplain.

Most recent plans for the band include Homecoming. They will march in the parade, perform at the bonfire ceremony, and play at the Homecoming game.

Other band personnel are: flutes, Faith Buetmann, Judy Bureker, Joanne Bayne, Doris Ormbreak, Priscilla Asper; Clarinets, John Reay, Curtis Hovland, Donald Liles, Marlene Hovland, Richard Myking, Mary Estegreen, Delphine Danielson, Barbara Howard, Lorraine Schmick and Jane Wolk; alto clarinets, Louise Karlsen; bass clarinets, Catherine Johanson; saxophones, Reid French, Greta Haagen, Peggy Arlt, Patty Arlt, Jeanette Walter, and Steve Strom.

Trumpets, Paul Steen, Glen Hull, Roger Bjerk, Robert Sebo, Roseanna Hartill, June Sather; French horns, Adrian Knutsen and Richard Landru; baritones, Gale Estergreen and Winnifred Mitton; trombones, David Steen, Burton Johnson, Clyde Genz, and Bruce Jacobson; tubas, Thomas Householder, Elden Davis and Ronald Feness; percussion, Clifford Hall, Darrell Rasmussen, Paul Lucky, and Douglas Mandt.

New Students Join Chorus

Members of the vocal chorus were decided upon this week.

They are as follows: Carolyn Hoogner, Helen Van Dyke, Vega Skoog, Ganee Krug, Clarence Osterli, Sherry Lee, Muriel Larson, Lucille Karlstad, Joyce Beebe, LaVonne Stenhjem, Greta Johnson, Salome Kaskinen, Janice Smeby, Darlene Haugen and Phyllis Casperson.

Ellen Henery, Marion Taege, Beverly Tranum, Violet Rued, Pat Gahring, Marilyn Kieve, Lorraine Langeland, Pauline Skjonsby, Phyllis Aune, Anita Schnell, Norma Crawford, Kerma Knutzen, Connie Hustad, Barbara Skjonsby, Delphine Danielson, and Lois Danielson.

Greta Hoogenson, Milaine Marsh, Norita Miller, Evelyn Biery, Anne Stewart, Anne Brune, Marilyn Triolo, Carol Falk, Jan Whitmore, Janet Wigen, Dick Bersie, Ramon Reiersen, Elmer Knutsen, Roy Babcock, Kenneth Hilliard and Ronald Peterson.

Lettermen's Club President Looks Forward to Big Year

"We're expecting one of the biggest years yet, with all of the activities and shows we have planned," Garnet Lund, president of Lettermen's club, confidently revealed recently.

The coming activities are numerous, but at the moment the foremost is the annual Lettermen's show, which is to take place November 13. This will be a variety show and is to be on the order of last year's "The Worst Show on Earth." Publicity will be around the campus and the Tuesday before the show, the chapel program will be in the hands of the lettermen.

"We expect to win the chapel trophy hands down, not to mention the homecoming float trophy," was the optimistic opinion of Phillip Nordquist, secretary-treasurer of the group.

Some of the other activities are a minstrel show during Saga week, a hole-in-one tournament, and a picnic in the Spring. The lettermen sponsor a chorus and band, and programs are planned for the school term.

The club is made up of about 25 members, all of whom have earned their letter, either through participating in or being managers for one of the sports. These sports include football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, and golf.

Public service and personal enjoyment are the two main focal points of the club. They are active at many school functions, ushers at programs; and during Saga time, are the Queen's honor guard. Now, their immediate project is a camera for the athletic department, to be bought from the proceeds of the variety show.

The officers for the year are: Garnet Lund, president; Richard Larson, vice-president; Phillip Nordquist, secretary-treasurer; Robert Ross and Ray "Bud" Lester, Sgt.-at-arms. Jack Hoover is the I.C.C. representative.

'Mr. Iraq' Joins Lutes; Is 'Harry' Candidate

From winning the title of "Mr. Iraq," the most perfectly built man in his country, to participating in Pacific Lutheran College's "Handsome Harry" contest is quite a change for Jirayr Kayaian, student from far-off Bagdad, Iraq.

"Jerry," as he is called by his many American friends, was offered a scholarship to Pacific Lutheran after Dr. S. C. Eastvoid, president of the college, had visited Bagdad.

"I came to this college," the attractive, dark-complexioned man smiled, "because of the high Christian ideals and campus fellowship about which I had heard so much."

He lists weight-lifting and bodybuilding as two of his main interests, which may explain his renowned physique. Jerry also enjoys listening to religious and classical music.

"I'm very promised," he revealed, "by the faculty and student body. The friendly atmosphere at this college both surprised and pleased me."
