

The Morning Mast

Stassen Chats with M. M. Editor

Taking a few minutes out from a busy schedule, Mr. Harold E. Stassen, Republican aspirant from Minnesota, grants an interview to Mary Jean Bowen, editor of the Morning Mast, in his suite at the Imperial Hotel. Mr. Stassen flew into Portland Monday for a day's visit in order to speak at the Benson Auditorium that evening. Mr. Stassen is campaigning for approval at the forthcoming Oregon election.

Stassen Grants Interview To Editor at Portland Meet

By Mary Jean Bowen
The door opened; then I was shaking hands with a man who may be the next President of the United States!

The man with the genial smile and the direct manner was Harold E. Stassen, aspirant to the Republican nomination for the Presidential election.

Mr. Stassen flew into Portland Monday morning, April 27, for a 24-hour stay. Working out of his headquarters in the Imperial Hotel he was scheduled for press conferences, meetings with the local party members, and a speech at the Benson Auditorium in anticipation of the Oregon election on May 21.

Following in the wake of reporters from the New York Herald Tribune, the Chicago Tribune, the Minneapolis and Oregon papers, plus a photographer from Life Magazine, I hurried and pleased when his secretary, Ed Larson, said that Mr. Stassen would give me an interview. At 6:10 Monday evening, my father (who took the picture) and I were invited up to his suite.

Stassen Has Support
I explained that although the Washington state preliminary contest had been decided, that there were many Stassen supporters in the Evergreen State.

"Mr. Stassen, I have just turned 21. What can the Republican party offer the young citizen?" I asked the ex-governor of Minnesota. "First of all, we want younger people in our government," Mr. Stassen said emphatically. "We feel that progress lies in a government vitalized by a younger element."

I had had an opportunity to judge the truth of his words while waiting in the Stassen headquarters. The Oregon staff were of the young, somewhat brittle type of modern—a combination of aggressiveness, underpinned by a solid old-fashioned basic idealism. His secretary, who has been with the Governor for over a year, was thirtyish, assured and confident.

Only Forty-one
Mr. Stassen himself is only 41. A stalwart figure, Mr. Stassen is six feet, three inches dominated the room. He has a pleasant, hearty voice, and gestures almost constantly while speaking.

I asked him what plans the Republican party had to open up the Pacific Northwest.

"Especially in the Northwest are we looking forward to an extensive industrial and agricultural development. An industrial boom which will open up opportunity for the people of the Northwest is dependent to a great extent on the harnessing of the natural hydro-electric power in this part of the country," Mr. Stassen said. He stressed the enormous possibilities of atomic energy put to use for peace-time purposes.

He autographed and put into my hands the press copy of the speech

Tolo Banquet to Have "Spring" as Central Theme

Spring and May Day flowers will be the decoration scheme and central theme of the Delta Phi Kappa Tolo banquet to be served tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m. at the Top of the Ocean. Menus and candy cups in the shape of May baskets will adorn the table. A large May basket will form the centerpiece. Approximately 110 couples have made reservations for the spring event. Girls from both the DPK and the Delta Phi Gamma and their guests were invited to attend.

Toastmistress for the evening will be Emely Sholseth, Selma Gunderson, this year's president, will announce the name of the incoming president for next year. Main speaker for the evening will be Virginia Isvik, who has entitled her talk, "Spring," to fit into the central theme.

Music numbers will be supplied by a vocal duet by Evangeline Ordash and Glenna Nelson, singing "Gay Nineties." A trio composed of Mr. Reigstad, Dick Weathermon and Jack Gnyot playing the piano, bass and drum, will perform. A blessing will be offered by Selma Gunderson and the "Doxology" will be led by Emely Sholseth.

HAUGE ATTENDS MEET AT U. OF OREGON
Dr. Philip E. Hauge attended a Pacific Northwest Conference of Arts and Sciences which was held on the campus at the University of Oregon, April 23 and 24.

The educators met to discuss measures to increase the scope of General Education in the Northwest colleges.

"Hasty Heart" Readings to Be Held Monday

Readings for "The Hasty Heart," comedy by John Patrick, will be held Monday, May 3, in Room 215 at 3:45 p.m. The play, which has parts for eight males and one female will be given during Graduation Week, May 27-29.

Anyone interested is invited to come to the readings. A copy of the play can be found in the library, according to drama coach, Miss Clara Chilson.

The plot is centered around the Assam-Burma front-line hospital during the last war. The characters include an Englishman, an American, a Zealander, and a South African who bring in a Scot to share their life in the wards. The conflict evolves from the Scot's disinterest in the men, and his eventual conversion and romance with a nurse.

The play ran two years on Broadway and was released only this year for amateur production.

Pep Team Tryouts To Be Held Soon, ASB Announces

Tryouts for pep team members will be held either next Thursday or the following Student Body Day, according to information received from the Student Council.

Contrary to previous procedure, nominees for yell leaders will have to perform in front of the student body before they will be accepted as candidates for the office.

All applications must be turned in to either Walt Kunschack or Anita Roth by the day before the tryouts.

Individual or team performers will be welcome. Applicants are required to time their acts or skits in order that the committee may allow the proper amount of time.

The need for an organized, vigorous pep can has become more evident as the athletic program has grown during the past two years.

Roller Skating at Roll-Bowl Tonite

Tonight the Roller Blades will journey out to the Roll-Bowl for their evening of rolle on the round "Hades." Transportation by means of buses will be furnished for those who have no other way out. Twenty cents will be charged for the round trip. The buses will leave in front of Old Main promptly at nine p.m. Skating will be from 10 to 12 a.m.

Tickets may be purchased from either Bonnie Heen or Dick Colburn. The tickets are fifty cents and will be on sale until Friday afternoon. John Hewston is in charge of the transportation, so any student wishing to join the group may get in touch with the above named for their ride and ticket.

New Catalogue to Be Released Next Week

New Courses and Procedures Included; B. A. Degree Requirements Are Listed

The Pacific Lutheran College Bulletin will be available to students beginning next week, according to Dr. Philip E. Hauge, Registrar.

Dr. Hauge advised each person to consult the catalog before deciding on his courses for next year because the bulletin includes many new courses and a few changes in procedure.

Specific requirements for a B. A. degree have been listed. Beginning next fall, freshmen and sophomores intending to pursue a four-year program will be required to complete prescribed under-classman courses during their first two years.

Queen Ardy's To Rule Over May Festival

A royal court scene, presided over by Ardy's Bredvold, senior from St. Marie's, Idaho, will highlight May Day festivities at PLC Friday afternoon, May 7. The attendants of Queen Ardy's I will be seniors, Afton Hjelm, Anita Roth; juniors, Doris Berg, Katherine Bream; sophomores, Phyllis Brynestad, Jean Hesla; freshmen, Dolores Berg and Doris Johnson.

Musical numbers, performances by the girls' physical education classes, and the queen's coronation will be featured on the program.

Co-chairmen Harold Jensen and Emely Sholseth are assisted in planning the event by Program chairman Eleanor Hellbaum; construction manager, Neil Solvik; and decoration committee heads, Paul Arlton and Malcolm Soine.

13 Named For School Offices

Associated Student Body elections swung into action this week, as the nominating committee, acting under the newly approved constitution, turned in their selections.

Vern Fink and Edwin Sandvig found their way to the top of the list as the presidential nominees. Three were nominated for vice president: Carl Fynboe, Howard Larson, and Eleanor Hellbaum. For secretary, it was Maria Ogren, Jacqueline Stevenson, Vony Densow, and Charlotte Mykland. Kenneth Stogvall, Malcolm Soine, Don Pedersen, and Sigurd Skartland are on the ticket for treasurer.

Additional candidates may be nominated by a petition bearing ten percent (75) of the signatures of the student body. These petitions must be turned in by Wednesday, May 5, at 4 o'clock to either Anita Roth or Walt Kunschack. Voting will be held May 13.

The nominating committee, presenting a list of candidates, consisted of Ralph Haugen, chairman, Etta Clausen, Jean Harbeck, Howard Larson, Marjorie Esse, and Lowell Knutson.

Tuesday Is Campus Day To Begin with Work and End with Play

By Aore Back
(To be accompanied by clanking sound of picks and shovels with a background of miscellaneous grunts and groans.)

You and me, we sweat and strain On Campus Day if it don't rain Tolo that bar, lift that bale Throw a shovefull of dirt and watch it haul!

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Step right up, folks! Sign up for the event of events! The greatest show in Parkland! You guessed it! Campus Day! The day set aside for the Swedes to sing weeds, the day when students drop their books to work like shooks! The day when free cats, entertainment and gangsta step in to break the daily routine of the classroom! 'Tis truly spring!

Ah yes, Campus Day, one of the highlights of the spring semester is scheduled for Tuesday, May 4, "Old Man Rainmaker" permitting. Tawasi, under the direction of Maynard Moen, club president, is sponsoring the gala festival, which will begin at 8 o'clock. The program for the day includes first of all, an absence of books and professors; secondly, a workout with the rakes, brooms, picks and shovels; thirdly, a free lunch, followed by a variety of games, the main event being the softball game between the men and the women. Lastly, but not leastly, the grand finale—the tug-of-war featuring eight tons of fighting beef. (No fair using anchors). Dorn boys have promised to reveal their new atomic tug in this year's contest. May the tugger's team win!

How It Began
Campus Day is a grand old tradition of collegiate endeavor. It all started way back in the days when colleges were struggling for survival and couldn't afford to have outside help perform repairs. The students decided to help their respective "Alma Maters" by donating a day's work towards the good of the campus. The students had such a good time, and respective presidents found so much work had been accomplished that they all decided to make the event an annual festival.

Campus Day at PLC was inaugurated on Page Four

May Day Court—Queen Ardy's Bredvold (center), who will reign over the PLC May Day festivities next Friday, is shown with her attendants. Eight Colleges to Compete In St. Martin's Relays Event

Tomorrow will be a red letter day in Olympia when the second annual St. Martin's Relays will be run on Stevens Field. Also of interest will be the appearance of the University of Washington grid coach, Howie Odell, as referee, and a javelin tossing exhibition by Don Cooley, W.S.C. ace.

At this writing Central Washington College, Pacific Lutheran, College of Puget Sound, Western Washington, Seattle Pacific College, Oregon College of Education, and St. Martin's College, will compete. Prelims in the 440, dashes, and hurdles will be held at 10:30 a.m.

at Stevens Field. Shot, discus, and javelin prelims will be held at 2 p.m. at St. Martin's. The six qualifying in the running events will appear in the finals at Stevens Field at 7 o'clock. The six qualifiers in the field events will begin 45 minutes later.

Defending champs in the relays are the PLC cindermen. All eyes will be on Central's Hobby Box, undefeated this season in the 100; Del Schaefer, Winco 440 titlist; Hopkins of Western and Knutson of PLC in the 880; Loper, PLC, and Baker, Central, in the two-mile; Flory of CWCE in the short and Watts, CWCE, in the discus; Russell of WWCE, Palto of CPS, and Hoffman of PLC in the javelin; Larson and Fabulich of CPS and Nylander of PLC in the broad jump; and Mann, CPS, defending champion in the high jump.

Fourteen medals will be given to the 14 individual event winners, while a trophy, donated by the Olympia Elks, will be given to the team with the most tallies.

Relay events will include the mile, 440, and medley relays in the sprints and distances.

Nothstein Wins Ping-Pong Meet

The ping-pong champion is Don Nothstein, who won over runner-up Jerry Enger after a two-week campus play-off.

Quarter finalists were Bob Heron and Dale Riche.

These players will form a four-man team which will meet CPS players in a tournament to be held in the Winthrop Hotel next week.

WAA Members to Take Annual Cruise On Tuesday, May 4

Aboard the Gallant Lady, the W.A.A. will have an evening of fun and food on their annual cruise, Tuesday night, May 4. The boat will leave the Boat Mart at 5 p.m., and will return at 11 p.m.

All W.A.A. members are invited to attend. Girls who are not members will be able to buy after the W.A.A. members have been supplied. Tickets, which include the cost of dinner and transportation, will be one dollar.

General chairman for the affair is Charlene Martens. Assisting her are Doris Berg and Marjorie Brammer, food; Pat Kilmer, tickets; De- lores Langset, advertising.

Intramural Ball Schedule Revised Into Two Leagues

The continued absence of sunshine and the falling of rain is the cause of a major schedule revision in the Intramural Softball League, President Walt Hagen announced this week.

New plans for the after school circuit have not all been formulated but an announcement will be made next Monday or sooner. Team managers should pay close attention to the bulletin board next week for schedules and other news.

League Notes

All game scores must be turned in to Walt Hagen and the winning team should report them to reporter Bill Guthrie in the Mooring Mast office. . . The Lettermen's Club has taken over the administration of the league. . . Probable changes in scheduling will split the circuit into two divisions to shorten the schedule. . . All teams must maintain their own score books. . . Postponed games will be made up on Tuesdays. . . The games will be of seven innings or as many innings as can be played in one hour. . . Ten minutes grace will be given for a forfeit if called. . . Teams unable to show for their games must report this to the rival team manager before one p.m. on the day of the game. . . One game in the old 14-team wheel was started and a two-inning 6 to 6 segue was registered before the rains came.

JACK BRATLIE, heavy hitting second baseman for the Lutes, whose batting prowess has been a big factor in the club's recent victories.

Lute Track Team Trounces Rangers By 90 Point Lead

PLC's favored cindermen, came through as expected and last Saturday's final figures indicated in PLC's 110½ to St. Martin's 20½.

The Lutherans captured first places in every event as the hapless Saints failed to score a first.

Times were not particularly impressive due to high winds, frequent showers, and a swampy track. In fact the Saints were swamped in more ways than one.

Lute winners were:

- Mile: Nygaard.
- 100-yard dash: Cook.
- 440-yard dash: Schaefer.
- 880-yard run: Knutson.
- Shotput: Brass.
- Two-mile: Loper.
- Discus: Sturm.
- Pole vault: Lund.
- Broad jump: Nylander.
- 220-yard dash: Anker.
- 120-yard high hurdles: Belland.
- 220-yard low hurdles: Henderson.
- Javelin: Huffman.
- High jump: McLaughlin.
- Relay: forfeit.

In other Winco activity, Eastern's Savages were shaded by Montana State University in an intra-league meet by a 67 2/5 to 63 3/5 count.

Interesting times were the 99 hundred and the 219 220-yard dash by Winco sprint champ Hol Brewer of EWCE, and the 2:03 in the 880 by teammate Carlpit.

Tennis Men Win; CPS Downs Golfers

PLC tennis squad returned an earlier season's visit and defeat to Central Washington's racketeers, last Friday. Playing on windswept courts, the Lutes squeezed out a 4-3 triumph. Individual results were:

- Singles
- Oakland (C) over Gabrielson (PLC), 6-1; 6-1.
 - Stewart (PLC) over Eymann (C) 6-2; 6-1.
 - Ischerwood (C) over Marvik (PLC) 6-2; 6-3.
 - Ause (PLC) over Carlson (C) 6-2; 8-6.
 - Hedlund (PLC) over Crain (C) 6-1; 6-2.
- Doubles
- Gabrielson and Stewart (PLC) over Oakland and Eymann 6-3; 6-4.
 - McBuile and Ischerwood (C) over Hedlund and Marvik 6-1; 6-3.
- Wednesday's match with CPS was cancelled because of rain and

Sports Slants

By BOB ANDREW

The Rangers, hosts of the St. Martin's Relays tomorrow night, are faced with a dismal outlook. The Martin men, who will be performing before a home-town crowd on Stevens Field in Olympia, are tabbed to wind up bottom man on the totem pole. The Rangers not only were thoroughly waxed by PLC last Saturday, but failed to take a single first place. Due to this fact they are conceded little chance of doing so tomorrow, when the Lutes will again be a competitor, along with such powerful other cinder squads as College of Puget Sound and Fort Lewis.

BIG STICK . . .
Jack the Giant Killer was quite a man in his own right, but the Lute baseball squad has a Jack with definite super powers of his own, at least opposing pitchers think so. We mean, of course, Jack Bratlie, the stocky second baseman who has been belting the ball all over the park in almost every contest. His latest batting feat was the three home runs he blasted out in the doubleheader with Central last Saturday.

ORCHIDS !!
A bouquet of flowers is definitely in order for the track fans who, for three Saturdays in a row, have braved the elements (rain and more rain), to root for the Gladiator cinder squad. Among the more conspicuously present were a number of members from last fall's football squad, who, along with their wives and sweethearts, were snugly clothed in a familiar bunch of parkas.

WANDERINGS . . .
Latest request for a stop on Sunday's cruise of the Lettermen's Club, came from Jack Guyot. He requested an hour stop-over at Mattress Island. . . Apologies to Merv Allen for classifying him in the last issue as a 210-pound fat man. . . He recently informed me he was merely a 202-pound fat man. . . Helen Jensen last week gave beau Dick Weatherman a lesson in the art of fly fishing, catching five nice trout to Dick's not-so-big two.

Glads Meet Vikings In Conference Tilt In Bellingham; Doubleheader Tomorrow

PLC's hard-hitting baseball club will travel to Bellingham Saturday for a doubleheader in the evening with Western Washington Vikings of the Winco League.

The Lutes have lost only one game this season and are expected to give the Vikings a coach time this weekend. Everyone on Coach Marv Tommervik's club has been giving the old apple a ride in recent games. Western's pitching staff will face such sluggers as Vern Morris, Paul Reiman, Chuck Loete and Jack "Home Run King" Bratlie. While the Viking nine will have to face such pitchers as Merv Allen, Wes Saxton and Dave Garner.

With a team average of .368, the players' averages are as follows:

Vern Morris	.414
Wes Saxton	.409
Paul Reiman	.392
Jim Turman	.385
Jack Bratlie	.366
Jim Rediske	.350
Chuck Loete	.344
Carl Hatley	.333
Wes Brock	.333
Merv Allen	.285
Dwayne Rose	.280
Doane Blair	.176

will be re-scheduled.

The Lute golfers, however, went ahead with their match with the Loggers on the Brookdale links and were defeated 13-5. Ralph McGough was medalist for the Gladiators, finishing a 76.

Individual results for PLC were: McLaughlin, 2; Gannon, 1; Dunn, 1; Utogard, ½; McGough, ½; and Jaech, 0.

Lute Nine In Double Win

Wednesday Game Postponed, Rain

Pacific Lutheran College nine took a doubleheader from Central Washington College, Friday afternoon in Ellensburg, 17-16 and 10-5. The CPS game Wednesday was postponed.

Lutes Rally
The hard-hitting Lutes from Parkland won the first game in the sixth inning when Jim Turman knocked out a single, Jim Rediske doubled, Jack Bratlie and Vern Morris singled, while Chuck Loete got a double. When the inning was at last over the Gladiators had added seven hits and four Central errors for eight runs, to put them ahead 13-11. While Central picked up one in the sixth to make 13-12, Jim Turman started the seventh inning off with a triple to left field, scoring on Merv Allen's single, Jim Rediske was safe on an error, Jack Bratlie then knocked out his second home run in the game for the last Lute tally. Central could collect only three runs in their half of the inning, to end a very close game, 17-16. Merv Allen was the winning pitcher, striking out six and walking five. Jack Bratlie and Vern Morris were the hitters of the game with three for four and four for five, respectively. Bratlie got two home runs to Morris' one.

Saxton Wins
Wes Saxton was the winning pitcher in the second game, walking one, striking out five and giving up six hits for two runs. Dave Garner was on the mound for Wes in the sixth and walked four, struck out one and let the Indians have two runs. While the Lutes combined nine hits and three Central errors for their 10 runs, Bratlie knocked another one into the wind and over the right field wall. Chuck Loete was the hitter with two for four trips for the plate.

"Rained Out"
The second city league game with their cross-town rivals was rained out Wednesday. The next game with College of Puget Sound will be next Thursday at South Tacoma Boys' Club field, South 50th and Pine. A doubleheader with them will be played May 17, at American Lake Vets' Hospital field.

Eastvold Leaves to Go On Three-State Speaking Tour

Dr. S. C. Eastvold left for California Thursday evening, April 29. He expects to return Tuesday morning, May 11. During the ten-day interim, Dr. Eastvold will have a busy schedule.

On Sunday morning, May 2, he will speak in the Angelica Lutheran Church of the Augusta Synod, Los Angeles, California.

On Tuesday, May 4, Doctor Eastvold will address a Lutheran pastoral conference.

Doctor Eastvold will attend the California Conference of the Augusta Synod at its annual meeting to be held at San Diego, California, May 5. He will bring a message from the College during the day and have a part on the round-table discussion in the evening on the theme "Lutheran Unity."

On Sunday, May 9, President Eastvold will address the Emmanuel Lutheran Church of North Hollywood, California.

During his stay in California, he will interview prospective teachers, visit alumni in the interest of the alumni financial appeal for $30,000 and meet with pastors of the Lutheran Church.

Upon his return, after two days at the College, he will leave for Livingston, Montana, on Thursday, May 13, to speak on Pentecost Sunday, May 16, at 11 a.m. in the church served by Rev. E. S. Tollefson.

Religious Activities . . .

"Thy Will Be Done" will be the subject of the group discussion at LSA on Sunday, May 2. This subject was also used at the LSA Retreat at Coner d'Alene. Martin Gulhaugen will lead this discussion. Dorothy Meyer will conduct devotions and Joan Foss, soprano, will sing a solo.

Chaucer Christopherson gave the message at Campus Devotions yesterday. Jalmer Zihlahl led devotions and Shirley Morgan sang a soprano solo. The speaker for next Thursday will be Larry Nielson.

PLC Among Colleges Listed in Catalogue

Pacific Lutheran College is one of 820 American colleges listed in the recently published book, "American Universities and Colleges," edited by Dr. A. J. Brambaugh, vice president of the American Council on Education.

The catalogue, which contains a capsule summary of the courses offered, accommodations and sites of each college listed, is the only authoritative book of its kind published. A copy was received this week by the Registrar's office.

CLASS GIFT IS MEETING TOPIC

The discussion of the seniors' gift to the school will be the most important part of the senior class meeting to be held at 7 p.m. next Wednesday in L-104. All seniors are urged to attend.

OAK LECTERN PRESENTED—An oak lectern was presented to PLC recently in memory of Dr. L. O. Foss, pioneer Washington pastor, who served as a bishop of the Pacific District of E.L.C. The memorial was dedicated by Rev. G. H. Morgard of Everett. Also participating was Dr. H. L. Foss, son of the elder Foss and head of the Board of Trustees. Among other family members present were: (left to right) Mrs. Virginia Peters, Seattle; Mrs. O. G. Faren, Swansville; Dr. Foss, Seattle; Mrs. Raymond Hellickson, Seattle; Dr. J.S. C. Eastvold, and PLC students, Patricia and Joan Foss of Seattle and Fort Harrison, Montana.

PLC Students to Be On Youth Forum

"Should You Vote for the Man or Party?" is the discussion scheduled for the Youth Forum, Sunday, at 2 p.m., on K.T.B.I.

The weekly college and high school series which features opinions given by students on current events, will be sponsored by PLC this week. Those participating are Del Zier, Cliff Ewing, Karl Baehner and Joe Cronarty.

D. W. Eastvold Wins Law School Contest At U. of Washington

Donald W. Eastvold, senior at the University of Washington Law School, received first prize for presenting the best arguments in the school's most appellate-court competition this year. The award was presented at the annual Law School banquet, Saturday, April 24.

The purpose of the moot court was to give the contesting law students training and practice in procedures followed in the State Supreme Court.

In making the presentation of the winning prize to Eastvold, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Eastvold, Dean J. Falkner, Dean of the Law School, emphasized the importance of this annual event. The first two winners were presented with a set of Schaeffer pens, appropriately inscribed.

Judges for the event were Justice Chief of the State Supreme Court, Justice Benn of the Federal District Court, and Judge Meechem of the King County Court.

Unfinished Work . . .

There is a legend about India's most magnificent building, the temple of the Taj Mahal. This white edifice, a thing of shimmering, spectral wonder when viewed in moonlight, was planned—so they say—by an architect-artist at the behest of his sovereign. The architect was never to see the temple completed, for his eyes were blinded before his inexpressibly beautiful concept took form in marble.

Edison spent much of his later years trying to find a formula for producing synthetic rubber out of weeds, and fell asleep before he could complete his researches.

If Schubert's Unfinished Symphony was only a fragment of his inspiration what richer strains might have poured from his heart and brain if the string of his life had not broken so soon?

Can anything, then, be sadder than the thought of work left unfinished? A sage mind, when asked this question, took refuge in silence and at length replied: "Yes, there is a worse thing—work that is never begun."

Tuesday Campus Day Features Work, Play

Guaranteed at the turn of the century. It was purely spontaneous action on the part of the student body when they "pitched in" to repair the neglected campus. (This bit of information was obtained from Dick Highland, who got it from Professor O. J. Stuen who was there!) Many of the activities held that spring day are with us still, with one notable exception and that exception is the throwing of the Student Body President (Walt Kunschak, please note) in the river (near Clover Creek. This—(relax, Walt) this bit of savagery was discontinued about ten years ago when the S.B.P. caught a cold or something from his "dousing in the drink." Since then the big event of the day has been a tug-of-war between the roughest and toughest of the day boys against the roughest and toughest (no favoritism shown here) of the dorm boys. This tug-of-war is an orderly manner on-of-war begins with the teams lined up on each side of the creek. The rope is thrown across the creek. The teams get set on each side of the creek. The "commence to pull" signal echoes up and down the creek. (At this point all semblance of order vanishes.) Search! The losing team is pulled through the creek.

It is rumored that in last year's contest, one of the teams had their end of the line secured to a telephone pole, steel pipe and a black truck. One can't accuse one—but just as a matter of record, the day boys—one—won, that is!

Working parties are to be posted on the bulletin board today. Check to find the group with which you are to work. Remember, Tuesday is "Labor Day." Bring your shovel early.

Seven Education Students Sign Fall Contracts

Seven students who will receive Bachelor of Arts in Education degrees in June have already signed contracts to teach next fall.

Three will be in junior high schools and four in grade schools. These who will teach in junior high and the schools they will be in are: Walt Kunschak, Parkland; Howard Willis, Belfair; and Ralph Gonder-son, Arlington.

Grade school teachers and their schools are Grace Carlson and Virginia Isvick, who will teach the third and fifth grades, respectively, at Parkland, and Patricia Russell and Margaret Johnson, who will teach first and third graders at Chehalis.

Eight others have received contracts but as yet have not decided whether or not they will sign them. Salaries stated in the contracts received range from $2,500 to $3,700 per year. The latter figure includes driving a school bus besides teaching.
