

Reunion of Alumni Will Be Feb. 24-26; 3 Events Scheduled

Officers Plan Drama Night, Banquet and Service for Former Students Who Will Attend Gathering

According to plans now under way, the annual Pacific Lutheran College alumni reunion will be held at Parkland, February 24-26. The program, as planned by those in charge, will center around the theme, "Smilin' Through," with Drama Night, a banquet and reunion services as highlights of events scheduled.

Festivities will begin Friday, Feb. 24, with the first Drama Night presented under the new officers and group leaders of the club. The annual banquet will be held in Parkland, Saturday evening, with a theme of optimism in "Smilin' Through" being carried out. The Alumni Board announces that the total cost per plate shall not exceed forty cents, so that expenses for the visiting alumni may be cut to a minimum.

Alumni will gather on Sunday forenoon for a divine service in the Trinity Lutheran Church of Parkland, ev. T. O. Svare, college pastor, has invited Rev. Theo. Gulhaugen, pastor at South Bend and a young and a P.L.C. alumnus, to deliver the sermon. The Choir has also been invited to sing.

Former students who expect to attend are urged by those in charge to notify either Irene Dahl, president, or Ruth Fadness, secretary, at Parkland.

Band Receives 3 New Members This Semester

With the arrival of 3 additional recruits, the band is expected to accomplish much during the spring semester, according to Lewis G. Hunter, the instructor. The lack of suitable instrumentation has handicapped the band during the past term, according to the instructor, but he expects much more of the group this semester, with the following members:

Cornets—Norman Jensen, Dillie Quale and Clarence Opheim; saxophones—Don Eld and Jack Hudson; drums—Bob Monson; bass—Clarence Monson; trombones—Frank Elliot and Clifford Opheim.

58 Students Attend School Mountain Trip Jan. 22; Hiking, Tobogganing, Skiing, Eating Are Features

With a shout and a cry they're off, all 58 of them bound for the mountain for a day of winter sports and good time. That's the way things were when students of Pacific Lutheran College started on their annual trip to Coomline, Sunday, January 22.

Most people who went had to get up before breakfast—at 5:00 a. m. and were up at school at 8:15 for divine services conducted in the recreation room by Pres. Tingelstad.

Some people called it stinging, but anyway there was a lot of noise on the bus on the way up.

Everybody went on the skis or toboggans and had a general good time up there, when they weren't having a snow fight with someone whose snowballs were too hard. During the afternoon a group of Gladiator boys had a snowshoe baseball game with a group of men representing the Tacoma

Mission Society Chooses Jesse Pflueger President

At the meeting of the Mission Society held last Wednesday evening, Jesse Pflueger was elected to the presidency of the group for the spring semester. Ardis Aarhus will be the vice president; Kathleen Porath, secretary; and Arnold Grimlund, treasurer. Last semester's officers included Walter Young, Leonard Wesson, Dickie Leland and John Zackrisson, in the order of offices named.

Prof. Xavier addressed those present at the meeting on South African missions. Frank Elliot played two trombone selections, and Walter Ustad sang a vocal number, with Ardis Aarhus and Nordis Arneson as respective accompanists.

Clarence Lemming Heads Drama Club

Dickie Leland, Mary Nash Receive Offices; Rachel Flint's Group Wins First Place for Friday's Play

Drama Club members decided at a meeting yesterday that Clarence Lemming will act as president for the coming semester. Dickie Leland was elected vice president, and Mary Nash secretary-treasurer. It was announced at the meeting that Rachel Flint's group won first place in the last Drama Night presentations.

The three one-act plays presented last Friday evening were received by a fair-sized audience. Margaret Wesson directed "Not Quite Such a Goose," a comedy which included in its cast of "Stage Steppers" Gilbert Sydow as Albert Bell, Florence Post as Mrs. Bell, Georgianna McClure as Sylvia Bell, Art Sivertson as Phillip Flick, and Pearl Homme as Hazel Henderson.

Trygve Runsvold took the title role in "The Violin Maker of Cremona"; Mary Nash played the part of Giannina, his daughter; Filippo, his pupil, a hunchback, was portrayed by Clarence Monson; Bill Whalen took the part of Sandro, an apprentice.

As the last play, the "Drama-tics" presented "Hiram Jones' Bet," in which Clarence Oen was Hiram Jones; Ellen Soley, Mrs. Mattily Tripp; and Rosa Dahl, Florida.

Intermission numbers included readings by Virginia Davis, and saxophone solos by Mr. Hunter.

Gives Benefit Lectures

Rev. E. M. Hegge

Rev. E. M. Hegge of Central Lutheran Church in Tacoma, is giving his services to the college in the form of illustrated lectures on missions in China for the benefit of the Emergency Fund. During the last few weeks, Reverend Hegge has delivered several lectures; in the American Central Lutheran Church, Bellingham, Lions' Club, Bellingham, and Ballard Lutheran and Immanuel Lutheran Churches of Seattle. Anna Mikkelsen has assisted on two occasions, and Paul Preus, Sr. who is in charge of the arrangement of the programs, has given short talks explaining the present situation at Pacific Lutheran College. The programs will continue with all the proceeds going to the College.

Georgianna McClure Is Student Body Secretary

That Georgianna McClure will be the new secretary of the Associated Students of Pacific Lutheran College is the announcement of Clarence Oen, president. She will fill the vacancy left by sachel Flint, who withdrew from school at the opening of the spring semester. Because the others who were nominated for the position could not be voted on since they are practice teaching, Georgianna, being the only other candidate, received the office without a general election.

Privilege cards were issued to the students last week under the direction of the Board of Control. Anyone who has not received his card should see either Clarence Roen or Kathryn Johnson.

16 Girls Receive W. A. A. Membership

Permanent Officers Elected at First Regular Meeting of Sports Group; Olga Overlie Is President

Permanent officers of the Women's Athletic Association were elected at the first regular meeting of the organization held last Tuesday. Olga Overlie will be the president; Evelyn Monson, vice president; Mary Nash, secretary; and Ella Johnson, treasurer, according to the results of the election.

Only 16 girls earned the necessary 150 points for membership, and will be included as charter members of the newly organized athletic group. After this, girls wishing to join will be required to earn more points, and must be initiated. Girls who will be charter members include Olga Overlie, Dickie Leland, Evelyn Monson, Kathleen Porath, Mary Nash, Dalores Roe, Buster Oe, Jeannette Knutzen, Dorothy Peterson, Alice Alvnes, Ella Johnson, Helen Collins, Helen Garbell, Virginia Boen, Jennie Lee and Jean-Marie Fowler. The group decided to have dues of 25 cents each semester charged the members. Plans are under way for a party, which will be held soon.

Rev. Ordal, Ex-President of P. L. C., Speaks in Chapel

Rev. J. O. Ordal of Our Savior's Lutheran Church of Bellingham, former president of Pacific Lutheran College, addressed the student body at their chapel exercise Friday, January 13. In his address, ev. Ordal stated that under God, our school cannot fail, though opposition in a financial way is depressing.

Board Meets Here Tuesday; New Synod Has Representative

1933 Summer Session Authorized; No Saga to be Published This Year, According to Trustees' Action

Dr. C. R. Swanson of Seattle, representing the Columbia Conference of the Augustana Synod, was made a regular voting member of the Board of Trustees of Pacific Lutheran College at the board meeting held Tuesday of this week at the home of President O. A. Tingelstad. This action increases the total membership of the Board to eleven. Rev. L. Ludwig, of Portland, president of the Northwestern District of the American Lutheran Church, similarly represents his church on the college Board.

At this meeting was authorized the 1933 summer session, to be held under the direction of Dean Philip E. Hauge and assistants. The continuance of the present scope of Pacific Lutheran College during the school year 1933-34 was also assured at the meeting.

The board referred the question of seeking accreditation in wider circles to President Tingelstad, with power to act. The reports from Paul A. Preus and Irene Dahl, respective committee chairman and Development Association Secretary, on the results to date of the activities of the Emergency Committee of fifteen hundred, stated cash contributions to date amounted to $3,046.44. The Board also authorized the continued employment of Paul A. Preus and Victor A. Elvestrom in connection with the Preus-Elvestrom finance plan and related projects, duties and compensation to be determined by a special committee. This means that the depression has not deterred the Board from facing its full responsibility regarding the future of the college. Members likewise listened with approval to reports on the management of the endowment fund and on the status of the dormitory funding plan.

According to action taken by the Board on a recommendation of the faculty that the Saga be not published this year, there will be no yearbook for the 1933 graduating class. However, a committee will be appointed to gather material for the next volume of the Saga, presumably to be published next year. The question of a possible choir trip was referred to a committee for careful consideration. (Continued on Page 3)

Yakima Coeds Entertain Basketeers After Game; Boys Hope Home Girls Take Hint Given by Rivals

Harold Holmberg's the wittiest Stan Score's the prettiest And Gene Jack is the best loved.

At least that's what some Yakima girls thought about our star basket hurlers. Let them think what they may, the boys have their opinions of the girls, too, and it all can be summed up in the little but meaningful sentence "Gee, but they had bits of school spirit!"

After the Yakima Junior College boys had won over our Gladiators last Friday night, a group of girls from that school invited five of our boys to the home of one of the young ladies to spend a jolly evening in games and refreshments. Hal Votaw, Stan Score, Gene Jack, Bill Holmberg, and Johnny Fadness are the boys who feel so deeply indebted to the dutiful Yakima girls. "Spin the bottle" and other games which the boys can play at their own level—the floor—offered amusement for the basketeers. After the refreshments were served—and the boys were not asked to do the dishes—the young ladies escorted their guests in a private car to the railroad station where fond but sad farewells were expressed.

And did the boys appreciate the kindness shown them? They all say that it should be a lesson as well as a hint to the Pacific Lutheran College girls. And again, all hail to the Yakima girls for their thoughtfulness and kindness! It's things like that which bring joy into the hearts of basketball players.

Why Is America Great?

De Tocqueville, the distinguished French statesman, was commissioned to visit America for the purpose of studying the genius of our institutions. In reporting to the French Senate, he said: "I went at your bidding and passed along their thoroughfares of trade; I ascended their mountains and went down their valleys; I visited their manufactories, their commercial markets, and emporiums of trade; I entered their judicial courts and legislative halls; but I sought everywhere in vain until I entered the church. It was there, as I listened to the soul-elevating principles of the Gospel of Christ, as they fell from Sabbath to Sabbath upon the masses of the people, that I learned why America was great and free, and why France was a slave."

Socialism Is a Question Worthy Student Interest

Persons on the campus who had given up hope that the downtown newspapers would stop playing up the University as a "hot-bed of socialism" were gratified to see the lack of publicity given the speech of Kirby Page in Meany Hall last Monday.

Of course, to the average liberal minded student, his lecture warranted no blazing headlines and accusations to the effect that University officials were harboring bolsheviks and other enemies of the government on this campus. But you can't be too sure what a newspaper will do when it's hard up for news.

It was surprising to see what power upon an audience the word "socialism" had. Many were asleep when Page reached the point where he connected "technocracy" with socialism. They all raised their heads and stuck out their ears. Several walked out in the gallery seats.

Casual observation seemed to show that the sympathetic response was greatest in the ranks of the independents. On the other hand, fraternity men and women, forming the most conservative group on the campus, tried to find fault with the talk. Parents who have enough money to keep their offsprings in Greek Letter Houses do not want to see a change in the present system of monetary distribution.

Such controversial questions should be discussed more often in All-University assemblies. The more students are exposed to all sides of an issue and all issues of the day, the better able they are to reach a correct decision on the question.

In spite of what the downtown newspapers print, if the time ever comes when the majority of college students are in favor of some form of socialism, it will be a pretty sure bet they will have formed their opinions on unprejudiced reasoning.

Jean-Marie: "I don't know; she wasn't in chapel."

Clix: "You'd be surprised what power women have over men."

Johnny Z. (petting Majoie): "Man and dog."

Society

Evelyn Irwin entertained Jean-Marie Fowler, Martha Grande and Hazel Mønsen at dinner last Saturday evening, previous to the mountain trip.

At their home in Parkland, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Boynton entertained Clifford Mesford, Carl Martin, Carol Jacobson, Dutch Moe and Ray Lerbak last Saturday evening. The affair was in the nature of a farewell party for "Jake" who will not be in school this semester.

Rachel Flint, secretary of the Associated Students last term, will not attend P.L.C. this semester. Instead, she will remain at her home in Tacoma, and will return for summer school.

Mrs. Bondy entertained Miss Fowler, normal supervisor, and Avalon Wøjahn, former student, at tea Friday, January 13.

Arnold Grimlund was the guest overnight at the home of Leonard Wesson last Wednesday.

"Buster" Roe and Nordis Arneson visited friends in Seattle over the week-end.

Trygve Runsvold and Clarence Lemming are new additions to the "Shack Union."

HAVE YOU MET?

A girl in the graduating class who never ceases to smile? She wears her brown hair in a long bob with a curl at the bottom. Many short curls also encircle her big blue eyes which never fail to send a happy smile on those with whom she comes in contact. She is not very tall, but is quite studious. In fact, she carries a brief case with her to school every day, maybe just for looks, but usually it contains some of the knowledge which she absorbs and which she hopes someday to expound to her pupils.

Last semester our heroine led one of the large clubs of the school successfully, and everyone enjoyed her presidency. She does not invest all her time in studying, however, for she is one of the necessary elements to the college choir.

A tall young man who seems to be one of the traditions of P.L.C.? He has curly brown hair, blue eyes and is very good-natured? Everybody knows him, and everybody likes him.

His chief interests are to keep everybody happy and to attend meetings of the student governing body, of which he is a member. He is also a member of the Drama Club and has had a part in one of the plays presented this year. This important young man also holds memberships in the debate and swimming clubs and attends freshman class meetings.

If you can't guess who the hero of this true story is, all there is to say is "I'm sorry."

Outside Speakers Give Chapel Talks

Rev. Svenson, Rev. Hegge and B. M. Christensen Address Student Body While Visiting School

Rev. Ernest Svenson, of the First Lutheran Church of Tacoma, Rev. E. M. Hegge of Central Lutheran Church, Tacoma, and Dr. B. M. Christensen, professor of philology at Augsburg College, Minneapolis, are among visitors who have spoken recently in chapel exercises here.

Reverend Svenson, who spoke January 26, had for his topic the double vision of man; first the outer vision which takes cognizance of material things, and second, the spirit and significance in them. He pointed out that the greatest changes which take place in the world are changes within man himself, and not changes in his surroundings.

"Why is America great?" was the subject of a talk given by Reverend Hegge, Jan. 24, in which he stated that America is great as she is or has been rich in righteousness, and that her greatness will rise as her righteousness increases. Reverend Hegge said: "The church of Jesus Christ is doing more to keep the world from rotting than any other institution on earth."

Dr. Christensen spoke January 16 on the mission of Christian teachers in spreading their spirit to others. Dr. Christensen pointed out that while many people think their purpose is to reproduce life, in reality, they are here for the purpose of reproducing spirit.

4 New Boarding Students

With three new students in the boys' dormitory and only one in the girls', the population of boarding students has not increased a great deal with the opening of the spring semester. In the boys' dorm, there is only one student new to the school, Edgar Lund, as special student, who is taking a secretarial course. Mr. Lund is from Buckley, Wash. Myron Leque and Frank Elliot are the other boys who will board here, both of whom have resided in the dorm during their previous attendance at Pacific Lutheran College.

Mrs. Kreidler reports Virginia Mancke as the only new girl in the women's dormitory, Virginia, who is from Winlock, Wash., taking a normal course. Until recently, she has been in training at the Tacoma General Hospital.

War Prevention Told Of by J. J. Handsaker

J. J. Handsaker, regional representative of the National Council for the Prevention of War, presented a discussion on means for war prevention last Thursday morning in chapel. Mr. Handsaker told of the stupidity of war, and the enormous costs, including the millions of lives which were sacrificed during the World War.

"At this time, when the world is in the hands of an economic depression, four thousand millions of dollars are spent each year for war preparation, in the United States alone, approximately a million dollars is spent for the navy each day and another million each day for the army. The League of Nations and the World Court are two institutions which have done much to promote world peace and our national safety. It is then; therefore we should do our best to promote these institutions and to learn more about them," stated Mr. Handsaker.

Keeper of the Mast

Has everybody noticed how crowded the library is at some periods during the day? But we can get just as much studying done in there as ever if everyone cooperates by being quiet.

At last P. L. C. has twins. They're the Ophem brothers, Clifford and Clarence. And the teachers can't scold them, either, 'cause the absent-minded professor might get the wrong one. Most of the school thinks they're a quiet pair, but they make a big noise in band every noon.

Lila Rudd just couldn't stay away from school. Glad you're back, Lila, and don't try to pull a fade-out on us again.

We've appreciated the thank chapel talks we've had lately. Keep you, guest speakers.

P. L. C.'s halls are again graced with the presences of many of last year's students. Welcome back, grads.

Here's our congratulations to the Rachel Flint's group for winning the prize last Friday night.

The president appointed a committee to arrange for entertainment at Mr. Reid's home, consisting of Jeannette Knutsen, Clarence Fosen, Trygve Ruusvold, and Jesse Prueger.

Ray Hinderlie, Hazel Monsen, My. Highby, and Mr. Beck will arrange races during the swim. Tickets at 15c each are on sale from Oscar Anderson, Gilbert Sydow, Saffre Torresdal and Jean-Marie Fowler.

Exchanges

Central State Teachers College is showing the world that it takes more than a fire to close the school. When the training school was recently razed by fire, the 270 training school children were put on an emergency schedule and classes were continued without a break. Thirteen instructors whose offices were in the building lost valuable private libraries. Five thousand books, irreplaceable manuscripts, $9,000 worth of tools and machines, records of 7,000 alumni, and the second grade's eight tame white rats were also burned.

Students and alumni of West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, Tex., have armed themselves to do battle for Alma Mater. The 43rd Texas State Legislature's Joint Committee on Organization and Economy has a proposal to present which spells the end of the college. Needless to say, feeling is running high.

Editor and staff of the "Cherry Tree," George Washington University, Washington, D. C. are very pleased these days. The reason: Janet Gaynor and Ronald Colman, film stars, have agreed to act as judges in the yearbook beauty contest.

Students at Wichita Falls Junior College, Texas, have no trouble finding talent on the campus. In fact, there is one member of the college family who includes in his repertoire eighty-three songs and 158 "partial" songs. It might be remarked in passing that this versatile artist is only a little more than three years of age! His father is in charge of the buildings and grounds of the college.

More than half the student activity fee at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, is expended on athletics, according to figures released by the college Board of Activities. Each student pays $16, and from this amount $8.95 goes into the athletic fund. The difference is spent by eleven campus organizations.

Pasadena Junior College is still walking on air—and rightfully so, for its band was this year chosen as the official Tournament of Roses band. It will represent the Tournament in all parades throughout the rest of the school year.

The Michigan state legislature recently passed a law that affects all teachers' college students: The law states that no degree or diploma shall be granted to any student of such colleges after June 30, 1933, who has not successfully completed a course in political science.

According to news from the south-

Swanson Will Represent Augustana Synod on Board

Dr. C. R. Swanson, pastor of Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Seattle, is the first representative of the Augustana Synod of the Lutheran Church to be an official member of the Board of Trustees of Pacific Lutheran College. In this capacity, he addressed the students Tuesday, stressing the relationship of true Christians to their God.

Dr. Swanson was for many years president of the Columbia Conference, and at present is its treasurer. He has served the church of which he is pastor for 18 years.

The membership of Dr. Swanson on the board marks the culmination of years of effort to have closer cooperation between the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America and the Augustana Synod of the Lutheran Church in regard to Pacific Lutheran College.

IN THE CLASSROOM

In the administration of the geography and "higher arithmetic" classes, changes have been made. Mr. Barton is now teaching geography, which Miss Fowler taught last term; in place of geography Miss Fowler is teaching higher arithmetic formerly taught by Mr. Stuen.

A course, Introduction to Fine Arts, was organized for the first time this semester. Under the direction of Mr. Pfeiffer the students will learn to appreciate the beauty in art, sculpture, pottery, and the like.

Several students have started practice teaching at Parkland and other grade schools. Among those are Shirley Hecht, Harold Meredith, Frances Andrews, Ethel Hagman, Olga Overlie, Alice Alvnes, Helen Collins, Angela Jacobson, Edgar Larson, Dickie Leland, Carl Martin, Arthur Spencer, Mrs. Spencer and Dorothy Winsor.

west, 584 women students of the University of California at Los Angeles are working their way through school. Eighty-six of them pay all their own expenses.

Temple University Hospital, Philadelphia, now boasts the most modern and best equipped maternity department in the country. It's doing business, too. An average of ten babies per day have been born since the department's completion recently, and one day's high was eighteen new citizens.

The Freshman Choir is now an actual and definitely working organization at Wilson Teachers college, Washington, D. C. This is the first choir of this nature to sing in Wilson chapel.

If lost articles continue to remain "lost" in the college office, Junior College of Kansas City, Kansas, offers a suggestion: sell them. In the case of Junior College, all proceeds from the sale will be given to the Children's Home.

Lutherans to Meet Aberdeen Friday Centralia Feb. 3

Pacific Lutheran College cagers will go into action again Friday night when they meet the Grays Harbor Junior College at Aberdeen. Saturday evening they will journey to Centralia, where they are slated to hurl baskets with the strong Centralia Junior College quintet. Since the Centralia Jay-sees won the first game from the Lutherans, the Gladiators are setting their caps for this contest and hope to wipe out the early defeat.

Since their last meeting, the Gladiator aggregation has undergone quite a change and may not present such a strong team. Nevertheless Coach Olson is working hard with his men in an effort to smooth out the organization, and it is likely by that time, that the Hub city quintet may face a faster working aggregation.

The new combination that will probably be used in this game will see Gene Jack at center, Hal Volaw and Stan Score forwards, and John Fadness and Jack Hudson, guards. Although Gene Jack has been used as a forward all season, he has had experience at the pivot post and should feel at home in this position. Stan Score will fill the vacancy at left forward, and should do it with comparative ease. Stan has been showing up well all season and has proved to be a dead eye with his unusual push shots.

As reserves, Coach Olson has Bev Shuster, Lyl Sanderson, Harold Holmberg, and Carl Martin. All these men are capable of doing justice to the art of basketball and may see a great deal of action in the ensuing games.

Glads Drop Exciting Game to Loggers

The Pacific Lutheran College cagers nearly upset their home rivals January 13, when they led the College of Puget Sound Loggers through a torrid game to lose 32 to 35. The Lutherans led throughout the entire game, but in the last few minutes of play went behind, when the Loggers began to connect with the hoop quite consistently.

The Gladiators started scoring right from the start of the opening whistle and ran up eight points before Coach Sandberg's hoopsters could find themselves. About this time, Command Logger forward, stepped in, and complicated the situation by sinking numerous shots, but the half found the Loggers trailing 16 to 14.

In the second half, faster play was exhibited by both teams. The Lutherans took advantage of the situation again by holding their lead. At the end of the third quarter the Gladiators still had a slight lead.

In the last quarter the score was quickly tied. Jack for the Lutherans then sunk a beautiful shot to make the score 23-21 for P.L.C. The contest was hot and the score close until shortly before the whistle, when Carlson for the Loggers started in some fast shooting.

The game ended 32-35 for the Loggers, but will possibly be remembered as the outstanding game of the season.

By C. Monson

Our basketball aggregation experienced another shakeup when it learned that Swede Willard and Bob Levinson will not be able to play this quarter. This is hard, since we have already lost a capable performer in Dutch Moe.

Yet leave it to Coach Olson—he is shaping out a nice quintet from the rest of his squad. Of course, they dropped a hot contest to Yakima Junior College, but what can you expect of a revamped organization?

Intercollegiate athletics have, at the present, developed to the extent that they are one of the strongest organized forces in the country. The reason they are strong is because they are organized. A unified organization demands recognition.

In the State of Washington there are six Junior Colleges: St. Martins, Centralia Junior College, Grays Harbor Junior College, Mt. Vernon Junior College, Yakima Junior College, and our school. Not one of these schools is recognized much in athletics, because none are organized. Their athletic contests are picked from any source where they can get them.

Picture to yourself how much more interest would be aroused, how much more publicity and recognition would result, if all the Junior Colleges in the State combined to form a STATE JUNIOR COLLEGE CONFERENCE. I am sure that each one of these schools would be interested in such a step—if somebody would start the ball rolling.

If you want to see a real example of enthusiasm and spirit, watch our girls' team in action. The determined air about them is very impressive, but they do make some awful faces at times.

Co-ed Basketeers Lose To Poultry Girls 25-19

Leading at the half by one point, the Pacific Lutheran College Co-ed basketeers slumped in the last period and lost a hard fought game to the Tacoma Poultry and Egg sextette, 25 to 19, January 19. The Gladiator girls could not seem to connect with the hoop in the last period, missing numerous shots at the basket.

Both teams played a fast game and exhibited a good brand of basketball. Hill, forward for the invaders, was high point performer of the evening with 11 points. Alvnes for the Gladiators coming next with 10. Evelyn Monson played outstanding ball at side center for the Lutherans.

The game throughout was marred by fouls and rough play.

Bolstad, diminutive Centralia forward, held high honors of the evening by chalking up eight counters. Volaw, Score, and Fadness, for the Gladiators came next with six points each.

P.L.C. (25)	(26) Centralia

Grays Harbor Loses Tilt to Gladiators

The Pacific Lutheran College cagers clicked perfectly in the contest with Grays Harbor Junior College, January 14, and had little trouble in downing their keen rivals, defeating them 35 to 18. The Gladiator first string piled up a score of 18 to 3 in the first half and the final session gave way to the reserves, who also outplayed the Jaysees.

The Lutherans started out from the opening whistle by sinking two baskets and from then on throughout the game held the upper hand. The invaders played fast ball but seemed unable to connect with the basket, and as a result the first half found them with only three points.

Gene Jack, Harold Holmberg, and Swede Willard divided honors for the Lutherans by scoring 6 points each.

Yakima J. C. Beats P. L. C. Cagers 37-23

Battling through a torrid first half to hold an 18-16 lead at the rest period, the Pacific Lutheran cagers let down in the closing minutes of play to lose 37-23 to the Yakima Junior College outfit last Friday night on their floor.

The Gladiators started with a rush and shortly after the opening tip-off, jumped into a lead which they maintained through the greater part of the first half. In the second half, the yakima boys came with a rush to even the score and jump into a two-point lead which they held until, with about six minutes remaining, they went on a scoring spree that put the game safely in the bag.

Bishop, lanky six-foot-four forward of the opponents, took scoring honors for the evening with twenty counters while Score was high for the Lutherans with seven points. The play of Fadness at guard and Jack at center ranked them as the outstanding men on the floor.

P. L. C. Wins Return Mt. Vernon Clash

Returning from Yakima early in the morning and with only few hours sleep to their credit, the Pacific Lutheran College cagers showed no signs of weariness when they defeated the Mt. Vernon Junior College hoopsters, 39 to 30, on the Parkland maples last Saturday. The Gladiators presented a dazzling attack which the invaders could not seem to fathom and displayed the nicest passing game they have shown this season.

The Lutherans started the scoring shortly after the opening whistle, when Jack connected with the hoop by a difficult shot from the sidelines. The Gladiators ran up a six point lead before the Vernontones scored and increased their lead as the game progressed. In the latter part of the second quarter, the invaders stole the show by making an impressive spurt, coming within five points of the Gladiators. The half ended with the Parkland quintet leading 21 to 7.

In the third quarter the Vernontones started another spurt, but were offset by the unanny long shots of Hudson and Fadness, who kept their team's head above the water by dropping in long shots with effective precision. Trulson, ex-P.L.C. performer, was the star for the visitors, being high point man with 13 counters. Hudson came next with 12 points and Fadness followed closely with 9.

Lineup:
P.L.C. (39)	(30) Mt. Vernon
Score (8)	RF (8) Booth

Jack (4)	C (1) Winslow
