

PACIFIC LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

REPORT TO INVESTORS
1985-86

President's Message

Investors quite understandably are interested in outcomes! So, too, is the president of the university.

Some outcomes at Pacific Lutheran University are readily measured. It is, for example, simple and pleasing for me to report that student enrollment in 1985/86 approached 3,800 and surpassed the all-time previous record of 1984/85. Similarly, it is easy and gratifying to state that complete renovation and/or major remodeling of several buildings occurred on campus during the past academic year and thus continued the process of building and improving teaching, learning and living facilities. The old science hall (Ramstad) was entirely redone so as to be a better building (now housing the school of nursing and many student services offices) than it was when it was first built. A new university gallery was added to Ingram Hall and new office and teaching spaces were provided there for journalism and communication arts faculty.

Other outcomes such as increasing national recognition and visibility are also readily reported. The November 25, 1985 issue of the U.S. New and World Report singled out Pacific Lutheran University as sixth highest in its ranking of similar colleges and universities in the entire midwest and west. National television (NBC), the New York Times, and several other individuals and media events brought PLU nation-wide commendation.

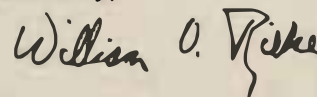

Some outcomes, however, are not so easily measured. Among these is the most important of all for the university, viz., how well do the university's graduates fare after receiving a PLU education?

To answer this central and key question, I have surveyed in a statistically sound random sampling method all persons who received a baccalaureate degree between the years 1965 and 1985.

Ten thousand four hundred alumni were in the sample measured, and how gratifying were the results! By overwhelming majorities these alumni affirmed the education they received at PLU, praised its academic reputation, and said if they had to choose a college again it would be PLU. Important, too, was the finding that unemployment among PLU alumni was less than 1/3 the regional and national unemployment rates.

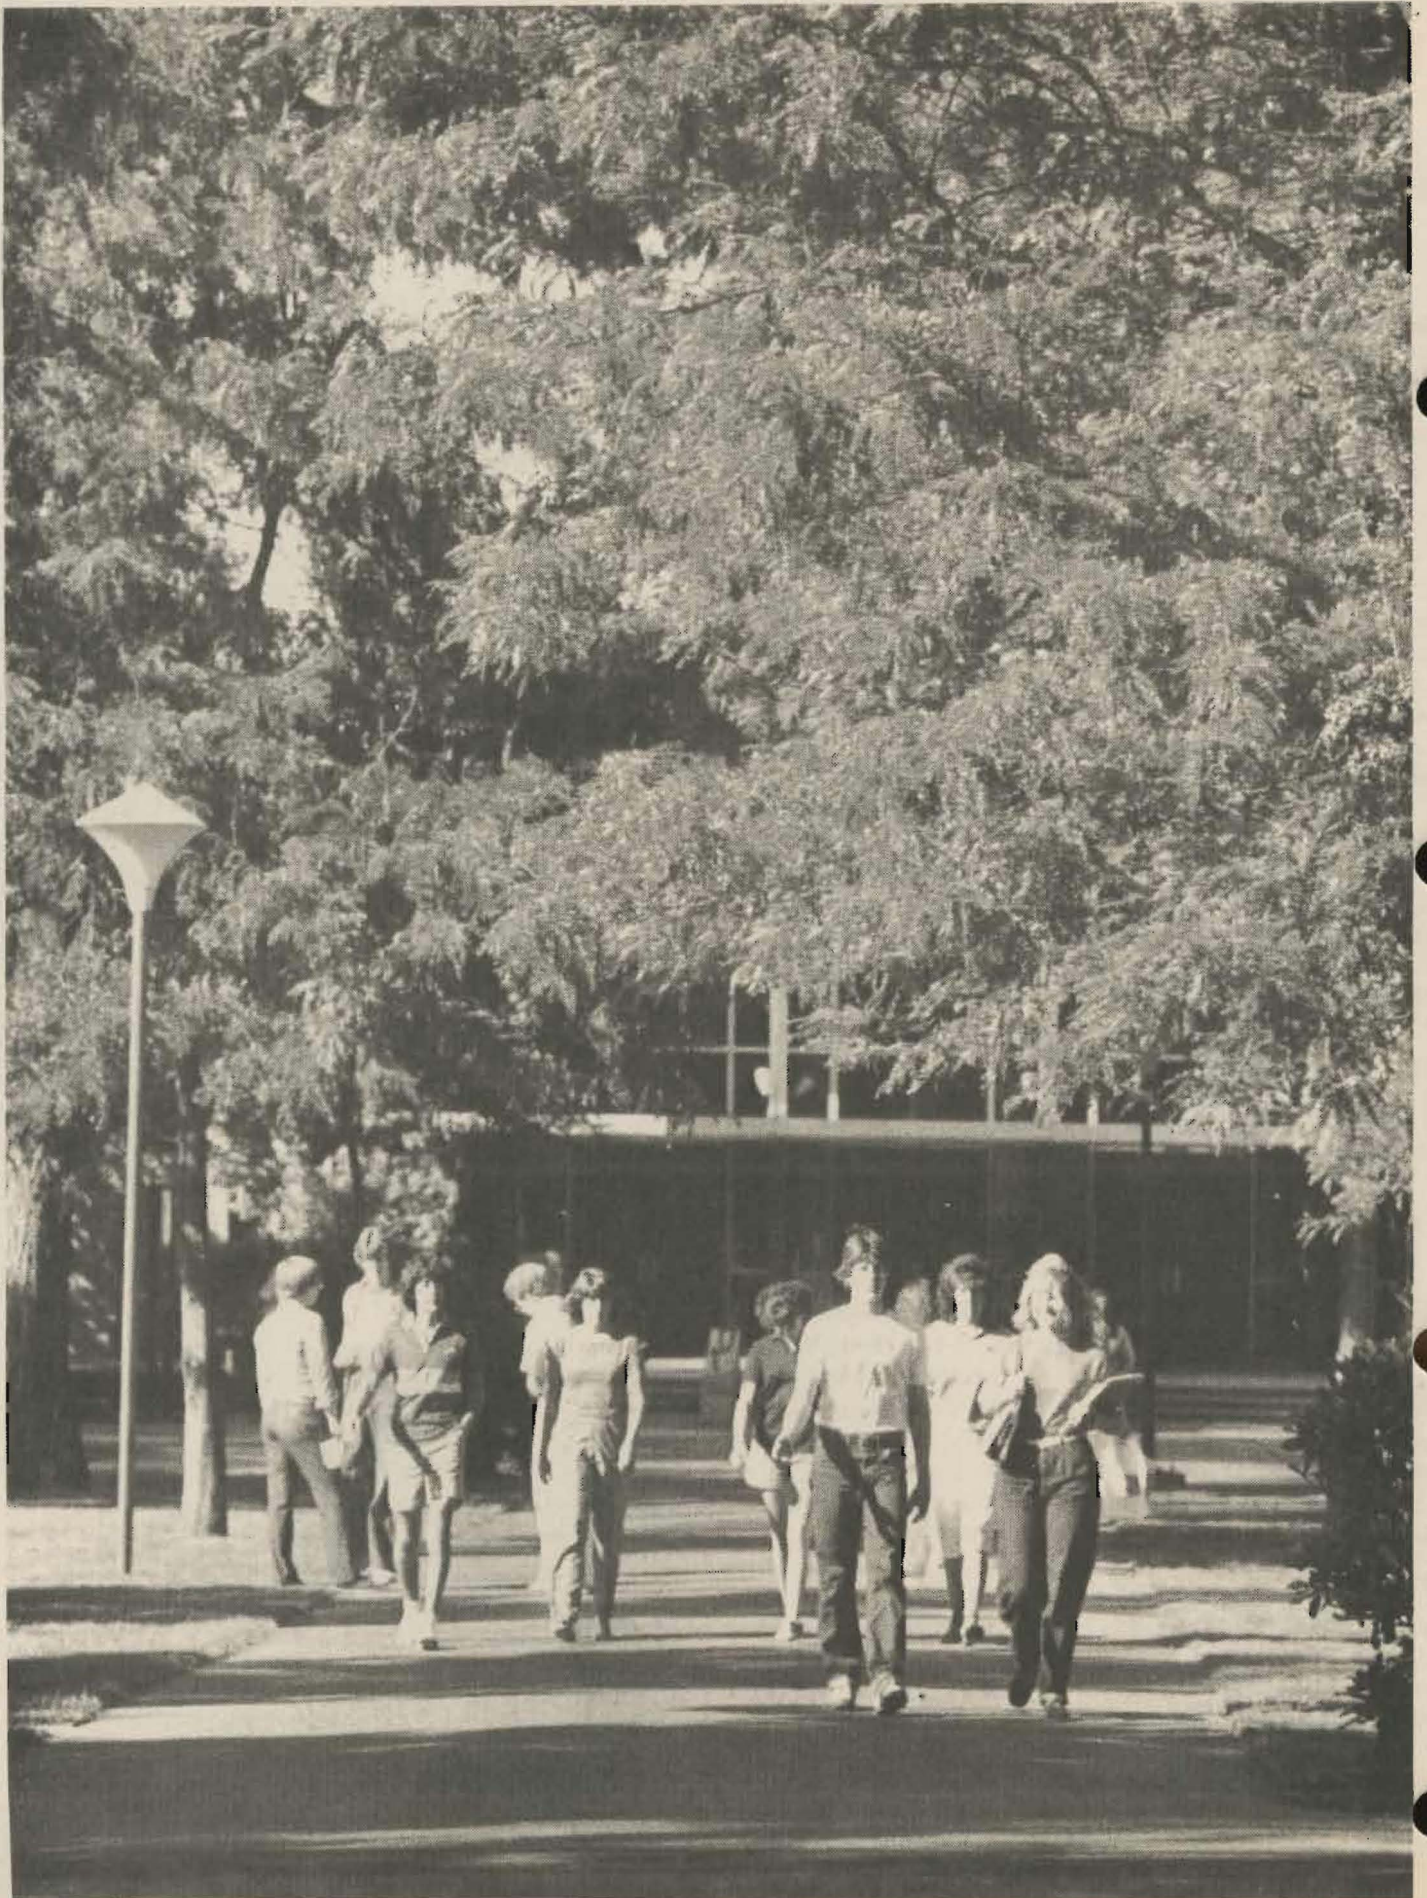

Investors in PLU can be certain, then, of positive outcomes. Both the easily and not-so-easily measured results speak strongly of the continued growth and vitality of the university. We all can take pride in the facts, and I take this opportunity to say a special word of appreciation and gratitude to you investors who have helped make such success.

Sincerely,

William O. Rieke, M.D.
President

The following pages list people in ministry--in a very special ministry and mission of providing quality education in a Christian context at Pacific Lutheran University.

It is gratifying to report that the number of individuals, businesses, churches, and foundations participating in this ministry at PLU continues to grow at an encouraging rate. As an example, the number of donors to the University in the calendar year 1980 was 3365, in 1982 donors increased to 4603, in 1984 the number swelled to 6950, and last year broke all records with 8345 partners in PLU's ministry.

It is especially heartening to note that the number of alumni donors has dramatically increased over that same period of time from 1588 in 1980/81 to 3583 this year. The number of PLU's friends who gifted the University during those years has also more than doubled from 2331 to 4754.

The record also shows a significant increase in the amount of money contributed to the University this year. Gifts of $1,755,578 were received this fiscal year for the current fund, that is for scholarship aid and the general maintenance of the University. This was a dramatic 39 percent increase over last year. The total contributions, including those for capital purposes, reached an all-time high for PLU of $4,110,700.

The development directors and staff are very much aware of the fact that growth and progress are the consequences of the clarity and value of the mission of the University. The mission is supported by committed investors. These investors span all of PLU's constituencies and draw from them not only investments of money, but also talents, energies, advice, direction, and prayers. I am grateful for all of these.

In 1990/91, the University will celebrate its centennial under the theme "Educating for Service--Century II." The theme succinctly and powerfully speaks a purpose. PLU is in the business of excellence in education, yet not education alone, but education for service. As we anticipate the centennial and the second century, I invite your review of the Report to Investors and your continued support.

A bold challenge for the remaining years of this decade stands before us as we propose to celebrate this century milestone. But the great host of those who are investing in PLU and taking part in its ministry will help us meet that challenge.

University Highlights 1985-86

JUNE Several major construction and renovation projects began. An $11.5 million bond sale made possible remodeling of Ramstad Hall for School of Nursing and Student Life offices. Historic Harstad Hall was renovated and modernized. Ingram Hall was remodeled to house the Dean of the Arts and Department of Communication Arts.

* Seven students began 10 weeks in a summer chemistry research program in the new Rieke Science Center. Each worked on an individual research project that was part of a faculty member's ongoing investigation. The research was supported by the Robert C. Olsen Fund.

* Junior Steve Keller was one of three undergraduate students in the U.S. to be awarded a $2,000 summer research stipend from the polymer division of the American Chemical Society. Junior Doug Grider was named alternate, giving PLU two of the top four applicants in the nation.

* The second annual Nordic Night, a benefit for the planned Scandinavian Cultural Center, raised $6,500. Part of the total was matched by Lutheran Brotherhood to raise the total to more than $9,000.

JULY The PLU football team spent two weeks in Europe participating in the French Riviera Football Classic. They won all three games against a team from Paris, France. The Classic was covered by the NBC-TV Today Show and WTBS-TV superstation in Atlanta, Georgia. "I was proud of our ambassadorial performance," said Coach Frosty Westering.

* A PLU tour group spent a week in Germany "walking in the footsteps of Bach" and celebrating the 300th anniversary of the composer's birth. On the 235th anniversary of Bach's death, PLU organist David Dahl performed on a Stormthal church organ originally played by the master composer.

AUGUST The year-old Names Fitness Center was selected for 1985 Facility of Merit recognition by Athletic Business magazine.

* 1985 Summer Sessions concluded with a new enrollment record of 1,926 students, a mark five percent higher than the record set in 1984. Summer Commencement exercises honored 151 bachelor's and master's degree candidates.

SEPTEMBER KPLU-FM, PLU's 100,000-watt public radio station, extended its signal via translators throughout Western Washington and began 24-hour-a-day broadcasting.

* Faculty for the 1985-86 academic year included Dr. Jiabao Chen, PLU's first exchange professor from the People's Republic of China, and Dr. Andrezej Grochulski of Poland, an economics professor who taught in Moscow, Warsaw and Salzburg before seeking political asylum in the United States.

* PLU is one of 15 universities nationwide - and the smallest by far - participating in a new program established by the Norwegian government to encourage Norwegian students to study abroad. The program provides a special government grant for students studying business administration at PLU.

OCTOBER The education editor of the New York Times, Edward Fiske, published a new volume, The Best Buys in College Education. Fiske selected schools, including PLU, that offer quality education in relation to the cost to the student and family. He noted that "most students say the real PLU bargain lies in the personal attention they get from professors in generally small classes." He quoted one student as saying, "Teachers are not only approachable, but warm, open and friendly - concerned for the individual student."

* The first of three Presidential Forums was held on campus. The forums, intended to "relate the liberal arts to the demands of students for technical and professional competence," were funded by grants from the Consortium for the Advancement of Private Higher Education and Burlington Northern Foundation.

* Dr. Philip Nordquist, PLU history professor the past 23 years, was appointed Centennial Historian and will write the comprehensive history of the university's first 100 years. The appointment was announced in the spring of 1986. Nordquist is working on the project during his 1986-87 sabbatical.

NOVEMBER Six PLU alumni were honored during the annual Homecoming banquet November 2. They included Distinguished Alumnus Dr. Insu Lee '59, a Washington, D.C. toxicologist; Alumnae of the Year Dorothy Harshman '42 of Seattle; and Heritage Award winner Luella (Toso) Johnson '51 of Tacoma. Roy and Gloria Virak of Tacoma, both '52, and David Peterson '74 received Special Recognition Awards.

The November 25 issue of U.S. News and World Report evaluated "America's Best Colleges." It ranked PLU among the top six schools in the Midwest and Far West, along with Pepperdine, Valparaiso, Drake, Bradley and San Diego State. The ranking placed PLU among the top four percent of colleges and universities in its category. According to the article, "America's undergraduate institutions with the best reputations...are those that insist that their students be educated broadly."

* PLU released a stereo recording, "J.S. Bach and the Chorale," featuring the Choir of the West and organist David Dahl. The record commemorated the 300th anniversary of the composer's birth.

DECEMBER Brenda Johnson of Beaverton, Oregon, was selected as the 1985 Santa Lucia at PLU. She received her seven-candle crown during PLU's 38th annual Scandinavian Christmas celebration on December 7.

* The annual Christmas Festival Concert featured the world premiere of a new cantata by PLU composer Greg Youtz, "Officium Pastorum." Concerts were presented in Portland, Seattle, Spokane and Tacoma.

* On December 13 the Lutes hosted the national NAIA football championship in the Tacoma Dome for the third time in six years. This time they came up short, losing to Wisconsin-La Crosse 24-7.

* A Citation of Appreciation was presented to Dr. James Slater during winter commencement exercises December 14. Dr. Slater, a retired biologist, has given gifts to PLU totaling in six figures.

JANUARY Six Taiwanese educators interested in special education visited the campus. They selected PLU as one of five U.S. universities to visit because of its outstanding reputation in the field. Of the five, it is the smallest, by far.

* The Q Club set a new record for unrestricted giving in 1985, $635,000, a 15 1/2 percent increase.

* URS Wright Forssen of Seattle was the architectural firm selected by the Board of Regents to design a third floor for Mortvedt Library. The firm is the successor to Bindon & Wright, designers of the present 20-year-old structure.

* The PLU Scandinavian Immigrant Collection was the focus of a January 19 open house at Mortvedt Library.

FEBRUARY The School of Business Administration hosted the 10th annual International Business Conference. The theme was "work abroad and business employment trends in Third World countries."

* PLU's first Northwest Jazz Festival February 7-8 featured jazz greats Freddie Hubbard and Richie Cole and vocal quartet Rare Silk.

* President Rieke was elected to the board of directors of the National Association of Independent Colleges and Universities, a consortium of college presidents which offers a unified national voice for independent higher education.

* Three prominent Billings, Montana, civic and professional leaders were honored by PLU on February 20. They were Senia Hart, active in restoration of historic Billings landmarks; State Senator Thomas Hager; and Kampgrounds of America (KOA) President Arthur Peterson.

* The country's leading expert on the Nationalist period in China, Dr. Lloyd Eastman, delivered the Walter Schnackenberg Memorial Lecture at PLU. The 1953 PLU alumnus was inspired to pursue his career specialty by Schnackenberg, a PLU history professor for 23 years before his death in 1973.

MARCH The new University Art Gallery in Ingram Hall was officially opened in March. A $25,000 grant from the Kreielsheimer Foundation provided a significant portion of the construction funding.

* The PLU basketball team won the Northwest Conference title with an 8-2 record (17-10 overall). Senior guard Dan Gibbs became the Lutes seventh leading season scorer (521 points) and set a single game field goal mark (17).

* On March 16 the PLU Family and Children's Center was prominently featured in an NBC-TV documentary, "Taking Children Seriously." The program focused on many children's problems, including abuse, neglect and learning difficulties, as well as creative ways these problems are addressed at the Center.

* The first computer engineering major to be offered in Washington State was announced. The program, which begins this fall, also features an artificial intelligence (AI) component. A $33,810 grant from the National Science Foundation funded a new AI laboratory.

APRIL Dennis Nichols, a senior chemistry major from Spokane, became PLU's 13th Fulbright Scholar in 12 years, the first from the natural sciences. This year he is studying biophysical chemistry of membrane proteins at the University of Karlsruhe in Germany, all expenses paid.

* Pam Faller, a senior biology major from Hillsboro, Oregon, received a three-year National Science Foundation fellowship for graduate study. Including a stipend from Harvard University where she is pursuing a doctor's degree in biology, she received awards valued at over $86,000.

* The PLU chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, national business honorary, received the BGS Outstanding Chapter Award. PLU is the smallest school in the country with a BGS chapter.

* English author-journalist Lesley Hazleton joined the PLU English faculty for the spring semester as PLU's second Distinguished Writer-In-Residence. The author of several books and national media articles, she wrote an April New York Times feature about her classroom experiences at PLU.

MAY Romuald Spasowski, former Polish ambassador to the U.S. who defected in 1981, visited campus and spoke at the Q Club banquet. His daughter, Maria Grochulski, gave the featured presentation. She was a visiting PLU lecturer during the school year.

* Former congresswoman Shirley Chisholm was a featured guest speaker at PLU on May 8.

* The PLU endowment fund increased by $1.5 million as the result of a challenge from Lutheran Brotherhood extended three years ago. LB offered a $450,000 challenge grant to PLU with the stipulation that the university raise two dollars for every grant dollar. The challenge was successfully met.

* Sharon McConnell, a senior from Puyallup, received a graduate fellowship from Louisiana State University to pursue a doctor's degree in industrial-organization psychology. The four-year fellowship is valued at over $40,000.

* Spring commencement exercises May 25 honored 514 bachelor's and master's degree candidates. An honorary doctor's degree was conferred upon Dr. Jiabao Chen (see September). A Distinguished Service Award was presented to Melvin Knudson, former Board of Regents chairman, who stepped down after 16 years on the Board. Dr. Robert Menzel, director for the PLU CHOICE Center for 17 years and founder of the PLU Family and Children's Center, was honored upon his retirement. Chemistry professor Dr. Lawrence Huestis and nursing professor Dorothy Cone received 25-year service awards.

THE ANNUAL FUND

Gifts to the University's Annual Fund provide vital support to every area of the institution. Scholarships, faculty salaries, library resources, and facilities' maintenance represent some of the more significant areas where Annual Fund gifts are put to use.

Taken together with other income sources, Annual Fund support subsidizes the cost of education by approximately $600 a year for each student who attends the University. These gifts strengthen our ability to provide quality academic programs and help the University operate in the black.

While all Annual Fund gifts are important, the University has encouraged increased support through a special donor organization known as the PLU Q Club. Donors qualify for membership when their unrestricted and/or scholarship gifts to the Annual Fund reach $240 or more a year.

The PLU Q Club

The Q Club was started in 1972 to thank friends and alumni of Pacific Lutheran University who gave vitally needed unrestricted gifts to the University's Annual Fund. These gifts help secure PLU's commitment to Quality education.

Q Club gifts

- * help underwrite the cost of education for each student
- * provide scholarships and financial aid to needy students (nearly 70% of our students both need and receive some financial assistance)
- * allow the University to keep a balanced budget without sacrificing quality.

To help accomplish these goals, members commit themselves to a specific amount of support each year. There are four recognized giving levels:

Member	$240/year
Associate Fellow	$480/year
Fellow	$1000/year
Senior Fellow	$2400/year

The Q Club began with 100 members who contributed $51,000 to PLU in 1972. Today, there are over 1,400 members who gave over $657,000 to the University during the last fiscal year.

The following pages list the names of alumni, friends, businesses and churches who have supported the Annual Fund at Pacific Lutheran University during the past fiscal year, June 1, 1985 through May 31, 1986.

Dr. Insu Lee '59 saves countless lives through his research as a toxicologist for the National Institute of Health. PLU's 1985 Distinguished Alumnus had his life saved by a communist when he was a young Korean teenager during his country's early '50s north-south conflict.

The Alumni Annual Fund

Honor Roll of Donors by Class

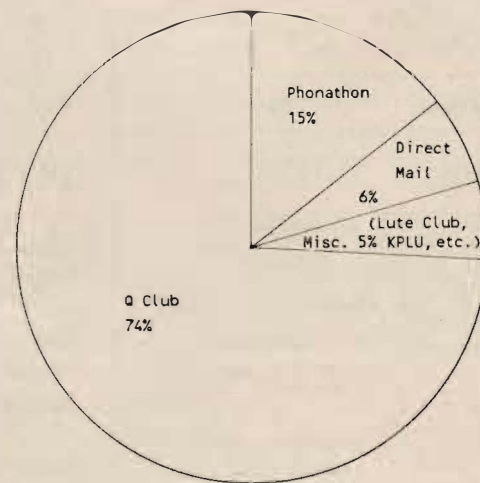

Annual Fund gifts from PLU alumni help preserve and strengthen the quality of the educational programs which the University offers. These contributions help with everything from scholarships to faculty salaries and library books to athletics.

This past fiscal year 2,380 PLU alumni (about 15%) made a gift to the University's Annual Fund. These contributions, which we call the Alumni Annual fund, are recognized in this special Honor Roll of Donors.

Our goal over the next five years is to increase the number of alumni who give to the Annual Fund to at least 20%. The number or percentage of alumni who give - as opposed to the size of their gift - is important because it is considered by many major donors and foundations as a key "barometer" of support from those who know us best.

The second criteria is, of course, total dollars contributed. As the chart to the right indicates, nearly 3/4 of alumni gift income is generated by individuals who are able to contribute at the Q Club level of $240 or more a year.

The following lists recognize Alumni Annual Fund Donors by class. Where two alumni from different classes are married, their gift has been split and listed accordingly. The percentage and dollar amounts for each class indicate gifts received during the 1985/86 fiscal year ending May 31.

Why is the percentage of alumni who give each year to the Annual Fund important?

One of the first questions which foundations and major donors ask of us is this:

How many of your alumni regularly support your institution?

Our answer to that question often determines the size of their gift.

Ted L. Johnson, a 1960 physics grad, was recently named director of the new Boeing Electronics Company's High Technology Center. He is putting together a team of some 500 scientists and engineers who will perform high-level applied research in electronics and futuristic technologies. He says, "In an age when technology tends to be worshiped, I believe it is extremely important to balance technical knowledge with a liberal education."

During 1985-86 PLU alums were active in several of the world's "hot spots." Dr. Scott Kennedy '77 of Tacoma sped to Columbia to help in an international relief effort following a disastrous volcanic eruption. An alum nurse, Cindy Sienko '85, aided earthquake victims in Mexico. Doug Gardner '85 (left with father Gov. Booth Gardner) became a Christian relief worker in the Sudan. Brian '71 and Susan '69 Burchfield became missionaries in South Africa...

"When you're just finishing high school, it's hard to think about careers and college. Yet, in this day and age, we have to think seriously about going out on our own, making choices about education or work, and our future--where do we fit in? We want to find careers that fit us, that we enjoy, and that will be rewarding. When you are faced with committing a big part of your life to a career, it gets a little scary."

THE HERITAGE SOCIETY

Members of the Heritage Society are those individuals who have included Pacific Lutheran University in some type of deferred gift-bequest, charitable trust, revocable trust, charitable gift annuity, life insurance, pooled income fund agreement, or a gift of a residence or farm with a retained life estate.

Membership is not based on the amount of the deferred gift. The sole criterion is the remembrance of Pacific Lutheran University in one's estate planning.

The purposes of the Heritage Society are:
To show gratitude and recognition to those who have expressed concern for PLU by providing for a deferred gift.

To assist members of the Society in their ongoing estate planning.

To encourage others to become members of the Society.

The following roster lists Heritage Society Members of record as of July 1986.

CAPITAL AND ENDOWMENT GIFTS 1985-86

Gifts to Pacific Lutheran University's capital and endowment programs help fund new construction, major campus renovation projects and provide endowment monies for scholarships and general operations.

The following lists, arranged by constituent groups, represent donors who made contributions to capital and endowment purposes during the fiscal year June 1, 1985 through May 31, 1986.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of these lists. If an error is found, please notify us so that we may adjust our records.

"Academics are much more interesting because of the attention professors are willing to give to students. Teachers have rearranged their time to meet with me during my free time. When a professor is willing to try that hard, I am motivated to try harder."
