

U. of Southern California Grants Ph. D. to Utzinger

Mr. Vernon A. Utzinger, associate professor of speech, was conferred his Doctor of Philosophy degree by the University of Southern California in Los Angeles after his final oral examination before a committee of the graduate school last Friday morning.

Dr. Utzinger, the umpteenth member of the PLC faculty to hold an earned doctorate, raises the academic standing of the faculty which stands highest among the state colleges of education and other private colleges and universities of Washington. Having earned his degree in the department of speech, he joins the relatively small number of four hundred who have attained this highest academic achievement in his field.

"An experimental study of the effects of verbal fluency upon the listener" was the thesis, which, together with a number of graduate courses at U.S.C. and the University of Wisconsin, was the basis for earning the degree as a Doctor of Philosophy.

The thesis data, gathered on the PLC campus last year, indicated that fluency does not significantly influence recall but is pleasing to the listener. The study is important to the field of education because the effects of fluency had never been experimentally determined before. Complete findings will be published soon.

Previous to his arrival here in 1950, Mr. Utzinger was director of the department of speech at Carroll College, Wisconsin. For two terms the professor was president of the Wisconsin Association of Speech Teachers and four years Governor of the Illinois-Wisconsin province of the national speech honorary, Pi Kappa Delta.

For fifteen years, Mr. Utzinger produced a Milwaukee radio program, "Speech Class of the Air," as a public service for speech improvement. He was also given wide recognition in professional circles as the initiator of taking moving pictures of speech students in class.

Spurs To Conduct Telegram Service

Activity plans will keep the Spurs busy this week. The activities will get underway on Monday, according to Joyce Genz, local Spur president, with the "Ugly Man Contest."

Voting will be conducted at two booths run by Spurs. Each vote will cost a penny and students are asked to support their friends. The popular boy winning the most votes will be crowned at a royal ceremony at the AWS Tolo to be held Feb. 16. All rules and regulations are printed on posters in the various class buildings.

A special telegram service will be conducted by the Spurs on Feb. 14 in observance of Founders' Day for the organization and also Valentine's Day. The traditional procedure will be followed, with Spur carriers on hand to deliver the desired messages. Singing telegrams will again be a part of the program. The telegrams will be priced at approximately a penny per word. There will be special rates for the messages set to music.

Ending the week will be a "Lick CPS" sucker sale. The penny suckers will be sold Friday and again on Saturday night at the game.

904 Diatoms Given To Biology Dept.

From one of the "quieter" corners of an industrious, bustling, botany laboratory, Irene Creso, botany instructor, told of a new collection of plants that PLC will receive soon.

Apologizing for her over-enthusiasm for plant life, she explained that since several years ago, and with it the entire collection of plant mountings, it has been slow and tedious work rebuilding another herbarium. The new collection will add 904 species to the college's now slim collection of diatoms.

Last summer, for instance, Instructor Creso travelled to British Columbia to look for species of these diatoms, but working on such a task, classifying, mounting, and finding such specimens is a difficult singular job.

Diatoms, microscopic when living, leave their beautifully shaped cell wall behind when they die. Their skeletons are almost indestructible, and form colonies. The single celled creatures form deposits sometimes 800 feet high. Valuable to science for the history they hold, the diatoms are also used industrially in scouring powders.

Ski Club Trip To Mt. Hood Cancelled

Because the Ski Club could not get the proper accommodations for the trip to Mt. Hood, February 22-24, the club will not go there as had been previously planned. This announcement was made by Bob Brog, Ski club president.

However, the club will still go somewhere for the weekend. Since CPS has offered PLC the use of its lodge at Chinook Pass, the club will probably go there. In any case, those that do go will be expected to provide their own bedding. The food will be taken care of by the committee in charge of the same and the cost of the weekend will be announced later.

There will be a Ski Club meeting next Wednesday and all those who are interested in skiing, whether they ski or not, are invited to attend. The time and place of the meeting will be disclosed later.

New Chapel Seating Plan Effective Monday

Permanent seats will be assigned during the Chapel period next Monday, February 11, according to the Chapel committee. Required Chapel attendance has been a rule at Pacific Lutheran College which has persisted since the founding of the institution in 1894. While many other regulations have changed, this regulation has persisted through the years.

New Students Enroll For 2nd Semester

Among the "Who's New" on the PLC campus for the spring semester are beginning freshmen, special students, and transfer students. The total enrollment for the term has not been ascertained yet, but over thirty new students have enrolled.

Ron Blucher a former "PLCite," has returned after a semester of instruction at Washington State College. Also from WSC comes Norma McGrath, sister of Doug McGrath, who is entering as a last-half sophomore.

Transferring from the University of Washington is Harriet Cook, of Puyallup. Jim Iddings, Puget Sound League track and basketball star, has also come from the U. of W.

Richard Brown from Grays Harbor Junior College, and Leslie Speer from Olympic College in Bremerton are other transfers.

Returning to the PLC campus this semester are James E. Williamson, San Francisco; Edwin Roalvram, Seattle; Marie Norem, San Diego; Richard Johnson, Seattle; William Dunning, Bonner's Ferry, Idaho; and Bill Barnhart, Seattle.

In addition, others registered are: Robert Beatty, San Francisco; Larry Botton, Kent; Charles Chitton, Eula Irene Dolly, Puyallup; Ellis French, Fort Lewis; Beatrice Hansen, Puyallup; Jon Hunt, Hood River, Oregon; Christine Lamorizeux, Auburn; Norman Larson, Seattle; Gordon Marand, Everett; Loren Matson, a Korean war veteran from Tacoma; and Ronald C. Morgan, another Korean vet from Fort Lewis.

Also entered are: Janie Norem, Los Angeles; Mervin Nyberg, Parkland; Shirley Petersen, Eugene, Oregon; Jeanne Pierce, Spokane; Martin Radinski, Olympia; Pfc. Ernestine Tay-

Campus Chest Drive To Be February 20

Plans are now being completed for a Campus Chest drive, which will include four Charity groups, under the sponsorship of Blue Key, men's honoraty.

According to co-chairmen, George Nowadnick and John Luning, this chest will eliminate having collections throughout the year, by having one, which will include Red Cross, Community Chest, Lutheran Student Action and World Student Service Fund.

A collection will be taken in chapel on Wednesday, February 20. The goal is one dollar per student. If the drive is successful, it will become an annual affair.

Our Mistake

It was erroneously stated in the Mooring Mast last Friday that the Saga Carnival will be held May 14 and 15. Correct dates are March 14 and 15.

The Mooring Mast quotes from the most recent college catalogue on page 20 as follows: "Chapel exercises are held daily. Regular Chapel attendance is required four of the five days each week on student body day. Excuses for absences must be filed with the College Chaplain within one week after the absence has occurred. Unexcused absences (cuts) are not permitted. More than four unexcused absences during any one semester may result in suspension of the student from all classes. The regularly-elected faculty committee on Religious Activities is the Chaplain's Advisory Committee."

Among the many things that Dr. Eastvold said so excellently in his two chapel addresses entitled, "Let Us Go to Chapel," were the following: "If we had no other reason than to have things done 'decently and in order,' we would want every student to have a place where he would know a seat would be waiting for him whether he might come early or late. Thus to avoid confusion, we will place every person in a special seat and ask that it be used at all times at the morning chapel exercises Monday through Friday."

Dr. Eastvold will bring a short message on Monday morning, Feb. 11, after which the following schedule will be carried out in due order.

CHAPEL SEATING

Spurs on duty: (to pass out slips and guide guests)—2 at the head of each aisle, to pass out slips; 1 at each front corner, to pass out slips; 2 in the foyer, to guide guests upstairs.

* To the left or right of the speaker. (Signs will designate these various sections.) (Continued on page 4)

Seniors To Present Program Tuesday

There will be a special program for the first Student Body day in the new Chapel, next Tuesday.

Art Broback will lead devotions. A girls' trio, Louise Stevenson, Margaret Lucas and Helen Humwick, and a boys' quartet will provide special music. Giving an interpretive reading will be Maggie Kutz.

A.W.S. Hobo Tolo Slated For Feb. 16

Okay, girls! Now is the time for you to get Leap Year off to a good start, the Hobo Tolo is coming!

Sponsored by the Associated Women Students, the tolo will be held at the Titlow Beach lodge immediately following the PLC-CPS game, to be played in the PLC gym. Only $1.00 per couple—there will be food and refreshments (hot dogs, etc. extra) and the cost of transportation, via the PLC buses, is included. One of the highlights of the evening will be the crowning of PLC's own "Ugliest Man of the Year."

Hobo clothes will be in order, and they may also be worn to the game.

General chairman of the Tolo is Marianne Pfeiffer and the others on the committee are: Marjorie Fink, Lorraine Gunderson, Phyllis Graham, June Nelson, Joanne Poenert, Donna Simkins, and Thelma Starwick. Mr. and Mrs. Creso will be two of the chaperones.

Song and Yell Book On Sale Next Tuesday

Just before Christmas, you were introduced to some new PLC songs and yells in Chapel. Now, you may have a permanent copy of these songs and yells.

The new songs and cheers were submitted by you during the song and cheer contest sponsored by the Freshman class. Beginning next Friday, handbooks with the new songs and these booklets will be all of the new these booklets will be all of the new PLC yells and songs, plus all of the old ones. Only 500 copies are going to be made, so be sure you get yours right away, when they go on sale.

In charge of the handbooks is the following committee: Carol Brace, Bob Sorenson, Donna Mac Flynn, Alta Presby, LaWanna Huber, and O. B. Fjelstad.

 This will be the first in a series of society columns designed to keep PLC students informed about social life around the campus—parties in dorms, private parties, and general events of interest to the student body.
 The past week has seen many birthday parties throughout the dorms. Last Saturday evening, some of the girls on third floor of Old Main helped Mary Ensberg celebrate her 19th birthday with a surprise party planned by her roommates, Marcine Vohs and Jeannette Frieske. A roomful of girls sang the traditional song and presented her with a beautifully decorated cake. Mary opened the packages she had received from home and the guests enjoyed cake and cookies.
 Edith Olund was honored with a party of a similar nature Monday evening. The event was planned and given by Barbara Johansen and Allura Amdahl to observe Edith's 19th birthday.

of a birthday party, Sunday, given by JoAnne Knudsen and Delores Shervik. The party was a complete surprise to Bev. Root beer floats, cookies, and candy were served.
 Several PLC girls have joined the ranks of brides-to-be lately. Gwen Hovey and Rick Daniels announced their engagement at a party given by Ann Knorr. The actual announcement was made by a recording with Rick giving the details. They are to be married this summer.
 Dorothy Olsen made it known to friends, bidden to her apartment for coffee, that she is one of the brides-to-be this Spring. Her engagement to Hal Schrupp was revealed by doilies on which were printed the names of the couple, Dorothy will be a May bride.
 Margaret Kutz found a novel way to announce her engagement to Bob Nistad. Girls gathered in her room were shown a large cigar with the sign, "It's a boy, weight 1 ton," etc. The traditional box of chocolates was passed.
 Pills have been made by apothecaries since 1500 B.C., but it was not until late in the 19th Century that they were given a special coating to make them palatable.

The so-called "Webb," a house where several boys live, sponsored a birthday party for their cook and cakesake, Dale "Spider" Keller, Thursday night. Don Reiman, Bob Brog, John Liming, and Glen Werner were the hosts.

QUESTION of the WEEK

The faculty has decided that, due to certain conflicts, they will not present the annual faculty talent show. What is your opinion of this decision?
Jim Ball: I wouldn't give a show either if I didn't have any talent!
Al Ahrens: It's a must!
Connie Jacobsen: They've got to, because this is the only way we see them as anything—except scholars.

Bob Ross: I think (and you can quote me) that the faculty should have their talent show because it is the only time they can break away from the usual grind of classes and let themselves go.

Luther Kroenke: If it is at all possible, I would like it, but if they have good reasons it's understandable.

Beverly Pine: I'd sure like to hear Miss Tingelstad sing again!

Bill Vaswig: I think they should reconsider because I have experienced it as a climax in entertainment.

Murray Martin: I think it's too bad because I was really looking forward to it.

Marvin Underseth: The freshmen would really miss something if they couldn't see the faculty's talent.

Margie Bevan: Maybe we'd appreciate our faculty more if we were aware of their hidden talent.

Anita Hellbaum: Oh, I think they should give the show because—jeepers, it was funny last year. You see the professors in such a different light.

Joanne Freeman: Being a freshman, I don't think they're justified in bringing it to a conclusion now. They ought to wait till next year because I want to see it first.

Jeannie Frieske: Wait till grades come out and I'll tell you.

LaWanna Huber: Since we haven't any other entertainment, as a last resort we might as well let the faculty provide it. (Just kidding, of course).

Student Teacher Receives Calls From Admirers

Margaret Lucas, ex-student teacher, has been receiving calls from her adoring public. Margaret, or Miss Lucas, as she is known to her constituents, taught a class of third graders at Fern Hill last semester. "The kids wanted my telephone number when I left so I gave it to them," says Margaret.

Last Saturday a call came through the switchboard for Miss Lucas.

The switchboard operator, thinking an elderly lady was calling, rang the fourth floor of the Girls Dorm and asked for Margaret. She was out. The operator, still under the impression that the call was extremely important tried again. Alas, Margaret had come and gone. Just then she went past the switchboard headed for the SUB. The lights on the board began to blink, the buzzer began to buzz. Everyone wanted service all at once, too. Ignoring all, the operator deserted her post and ran after Miss Lucas, shouting, "Margaret, there is an elderly lady on the phone who wants to speak to you."
 Miss Lucas, upon answering the call, discovered that Lois, one of her third graders, "just wanted to talk."
 Even though Margaret is honored and pleased to know that her children miss her, she says: "I think this will have to stop."

Dr. Knorr Returns

Dr. E. C. Knorr returns today from Chicago, via United Air Lines, where he attended a two-day meeting of the Board for Christian Social Action of the American Lutheran Church, Feb. 6 and 7. Dr. Knorr is chairman of the Committee for Christian Social Action, as well as ranking vice-president of the Northwestern District of the A. L. C.

Prexy Says . . .

Now that we have moved into the new Chapel, we are going to strive for more entertaining student body programs. The first of these new programs will be given this coming Tuesday. We hope that you will enjoy it, and that we can hear some of your comments about it. We would also like some comments and ideas you might have for future programs.

Our student body has a lot of hidden talent which can be displayed in some of this unseen talent or if you know of someone who is too bashful to come forth with his achievements, please let us know. We will do our best to get them to perform for us.

I can tell you a little success story about one of our Chapel performers, namely Bob Fleming. It took three weeks to coax Bob into doing his little act in Chapel. Now look at him—he is one of the most successful entertainers on this side of the "iron curtain." Why, immediately after his performance in Chapel he stepped right on to a stage—first one out of town! The moral of the story is that "you, too, can be a success."

Seriously, though, it is our aim to put on some good programs for you on Tuesdays. Your opinions and suggestions will help us to do this.

TED and RON with the Sports Once Over

Lute fans will have a chance to see one of the most publicized athletes in the Northwest in action in the local gym Tuesday night. Johnny O'Brien is far in front of all collegians in the national scoring race. He has averaged 27 points per game and if he maintains this torrid pace will be the first college ball player in history to score 1,000 points in a single season. The 5-9 guard was the star of the Pacific Coast conference last year when he averaged 27.5 points per game. He was named Pacific Coast scoring record this season as a junior. Incidentally, it was about this time last year that Marv Harshman's club turned in a 75-70 upset victory over an O'Brien and Co. team with an even more impressive record than this one. We've got a team this year that could do it again. See you there!

The Lute JV's meet the Seattle U Papooses at 6:15 in a preliminary game also worth seeing. The Papooses are currently in second place in the strong Northwest AAU league and their 6-8 center, Joe Pehanic, set a new league scoring record the other night by dumping in 39 points. Come early and get a good seat.

Sports Shorts

In examining the athletic backgrounds of the Gladiator varsity squad, we poked up a little interesting info which we'll pass along to you.

Four Lutes were teammates in high school. Glen Huffman, Garnet Lund, Ron Billings and Dick Larson all played together at Lincoln Hi in Tacoma. Also on this team were Don Koesler, Lute letterman last year, who is sitting out this season, and Russ Wilkerson, CPS guard. This team won a cross-state title as well as two city championships. Going back even further, we find Huffman and Billings as Jr. Hi teammates, Lund and Wilkerson also playing together at this time, and Larson, Koesler, and Frankie Karwinski, PLC quarterback, together since the first grade.

... Jack Johnson and Bob Ross came to PLC after being named as all-Northwest district cagers. Jack won the honor with Everett in '49 and Bob with Sedro Woolley in '50.

... Jerry Hefty played with a Jefferson Hi team that won 24 straight games and the Portland City title.

... Ed Brown arrived in Parkland via Olympic JC, where he played on the JC champs of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. Ed was picked on the all-regional JC team for these states.

... Bert Weis, Ed's running mate at guard, is the last of the Clover Park high school stars at PLC. When Bert moved into the starting lineup his freshman year at Luteville, he joined Harry McLaughlin and Wes Saxton also out of Clover Park. Bert was chosen as Inspirational Award winner of last year's five.

... Lloyd Eastman didn't play any high school ball but was given the outstanding player award of the Bremerton Navy Yard team which lost the Coast navy yard title to Mare Island, Calif.

... Jim Ball played on two championship teams at Puyallup Hi and won all-conference recognition. Jim played frosh football and baseball at WSC last year.

... Don Krejci, frosh guard, made his second team hit city in Chicago and led the city cagers in free throw percentage.

The Central Wildcats continued their unbeaten ways in league play by defeating CPS last Saturday, 59-57. Meanwhile Whitworth continued their winning streak by dumping Eastern, 69-63, and moved into second place in the league standings. Central takes to the road to meet Eastern and Whitworth this weekend.

PLC took a rest from Conference action and won a pair from St. Martin's. And we do mean rest! In a slow motion affair on the local floor, PLC posted a 25-18 win. The Rangers carried their ball control style of play to the extreme and took only 23 shots all night. The PLC band gave quite an appropriate concert with such selections as "Slowpoke," "Tennessee Waltz," and "Taps." The band averaged about two numbers between each shot. Glen Huffman and Garnet Lund with 8 and 7 points, respectively, led the scoring.

The next night, on their home floor, the rangers decided to play basketball and the Lutes won 75-57 by a 53-43 score. St. Martin's jumped to a 18-5 first quarter lead and perhaps should have started to stall again as it was all PLC the rest of the way. The Lutes were in front 23-22 at the half and stayed ahead the rest of the game. Bob Ross of the Lutes and Brudvik of the Rangers each scored 17 points.

Glads Open Five Game Stand Tonight, Against 'Birds

Lutes Meet Chieftains Here Tuesday Night

The PLC Gladiators open a 5-game home stand here tonight with a Conference tilt against UBC. The young Thunderbird team is resting in the Evergreen cellar at present, but has given all opponents plenty of competition. The Lutes came out on top in an earlier meeting of these teams by 25-18.

Tomorrow night, PLC will make their third attempt this year at defeating Western Washington's Vikings. Two previous meetings have been thrillers but both times the Lutes came out on the short end of the score. Western won a 48-45 overtime game in the Totem Tournament in December and pulled away in the final minutes for a 57-51 victory last month at Bellingham. Bill McDonald's team is sparked by Scymore Sturmans, guard transfer from WSC, who gave the Parklanders plenty of trouble in Bellingham.

A loss in either of these conference games would mean the end of any title hopes for PLC. A two-game sweep, coupled with a Whitworth victory over Central would put the Lutes right back in contention.

Bob Ross, sophomore forward, who turned in a peak performance against St. Martin's will be out of action with a leg injury this weekend and will see only limited action for the next two weeks.

Seattle University

PLC will entertain one of the strongest small college teams in the nation Tuesday night when the Seattle U. Chieftains invade Parkland.

Sparked by Johnny O'Brien, the Chiefs have won 22 and lost 5 this season against good competition. They hold victories over such formidable foes as Washington State, Peppardine, Los Angeles State, Montana State's Rocky Mountain champions, and an 84-81 victory over the Harlem Globe Trotters in the Olympic Games benefit tilt. The Chiefs have also defeated each of the Evergreen Conference teams.

Because of the Chiefs' popularity with the fans, 1,000 seats are being reserved for non-college fans in the balconies. Students will sit in the bleachers at floor level. Game time is 8 p.m.

In the preliminary affair, the JV's will meet the strong Seattle U. frosh, beginning at 6:15.

Hefty pumped in 24 points for Eastern while Stan Kvern followed him by scoring 16 points for Ivy (c) in this tussle.

An overtime battle found Eastern (b) losing to Ivy (b), 34-33. This game was a thriller from beginning to end.

Central Parkland (c) staged a riot by routing the hapless Clover Creek (b) team, 48-8. This is perhaps the widest margin any two teams will be separated by this season.

Marine OSC Program To Be Discussed Tues.

Students interested in the Marine Corps' officer candidate program may discuss it with First Lt. D. V. McCloskey, Pacific Northwest Marine Corps procurement officer, who will be in the SUB all day next Wednesday.

Two programs are now available. The Platoon Leaders Class is open to freshmen, sophomores and juniors, while the Officer Candidate Course is for seniors and recent graduates.

Chapel Seating Plan

Directions

No slips are to be signed until instruction to do so is given.

Students are to shift until the lower portions of their respective sections are filled.

Anyone who is not present at Monday morning Chapel will be assigned a seat arbitrarily, with the exception of student teachers.

When the students are seated properly, Dr. Eastwood will instruct them to fill out the slips—name, row, seat number.

Person on the aisle, secure the slips collected in his row with the rubber band handed him by the Spurs.

These bundles of slips will be collected by the Spurs.

The names will be entered on folders.

The slips will be alphabetized and checked against the list of students.

LSA To Have Outdoor Meeting Sunday Night

A social meeting is planned by the LSA for its meeting this Sunday at 6 p.m. in the SUB.

Games and a program are planned, and weather permitting, there will be an outdoor sing-along around a bonfire near Clover creek, led by Hal Ruddick. Mary Holmquist and Eleanor Hanson are in charge of the games, and Everett Savage has devotions.

Theme of the regional meeting, to be held at Camp Waskowitz, February 29 to March 2, is "God Gives, Can I?" It is based on the topic of stewardship. Official opening time of the retreat is 6 p.m. Friday evening, with supper. Camp Waskowitz is located five miles east of North Bend. The registration price is $6.50.

Nominees for regional officers of LSA from PLC are the following: for president, Herb Neve; vice-president, Norm Vorwick; secretary, Helena Littau; financial secretary, Al Fink; and treasurer, Miss Grace Blomquist.

Choir Prepares For Anniversary Tour Of Northwest Area

Preparations for the Silver Anniversary tour of the Choir of the West are now being completed, according to Roy Olson, public relations director and choir manager.

Eighteen concerts will be given in eighteen communities, beginning Feb. 22. Sedro Wopley, New Westminster, B. C., Mt. Vernon, Wilbur, Yakima, LaCrosse and Spokane, Washington; Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; Hillsboro, Eugene and Portland, Oregon, will be visited by the group.

Soloists for this year's concert are Eleanor Hanson, Herb Neve, Dave Kauston, Shirley Ann Sandin, and Marguerite Thompson. Professor Gunnar J. Malmin is the choir director.

Debaters To Seek Permanent Hold On CPS Trophy

The largest junior division debate team ever to represent PLC will move into the College of Puget Sound Tyro Tournament, to be held at the north Tacoma campus February 13, 14 and 15. The "squad of 19," coached by Professor Theodore O. H. Karl and Dr. Vernon H. Utzinger, is out to gain permanent possession of the perpetual "bull-throwers" sweepstakes trophy, as PLC captured it last year and in 1949. The award is given annually to the school receiving the highest number of points at the tournament, and the school winning the event any three years is granted outright ownership of the victory memento.

Though the tournament is designed primarily as a joust for junior division speakers, senior division participants may compete in special events in which points are not counted toward the sweepstakes award. Alan Hatlen is scheduled to compete in senior division one-man debate and extemporaneous speaking.

Seven areas of competition are open for the junior division. They are one and two-man debate, extemporaneous speaking, impromptu, oratory, interpretive reading, after dinner speaking. The topic for debate is, "Resolved: That the federal government should adopt a permanent program of wage and price control." Extemp speakers will discuss "The American political scene, past, present and future," and the subject in impromptu is "American Inventions."

904 Diatoms Given To Biology Department

emy of Science, has for many years been collecting fresh water diatoms, which have been deposited in the state of Washington. Members of the academy and the Puget Sound Botany club have collected the information and specimens of 3,000 plants. Now that the members of the club have become older, the classification and collection of the diatoms has become too great a burden for them. Ruby Sovereign, the main contributor, has offered to give the PLC science department the collection with certain stipulations.

"There are various points to be settled," said Botanist Sovereign, "the chief one being whether you are willing to identify and return to us one or more mounted specimens for the privilege of keeping the rest."

Dr. Strunk, Dr. Ostenson and Irene Greco have accepted the gift and the latter with the help of Jens Knudsen, a senior, will classify and mount the specimens, sending one of each specimen back to the benefactors.

Although most of the specimens, now on display at the University of Washington Museum, were collected in Washington, 300 of them have been accumulated in Texas. The collection will have to be kept in drawers until a room is provided for the display.

In addition to competing for individual honors and the sweepstakes trophy, the junior division "pearl casters" hope to win a steak dinner at the expense of Prof. Karl. In 1949, Coach Karl promised his team a royal feast if they won the CPS tournament, and to his surprise, PLC not only won that year, but again last year. So it is with mixed emotions that Prof. Karl faces the prospect of a tournament victory, with a large squad and meat prices what they are.

Operation Orient 2000 Plus Slated For Feb. 19, 20, 21

Operation Orient 2000 Plus, which promises to be the greatest blood donation drive ever held in Parkland, is scheduled for February 19, 20 and 21. Donations will be taken at the Parkland Light and Water Co. office, next to the post office.

PLC students will thus be given another opportunity to give blood for our newly armed forces in Korea, in addition to the recent Spur-sponsored campus drive.

Wes McKeven, local photographer who does all photography work for the college, is general chairman for the three-day drive. The goal is, as the motto indicates, 2000 or more pints of blood.

Many organizations are joining in the campaign, striving for full quotas from their groups, including the Parkland Community club, Trinity and Parkland Lutheran churches, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and numerous others.

Appointments for any of the three days can be made by calling GR. 3833. Transportation will be provided for those who need it.
