8 NEW MEMBERS ADDED TO STAFF

Several new staff and faculty members are being welcomed this fall into the P.L.C. family. Included in these are President and Mrs. S. C. Eastvold who came to Parkland in July to fill the positions of President and First Lady of our college. They come from Eau Claire, Wisconsin, where Dr. Eastvold was pastor of First Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Joseph Enge, also from Eau Claire, has succeeded Miss Ivy Quale as secretary to the president, and is head resident in the girls' dormitory. Before coming to P.L.C., Mrs. Enge served the past eight years as parish secretary in First Lutheran Church, Eau Claire. Her son, Jerrol, is a senior in P.L.H.S. this year. Mr. Enge is a government inspector in Skagway, Alaska.

Returning after a year's absence is Mr. Clifford Olson, well-known on the campus in the days of the spectacular football teams. He is in charge of the men's athletic program, and conducts a physical education class Thursday evenings.

Our new school nurse, replacing Miss Astrid Kasen, now in Wenatchee, is Mrs. N. H. Wangen. The infirmary room in the basement is being redecorated and will be made into a pleasant hospital room and office for Mrs. Wangen. The Rev. and Mrs. Wangen come from Bemidji, Minnesota, where Mr. Wangen was pastor. Rev. Wangen is helping with the engineering work around the school. Their son, Joseph, is a freshman here.

Filling Mrs. Linka DeBerry's place as secretary to the Registrar is Mrs. Irene Dahl Hageness, P.L.C. graduate of 1930. She is experienced in this work, as she preceded Mrs. DeBerry as secretary from 1930 to 1938. Her husband, Olaf Hageness '31, is superintendent of Pierce county schools.

Miss Gertrude Tingelstad, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Edwin Tingelstad and a graduate of P.L.C. in 1939, will begin work tomorrow as assistant librarian in our library. Miss Tingelstad received the B. A. degree from Luther college in 1941 and a B.A.L.S. (of Library Science) from Michigan University in 1942.

Faculty Formally Receives Students

P.L.C. students were welcomed into the college family for the '43-'44 session at the faculty reception given on Sunday evening, September 19, in the redecorated recreation room. Heading the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Eastvold, to whom Miss Grace Blomquist, dean of women, introduced each student.

The Rev. A. W. Ramstad was master of ceremonies for the short program given by faculty members. Dr. Eastvold, new college president, greeted the attending students and officially welcomed them as members of the P.L.C. family for this year. The well-known faculty women's quartet, composed of Mrs. A. W. Ramstad, Mrs. J. U. Xavier, Mrs. Clifford Olson, and Mrs. Philip E. Hauge, presented two musical numbers. Mrs. Rhoda Young was accompanist. Mrs. H. G. Ronning sang two vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. G. J. Malmén.

Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. Lora B. Kreidler, former college president Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, and Major Philip E. Hauge, now on active duty with the Army Air Corps.

MESSAGES FROM NEW PRESIDENTS

"That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God."—I Cor. 2:5.

Welcome to faculty and student body as we enter the fiftieth year as an educational institution on the Pacific Coast!

We are on the threshold of the fiftieth anniversary of the coming of a few pioneer new-comers who gathered here at Parkland to dream dreams of a great institution of higher learning. A bare handful of people, scarcely enough to fill a few offices, had the vision to begin a MARCH OF FAITH which has grown into a fully accredited high school and college of education. Their faith did not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

This present student body will do well to pause at the threshold of this fiftieth year and to seriously consider what those principles and precepts were which made those people of faith to persevere through great trials and difficulties.

Our forerunners were poor, the times were bad (they always are when some work for God is attempted, it seems), and there was no prospect of success except that which was in the possession of the men and women of faith and vision. Had the early founders, and their valiant helpers, been like some of their descendants and our contemporaries, they would have reasoned like this: "Well, we have so many personal problems of our own, and we are now in no condition to build; we better get along and let the next generation take care of the problem of higher Christian education."

JOHN O. LARSGAARD

Having come to the realization that PLC is now in a new period of growth, we the student body must adjust ourselves to the coming task. This is the time when this school should make traditions which the classes of tomorrow will uphold long after we individually are forgotten. Every thing we say and do in these halls will be a stroke in molding the future of our alma mater. Let us make the beginning of this second fifty years even more auspicious than the first.

This year we miss the boys who have entered the service and we pray God to help them as they accept the destiny to which He guides them. We who are still at school have also for our objective the successful prosecution of the war to a speedy and victorious end.

Let us make this our resolution: that we do all in our power to make this year a successful one, cooperating with the administration to build Pacific Lutheran College into a finer school to the glory of God.

JOHN LARSGAARD,

A. S. B. President.

Come Out Frosh, It's All Over

Did you notice the striking fashion models that invaded the campus last Thursday? Strange combinations of skirts, dresses, pajamas, hats, shoes, lampshades, lamps, and dolls—anything that didn't belong together—were in vogue for new-comers, and unconventional conduct was the order of the day.

The occasion was the rigorous traditional initiation of the new day and dorm girls and dorm boys into the realms of college and high school life.

The Delta Rho Gamma victims could be distinguished from the Delta Phi Kappa lasses by the blue chairs they carried throughout the day, although the dorm girls were the ones who really needed such support, considering the previous sleepless night spent in satisfying the whims of upperclassmen.

Teachers were surprised at the vociferous greetings and kind attentions showered upon them by the initiates as they obeyed the behests of their student "superiors."

The Day Girls were escorted to Tacoma where they measured the length of the walk between 11th and 13th and Pacific Avenue with a foot rule. Service men at the Lutheran Center were entertained by Frosh vocal selections during which they were abandoned by the upper class escort.

The fledglings are already planning the reveg they will take on next year's new-comers. Good luck, and congratulations, froshies, for being such swell sports!

Students Name New Leaders

Priscilla Preus Chosen As A.S.B. Vice-Presy

Assisting President John Larsgaard with the executive problems of our student body is Priscilla Preus, newly-elected vice president. Elections were held Thursday and Friday, September 23 and 24; Priscilla was chosen unanimously over her non-existent rival for the office. She is a senior in the liberal arts division, and a day student from Parkland.

Catherine Morrow received the coveted position of senior class representative to the student council over her opponent Isabel Harstad. Catherine is a Portlandite and should really help get things done around this campus on a speed-up schedule after her summer's work at the Kaiser shipyard.

Presenting the cause of the junior class is Corinne Posso from Anacortes, who went unopposed by her classmates to gain a seat on the ASB Board of Control.

Ruth Nestegard employed political tactics which she picked up from her work at the state capitol this summer, to win over Marlon Soltman, a day girl.

Competition was keen in the freshman class for the honor of class representative, but Dorothea Ofstedal from Seattle gained the post over Agnes Roleder from sunny California.

FROSH CLASS GETS THE MEN

The Senior class must have had an eye to the future when it held its fall election. All four of its officers are girls. Isabel Harstad was chosen president and will be supported by Mildred Reese, vice-president, L'Lee Rod, secretary, and Dorothy Blandau, treasurer.

Apparently the Juniors are equally cautious of possible calls from Uncle Sam. Gladys Andersen heads the all-girl cabinet as president and has as colleagues Vice-President Fern Erickson and Secretary-Treasurer Anne Nelson.

The Sophomores, at long last, elected one man on their governing council, erstwhile student body advertising manager, Herb Nienstedt, as sergeant-at-arms. Otherwise, the regime is Amazonian, with Eunice Torvend, president; Alice Kaaland, vice-president, and Thilda Hellman, secretary-treasurer.

Finally, those extraordinary freshmen went full steam ahead, and will probably be governed from camp this and that in the future. Three men head the official roster. President Kenneth Lobeda, Vice-President Vale Burger, Treasurer Wesley Hillman. One girl, Ruth Jensen, captured a portfolio as secretary.

Class elections were held last week during the fifteen-minute rest period before chapel.

High School Entertained At E. Tingelstad's Home

Professor and Mrs. Edwin Tingelstad held open-house at their home Wednesday, September 22, for the high school students and faculty. The informal gathering gave the high school division an opportunity to become acquainted.

Charles W. Billingsley was elected president of the high school at a meeting held Tuesday, September 21. Professor Tingelstad presided at the gathering where Dorothy Parrish was chosen vice-president, Marjorie Winblade, secretary-treasurer, and Karl Bachner, sergeant-at-arms.

Lorene Garges, ex-'43, and Melvin Dalmar Wilson of Fort Lewis were married on July 3 in the home of the bride's parents in Tacoma. The Rev. E. A. Larson, formerly on the P.L.C. faculty, performed the ceremony. Jeanne Lahey, ex-'42, played the piano; and Vivian Pearson '43 sang two vocal solos. Bernice Bernhartsen and Margaret Hill, present students, were candle-lighters. Pouring at the reception was Laura Midsater '43. Following a wedding trip to Olympia and Hood's Canal, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are at home at 528 So. 58th street, Tacoma.

Vera O. Taylor '39 was wed to Ralph Floyd Winslow in Tacoma on June 25. The young couple are making their home in San Antonio, Texas.

Lois Lentz, ex-'42, has been Mrs. Ted Roth since her wedding ceremony in American Falls, Idaho, on July 11. The new home is in American Falls.

Margaret Davidson, ex-'43, and John Paul Logan exchanged marriage vows in the Vaughn Congregational church on June 11. The Rev. Arthur Logan, father of the groom, performed the ceremony. Charlotte Swanson, present student, was a candle-lighter. Mr. Logan was graduated from Linfield college and received his bachelor of divinity degree at Eastern Baptist seminary in Philadelphia. The couple are at home in Anacortes.

On August 11 Ellen Swanson '42 and Ens. W. Eugene Torget were married in the Tacoma home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Bertha Neilsson. Maxine Rosenau '42 was the bride's only attendant. Ens. Torget is stationed in Tillamook, Oregon, with the Navy.

Oliver Malley, U.S.N., ex-'41, and Gloria Thoren, ex-'41, were united in marriage on June 24 in Mt. View Lutheran church.

June 2 was the wedding day for Betty Lutton, ex-'42, and Sgt. Blon Bierer at Merced, California. After a honeymoon in Yosemite National Park, the newlyweds have made their home in Merced. Sgt. Bierer is stationed at nearby Merced Air Base.

Joseph L. Bakketun, ex-'39, and Caroline Jane Crummac were married on June 26 in Seattle. Following a honeymoon in British Columbia, they returned to Seattle to make their home.

Noreen Stendal '43 and Bob Tommervik '41 were united in marriage on June 29 in Kent. I'Lee Rod, present student, was a bridesmaid, and Sterling Harshman '43 was the groom's best man. Vocal solos were sung by Patricia Iverson '43. Mrs. Linka DeBerry '38 poured at the reception following the ceremony. Mr. Tommervik is stationed in Seattle with the Coast Guard, and Mrs. Tommervik has a teaching position in Seattle.

Students on Radio

Every Monday morning at 10:45 is student day on the air from PLC. Local student talent will present a 15 minute broadcast over station KTBI, Tacoma. Marion Soltman is in charge of arrangements for this program. A. S. B. President, John Larsgaard, addressed the radio audience Monday morning, September 27.

From Tuesday through Sunday of each week, the college administration presents a 15 minute devotional period.

Lute Lassies' Lament

Before Herr Schickelegrubers' name . . . Was changed to one of wretched fame . . . (Some say it should be changed once more . . . To epithets they keep in store) . . . We had some men at P.L.C. . . . In numbers more than twenty-three . . . And girls could have their pick of many . . . That is if they had wanted any . . . But now proportions are reversed . . . The girls' dorm is about to burst . . . With females these old walls are crammed . . . With Coeds every room is jammed . . . And males the prized collegiates are . . . Especially in G. J.'s choir . . . They get attention everywhere . . . From Ronning's den to coed's stare . . . As sign of their priority . . . They hold the great majority . . . Of offices—(oh, depths of grief) . . . Both student prex and fire chief . . . Their grades are of such great concern . . . That even Hornshuh says he'll turn . . . Away from sleep and restful hours . . . To elevate his mental powers . . . Which really is a lot to ask . . . When it is such a giant task . . . But for the girls we change the story . . . Grades are not yet their aim and glory . . . For less and less of their sweet time . . . Will be spent reading ancient rhyme . . . And Psych and Comp and College Zo . . . That profs still claim they ought to know . . . Instead they'll brush up on their wiles . . . And cram away on winsome styles . . . To captivate these rare examples . . . Of brains and brawn and Adam's apples.

With the Boys in Service

Pvt. Rudolph B. Johnson, ex-'43, tenor soloist in P.L.C. Choir, wishes to thank all those who contributed notes in his Saga. He wants some fan mail! Address: 19145759, 4th Battalion, Student Regiment, F.A.S. E.C.C. No. 36, Ft. Sill, Oklahoma.

Pvt. Martin Gulhaugen, ex-'43, member of the Choir and M. M. reporter, is listed from the New York City post office and may be overseas. Address: 39328650, A.P.O. 7185, c/o Postmaster, New York, N. Y. Martin was the first writer of this column.

Burt Thorpe and Ster Harshman, graduates of '43, are in naval officers' training at Columbia University, New York. Roy McKinley, Leslie Whitehead, Ray Kapus, and Guttorm Gregersen, ex-'43, are enjoying warm weather at Camp Hood, Texas.

Kermit DuBois, ex-'42, stocky quarterback, visited P.L.C. during registration week. He has been stationed at Farragut Naval Training Station, Idaho.

Bob Larson, ex-'43, visited P.L.C. during the first week of school before returning to Farragut, Idaho.

Gus Anderson, ex-'43, basketball star, returned to the Old Main quite frequently during the first weeks of school. He was stationed at Walla Walla during the summer, and is now at St. Mary's College, Calif. for pre-flight training.

Marv Harshman '42, one of P.L.C.'s Little All-Americans, visited P.L.C. during registration week. Marv is a chief specialist in the Navy Air Corps at Pasco, Wash.

Jordan Moe '42, visited P.L.C. recently. He is stationed in Seattle in connection with Alaskan communication.

Marvin Shaw, former M. M. associate editor, and Harry Soloos, baritone in the '43 Choir, visited P.L.C. during the summer. Harry's address is: Pvt. Harry Soloos, Lake Forrest College, Lake Forrest, Illinois.

Ed. Note: Because of space shortage it will be possible to list only a few of P.L.C.'s service men in each issue. But all information regarding former P.L.C. students now serving in Uncle Sam's armed forces will be appreciated by the M. M. staff, and eventually published.

. . . and Omega

All of us have noticed the improvements in our buildings—the new "rec" room, the chapel renovations, the new hospital room, and other additions. We should treat these enhancements and our equipment generally with decent care, not only to show our appreciation to our generous friends who have contributed to our comfort, but also because our own self respect should make us desire orderly surroundings—desk carvers and doodles de lux, avant!

COMPETITION PLANNED FOR LUTHERAN MEN

In spite of the present shortage of manpower at P.L.C., competitive games in basketball are planned for this winter. Coach Cliff Olson, P.L.C.'s famed football and basketball coach for many seasons and mentor of the renowned P.L.C. football teams of 1940-41, is again heading the physical education department for men.

Each Thursday evening students from the college and high school divisions who cannot take P. E. in the afternoon will participate in basketball, boxing, tumbling, rope climbing, and calisthenics. As there will be no intercollegiate games in basketball, the schedule will include many intramural games. A few games with McChord Field and other local teams are planned.

The afternoon class under the direction of Mr. Schnackenberg includes a varied program of calisthenics and sports. The class meets every Monday and Wednesday at 3:45 P. M.

There will be no organized football team this season, on account of the scarcity of males on the campus. So far the only glimpse of football has been a few games in the afternoon and evenings on the front lawn.

In addition to class work, P. E. credit will be given for tennis, golf, football, and swimming.

Former PLCites Training in N. Dakota

These are former PLC men who were called July 1 under the Navy Reserve Officer Training program. They are now stationed at the State Teachers' college in Dickinson, North Dakota, training under the Navy V-12 program. They are all Apprentice Seamen and will remain as such until they have finished their college education, after which they will go to Midshipman's school.

"Big Sisters" Fete Freshmen Coeds

Day and dorm girls alike gathered in the college recreation room, colorful with fall flowers, yesterday afternoon for the first official AWS social affair of the year. The late afternoon tea was sponsored by the "Big Sisters," Senior, Junior, and Sophomore girls, in honor of their Freshmen "Little Sisters," and other entering coeds.

Mrs. S. C. Eastvold, Mrs. E. M. Barofsky, Mrs. Joseph Enge, and Miss Grace Blomquist extended greetings to the girls. Representing the various organizations on the campus open to coeds were: Lois Ludwig, DPK; Alice Pflaum, DRG; Carrie Person, WAA; Mildred Reese, AWS; Anne Nelson, Linne Society; Rhoda Lee, LDR; and Nora Kjesbu, combined Devotional Groups. To complete the program, vocal, piano, and flute solos were offered by Emma Thoren, Agnes Mykland, and Elizabeth Bailey, respectively. Catherine Morrow gave a reading, "Wilhelmina Nut Tries to Enter College."

An added feature of the tea this year was the installation of the new AWS officers by Lois Ludwig and Rhoda Lee, members of last year's cabinet. Those installed were Mildred Reese, president; Isabel Harstad, vice-president; Marion Soltman, secretary; Thilda Hellman, treasurer; and Eunice Torvend, advertising manager.

Following the program refreshments were served. Mrs. S. C. Eastvold presided. Isabel Harstad as general chairman headed the roster of committees. Assisting her were Marion Soltman, program, and Doris Jurgerson and Agnes Mykland, refreshments and decorations.

IN L. L. CONVENTION

PLC students will conclude the South Puget Sound Circuit Luther League Convention with a devotional program, given Sunday evening, October 3, at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Tacoma. Albert Kuhn, chairman, has the following program arranged: Address by Dr. H. G. Ronning, vocal solos by Marion Soltman, and a violin selection by Albert Kuhn. The program begins at 7:30. At three o'clock Sunday afternoon there will be a Choral Union Concert under the direction of G. J. Malmin featuring PLC and Tacoma Church Choirs at Our Savior's Lutheran Church.

Main speaker at the Convention will be Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of Pacific Lutheran College, whose subject is "I Love My Church." This is in accordance with the convention theme, "Building Tomorrow's Church."

The Convention will begin Friday evening, continuing through Saturday to Sunday evening. All PLC students are invited.

From Rags to Riches

The "wreck" room is no longer. It has become the "rec" room. A summer transformation took place which turned one of our family skeletons into a pleasing setting for the good time get-togethers. The walls are two-toned, green and brown. Bright yellow curtains add a splash of the linoleum covers the color, and floor.

Even more important is the renovation of the chapel. Here, students gather to spend the most important part of each day, and the clean walls and ceiling and tile linoleum floor lend dignity to the place of worship.

In the dorm, the partition on the third floor has been taken down, as now this story is used for girls exclusively. The furniture in each room has been painted white.

An infirmary is in the process of being built in the downstairs northeast corner, which will contain a hospital bed and other equipment for the care of the indisposed.

WAVE QUALE VISITS PLC

Ivy C. Quale, WAVE petty officer third class, visited P.L.C. Monday afternoon. Miss Quale, secretary to Dr. O. A. Tingelstad last year, joined the WAVES during the summer. Reporting at Hunter College, New York, she was given a three week indoctrination course and one week of specialized training which entitled her to a specialist rating. Miss Quale is stationed at Seattle, engaged in recruiting.

Miss Quale finds Navy life interesting as well as educational. She says that at Hunter College, 1500 women are put through training every month. There are approximately 200 branches of service from which a WAVE may choose her work. Three choices are given, and aptitude tests determine from these the field for which each recruit is best fitted.

Miss Quale is recruiting in Tacoma for four days. From here she will go to Olympia, Aberdeen, and back to Seattle. By Thursday, she hopes to have all her friends and every interested woman she contacts in Tacoma in the WAVES.

DIRECTOR MALMIN RECRUITS MEN

Fifty-one per cent of the entire male enrollment here is singing in the "Choir of the West," pride of PLC. Of the fifty voices in the organization, twenty-two are male, and G. J. Malmin, director of the Choir, says he is well satisfied with the singers he has gathered together. Joining with Lutheran choirs from Tacoma, the Choir will help present a Choral Union Concert at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Tacoma, at 3:00 p. m., Sunday afternoon, October 3. The group will make several local appearances and, if possible, the traditional tour.

President Eastvold Visits Middle West

Dr. Eastvold made a hurried trip to Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he met with Church leaders from throughout the nation and Canada in the interest of the CENTENNIAL movement of the N. L. C. A. The meeting was held on September 23 and 24 at Central Lutheran Church, Minneapolis. Dr. Eastvold delivered the main address at the formal banquet on Thursday evening, September 23. In that address our President stressed the importance of completing the Centennial Fund ingathering before Christmas of this year.

As a member of the Centennial Central Committee, Dr. Eastvold has had a great deal to do with the Forward March of Faith which has gathered so much momentum in spiritual and material results during the past five years. It is reported that the pledges made to this great objective now have passed two million dollars but that the hope of the committee is that the pledges shall reach the three millions of dollars before the campaign ends this year. Whatever surplus is derived from this effort throughout the nation will likely be used to further reconstruction in China after the war, extend home missions on all fronts, with the Pacific District sharing, and in taking care of our Christian schools in this hour of grave crisis.

It is the fond hope of P.L.C. friends that our college may share liberally in this ingathering. In commenting on this, Dr. Eastvold said: "It will take much hard work to finish this task, and I sincerely hope that the people of the Pacific District will join in with all their strength, together with the College, so that this undertaking may find us on the Pacific coast doing our full and reasonable share. We cannot expect to share the blessings if we do not do our part in carrying the burden and meeting the challenge. Every person who has made a pledge should pay it in full on or before the last due date, November 1. All others should be honorable and come forward with a voluntary gift so as to make the success worthy of the one hundred years since we started our work as a Synod in the year 1843. May God bless this great effort for our good and the glory of God."

MAJ. HAUGE ON MOVE IN SICILIAN AREA

Latest mail from Major Phillip E. Hauge, P.L.C.'s soldier dean, on leave of absence, was headed, "In Sicily." During the first part of the summer Major Hauge was located "in North Africa" with the U. S. Army Air Corps. He was among 7,000 Yanks to arrive in the Middle East in October of 1942. While stationed there he visited Palestine twice.

After 22 years of service at P.L.C. Dean Hauge was called into the Air Corps as a 1st Lieutenant on June 25, 1942, and was sent to Miami, Florida for basic training. Completing his training at Macon, Georgia, and Tampa, Florida, he was sent overseas in September, 1942. Last December he was made a Captain, and in April he received a promotion to the rank of Major.

Faculty Loses Members

Many of our staff are absent from roll call this fall. Dr. O. A. Tingelstad, former president of P.L.C. now resides in Bremerton, where he is engaged in defense work in the Navy Yards.

National defense also claims Rev. Mikkel Lono, former vice-president, Mr. Paul Preus, high school chemistry, and Mr. Philip Strombo, P. E. coach, who are working in the shipyards. Dr. Olaf Jordahl is working in the shipyards and conducting an evening class in physics. Rev. Ernest Larson, Swedish teacher, is devoting all his time to his church.

This summer Miss May Crosno, English and History of Wash. instructor, attended John Hopkins University in Washington, D. C. At present she is in Seattle.

Miss Astrid Kasen, school nurse, is in the Dept. of Public Health, Chelan County, Wenatchee.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bondy, German teacher, spent part of the summer on a dude ranch in Montana. She is in San Francisco this fall.

Mrs. Linka DeBerry has resigned her position as secretary to the registrar. As yet she has no definite plans.

Ivy C. Quale, Dr. O. A. Tingelstad's secretary of last year, is in the WAVES.

Eastvold's Message

of people of wealth, power, and temporal influence. Rather it is a record of faith and sacrifices made by countless friends, an army of people which caught the vision of a great call of God. The dreams of pastors, laymen and women have been in process of translation into an accredited college which is destined to become one of the leading colleges in the state and in the family of colleges in the nation. This college has been a great and noble work in the direction of training the rising generations of five decades to understand the meaning of American citizenship, as well as citizenship in the Kingdom of God. Hundreds of former students are scattered everywhere in many earthly callings who thank God and the teachers for what they have gotten in the class rooms, in the unofficial contacts, in the chapel hours, in the counsels of friends and teachers, in their private devotions and prayer hours.

Some things have changed, and some things ought to change, while the good old Apostolic faith ever remains. The fundamental lessons will always be the same but the methods may undergo remodelings. We are training an army in body, mind, and soul for a great forward march of onslaught on sin in the form of ignorance and unbelief. We are not satisfied to have P.L.C. remain in a form of mediocrity, provincialism, and backwardness. We aim for higher heights for our students, improvements in our property, and for our standards of faith and scholastic order. It costs much to be an American citizen today, but we declare that our freedoms are worth all they cost. This is equally true of our standards of Christian education. Just as unconditional surrender in our enemies demands unconditional support by our citizenship, so also we must develop unconditional consecration to our callings as students while at college and high school lest we end in defeat even though we some day have a diploma to place in some dresser drawer somewhere. Students and teachers and all of us either are on the march forward or we are going backward. Let us sincerely attack every form of ignorance in the power of God.

President of Pacific Lutheran College.

CLUB NOTES

NOON DEVOTIONS

The campus noon-day devotional group is again headed by Nera Kjesbu, last year's president. She will be assisted by Jeanette Burzlaff, vice-president, and Geraldine Olson, secretary-treasurer. Faculty adviser, pianist, and L. S. A. representative will be chosen later.

If your Wednesday noons are free, you will be welcome at the meetings of this group.

MISSION SOCIETY

The Mission Society met last night to elect officers and begin their work for the year, which includes the supporting of a Bible student in Madagascar and the studying of the foreign mission field.

FIRESIDE

FIRESIDE held its first meeting of the year Sunday evening, September 26, when a group of about forty students gathered in the reception room for a singspiration and business meeting. John Baglien led in scripture reading and prayer during the devotional half hour. Albert Kuhn played two violin solos.

Herbert Nienstedt is Fireside president for the first semester. Assisting him will be Agnes Mykland, vice-president, and Dorothea Ofstedal, secretary-treasurer. Johnny Larsgaard, student body president, was honored with the part of fire chief.

The society elected its two L. S. A. representatives, Isabel Harstad and Albert Kuhn. Louis Johnson was unanimously elected to continue his duties as candle lighter for our daily chapel services.

DELTA RHO GAMMA

Alice Pflaum, spring-elected president of Delta Rho Gamma, the day girls' sorority, presided at the election of other officers for the ensuing year in the Day Room, Tuesday, September 21.

Carrie Person was elected recording secretary, Muriel Baird corresponding secretary, and Betty Christenson treasurer.

Emphasis of the meeting was placed on an informal initiation of new day girls which was carried out under the supervision of Mildred Brodland, Waletta Hornshuh, and Marion Soltman, and on the usual installation banquet, for which Mary Peterson and Arlyne Johnson were appointed to complete arrangements. D.R.G. will meet every third Tuesday of the month in the Day Room.

LDR

The home of President and Mrs. Eastvold will be the setting for the candle-light ceremony traditional in L.D.R. installation of new officers, Wednesday, Oct. 20. Assuming the presidency at that time will be Rhoda Lee, who will enter office with Agnes Mykland as vice-president, Anita Stuen, secretary, Eunice Torvend, treasurer, and Ruth Wallen, historian. Mrs. Carl Fynboe will continue as faculty adviser for the group.

The purpose of L.D.R. is to promote the spread of Christianity with spiritual and financial help. In addition to aiding the Shishmaref Mission in Alaska, the local branch sends gifts to the Children's Home in Everett, gives an annual Mother's Day tea in the spring to honor mothers of the students, women faculty members and faculty wives.

Meeting once a month at homes of staff members, the girls, in addition to their own participation, hear talks by pastors and other speakers of this district.

DELTA PHI KAPPA

Under the leadership of Lois Ludwig, who was chosen president last spring, and recently elected Anne Nelson vice-president, Isabel Harstad secretary, Doris Jurgerson treasurer, Thilda Hellman fire-chief, and Gladys Andersen, social chairman, the DPK (dorm girls' sorority) is well under way on its program for the year. The girls decided to have a regular social committee to work in conjunction with Gladys Andersen, social chairman. Its members are Catherine Morrow, Carolyn Hawley, and Agnes Roleder.
