PLC's Sohos Go National

Next Monday, April 24, the Sohos, the more girl's honorary, will be called as members of Spurs, the annual sophomore woman's honorary society.

The installing officers from the college of Puget Sound and their advisers will be guests at a banquet to be held in the school cafeteria immediately after the installation ceremonies. Harriet Martin, Spurs Regional Secretary from Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, will also be a guest at the banquet.

It has been the objective of the group, since it was organized in 1947, to become members of the national society, namely Spurs. The club has met the requirements for membership by submitting reports on their activities and services rendered to the school to the national board, and by completing a year's probation period. This organization is the first on campus to become a national honorary society.

Other colleges in the Northwest which have Spur affiliations are: Linfield (McMinnville, Oregon), Central Washington College of Education, Washington State College, College of Puget Sound, University of Idaho, Pacific University (Forest Grove, Ore.), Montana State College and Idaho State College.

Members soon to become members are: Gladys Busacker, Mildred Hays, Helen Huswick, Norma Johnson, Odan, Lillian Liekauf, Evelyn Nielsen, June Nysteen, Beverly Owen, Mary Ann Wick, Ellen Davis, Karana, Helen Hansen, Donna Kaman, Hazel Johnson, Vivian Larson, Ruth Moe, JoAnn Nodtvedt, Vera Peterson, Jody Triolo and Margaret Winters. Marjorie Anderson is Junior Advisor, and Miss Bloomer is faculty advisor.

The words of the Soho president, Vera Peterson, express the feeling of members have upon achieving this goal. "Both past and present Sohos have eagerly anticipated the local organization attaining affiliation as national Spur chapter. Our purpose as members shall be to promote school spirit, support all student body activities, create a spirit of loyalty and good-will among the women of our college, and to uphold the traditions of the college. PLC—we're "at your service."

Compete For College Awards

The music department of Pacific Lutheran College tomorrow will hold annual competition for scholarship. High school students graduated in 1950 and young people who recently graduated from high school will vie for nine scholarships totaling $1,650.

All students taking part will compete in one of three divisions: piano, guitar, and wind or string instruments. The scholarships of $400 each, three of $100 each, and three of $50 each will be offered.

The contestants will be required to perform two selections from memory and will demonstrate their technical and interpretive abilities as musicians. Harlem G. Moen, director of band orchestra at PLC, will direct the instrumental phase of the festival. Harlem Malmin, director of the Choir

Yell Leaders To Try Out Tuesday

Try-outs for next year's yell leaders will be held in chapel next Tuesday morning, it was announced yesterday by Del Zeir, Associated Student Body president.

Thus far, only five Lutes—all freshmen—have indicated that they will be candidates for the lung-straining chores. They are Naomi Roe, Carol Schuler, Marlene Schwenke, Bob Marvonek, and Marilyn Myklebust. Others who intend to try out are asked to notify Del Zeir as soon as possible so that he will be able to know in advance the amount of time to allot each contestant.

Candidates may perform as teams, but voting will be on an individual basis. The four candidates who receive the highest vote, regardless of whether they are men or girls, will be the new yell leaders.

Although try-outs will be next Tuesday, voting will not be until May 9 when PLCites go to the polls for the annual spring student body election.

Board Approves $1 Million Plan

At a meeting of the board of trustees Thursday afternoon, April 13, tentative approval for a $1,000,000 building program was given. Included in the proposed project are the chapel-music-speech building and two girls' dormitories.

Construction of the dormitories is contingent upon federal loans under a bill now pending in Congress. If the bill is passed, construction will begin as soon as possible on the buildings that would each house 100 girls. In the basement of one dorm, would be boarding facilities and the other would contain a home economics department.

Construction should begin on the new chapel building on or before the fifth of July.

Expansion of both the curriculum and staff of the music department also was voted by the board. A committee of reorganization was set up to include Prof. Gunnar J. Malmin, Prof. Karl E. Weiss, and Dean Philip E. Hauge. Recommendations are to be forwarded to Dr. S. C. Eastvold as soon as possible.

Incidentally, Mr. Weiss was voted a full professorship at the meeting.

Salary increases to all members of the faculty and college staff also were voted.

Camilla To Reign As May Queen

Camilla Loftness, golden haired senior, Wednesday was elected, by vote of the student body, to reign as queen of PLC's annual May Day festivities. Camilla was chosen from a field of six senior girls.

Serving as senior attendants will be Beth Gottwald and Shirley Rovang.

Incidentally, Wednesday's vote of 402 was the smallest of any student body election of the year, puzzling indeed in view of the fine weather.

At recent elections the freshmen chose Lenora Surface and Shirley Sagehorn as attendants while the sophomores selected Dee Kylo and Faye Olsen.

Junior class attendants will be decided today by virtue of a run-off election.

The annual May Day program will be presented in the gym May 5. Co-chairmen for the event are Walt Worley and Kay Lucas. Mrs. Rhoda Young is in charge of the May Day dances.

Seniors To Give Mixer Tonight at 8

"Crystal Ball of '50," the senior class cotton-and-chords mixer, will be held tonight in the campus gym. The program, beginning at 8 o'clock, will feature all senior talent.

This may be your last chance to see performances by seniors Jess Thompson, Topy Kylo, Dick Svare, Mahlon Read, and many others. "The senior class is loaded with talent," states program chairman, Phil Falk.

Folk games will be held after the program and refreshments will be on sale throughout the evening.

Armin Rosin is coordinating chairman of the mixer. Serving on the various committees—first named is chairman—are: program, Phil Falk, Beverly Wigen, Emely Sholseth, Gerry Faaren; food and decorations, Charlotte Mykland, Milt Fuhr, Delores Langset, Delores Wallen, Sig Skartland; publicity, Ernie Cementina, Jack Motteler, John Leque, Les McDonnell; games, Armin Rosin, Gizz Rosin, Dareld Satern; tickets, Swain Arneson; and clean-up, Jeanette Larson, Edna Haglund, Ed Dorothy, Shirley Rovang.

All members of the student body are invited to spend the evening with the senior class in the gym. Admission will be 25 cents.

Miss Schell Appears As Statue of Liberty

Katherine Schell, pretty Pacific Lutheran College sophomore, took the part of Miss Liberty in last week's impressive Boy Scout Circus held in the CPS gym.

Katherine appeared in the opening and closing roles of the circus in which an estimated 4,000 Boy and Cub Scouts participated.

As Miss Liberty, Katherine took the part of the Statue of Liberty in a scene designed to represent the historic presentation of the monument to the United States by the French.

Miss Liberty, draped in a flowing white gown and holding high the torch of freedom, was spotlighted on a lofty pedestal.

PLC Visitations

The following parody was authored by a teacher at a Puyallup grade school for the benefit of all PLC student observers who on Thursday mornings partake of the frustration of those already established in the teaching profession.—Ed.

(As penned by Ruth Johnson (1948) on the eve of same.)
(With apologies to the Great Emancipator.)

One score and six hours ago, our Principal brought forth upon this school a proclamation conceived at PLC and dedicated to the proposition that future teachers shall observe us.

Now we are engaged in a great rush of preparation, testing whether this teacher, or that teacher, or any teacher so engaged, can long endure.

We are met on our own battlefield. They have come to dedicate a portion of their time as a final testing place for us who give our lives that the children of the nation may learn. It is altogether fitting and proper that they should do this. But, in a large sense, they cannot exasperate—they can only tolerate—they cannot utter much sound. The poor children, living and dead, who have struggled here, have exasperated us far above their poor power to add or to subtract.

We hereby highly resolve that we teachers shall not have taught in vain—that this day undertaken, shall have a new dearth of tedium—and that the fine name of Maplewood via the cadets and for more cadets, shall not perish from PLC.

Alpha Phi Helps In Tacoma Scout Circus

Seventeen Pacific Lutheran College students, members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, assisted the Tacoma Boy Scout Council in directing the Scout Circus held last Friday and Saturday evenings at the new CPS gym.

Ushering, directing traffic, parking cars, and assisting participants and equipment on and off the floor during the performance took most of their time.

"This is another job which the newly formed organization has whizzed through," commented Joe Scanlon, Scout extension committee head.

Olsen, Thomas Lead Cubs In Dragon Act

Two PLC people—a professor and a student—held key positions in the recent Boy Scout Circus of the Tacoma area. The event was held in the College of Puget Sound gym last Friday and Saturday evenings.

Dr. Robert Carl Olsen, professor of chemistry, was writer and director of the first of two Cub Scout acts presented. Cubmaster of Parkland's Pack 33, which took an important part in the act, was (and is) Robert Thomas, PLC pre-theology student and operator of the College Golf Club.

The act authored by the PLC professor was titled "Knights in Armor." It came to a climax when a 70-foot dragon containing Parkland's Cub Scouts entered the arena and did battle with the knights of King Arthur's court. The "Dragon of Un-Americanism" naturally was slain.

The 70-foot beast was constructed in the PLC shops by the committee men of Pack 33. These included, along with Dr. Olsen, Dr. Burton Thomas Ostenson, PLC professor of biology.

Bolivian Missionary Talks To PLC Group

By ARTHUR ARP

John Showalter, of the World Mission Prayer League, spoke at the Mission Society meeting last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Showalter are home on furlough from Bolivia, where they have both been active in the mission field.

Their work is concerned mainly with the Indians and mixed blood groups, most of whom belong to the poverty stricken, ignorant, poorer class. Their religion, inherited from pre-Reformation Spanish conquerors has degenerated to superstitions, rituals and idolatry. The death rate is high, claiming 85 per cent of the children before they reach two years.

A primitive Bolivian Indian tribe, the Barbaros, buries its sick and aged alive. Much of interior South America is still a wilderness where barbaric tribes roam freely, and where cannibalism and head-hunting are not unknown. Mr. Showalter described these people in the words of Isaiah, as "living in the shadow of death."

The most powerful influence in changing the lives of these people is the light of the gospel of Jesus Christ. One of the greatest joys of their ministry, Mr. Showalter said, was to see the natives find Christ as their Saviour, and then to watch the change in their lives.

In the trials, privations, and dangers of their work, the Showalters found that God never failed them. They have experienced what it means to trust Him for everything.

According to present plans, they will return to Bolivia next July or August.

Those that came to cough remain to spray.

Compus Chatter

By Sassiety Sal

At last spring is here! Doesn't it make you think of a certain dream guy or gal, who makes you give out with one of those long dranout sighs? Of course you do. Everybody does. Well, just between you and me, these Lute lads and lassies have decided to 'fess up to just who or what type of person, has that particular "sigh effect" on them.

Roberta Schoessler came up with "Gee, I can't decide between Cornel Wilde and Bugs Bunny . . . Marianne Wick—a fella that can do a one and a half off a 50-foot board. By the way he has to be able to swim. . . Bob Macready—I can do it . . . Bob Marvinich—"Mong" stole it . . . Naomi Hochstatter—6'2" yes of blue . . . I ain't particular, Al Stolte . . . Ed Dorothy—a certain blue-eyed blonde . . . Wes Benson—just someone or even anyone shorter than I . . . Lou Gabrielson—I'll be meeting her at the altar tonight. . . Shirley Sagehorn—if I told you, then he'd find out—but he's on the baseball team. . . Ernie Randolph — Sassiety Sal herself (Didn't know I had an admirer!) . . . Dorothy Broomfield—Oh, just some Dick Weatherman character. . . And do ya want to know what my thoughts turn to???? Well, in spring my thoughts and dreams turn to—swimming and do I love to swim!
By Now, SAL.

Lute Tracksters Swim To Quadrangle Win

"The Rains Came"—but despite weather conditions the Lute fleet feet added ahead to win the quadrangle

Pete Muir, from St. Martin's, took the hurdle events, the broad jump, finished third in the 220. Muir Bill Casey, sprinter, scored all but of St. Martin's points. Harry McLaughlin, PLC versatile, jelled first in the high jump and javelin, and a fourth in the discus.

The quarter mile, considered the best race of the day, was taken by Andy Ambuehl. Close contender Bill Culberson.

The final Tacoma showing for the Lutes will be tomorrow at the College of Puget Sound when CPS and PLC will meet the Eastern Washington

Sport-Lite

By Kerns

Whenever there is any talk about coaching staff at PLC the only names mentioned are Marv Tommer and Marv Harshman. Many students are unaware of the assistants who have put in long hours of work during the 1949-50 sport season.

Three assistants were on hand during the football campaign. Working the line was Elmer "Pete" Peter, who has played four years of football for the Lutes. Pete was in conference twice, winning this year in 1941 and 1946. He played seasons before the war and two years on his return from the front.

Leo Gaum, who had played for the Central and Puget Sound during playing days, helped out with the backs. Bob Arps, former Washington College griddier, worked with the ends and defensive line backers. He is also an assistant in baseball, having gained his experience with the seniors of WSC as a pitcher.

Ed Fischer, the assistant track coach, was a sprinter for Eastern Washington in the days of the Winko League.

When speaking of unsung heroes of the athletic staff the name of Paul Harshman must be mentioned. Paul spent long hours in the training room tending to the aches and pains of the Lute athletes. If you look closely you may find him tending first base on the Gladiator diamond squad.

Lutes Drop Two Baseball Games

The Loggers of the College of Puget Sound turned the tables on the Lute nine last Monday by a score of five to two. This gave the Loggers their first Evergreen victory of the season.

The game was a scoreless tie going into the last half of the fifth inning. Keith Predmore had held the Lutes down while Glen Huffman, Lute hurler, had not given up a hit to the Puget Sound batters.

The Loggers bunched four hits, two walks, and three errors in the fifth to score five runs. The big blow was a long triple by Earl Birnel, Logger shortstop.

The Glads garnered four hits in their half of the sixth for two runs. This ended the scoring for both teams. Lowell Knutson pitched the last three innings for the Lutes and gave up only two hits while striking out five.

The winning pitcher was Predmore who gave up only five hits and three bases on balls. Birnel, with a triple and a single in four trips, led the Puget Sound hitting. Huffman led the PLC hitting with two hits in three trips.

Seattle University came to town Tuesday to meet the Gladiator nine in a non-conference game. The Chieftains slammed out 12 hits and took season. Their record in conference

Hank Habegger is currently the top weight man on the Lute track squad. Hank attended high school in Vancouver, Washington, where he lettered in football, basketball, and track.

During the war he participated in the Inter-Allied track and field meet which was held in the Berlin Olympic Stadium. He also played hockey while in the service.

Before coming to PLC he attended Clark Junior College where he lettered in football and track. In football he made All-Conference end while in track he set the state Junior College records for the shot and discus.

the ballgame nine to four. Blevins, Seattle University pitcher, held the Lutes to seven hits. Blevins, a pitcher who uses the submarine style of delivery, is a former Seattle Pacific player.

Art Swanson, Lute second baseman, hit safely two times to lead the hitters. The Gladiator pitching was taken care of by Wes Saxton and Marv Kasemeier. Saxton gave up five hits in five innings and Kasemeier allowed seven hits in his four innings on the hill.

The Lutherans now have a record of two wins and two defeats for the play is one win and one loss. Pitching records show that Glen Huffman has won two games and lost one, while Wes Saxton has one defeat. Knutson and Kasemeier have appeared only in relief.

Thinclads To Compete With CPS, Eastern

By BOB BELLAND

Tomorrow afternoon the PLC track team will take on the toughest competition in the Evergreen Conference, namely Eastern Washington College and the College of Puget Sound. The Savages of Eastern won the conference meet last spring by a substantial margin. Tomorrow's meet will give observers an idea of the material they have this year.

Much to the relief of Harold Anker, PLC dash man, Holt Brewer, last year's 100 and 220 yard conference winner from Eastern, is ineligible. His absence will undoubtedly even up the meet. The Savages also have two fine pole-vaulters who have gone twelve feet or higher.

For the Loggers, big Frank Smith, weight man, has been unbeatable and should garner a few points for the CPS cause.

An interesting dual will take place between Harry McLaughlin PLC, and Wayne Mann CPS, in the high jump. Mann went 6' 3" at Pullman earlier this year but Harry managed to beat him the first time out this spring with a leap of 5' 8".

One of the closest races of the afternoon may take place in the high hurdles between CPS's Dick Lewis and Eastern's Lavigne.

All in all it should be the closest and hardest fought triangular track meet of the current season.

Holmes Leads CPS Golfers To Links Win

Led by par-smashing Paul "Bud" Holmes Jr., the CPS golfers Monday afternoon blanked the Lute linksmen 18-0 in a dual-meet played at Fircrest Golf Club.

Holmes was cool on the first nine, taking 42 swings. On the homeward nine, however, he turned on the heat for a four-under-par 31 which came within one stroke of tying the course record for that nine.

Herb Hoiby came the closest to winning a point for the Glads when he was beaten only one-up on the last nine by the Loggers' Dick Carter.

The PLC Band under the direction of Harlem G. Moen presented its annual Spring Concert Tuesday evening in the SUB. An appreciative audience, which filled the auditorium, heard a well planned, skillfully performed program.

Special features in the program were "Dizzy Fingers," a clarinet solo by Noel Abrahamson; a trumpet quartet, "A Tournament of Trumpets," by Beth Scheeler, Joyce Furgason, Bob Winters, and Charles Heinbigner; and a brass quartet "One Fine Day," from Madam Butterfly, by Bob Winters, Charles Heinbigner, Don Reed, and Walter Braafladt.

The complete program consisted of Meyerbeer's "Coronation March" from "The Prophet," "Strike up the Band Overture" by George Gershwin, "American Folk Rhapsody" by Clare Grundman, "Andalucia" by Erneso Lecuona, "The French Quarter Suite" by John Morissey, "Monte Cristo" by Joseph Paulson, "A Night at the Ballet" by Harold Walters, and "The Son Is You" by Jerome Kern.

Pan American Day Observed In Chapel

The Spanish Club observed Pan American Day last Friday with an appropriate chapel program. After Dr. Alo Raun had given the introductory talk, the club sang the Spanish version of "America," with solo parts by Darlene Waldron and Bill Hill. JoAnn Nodtvedt, Doris Jensen and Maxine Anderson read a poem, "I Believe in You, Pan America," and Arthur Arp read a description of Latin American customs and traditions.

Pan American Day, April 14, commemorates the founding (1890) of the Pan American Union, which was established "to promote friendship and close relations among the Republics of the American continent and peace and security within their borders by fostering constructive cooperation among them."

PLC Students To Aid Tacoma Cancer Drive

On Saturday, April 22, you may spot PLC students on Tacoma street corners rattling tin cups. The Student Council and the four service organizations have responded to a request for help during the cancer drive by the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce. April 22, officially styled Tag Day, will see Student Council and the Veterans' organization members out trying to beat the amount raised last year by College of Puget Sound students.

According to the chairman of the Pierce County Cancer Drive, sixty cents of every dollar collected by the students stays within the state and benefits residents of the state.

JACK JOHNSON (left) of Everett and Glen Huffman (right) of Tacoma's Lincoln High are two of PLC's brightest freshman finds. Both lettered in football and basketball and seem certain to repeat in baseball. Although both are catchers, Johnson has been shifted to left field and Huffman to the mound. Jack is batting clean-up and Glen has been the starting pitcher in three of the four games played thus far.

Monodrama Program Pleases Audience

Pacific Lutheran College's first monodrama, "The Old Maid," was presented by Mrs. Pauline Schaffer of the college speech department last Friday night. The Student Union auditorium was filled to capacity for the performance.

For her program, Mrs. Schaffer used her own condensation of Zoe Akin's adaptation of the Edith Wharton story. She had condensed the excellent play to a one-hour performance, retaining all of the 12 essential characters and action. In a scene of 19th century morals and manners centering about two cousins, playgoers found a poet in love with one of the cousins, the other cousin in love with the poet and two wealthy brothers in love with the two cousins. Mrs. Schaffer first introduced her

Choir Sings With Seattle Symphony

Last Wednesday evening the Choir of the West sang in the opera "The Magic Flute" performed at the Temple Theater.

Soon after the PLC singers returned from their Midwestern tour, Eugene Linden, director of the Seattle Philharmonic, invited them to sing the chorus parts in the opera. Mr. Linden spent many hours here on campus practicing with the Choir. The group appeared in the opera as priests and priestesses.

The members of the Choir indicate that they were thrilled at the experience and felt it very worth while.

plays in Dallas, Texas, some years ago, and since that time has won wide recognition and popularity. The applause and comments of the audience on Friday night showed that Mrs. Schaffer's popularity will undoubtedly become as renowned in the northwest as it is in the southwest.

Final Tawasi Forum Presented in SUB

Tawasi presented its last forum of the year Thursday evening, April 13, in the Student Union Auditorium. The subject was "Civil Service." The discussion, attended by over 50 students, was conducted in seminar style.

Guest speaker was Mr. M. Stockwell, who is in charge of Federal Civil Service office in Tacoma. Mr. Stockwell has been an employee of the government for 15 years and presented a complete look on the whole Civil Service to the group. He pointed out that government employs people in every field of endeavor with the exception being actors and actresses.

Various types of questions were asked of the speaker on such subjects as education requirements, wages, and types of tests to be taken.

Throughout the past year Tawasi has given forums on nearly every aspect of occupation — education, professions, business, and other topics. These discussions have brought much enlightenment to the many students who have attended. Another series will be offered during the coming year.
