University of Oslo Offers Courses

The University of Oslo will hold its sixth Summer School from June 21 to August 2, 1952, for American and Canadian students who have completed at least their freshman year in any accredited college or university. A special feature of the 1952 session will be an Institute for English-speaking Teachers similar to the one held in 1951.

The university provides outstanding lecturers and maintains highest educational standards. All classes will be conducted in English and an American Dean of Students is on the administrative staff.

Students may choose courses in four fields: (a) General Survey of Norwegian Culture; (b) The Humanities; (c) Social Studies; (d) Educational System of Norway.

Single students will live in the Blindern Students Hall and married couples in private homes. Six semester-hour credits may be earned in the six weeks course and the session is approved by the U. S. Veterans Administration. Applicants should have completed their freshman year not later than June, 1952. A limited number of scholarships are available for the Summer School.

Students of the Summer School will leave New York on the SS Stavangerfjord, June 11, 1952. Reservations for the return trip are available August 5, 19, and September 2, 1952.

For a catalog of courses, preliminary application material, or any further information, write: Oslo Summer School Admissions Office, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minnesota.

History Repeats; Nesvig Edits PLC Paper For Second Time

In 1935, Nesvig was a sophomore at PLC and editor of the Mooring Mast. Today, 16 years later, Nesvig is a sophomore at PLC and editor of the Mooring Mast.

History seems to be repeating itself as Dave Nesvig follows closely in the footsteps of his illustrious brother, Milton, now on leave of absence from the college faculty as a Navy chaplain in the Persian Gulf area.

Both Milton and his present-day counterpart arrived at Parkland with journalism and ministry in mind. Each became sports editor in his first year. Milton graduated from Luther Seminary in St. Paul and served Emmanuel Lutheran church in Tacoma for two years. He received his Master's Degree from the University of Minnesota school of journalism, and then returned to PLC after serving in the Navy for two years. Dave's future course isn't yet completely charted.

When Dave first came here in 1950, he had a hard time convincing everyone that he was Milton's brother. To this day, he is still being asked, "When is your father coming back?" or "How's your uncle doing over there in Arabi?"

Big brother headed the college news bureau for four years, so it is only natural that Dave should now be assisting in that department.

There is one feat that Dave doesn't expect to duplicate. His brother was a member of the Gladiator grid team.

PLC's Student Union building will be transformed into a blood bank on December 12 and 13, when students will contribute to the Pierce County Blood Bank, which will temporarily set up headquarters here. The dates for the bank are tentative. At least 100 pints of blood for the armed forces is the goal of the Spur-sponsored blood bank.

The blood will be shipped for processing the day after it has been drawn. Then it will be sent to the armed forces in Korea for use.

Committees Named

Spurs has set up the following committees to aid the technicians and nurses and to prepare the SUB for the blood bank: Hall committee, Letterman's Club; refreshments committee, Audrey Engstrom, chairman; reservation committee, Janet Carson, chairman; secretarial committee, Judy Bargman, chairman. Publicity will be handled by Joanne Schwartzwalter. Miss Blomquist is the faculty adviser.

Prospective donors under the age of 21 must have a signed form from their parents before they may contribute blood. The proper forms will be distributed before Thanksgiving vacation so each student may take them home. The whole process, from the time the contributor is given the predonation glass of fruit juice to the coffee and cookies he receives after having given his blood and rested, takes approximately one hour. Tentative time for the blood bank is from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Booklets describing the process of donating blood will be available in the library next week.

Three Girls Journey To Whitman College For Spur Convention

Joyce Geer, Peggy Holbrook and Inga Astrup are delegates from the PLC chapter to the annual regional convention of Spurs, national honorary for sophomore women, being held this week-end at Whitman College, Walla Walla. Colleges in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana are represented.

After registration this evening, each delegate will present a short skit at a get-acquainted fireside. Discussion topics and a business meeting will be held tomorrow. "How Spurs can promote activities on their campuses" is one of the subjects to be considered.

A banquet Saturday evening will be followed by a play, "Antigone," presented by the Whitman College Studio Theater.

Each college is allowed two voting delegates, with as many representatives as it wishes to send. The PLC group left at 6 a.m. today and will return Sunday evening. They are traveling by bus. At Whitman they will stay in the Alpha Phi sorority house.

Erma Gradin of Linfield College, Oregon, is the regional director of Spurs.

PLC to Give Pageant for Hist. Society

The Washington State Historical Society has honored PLC by asking Curtain Call Club to present a pageant on the adventures of Dr. Marcus Whitman, medical missionary to the Oregon territory. Funds raised will help purchase a statue of Dr. Whitman as the contribution of Washington state to Statuary Hall in Washington, D. C.

To be given Nov. 27 at the Temple Theater, the colorful production has all the elements of a good drama, including humor, romance and tragedy. The pageant, in which over 50 PLC students will appear as Indians, traders and pioneers, is climaxed by an Indian massacre in the closing scene.

Besides background organ music, there will be selections by the PLC choir, a solo by Barbara Hedlund and a duet by Barbara Johansen and Anne Knorr. Margaret Ronning, 8-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Ronning, will also give a vocal solo.

Director of the show is Prof. Theodore Karl. Assisting are Miss Jean MacGregor, speech professor, and Harriet Olsen, Curtain Call president.

Narrator will be Glenn Johnson. Dr. Whitman will be portrayed by John Rydgren and Narcissa Whitman by Barbara Hedlund.

PLCites At Pullman Today For LSA Meet

Two students and a faculty member from PLC are today conferring with the other LSA regional officers on the Washington State College campus in Pullman, and will make a bid to bring the annual regional LSA workshop to Parkland next summer.

Miss Ann Knudson, English professor, Helena Littau, and Art Broback, all regional LSA officers, hope to host the workshop for four days in the first part of June.

Meeting with the group at Pullman is the national vice president of LSA, Harry Emlet of Princeton University.

Three Students Direct Coming Play

Shouldering the responsibility of directing the annual Alpha Psi play, "The Late Christopher Bean," are Malcolm Soine, director, with Hazel Johnson and Howard Worley as co-directors.

These three comprise the executive committee of Alpha Psi Omega. Soine is president, Hazel, secretary, and Worley is the treasurer.

No novice at play direction, Malcolm was director of "The Importance of Being Earnest," and he has had a wide variety of experience in the drama department while at PLC. He is student teaching at Lincoln High under Mr. Harry Summers, and is in business with his father here in Parkland.

Grease paint and actors are nothing new to Hazel, either. Hazel, now in her senior year, has worked on many shows both backstage and on stage. She worked on "The Night of January 16th," "The Christmas Carol" and was director of the Homecoming play, "Clean the Attic."

Howard Worley, Lute senior, spends most of his time and energy working with the staging and lighting of plays. His work on "The Bishop's Mantle" is one example of his ability in this field. He is a member of Phi Kappa Delta, and was president of Curtain Call club in '50.

Debate Team Leaves Tomorrow For W.S.A. Tourney At Fresno State

Six members of the PLC forensics squad will leave tomorrow for the Western Speech Association tournament at Fresno State. They will attempt to keep alive the enviable record of PLC debate teams, which is consistently one of the top in the nation.

The squad consists of Alan Hatlen, Jon Ericson, Bill Rieke, senior men's division; John Osburn, junior men's division; Joanne Schief and Janet Carson, junior women entries.

More than 60 schools from the 11 western states will send teams to the tourney.

Last year PLC won three firsts. Mary Larsen copped two firsts in senior women's and the other first came in junior men's debate.

According to their adviser, Mr. Karl, this will be the stiffest competition of the year for the squad.

The six students will leave for home November 21. Mr. Karl will go on to San Jose State College, where he will address the W.S.A. convention. His subject will be "The Educational Purpose of Original Oratory."

Painter Hurt In Bad Fall

Virgil Ramsey, 46-year-old painter, was seriously injured in a 20-foot fall from a scaffold, while painting in the chapel-music-speech building Wednesday.

His condition yesterday was improved, but he was still being treated for shock, according to Mr. V. W. Johnson, painting foreman. When his condition improves, x-rays will be taken to determine the extent of possible leg and arm fractures.

Ramsey, a married man, is convalescing in the N. P. hospital.

Frosh, Sophs To Have Pics Taken Tuesday

Glass pictures for the 1952 Saga will be taken beginning next week. Freshmen and sophomores will be snapped in the gym Tuesday morning during the chapel period. This will be the only chance for underclassmen to have their pictures taken. Students are not required to dress up for them.

Juniors and seniors are now making appointments for their pictures with Doris Morrison, photographer. The studio is located at 10814 So. Broadway, just a mile from PLC.

All upperclassmen who have not made appointments are requested to contact Lloyd Eastman.

Freshman Girl Selling Hawaiian Fruit Cake

Carol Brace, PLC freshman, is selling the best fruit cake available, according to Dr. Eastvold (Chapel Quote).

She is selling Lute's Hawaiian Fruit Cake, which is sent to her from Hawaii. Price for these two-pound cakes is $3.40, with no additional shipping charges.

CHAPLAIN MILTON NESVIG

Of course that was back in the middle of the depression when the campus population was so small that practically all the men were on the team.

Mr. Hazel Nesvig, Mark, Jonathan and Philip are staying in the old home-stead across the street from the Student Union. And until "papa" comes marching home, Dave is serving as the man-around-the-house.

Eastvold To Show Movies at LSA Sunday

This Sunday evening LSA will feature the colored movies Dr. Eastvold took in Europe in 1947. The movies will include scenes from ten countries: Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Germany, Switzerland, France, Italy, Holland, and England. Dr. Eastvold will narrate the film which is about one hour in length.

Prexy Says . . .

It has been brought to my attention that the kicking post is missing. Would whoever borrowed it please return it? It is, as you know, an old PLC landmark.

This coming Tuesday in chapel we are going to have class meetings. It is very important that all sophomore and freshmen be there because the photographer will be there to take class pictures. This year's annual is going to be the biggest we have ever had → PLC. To make it the best, the people on the Saga (annual) staff solicit your cooperation in turning out for these pictures.

I would also like to remind you of the Blood Bank, which is coming to our campus after Thanksgiving vacation. Start thinking about it now. We want to see how big a percentage of our student body will give to this worthy cause. The members of the Lettermen's club have already stated their desire to give. How about you.

"Woman Killers" Stop Operations; Seek Warm, Distant Cave

It was on a stormy, typically Washington evening not so long ago that two PLC males, affectionately known to their friends as Joe Dillefer and Rubiniwicz Smith, met on the rain-swept walks of the upper campus to plan a history-making episode. As the delectable Tacoma aroma drifted in from the general vicinity of CPS, our plotting heroes drafted a blueprint for action destined to produce a date for that weekend. Carefully concealing themselves in the shadow of the lamp pole to avoid observation from a certain room on the third floor of Old Main known as "Mama's Morgue," the drenched pair gabbed for an hour and a half before retiring to their respective beds while visions of girl friends danced in their heads.

The following day, Tuesday, the boys set out with a glow of hope in their eyes and determination in their strides. That evening they returned unharmed from the battlefield—their nerve had failed them; they'd chickened out.

Early Wednesday morning Joe informed Rubiniwicz that this was D-day (date day)—all the girls had awakened, hoping for something to do the following weekend. Why not give them a break? And so with renewed courage the boys immediately headed for the dorm at 7:15 that evening. Joe, with his usual bird-dogging luck, got a date with the first girl he called—lovely little Ingaborg.

Rubiniwicz, meanwhile, acting like a tall dog with amputated legs, had called freshman Rosie downstairs. After going through his usual line he casually remarked that his whole life depended on getting a girl to double-date to the game with Joe and himself. In her beautiful, calm voice Rosie screamed back, "Ha, I should live so long! However, do ask me some other time—I may be desperate."

Rubie decided to spend the following afternoon calling females. The first girl nervously mumbled out something about 18 tests coming up and scrambled back aboard the elevator. This was a logical excuse as was the second. Mary, it seemed, felt certain that her mother's cousin's son-in-law's nephew would be dropping by that weekend—and it was only fair that she show her relative a good time, much as she hated to.

Three study excuses, two tests, four dying grandmothers, and one uncle visiting from Outer Mongolia later, Rubiniwicz decided to call its quits for the day.

Friday, the Day, Ingaborg informed

Lounge or Rumpus Room?

In the November 2 issue of The Mooring Mast, we ran an article about the new lounge in the SUB. The lead of the story read this way: "Probably the most universal conversational topic on the campus today is the ultra-modern, refurbished lounge in the Student Union building."

Today, as was the case two weeks ago, students are still talking about the new lounge: however, in a different manner. Rather, the question raised now is this, "How long will the lounge remain new and a place where students can relax in a home-like atmosphere?" The answer obviously is this, "as long as students use it as a lounge, and respect it as such, and not as a rumpus room or a lunch room."

The condition of the lounge shows to faculty members, alumni, parents and visitors the attitude of the student body, from which impressions are made. So let's make the best possible impression upon them. Keep the lounge neat and clean.—D.N.

Inspirational Winner, 1952 Captains Named

George Nowadnick, who served as cannon fodder for the varsity for two years before he finally earned his first letter as a junior, was named inspirational award winner Monday night at the annual football banquet.

The hard-working Nowadnick, a senior from Chehalis, toiled almost entirely with the defensive platoon at a halfback post and was one of the main reasons that we led the Evergreen conference in defense.

Nowadnick came here at the start of the 1948 season and worked on the junior varsity two seasons before he finally earned his first letter last season.

"A lot of fellows never would have stuck it out that long," Harshman said of the 1951 inspirational award winner following the banquet.

Oliver Magnuson and Charles (Chuck) Forsland, a pair of big, aggressive tackles, were named as co-captains for the approaching 1952 season.

Both Magnuson and Forsland came here at the start of the 1949 season from Lincoln high school in Tacoma, and have been regulars ever since.

This year they are one of the top pair of tackles—if not the top—in the Evergreen conference as they have played almost full time on both offense and defense.

Forsland, a strapping 200-pounder, played at a guard spot for us in his freshman year, but last season moved over to tackle for team with Magnuson, who tips the scales at the 210-pound mark.

John Smith again served as host for the annual affair, while Carl Sparks, Puyallup high school coach, was the principal speaker.

Lute Hoop Squad Boasts 9 Lettermen;

With football almost a memory for this year, attention is now turned towards basketball. The first question that comes to the Luteville fan is... What have the Lutes got this year in basketball?

Well, it's altogether too early to tell anything yet, but there are a few things known about the Lutheran hoopsters. Coach Marv Harshman watched his team practice during the early part of the week, and decided that the boys might be a fairly good ball club this year.

Harshman also said, "We are definitely handicapped with a lack of height, and we will have to depend much on speed."

"There are 9 returning lettermen from last year's squad that will do much in helping the Lutheran cause in the coming season. Also to back up these returning lettermen are a few good frosh prospects. Harshman is hoping for a good season, but said, "We'll probably end up somewhere in the middle of the standings when the season closes."

While the "Heinrick Hex" continues to haunt PLC in football, it certainly has no effect in basketball. Last year the Lutes won five straight over CPS, and this year they will be playing hard to stretch this win streak over the Loggers.

Classes will officially recess at 12:10 Wednesday for Thanksgiving vacation. The schedule will resume at 7:55 a.m. Monday, November 26.

Students will receive quarter grades either Monday, or Tuesday, before vacation. The time will be announced in chapel. Freshmen will receive their grades from their respective advisers and sophomores and upperclassmen in the Registrar's office.

Central Parkland Goes Unbeaten For Intramural Football Championship

FINAL STANDINGS

	Won	Lost
Central Parkland	10	0
Clover Creek Hall	7	3
Ivy Hall	6	4
Eastern Parkland	5	5
Suburban	2	8

The curtain has closed on football's part in the intramural program with Central Parkland undefeated champions.

In the league it was Central all the way as no team was able to even come close to beating them. Rick Daniels, Hal Schrupp, Wally Feax, Don Krecki, and Rich Gogl were outstanding in every contest. Krecki received top scoring honors as he scored 10 touchdowns and Wally Feax led the field of passers with 21 touchdown passes.

The runner-up position was fought for by three teams up until the last game. Clover Creek, Ivy, and Eastern were all fairly matched teams, but

On November 30 and December 1, the Lutes will travel to Vancouver, B. C., to take part in a four-team tournament. The four teams taking part will be PLC, Western, UBC and the Vancouver Cloverleafs.

Lutes Gain Share in Title, Tie With Viks and CPS

The CPS Loggers have once more put the "jinx" on PLC. Before a rain-soaked gathering of some 1,500 spectators at Lincoln Bowl, the Lutheran-Jell before the Loggers, 26-0, last Saturday.

Since John Heinrick took over as coach of CPS in 1948, his Loggers have yet to lose to the Lutes. Saturday night's victory was the sixth in eight games played with the Gladicators. Two games have ended in ties. Puget Sound's victory came as a surprise to many people, as many expected a close, hard-fought game, with PLC coming out on top. But games just don't go according to expectations, and Saturday night's tussle proved this.

By winning, the Loggers gained a one-third interest in the Evergreen conference championship, along with PLC and Western. The Lutes had been previously unbeaten in league play.

Although the Lutes won out on the statistical chart, the game was entirely in Logger control. In the first quarter the Loggers recovered a Lute fumble on their own 45, and from there Don Murdock, drove across the line outside right tackle and scampered all the way to pay dirt. The extra point failed and CPS led 6-0.

Then in the second stanza, Jack Fabulich took a punt on his own 15 yard stripe, slipped by a swarm of tacklers to the 25, where he was finally downed by End Jim Ball. But at that instant Fabulich lateraled to end Joe Retallick, who went the remaining distance, out-running Ball, the last Lute pursuer. This time the extra point was good and the Loggers led at half, 13-0.

Pacific Lutheran kicked off to open the third quarter, and Fullback Wally Erwin gathered the pigskin in on his own 30, and rambled 70 yards for the third touchdown. Immediately thereafter the Lutes drove to the CPS 7 before being halted.

Disaster once more struck the PLC cause in the fourth quarter when CPS recovered another fumble on the Lutheran 20. Seven plays later Louie Gradzielewski plowed over from the 1 for the final TD, to make the final score 26-0.

The Lutes weren't "up" for this one, particularly on the physical side. With the game just under way, Glen Huffman, husky end, retired to the bench for the evening after aggravating a shoulder injury.

Seven other members of the team were also handicapped with various injuries and towards the end of the game the manpower supply was so low that Coach Marv Harshman was compelled to employ a couple of linemen who couldn't conceal their limps.

DRG To Present Coke Party For Dormitory Girls

Plans for a "coke" party to be given by Delta Rho Gamma for Delta Phi Kappa were discussed at a meeting of DRG last Monday. Anita Hellbaum and Lois Gates were elected co-chairmen of the informal gathering of college girls to be held in the new lounge in the basement of the SUB November 27 from 4 to 5 p.m.

Music will be provided by Barbara Hedlund at the piano. Other entertainment will feature the trio of Ann Knorr, Joanne Huchttoen and Anita Hellbaum.

The girls decided also to have a Christmas party for day coeds on December 12. They learned from Ken Jacobs, plant manager, that he was beginning construction of book shelves in the day room for their use.

"Woman Killers" Are Seeking Warm Cave

Joe that she couldn't make it that night. "I spoke in haste," she explained, "it completely slipped my mind that I'm going steady. I thought everyone knew."

That afternoon the duo spent their time reading the words of the immortal scrounge, "Oh most 'dinged' amongst men, why wastest thou the hours of thy life on the whims of so fickle a group." As they were finishing this brief passage, Joe's eyes happened to fall upon the passing form (?) of Sarcodina. Nobody, it occurred to Joe, had given her a second thought this year for fear of losing what little nourishment there was in the college food. She couldn't refuse! She, however, informed him of the Three Day Law. No girl in her right mind would accept a date unless it was made at least three days beforehand. Balls of fire! What's this world coming to?

Rubiniwitz, meanwhile, had landed a date with Sally—under conditions. Providing that she was given the right

Students Eligible For Contest

To encourage young fiction writers of the West and to give them the opportunity of having their work published, Western Family magazine will conduct a short story contest open to any student writer in any college or junior college in the 11 Western states and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, it was announced today by Paul L. Mitchell and Edgar A. Seymour, publishers. The contest will run from November 15, 1951 to February 15, 1952.

"The editors of Western Family expect to discover and help young writers with real talent through this competition," Publishers Mitchell and Seymour said.

First prize will include publication of the story in Western Family magazine with illustration by one of the West's foremost magazine artists, a week's apprenticeship on the editorial staff of the magazine, introductions to story editors at major motion picture and television studios in Hollywood, and an all-expenses-paid trip to the Hollywood publication office of the magazine via Western Air Lines. to break it at the last moment, that they went some place where she wasn't known, that they both wore disguises, and that he never breathe a word of it to a soul, she would have coffee with him. Yeah, coffee!

It was on this final dismal note that the "woman-killers" decided to give up operations and schooling for the year. Does anyone know where a cozy, warm cave big enough for two bachelors can be rented?

63% Pass Deferment Test

Sixty-three per cent of the 339,000 students who took the Selective Service College Qualification Tests last spring and summer made a score of 70 or better, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, reported recently.

The new series of tests will be given Thursday, December 13, 1951, and Thursday, April 24, 1952, by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, at more than 1,000 different centers throughout the United States and its territories. The blanks may be obtained by the registrant at any local board office.

General Hershey stressed the importance of all eligible students taking the test, and indicated that those who do not have test score results in their cover sheets may have a "very difficult time indeed" in convincing their local boards that they should be deferred as students.

Application blanks for the December 13, 1951, test must be postmarked not later than midnight, Monday, November 5, 1951. Applications for the April 24, 1952, test must be postmarked not later than midnight, March 10, 1952.

To be eligible to apply for the test, General Hershey pointed out, a student must:

- (1) Intend to request deferment as a student;
- (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course;
- (3)

In addition, the winner will receive $50 in cash. Second prize winner will receive $35 and publication of his story. Five honorable mention certificates will be issued, carrying written criticism of the stories and first options for publication by Western Family. Judges will be the editors of Western Family.

Any student interested in entering the contest, see Mr. Ranson for further details.

CPS Hosts PLC Future Teachers

Journeying to the College of Puget Sound Wednesday evening was a delegation of 22 Future Teachers of America from the PLC chapter. The CPS Future Teachers, under their president, Bob Sethe, were in charge of the entire program.

Leonard Holden, guidance director at Jason Lee Junior High School, was guest speaker.

Main discussion during the business meeting was selection of delegates from both schools to attend the Washington Education Association convention at Wash. Falls on November 23, 24.

After entertaining with musical numbers, serving refreshments, and sponsoring a brief social hour, CPS closed the get-together. PLC's president of F.T.A., Bob Knutson, invited CPS members into the Lute territory for a future joint meeting.

Kappa Rho Kappa Has Early Picnic

Kappa Rho Kappa, PLC Greek club, will give Spring the "bum's rush," with a pre-mature picnic and campfire social at Lutherland Lake Killarney, tonight.

All pre-seminary and Greek students were invited to attend the outdoor affair. Skits and a singspiration will form the main part of the program. Guests will roast marshmallows and wieners over the bonfire for refreshments.

must not previously have taken a Selective Service College Qualification Test.

Students whose academic year will end in January 1952, General Hershey said, are urged to apply for the December 13, 1951, test, so they will have scores in their files when the local boards reconsider their cases in January.
