Edition Will Honor 12 Women, 8 Men

Twenty seniors have been selected to represent Pacific Lutheran College in the 1957 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." They were selected by a committee of fifteen faculty members and students for their qualities of scholarship, excellence and sincerity, leadership, promotion and influence of others, participation in extra-curricular activities, both social and academic, services to the school and as future leaders in business and society.

Those receiving this honor are Roxie Bergh, Walton Berton, Carol Bottemiller, Delphine Danielson, Patricia Gahrng, Agnes Griffen, Merle Hanson, Curtis Heyland, William Foege, Catherine Johanson, Helen Jordanger, Sylvia Kirkebo, Joan Kittelson, Lawrence Lane, Edgar Larson, Joanne Pederson, June Sather, Dale Schimke, Anita Schnell and David Steen.

Roxie Bergh is an education major. She has been outstanding in the music department, being soloist with the Choir of the West. She teaches voice lessons on campus and is also active in Mu Phi Epsilon. Besides her music activities, Roxie has time to get on the honor roll and to take care of her son who is in grade school.

Last Year's Editor

Wally Berton has been in dramatic activities, editor of the Mooring Mast, and is in Blue Key. Wally got the mathematics award when he was a freshman. He has also worked on the Saga.

Carol Bottemiller, this year's Homecoming queen, has been active in LDR, PTA and AWS. She was in Spurs and was vice-president of the girls' club. She was also a song leader.

Delphine Danielson has been active in music and in religious organizations. She is president of Mu Phi this year and is in the Choir of the West, in which she is secretary. She is in Tassels, I.S.A. and P.T.A. She was also a Spur.

Bill Foege is in pre-med. He has been an officer in Blue Key, president of German Club, and senior class representative to the council. He is active in Linne Society and in the student congregation.

Past Proxy of Mu Phi

Pat Gahrng was president of Mu Phi last year, Choir, chorus and the student congregation have taken up some of her time here at PLC. Also she has a high academic record and is a member of Tassels.

Agnes Hallenger Griffen has also excelled in the orchestra field and is a member of Tassels. She was feature editor of the Mooring Mast last year. When she was a freshman, she was president of her dorm. French Club is listed as another of her activities.

Merle Hanson has held some major office every year. (He could probably write a book when he graduates, "Somebody Down There Likes Me"). He was freshman vice-president, sophomore class president, ASPLC treasurer, and ASPLC president. Merle has also been active in Blue Key and has always been on the honor roll.

Johanson is AWS President

Kathy Johanson is president of AWS this year. She has been active in many campus affairs, counselor in Old Main and in West Hall, and (continued on page four)

Swedish Chorus Pleases Audience

by Kathie Garrison

In spite of a heavy fog Tuesday evening, PLC's gymnasium was well-filled for a performance by the National Swedish Chorus. Martin Lidstram, conductor, showed a remarkable sense of dynamism and flexibility. The program began with the staging of the Star Spangled Banner—sung with a gusto and patriotism far surpassing most American repetitions. They continued with three Swedish songs, sung softly and much too sentimentally for this writer's taste. Almost immediately the mood changed to one of sensitive strength with two hymns—"Jesu Thy Blood" and "Den Store Nivda Blod" in which the soloist, Karl-Olaf Johansson, added much, followed by more Scandinavian music, in one of which the dissonances were fascinating. An interesting study in contrasts were the two final numbers of the first part: Ensomhet, by Jean Sibelius, a thundering, patriotic song of Finland, and the simple Brahms Lullaby.

Johansson Enjoyed

Mr. Johansson proved to be a very enjoyable addition with three tenor arias—"En Spelman" (The Fiddler), "Till Hav," which was quite reminiscent of John Maese-field, and, to the pleasure of any opera lover there present, Cavardosi's well-loved aria from Tosca.

The second half of the concert included such music as "Jungfrau Danso"—a song with a moral, Vaughn Williams—"Fain Would I Change That Note," which was beautifully sung. Beethoven's Meer-sigill, a lovely serenade in which Johansson again excelled, and Lollo, a very threatening dramatic piece with all the rumbling forboding of antique gods.

Group Showed Versatility

Versatility was shown with a clever piece well received by the audience—"Lurekassen, the Barrel Organ," complete with wheezing, off keyedness, dog barking, children shouting, and the air of joviality so familiar to the European who often sees them. This in turn was followed with a Schmatzy folksong which was relieved with the clever "Brollopsok Fran Sarna," and, to the great pleasure of the audience, the majority of whom were Scandinavians, a Dalecarlian folksong, "Gardabylaten."

Final touch was the Swedish National Anthem. Mr. Lidstram is a capable director and an obvious disciplinarian. He is able to draw from his singers, soft, sentimental, thunderous music, sounds richer and sweeter than the finest mezzo-soprano and vibrant, generous notes from the basses.

This was an evening well worth remembering.

'Schreiber' Lounge Dedicated Monday

"Schreiber Lounge" was formally dedicated Monday night. The main lounge of West Hall was named in honor of Miss Louise P. Schreiber, a retired Tacoma school teacher. The lounge has been furnished by Miss Schreiber's $5,000 donation.

Miss Schreiber was presented at the reception with a certificate of appreciation for her gift by Karen Karzen, president of West Hall.

USCC To Hold Conference Here

A historic conference of student Christian organizations from 69 colleges and universities in Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana will take place here December 27-31. This will be one of seven simultaneous regional conferences in America sponsored by the United Student Christian Council. The USCC is composed of fourteen different national student Christian organizations, including the Lutheran Student Association of America.

Each school is to have a conference co-ordinator who will handle publicity. The PLC co-ordinator is Jakob Mollerup. "This promises to be a tremendously stimulating conference, asking the basic question, 'What does it mean to be a Christian on the campus?'" states Mollerup. Conferees will grapple with the fundamental issues involved as differing persons and groups witness to the common lordship of Christ and ask, "What is the core of the Christian Message?" Leaders will include: Dr. John Oliver Nelson of Yale and Denis Baly, author of "Chosen Peoples," the vigorously written conference study book.

Mollerup states that this conference is so vitally important that the Student Congregation may pay the expenses of two delegates from USA. Registration is open to all students. An attendance goal of 300 has been set; it is hoped that at least 20 PLC students will attend. For further information see Mollerup or call the office of the Student Congregation.

Women on March To 'Silver Stampede'

The tables will be reversed when the girls of Pacific Lutheran College escort their best fellows to the AWS Tolo, "Silver Stampede."

The Tolo will be presented on December 7 at 6:30 at the James Sales Grange. Tickets are $2.00 a couple.

An evening of games, planned by Anita Hilleland and Naomi Knutson, entertainment, and a chuck-wagon-style dinner will be in store for all who attend.

"Pictures will be taken of the couples attending," stated Carol Bottemiller, chairman of the Tolo.

Choir Faces Busy December; Will Travel to Portland Sunday

December will be overflowing with singing engagements and concerts for the Choir of the West.

First on the agenda will be the presentation of two concerts this Sunday afternoon and evening. At 4 o'clock the Choir will sing at Immanuel Lutheran in Longview and immediately afterwards will go on to Portland where they will sing at 8 o'clock at Central Lutheran. Their programs will include the numbers they presented at the CSA meeting before Thanksgiving, with a few added Christmas selections.

Beside the Choir, selections will be presented by the Ambassador Quartet, the Eighth Notes and a solo by Roxie Bergh.

The singers will leave school at 1 p.m. in the college buses in order to arrive in Longview in time for the concert. They will return to the campus after the Portland performance.

Will Sing At Steilacoom

Monday, December 3, the Choir will again don their gowns for two more concerts. The first will be at 3:30 p.m. at the Harvard Elementary School where they will sing for the Pierce County Association for Childhood Education. At 7 p.m. the Choir will present what is becoming an annual concert at Steilacoom.

On the agenda for the remaining weeks before Christmas vacation, the Choir is scheduled for concerts at McNeil Island, December 9; a radio broadcast from the Winthrop Hotel, December 12; and the annual Christmas concert presented jointly with the chorus and orchestra on December 16 in the OMS. Two performances will be held that day.

TV Show Possible

The evening before Christmas vacation, Dec. 18, there is a tentative plan to perform on a KOMO colored television show from Seattle. Definite plans will be announced later, stated G. J. Malm, director of the Choir.

Each year the Choir members are invited to a caroling party aboard a yacht which cruises around the Puget Sound. In return for caroling, the Choir is served dinner and given an enjoyable evening. This year the party will be held on December 19th.

All the programs will be the same throughout the next few weeks, with numbers ranging from sacred concert pieces to Christmas carols.

. Date Bureau .

Are there any "Boyle's Baileys" unable to capture their "Loverboynik" or "Scrags" looking for feminine friendship here at Lutville? If so, their situation might be remedied if we were to adopt an idea that is being developed at Central Washington College.

According to a report in the Central weekly, the Campus Crier, the school has what they call a social commissioner. This commissioner has come up with a social experiment—a date bureau. Social commissioners have been named for each living group. These commissioners have lists of the students in their particular living group who wish to do a little more circulating.

The Campus Crier says, "If you're the bashful type guy who's been losing sleep trying to figure a way to get on speaking terms with that doll faced blonde in your Biology class, the social commissioner of your living group has a gimmick which can smooth the way for your romantic campaign. Whether you are drooling over a particular doll or are willing to gamble on a shot in the dark, your social commissioner will do his bit for you by calling the social commissioner of another dorm and trying to arrange a tete-a-tete . . ."

The service is not designed exclusively for the guys. If any girls want to get into the swing of things, their social commissioner will make the first move for them, according to the Crier.

Editor's Note: To quote from another comic strip, "Oh, good grief."

- Students Respond -

Thanksgiving became more real to a couple on our campus because we caught the spirit of giving which is the greatest way we can express our thanksgiving to God—giving our ourselves, our money, and our time to others.

On November 16, $241.14 was collected in chapel for Art and Carol Getchman. The Lady Luts, who probably know best the importance of money to sustain life, are the ones who suggested the idea. Art had recently had a serious kidney operation and was having to lay back and watch his finances fade away.

"This was one of the most wonderful things that ever happened to us," Carol exclaimed. "We could never express our gratitude to the student body for their help."

The girls of North Hall also showed their Thanksgiving spirit by doing something. They collected enough money to buy a 17-pound turkey and all the trimmings for a needy family. The family had six children under nine years of age.

Library Shines When Compared

"Considering our youth, I would say we value our reading like a man," grinned Mr. Frank Haley when quizzed on how our library compared to those he had studied attending the joint meeting of librarians from the ELA supported colleges. The meeting was held in Minneapolis on November 26. Those colleges attending were St. Olaf, Luther, Augustana, Concordia, Webster, St. John's and Luther Seminary.

Problems discussed centered around inter-cooperation between college libraries and on providing more services for students.

A "book club" program was set up. In which each college is responsible only for books dealing with subjects taught by the institution. "This ought to get rid of some of those old, dusty books we've been carrying," commented Mr. Haley.

Also seniors writing research papers and needing a book are helped in their college search by the lead-lease program set up at the meeting.

Foggy Opinions

by Marilyn Donaldson

"I can hear you, but can't quite see you!" was a familiar statement of students this week as they groped their way around in the fog. The gray, misty thickness literally enveloped the campus. Several seemed to enjoy it and here are their personal reasons, recorded as only the individual can express himself:

Mary Ann Halgren: "It's so foggy I can't find the buildings, so I never make it to class!"

Les Ann Swanson: "Far neat!"

Anne Cydrus: "It makes for a more secluded atmosphere down at the kicking post!"

Betty Gabriel: "I'm glad it's foggy for Anne's sake, but I never go to the kicking post!"

Mel Paulson: "It's cool! You don't have to go to go to get lost!"

Gloria Lindholm: "I think it's so wet it's like walking around on the bottom of the ocean. (Where I would like all the professors to be!)"

Doreen Zeuke: "It helps Mr. Running to get his point across when defining fog."

Ken Black: "It makes everything peaceful and quiet."

Arlette Dungan: "I think fog is neat. Very nice to take walks with interesting people."

Dave Steen: "Better than California smog!"

Karen Knutsen: "I like it! It makes curly hair straight . . . now I don't look out of place. It also breaks the monotony."

Allen Schachel: "One big mess!"

Vad Kelsoe: "It sends me, but once I get there I can't find my way back!"

Eugene Napala: "It's good, but won't last."

Darrel Dauger: "It's exciting!"

Margie Roth: "I love it!"

Art Club Organized; Activities Planned

Wednesday, November 29, art majors and minors met to organize PLC's first art club. Mr. Kittleson is advisor of the group which elected Jeff Dehull secretary.

Elected to draw up a constitution were: Jay Trusdahl, chairman; Fouette Erickson, Jim Stewart, and Marilyn Potter.

Trips to art exhibits, speakers, special crafts and projects, films, student exhibits and trips to concerts are activities the group has planned for the year.

"We would like to invite all art majors and minors to be present at our next meeting, Wednesday, December 5, at 7 p.m.," stated Jeff Dehull.

Rogness Cites 'Outline of the Calling'

"How can we think we are all popes when we pushed aside one," cautioned Dr. Alvin Rogness, president of Luther Seminary, as he put together with pre-ordained and pre-ordained workers.

He mentioned this in relation to the phrase "be a man," which was one of his five points in an "outline of the calling." He said that ministers are the most coddled of any profession. People try to make them out to be more than men and succeed in making them less.

Rogness cited one experience of this trusting ministers like a group of arch-angels. He remarked that in his first congregation one of the members was a barber. Every time he would walk into the shop the barber would follow the warning, "Hi there, Reverend."

The other four things a parish has a right to expect of a pastor are:

1. He is a preacher.
2. He is a preacher of the word of God. The ministry doesn't require the use of the word of God.
3. He is a shepherd; unconditional by loving all men.
4. He is a shepherd. "You belong to a church so fight in formation. Don't be a guerrilla fighter," he warned.

To be all these things seems impossible, but according to Dr. Rogness the pastor's wife has a more difficult job than the pastor in the community. She must be a coach and not a performer. Both the pastor's wife and the Parish worker share the responsibility of seeing that a pastor has a chance to work. "Or that he does work," he added.

"It takes wit to be a minister," he concluded. To quote from his closing speech, "You must have your concept of God's love and of Christ."

Cage Tournney Begins Here Tonight

Four Teams To Play In TAC Double Bill

By Ted Seik

Basketball gets underway in grand fashion this Friday at 8 p.m. as Pacific Lutheran hosts the third annual Tacoma Invitational Tournament. The tournney brings together four teams including the national AAU champions, the Northwest Bakers of Seattle. This Friday PLC meets Central Washington in the opening game and College of Puget Sound takes on the Bakers in the night cap. Saturday night CPS will be matched with Central in the first game at 7:30 and last year's Evergreen Conference winner, Pacific Lutheran, will face the Bakers in the final round. The two-night tournament is sponsored jointly by the Tacoma Athletic Commission and the Tacoma-Pierce County Basketball Association.

Lungaard Returns

With the Bakers are several outstanding former Northwest collegians and four players from their AAU championship squad: Chuck Koon, former University of Washington star who was an AAU All-American last season; Stan Glowacki from Seattle University; Ed Halberg from Oregon; and Dean Parsons, an All-Pacific Coast selection when he played at the University of Washington, are the returnees. Besides these four and Frank Fidler who coached the club last year are a handful of other well-known players: Les Whittles and Bob Godes, Seattle U. products; Ron Patnoe, Boyle Perkins, and Ron Olson, all from the U. of Washington; Jack Thelmsen, Whitworth's team captain last year, and the high scoring R. C. Owens, an ex-College of Idaho star. Two men familiar in Tacoma, Gene Lungaard, ex-PLC great and Warren Moyles, of CPS, are also on the Bakers' roster. The college entries will be starting their schedules, but the Bakers have already played once, clipping the Canadian Olympic team 44-57.

Line-up Uncertain

Late coach Marv Harshman has been looking for a starting five in this week's cage drills. He indicated that probably fourteen men will wear the Lute uniform in the two games, not using the same men both nights. Roger Iverson, Jack Stederson, and Chuck Curtis, three of last year's first five, appear to have their positions back. For the other two slots, Jim Van Beek, Nick Kelderman, Bob Roth, and Tom Sahli seem to have the edge. The others sitting up will be Hugh Marsh, Chuck Goldaker, Bob Rodin, Lute Jerstad, Arden Iverson, Glenn Campbell, and Rich Hamlin.

College of Puget Sound has nine returning lettermen to bring into the fray. Central is reported to be fairly strong this year. Central made it rough for the Lutes last year, dropping them twice before PLC could reverse the defeats on two occasions.

A clinic for high school coaches will be held Saturday afternoon at the PLC gym in conjunction with the Tournament. Marv Harshman and Frank Fidler of the Bakers will conduct the coaching clinic. Perry

Emblems Presented To 24 Footballers

Twenty-four football awards were given out on Tuesday to team members who had played enough to merit letters. Walt Fitzpatrick picked up his fourth letter, being the only one to receive this honor this year.

Larry Ross, Galen Nosbaum, Curt Hovland, Ron McAllister, Tom Gilmer, John Fromm, Jim Jacobson, and Lynn Calkins were presented with their third citation.

All-Conference Squad Picked; Gilmer, Fromm on First Team

Tom Gilmer, quarterback, and John Fromm, halfback, have both been named to this year's All-Conference football team, along with Ron Storaasli, who earned a spot on the second string All-Conference squad, and Curt Hovland, Dick Goodwin and Jack Newhart, who made honorable mention in the Evergreen loop.

One of the reasons for the placing of six Pacific Lutheran football men on the All-Conference lists is that these individuals were the leaders in all areas of individual statistics.

Tom Gilmer, who is on the All-Conference team for the second time now, was the top passing quarterback in the league with 53 completions of 109 passes for 730 yards. Gilmer also holds the honor of being the leading offensive man, for besides the 730 yards of passing, he rushed for 18 and received the tosses for 72 yards, making a total of 820 yards and an average of 102.5 per game.

John Fromm, a junior, led the conference in rushing with a total of 469 yards and a game average of 58.6. Second to him was Bob Bates, of Whitworth, with 400 yards and 50-yard average.

In the field of pass receiving, PLC again led the pack with Ron Storaasli, who took 18 tosses for 316 yards, four touchdowns, and an average of 39.5 yards per game.

And the good news for the Lutes is that four of these six men are juniors and will be returning next year. Curt Hovland and Jack Newhart are the only ones who will not be back next year.

Newhart, Calkins, Fisher Honored by Gridironmen

by Eugene Hapala

The football team has elected three of their teammates for special recognition for their efforts in the past gridiron campaign.

Lynn Calkins, the Lutes' 230-pound All-Conference tackle last year, was elected captain of the 1957 grid club, while their plunging fullback, Jack Newhart, was chosen as the winner of the inspirational award for his 1956 grid achievements. George Fisher was chosen for the Freshman Award.

Coach Marv Harshman commented that "Newhart was outstanding on both offense and defense this season, and was undoubtedly the best defensive backfield man in the league." Newhart started his college football career at CPS and after winning two varsity letters entered the army. After his two-year hitch with Uncle Sam he changed his colors to PLC and for the past two grid campaigns he has repeatedly sparked the Lute backfield. Newhart was chosen to the All-State high school football team during his days at Lincoln High of Tacoma.

Newhart has used his four years of varsity football eligibility, but will be back next fall to help coach the 1957 Lute eleven while finishing his academic requirements for graduation.

Lynn Calkins is also a graduate of Tacoma's Lincoln High School. Calkins has earned three letters at PLC while holding down the important tackle position. Harshman praised the massive tackle as "a consistent player who time after time made spectacular plays, but because of his apparent ease went by unnoticed by fans in the stands." Calkins is a veteran of the U. S. Marines and is expected to be the mainstay of the PLC line next fall.

Fisher Gets Award

The Lutes' promising young halfback, George Fisher, was elected to receive the Freshman Award, according to Milton Nesvig, public relations head. The award is presented by Mr. Fredrik A. Scialoja of the Evangelical Lutheran Church to the freshman voted by his teammates as the player "best exemplifying what PLC stands for." Fisher continues to live up to his reputation as an "All American Boy" with this additional honor. During his high school days at Evergreen (near Vancouver, Wash.), Fisher was a three-year letterman in football, basketball, and track. He also found time to be student body president and graduated as co-valedictorian of his class. George is a pre-engineering student and also is out for the Lute basketball team.

A small cash award is included in the Freshman Award toward college tuition.

 was a song leader. She was also in the student council for two years, her sophomore and senior years. This year she is secretary of the ASPLC. The social activities of the AWS were under her direction last year and she was co-chairman of the convocation for homecoming.
 Sylvia Kirkebo has been in many clubs and organizations. She was president of Spurs, and this year she is vice-president of FTA and LDR.

Athletes Included
 This year's football captain, Curt Reiland, is living proof that athletes are not dumb. He has a good scholastic record along with a long list of club activities. He is in Blue Key, German Club, and in Letterman's Club.

Jean Kitchison has been chairman of many functions and has been especially active in college publications, being editor of the Mooring Mast in her sophomore year. This year she was co-chairman of homecoming.

Larry Lane is this year's senior class president. He was president of Alpha Sigma Lambda last year and Circle K, Blue Key and Toastmasters are some of his activities. He is also one of the baseball nine.

Eddie Larson can be seen doing stunts at any of the games this year. He is one of the yell leaders. He was junior class president last year, and is secretary-treasurer. Toastmasters, choir, Kappa Rho Kappa, and Letterman's Club are some of his other activities.

Peterson Heads Tassels
 Jeanne Peterson has an outstanding scholastic record, and she is president of Tassels this year. She has been president of French Club, and is active in FTA and LDR.

Jane Sather started out her college career being active. She was freshman class secretary and belonged to a host of clubs. She was a song leader in her sophomore year, and has been active in LDR, FTA, Ski Club and Vikings Club. She was also AWS social chairman.

Dale Schimke has been one of the leaders in FTA ever since he started college. He is active on the Saga and in sports. He plays tennis, is on the track team and is involved in intramurals. He is a member of Blue Key.

Anita Schell is president of Phi Kappa Delta this year. She has always been active in debate and is a member of the senior women's debate team which has already won several first places this year. She has an outstanding scholastic record and is in Tassels. She was secretary of Linna Society.

Dave Steen is vice-president of ASPLC. He was freshman class treasurer. He is on the yell team, in the May Festival dancing group, and is in KRK and Blue Key.

Coach Salzman Preps JV Squad

Trying to uphold the go-get-um pace set by last year's Junior Varsity basketball squad of 19 wins and only two losses will be this year's mostly new JV team.

Coach Mark Salzman does not know which men from the 26 now out for basketball will be on the JV team, as the initial practices are still being held, but probably one or two returning lettermen will be on the squad. Besides the Junior Varsity regulars there will be a few players used from the varsity group who do not see much action on the A-team.

Pacific Lutheran's second team will be in the City League, which is made up of eight squads, such as the Tacoma Cheney Stars, the CPS JV's, and McChord Air Force Base.

Keuthe To Fill Pulpit In Auburn Temporarily

Rev. John Keuthe, professor of religion, will occupy temporarily the pulpit at the Messiah Lutheran Church in Auburn after Christmas. It has been announced.

Rev. O. D. Rollander, who has been pastor there for three years, has resigned to accept a call to become secretary of the Department of World Mission Cooperation of the National Lutheran Council. Rev. Keuthe will serve until a new pastor is selected. Rev. Rollander was a missionary for nine years in Tanganyika Territory, East Africa.

Top Intramural Athletes Named

Rod Humble, Clover Creek Hall's pass snaring end, headed the list of the Intramural Football All-Star cast released by Mark Salzman, Intramural director. Huzaible's 11 touchdowns were the decisive factor in Clover Creek's bid for the intramural championship flag. In all, sixty-five men packed the pigskin to pay dirt during the past season. Roger Iverson, Tacoma quarterback, accounted for 30 touchdowns for his club via the air route, closely followed by Jerry Larson who passed 29 for the Old Main (4) club.

Elected to the All-Star team were Dick Graves, Rich Hamlin, Roger Iverson, Duane Moe, Gerry Redburg, Carl Searcy, Frank Waterworth and Rod Humble.

One hundred and forty men participated in the intramural football program this fall according to statistics from the intramural office.

Basketball Underway
 Intramural basketball followed right on the heels of the close of the football season with the first games beginning this week. All men interested in playing on their district team should consult the bulletin board in Old Main or check their district bulletin board.

Band Acquires New Instruments; Pep Band Will Offer Surprises

by La Verne Lewis
 The PLC band is getting a new look, and we don't mean just this year's bumper crop of new members, either (although they're included). In these days when expressions like "bigger and better" are watchwords, the band is keeping up with the times.

This week an E flat contra bass clarinet was added to our woodwind section, which makes the range of our woodwind choir complete from top to bottom. "There are probably only two other contra basses in this state," says Mr. Gilbertson, "and very few in the country. This particular instrument is 'custom-made' so to speak, and members of the band have waited since last July for it."

Two more additions this year have been B flat french horns, which are pitched higher than regular horns. Another 'something new' in the band is a string bass. By the way, watch for the basketball season pep band. "This year the pep band consists of fifteen members who will play lots of new music," says Jerry Rayne. "Every thing else is a surprise," continues the leader of the new band. "but be sure to watch for it at the first game. It's got a new look!"

Next Tuesday, December 4, the PLC band will go to Buckley to give its annual Christmas concert there. Several Christmas selections will be included in the program, and while touring through the wards that afternoon, band members are planning to sing carols.

Insurance is for the Birds . . .

Wise birds, that is. They're the ones who know. They're the "heads-up" young people who know that the benefits of financial security are enjoyed in the future by those who plan for it today.

They know that life insurance is the only plan in the world that provides immediate protection for the FULL AMOUNT of their policy . . . no matter how small today's premium may be.

They know that life insurance is constantly adaptable to their changing personal needs . . . and they know that their policy keeps building cash values for them every day.

How about you? Be a wise bird . . . join the hundreds of students who start their life insurance program with Lutheran Brotherhood while they're in school. Write . . .
