President's Message to Investors

1990-91 marked a year of planned activities celebrating Pacific Lutheran University's Centennial. As we recounted the achievements of a century in such areas as growth, stability, program, alumni accomplishments, donor support, and reputation, we found much for which to be grateful. An overwhelming undercurrent was realization of the groundwork well laid by those who preceded this current generation. At no time during its one-hundred year history has the university been financially affluent. In fact, the first half of its existence was painfully tenuous. Yet its mission, capsulated in the Centennial theme — Educating for Service — has not faltered, and its faculty, students, alumni, congregations and supporters remained committed to the value of this institution. Those who are listed as investors in this report are responsible for the continuing strength and vitality of Pacific Lutheran University. Thank you for your gifts and your enduring assistance!

Together with many other colleges and universities in the nation, PLU experienced a decline in enrollment which directly and negatively impacted the operating budget. A combination of measures, such as salary freezes for all personnel for one year, a hiring hold, non-replacement of retirees, reduced schedules for remodeling, cutback on travel and general expenses, increased recruitment efforts, and increased fundraising programs, sustained a solvent financial picture. The "down-sizing" planned for the immediate future will insure fiscal stability and continuing progress, even as we anticipate an upswing in enrollment that will attend the increase in college-age population in 1994-95.

After many years of planning, we rejoice in the coming construction of the new Music Center, to be completed in the fall of 1993. We are profoundly grateful for the generosity and vision of Mary Baker Russell, Elbert H. Baker II, and George Lagerquist, all of Tacoma, in providing the major gifts for this important facility.

Affirming our 100-year ties with the Lutheran Church, each of the synods of the Pacific Northwest's Region I joined together to approve a Centennial gift to the university of a worship center to be constructed on the campus. The program, appropriately named Space for Grace, is underway among congregations, alumni and friends. The spiritual dimension of the PLU community is a distinctive hallmark of its heritage. The worship center will be a visible and stalwart statement of that continuing partnership.

As I reviewed the names of investors and donors prepared for this annual report, I noted again the broad and diverse quality of those who believe in the value of Pacific Lutheran University. A great many are known personally, others I have not had the privilege of meeting. All are important members of that sustaining network which allows an enterprise such as PLU to flourish. Your support has been a great encouragement to me during the sixteen years of my presidency of this fine university. I will retire from the position of leadership which I have thoroughly enjoyed, and found enormously rewarding, on June 30, 1992. Thank you for helping to build a solid foundation for our second century of service.

William O. Rieke, M.D.
President

Vice President's Message

It is important to celebrate successful conclusions! This Report to Investors marks the end of a very successful Centennial Celebration at Pacific Lutheran University. This year also concludes a decade long $50,000,000 campaign.

The goal for the first half of the decade was $16,500,000. It was oversubscribed with $20,000,000 coming through Sharing in Strength. These funds built the Rieke Science Center, doubled the endowment, provided scholarships and completed many capital improvements on the campus. In the second half of this decade The Centennial Fund — Shaping Tomorrow will build the Mary Baker Russell Music Center, redouble the endowment and provide increased help to underwrite tuition. The goal of $30,000,000 which at the planning stage appeared very challenging is also more than met by the multitude of generous friends and alums of PLU.

This decade of celebration concludes with an investment of over $56,000,000 in gift and pledges to the mission of Pacific Lutheran University. The centennial celebration year also concludes with the largest number of gifts and pledges ever received in any one year from individuals, businesses, foundations and churches. Over 13,600 donors supported PLU this past year.

On September 10, 1991, the ground will be broken for the Mary Baker Russell Music Center which will feature the George Lagerquist Concert Hall seating 524 persons. It will be unique as the only hall conceived and designed solely for musical performances in greater Pierce County. This new Music Center with its faculty teaching studios, choral and instrumental rehearsal rooms, practice rooms and courtyard amphitheater will become the capstone of PLU's Centennial Campaign. It will serve students of the arts in a significant way for generations to come.

Charles Kettering must have had persons like those listed in the pages of this Report to Investors in mind when he wrote:

"Nothing ever built arose to touch the skys
Unless somebody dreamed that it should
Some individuals believed that it could
And some persons willed that it must."

Thousands of persons believe deeply in the mission of Pacific Lutheran University. They have contributed mightily to a great Centennial Decade . . . and we are grateful!

Permit me a personal note. This spring will mark 40 years of service to Church and University for me. I will complete 15 years as Vice President for Development and take a phased retirement on May 31, 1992. They have been 15 good years . . . rewarding years for me . . . and I conclude them with a spirit of joy and thankfulness.

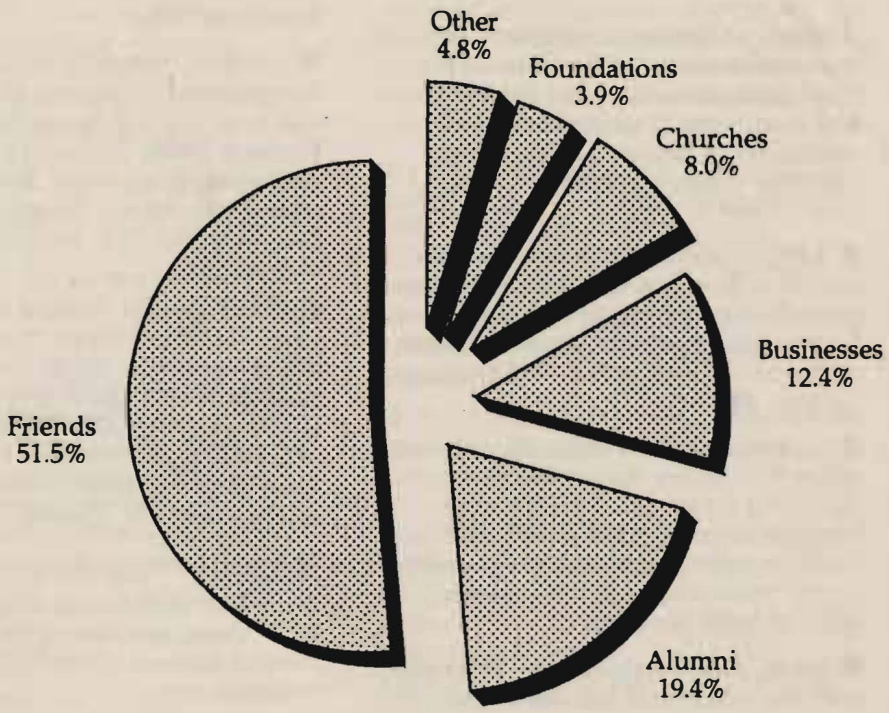

Gratefully,

Luther W. Bekemeier

Several events earlier in the spring marked the beginning of PLU's centennial celebration, but 1990-91 was the university's official centennial year. The umbrella theme of the observance was "Educating for Service—Century II." Quarterly sub-themes were "Reflecting on Heritage," "Shaping Society's Values," "Solving Humanity's Problems," and "Building Partnerships for Tomorrow."

June Centennial programs, including performances by the Choir of the West, were featured at the Northwest and Southwest Washington Synod assemblies of Region I, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, June 15-17. Photo A

■ A PLU President's Medal was presented to Rev. Lowell Knutson, bishop of the Northwestern Washington Synod, Region I, Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. Knutson is a 1951 graduate of PLU. Photo B

■ Students from the Baltic states studying at PLU under auspices of the Samantha Smith Scholar Exchange Program were featured guests at a Seattle symposium June 20, organized by the Association for the Advancement of Baltic Studies.

■ An eight-foot sculpture by '90 graduate Patricia Stueve of Tacoma was erected in downtown Tacoma in anticipation of the summer '90 Goodwill Games. The work was one of several projects intended to beautify downtown prior to the July Games.

■ Robert Mulder, dean of the School of Education, was one of 95 educators from around the world selected to attend Harvard University's summer 1990 Management Development Program. Selection for the program is very competitive. Photo C

■ PLU hosted the annual conference of IDA, a national consortium of interpretation, development and admissions officers from the 29 colleges of the ELCA.

July PLU was the recipient of the 1990 BEST (Building Educational Success Together) Award, presented by the Tacoma-Pierce County Chamber of Commerce and Tacoma Public Schools. The award, presented July 18, recognized the decade-long involvement of PLU, particularly the football team and cheerleaders, in esteem-building programs at Lister Elementary and McIlvaigh Middle Schools.

■ The first centennial theme symposium, "Reflecting on Heritage," was held July 2-6 during Scandinavian Heritage Week. Featured speakers discussed immigration, history and genealogy. Among the speakers was Paul Reigstad, PLU professor emeritus of English.

■ PLU President William Rieke was appointed Knight First Class of the Royal Norwegian Order of Merit by His Majesty, King Olav V of Norway. The honor was conferred at the conclusion of Scandinavian Heritage Week by Dag Mork-Ulnes, Consul General for Norway in San Francisco. Photo D

August Gundar King, head of the School of Business Administration for 25 years, announced his intention to retire at the end of the 1990-91 academic year.

■ Three PLU stalwarts passed away in August. Chemistry professor emeritus Robert Olsen died Aug. 13 at age 82. Vice-president emeritus Milton Nesvig died Aug. 17 at age 75. Retired engineer Walter Suter passed away Aug. 30 at age 84.

■ The Division of Natural Sciences acquired two new high-tech instruments: a digital scanning electron microscope (SEM) and a Fourier transform nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer (FTNMR). Grants totaling more than $250,000 from National Science Foundation and M.J. Murdock Charitable Trust made the purchases possible. Photo H

October PLU remained the only northwest independent or Lutheran school in the country to have been ranked in every national college survey conducted by U.S. News and World Report. In the magazine's Oct. 15 issue, PLU placed sixth among regional colleges and universities in the west. Rankings are based on academic reputation, student selectivity, faculty resources and financial resources. Photo I

■ In observance of the 100th anniversary of PLU, 100 alumni received Centennial Recognition Oct. 11. The homecoming weekend event was intended to applaud the diversity of PLU alumni during the past century, as well as the broad spectrum of fields of service in which alumni are engaged.

■ The year's second centennial theme symposium was also held Oct. 11. The featured speaker was Russell Edgerton, president of the American Association for Higher Education, who discussed the role of education in "Shaping Society's Values." The symposium was sponsored by the Divisions of Humanities and Social Sciences. Photo K

■ Four giants from PLU's athletic past were formally enshrined in a new Athletic Walk of Fame Oct. 12. They were Clifford Olson, long-time athletic director and coach; Marv Harshman and Marv Tommervik, former gridiron greats and coaches; and Rhoda Young, a women's athletics pioneer.

■ Oct. 14 was Founder's Day. It featured a worldwide alumni celebration with alumni in many places gathering to observe the centennial together. In addition, the 631 congregations of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America's Region I marked the university observance during their morning worship activities on Centennial Sunday.

■ Five scholars from the Tibetan Study Center in Beijing, People's Republic of China, were guests on campus in October. Sponsored by PLU's Global Studies Program, the visit was part of the first officially-sponsored tour of the United States by Tibetan scholars.

■ PLU sponsored the 53rd annual meeting of the Association of Lutheran College Faculties.

November PLU students were the best undergraduate computer programmers in the west for the second year in a row. A PLU team placed third overall in the annual Pacific Region Scholastic Programming contest Nov. 17, behind only Stanford University and University of Oregon. The top two teams both included graduate students. The competition is sponsored by the Association for Computing Machinery. In 1989 PLU's undergraduate team placed fifth behind four teams of graduate students.

■ A centennial symposium, "The Joy of Sport," featured Donn Moomaw, pastor of Bel Air (Calif.) Presbyterian Church and former UCLA All-American line-backer. The event was sponsored by the School of Physical Education.

December The School of Education was notified that national accreditation of both its graduate and undergraduate programs by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) was extended through 1995.

■ Scholarships for Humanities students is the goal of an endowment fundraising effort undertaken by the Division of Humanities as a centennial-year project. The initial project goal was $20,000.

■ Centennial Christmas Festival concerts featured the Choir of the West, University Chorale, University Singers and members of the University Symphony Orchestra.

■ Donors to PLU set new records for generosity during December. Gift income for the month was $1.4 million, a 16% increase over December 1989. Q Club donations were a quarter million dollars, up 12% over the previous year.

January Gundar King, dean of the School of Business Administration, was elected to a lifetime post as a member of the Latvian Academy of Sciences. Following his summer '91 retirement he began working closely with the academy on reform of higher education in Latvia. Photo M

■ PLU senior Lisa Simonsen was elected president of the Lutheran Student Movement-USA. The LSM-USA held its 21st annual gathering Dec. 28-Jan. 1. Photo N

February On Feb. 22, six health care experts with international credentials were featured during a "Solving Humanity's Problems" theme symposium on the state of the world's health. They were Jonas Salk, developer of polio vaccine and a leader in the campaign to find a cure for AIDS; Nobel prize winner Thomas Weller; PLU alumnus William Foege who spearheaded the worldwide eradication of smallpox; health care ethicist Daniel Callahan; Terrel Hill of UNICEF; international nursing leader Margretta Styles; and clinical drug trials expert Salim Yusuf. The forum was supported by the GTE Foundation and sponsored by the School of Nursing and Division of Natural Sciences. Photo O

■ The premiere of an original opera by composer-in-residence Gregory Youtz opened Feb. 1. Set in Seattle, "Songs from the Cedar House" embraced Northwest Indian culture and celebrated the environment. Photo P

■ Michelle Ryan, a senior from Kent, Wash., became PLU's 21st Fulbright Scholar in 16 years. A French and English major, she is spending the 1991-91 academic year teaching English language and culture at a French school. Photo R

■ Tacoma Mayor Karen Vialle and the Martin Luther King Housing Development Association presented a Distinguished Citizenship Award to physical education professor Sara Officer. The ward recognized "exemplary work providing safe, decent and affordable housing." Officer's Interim classes have helped refurbish houses in Tacoma's central "Hilltop" area the past two years. Photo U

■ KPLU-FM was named Jazz Station of the Year by The Gavin Report, a national music industry publication. At the same time, the station's most recent Arbitron ratings were the highest ever recorded by a non-commercial station in the Seattle metro area or the northwest.

March The premiere of an original drama by theatre professor William Parker opened March 8. Based on the life of Norwegian poet/playwright Henrik Ibsen, "The Apprentice" dealt with Ibsen's early years as an apprentice in Grimstadt, Norway. Photo Q

■ A $616,000 grant from the Lutheran Brotherhood Challenge Grant program gave a boost to the university endowment fund. PLU has a five-year period in which to raise the dollar-for-dollar challenge amount.

■ Spokane freshman Amy Luinstra became PLU's first national forensics champion. She defeated a competitor from Seton Hall University to win the Lincoln-Douglas debate title at the national Pi Kappa Delta tournament in Eatontown, N.J. Seven other PLU students won medals at the tournament, earning PLU 12th place nationally.

■ Athletic director David Olson headed the United States delegation to the 1991 World University Winter Games March 2-10 in Sapporo, Japan. Photo S

■ 1991 PLU Parents of the Year were Laura Gilbertson of Seattle, nominated by her granddaughter Laurinda Plank, and Dale and Jolita Benson of Portland, nominated by their daughter Rebecca.

■ Jim Morrell of Seattle, 1990-91 student body president, was the recipient of PLU's 1991 Don Jerke Leadership Award. The award is presented annually to a student leader who has made an outstanding contribution to quality of life on campus. The award is named in memory of the late campus minister and vice president for student life. Photo T

April At the April meeting of the PLU Board of Regents, President William Rieke announced his intent to retire June 30, 1992. During Rieke's 16-year tenure the university gained national and international prestige. Nearly two-thirds of all PLU graduates have received their degrees from his hand.

■ Gunnar Staalsett, general secretary of the Lutheran World Federation that represents 55 million Lutherans worldwide, was the recipient of an honorary doctor of divinity degree April 9. Staalsett, a Norwegian, was also honored at a campus dinner and presented the annual Hauge Lecture on campus April 10. Photo V

■ More than 700 students from 112 colleges and universities took part in the 14th annual National Individual Events Tournament sponsored by the American Forensic Association at PLU. It was the first national forensics tournament hosted by PLU, and the first time the event had been held in the AFA northwest district.

■ A new demonstration kitchen in the Scandinavian Cultural Center was dedicated in April. The facility was a gift from alumni Roe and Bev Hatlen of Apple Valley, Minn. Photo W

■ Regents approved the addition to the curriculum of a new major in electrical engineering and creation of a new Department of Engineering. The new department chair is Joseph Upton.

■ Judith Billings, PLU alumna and Washington State Superintendent for Public Instruction, was the featured speaker at a centennial themes symposium sponsored by the School of Education. The theme was "Developing Partnerships of Effective Education."

May Six professors with a combined 191 years of service received retirement recognition during Commencement exercises May 26. They were Donald Farmer, political science; Eric Nordholm, theatre; John Schiller, sociology; Gene Lundgaard, physical education; Gundar King, business administration; and David Knutson, religion.

■ A 597-member graduating class, the last of four "centennial" graduating classes, received degrees in May. They included 544 bachelor's degree candidates and 53 master's degree candidates. Honored for 25 years of service were professors Ken Batker, mathematics; Carrol DeBower, education; Art Martinson, history; Erv Severtson, vice president for student life; and Fred Tobiason, chemistry.

■ Jan Carlzon, president and chief executive officer of Scandinavian Airlines Group, received an honorary doctor's degree from PLU May 1. He was honored at a campus dinner and delivered a lecture. Photo X

■ Debbie Longmire of Olympia, a '91 graduate, topped PLU student mathematicians and 80 percent of the country's finest in the annual intercollegiate William Lowell Putnam Mathematics competition, which attracts teams from the top colleges and universities in the country. Photo Y

■ Enno von Loewenstern, Bonn editor of the German newspaper Die Welt, was the featured speaker at the 15th annual International Business Conference M 2-3. The conference, which reflected on the theme, "Developing Partnerships for Tomorrow," was the last in the series of centennial year theme symposia. Photo Z

■ The PLU Q Club surpassed its goal of 2,000 members by its 20th anniversary May banquet. Every significant club recruiting record was shattered during a 90-day spring recruiting drive, including 359 members in a year and 73 members in a month.

■ In late May the Lute football team, Choir of the West and University Strings headed for the People's Republic of China, while the University Chorale and Wind Ensemble embarked on a tour of Scandinavia. The tours, which attracted national media attention, were a dramatic finale to the centennial year observance. Photo AA

The Annual Fund

Gifts to the University's Annual Fund provide vital support to every area of the institution. Scholarships, faculty salaries, library resources, and facilities maintenance represent some of the more significant areas where Annual Fund gifts are put to use.

This support provides the "margin of excellence" that helps set Pacific Lutheran University apart. Taken together with other income sources, Annual Fund gifts subsidize the cost of education by approximately $600 a year for each student who attends the University.

The positive impact of Annual Fund support is felt by students in three key areas:

Scholarships

Gifts to the Annual Fund provide scholarships to help attract and retain top notch students. Seven out of ten PLU students both need and receive financial assistance.

Outstanding Faculty

A strong Annual Fund helps assure that faculty salaries remain competitive. PLU has been fortunate to attract and retain highly qualified faculty who are dedicated to teaching.

Library Resources

Significant resources are required each year to keep the Mortvedt Library collection abreast of growing curriculum and research demands. Annual Fund gifts play a key role here as well.

As a consequence of strong Annual Fund support, the University is able to strengthen its academic programs, enhance scholarships and financial aid, and operate with a balanced budget.

While many of the gifts to the Annual Fund are small, as the number of those gifts increases, the participation of many alumni and friends makes a positive impression on other potential supporters of the University.

But small gifts alone cannot do the job. The University has encouraged a tradition of substantial giving through a special donor organization known as the PLU Q Club. Donors qualify for membership when their unrestricted and/or scholarship gifts to the Annual Fund reach $240 or more per year.

The PLU Q Club

The PLU Q Club was started in 1972 to thank friends and alumni of Pacific Lutheran University who gave vitally needed unrestricted gifts to the University's Annual Fund. These gifts help secure PLU's commitment to quality education. The "Q" stands for quality.

Q Club gifts

- help underwrite the cost of education for each student
- provide scholarships and financial aid to needy students
- allow the University to maintain a balanced budget without sacrificing quality.

To help accomplish these goals, members commit themselves to a specific amount of support each year. There are five primary giving levels:

Member	$240/year	$20/month
Associate Fellow	$480/year	$40/month
Fellow	$1,000/year	$84/month
Senior Fellow	$2,400/year	$200/month
President's Circle		$5,000/year

NOTE: Alumni within 4 years of graduation may join the Q Club as Junior Members for $120/year or $10/month.

The Q Club began with 100 members who contributed $51,000 in 1972. Today, there are over 2,000 members who gave over $950,000 to the University during the past fiscal year.

The following pages list the names of alumni, friends, businesses, foundations and churches who have supported the Annual Fund at Pacific Lutheran University during the past fiscal year, June 1, 1990 through May 31, 1991.

"Quality education in a Christian context? YES!! PLU gives the student body an overwhelming opportunity to live their faith through a variety of Christian activity groups. There is nearly one activity for each night of the week. With all these choices, my problem was limiting my participation to just one or two activities a week; I needed some time to study! My advice? Go to as many different activities as you can, then pick the ones that best suit your individual needs."

"When I first walked on campus, I felt totally surrounded by friendliness. People you don't know ask you how you're doing. Professors check with students to make sure we're doing okay. They set aside office time for us; some even invite their classes to their homes. I don't think you will find an excellent education in such a caring, friendly atmosphere at many other schools."

"The people at PLU never cease to amaze me. From the day of my arrival when half the football team moved me into the dorm, to the times when professors have given me their home phone numbers, I have felt cared for. PLU has truly become my family away from home."

"The faculty really go out of their way to be helpful and accommodating. I've had professors who have personally called every single student in the class to tell them class was cancelled. You won't find that type of personalized attention at too many other schools."

Unique and Specified Gifts to the Annual Fund

(Gifts above $240 a year)

The following individuals have made significant gifts to the Annual Fund which were restricted to specific purposes. Larger gifts to the Lute Club, the Society for the Arts, the Scandinavian Cultural Center, certain restricted scholarships, non-cash gifts or a combination of such gifts which exceed $240 a year are included. Many individuals on this list also contribute significant unrestricted gifts through the PLU Q Club. These gifts are in addition to their Q Club contributions which are recognized elsewhere in this report.

"The interaction between faculty and students here is great. As a student who lives off campus and is attending school and working full-time, I don't have as much time as a student who lives on-campus to become familiar with my professors. In spite of this, they and my advisor always take time to offer words of encouragement and are willing to help."

Churches

As a University of the Church, Pacific Lutheran University is owned by the 630 churches of Region I of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (congregations in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington). Many of those congregations, out of particular commitment to their mission in higher education, choose to support the University program directly each year.

These gifts come to the University in a variety of ways. Unrestricted gifts and scholarship support for the University's Annual Fund are recognized through congregational membership in the various levels of the PLU Q Club. This money helps undergird the annual mission of the University by subsidizing each student's education and assisting in general operations.

Many congregations elect to give for the benefit of particular students. Gifts to the Pacific Lutheran University Matching Scholarships program (PLUMS) generate matching contributions for young people from contributing congregations. Funds for the support of Lutheran students from the developing African country of Namibia are directed towards the Namibian Student Scholarship Fund.

Through these growing designated and undesignated gifts, congregations play a significant role in annual support of the University and scholarships for individual students.

Pacific Lutheran University Matching Scholarships (PLUMS)

The purpose of this program is to provide financial assistance for designated students who attend Pacific Lutheran University from Lutheran congregations. Through the PLUMS program PLU will annually match, dollar-for-dollar, individual scholarship contributions from $100 to $500 provided by congregations or organizations within the church for students attending PLU.

"One of the truly tremendous things that I discovered upon becoming a 'Lute' is that at least one person from every path seems to have found their way to PLU! That kind of diversity allows a student to attain a quality education while making lifelong friends."

Kara Quello, '92

Businesses and Foundations

Annual support from the business community and from foundations comes to the University in a variety of ways. Unrestricted gifts and scholarship support for the University's Annual Fund are recognized through membership in the various levels of the PLU Q Club. This money undergirds current operations and helps subsidize the cost of education for each student.

Gifts, restricted for specific purposes, are also received from many corporate and foundation sources. These gifts are often targeted to enhance particular areas of the University which are closely related to the priorities of the donor.

Corporate and foundation support plays a vital role in meeting the capital and endowment objectives of the University as well. These gifts help fund capital construction projects, provide for the purchase of significant capital equipment needs, and add to the University's endowment. The construction of the new Mary Baker Russell Music Center, which is scheduled to begin in September, was the primary capital fund objective during the past fiscal year.

The following pages also contain donor lists for matching gift contributions and gifts received through the Independent Colleges of Washington.

"PLU offers students so many opportunities to excel not only in academics but also in extra-curricular activities. I joined the American Marketing Association (AMA) my sophomore year and later became the VP of Communications. This club taught me organizational and communication skills. Now in my junior year, I am involved with the Forensics team, which has taught me so much about effective argumentation and communication. PLU is known for it's strong academic programs, but the extra-curricular activities make this college experience superior."

Alumni Annual Fund

Honor Roll of Donors by Class

Annual Fund gifts from Pacific Lutheran University alumni improve accessibility and enhance the quality of the educational programs which the University offers. These contributions provide vital scholarship support for current students, strengthen our ability to attract and retain good teachers, and help with everything from library books to athletics.

During the past three years alumni have set new records for gift income, the largest number of donors and the highest percentage of alumni giving in the University's history.

As you can see from the table below, Pacific Lutheran University alumni set a new record during 1990/91 for gifts to the Alumni Annual Fund. This represents the fourth consecutive yearly increase — with the last three years representing record highs.

This special Honor Roll of Donors recognizes the many loyal alumni who have made this another record-breaking year for the Alumni Annual Fund.

One of the long-term goals of the PLU Alumni Association is to also steadily increase the number of alumni who give to the Annual Fund. During the past year the number and percentage of alumni gifts did not keep pace with the all-time highs set in 1989-90. Fortunately, the decline was primarily due to an increase of nearly 500 alumni donors to the current Centennial Fund capital campaign. Historically, these donors often convert their support to the Alumni Annual Fund after the completion of their capital fund commitments.

The number or percentage of alumni who regularly give to the University is important because it is considered by major donors and foundations to be the key "barometer" of support from those who know us best.

Yet while the number of alumni contributors is an important factor in influencing others, clearly it is the dollar total given by Pacific Lutheran University alumni which helps today's students. Over the years, PLU alumni who are able to make contributions at or above the Q Club level of $240 a year have accounted for around 70% of all alumni giving. These gifts help keep PLU financially accessible for thousands of deserving young people.

The following lists recognize Alumni Annual Fund Donors by class for gifts received between June 1, 1990 and May 31, 1991. Where two alumni are married, the asterisk (*) indicates that their gift has been split equally and credited to their respective classes. A "Q" in front of a name indicates that the individual is a current member of the PLU Q Club.

"I feel my undergraduate liberal arts education is every bit as good as those of my colleagues, most of whom attended big name schools in the east. PLU was like finding a home for life. I learned the value of my family, heritage, religion and beliefs."

Why is the percentage of alumni who give each year to the Annual Fund important?

One of the first questions which foundations and major donors ask of us is this:

How many of your alumni regularly support your institution?

Our answer to that question often determines the size of their gift.

The Heritage Society

Members of the Heritage Society are those individuals who have included Pacific Lutheran University in some type of deferred gift, bequest, charitable trust, revocable trust, charitable gift annuity, life insurance, pooled income fund agreement, or a gift of a residence or farm with a retained life estate.

Membership is not based on the amount of the deferred gift. The sole criterion is the remembrance of Pacific Lutheran University in one's estate planning.

Deferred Gifts

During the 1990-91 fiscal year the University received bequests or deferred gifts totalling $195,285. These gifts will be used for both restricted and unrestricted purposes. The unrestricted bequests and deferred gifts assist the University by allowing PLU to use the money where it is most needed at the present time. The restricted gifts are usually placed into the University's Endowment Fund. Endowed funds are often designated for scholarships to honor or memorialize specific individuals. In addition, endowed funds are used to support lectureships, professorships, Q Club memberships, as well as a variety of other University projects.

During the 1990-91 fiscal year the following persons have made irrevocable deferred gifts. The face value of the deferred gifts totals $1,448,971. These gifts, which include charitable gift annuities and charitable trusts, provide lifetime income for the donors and/or their designated beneficiaries, while at the same time providing an eventual gift to Pacific Lutheran University. In addition, these gifts include life insurance policies which will grant the University a significant future gift, while allowing the donor to fund such a gift at a fraction of the face value.

Capital and Endowment Gifts

Gifts to Pacific Lutheran University's capital and endowment programs help strengthen areas of special need which require funding above and beyond the dollars available for general operation.

Capital gifts help fund new construction, major campus renovation projects and special capital equipment needs. Endowment gifts help underwrite scholarship support, faculty salaries, student and faculty research projects, visiting lectureships, and general operations.

The most significant current capital project is the construction of the new Mary Baker Russell Music Center. With ground breaking scheduled for September 10th, the new center will be the most visible result of the University's $30 million Centennial Fund campaign - Shaping Tomorrow. The building will feature the 524 seat George Lagerquist Concert Hall and will provide a unified space for faculty offices, instructional areas and practice rooms. Other goals of the Shaping Tomorrow campaign include doubling the University's endowment from $5 to $10 million.

Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of this list. If an error is found, please notify us so that we may adjust our records.

"I found more than a great education at PLU. I found a home away from home. Living 3,000 miles away from the sun, sand and surf is enough to make a guy homesick. But living in the dorm, playing baseball and making friends has given me experiences I'll remember long after I receive my degree."

"The Integrated Studies Program is a fine example of PLU's liberal arts emphasis. The courses challenge students to take a close look at the world and how they relate to it. Thought provoking discussions are typical and they promote open-minded thinking."

"The first day of my freshman economics class I walked into a room of about 35 students. The professor explained that he wouldn't feel comfortable until he knew everybody. One week later he went through the entire class and named each student by their first and last name. That kind of extra effort and concern for the individual is part of what makes PLU so special."
