

New Year Outlook For Development Campaign Bright

Reverend T. O. Svare Called As New Field Manager to Replace Mr. Elvestrom Who Is Unable to Continue

With the beginning of the new year the outlook for a successful development campaign is growing brighter, according to President O. A. Thngelstad. Plans for development being undertaken by the Association are being formulated which, if successful, will lead to the completion of several large projects before the year is over.

Rev. T. O. Svare has been called as field manager to replace Mr. Elvestrom, who has been in poor health for some time and is unable to continue his work. Rev. Svare's congregation will take action on the matter Wednesday night to decide whether or not they can spare him. If he accepts the position, it will be of indefinite tenure.

Mr. Elvestrom will teach two or three classes during the first half of the second semester besides managing the choir, and supervising the campus development and the planning and construction of the new biology laboratory. Construction on the laboratory will probably begin within a month.

President Thngelstad will go east soon after the close of the first semester to arrange for a development drive in the Middle West. He will also speak the cause at Fr. on January 19, and at Anacortes, January 26. He spoke at Silvana and Lakewood last Sunday.

While President Thngelstad is in the East, Rev. Carl Fosv and his assistants will carry on the development campaign on the Pacific coast. Rev. Fosv will speak at Chinook and Astoria on January 19.

SECOND FLOOR GIRLS HAVE CHRISTMAS PARTY

By no means are some of our newly organized clubs behind in their amusements. The second-floor girls held a Christmas party before vacation days in the music room on the second floor, which was artistically decorated.

The girls, although they are not Calcedonian, boast that they spent twenty-five cents for the lunch and had plenty. It consisted of cookies and chocolate.

ANNUAL ICE-SKATING POSSESSION OF ALL STUDENTS' TIME

The annual hobby of ice-skating has again taken possession of the student's spare time. Perhaps as never before, and has for the past week even replaced such favorite sports as golfing, basketballing and studying.

Of course golf is still of the question because the ground is still as white as the ball itself, the sun having failed to melt the snow; and basketball has become a frozen process now, just before the regular games, thereby losing much of its pleasure, and studying is by its very nature not an exciting indoor sport.

Are we insinuating that only the boys know how to skate? Not so! The girls are really the pep and the life of skating parties because of their peculiar actions and their immense knowledge of ice tricks, especially those spectacular "heel rolls," "loop the loop" and graceful figs. Really one would think they were circus acrobats.

PIONEER COMPANY TO PRINT SAGA FOR 1930

That Pioneer, Inc., will print the Saga for 1930 was the unanimous decision of the faculty annual committee at a meeting yesterday. A quite a bit of time has been spent in getting bids from the different printing companies, and now that the printer has been decided upon, active work will start immediately by both the editorial and business staffs.

The subscriptions have been coming in very slow of late, with the total number being around 130 at the time the paper went to press. The Normal Department of the Junior college is still in the lead with subscriptions, with the Liberal Arts department coming in a close second.

Coaches Definitely Pick Debate Team

Three Additional Members Chosen After Second Tryout Friday; Work to Begin Soon

As a result of the second debate tryout held last Friday afternoon, the college's intercollegiate debate squad has been definitely picked. Those who were chosen on Friday are Marie Vandinburg, Solveig Wangen, and Fred Walters. Professors Haug and Beck were the judges of the tryouts.

In the first tryout, held before the Christmas holidays, Ruth Jacobson, Ruth Norquist, Viola Taw, Hugh Tallant, Reynold Jacobson and Ojal Hagenness were picked for the squad.

Mr. Haug, head debate coach, plans to have two men's and women's teams of two members each, as there are five girls, one of them will act as alternate. If possible every member of the squad will get a chance to debate.

The debaters will begin working immediately, as the first debate will be held about the middle of February. The question for debate this year is: "Resolved, that all nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament accepting such forces as are needed for police purposes."

ENTERTAIN P. L. C. GIRLS

Lillian Johnson returned to school Wednesday, January 8, after an illness and will live in the dormitory the rest of the school year.

HOBBY TAKES ALL STUDENTS' TIME

Last Sunday even Dorothy was out with her "red shadow." Although not one thought she could skate, she donned her skates and dashed light-footedly toward the center of Tule Lake, where she made a spectacular figure eight, each foot making one of the loops. After landing again perfectly on her hands and knees, she quickly resumed her flight and sped towards her thinking bescon on the bridge across the lake. Getting a good start, in which she cut many fanciful figures on the icy surface, she soon gained a terrific acceleration and summing she could reach the bridge without further trouble, lay down on her back and did efforts to her landing.

Our "Prima dona," certainly made an impression on the great crowd of spectators who cheered throughout the whole performance.

Who says our girls can't skate?

Proposed Trip to California Dropped

Short Tours in Pacific Northwest to Be Planned; Next Year's Outlook Better

Although the proposed short trip to California this year has failed to materialize, plans are being made to make a tour of the Inland Empire next year. It was hoped that a trip south could have been made feasible, but the project has finally been dropped.

Mr. Elvestrom, choir manager, who has been in California, trying to arrange for the tour, found that auditorium rent was so high, and the distance between concerts so great that the trip would prove too large an undertaking, both physically and financially.

Mr. Elvestrom will be back home in about a week and will definitely decide upon the choir tours for this year. An attempt will probably be made to send the choir south as far as Eugene, Oregon. Besides this concert will be given throughout southwest Washington.

That the proposed trip through western Washington planned for next year will undoubtedly prove more economical and practical than the California tour is the opinion of those managing the choir.

FACTORY MEMBERS ENJOY VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS PARTIES

Although the Christmas vacation found most of the faculty members at home, they were not to be found wanting in amusements. All reported a very cheerful Christmas vacation.

Professor and Mrs. J. U. Xavier entertained the faculty in two groups at their home. The first party was given December 28, and the other was given later.

Miss Sylvia Larson, who is training for a nurse in the Seattle General Hospital, spent two weeks during Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludvig Larson.

Professor and Mrs. O. J. Stuen entertained the faculty and friends at their home, Friday, December 27.

Dr. O. A. Thngelstad went down to Los Angeles, California, to visit Victor Elvestrom, who is in a serious nervous condition.

Professor and Mrs. Phillip E. Haug entertained two groups of faculty members during the holidays. To one was given a fine breakfast. The other group was entertained in the evening.

Professor and Mrs. A. W. Ramstad and family spent a few days of vacation at the home of Mrs. Ramstad's mother, Mrs. Rindvig, in Bethel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Xavier entertained a group of elderly people at their home, in honor of Mr. Xavier's mother, who had her eighty-first birthday, January 9.

Professor and Mrs. Clifford Olson spent Christmas day with friends in Seattle. Later they went to Portland, Oregon, where they visited with friends for three days.

DELTA RHO GAMMAS CHOOSE STANDARD PIN

Girls of Delta Rho Gamma unanimously accepted, at a meeting held Monday noon, the Sprenger and Jones simple Greek letter pin as the club standard. The pin has a gold edging, with a silver background for the Greek letters AP³, Delta Rho Gamma.

The sample was hand made by Sprenger and Jones, Tacoma Jewellers, and has a safety clasp. If forty-two pins are ordered, the girls will have a steel cut so that all future pins will be exactly the same as the original. Otherwise they will be hand made like the sample.

Marjorie McGovern, committee chairman, will collect the money, which must be turned in before the pins can be ordered.

Students Present Interesting Plays

Casts Practice Steadily for Two Pre-Christmas Weeks Under Own Dramatic Coaching

Before a fair-sized audience of students and Parkland people last Saturday night, in the College Auditorium, the Dramatic Club of this school presented the three one-act plays: "The Ghost Story" by Booth Tarkington; "Forty Miles an Hour" by Carolyn Olpatrick; and "Mix Well and Stir" by Katherine Taylor.

In the plays the leading roles were taken by the following students: Warner Quale and Connie Mohr, in "The Ghost Story"; Stanley Berentson and Ruth Brown, in "Forty Miles an Hour"; John Goplerud and Lillian Johnson, in "Mix Well and Stir."

The casts in the three plays had practiced steadily every night for two weeks before Christmas under their own coaching and finally under that of Miss Stixrud, the school's dramatic coach.

This was the first production of the club, and many more programs will be presented during the next semester. It will be the policy of the club to give a program once a month; however, not all will be plays of the one-act type.

Work on the all-school play, for which the cast will be chosen from the Dramatic Club, will not begin for at least a month, according to Miss Stixrud.

MY! OH! MY! HOW CAN SUCH LITTLE CHILDREN BE SO VERY, VERY SERIOUS

Happy New Year! This was the general cry which reverberated the halls of our dear old Alma Mater on the evening of our return. But look! Who are these coming down the hill? None other than our highly respected friends, Herbert Tietjen and Fred Scheel, but somehow there is a difference—a sort of longing, hungry look in their eyes? Oh, yes, that's right; they have made another of those annual New Year's resolutions, never to eat between meals and not much at mealtimes, so that they may gain as graceful and swanlike a figure as that of Eleanor Lothus.

New, whom do we meet but our little Sally Wangen? Her diams is still there, but there seems to be a set expression to her lips, and when she catches a

BACK TO WORK

After spending two full weeks away from school and classes in a true vacation spirit of sleeping and eating, students and teachers have again returned to the place which they rather desparingly refer to as the place of all their woes, but also a place which affords them the greatest pleasures of their lives.

Oh, what a tedious, irksome task it is to get back into the harness of school life. These lessons simply won't be learnt, that tired feeling won't disappear, and that thought of all the good eats we had at home gives us a guilty conscience when we enter the dining hall and realize that we surely must have made gluttons of ourselves.

There still exists some hopes among the students that these things will change, however, since the same condition existed last year at this time, and after the crisis, changed for the better.

There are still a number of subscriptions to be turned in for the Saga. Why not get them in as soon as possible and thus eliminate a lot of unnecessary work for the circulation manager and his assistants.

NEW YEAR

Another year has rolled around, making 1929 past history. All the events of the past year, all its joys and sorrows, all its successes and failures will soon be forgotten. The world is pressing onward to new goals, new ideals; the past must be left to itself.

And is there any reason why it should not be so? There is nothing we can do to change the past. The marks of the mistakes we have made, the blunders we have committed because of carelessness, the unkind words we have spoken in the moment of forgetfulness will all stand despite our most desperate efforts to erase them.

Let us rather go ever forward, profiting by the mistakes we have made, always striving toward perfection. In our pursuit of knowledge, in our everyday labor, in the leisure time we have, in our relationship with our fellow men let us act always to the best of our ability.

And in this way, whether or not we attain our goal, we shall always be able to look back on our past life with a clear conscience and be able to say: "Although perhaps I was not always successful, I played the game as well as I could."

Come on everybody! Let's support the team at Centralia, Saturday night.

Dear Anna Aamud:

Seeing that you are staying home to see if you can't catch the measles, I'll write to you this time and to Ma and Pa next time, as I have money enough to last me. Was Santa good to you last year? I mean did he give you lots of nice things? I took all my stuff to school, but the most awfulest thing happened—You know, there weren't much room in my suitcase so I let my new doll's head stick out the top, and then it happened! I heard a lady say: "Come, Archibald Napoleon." This was at Fern Hill. Then I looked and there was a billigout eating all the hair off my doll! I had a notion to pull his whiskers off. Goppie felt so sorry for me that she is going to cut her hair again so I can paste some on my doll's head.

I'm plumper now cause I ate so much for Christmas. I've resolved to diet, and do till a dinner bell rings—then the worm turns. You know, you're supposed to sit about ten inches from the table. Well, I eat till I touch the table then I have to stop cause I can't move my chair, as Mrs. Kriedler gets awful mad if we scratch our chairs on the floor.

I was surely peeved—my Aunt Emma sent me some red flannels. Now I ask you, how can one be satisficated with them? You ought to see Ted with his new cards, he looks like Don One. I heard that Aristotle looks pretty bad now like Don Wane! I think he is sick and some one said it was heart trouble I hope it ain't serious.

Schedule Several Games for Boys

Conference Games to Be Played With C. P. S. Reserves, Centralia, Mount Vernon

To this date the basketball schedule has not been fully completed, but several important games for the first part of the regular interscholastic season have already been arranged.

Tonight the Gladiators play their first conference game on the local floor. In this first game they will face the C. P. S. Reserves. After a three-day rest the Lutherans travel to Centralia to battle the Centralia Junior College five.

Other games have been arranged with Mount Vernon Junior College February 1; a return game with C. P. S. Reserves, February 12; a return game with Mount Vernon, February 18; and a return game with Centralia in the last week in February.

Other games will be arranged.

CHRISTMAS VACATION TILT BRINGS 12 TO 21 VICTORY

In their only game during the Christmas vacation the Gladiator casaba outfit humbled the People's Store five, of Tacoma by a 42 to 21 score.

The locals were dropping the ball through the iron frame from every angle of the floor, and at no time did the People's five even threaten the ever increasing lead rolled up by the Gladiator boys. High scoring honors went to Nymman with 12 points to his credit.

The Lineup:

P. L. C.	People's Store
L. Sanderson (8)	F. (14) Child
B. Munson (10)	(2) Jones
Thostensen (2)	C. (5) R. Lillebeck

CHAPEL TALK

"O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker.

"For He is our God; and we are the people of His pasture, and the sheep of His hand. Today, if ye will hear His voice.

"Harden not your heart."

There is no privilege that can be compared to the Christian's. As Christians we have the privilege of calling the true God out of the heavens to our very side in Christian worship. This is truly a great privilege. As Christians we are privileged highly when we can come into the presence of God. What advantage do we take of this? What does our worship mean to us? There is an accurate text to apply to worship. What is it? Ask yourselves this question. Does it bring me close to God? Worship is a personal thing with God. You as a worshipping believer must be brought close to God.

Worship is meant primarily for the soul. Christ paid the price for the salvation of the soul. Worship is to the soul what food is to the body, and moments are set aside for Christian worship to bring the soul closer to God. It is often hard to exclude things that don't belong there in a moment of devotion, and we find ourselves doing just the contrary to the things we are asking for.

Worship in the Christian sense implies a state of humiliation, unburdening the heart. You are bowing your heart to God.

The second test for worship is: Does your worship lead you to lean on God? The third test for worship is: Does your worship lead you to obey God? It should create a desire to make your own life like God's. It should lead you to say, "God's will is my will." Do you go from worship with that determination in your heart?

Hoop Men to Meet Best of Competition In C. P. S. Reserves

Tonight in the college gymnasium, the Gladiators will play their first and also one of their most important conference games, against the C. P. S. reserve basket ball five. The reserves have done some very creditable work against the Loggers first team five and in individual man power are as strong as the last year's reserve.

The Lutherans, on the other hand, have not impressed one so well in their practice games, losing two and winning three. However, they have improved greatly during the past two weeks, turning in three decisive victories in as many games.

The game will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Quintet Quips

Hello! everyone. Back again and all happy? It surely does seem good to be back on the campus again.

I told you the team needed your support, even during the first two defeats. Since that cond defeat the team certainly has pulled out of a slump. It has defeated three Tacoma city teams: the Northern Pacific, the People's Store, and the John Dower five, in the order named. All these teams rate quite high in their respective leagues.

And now, with all the practice games over, the team is facing a very stiff schedule, according to Manager Fred Lee. To start the conference schedule the Gladiators meet the strong C. P. S. Reserves tonight.

And what a game this ought to be! In a chat with Coach O. P. Hite of the Reserves, he confessed they were every bit as strong as last year's team. He didn't say this in a boasting way, but as a matter of fact.

The Reserves are coming out to win, and they will put every ounce they have into the affair.

But the Lutherans, since they pulled out of their slump, certainly ought at least to give the Reserves a run, or better still, do as we expect, register a victory.

To say the least, this game should certainly not be missed by one P. L. C. student or supporter. Don't forget, students, tonight at 7:30, in our gym.

On Saturday the Gladiator five leave their own arena for the first time this year, to play the Centralia Junior College in the little Hub City.

However, the Mooring Mast will give all a complete word picture of this game to be played in Centralia.

Again we sign off, with the hope of seeing all tonight at 7:30 in the gymnasium. Let's have lots of pep, students; the fellows appreciate it.

Basketmen Score On Lumber Team

John Dower Company Lost to Tune of 36 to 19; Rough, Rugged Plays in Game

On the local floor last Friday evening the Pacific Lutheran five recorded an impressive victory over the strong John Dower Lumber Company basketball team of Tacoma by a 36 to 19 score.

The game was slightly rough, and play at certain periods seemed ragged. Johnson, for the Lutherans, played a good game at forward and worked very well at the center position, substituting for Mitton. Bob Munson also looked good, sinking several long shots.

The Lineup:

Dower's	P. L. C.
James	F. (9) Gardlin
Jack (8)	C. (4) Mitton
Harrison	G. (3) C. Munson
Levinson	G. (4) Nymman
Polke (4)
Substitutions: John Dower—Siler (7) for James; Bookley (1) for Harrison; Hughes (1) for Levinson.
P. L. C.—B. Munson (6) for Gardlin; Sanderson for Johnson; Colton (8) for Johnson; Thostensen for Nymman; Gray for C. Munson; Schiermann for B. Munson; Hagness for Fadness; Fadness for Mitton; Erickson for Colton.

NEXT DEBATE OF CLUB TO BE OREGON SYSTEM

The Debate Club is presenting its second debate Friday, Jan. 14 at 7:30 in the Recreation Room. The question for argument is: Resolved that extracurricular activities as now conducted are detrimental to good scholarship.

The Oregon system of debating will be followed. This will make the debate more interesting to the audience as well as the participants, because of its complexity.

Those debating are: Fred Walter and Mattie Vandenberg on the negative team, and Harold Gray and Dagny Hjermstad on the affirmative. Olaf Hagren is chairman.

The question should be of interest to all college and high-school students.

Campus Locals

COLLEGE DAY GIRLS GIVE GAY YULETIDE LUNCHEON

The day-room girls enjoyed a Christmas luncheon and tree party Thursday, December 19 at 12:00 o'clock, in the College Day Room, which was gaily decorated in the Christmas colors of green and red, and evergreen branches.

The menu was: fruit salad, sandwiches, cookies, cakes, and candies. Ida Hinderle, president, acted as toastmistress, and Marie Vandenberg, Mildred Card, Stella Sorbye, and Anna Mikkelson gave appropriate toasts.

After Mildred Card had led in a few yells, the girls exchanged gifts according to the names they had drawn. There certainly was a variety, everything from a doll in a buggy to a "date" book.

But in the midst of all the enjoyment the class bell rang, and the party broke up.

The nimble he is like the second-hand upon a clock; We see it fly, while the hour-hand of truth seems to stand still; and yet it moves unseen. And wins at last, for the clock will not strike Till it has reached the goal. —Longfellow.

PEPPY PARTY PUT ON BY DORM GIRLS FOR CUTE LADDIES

Ending the old year of 1929 with a bang and showing a real spirit of pep and enthusiasm in showing the boys a good time, the dormitory girls gave the dormitory boys a party which will remain in our memories for a long time to quote the expressions of many of the boys.

This gala event featured the wearing of childish costumes by both boys and girls, and not to insinuate that they don't always look good, it was remarked that the youngsters really looked cute. Most of the girls wore ribbons in their hair while the boys appeared in knicker-bockers and half-sox.

The program consisted of stunts by the dormitory girls, who were having a hard time with their Ford and the dormitory boys, who presented a pantomime act. The faculty members living in the dormitory were also to present a stunt but escaped the torture by a hair's breadth, when one of them failed to appear.

To conform with the general atmosphere of the party, Santa Claus was there in person to give the presents to the kiddies.

Contests in the form of relay races were held, the most interesting of which was the scooter race, the result being a tie.

After the refreshments were served, the party broke up by an exchange of yells from the boys and the girls.

The recreation room was elaborately decorated with a Christmas tree standing in one corner and evergreen sprays above the windows. The lights were dimmed by red and green shades.
