Saga Editor, Mgr. Candidates Chosen

Candidates for 1946 Saga editor and business manager, nominated by the faculty, were announced this week. Nominees for editor are Carol Elefson, Dorothy Nieman, and Marion Soltman, and for business manager, Ruth Jensen, Joe Heuchert, and Ted Reitz. Balloting for editor and business manager will be held next Wednesday, November 14, in the student body office.

Carol Elefson, College of Education junior, is president of the W.A.A., has served on the DPK council and was Vice.

Art Department Receives Gift Print Collection

Evidence of Tacoma's interest in PLC's art department was shown recently in an anonymous gift to the school of architecture, painting, and also some art guide booklets. The same donor gave the college 60 reproductions of architecture, paintings, and sculpture last spring. Through the efforts of another Tacoma, Mr. George Gove, the Elsie Sheldon Turner collection of 184 prints and photographs of architecture, sculpture, and paintings were given to the school last year. The department now has a collection of 832 prints and photographs. Miss Berg's present problem is finding space to display them.

MAJOR P. E. HAUGE RETURNS

Major Phillip E. Hauge, Dean and Registrar of PLC now on leave of absence, called his family Wed. night from San Francisco. He has just come from Okinawa and is expected home the last of this week.

CHOIR SCHEDULE SET FOR YEAR

The "Choir of the West" participated in the Reformation Festival held Sunday evening, November 4, at the Moore Theater in Seattle at 8:00. Under the direction of Professor Gunnar Malmin, the choir sang five anthems and also joined in the group singing. The festival, sponsored by Churches of National Lutheran Council, featured as guest speaker, Dr. P. H. Roth, President of Northwestern Theological Seminary in Minneapolis, Minn.

Several engagements are scheduled for the campus musical groups for the rest of this year. The Rev. C. A. Pellett of the Lutheran Welfare Society of Tacoma has arranged for the choir and orchestra to appear at the U.S. Veterans' Hospital at American Lake, Monday afternoon, Nov. 12, and at the Western State Hospital at Steilacoom on Sunday, November 18.

Monday night, November 26, the choir will take part in the Seattle Music Festival at the University Pavilion, which is being sponsored by the Seattle Council of Churches. The group will sing two numbers and also join a massed chorus of over 1,000 voices. Chief conductor for the festival will be David Pritchard, former conductor of the Chicago Music Festival, who also directed the Bremer-ton Victory Music Celebration, in which the choir sang on September 29.

"Bachelor's Baby" to be Given by Drama Class

"Bachelor's Baby" will be presented by the PLC dramatics class, under the direction of Miss Clara Chilson, for the PTA program at the Sherman School in Tacoma, on November 19.

The "Campus Broadcast," on K M O, November 27, will feature the PLC dramatics class.

"Rainsackie Inn," a mystery play, was presented by the dramatics production class at CPS Thursday evening, November 1. Complimentary tickets for the play were given to the dramatics department. Several PLC students attended the production.

Ex-PLCites Appraised By Pigtail Critics

With the tearing off of the August leaf from the calendar, many of the PLC '45 graduates found themselves face to face with a host of shiny scrubbed faces, to which were attached an assortment of tight pigtailed, unruly cowlicks, and appraising stares.

Among those looking authoritatively from the other side of the desk are Nora Kjesbu (2nd grade) and Annie Lien (2nd grade), both at Puyallup; Richard Bates (upper elementary) and Ardis Severson (4th), teaching this year at Belfair; Marion Butler (junior high) and Alice Kaaland (4th) at South Central, Seattle; Annabelle Birkestol (7th) and Carolyn Hawley (4th), at Woodinville; Lillian Thorleifson, (3rd) at Issaquah and Grace

FACULTY TO HAVE "SIGNING" PARTY

The faculty, according to the office date book, is having a "card party" next week. The cards, however, are of the Christmas greetings variety and are to be sent to PLCites in the service, inscribed with the joint holiday messages and signatures of faculty members. Similar cards were sent out by the teachers last year, and acknowledgements, often in the form of interesting letters, came back from all parts of the world.

Planning the affair is the faculty social committee, chairman of which is Mrs. Barofsky. The faculty will meet Sunday, November 18, in the recreation room at 3:00 p. m. to sign the Christmas cards.

Coming Events

Saturday, November 10: ASB-sponsored trip to Mt. Rainier. Buses leave at 7:15 a. m.

Wednesday, November 14: Mission Society meets at 7:00 p. m.

Thursday, November 15: Choir sings at American Lake Veterans' Hospital, 7:00 p. m.

Friday, November 16: Sophomore Mixer.

Sophs Promise Thrills Galore at Kactus Kapers

Come on, you dudes, and don your duds. It's the event of '45, (just ask the Sophs) November 16 to be specific. Kactus Kapers alias the Sophomore Mixer!

To prove we're not jokin' here's the line up as to who is planning the "hoe down." Rumohr Gulhaugen cheerfully bears the brunt of the responsibility. "It's a pleasure," she beams. She is ably assisted by those cow-punchin' gals, Louise Lunde, Nancy Fant, and Evangeline Ahrendt.

Miss Chilson will round up and brand under her direction two one-act plays. A tear jerkin', hair curlin' (except for the fellows with crew cuts) melodrama (more drama than mellow) written by collaborators Etta Claussen, Arleen Cordes, Anita Roth, and Daphne Hellman is included in the program planned for the evening. Coincidentally, folks, there'll be no chairs. Plan to sit the evening out on hay.

PLENTY OF FOOD, FUN, SNOW PROMISED TO EARLY RISERS

Ski enthusiasts, vikings and snow lovers in general will spend Saturday, November 10, at Rainier National Park.

Sponsored by the student body, the eventful day will commence with a special breakfast served at 6:45 a. m. in the college dining hall.

Regular tourist busses (the kind with the roll-down top) will leave the school at 7:15 a. m. to transport the troupe of faculty and students to the mountain. The three dollars transportation charge is in pleasing contrast to the ten dollar fee usually required for tourists from this area.

Longmire, fifteen miles this side of Paradise Valley, is slated as the first stop. Here will be served a lunch of baked beans, fruit salad, sandwiches, cookies, and coffee, prepared by the college cooks beforehand. Day students will pay a 25c charge.

Skiing, hiking, and snow-ball fighting will account for much of the afternoon's entertainment. Those wishing to ski may rent their skis and other equipment ahead of time at Washington Hardware in Tacoma.

After the round-trip tour of nearly 150 miles, the busses will return to the college at 6:30 p. m. (The cooks have promised to keep supper waiting until the nature lovers' return.)

A special invitation is given the faculty and their families to join this group for an eventful day at Mt. Rainier.

Chaperones for the outing are Miss Blomquist and Miss Chilson.

Lorraine Lundquist and Bob Hogberg are co-chairmen. Afton Hjelm is in charge of refreshments, Daphne Hellman is managing the advertising, and Arne Aakre will supervise the clean-up.

"Eds" Desert Campus, Inspect Fort Newspaper

Last Friday found "ye editor" Anita Stuen and her "right hand" Alice Brudie out at Fort Lewis on an inspection (by invitation) of the Post's newspaper, THE FLAME. The first stop was at the North Fort branch which was in the Public Relations and Education Office. Here the girls had their picture taken with a lieutenant. (Ed. note: Due to circumstances beyond our control, we were unable to obtain a copy of the picture for this issue.)

After being ushered into a reconnaissance jeep, the next stop was Main Fort and the main office of THE FLAME in Hobby House. Here the girls looked with green eyes at the traditional "pin-ups" and visualized them in their M.M. office. (Ed. note: Guess we didn't hint hard enough because we came away empty-handed.)

Last stop was the main Public Relations office and a chat with the major in charge, who almost signed the college sight-seers up for a full-time job.

With dusk descending, the PLC press bucked the five o'clock traffic and wended its way home.

Library Chatter

Consider the perpetual motion wonder-student. (The "wonder" means—I wonder when he gets his studying done—.) This modern Mercury dashes back and forth between the bookshelves and his desk; he flits in the manner of a hummingbird from table to table, keeping up a steady droning undertone of conversation punctuated by occasional loud guffaws. He finally subsides into silence and weary table-mates heave an inward sigh of relief—but momentarily. He's off again—backtracking on his hither, thither and yon.

Such wiggeworts haunt our library nightly. And they're not altogether missing daily. Ofttimes they come in groups and by their incessant chatter keep well-meaning students (like us), from completing their lessons.

Perhaps it will be well to remind ourselves that we are American students, garnering our pearls of wisdom in American environs. If we were in China, it would be entirely correct to talk as loud, and as long as we could, as the idea is current thereabouts that the more noise one makes, the better education he is receiving.

Howbeit, Head Librarian Stuen and his associates and well meaning students (like us) take the Occidental view in this matter. Which adds up to something like this. In the library and other designated places of study—Silence is golden, and Johnnie Jumpups are just a plain nuisance.

Happy Homecoming, Fellows

Almost every day brings another PLC service man home and one of the first places he visits is Parkland and the PLC family: He has to see for himself if Ramstad's dog still follows him around, if Franck still wears bow ties and "beanies," if Reed still teaches economics, if Miss Nielson can still find him a job and if he can still find Old Main in the redecorated halls.

Among the many boys who have returned to "civvies" are Earl Platt, Marty North, Marv Tommervik, George Fallstrom, Torger Lee, and Marty Gulhaugen. Already back on the campus are Coach Marv Harshman, Ernie Perrault, Glen Neal, Bob Forness, and Marv Shaw.

Welcome back, fellows! We hope you are finding us at least nearly as good as you remembered us back in those foxholes.

Let's Hope it's Not a "Cold" Winter

Quarter-exam week, unfortunately, seems to have coincided here at PLC with a mild epidemic of colds, be they nose, throat, or chest. A number of students have been forced to miss classes and, in some cases, important exams simply because they have felt too miserable to venture from their rooms.

It might be wise, therefore to set forth a few health measures to aid in combating the further catching and spreading of colds.

1. Keep in general good health—plenty of sleep, exercise; regular meals but not overeating.
2. Avoid getting damp or suddenly chilled.
3. Stay away as much as possible from persons having colds.
4. If you have a cold, stay in bed the first day or two, if at all possible; drink plenty of liquids.
5. Cover your face when coughing or sneezing.

Let's all try to follow these rules, whether we have colds or not, and "Keep PLC healthy and happy!"

Receives Silver Star at Fort Lewis

Mrs. Valborg Rustad has been presented with a Silver Star which was awarded posthumously to her husband, Private Vernon R. Rustad. The ceremony took place on the afternoon of October 15, 1945, at Fort Lewis, where Major General Eugene W. Fales read the citation.

The award was made for gallantry in action against the enemy on April 18, 1945, in Leipzig, Germany. In the course of an armored attack, Private Rustad was fatally wounded while protecting his comrades.

"Volly" Rustad has come with her sister, Mrs. Borghild Olberg, from San Diego to attend PLC. They are sisters of Ruth and Arne Towe, both ex '45.

The most valuable result of all education is the ability to make yourself do the thing you have to do, when it ought to be done, whether you like it or not.

Captains and teams have been chosen for the W.A.A. volleyball tournament which is under way every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon in the gym. The team captains are—team 1, Louise Tollfeldt; 2, Helen Peterson; 3, Daphne Hellman; 4, Ruth Pflueger, and 5, Dorothy Skilbred.

Tuesday, October 30, teams 1, and 2 clashed, with the latter leading all the way, and winning by a score of 31-20. On Thursday, November 1, team 4 played team 5, with the former emerging at the long end of a 46-23 score.

Then Team 4 had its turn at losing on Tuesday, November 6, when it took on team 3. The scoreboard read 58-17 at the close of the game. High point man for team 3 was Myrtle Davidson with 28 points to her credit. The first part of the game was close with the score standing 10-10 at the end of the half. Then team 3 cut loose and began to chalk up the scores. Daphne Hellman is captain of team 3 and Ruth Pflueger, team 4. Pat Purvis is volleyball manager.

Home from three and a half years in Uncle Sam's army is Bob Forness, Army Air Force corporal.

Bob spent his freshman year at PLC in '40-41. After six month's training at Sheperd Field, Texas, and Fort Logan, Colorado, clerical school, he left for overseas.

Like so many of our boys, this was Bob's first ocean voyage. Because of submarine warfare, the ship was two months enroute to Karachi, India. There he spent twenty-six months during the bombing of China and Burma.

Returning to the States early this year, he worked as clerk in the orderly room at Fort Logan, Colorado, hospital.

"My greatest thrill," he said, "was getting those discharge papers."

Resuming college life as a sophomore this fall, Bob is majoring in business administration.

Signs in dorm following test week: Sleeping, do not disturb!

I'm telling you, you can't win. That man can't be beat. Drive 'em—cut 'em—kill 'em—you can't beat him. Yes, you, LAVERNE LINNERSON. Frankly, you've got us all scared. Playing you isn't competition. It's slaughter. Don't feel bad, kids. He's a professional.

Plink! Plunk! Plink! No, not a cat walking on the day room piano keys—just LOIS LESTER and JACQUELINE YOST composing a song. Competition for Bach.

The rain was definitely wet last Sunday night when VERLYN KRAEBERGER and LAVONNE DENSOW. Freshmen, missed the last Spanaway bus and had to hoof it from Fern Hill. They had just returned on a late train from a "wonderful" week-end in Vancouver, B. C., visiting friends.

Not a blizzard—we weren't quite snowed in—but it was snow! Almost a whole inch of it. The only one found prepared seemed to be CATHERINE VANDELL, all-bundled up in her St. Bernard dog costume.

Read this and grin, all you little nurses to be. In a bulletin from Washington, D. C., was found the following:

1. Nurses come into daily contact with people of attainment and leadership

2. Nursing is one of the best possible preparations for successful home life—nurses make fine wives and mothers.

3. The marriage rate among nurses is probably higher than that of any profession.

So take heart, all you pre-nursing gals. As for the rest of you—too bad!

The P.L.C. Alumni Board met at 7:30 Nov. 2, at the home of Miss Anna Marn Nielsen, where the weekend of the annual Alumni reunion was set for Feb. 8, 9, and 10. The next meeting will be held Jan. 10, at the home of Priscilla Preus.

Student Counselor Leads Busy Life

Student counselor, professor of psychology, and freshman class advisor are among the campus titles of Prof. A. E. Fritz, who joined the PLC faculty this fall. Prof. Fritz came to our school from Wartburg College at Waverly, Iowa, where for ten years he taught psychology and sociology and was also dean of men.

Born in Ohio, Fritz moved with his family to Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, where he received his early schooling. After finishing junior college at Regina he went to Capital University at Columbus, Ohio, where he received his B. A. degree in 1929. After earning the M. A. degree in philosophy from Ohio State in 1930 he returned to Regina and taught Latin, Greek, world history, and also served as dean of men at Regina Luther College. After a year of graduate study at Ohio State in 1934-35 Prof. Fritz was called to Wartburg College.

The office of student counselor which Prof. Fritz fills has been established to serve all students so that they will have a definite advisor with whom to talk over their personal problems. The data gathered by the office give Prof. Fritz and the various deans an opportunity to review each student's record and to see whether he is getting the most out of his college life. Students who are not participating in extra-curricular activity are urged to choose some interest that will contribute to their college careers. As Prof. Fritz puts it: "We want to bring the student and college together so the student will get the most out of what PLC has to offer."

Campus Tony Cabooch Sends Service Ditty

Lyle Catt, '40, in a recent letter to Miss Nielsen, sent from Leyte said he had been in the hospital for 31 days but has recovered. While there, he met Bob Kruger, '40, who has since come home. Lyle expects to be home by Christmas.

While attending PLC, Lyle was on the MM staff and was well known for his "Tony Cabooch." Here is an army version from "Tony":

"There's a two kinds of a outfits in a this armys. There's a the service a forces and a the combats or a LINE outfit. It's a the chow line, a the PX line, and a line up, the tow line, the hair cut line, sign on a this line, a line a your tents, and a line a your sights, line a your shoes, and a line a your clothes, and the shower line, the pay line, this a red line, chow line, and coke line. Pass line, a laundry line and a line on your sack. This a man here's a sure in some LINE outfits."

Lyle is married to a former MM editor, Marie Anderson, '41, who is now teaching at Waller Road School.

ing Club vice president last year. She has also worked on committees for various social functions.

Dorothy Nieman, senior in the College of Liberal Arts, is DPK treasurer, was business manager of the Mooring Mast and of the ASB last year, belongs to the PLC choir, and was co-chairman of Homecoming this year and last.

Marion Soltman, College of Education senior, was a member of last year's Saga staff, received the "Who's Who" award this fall, has been AWS president and secretary, and has been outstanding in musical activities.

Ruth Jensen, College of Education junior, was assistant business manager for last year's Saga, is at present AWS president, on the ASB cabinet, and has been active in musical organizations.

Joe Heuchert, Liberal Arts sophomore, is a pre-theological student and is a member of the Choir of the West.

Ted Reitz, junior in the College of Liberal Arts, is LSA Council president, junior class treasurer, has worked on the Mooring Mast editorial staff, was last year's sophomore class president, and is a member of the choir.

Marty Gulhaugen, ex '43, after serving 25 months in Italy, France, and Germany, arrived in the States October 25 and received his discharge November 1. Marty visited his sisters, Rumohr and Grace Elaine, on the campus last week-end, and will enroll here himself next semester.
