

Biggs Concert Here Tonight

E. Power Biggs, nationally known organist who is largely responsible for the revival of interest in the organ as a concert instrument, will appear at PLC on Friday, January 22. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the Chapel auditorium. Tickets for the event are now on sale at Ted Brown Music Co. in Tacoma and at the college. Admission will be $1.00 and there will be no reserved seats.

Mr. Biggs was born in England and attended the Royal Academy of Music in London from which he graduated with the highest honors. After touring England, appearing in many of the historic cathedrals and in Queen Hall, London, he came to the United States, (he is now an American Citizen, settling in Boston). Acclaimed as the creator of a modern renaissance of the organ, Mr. Biggs has personally built up a wide audience of organ enthusiasts in this country through appearances in the concert hall, with symphony orchestras and on the air.

For a number of years Mr. Biggs has performed over the CBS radio network on Sunday mornings, playing the classic organ in the Busch-Reisinger Museum of Harvard University. During 1945 he played the complete organ works of Bach on these broadcasts duplicating a series of Bach concerts given in 1938—a feat which won him nation-wide admiration—and repeated this complete performance for the Bach Anniversary of 1950.

In addition Mr. Biggs has appeared as soloist with the Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago, and London BBC orchestras, at many of the leading universities of America and festival dates at the St. Louis Bach Festival, the Bethlehem Bach Festival, the famed Berkshire Festival, and with the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir.

Among his most recent releases on Columbia records are a series of the organ works of Bach, made under the title of "Bach's Royal Instrument," an album of French Organ Music, the Sixth Sonata for Organ by Felix Mendelssohn, the Poulenc Concerto for Organ, Strings and

Kettle Drums with the Columbia Symphony Orchestra, and a notable collection of Bach's Chorale Preludes and Cantata Movements under the title of "Music of Jubilee."

In the fall of 1949, E. Power Biggs took part in two dedicatory recitals of the new organ in Symphony Hall, Boston. The first was the opening concert of the Boston Symphony Orchestra which included the Tenth Organ Concerto by Gerge Frederick Handel, under the direction of Charles Munch. The second was a benefit concert for Dr. Albert Schweitzer, when E. Power Biggs played concertos by Haydn, Hindemith, and Poulenc, and solo organ composition by Bach.

Mr. Biggs' concert program at Pacific Lutheran College will include selections by Vivaldi, William Selby, Cesar Franck, Louis Daquin, Bach, Robert Schuman, Jehan Alain, and Marcel Dupre. He will also play four chorale preludes of Bach based on hymns by Martin Luther.

E. POWER BIGGS, world famous concert organist, will present a program tonight in the Chapel-Music-Speech building at 8:30. Tickets are on sale for $1.00 and no reserved seats are available.

Committees Work On 'Omnibus'

Combining the talents of three campus groups into one show, Pacific Lutheran's annual "Omnibus of the Arts" will be presented February 25, 26 and 27 on the Chapel-Music-Speech building stage.

Thursday will see a formal concert by the Choir of the West, directed by Gunnar J. Malmn; Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" will be the Friday evening feature, and a special musical performance by the College Band and Chorus will wind up the affair Saturday evening.

During the entire three days a special exhibit of student art will be displayed in the C-M-S lounge.

The Omnibus was begun last year as an annual student production, entirely planned and directed by the students. This year's coordinator for the affair is Edith Engel.

Directors are Kathleen Hinricks, Alpha Psi Omega; Glen Hull, Band; Stanley Helsen, Choir; and Jerry Stillum, Art Department.

Committee chairmen are Stanley Halsman, publicity; LaWanna Huber, radio; Jo Hanssen and John Shannon, newspapers; Kathleen Hinricks and Jerry Scheffels, posters; and Marlys Salterbeck and Thelma Nygard, Churches.

Others are Karen Kvonn, house; Richard Stuhlmiller and Jeanne Friskie, tickets; Robert Randay and Mina Roaen, programs; and Edward Kennedy and Myrna Shelver, reception.

Directing "Comedy of Errors" is Marian Christiansen, assisted by Walter Nealon.

Tickets for the Omnibus, which go on sale February 1, are $1.75 for adults and $1.00 for students for the entire three performances. Tickets for individual events are 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

Close Vote Elects Wigen President

In what was probably the closest election in local LSA history, Philip Wigen was elected president and Richard Knutzen was chosen vice-president for the 1954-55 term. The final balloting took place Wednesday.

Only five votes separated the four finalists after the 175 ballots had been tabulated.

Wigen, a junior, and chemistry major, resides in Spokane. He edged out Glenn Johnson in the finals. Robert Keller was eliminated in the preliminary ballot Tuesday.

Anacortes, Wash., claims Knutzen, a pre-seminary student, majoring in history and a member of the class of '55. Knutzen won over Maurice Fink and Allen Moen.

Stewart Morton, Berkeley, Calif., sophomore, was given the nod to represent PLC at the LSA Workshop to be held at Camp Menuka, Oregon, next month.

This is the first time that officers have been chosen in mid-year, rather than in the spring. The purpose of the earlier election is to give the officers a chance to understudy the present chiefs, and become familiar with their duties. The other officers will be elected in the spring.

Summer Delivery Makes Larger Yearbook Possible

Patience pays off! With summer delivery, the staff finds it possible to increase the overall size of the book from last year's 8½" by 11" to 9" by 12"; also an increase in the number of pages from 180 to approximately 250. In addition to this, about 15 pages of duo-tone will be distributed throughout the book.

After a summer of planning and a fall semester of organizing, Editor Marciel Fink states that the 1954 SAGA is beginning to take shape. At present organization pictures are being taken and your cooperation is necessary in order to have these pictures representative of the membership of each club.

Assisting Marciel in her editorial duties are: Delores Hagevik, associate editor; Gerald Schimke and Ed Kennedy, Honoraries and Student Government; Ed Hakanson, Faculty, Administration and Classes; Walt Ball, Religion and Publications; Vern Hansen, The Fine Arts; Phyllis Grahn, Copy; Darlene De Jardine, Organization; Maurice Fink, Living Groups; Janet Moe, Campus Review; Elwood Rieke, Sports; Bob Randoy, Staff Artist; McKewen Studio, in addition to student photographers, Gerald Scheffels, Gerry Peterson, and Maurice Fink, are taking pictures this year. Along with these editors are a large number of assistants.

Saga Carnival Plans

Carnival atmosphere will again prevail on the campus of PLC when the Saga Carnival of 1954 presents two fine programs in the Chapel-Music-Speech building and two full evenings of fun in the gymnasium on March 19 and 20.

Highlighting the festival will be the coronation of the Saga Queen and Saga King. The queen and king will be elected by the entire student body, after a week of campaigning. The queen will be selected from the girls of the freshman class, while the king will be chosen from the ranks of the senior men. Outside entertainment as well as local talent, including the Lettermen's Chorus "Minstrel Show," will be featured at the carnival.

In the past two years, KING radio and TV performer, Stan Boreson, champion quartets, and a fine male chorus have been the main events. This year's entertainers will not be announced until a later date.

In the gym again will be the gala decorated Carnival with booths sponsored by PLC clubs and pro-

Choir Travels Through State

The "Choir of the West," under the direction of Gunnar J. Malmn, will leave Friday afternoon, January 23, for a three-day tour of four cities in Western Washington; Aberdeen, Port Angeles, Poulsbo, and Bremerton.

Two college busses will transport the 58 singers to their destinations. The first scheduled concert of their tour will be Friday night in Aberdeen, Wash., at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church. Reverend Brandt, father of PLC student Richard Brandt, is pastor there.

From Aberdeen, the Choir will go on to Port Angeles, there to give a concert Saturday night at Roosevelt Junior High School. The Holy Trinity Lutheran Church is sponsoring this concert. The Parish Intern there is a PLC graduate, as is his wife, who is also a former Choir of the West member.

The next stop will be in Poulsbo for a concert Sunday afternoon at the North Kitsap High school. The First Lutheran Church, whose pastor is Reverend Alfred Karistad, a Pacific Lutheran College graduate and former Choir member, is sponsoring the concert.

For their last concert, the Choir of the West will perform in Bremerton Sunday evening at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, under the pastorate of Reverend A. M. Wigdahl, father of Pacific Lutheran College sophomore June Wigdahl.

Traveling with the Choir of the West will be Miss Lucille Schmeider, of the Biology Department, as chaperone, and Mr. Milton Nesvig as manager.

To The Spurs:

We wish to congratulate you for your sweet performance.

Your friends,

A. P. O.

Delores Hagevik, associate editor and Erv Severtson, business manager, compare the size of this year's Saga with that of last year's, with Marciel Fink, 1954 Saga Editor. Severtson has charge of the annual Saga Carnival which will be presented in Memorial gymnasium March 19 and 20. Helping him are the following: Walter Schwindt, Richard Nodtvedt and Ted Carlstrom. The carnival is for the purpose of raising funds for the Saga.

We Should Plan Study Habits

Good study habits are often as precious as a uranium deposit. Unfortunately, they are also often as rare.

The student with a well-planned study schedule and a mature, conscientious sense of responsibility is a happy individual, especially now that semester exam week is upon us.

If the average student were to select a characteristic coat-of-arms to represent his college days, it would probably picture a box of stimulant pills and the black coffee which he consumes to keep him awake during the last-minute cramming nights.

Perhaps, however, one learns from experience and, if this be true, there will be a great deal of "New Semester's Resolutions" made during the next two weeks.

Students Discuss Winter Season's First Snowfall

Gentle flakes falling slowly downward and a soft blanket of white covering. This is the picture that met PLC students a few days ago when the long awaited first snowfall finally arrived. Most of the Lutes were glad to see it come, some wish that it had come sooner and others were indifferent to it.

"It brings back the good old times in North Dakota," recalled Nancy Halvorson, freshman, "and I wish there were more of it."

Ron Johnson thinks that it is excellent for putting out cigarette stubs, while Roger Bjerk says that it is "real cool."

On the other hand, Bud Lester said, "I'd just as soon have it rain." And Al Gubrud was heard to cry, "I hate it, I hate it."

John Newland likes the beauty, but says, "it's horrid to drive on."

"The snow gave me the best Saturday afternoon of football since my high school days," enthused Ray Reep.

Joy Gilmore remarked that the snow would be more fun if there wasn't any school and Sharon Morgan agreed that it would be nice if it hadn't come the week before finals. "That way, we have no time to play in it," she complained.

"I like the snow very much," commented Donna Simkins, "but it would be better if ski tows could be installed on every hill."

The feeling of most of the students can probably be expressed in the statement made by Bob Marvonek, "it's real George."

Rieber Speaks On Missions In India

The 4,000 Christian missionaries working in India constitute a great force for good, according to the Rev. Harold Rieber, who was a campus visitor Wednesday.

Home on furlough from the Lutheran Santal Mission north of Calcutta, Rev. Rieber spoke in Chapel and met with the LSA at a luncheon. He will remain in the Puget Sound area through Sunday when he will preach at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 1310 South "L," at the 11 a.m. service.

"Nehru is appreciative of the Christian missionary work which is helping India to raise its standard of living," Rev. Rieber said.

The missionary stated that Nehru is risking his immediate political future in order to make India a strong nation. Rev. Rieber stated that the Point Four program of the United States government is enabling Nehru to carry out his long range program to build up indigenous industry.

Rev. Rieber has spent six years among the Santals where he is superintendent of the mission schools. There are 100 missionaries from America and the Scandinavian countries working among the three million Santals, who constitute an aboriginal tribe. "The work among the Santals is the most fruitful mission field in the world today," he said.

Loddigs Will Be Speaker For Spiritual Emphasis Week

Reverend H. G. Loddigs of Los Angeles, Calif., has been chosen as the speaker on the campus for Spiritual Emphasis Week, February 7-12. Sunday marks the opening date of this annual affair and Rev. Loddigs is planning to speak daily in chapel and at evening meetings. He will be available for student counselling during the day.

"Spiritual Emphasis Week is the highlight of the spiritual experiences during the year 1953-54. The speaker comes with high recommendation and unusual and great spiritual background in education, foreign missions, and has been a prisoner of war under the Japanese in World War II," stated Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of PLC. He went on to urge the faculty, staff, and student body to be prayerfully concerned that this week may become a mountain top experience at Pacific Lutheran.

In 1940, after graduation from Luther Theological Seminary and ordination into the Evangelical Lutheran church, Rev. Loddigs and his wife started for China as missionaries. Due to the outbreak of World War II he spent some time on the Philippine Islands until the doors of China opened. He was interned by the Japanese for 37 months, rescued and returned to America and studied at Princeton Seminary.

During the fall of 1946, he was sent as Station Master to the field, Junan, in China. He was taken by Communists and forced to hide out five days in an occupied city. Rev. Loddigs relates his escape in this manner, "We then sieged a God-given opportunity to escape from the city and proceed three days and nights through Communist held territory until we succeeded in escaping to the Nationalist held city of Chengyong."

From here they proceeded to Honkew to do work with the Chinese student refugees. Hongkong was their last stop before they returned to the United States in the spring of 1949.

Reverend Loddigs and his wife are now serving the Concordia Lutheran congregation in Los Angeles, Calif.

Just a glance at the Evergreen conference standings shows that PLC is in fourth place now. But not too many know just how much prestige the Lutherans have in the over-all picture. The Evergreen conference was formed in 1948 from the old Winco league, CPS and UBC joining the teams that are now in the Evergreen loop to make up this league. Eastern Washington has been the champ three years out of five in regular conference play. Although they haven't been first, the Lutes never finished below fourth, placing second three times and third and fourth once each. In 1951 the PLC team, composed of Gene Lundgaard, Burt Wells, Dwane Berentson, Jerry Hefty and Glen Huffman, won the right to play in the national tournament at Kansas City. They were eliminated by Hastings College in the first round.

So that you will know hen records are being broken, the conference marks as they now stand are posted herewith:

Most points for one game: 45 points, Jim Doherty, Whitworth, 1952; most points by PLC player in one game: 38, Gene Lundgaard, 1951 (Harry McLaughlin, 34 points, 1948); Conference season scoring record: 257 in 14 games by Hal Jones, Central; Most free throws in one game: 15 out of 18 by Gene Lundgaard, PLC, 1951; Most points by PLC player in one season: 508 points in 28 games by Gene Lundgaard, 1951, (McLaughlin, 502 in 32 games); Longest winning streak: Eastern Washington, 23 games, 1950-51; Highest scoring game: Whitworth 101, Western Washington 65; Lowest scoring game: PLC 41, Central Washington 26, 1951.

Did you know that Whitworth's center, Phil Jordan, is 1 foot, 2 inches taller than Russ Wilkerson of CPS . . . that Whitworth college ranks third nationally in team defense among small colleges (PLC, 14th).

Rumor has it that "sleepy" Bob Marvonek by mistake took a medicine ball instead of a basketball on the Spokane trip. Coaches seem to come and go in the sport world, but not Leo S. Nicholson and "Red" Reese. Nicholson has coached Central teams for 25 years and "Red" Reese has served as athletic director at Eastern Washington 23 years.

We must admire the spirit of the CPS rooting section. One Logger fan was so overwhelmed with school patriotism he felt compelled to come out of the stands and lead the Puget Sounders in group yells.

Lutes Win In Central Basket Tilt

An air tight defense paid off for Pacific Lutheran College Friday night as the Gladiators trimmed Central Washington 69-50.

The loss was the first in conference action for the Wildcats who now own a 2-1 league record. The win left the Lutes with a 2-2 record in conference play.

The Lutes left no doubt as to the outcome from the very beginning as they soared to a 15-7 quarter lead. The Lutes continued to pour in the points and in the meantime Central was allowed but six buckets in three quarters, for 25 points. In the fourth the Wildcats were able to double their score as the PLC defense slacked off. Rarely was the Central team allowed a good shot and shots they were getting couldn't seem to hit the net. Central hit 15 goals in 69 tries for a frigid .219%. On the other hand, the sharp-shooting Lutes bucketed 22 out of 54 shots for a nifty .407%.

Phil Nordquist, top rebound getter for PLC to date, displayed some unexpected offensive powers to lead the Lute scoring with 18 points. Phil used his 6'4" to good advantage especially under the Lute backboards, and many scrambles for the ball ended in tpi-ins for the rangy forward.

Garnet Lund and Bob Ross contributed 16 and 13 points, respectively, for the Lute cause. Together with Nordquist the trio made it mighty rough for the central quint to haul in a rebound.

Don Heacox, junior from Auburn, led the Wildcat attack with 12 pints, all on field goals.

The Harshmen now take a break for final exams and do not return to action until January 29 when they meet these same Wildcats at Ellensburg. Don't figure a pushover. The Cats are hard to handle on their own floor.

Clover Creek won its first second half game by toppling the South Barracks five, 52-49. Don Hefty was the big man in the win by scoring 18 points. Don Gaarder and Ron Knutzen led the South with 16 and 13 counters, respectively. The upset did not affect the University league standings, however, since South Barracks held onto second place and Clover Creek remained in fourth.

Alpha Sigma Lambda To Sponsor Speaker

Alpha Sigma Lambda, the college business club, will sponsor speaker Roderick Olzendam on Thursday, February 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the upper Student Union building. The topic for his speech will be "What Does the Business Man Expect of College Graduates?"

The Alpha Sigma Lambda president, Donald Hefty, said "This is a subject that is pertinent to any student, whether he is in the business field or not, since everyone comes in contact with business at some time or another."

Mister Olzendam, a graduate of the University of Vermont, is well qualified to speak on this subject because of his past and present connections. He is an industrial consultant to the League of Nations, director of public and industrial relations for the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company, president of the Live and Let Live Association of Washington, and originator of the "Keep Washington Green" campaign and the tree farm plan.

College Men! Fly with the Finest in the Air Force

QUALIFIED APPLICANTS WIN WINGS
AS AIR FORCE LIEUTENANTS,
EARN OVER $5,000 A YEAR!

1. Pilot training begins at Lackland Air Force Base, where Aviation Cadets get 3 months of officer indoctrination.

2. It's a hard grind, but Cadets also find time to relax.

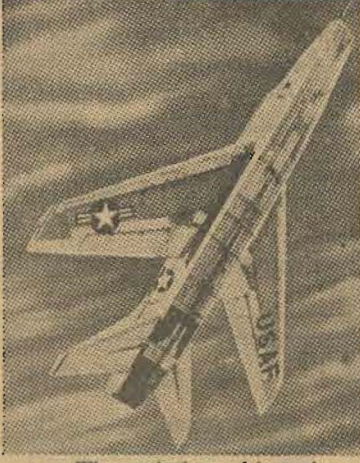

3. In primary training the Cadet flies his first planes, a Piper Cub, and this T-6. Later he will fly the more advanced T-28.

4. After flying conventional planes, he moves on to jets... going up with an instructor in this T-33 trainer.

5. He wins his wings as an Air Force officer, earning over $5,000 a year.

6. Then winds up his training with the latest and fastest planes in the air.

7. He's tested those silver wings . . . And won the respect and admiration that go to every jet pilot in the United States Air Force! From now on he'll rule the skies in an Air Force jet.

How to qualify for Pilot Training as an Aviation Cadet!

To qualify, you must be at least a high school graduate. However, you will be of more value to the Air Force if you stay in college, graduate, and then volunteer for training. In addition, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26 1/2, and in top physical condition. If you think you are eligible, here's what you do: Take your high school diploma or certificate of graduation together with a copy of your birth certificate down to your nearest Air Force base or recruiting station. Fill out the application they give you. If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet Training Class.
