

Long Discusses Early Lutherans

Speaks on History of Lutheran Church, Lutheran Settlements; Former Classmate of Pflueger

Dr. Ralph H. Long, of New York, executive director of the National Lutheran Council, spoke to the faculty and students of Pacific Lutheran College on Tuesday, February 9. Dr. Long is in the West giving a series of lectures on inner mission work.

In his talk on the history of the Lutheran Church in America Dr. Long said that the church in this country is over 300 years old. A band of Danish Lutherans landed at Churchhill, on the Hudson Bay, in 1619. They brought with them a pastor, and on Christmas Day, 1619, they held their first service.

The first Lutheran settlement, a Swedish town on the Delaware River, organized the original Lutheran congregation in this country in 1638 with Rev. John Campanius as pastor. This pastor translated Luther's catechism into the language of the Delaware Indians in 1646 and also did missionary work among the Indians.

The first Lutheran Church established in New York City in 1648 is still in existence. The Salzbergers, who settled in Georgia in 1734, founded the first Lutheran orphanage. The Muehlenbergs, who came over in 1742, organized the first Lutheran synod in 1748.

At the present time there are in the Lutheran Church about twelve thousand pastors, five million baptized members, and three million confirmed members. The Church has 197 educational institutions, of which 33 are seminaries, 34 are colleges, 30 are junior colleges, and 100 are academies. About thirty-four thousand students attend these schools.

The Lutheran Church stresses education—education toward Christ. The young people of today are expected to carry on the Church of tomorrow. Dr. Long said that we need not fear the future as long as people are willing to sacrifice for Christ.

Dr. Long, who was a classmate of Prof. Pflueger in college and seminary days, brought greetings from the National Lutheran Council, and will take greetings from the College back to the Council.

Miss Simonson Elected Mission Society Head

Hulda Simonson was elected president of the Mission Society at its last regular meeting of the semester on Thursday evening, January 28. Other officers elected were: secretary, Agnes Berge; treasurer, Walter Young.

Margaret Porath sang a solo, accompanied by Grace Holte. John Hopp, retiring president, read a report from the Sudan Missions.

Reid Replaces Bonstead As Commercial Teacher

Mr. Keith Reid, of Tacoma, is a new member of the Pacific Lutheran faculty. He is teaching the classes of Mrs. Olive Bonstead who resigned her position last month after having taught here for two years. Mr. Reid has charge of the typing and shorthand classes. He graduated from the College of Puget Sound in 1930.

Mr. Reid is the brother of Robert and Donald Reid, students at the College.

Two Hundred Sixty Enrolled at College

Two hundred sixty students are enrolled at Pacific Lutheran College this semester. Of the eighteen new students, fourteen are in the College division and four are in the high-school department. There are twenty-three more enrolled this year than last year.

New courses offered this semester include Quantitative Chemistry, taught by Prof. Ramstad, and Ear Training and Sight Reading, taught by Prof. Edwards.

Prof. Hong
Who, as a former principle, will speak for P. L. A. at the Alumni Banquet.

Reverend J. P. Pflueger Discusses Theme "Ye Are the Salt of the Earth; Ye Are the Light of the World."

On Sunday, January 31, Professor J. O. Edwards presented the Pacific Lutheran College Choir in a concert at the First Norwegian Lutheran Church in Tacoma. Professor Edwards has been director of the choir at that church, but has resigned so that he may take up duties as choir director for the Trinity Lutheran Church in Parkland.

Reverend J. O. Edwards read a portion of Scripture, after which the "Choir of the West" sang "Gladsome Radiance," "O Praise Ye," and "Bless The Lord." "Alleluiah" was presented as a soprano solo by Anna Mikkelsen, accompanied by Ruth Howard.

As its second group the choir sang "Agnus Dei," "Glory Be To God," and "In Heaven Above," with a baritone solo by Harold Berntsen.

Reverend J. P. Pflueger gave a discussion on the subject: "Ye are the salt of the earth; ye are the light of the world."

The Choir concluded with "Beautiful Savior," sung by special request, "O Sacred Head," "Three Kings," and "Gospold Fomull."

After the concert the Choir and friends were served refreshments.

Drama Club Presents Three One-Act Plays

Repeated For Parkland P.-T. A.; Well-Given Comedies

by Shirley Hecht
The three one-act plays presented Friday, January 29, were a big success, not financially, but dramatically. "Sauce For The Goats," given by the Tri D's, was an old-fashioned comedy with modern fixtures, affording much amusement.

The Pepper Players presented the "Silver Gleam," which was tinged with pathos, but had its laughable points. "It Isn't Being Done," a comedy of the poor rich, given by the Masks and Daggers, was also very good.

This group of plays was, without a doubt, the most entertaining and well prepared of any group yet presented, and the Drama Club ought to be congratulated on its fine work and improvement. At this rate we have a right to expect some excellent performances before the end of the school year.

These plays were repeated on Friday, February 5, for the benefit of the Parkland Parent-Teachers Association.

Drama Club Elects New Officers for Semester

Holden Drake was elected president of the Drama Club for the spring semester at a meeting held on Monday, February 2. Other officers elected were: Helen Thrane, vice president; Carl Martin, secretary-treasurer; William Milton, advertising manager.

Group leaders for this term are: Pepper Players, Clarence Monson; Tri D's, Norman Hokenstad; Masks and Daggers, Frances Jane Levin.

HARD WORK INSURES SUCCESS

The birthday of one of America's greatest men occurs next Friday, and we would do well to reflect on the great example that this preserver of the union has set before us. As with Thomas Edison, the secret of Abraham Lincoln's success was his unbounded perseverance and ambition. It seems to be the outstanding quality of a genius never to know when he has been defeated, and in the lives of both of these great men, we see how much such stick-to-it-iveness contributed to their fame and value.

It is said of Lincoln that he memorized the entire set of books that he had at his disposal during his youth, and that he went to great trouble to secure his education. What a contrast is this to the present day trend in education, which is a continual attempt to discover ways to sugar-coat the pills of knowledge, so that they will be ingested with the very least amount of striving and labor.

We can learn from the life of almost any great man this one lesson, which can be found almost universally true in the story of any great achievement, that hard work is the only constituent that is absolutely necessary, the only ingredient in the formula of success that is indispensable.

"THE OLD CRAB FLUNKED ME"

During the past week since the examinations are over and the report cards have been issued, the same statement, "The old crab flunked me," has been heard frequently throughout the building. Students seem to forget that a grade book, like a bank, is a place to deposit that which has been earned, and can give no more that has been deposited. The value received in a transaction is determined by the amount put in.

A new semester is at hand. No one wants to be in the old-crab-flunked-me class at the conclusion of this semester; so get to work.

Prof. Ramstad

Coffee and Chemistry—either one is descriptive, but when mentioned together they can refer to only one teacher at Pacific Lutheran College—Professor A. W. Ramstad.

Graduating from St. Olaf in 1914, Professor Ramstad worked a year for the Great Northern Railroad before entering the United Lutheran Seminary. He graduated from there on May 31, 1918, was married on June 1, and on June 10, of the same year, and served as pastor of the Finny Ridge Lutheran church, in Seattle, and Our Saviour's Lutheran, in Everett, before coming to P. L. C. in 1925 as teacher, dean of men, and coach.

When he was attending St. Olaf he spent his summers working in Glacier National Park as man of all trades, and his last five summer vacations have been devoted to study at the U. of W. where he is working for his M. A. degree.

Professor Ramstad likes reading, working in his garden, and doing other odd jobs around his home, and is especially fond of drinking coffee—lots of coffee—which he takes with cream and no sugar.

Spencer Suggests Moving School

"The University might relinquish its entire school of education to Bellingham and thus give more attention to advanced study in other courses" was a suggestion recently given by Dr. M. Lyle Spencer, president of the University of Washington.

Ludvig Larson

He may carry the financial worries of P. L. C. on his shoulders, but business manager Ludvig Larson doesn't let that worry him. In fact, the only sorrow in his otherwise cheerful life is that his son Edgar just never can get on the honor roll(?)

Mr. Larson over a period of several years, acquired his knowledge at Pacific Lutheran Academy, Luther College, Luther Seminary, Dixon Business College, and the College of Puget Sound. He came to P. L. C. in 1917 as a commercial teacher, left when the school closed for the war, and returned in 1920, staying until 1924. He then went to Alaska, taking up work as business manager here in 1927.

Mr. Larson's duties keep him too busy for any hobbies. However, he does like to work with his car, to drive both it and a golf ball at a good rate of speed, to read, and to eat. He says that the greatest height he ever reached was the top of Mount Tacoma, which he climbed in 1898 with a group of P. L. C. students who were planning to play a hand election at the summit. This seems incredible, but the truth of the statement has been established.

Alumni Association Maintains Loan Fund; Many Local Clubs

The history of the Pacific Lutheran College Alumni Association dates back to February, 1921, when the alumni of Columbia College and Pacific Lutheran Academy dissolved their separate organizations to form one group. Mr. Edward Arntzen was elected president, Mr. Ludvig Larson to represent the faculty, and Mr. Harbeck, Miss Karen Rynning, Mr. Carl Brynstad and Miss Isabel Storaasli were the other members elected to form the Executive Committee. Those who have filled the office of president following Mr. Arntzen are Rev. Halidan Foss, Mr. Sivert Wedeberg, Mr. Conrad Gaard, and Miss Marjha Hjerstad.

Present Board

The present board consists of Irene Dahl, president; Alvar Beck, vice-president; Solveig Rynning, corresponding secretary; Ruth Pedersen, recording secretary; Edwin Tingelstad, treasurer; Philip E. Hauge, faculty representative; and four other members, Ingeborg Bolstad, Martha Hjerstad, George Lane, and Alfred Anderson.

Student Loan Fund

In 1930 it was decided to make as the project of the Alumni Association the development and maintaining of a Student Loan Fund. The money was to be collected by annual dues, life memberships, and money sent in by local P. L. C. Clubs. So far one hundred and fifty dollars has been set aside from the general fund for loans. Four loans have been granted during the past year, and one of these has already been repaid.

Life Memberships

After organizing the P. L. C. Alumni Association in 1921, a drive was made for life memberships, at five dollars each. The following subscribed: O. A. Tingelstad, Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad, Ludvig Larson, Fred Lee, M. H. Furde, H. L. J. Dahl, Mrs. A. J. Demers, Erling Johnson, Erling Strand, Ida Grellbrok, Lydia Grellbrok, Chas. Deining, Mrs. J. U. Xavier, Mrs. Andrew Newton, Andrew Houg, Clara Christensen, Edward J. Arntzen, Edw. Hoighan, O. J. Stuen, Karen Rynning, Edwin Anderson, Grace Gaard, Carl Rynstad, Martin Norberg, Solveig Rynning, Emma Rynning, Lillian H. Larsen, Mrs. O. J. Ordal, Mrs. Henry C. LaVille, Conrad Gaard, Halidan Foss, Mrs. H. Rogen, I. J. Erickson, I. A. Opstad, William Vleg, Frank W. Peterson, E. Lovgren, Mrs. August Buschmann, August Buschman, Edwin Tingelstad, Mrs. Edwin Tingelstad, Arnt Oyen, Floyd Sather, Ellilian Aarvig, Mabel Iverson, Mrs. L. Rasmussen, Mrs. Ray Meyera, Henry Kiel, Sivert M. Wedeberg, and Rev. Carl Foss.

Local Clubs Do Good Work
In 1929 the life membership fee was raised from five to ten dollars, and the annual dues were set at one dollar. Since this time no special attempt has been made to collect either life memberships or annual dues outside of work done by the local clubs, but during the coming year efforts will be made for work along these lines. The alumni mailing lists will be brought up to date, and the activities of the local clubs will be encouraged. Two local clubs which have done especially good work during the past year are the Skagit County group, headed by Hanna Anderson, and the Seattle-Kent group, under Miss Ingeborg Bolstad. Miss Victoria Rasmussen and Mr. Laurence Hauge have since succeeded these two leaders in the office of president.

The work of the Alumni Association could be carried on much more easily and effectively if there were some medium through which all former students could be reached regularly. For this reason subscriptions to the Morning Mast are encouraged by the Alumni officers.

Keep That College Figure Send Flowery Valentines

Next Sunday is February 14th, popularly known as St. Valentine's Day. Therefore, let us all send valentines. Here is a chance too often overlooked by these college students; it is really surprising what miracles these small bits of lace and paper can perform.

Did you remember way back when you were in the fourth grade, and that big box trimmed with red tissue paper was opened? Remember the big flowery affair you received, bearing no name, only the thrilling verse:

"I love you truly, you are so sweet,
"I lay my heart at your pretty feet."

Remember how certain you were that the sender was the handsome boy with the curly hair? And then, do you recall your emotions when you discovered that the donor was the class dumb-bell, who was two inches shorter than you?

And boys, do you recollect the time when you drew the name of your pet enemy, and had to send him a valentine? Can't you still see the couple one you purchased for him, and the look on his face when he opened it? Such minor details as the teacher's reaction to the whole affair, and the many nights you stayed after school are probably merrily blurred in your memory.

But have we grown too old for such childish affairs? No, never. Has the family been backward about that check? Does a certain professor never give you anything above D? Does your best girl spend too much time in the company of that big basketball star? Come, come these difficulties by a well-placed valentine. (The use of combs for such occasions is not advised by the writer.) Recapture your lost childhood; avoid that future shadow, that tired feeling, and pink toothbrush; don't be a wallflower; keep kissable; knock out old man depression—SEND A VALENTINE!

Chapel Gleanings

By Agnes Berge

It has remained for God Himself to tell us what he is and who He is. His name is called the Word of God. God is love. How can God love those who do not love Him?

Our holy religion gives us a perfect view of life.

He is wearing all the crowns now. It is necessary for us to go to chapel and to worship on Sundays in order to be uplifted from the things of this world to the beautiful things of heaven.

Without Christ what would life be?

Weakened P. L. C. Men Defeat Albany

Olson Shakes as Score Nears to 25-23; Team Sports to Regain Big Lead; Final Score 40-26

Although handicapped by the loss of two regulars who were injured in an automobile accident, the Gladiators played aggressive basketball to beat the Albany College team by a score of 40-26 on the Albany court.

With only 6 of the 8 players in suit, and two regulars out of the lineup, the prospects for a victory were minus the silver lining. However, the team seemed to play inspired basketball and ran Albany completely off their feet in the first few minutes of play. Fadness started the scoring by shooting a basket from the corner. Poffenroth scored four points by long shots, and Carlson, center, had little difficulty in finding the hoop and accounted for six points before Albany got started.

McClain Drubbed Well
After converting a free throw which made the score 12-1, Albany began to score, mainly through the efforts of McClain, forward, who managed to dribble around and under the Gladiator defense to score three baskets in a row. From then on until the end of the first half, both teams fought on fairly even terms. The half ended with the Gladiators leading 21-13.

The first part of the second half found Coach Olson's team gradually losing its lead until at one time Albany pulled up to within two points of the Gladiators, making the score 25-23. With three personal fouls each on Fadness and Levinson, and only one substitute on the bench, Coach Olson found it extremely difficult to keep composed. But his already over-taxed nerves were eased somewhat when his team put on a spurt which gave them seven points, at the same time, holding the opponents to one free throw.

Stalling Is Effective
With eight minutes left to play, the Gladiators began "stalling" which proved very effective. Hauke, guard, was substituted for Levinson, who was put out of the game on fouls. The stalling style pulled the Albany players out of position and enabled the Gladiators to break through defense consistently.

Carlson and Fadness led the victors in scoring with 15 and 13 points respectively, while McClain and G. Buchanan scored 7 points apiece for the losers.

Girls Lose to Sumner

Rough, Tumble Game; Sailor, Hilmo High; Score 14-17

In a rough and tumble battle from opening to closing whistle the College girls lost, a basket mix to the Sumner High School sextet by a score of 14-17 on the home floor Saturday night.

Earlier in the year the Collegians had traveled to Sumner to take the measure of the Valley girls in a hard fought game on their home floor, but were unable to repeat the feat on the College courts.

Hilmo sank a basket with the opening whistle to start the action which was fast and furious but consisted of very little shooting by either team. At the half the local girls were trailing the visitors by one point, 7-6.

The entire last half was one mad scramble for the ball with two very determined teams trying to get or hold the lead. At one time the Collegians were in front but were unable to drop the anchor on Miss Sailor, Sumner forward, who managed to sail in close enough for 11 counters and high game honors. Hilmo potted the basket for 7 counters and second place honors.

Basketball Squad Has Bad Accident on Oregon Trip

Coach Olson and Four Members of Party in Collision

On January 27 Coach Clifford Olson and four members of the Pacific Lutheran College basketball team were in an automobile accident near Monitor, Oregon. A car driven by J. E. Bronkey, of Mt. Angel, Oregon, hit Mr. Olson's car head-on.

"Ditch" Moe received a severe blow on the head, which later caused him to suffer from a stiff neck. "Brock" Milton and Coach Olson received cuts in the face. "Bob" Levinson and "Red" Carlson were uninjured. Mr. Bronkey was seriously injured, but is recovering.

The boys were on their way to visit Rev. Rogen at Monitor before going on to Albany to play a basketball game when the accident occurred. The injured players were left at the Rogen home while the rest of the team went on to Albany. The entire team returned to Parkland by stage, as Coach Olson's car was entirely demolished. Moe returned to the basketball floor last Thursday evening and Milton has recovered sufficiently to turn out for practice this week.

St. Olaf Choir Steps
The St. Olaf choir sang at the Minnesota Industrial Exposition at St. Paul, January 17, in the Municipal Auditorium, with a crowd of 8000 present. The choir received hearty praise for its work from many of the critics, together with Doctor Christianson, the conductor.

Five Games Slated For Gladiator Squad

To Oppose Yakima, Mt. Vernon, Aberdeen Junior College, Bellingham Normal and Alumnus

During the next two weeks the Gladiators are slated for plenty of work, with 5 games on the chart to be run off. Yakima, Mt. Vernon and the Aberdeen Junior College outfits, Bellingham and the Alumnus are the five to oppose the Lutherans.

On Thursday, February 11, Yakima will oppose the Gladiators on the home floor in their first meeting this year. Although very little is known of the strength of the Jayesses this season, Coach Olson still remembers the narrow squeak of last year in which the Gladiators came from behind in the last minutes of the game to annex the contest by a very narrow margin. All reports available seem to indicate that the Valley team is as strong as last year, and will undoubtedly give the Lutherans a battle.

Friday 12, the Lutherans will travel a bit when they meet the Mt. Vernon aggregation on the Northwest floor. A tough battle is in store for the Lutherans and with the odds slightly against the home boys, it is somewhat doubtful if the Lutherans will repeat the victory marked up in the first meeting of the season. In the first game with the Vernontites the Lutherans pulled out in the lead in the closing seconds of the game to annex the contest with a 3-point lead.

On Monday February 15, the team again travels, this time to Aberdeen, to tangle again with the Harbor Jayesses, determined to turn the tables on the charmed Aberdeen five. Against the J. C. five the Lutherans have a score to settle since they took the long count when visiting on the home floor.

In the final Collegiate game of the week, Friday February 19, the Lutherans will play hosts to the visiting Bellingham Normal squad. The Teachers took the measure of the Lutherans in their first start of the season, when McBeath ran wild, but are slated for an evening of work in their second meeting with the Olson five.

On Saturday, February 20, the Alumni teams—both boys and girls will tangle with the Lutherans five and sets in their annual reunion game. M. Jacobson leads the girls, who will come back to school for a chance against those already here, while Scott does the honors for the men.

Gladiators Bow For Aberdeen, Cheney Squads

Forces Weakened; Poffenroth Plays Last Game—High Man; Berg High for Aberdeen; Peterson, Red High in Cheney Game

A double in defeats was marked up for the Gladiators in hard fought battles against the Aberdeen Junior College five and Coach "Red" Reese's Cheney Normal quint on the home floors. Coach Cliff Olson's forces were badly weakened for the two contests—two of the regulars on the bench in the first game and four of the original five out, for the second.

In the first game against the Harborites last year's contest was re-enacted to the finest details. Throughout the nip and tuck contest first one outfit and then the other was in the lead for short periods. With but seconds to go the Lutherans came from behind to take a one point lead. Berg, Aberdeen forward, proved himself the Glad's fix a second time by gaining possession of the ball and sinking a long one that settled through the hoop with the final whistle to give his outfit the victory—25-24.

Against the Harborites Carl Poffenroth, playing his final game for the school this year, was the outstanding player for the Lutherans turning in 12 counters to tie with Berg, of the visitors, for high game honors. Carlson, playing his usual good game, and Kotts from down the line finished in a dead heat for second place honors with 6 counts.

In the second home encounter the Gladiators faced the powerful Cheney Normal five and after a hard fought battle finally took the poor end of a 31-19 score. The Lutherans were off with the opening whistle with Monson breaking free for the shot, and were defensively perfect in the first 12 minutes of the game in keeping the Teachers scoreless. Coach Olson's men came out of the initial period on the better half of a 9-8 score, after turning in a checking attack that stopped the fast passing attack of the visitors. An inspired Lutheran squad of fighters kept tied with the invaders until 7 minutes of the contest remained, when the defense of the locals cracked and the Normalites broke through for a 12 point lead before the final whistle. Peterson, of the visitors, sank some sensational shots to take high score honors with 14 points. Carlson annexed 9 pointers for second honors. Sensational playing was turned in by the guard combination of Hauke and Palo for the Lutherans, who fought desperately to stave off a defeat.
