Arthur Fiedler To Give 'Pops' Concert Here

Arthur Fiedler, conductor of the famous Boston "Pops" Orchestra for 22 years, is coming to conduct the Seattle Symphony in a concert on the evening of November 4.

Beginning at 8:15, the program will contain familiar favorite classics, hit songs, gay novelties, and popular tunes of the past three decades.

The Seattle Symphony Orchestra is now listed among the major orchestras in the country. Composed entirely of fine professional musicians, the orchestra this year celebrates its Golden Anniversary, a record few orchestras in America can match. During its 50 years, it has been under the direction of many famous men of music, including: Karl Krueger, Basil Cameron, Nikolai Sokoloff, Manuel Rosenthal and Sir Thomas Beecham. During the past three years the orchestra has been directed by a series of brilliant guest conductors who have had the highest praise for the musicianship and ability of the orchestra.

The program which Fiedler will conduct at PLC will include not only familiar favorite classics, but some of the famous trademarks of the Fiedler popular concert repertoire such as a rousing march, hit songs, gay witty novelty and popular tunes of the past three decades. These combine in a well rounded evening of music to please listeners of all ages.

Prof. Weiss, in commenting on the forthcoming concert, said, "We feel extremely fortunate in being able to bring such a great musical attraction as Arthur Fiedler and the Seattle Symphony to Tacoma and Parkland. I know that the concert will be entertaining and as an enjoyable evening as one will ever spend at a concert. The program is designed to appeal to all age groups and we are keeping prices low enough so that all can attend."

Musical Groups In Sunday Rallies

Three college musical ensembles will participate in reformation rallies Sunday.

The band and chorus will be on the program for the Tacoma area rally to be held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Memorial gymnasium.

Dr. George Aus, professor of systematic theology at Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., will give the address on the theme, "Christ the Healer of Nations."

The local rally will be under the auspices of the Tacoma Lutheran Ministerial Association. Members of the college family are invited.

Sunday evening the "Choir of the West" will sing at a Seattle Lutheran reformation rally in the Civic auditorium.

Prof. Gunnar J. Malmin, director of the choir, will also direct a massed chorus comprised of choir members from National Lutheran Council churches in the Seattle area.

Frosh Nominate 25 Candidates

Twenty-five freshmen were nominated to vie for class offices during the frosh meeting last Tuesday evening.

NIEMAN CHOSEN

Richard Nieman was selected president of the freshman class in Thursday's run-off election, it was announced last night. Other officers chosen were: Merle Hanson, vice-president; June Sather, secretary; David Steen, treasurer; and Carol Bottemiller, inter-club council representative.

Candidates were chosen for the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and representative to the inter-club council. The position of freshman class representative to the student council was not discussed. They will vote on this later.

The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for the offices of vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and inter-club representative, and the three highest candidates for class president in the primary elections will enter the final election.

Running for president are Judy Bureker, Jerry Farmer, James Jacobson, Dick Niemen, Kenny Robinson, Bob Saba, and Laverne Staugh. The candidates for vice-president are Dick Clare, Murl Hanson, Lois Sand, and Dick Sealander.

Patty Arlt, Lorraine Langland, Elisabeth Omlil, June Sather, and Janet Wigen are in the race for secretary.

Running for treasurer are Alzora Albricht, Marilyn Hefty, Ann Nielsen, and Dave Steen.

ICC representative candidates are Carol Bruce, Carol Bottemiller, Jerine Larson, Shirley Savage, and Anita Schnell.

Chapel Speakers

Dr. Edward Schramm of Columbus, Ohio, editor of "The Lutheran Standard," spoke in chapel Friday. Thursday's speaker was the Rev. M. O. Ensberg of Spokane, father of Mary and David Ensberg.

DR. ERNEST B. STEEN

Steen Leaves PLC Church After 7 Years

Terminating over seven years as minister of Trinity Lutheran Church, sometimes referred to as the "college church," Dr. Ernest B. Steen will give his farewell sermon there this Sunday.

He has accepted a call to Trinity Lutheran Church in Madison, Wisconsin, where his congregation will number 3,200 members.

Dr. Steen has served college congregations for the past 15 years. "They're wonderful," he smiled, "a very stimulating audience to speak to."

Two of his sons, Paul and David, will remain in Parkland to complete their education at Pacific Lutheran. Paul is a senior and David is a freshman here.

Dr. Steen has three other children: Luther, a graduate of the University of Minnesota, who has just entered the army; Ruth, a Franklin Pierce junior high school student; and James, who is in the third grade.

Dr. Steen was born in Minnesota and attended four seminaries. They were Luther Seminary in St. Paul, Minnesota; Augustana Seminary in Rock Island; Princeton Seminary in New Jersey, and the Biblical Seminary in New York.

200 High School Pupils To Be Here for Congress

By John Shannon

Over two hundred high school students from Washington and Northern Oregon will gather here Saturday, October 31, for the fifth annual Student Congress, held under the direction of the speech department.

The congress, sponsored by Phi Kappa Delta, is modeled after the federal government and gives students an opportunity to go through the complete process of introducing a bill and passing it through both a senate and a house of representatives.

The committees of the congress are as follows: tariffs, foreign affairs, ways and means, and appropriations.

The State of the Union address will be given by Congressman Thor Tholefson, from the Sixth District, acting as the representative of the President.

John Osburn will act as vice-president and speaker of the Senate, and John Rydgren, as speaker of the House.

Other PLC students taking part in the Congress are Edith Engel, director; Janet Carson and Tore Neilsen, assistant directors; David Ensberg, congress chaplain; Tom Swindland, secretary of the treasury; Stuart Gilbreath, secretary of the interior; and Eugene Perry, secretary of labor.

Temporary chairmen and also acting judges in the senate are as follows: tariffs, John Holum; foreign affairs, Tore Neilsen; domestic affairs, Edith Engel; and appropriations, Janet Klippen.

In the House of Representatives are Joyce Genz, tariffs; Philip Myhre, foreign affairs; Carol Brace, domestic affairs, and Joanne Schief, appropriations.

Vikings Sponsor Bowling Party

"Alle er velkommen," were the words of Phil Wigen, president of the Viking Club, as he spoke of the bowling party sponsored by the organization, scheduled for 7:30 Saturday night at the Lincoln Bowl, Tacoma.

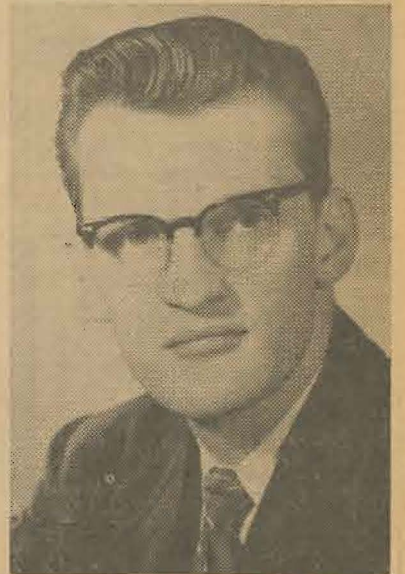

A study of the Norwegian National Anthem, under the direction of Professor Malmin, co-adviser, is to be underway soon. Various other forms of learning will be used to broaden the student's views of Scandinavian methods. All those interested are urged to join by the club.

In the future the Viking club would like to sponsor a Christmas smorgasbord party.

In case anyone is curious to the meaning of "Alle er velkommen," Phil translates, "all are welcome" to the bowling party."

Third Annual International Debate Is Tremendous Success

By Joan Kittelson

"Be it resolved: that approval should be given to the Far Eastern policy of the present American administration."

The third annual International Debate, sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta, was held in the Chapel-Music-Speech building on October 19, 1953. After entering from the right hand aisle with Janet Klippen at the head, the international debators ascended the steps of the stage and took their appointed positions. With a brief introduction from Miss Klippen as to time limit and style of the Oxford debating, the question for the evening was begun by John Rydgren, first affirmative speaker.

Mr. Rydgren's opening remarks were given over to expressing his pleasure at having such fine competition and being able to meet the English debaters at the same time. Then the actual debating began.

John defined the terms as Far East meaning the countries bounded by Russia, to Indo-China, Japan, India, China, Mongolia, Burma, Korea and the Philippines. From here, the debate was actually started.

The first affirmative pointed out that their plan would cover four

A Dream Will Soon Become a Reality

The peace and calmness around campus is soon to be ripped apart by the explosive crashes of falling trees, the staccato shriek of drills, and all the other disturbing and distracting sounds of construction . . . but it is doubtful if very many people will mind.

All this audible commotion will be sweet music to the ears of loyal Lutes, for it represents progress. It will be the erection of the college's two newest buildings, a women's and a men's dormitory.

These buildings were many years in the dreaming and the planning and it still will be a while before they will be completely paid for and ours, but the important thing to remember is that they are being built. They are becoming a reality.

So don't scowl or become annoyed when the great clamor begins, as it soon will. Just remember that it means a great deal to many people—and show it the respect it deserves.

Ron and Fun Club

By Ron Jonsson

Even though many people deem it impossible, I've been thinking. I'm always thinking about something; when you see me on campus with that faraway look in my eyes, I'm thinking about a juicy steak or a tall glass of cola. I know these thoughts aren't allowed on campus, but I think about them anyway. I also think about the punishment if I were to smoke in class. This appeals to me; I don't know why.

I've also discovered that the female sex of this world are a strange combination of stupidity and no brains. They are always wondering why they aren't asked out; they should realize that it is not the policy to run around with a gang of females if they want to impress a guy. Take heed, gals!

Also been thinking about the many gripes that always arise on campus during the course of a school year. Everything "frowned upon" was stated as such in the catalog, and if you didn't like what you read, you didn't have to enroll here. It's a pretty good school and it's highly thought of throughout the Pacific Northwest. Let's keep it a good institution.

I see the same crowd is supporting the coffee shop; they were there last year, too. Let's cease this policy of non-support and show the administration that we do appreciate the coffee shop. It's a concession to us, you know.

If everyone in England has such an accent as displayed here Monday night, I'm sure it would be useless for me to travel over there. I wouldn't understand directions, and I'd probably end up behind the Iron Curtain, lost, confused, and hopelessly trapped.

This reminds me of the superlative speaker we had the good fortune to hear last week. Bob Munger is indeed a young man with a great mission and a great future. If any of you readers want the address of his organization to obtain some literature on the protection against Communism, please ask this writer when you see him on campus.

The cat we have residing in the Mast office was referred to last week as Clyde. We wish to apologize for making such a gross error. As of now, the feline will be named "Clyde Hur."

French Club Elects Students to Offices

At the meeting of the French Club, held last week, the following officers were elected: president, Vernon Hanson; secretary-treasurer, Mary Lou McDonald; social chairman, Jo Hanssen; and inter-club council representative, Jo Bon-Durant.

The next meeting of the French Club will be held Thursday, October 29, at seven p.m. in the Chapel-Music-Speech building.

Americans Should Strive To Protect Their Freedom

"If each American worked half as hard for his ideals as the Communist does for his, there would be no Russian problem in the United States."

These were the words of Robert Munger, national director of Students for America, as he spoke in chapel last Monday morning on "Communism on American Campuses."

The tall, young leader pointed out that a passive attitude of "It can't happen to us" is no defense against Communism.

"The Communist party boasts," he revealed, "that most of the people who join them are between the ages of 18 and 23."

He said that the students who go in for Communism are usually the social misfits. They blame their social failings on the American philosophy or system.

"Sure, most of them grow out of it," he said, "but there are always some who don't, and they're the threat to our country."

The methods of bringing students to Communism are many, he commented. The Red groups have square dances, peace rallies, picnics, and other social activities that will appeal to young people.

Cautioning not to go to an extreme anti-Communist state of mind, Munger said:

"We can't fight Communism by glittering generalities. We can't say all Communists are bad and we are good, and we can't call everything that we don't like Communistic."

He warned against "common hysteria" and suggested instead that it be replaced by a calm, clear knowledge of the problem and its solution.

"The purpose of the Students for America, whom I represent, is to dedicate themselves to uphold the principles of free enterprise which have made America the great country it is."

In less than one year this organization obtained 1,800 members from 65 American campuses.

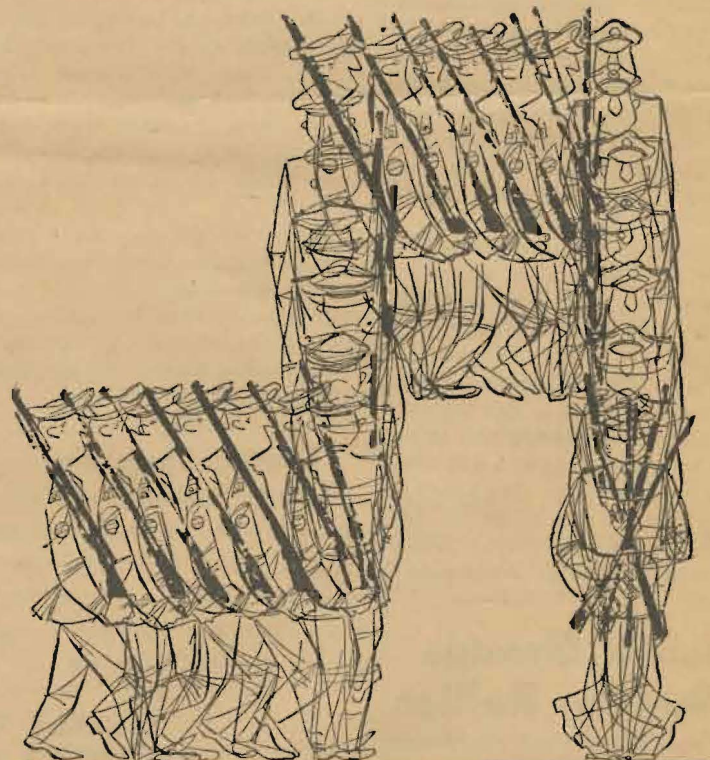

Munger is a graduate of the University of Southern California, where he studied law on a special Americanization scholarship, which was awarded to him in recognition of his leadership in the fight against Communism.

Last summer he made a nationwide speaking tour and has been on the Mutual News Reel many times.

He is also a regular participant in the Radio World Opinion Forum and at one time he was the Pacific coast junior college debate champion.

In 1946 he was chosen "Teen of the Nation."

He was awarded the James Kevin McGuinness Memorial Award in 1952 by the Motion Picture Alliance as the college student in the United States who has done the most against Communism.

Aust States Rooters To Be Out in Force

A large contingent of rooters will follow the Lutes to Forest Grove, Oregon, Saturday night for the game with Pacific University.

Spencer Aust, head cheerleader, said, "All the cheer leaders are going down, and from what we hear there will be more PLC rooters on hand than at any out of town game this season."

PLC-Badger gridiron games are always spectator fares. The teams throw caution to the wind in this annual non-conference tilt. Last fall Coach Paul Stagg's eleven took the Lutherans, 33 to 25.

Injuries to key ball players has forced Coach Harshman to make some changes in his lineup for Saturday. Big Bill Borden has missed workouts this week because of a wrenched knee. Phil Nordquist has been moved end to tackle. To fill the end spot Harsh has moved Brian Price from fullback. Jack Ellingson is also being tried for that spot. Little 5 foot, 5 inch Frank Karwoski, who did a bang up job at defensive end against Eastern, may play there some against the Badgers.

The Lute backfield will probably have Ron Billings ("Mr. Everything") in the quarterback spot. Frank Lancaster and Karwoski at the halves, and Dick Larson at full.

The Eastern game proved costly when Don Rose sprained an ankle. The injury will keep the freshman back out for about three weeks. Other backs who have been sidelined include Jerry Benson (water on the knee), and Howard Hanson (wrenched back).

Some of the junior varsity players who have not suited up for a game this fall because of the conference rule limiting player rosters, will make the trip to Pacific U. These include Jim Schackle, Dale Storaasli, Jerry Berg, Jim Capelli, Larry Shoberg and Dick Brown.

Clover Creek In Intramural Win

Clover Creek overcame the South Barracks with a last minute TD to win 24-8. For the winners Hoover scored twice while Siek and Jacobson each added one. Joe Trabucco scored one and passed for two more in a losing effort for the Southerners.

Eastern swamped the N.W. Barracks 48-12. Dick Clare threw two scoring passes for the Barracks. Iver Eliason and Pete Lavaas each tossed for three TD's.

Western conquered Eastern, 18-6, as Bob Lester caught two passes for the winners. Luvaas connected with a fine fink for Eastern's only tally.

Tacoma "waxed" Clover Creek 20-6 with Don Koessler scoring twice, throwing for one score and adding a safety. Seppala scored on a pass from Ted Siek.

South Barracks also lost to Tacoma, 48-18, due to Don Koessler's spreading the scoring around while throwing for eight touchdowns to seven different players. Jiggs Knutson scored twice for the Barracks boys.

Clover Creek lost a close one to Eastern, 6-0. The only score came on a pass to Pete Luvaas.

Western walked over Clover Creek 18-6 in the final game of the first round in the tournament. Dwaine Brandy caught one touchdown pass from Bob Lester and threw another to Clyde Genz as Bob Lester ran the opening kickoff of the second half for a score. Gilbreath scored for the Creek crew.

N.W. Barracks forfeited to Tacoma and South Barracks thus is dropped from the league. This narrows it down to five teams.

Mid-season standings show Tacoma on top with Western right on their backs.

	Won	Lost

Western .....	4	1
Eastern .....	3	2
Clover Creek .....	3	3

Eastern Wins Over Lutes By One Point

The PLC Gladiators lost their second league game last weekend by a close score of 14 to 13. This is also the second time the Lutes have lost by a one-point margin; the other being to Western by a score of 8-7.

As the score would indicate, the game was hard fought, and both teams were a threat until the final gun had sounded. The Lutes were ahead for the biggest part of the game, leading at the half-time by a score of 13 to 8. In the third quarter the Lutes had a chance to score again, when Frank Karwoski got away on a 57-yard romp. Lancaster picked up 5 yards to set the ball on the Eastern 3-yard line when a fumble kept them from the needed 6 points.

A fourth quarter score by the Savages put them in the lead 14 to 13 and the game ended with the Lutes unable to make up the one-point difference.

This loss to Eastern drops the Lutes to a fifth place tie with Central. This Saturday, PLC travels to Forest Grove, Ore., for a non-league contest with the Pacific University Badgers.

Player of the Week

Once again a lineman has been chosen as Player of the Week. This time he is the right guard and co-captain, Doug McGrath.

"McGrew," as he is called by his teammates, comes to PLC from the neighboring city of Puyallup. He stands 5' 10" and weighs a strapping 182. He played some ball for the WSC Cougars before coming to the home of the Lutes. Last year Doug saw action with the Lutes and was elected co-captain at the end of season.

This year Doug is another of Harshman's ironmen, only getting a couple of short breaks to catch his breath. He plays the guard position both on defense and offense and he does an excellent job with both. Doug plays a rough, tough and smart brand of football. At the next game keep your eyes on him; you can't miss him.

I think that I shall never see
An alarm that can awaken me.
One that's changing, oh, so sweet,
To get me up and on my feet.
An alarm that doesn't always keep
Gently soothing me back to sleep.
But if my alarms were perfect, I'd curse my fate;
I'd have no excuse for being late.

News from the Bench

By Ron Johnson

Pacific Lutheran has had an "almost" team so far this year. Because of two blocked punts, the Parklanders are in sixth place instead of being tied for first with Whitworth. The blocked kicks, one at Western Washington and the other at Eastern Washington, resulted in two-point safeties for those teams because the ball was last touched by them in the end zone. However, in the Homecoming tussle with Central, Borden's blocked kick saved PLC from being tied in the waning moments of the game.

Defensive play, especially desperate goal line stands, has highlighted the Lutes' efforts. At Western the Gladiators held at the 10 and 13 yard lines; Central was halted at the 9 and 4; Eastern fizzled several times inside PLC's 20 yard line. The line from Ball to Nordquist, as well as the secondary, deserve more than a pat on the back for their spirited play when they had their backs against the goal. "Red" Billings' deadly tackles from the right half position stand out also.

Frank Karwoski, veteran back, came through when Harshman needed him in the Eastern game. The sturdy 155-pounder played end on defense; the injury of Borden forcing this move. Normally, a coach wouldn't put a man in that position who didn't weigh more than 185 pounds. Don Rose, a frosh from Eatonville, was cited for a fine performance against the Savages of Eastern.

In games so far, the opponents have not found the secondary to be very vulnerable to passes. PLC ranks third lowest in points scored against them.

Several injuries have made the manpower shortage acute. The loss of Bob McAdams hurt the Lutes' chances; Bill Borden re-injured his knee, Don Morris injured his ribs, and oDn Rose has a badly sprained ankle.

By now, Whitworth is considered to be the team to beat. The Pirates high-powered offense has rolled up 77 points to their opponents' 16. When Whitworth comes here in two weeks, we know the coach and team will be out to win.

This Saturday, PLC plays Pacific University at Forest Grove, Ore.

Now for those deadly predictions! For the first time in many moons, I picked the winners. Of course, I only considered three games; maybe that had something to do with my good fortune.

UW 14, Oregon 6; I had the Huskies in front, 32-13. CPS 40, UBC 26; the Canucks had a stronger offense than I figured. I bet on CPS, 27-7. Eastern 14, PLC 13. This is one I hated to lose.

Hobart won their Homecoming game against Kenyon, 61-0. They really poured on the power. Next week they take on undefeated Union and should have a rough battle. Nevertheless, they will live up to their nickname of Statesmen, and score a decisive victory. THEY'LL COME THROUGH FOR GOOD OLD ALMA MATER!!

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bibler

"I'll Continue Now, If There Are No Further Irrelevant Questions"

Englishmen Say Pacific Lutheran Campus Is One of Friendliest

From most testimonies of foreign and visiting students, PLC has one of the friendliest campuses on two continents. At least this appears to be the case as far as Patrick Mayhew and John Peters, Oxford debaters who just left our campus, are concerned.

"There is a wonderful friendliness around this campus in regard to strangers," they said. They were also impressed by the student body as a whole.

When asked how the trip affected them, Mr. Peters said that one should definitely travel first class if he has to take such a lengthy trip as they did by water. They were traveling "tourist" on the Queen Mary and "we couldn't use the swimming pool."

The question of Monday's debate, "Resolved: That approval should be given to the Far Eastern policy of the present American administration," is only one of six topics the Oxford team must be familiar with. PLC was their first stop in some 65 colleges and universities, some of which are San Jose State, Stanford, University of California, and Linfield College. From here, they went down the coast to California, New Mexico, and New Orleans. By next Christmas they will leave New York state for home.

"We prefer debating at smaller colleges and PLC has been the stiffest debate that we have encountered," they said. "But we're not accustomed to the American 'Oxford' style of debate."

While in Parkland, they stayed with Professor Knorr for the two days.

Council Announces Chapel Programs

At a meeting of the I.C.C., held this week, the complete Chapel program was announced and a few changes were made on the original schedule. The programs are now planned as follows:

Oct. 27, A.W.S.; Nov. 3, Business meeting; Nov. 10, Lettermen; Nov. 17, Lutheran Student Association; Nov. 24, Viking Club; Dec. 1, Blue Key; Dec. 8, Business meeting; Dec. 15, Junior class; Jan. 5, Pi Kappa Delta; Jan. 12, Spurs; Jan. 19, Clover Creek; and a business meeting has been scheduled for an. 26.

It was also brought up that some clubs do not have faculty advisers and it was requested that they elect one immediately.

Glen Johnson, president, told the representatives about a Campus Chest Fund to be held a little later for the purpose of raising money for a group of charitable organizations. He urged different clubs to try to raise money for this drive also.

It was announced at this time that the annual Christmas decorating of the campus will take place on December 7.

Glen Johnson urged all clubs to schedule activities early so they can be sure of getting the desired date. Chapel program dates are open for next semester and the clubs should plan on scheduling times then if they have not had a chapel program.

Lutherans Plan Annual Retreat in November

Lutheran Students Association's regional retreat is planned for the weekend of November 20, 21 and 22 at Camp Lutherland, north of Tacoma, revealed Jack Hoover, vice-president of the local group, at the meeting held Sunday evening.

Dr. Steinhoff, president of the United Pacific Synod and Reverends Keith and Neil Nelson, of Seattle, are to be the principal speakers for the sessions. Bible studies and seminars consist of "Reasons for Reformation," "Lutheran Unity" and "Comparative Denominations."

All schools who have L.S.A. organizations in the states of Washington, Oregon, and Idaho are planning to attend the annual affair. Appropriate equipment for the retreat consists of sleeping equipment, camp clothes, and Sunday dress for communion.

"The cost is undecided as yet," Jack stated, "but the more people the less per person!"

THE PUPIL

Dear God, this day's assignment You have given
Is not done as well as I know it should be.
I became confused as I went along,
And I erased some parts I knew were wrong!
But . . . I only made smudges . . . and there are blots where I cried.
A few places show how hard I really tried.
I wish it were better, God . . . full of wisdom . . . and neat,
And written in courage instead of defeat.
God's answer came slowly, when He checked off my name.
He continued His writing, while I waited in shame.
Then . . . God looked up kindly . . . and laid down his pen,
Passed me another sheet and said: "Here, child, start again!"

Opinions Vary On Project

By Barbara Leif

At a recent student body meeting suggestions were brought up concerning a student project and the suggestions came in for everything from ping pong tables to bowling alleys. Realizing that there must be good reasons for these suggestions, I began some inquiring and came up with some very good comments.

Jo Ann Dahle says that a lounge would be a good idea because it would provide a more pleasant place for the various student meetings.

Darlene Haugen would like to see a reception room in which boys could pick up their dates.

Alaora Albrecht would like to have us pay for a lounge in the new dorm since they surely could use some help on financing this project.

Margaret Solum likes the idea of a lounge, but would like to see the clubs earn the necessary money.

Thea Reben says to suggest that a swimming pool is certainly setting our goal too high when we doubt if we can earn the money for a lounge. She feels that the lounges will be sufficient anyway.

Don Ebert feels that a lounge would help improve the social life on the Pacific Lutheran campus.

Gerda Neergaard does not think there is any need for another lounge, but would like to see a reception room on main floor. She is also in favor of the patio but does not think the furnishing of dorm rooms would really be a student project as everyone would not profit by it.

Esther Edlund would like to see us help furnish the new dorm lounges. She feels that this would be the most useful thing we could do as financial help will be sorely needed.

Dick Farness believes we should stick to the student lounge because it is something we need and will always have use for. He does not like the idea of a swimming pool as the majority of the present students would never get to use it because of the years needed to earn such an amount.

Jan Byberg says that Old Main is the center of all activity, so why not have a lounge here where it would be so handy for the boys to pick up their dates or just for after dinner chats.

Don French feels that the idea of having a lounge would be good since the lounges that they will have in the new dorms will not be sufficient to take care of the students' social gatherings and meetings, while, if we had a lounge in the upper Student Union building, it would take care of most of the activities.

International Debate Is Successful Affair

main areas: the United Nations' policy towards Korea; omitting Communist China because of its government; and to French Indo-China; and keeping Japan strong and India free. He further elaborated on these points.

The first negative speaker, Patrick Mayhew, accepted the terms and greeting. Then he went on to say that the present policy towards "Red" China causes undue bad relations. He pointed out that in the U. N. Council now there is one veto, one more would have no more power as set up in the law.

He pleaded for a round-table discussion of the matter before it is too late and closed with the thought that this subject has caused poor relations between the United States and Britain, but yet we still are working for the same thing.

John Osburn, second affirmative, came back with the facts that the attitude of "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em" has never been successful, i.e. the cases of Japan and Germany. All trade should be stopped between Russia and Great Britain, was his viewpoint. His main reasons against letting China in the council were because of the added prestige and power.

The last of the constructive speeches was from Mr. Peters, second negative, who pointed out that being choosy with members is unconstitutional with the U. N. charter. He also mentioned the small amount of trade actually done between Great Britain and China.

Since in rebuttals no new evidence is to be brought out, the debaters reiterated many of their arguments. Janet brought the meeting to a close with her thanks, and it was concluded with enthusiastic applause from the audience.

Miss Stone made long trips on a hoss,
But she yearned for a farmer named Moss.
It's sad to relate her unhappy fate,
For a rolling Stone gathers no Moss.

'Frank Stank' Amuses Lutes

The Chapel-Music-Speech Building has been a haven for quick-change artists within the last two weeks. Homecoming weekend was the setting for Jack Rank and his 20-second changes in "Taming of the Shrew," but this Tuesday the student body of PLC was privileged to see the performance of "Frank Stank" and his 5-second changes in "The Maiming of McGrew" or "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon."

Atmosphere for the "Maiming of McGrew" was set by John Rydgren and background music was supplied by Lauren Bloom.

The scene opened with the poor frustrated heroine, Marybelle, played by Dave Wold, who came bustling onto the stage, and gaily went about smelling the flowers. But then in her moment's gayness a sinister, swarthy, darkly clad figure came slyly into the room; the villain, played by Glen Johnson. Just when all things seemed to be lost for poor Marybelle who should come to her aid but a handsome, irresistible, dashing young man, the hero, portrayed by Bob Haycroft, who was willing to fight for his little Marybelle. He saved her from the plight of being sent out into the cold winter snow with her lovely little family.

The other members of the cast were: Sister Beliebottom, Bill Hansen; Grandpa, Dave Nesvig; Grandma, Don Tigges.

President of U.L.C.A. To Stop Here Monday

Stopping at PLC during a northern tour, will be L. H. Steinhoff, president of the Pacific Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America.

He will arrive Monday afternoon to meet with all U.L.C.A. students.
