

First May Festival In P. L. C. History Is Huge Success

Impressive Ceremonies Mark Crowning of Queen Kathryn by Student Body President; Large Crowd Present

By Thelma Daniels

For the first time in the history of the school, Pacific Lutheran College was the scene last Tuesday, May 1, of a May Festival. This affair, which was sponsored by Delta Rho Gamma, pleased everyone and many have expressed the hope it will become an annual event.

Gathered on the front lawn at 3 p. m., students and friends of the College listened to the proclamation of May Day, given by Clarence Lemming, student body president, from a beautifully decorated platform under the maple tree. To the music of the school orchestra, under the direction of Lewis G. Hunter, the eight ribbon-bearers, Norma Preus, Louise Miller, Dille Quale, Virginia, Byers, Dorothy Onheim, Louise Jackson, Pearl Homme, and Rachel Flint, descended the front steps and formed an aisle for the queen's party.

Following the ribbon-bearers came the attendants, two by two, Mary Nash and Thelma Daniels, and Novel West and Virginia Davis who advanced to the queen's throne across the lawn. As maid of honor, Evelyn Monson preceded little David Edwards, crown-bearer. Immediately following him came the queen, Kathryn Johnson, beautiful in her gown of blue satin. Larry Hauge, son of Dean, and Mrs. P. E. Hauge, was the queen's train-bearer.

The procession completed, Clarence Lemming crowned Miss Johnson Queen Kathryn, to reign over the day's festivities. The girls' quartette consisted of Ellen Bergstrom, Ane Engen, Midge Harmon, and Vivian Kambehl, sang "Welcome, Sweet Springtime." Then followed a May-pole dance by girls of the student body, with piano accompaniment by Irene Shafland. "Weave Me a Song" was sung by the boys' quartette, consisting of Robert Monson, Clarence Monson, Arnold Anderson, and Ronald Martin. Accompanied by Eline Benson and Winifred Butsch, Enid Hutson then gave a Turkish dance. To complete the program, Vivian Peterson sang "In the Garden of Tomorrow." Then followed the recessional.

In addition to the program, there were booths for confectionery, ice-cream, and candy, which were enjoyed by the guests. Dorothy Delamarter headed the committee in charge of the affair.

Grads Meet Monday; Class Members to Write Mottos

With graduation exercises in the near future, the Graduating Class met Monday noon to make further arrangements relative to their final activities. Kathryn Johnson, president, appointed a committee for Class Nite to consist of Clarence Lemming (chairman), Norman Westling, Jean-Marie Fowler, Margaret Wesson and John Stuen.

At Monday's meeting it was requested that each member of the class present a class motto at the next meeting, which will probably be held the first part of next week, according to the officers' announcement.

Choir To Take Tour South Next Week End; Honor Buck Swisher, Bus Driver, With Surprise Party

The Pacific Lutheran College a cappella choir, the "Choir of the West," under the direction of Prof. J. O. Edwards, will go on a short concert tour next Saturday and Sunday, singing at Warren and in Portland Oregon, and Longview, Washington.

Leaving Parkland Saturday at noon, the choir will go directly to Warren, where they will sing in the evening at the Bethany Lutheran Church, Rev. Arthur Pierce's charge. Sunday morning they will go to Portland where they are booked for two appearances, singing in the morning at Rev. Paul B. Randolph's church, Augustana Lutheran, and in the afternoon, 3 p. m., at a jointly sponsored concert at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. After the afternoon concert, the group will leave immediately for Longview where they will sing in the evening at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Rev. A. M. Knutzen, pastor. The group will return to Parkland the same night.

As far as is known, the same ones who accompanied the chorus on the last trip will go again, with the exception of Mr. Swisher, the bus driver, who has left his Tacoma position for a new field of endeavor.

Present Assembly Program

Pacific Lutheran College will present the program at an assembly of Puyallup High School students on Friday, May 18. Dean Hauge is arranging the numbers. Last year, a similar program was presented at the Puyallup High School by a deputation team from the college.

School Picnic Set for Lake Spanaway, May 18

Although definite plans have not been made, it is probable that the annual school picnic will be held at Lake Spanaway the afternoon of Friday, May 18.

Contrary to the usual procedure, the student body, because of lack of funds, will not furnish the dinner. They will, however, donate hot dogs and coffee. The committee at work on the affair, headed by John Van Leuven, includes Mary Nash, Georgianna McClure, and Herbert Norgaard.

Students, Grads Get Teaching Positions

Seven Alumni, Five Members of This Year's Class Sign Contracts for Next Fall

With the nearing close of this school year, several teaching contracts for next fall have already been signed. Five members of this year's class have received positions, while seven graduates have secured new schools, according to announcement of Dean Hauge.

Among those who will complete their courses this year who are scheduled to teach are Stanley Berentson, East Stanwood Grade School; John Redeem, Arlington School; Dorothy Delamarter, McCleary School; Edgar Larson, school in District 13, near Centralia; and Melba Ross, first and second grades at Glenoma school.

Arthur Silverston, who finished P. L. C. last year, will work next fall as principal of the Mountain View Grade School and will teach the upper grades there. Evelyn Olsen '31, teaching up until now at Lakebay, will instruct the lower grades at Mountain View.

Others now teaching who will change positions, are Rudolph Sanderson '29, signed for the Olympia public schools; Harold Berentson '30, Everett public schools; Ida Hinderlie '31, Woodland School; Dorothy Lehmann '32, Rainier Public School; and Cora Vista '30, Bremerton Public School.

Last L.D.R. Meeting Is This Afternoon

The last meeting of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation will be held this afternoon in the reception room in the form of a party with the faculty as guests.

Evelyn Monson has been appointed general chairman for the party and has chosen the following committees: Refreshments, Eunice Arneson (chairman), Ruth Haugland, Gertrude Stenberg and Margaret Lien; decorations, Joanna Manouss (chairman), Edna Kelsey and Dorothy Ophelm.

After the program, a brief business meeting will be held at which time the president of the group for next year will be elected. The nominating committee which consists of Jean-Marie Fowler (chairman), Anna Roness and Florence West, met Friday and nominated the following for president, Gertrude Stenberg, Rhoda Hokenstad and Valborg Norby.

Hostesses to Pep Club

At a meeting of Pep club held last Thursday evening, Miss Berdine Knutsen and Mrs. Lora B. Kreidler acted as hostesses. The program consisted of a reading by Jean-Marie Fowler. Miss Tillie Knutsen, sister of Berdine, and Miss Irene Dahl were special guests.

Board of Control Election Will Be Tuesday, May 15

Dreibelbis, Swanson, Van Leuven Running for Presidency of Associated Students; Majority Vote Wins

With the petitions having been handed in and passed upon by the administration, announcement is being made of the list of candidates who will run for Board of Control positions for next year. The election date has been set for next Tuesday, May 15, and students may vote in the Board of Control Room from 8:00 until 12:45.

Since no petition has been handed in for the position of Commissioner of Advertising, the office-holder will be determined at the opening of school next September. At this time also, an election will be held to choose the freshman class representative to the Board of Control.

In the race for president of the Associated Students are John Dreibelbis, Roland Swanson and John Van Leuven. The first two mentioned are freshmen in the liberal arts department, while Mr. Van Leuven will complete his three-year normal course next year.

A majority vote is necessary for the selection of the candidate. Installation of the new officers will probably be held in chapel at the last meeting of the Associated Students this year. The tabulation of candidates and the positions for which they are running follows:

President: John Dreibelbis, Roland Swanson, John Van Leuven.

Vice President: Thelma Daniels, Enid Hutson, Joanna Manouss.

Secretary: Eline Benson, Rhoda Hokenstad, Mary Nash.

Treasurer: Bertrum Myhre, Don Reid.

Commissioner of Athletics: Eldon Anderson.

Commissioner of Advertising: No Petitions.

Graduating Class Representative: Evelyn Irwin, Milton Nesvig.

Pocket Testament League Campaign All This Week

After the decision of the Mission Society at its last meeting to sponsor a Pocket Testament League campaign, all those who were interested in doing the work for this movement met in the reception room Monday night. In the absence of Irene Dahl who is one of the leaders, Edna Nowie conducted the meeting at which time the object and necessity of this campaign was pointed out. Literature regarding the movement and pledge cards were passed out to those who volunteered to help in this campaign.

There are eighteen students working in this school campaign which was started Tuesday and will continue the remainder of the week. A meeting for all workers will be held tonight at seven in the reception room at which reports will be given. All others interested in this movement are also invited.

Our May Day Festival

In this age of razz, jazz, and rah-rah entertainment, it is a relief to attend a program that will allow us to relax while enjoying it. Our May Day festival was of this type. It was one of those rare festivities that leave a person rested and refreshed, a beautiful ceremony for which its sponsors deserve much praise.

While watching this ceremony, we could not help thinking what a blessing it would be to our school to have more entertainment of this type, and less of the clamorous, exciting kind. It is the peaceful, the harmonious, the beautiful in life that build true men and women; not the noisy and boisterous. Until we learn this, and pay heed to it, we shall not—in spite of all our preaching—get far along the road to the citadel of character.

A Suggestion

As most college classes seem to be composed of two distinctly different types of students—those who come to class to learn, and those who come to amuse themselves—it might, for the sake of efficiency, have been a good idea to arrange these two groups in separate class rooms. The first might be instructed in the arts and sciences as before, and, at the end of the college course, receive the usual degree of Bachelor of Arts. In the second group, the students would teach the professor, draw pictures, throw paper balls at one another, and upon completion of their four-year term be honored with some such degree as Bachelor of Baledash. In this way each group would achieve its desired end without disturbing the other. There is no good reason why this plan should not work out satisfactorily. Under such a system, the knowledge-seekers would get their knowledge, the fun-seekers, their fun, and to the folks at home, two B's on the sheepskin would probably look as good as a B and some other letter. As for the college—besides having the Normal Curve shortened by two letters, making it easier to remember—the professors would be saved a number of nervous breakdowns, and the dean and the president would be able to sign the diplomas with a clear conscience.

An Encouraging Editorial

Below follows, in parts, an editorial from the Puyallup Valley Tribune of March 23. Its author is Robert Montgomery, member of the University of Washington Board of Regents, and editor of the Tribune:

"Timid adults get terribly 'het up' over 'Communism in the Schools.' They view with alarm the spread of socialist and radical ideas in our colleges and universities. The University of Washington is said to be a hotbed of communistic agitation; and the Board of Regents is challenged to declare what it is going to do about it.
"Yes, free thinking is dangerous; but suppose we try to proscribe it! If successful, national stagnation follows; if unsuccessful, violent revolution follows; and what should have been a natural evolution becomes a catastrophe. To shackle the mind of man is the blindest folly—suicide, indeed!
"Whatever else you may call it, proscription of thought is not American. Any attempt to curtail academic freedom is contrary to American tradition. We must take the risk of a free press; of free speech; of free democratic government, and . . . the freedom of the human mind to think as God provided.
"By the way, friends, where are those radical undergraduates . . . in college, years ago? What has become of the college atheist? One we know is occupying a desirable pulpit in the East. The anarchist is a grave judge, getting a bit bald and considered by his colleague, or some of them, as too reactionary for any use!
"To be sure, we might have put the anarchist in jail. And, by so doing, could we have employed any more certain method to drive him into a fine frenzy against the Constitution and all it stands for?
"In this American Republic of ours we have always given the young men liberty to blow off heat and steam. That is what safety valves are for. We don't want the boys to 'burst' on the campus, scattering the fragments all around, only to be gathered up later by 'caretakers'—who else might be at more serviceable tasks. We would provide a soap box at every point and coin of vantage where the youthful orator may spread his wings and soar into the cerulean depths above, calling upon his generation to rise and save the world! It is good exercise. It is great to hear them tangle themselves up in the exuberance of their own verbosity. Let them orate!
"There is such a thing as editors, and others, taking not only the graduates, but also themselves, too seriously.
"It is encouraging, in these times when every progressive movement among university students is stamped as dangerous, to read this editorial by a prominent university regent. It is encouraging to know that there are some who sympathize with youth, some who understand that we have ideas and ideals, and energies that seek outlets. What is all this fuss, anyway, about Russian propaganda in our colleges? We are sure there is none of it at Pacific Lutheran College, and we would not have it. We do not propose to have our thinking dictated by Moscow; neither do we propose to have it prescribed by newspaper headlines. And that isn't all. We do not propose to have it proscribed by anybody, not even by our professors. Universities exist to train their students to think for themselves; not to impose ready-made thoughts and ideas upon them. When a university falls down on this point, it is no longer a university. It is a prison."

Kampus Komments

We have in our midst a very much-traveled gentleman. During the last two weeks, he has attended church conferences and conventions in Minneapolis, Idaho, and Everett. How's that for covering territory? He is none other than our beloved president, Dr. Tingeistad. Despite the fact that he is recovering from a severe siege of illness, he places the interests of Pacific Lutheran College above that and is out daily working for our welfare.

The old kicking post trail has looked quite, deserted the last few days and all seem's forlorn and forsaken. If this rain doesn't stop pretty soon, we'll forget that spring ever did come.

Hats off to the D. R. G.'s! The May Festival which they put on last Tuesday was indeed a beautiful fe. The result of hard work and excellent planning, the festivity was a gorgeous spectacle and was very well received.

Now with all the petitions in for next year's set of officers, the most important election of the school year nears. There are a fine group of nominees, and if the students vote with a little thought, we should have a very capable and efficient Board of Control next year.

Another busy man about this school is our musician, Prof. J. O. Edwards. Besides his class and choir work here, he has pupils taking lessons in Tacoma and Seattle and is organist and choir director of Rev. Swanson's church in Seattle. He is also active in Luther League work in which he directs the district choral union.

When the Drama Club presented its last Drama Night Friday night, April 27, it closed a very successful season. This club is one of the most active in school and has gone ahead steadily this past year, adding valuable improvements several times to the club's properties.

The Pocket Testament League pledge campaign which is being held this week under the auspices of the Mission Society should be prayerfully considered by all of us. All who have not done so should join this movement and be brought into a closer relationship with our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

The P. L. C. choir has travelled more than 13,000 miles within the past five years.

Norman Jensen's father, Irene Dahl's parents, and Mrs. Xavier have taken English from Mr. Hong.

Baseball used to be a major sport at P.L.C. and aside from turning out a couple of big leaguers, this school has turned in victories over some of the best teams in the country.

The newspaper reports regarding Major's being adopted as the official P.L.C. mascot was printed by the Associated Press in newspapers as far East as New York.

"Please say your lines," quoth one member of the cast of "Goblin Goid." "Wait 'till I think of it," was the meek answer. Thus the dramatic personell of our senior play are listlessly attempting to fight off the listlessness that accompanies spring.

"Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," sang Norman Westling, vainly trying to write exam questions for his class.

"Long slips and short skirts," according to Clarence Monson were the features of the recent D.R.O. initiation. Evidently that's all Mons saw, but in addition to a few other accessories, that seems to sum it up pretty good.

"Mary, quit rolling around so much, how do you expect me to sleep with all that noise up above?" "Phelma, do you ever get tired of talking?"

And so forth and so on far into the night. That's women for you, the experts above being from a group of ten which occupied five double-deck beds in one room at the D.R.O. house party last week end. From reports, though, we learn that the affair was a huge success and that a good time was enjoyed by all.

"You ought to be proud to be the father of such a splendid family," said the principal of the boarding school to her visitor.
"What on earth—large family?" glared the father.
"Yes, indeed. Your daughter has had 11 of her brothers here, this term, to take her out. She expects another one tomorrow."

If all the teachers were laid end to end around the equator, the students would have a swell time.

Mr. Ramstad: "What is the most outstanding contribution that chemistry has given to the world?"
Eldon A.: "Blondes."

Husband and wife are driving along a lonely road. They had been in a spot. A mule brayed.
"One of your relatives?" he asked.
"Yes, by marriage," she replied.

Physician's wife: "Now my dear, you must really forget what you are going into society with me."

Her Hobby: "What have I done?"
Physician's wife: "Why, you feel the pulse of every one who extends a hand."

Minister's wife: "Wake up! There are burglars in the house."
Minister: "Well, what of it? Let them find out their mistake for themselves."

He: "Darling I lay my fortune and name at your feet."
She: "That amounts to about $12.98 altogether, doesn't it?"

"Are you planning to go to the seashore as usual?"
"Yes—I'm planning to go there as usual, but I'll probably stay home—as usual."

Rev. Svenson Tells of 'Lonely Mack' in Chapel
On last Wednesday, May 2, Rev. Ernest G. Svenson, pastor of the First Lutheran Church in Tacoma, addressed the students in chapel. Illustrating his talk with a story of Lonely Mack, a wood carver, Rev. Svenson brought out the fact that the greatest ventures of life are within us.
He spoke in appreciation of Pacific Lutheran College saying that the greatness of this school lies not in the number of students, nor in the lavishness of its equipment, but in the true Christian spirit exemplified by the students and faculty members of the school.

Charlie: "Will you love me when my hair is gray?"
Pearle: "There's no sense in letting it get gray these days."
"What on earth—large family?" glared the father.
"Yes, indeed. Your daughter has had 11 of her brothers here, this term, to take her out. She expects another one tomorrow."

A person who throws a kiss is inexcusably lazy, according to Floyd Knatzen.

C. Monson: "Heard any stories about teeth?"
Evelyn: "Yeah."
Clarence: "Well, they are false."

Columbia U. and Bellingham Beat P. L. C. in Matches

Rain and Unfamiliar Courses Hamper Lutherans in Links Matches: Normals Present Toughest Competition

The Pacific Lutheran College golf team lost another match last Saturday to the Columbia University Cliff Dwellers on the Peninsula course in Portland by a score of 1½ to 3½. The Gladiators had plenty to worry about on this course, which is much longer and more difficult than their home course. Water-soaked greens and fairways handicapped both teams and raised their scores. Ray Hinderle seemed to be the only Lutheran who knew what he was down there for, being the only Gladiator to win his match.

Rolling of Columbia was low man for the day with a 79.

Lineups:	Columbia 11½

Totals 3½	11½

On May 2, the Pacific Lutheran College golfers dropped a match to Bellingham Normal by a score of 11 to 4 on the Parkland course. Driving rain and wind made playing conditions the worst possible, and accordingly the scores mounted. The Bellingham aggregation is undoubtedly the strongest team our squad will meet, according to reports. Hickey, who plays number one man, has been Washington State junior champion, and the other members of the team are all fine golfers.

Old Jupe Pluvius must have it in for our golf squad 'cause both of their home matches have been played in driving rain. In both cases, too, our boys have taken a drubbing, to make matters worse. We hope that they get the breaks, in weather, when they play Columbia here May 18 in their next home match.

S. S.

The golf team possesses great potentialities, but for some reason which we cannot understand, they have failed to show any real stuff in match play. Confidence, however, seems to be the element which is lacking; and we believe if some of this can be injected into the boys, they'll be out winning more of their matches.

S. S.

The boys have got the stuff in them, but their match play fails to show it. Their scores on the home course range from 66 to 72, but so far in match play the medal score is 73. You golfers have got the stuff in you, let's see you bring it out and furnish your opponents a little competition—we'll even let you win a couple.

S. S.

With the ladder tournament complete and all challenging over, our tennis team is organized into a pretty good aggregation. The four who will compose the team—Myhre, Trulson, Burgoyne, and Jensen—are all good netmen and should make fair showings in competition.

S. S.

That old element, rain, disrupted the tennis schedule, too. Matches were scheduled for Friday and Saturday, but both had to be postponed. It's tough that this rain had to come around just as the boys were getting in shape, 'cause now in their meets this week they will be out of form. They're a good outfit, though, and we look for quite a few victories from them.

S. S.

In the past two weeks, the ball standings have changed considerably, with the dorm outfit taking two tussles to land in the top spot. The shack, after losing three in a row, staged a comeback and took the strong day squad in a close, hard-played game, 3 to 1. At present, it's hard to tell which team is the better aggregation, as they are all so closely matched, winning one day and losing the next; so we'll not venture any opinion until next time, when several more games will have been played.

Name Tennis Team

From the leaders of the tournament, Coach Olson has chosen his 1934 tennis squad. This is composed of Bert Myhre, Hal Trulson, Eugene Burgoyne, and Norm Jensen, ranking in the order named. This squad will play the junior colleges of the state, but no tournament has yet been outlined.

4 Golf Matches Left

Coach Olson has arranged a practice match with the Lincoln High School golf team to be played next Monday afternoon. The other matches yet to be played include:

- May 10—C. P. S., there
- May 18—Columbia, here
- May 25—Bellingham, there
- May 26—Aberdeen, here

Dorm Leading Intramural Ball League Standings

There has been some real action in the intramural baseball league and at present the Dorm aggregation is leading with three wins and two losses.

In the last two weeks of play the standings have changed considerably with teams winning one day and losing the next. The Dorm beat the Shack 18-6 and then last night the Shack turned around and beat the Dorm 10-2. The Day boys beat the Shack in a five-inning game 11-10 and then the Shack defeated the Day outfit 3-1. In the other game, the Dorm beat the Day boys 9-5 and they meet again tomorrow.

Standings to date:	Won	Lost	Pct.
Dorm	3	2	600
Day	2	2	500
Shack	2	3	400

Glads' First Horseshoe Tournament Progressing

Last week Coach Olson posted pairings for what is probably the first horseshoe tournament in the history of spring athletics at Pacific Lutheran College. The leading contenders seem to be Roland Swanson, Orlando Asper, Orville Schlanbusch and Eldon Anderson.

Results of tournament matches completed this week are: Asper defeated Bittler, Piper took Cilas Haugen, E. Anderson beat Stuen, Schlanbusch wins over J. Hudson, and Westling outscored Nesvig.

Aberdeen Golf Squad Bows to Gladiators

Playing their first match under good weather conditions, the Pacific Lutheran College golf squad took the Aberdeen Junior College outfit on their home course, yesterday afternoon by a 15½ to 2½ score.

All the matches were played on a nine hole course, two rounds were made to complete the matches. The scores on both sides were very high, the lowest medal score being a 76 shot by Ray Hinderle, who played in the number two spot.

An extraordinary feature of the match was the fact that Harry McCormick with a 98 blanked his opponent, Novak, who shot a 104.

Paul Preus, Glad number one man, was the only man to lose his match, winning the first nine, but losing the second and the match one down with an 82. Norm Westling also shot an 82. John Stuen an 88, Bud Lehman a 90, and Harry McCormick a 96.

The lineups, and scores for the match which were held at the Grays Harbor Country Club are as follows:

F. L. C. (15½)	Aberdeen (2½)
Preus 1	Hancock 2
Hinderle 3	Gettings 0
McCormick 3	Novak 0
Westling 3	Fox 0
Lehmann 3	Ove 0
Stuen 2½	Jeffries ½

Lutheran Tennis Men Lose To Grays Harbor

The Lutheran tennis team, in its first match of the 1934 season, lost to the Grays Harbor Junior College netmen in Aberdeen yesterday afternoon by a score of four matches to two.

Bert Myhre and Eugene Burgoyne, for the Gladiators, were the only ones to win their singles matches, giving the team their only two points. Both Myhre and Burgoyne won two out of three sets, Gene defeating Rockwell 5-7, 6-1, 6-1; and Bert topping Westinghax 6-2, 2-6, 6-2. In the other singles matches both Trulson and Jensen were defeated in straight sets. In the doubles play Myhre and Burgoyne were taken in two out of three sets and the team of Harold Trulson and Norm Jensen was beaten in straight sets.

The lineups and scores follow:

Singles
 Myhre, P. L. C. beat Weatherwax, J. C., 6-2, 2-6, 6-2.
 Nelson, J. C. beat Trulson, P. L. C., 6-2, 6-4.
 Burgoyne, P. L. C. beat Rockwell, J. C., 5-7, 6-1, 6-1.
 Kleinburg, J. C. beat Jensen, P. L. C., 6-0, 6-4.
Doubles
 Weatherwax and Kleinburg, J. C. defeated Myhre and Burgoyne, P. L. C., 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.
 Rockwell and Carberry, J. C. defeated Trulson and Jensen, P. L. C., 6-0, 6-4.

French Club Picnic Friday

Next Friday the members of the French Club will have their annual picnic. The president appointed the following members, Irene Shafland (chairman), Margaret Wesson, and Thelma Daniels on the arrangement committee. Members of the club will meet at the Fountain of Youth for noon luncheon. After the picnic luncheon, they will play games and sing songs.

County Track Meet Held Here

Despite heavy rains, the Pierce County grammar schools held their annual track meet on the Pacific Lutheran College football field last Friday morning. This event was won by the Woodland school which had a total of 58 points, while Parkland was second with a total of 50 points.

Ruth Froyen spent the week end of April 27, at her home at Port Madison on Bainbridge Island.

Last Saturday evening Lila Rudd entertained with a party in honor of Mildred Anderson of Portland. Those from P. L. C. present were Evelyn Monson, Marie Wrang, Mary Nash, Virginia Mahnke, Irene Shafland, Anne Johnson, Bergliot Vogan, and Lila Rudd.

Bergliot Vogan was the overnight guest of Anne Johnson last Friday night.

Evelyn Monson and Marie Wrang were the guests of Irene Shafland after the Choir party April 27.

Before Drama Night April 27, Kathryn Johnson, "Buster" Roe, Evelyn Irwin, Georgianna McClure, Ella Johnson, Florence Post, and Jennie Lee had a pot luck dinner.

Big Crowd Attends Luther League Meet At Everett Church

Irene Dahl Has Charge of Pocket Testament League Banquet Saturday Evening; Rev. A. E. Hansen Convention Speaker

With the theme "Life's Greatest Find" as the topic for discussion, the annual North Pacific District Luther League Convention was held last Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Central Lutheran Church in Everett, Rev. A. K. Vinje's charge. One of the largest crowds in the district Luther League's history presented itself at the convention which was very successful, a fine spirit running through all the sessions, according to Rev. A. K. Vinje, president of the district.

Rev. A. E. Hansen of Bemidji, Minn., vice president of the International Y. P. L., was the main speaker, addressing the convention at the opening session Friday night with the keynote address, "What is life's greatest find?" Saturday night at the banquet, and Sunday afternoon at the closing session. Rev. Hansen al spoke his last subject being, "The Master Has Need of These." Rev. O. S. Gudmundson, of Anacortes, was the convention chaplain and the Rt. Rev. H. L. Foss, president of the Pacific District of the N. L. C. A., gave the sermon at the Sunday morning service.

In addition to the regular sessions held at the church, a banquet under the auspices of the Pocket Testament League was held Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A., with more than three hundred in attendance, and the Choral Union, under the direction of Prof. J. O. Edwards, gave a concert at the North Junior High Auditorium Sunday afternoon, singing seven numbers. Other songs with his theremin and "pitchfork cello" apper also on the top last-mentioned programs. At the banquet, which was in charge of Irene Dahl, Berdine Knutson and Mrs. Kenneth Jacobs of Parkland sang a duet.

At the business session held Saturday afternoon, officers for the coming year were elected with the following results: President, Rev. O. G. Salvendy, Seattle; vice president, Rev. A. J. Towe of Portland; recording secretary, Dorothy Solle of Mount Vernon; corresponding secretary, Ruth Norgaard of Everett; treasurer, Chester Johnson, of Portland; Pocket Testament League Secretary, Milton Nesvig of Seattle; and auditors, Russel Hansen of Bellingham and Theodore Okness of Tacoma. Next year's convention will be held in Tacoma at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Rev. Alvin G. Lewis pastor.

Those from P. L. C. who attended the meets in Everett were Dr. Tingstad, Prof. Edwards, Irene Dahl, Berdine Knutson, Ruth Haugland, Margaret Ilen, Rhoda Hokenstad, Valborg Norby, William Pflueger, Herbert Norgaard, Osten Elason, Bill Rasmussen, Stanley Berentson, Floyd Knutson, Milton Nesvig, P. U. Xavier and Rolf Preus.

In order to find out what is true in religion, we should be more than ever interested in the Bible.

Since we are influenced by that which we read, we should select our reading from that which is edifying and uplifting.

In His Word, God does not exalt sin, but He points out how black sin may be in order to lead us away from it.

The Word of God will bear fruit in all that read it.

The Christian religion is the only religion that is true, for there is only one God who can give us eternal life. —Ramstad

Whatever things are lovely, whatsoever things are good, whatsoever things are true, think on these. —Tingstad

We must choose who will be our Master, and it is this choice that will bring us either real happiness or real sorrow.

When we serve God in our small way, let us be happy in our service. Christ said, "Look to God."

Are you introducing people to Jesus? Are you living your religion?

If we do not serve Christ, we die from disease.

Satan is a "confidence man" who would pull us away from God by his brilliant enticements. —Sister Ma Iatene Klippen

We have the assurance that Jesus loves all mankind, and that He will receive us again into His confidence just as He did His disciples.

Jesus tries to win our hearts by showing His great love for us.

It is hard for us Christians even to believe that Christ has taken away all our sins.

We would be happy like Peter, if we would, like him, turn to God in love for the forgiveness of our sins.

Jesus is a conqueror of sin, death, and the power of the devil—and He will receive us just as we are. —Pflueger

The greatest ventures of life are within us. —Sverson

The Word of God has a word for every individual and every situation. Love is the first law of Christ.

The Word of God is a treasure, not to be locked up, but to be kept constantly in use. —Xavier

Sister Magdalene Klippen Tells of Missionary Work

Sister Magdalene Klippen of the Lutheran Deaconess Hospital in Chicago visited at Pacific Lutheran College and spoke in Chapel on Friday, April 27. Since leaving the hospital, Sister Klippen has been engaged in missionary work for the church at mission stations in northern Alaska.

In her talk to the students here, Sister Klippen stressed that all through life one must choose, and it is the choice of what master he will serve that can bring one either real happiness or real sorrow. She told much of the joy of service in the Master's work as a missionary.

Sister Magdalene is a cousin of Agnes and Lell Klippen, graduates of Pacific Lutheran College.

Sings Songs at Meeting

Instead of having the usual program, the German Club at its last meeting held yesterday sang songs. A short business meeting was held prior to the singing.

Thirty-Eight Girls Enjoy Houseparty Sponsored By Delta Rho Gamma Last Week End on Fox Island

Under the capable leadership of Kileen Bergstrom, 38 girls from Pacific Lutheran College enjoyed a house-party last week end, May 5-6, at Camp Miyajima, the Y. W. C. A. resort on Fox Island. Sponsored by Delta Rho Gamma, this outing climaxed the many projects undertaken by the club this year.

Those who attended the affair were transported in cars to the end of Sixth Avenue, where they took the 10 o'clock ferry to Fox Island, arriving an hour later. Lunch was served at noon after which there was a rest period. At 1:30 those who wished went swimming, and at 2:30 the girls met in groups to "write it on ice"—in other words, to have discussions. Recreation followed, and then more discussion—"Till it, to Sweeney." There was a free time before dinner and the sunset hike.

The evening was spent in a party to initiate the new girls and in singing songs at the dock. After a midnight supper, taps were sounded and the girls went to bed.

A dip in the waters of Puget Sound began the Sunday morning program. Before breakfast, "upsetting" exercises were taken. Elizabeth Dahl was in charge of the morning worship. A free time and dinner at noon, the girls took the 2 o'clock ferry home.

The thirty-eight girls who enjoyed the party were Madge Harmon, Louise Miller, Gertrude Stenberg, Elsie Andrak, Marian Peterson, Eleanor Raudabaugh, Evelyn Erdum, Joanna Manousos, Helen Benson, Elizabeth Dahl, Norma Preus, Virginia Davis, Novell Nagel, Evelyn Irwin, Dorothy Opheim, Ida Thompson, Margaret Wesson, Irene Shaffland, Laura Haug, Marie Schmitt, Anna Ross, Melba Ross, Rachel Flint, Alice Roe, Thelma Daniels, Clara Kuhn, Ellen Bergstrom, Lorraine Good, Sigrid Holmgren, Eunice Arneson, Mary Nash, Pearl Homde, Maxine Manousos, Jean-Marie Fowler, Marie Wang, Martha Schlemmer, Edna Kelsey and Shirley Savidge. Mrs. Esther Davis, Delta Rho Gamma adviser, accompanied the girls as chaperon.

AT OTHER SCHOOLS

With the whole world for a campus, the Floating University will set sail Oct. 4 for the 1934-35 college year of 225 day world cruise. Sixty ports in 34 countries will be visited by the students. Standard courses of university and preparatory grade will be conducted on shipboard. As in all universities, athletics will be conducted on shipboard. As in all universities, athletics will play an important part in student life. The ship will be equipped with a gymnasium and swimming pool, and contests in various sports will be scheduled with college teams of Hawaii, China, Japan, and other countries visited.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of the President, recently figured in the center of a near-war over a student strike for peace at H. R. V. University.

The National R. O. T. C. conference held in the nation's capitol recently asked that the American youth support military training because of the failure of the League of Nations, the Kellogg pact, and treaties and conferences to prevent war. The R. O. T. C. was defended as a "definite contribution to education in general" in that it "develops leadership among the splendid young men in whose trust the peace and welfare of our nation and its institutions must eventually fall."

A wind velocity of 231 miles per hour, the highest ever recorded, has been charted at the Mount Washington, N. H., observatory. It was three times as fast as the average hurricane.

One group of 102 Haverford (Pa.) College students has sent to President Roosevelt and Senator David A. Reed a petition announcing their refusal to "fight in any war."

The men of St. Louis University have revolted: They are griping because they have to shave too often. Reason: The co-eds demand it.

Emily Marshall, a University of Missouri student, has maintained a perfect score in 30 matches of the university co-ed rifle team.

Graduates from the College of Commerce, University of Kentucky, publish a pamphlet called "Bargains in Beans," in which the picture of each graduate, his age, height, weight, chief interest and experience, are listed. This plan was followed last year with the result that all but two graduates were placed, and out of the 41 obtaining positions, only two proved unsatisfactory.

Congressional investigators probably aren't aware of the fact, but they are just a group of "scopitropists," according to Dean Henry Wigmore, dean emeritus of the Northwestern Law School. Dean Wigmore defines the word as the incurable mania for investigating.

Drama Club Ends Successful Year

Georgianna McClure and Jean-Marie Fowler Are Leaders: Annual Party Being Planned

The presentation of three plays in the college gym, Friday evening, April 28, marked the close of a successful year for the Drama Club. Large crowds have enjoyed the presentations of comedies and dramas throughout the year with well-received variations in the usual program during the Christmas and Easter holidays, according to the club leaders. The club as a whole averaged two cantatas, one at Christmas and one at Easter.

The club was divided into three groups, under the leadership of Evelyn Irwin, Georgianna McClure, and Norman Westing the fall semester, and Virginia Byers, Jean-Marie Fowler, and Jennie Lee during the spring semester, and Norman Jensen in the fall term. The club presidents this year.

Many improvements have also been made in the gym and property rooms, in addition to new curtains for the stage.

At the 1st business meeting of the Drama Club, held Monday, April 30, the group he led by Georgianna McClure and Jean-Marie Fowler was declared winner in the presenting of plays. The two losing groups are to honor the losers with a party. With Virginia Byers and Jennie Lee in charge, the following have been appointed to plan this party, Novell Nagel (chairman), Alice Nolan, Alice Roe, Milton Nesvig, Melba Ross, Arnold Anderson, and Berglot Vogan.
