WOMEN AGAIN ARE VICTORS OVER MEN

Badgers See Second Victory On Direct Primary Captured By P. L. C. Fair Sex; Losers Are Game

The women of Pacific Lutheran College again defeated the Badger team of the University of Washington when the P. L. C. affirmative team took the victory by a 2-1 decision, March 15. It will be remembered that the P. L. C. women's negative team walked off with a 2-1 decision in Seattle on March 8. The Badgers took their defeat with a smile and treated the victors with a courtesy seldom found in losers.

The question for debate was: "Resolved that the benefits derived from the direct primary in the State of Washington justify its retention." The affirmative was upheld by Marie Eapesth, Victoria Rasmussen, and Louise Henriksen all college freshmen.

The Badgers were: Mr. Gosa, Mr. Aitkin, and Mr. Birdseye. Mr. Hong, head of the English department at Lincoln High School, Miss Amundson, of the P. L. C. English department, and Alfred Santelino, senior at the College of Puget Sound, were the Judges.

After the debate lunch was served the debaters by Mrs. J. O. Edwards.

The debate squad and the college as a whole were very much impressed by the gentlemanly sportsmanlike conduct of the Badger debaters.

"We are looking forward," said Coach Hauke, "to the future meets that have been arranged with these men".

The student body was very depressed to hear of the removal of Olive Sandwick to the Surgical Hospital in Portland some days ago. Olive was forced to discontinue her affiliation with P. L. C. early in the year due to eye difficulties. The understanding was that she was much improved and would be able to continue her work during the second semester but that proved impossible. Because of complications arising later it was found necessary to place her under expert care and so she was taken to Portland.

The latest reports are that the improvements are slow, there is, however, some change and hope for a not too long delay in complete recovery.

Students: Remember Olive in her trouble and let us show her that we do by writing to her often.

APPRECIATION

Not only alumni but also future alumni compliment the "Mast" by showing their appreciation. The poem below was contributed by Dean Ramstad's daughter of the class of 1939.

I love you and the Mooring Mast to and I am glad to be here so I am riding a pome.

Short Course Men Feted Prior To Leave

Party By Dean And Special Chapel Hour Given As Their Sendoff

In honor of the Short Course Students who were about to leave, Prof. and Mrs. A. W. Ramstad entertained with a party in their apartments on Monday evening, March 7. The students were entertained by games and contests and later in the evening were served a delicious lunch.

At the chapel hour on Friday a short program was given in honor of the Short Course Students who concluded their work at the college on that day. The first number on the program was a song by the P. L. C. octette composed of Milton Grambo, Gerhard Lane, Espher Towe, Cornelia Goplerud, Hanna Anderson, Arleida Allen, Peter Grambo and Arling Sannerud. The P. L. C. male quartette sang a selection entitled "On the Sea" accompanied by Prof. J. O. Edwards.

Rev. L. Stavig of Tacoma, who is a member of the Board of Visitors, gave a short address in which he stressed the benefits derived from attending a Christian institution. Rev. Stavig wished this thought to go with the students—"Remember Jesus Christ and He will guide you through your life and help you to make your life useful, successful and worthwhile."

The student body then joined in a hearty yell for the students who were leaving.

The Short Course for these students is a regular semester course in which English language and citizenship is taught. Thirty men enrolled for the course this winter.

LANE IS UNFORTUNATE

Gerhard Lane is quite ready to admit that "accidents will happen" as last week he had experience of what a slight matter can cause: a great deal of trouble. In a basketball practice while shooting baskets, between halves he in some unknown manner mis-stepped and threw his knee out of joint. For a while it was taken for granted that it was merely a temporary sprain and would pass over but upon examination it was found that it had developed into water on the knee and that it might be necessary to perform an operation before the ailment is entirely cured.

Lane has in consequence been unable to attend classes as he has been ordered to remain perfectly quiet. Unfortunately this no doubt puts Lane out of the athletic run for the entire remaining term.

Interesting Correspondence.

The Mooring Mast takes great pleasure in acknowledging a years subscription for the paper from Prof. O. L. Thorson, former teacher and dean at P. L. C.

Mr. Thorson is now a faculty member at the Negaunee High School, Negaunee, Michigan.

Mr. Thorson spent the summer studying at the Chicago University.

Prof. O. L. Thorson was Faculty Advisor for The Mooring Mast during the first year of its existence, 1924-1925. It was greatly due to his interest and untiring labor that the paper was started and maintained successfully during the first year.

SPEAKERS HEARD IN CHAPEL HOUR

Men From East Address Student Body; Donate To Endowment Drive

Two eastern friends visited P. L. C.—Rev. Magelson, LaCrosse, Wisconsin and his brother, Rev. L. Magelson, Minnesota.

Each made a short talk to the students at the chapel hour. Rev. Magelson centered his talk around "Ye are the salt of the earth." He said among other things, "The school here is one of our parts it is preparing the salt of the earth. You young men going into the world, be ye the salt of the earth. If there is anything this world needs, it is Christian men and women. Salt does not float on top, and it is not necessary for a Christian to wear tags announcing his identification."

Rev. L. Magelson whose fate it was always "to speak last" concluded the chapel hour with a short talk on the topic that "Man is to cultivate and keep the earth." "God created the earth but placed man to cultivate and to keep it. Evidently that implies that man can improve it. Nothing is more beautiful than the church. We are to cultivate and keep the garden of the church."

Faculty Is Bereaved Fourth Time In Term

A fourth time during the school term of this year has sorrow visited the P. L. C. faculty when on Friday March 18, Mr. Ph. G. Jesson, father-in-law of Prof. P. E. Hauge passed away at the home of his son-in-law. At the time of passing Mr. Jesson was 74 years of age.

The funeral services were conducted at the College Chapel by Rev. T. O. Svara of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Parkland. No classes met in the afternoon and the P. L. C. student body paid a last tribute to Mr. Jesson by an ensemble attendance at the rites. Miss Rybning sang "Tenk Naar En Gang" and Pres. O. J. Ordal offered condolences on behalf of the P. L. C. faculty and student body.

The interment was made at the Tacoma Cemetery. Besides his daughter Mrs. Ph. E. Hauge the deceased leaves a widow, five sons and a brother to mourn his passing.

D. O. R. GIRLS HOSTESSES TO Y. P. L. L.

Program and Refreshment Tendered Mission Society and Local League

The Daughters of the Reformation entertained the Trinity Lutheran League and the Mission Society in the church basement Sunday evening March 13. An interesting program was given and refreshments served later in the evening. A large crowd responded to the hospitality of the D. O. R.

The following program was given:

Piano Solo—"Quartet from 'Nigletto'" —Estler—Towe Talk—"A Successful Life" Dr. Hoff. Vocal Solo—"Rock of Ages" Hanna Anderson.

Dr. Hoff said in his talk that a man who amassed great fortunes was not the one who had earned success. A person who serves his fellow-men, who makes "Service to others" his motto and is contented with his surroundings with a desire to make "success" his goal in an honest sincere way is the person who can truthfully say "My life is a success, even though I have not riches in gold and silver". Dr. Hoff gave examples of men of fame, whose lives were yet not a success. Success is within oneself.

While a student in Berlin, Germany, Dr. Hoff had the opportunity to visit the University library at that place. In a certain sector of the library he noticed ninety four volumes of Voltaire's works. He examined several copies and found that the pages were intact and showed no signs of use. Voltaire was not read. Judging by this, can we say that Voltaire's life was successful?

On another shelf he noticed another set of books by Paul Gerhard, the German hymn writer. These books were fingermarked and showed signs of much usage. They had probably been read by hundreds of students. Gerhard's life had been a success because others had been influenced by his works. Paul Gerhard's life was a success because he had touched the hearts of others and helped them.

When we help others because of love for them we do as our Master did. Through love for us he died to save us. We should give our life to such service of mankind that when our last day comes we can lie down to eternal rest leaving all things in the hands of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

The Normal Department 1927 Summer Session will commence June 13 and close August 27. This session is considered the fourth quarter of the regular school year.

Students who desire to obtain regular normal credit toward a diploma for their work must be graduate of an accredited high school or its equivalent. However the Normal Session is open to all students qualified to pursue them to advantage.

Prof. Haug, Dean of the Normal announces that teachers holding second grade certificates may have them renewed by attendance at the Normal for the full summer session.

The Normal Department is accredited by the State Board of Education. The two year course leads to a standard Elementary Certificate. This certificate is granted to those students only whose individual achievement is satisfactory.

Members of the regular faculty will be on duty during the summer session.

The regular Summer Session bulletin will be sent on request giving further particulars.

REV. CARL FOSS NEW PRESIDENT

Former P. L. C. Dean Accepts Position at Spokane

Pacific Lutheran College is proud to note the fact that Rev. Carl L. Foss, formerly pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Parkland, and Dean of Men at P. L. C. has been selected as the new president of Spokane College. The following article is taken from "The Aromar" the weekly college paper from Spokane College:

"The Rev. Carl L. Foss, pastor of Rhinney Ridge Lutheran Church, Seattle, who has been chosen by the national Lutheran Board of Education, to succeed Pres. H. P. Olson, is to take charge of his new duties, the first of July. H. P. Olson who has been president for 7 years will remain in charge through this semester. He tendered his resignation nearly a year ago but failure on the part of the board to secure a competent man to take his place has kept him here this long."

The Rev. Mr. Foss comes highly recommended. He had his preparatory training at the Pacific Lutheran Academy, Parkland, Wash., took his bachelors degree at the Luther College, in 1912, and his divinity work at the Luther Seminary from which he graduated in 1915.

He was ordained into the ministry in 1915 at San Francisco and served as a Pastor there until the outbreak of the World War. He then entered the chaplain's training school at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Ky., and was commissioned.

The Stunt Night held on March 12 for the benefit of sending a delegate to the Lutheran Students Conference at St. Olaf's College, proved a real success. The various stunts were "pulled off" with a general display of originality and hard work. The net proceeds were in the vicinity of fifty dollars.

WHO ARE YOU?

If you have any ideas that are worth public display, what is wrong with coming out into the open, and letting the world know who our illustrious hidden artist is. We cannot possibly give you due credit as long as you must hide behind the name of some fellow that has the nerve and manliness to speak for himself.

There is nothing clever about marring the work of another. If your throats are of the type that are devoid of function except to destroy the labor of a fellow man do not take the trouble to place them before the public, for to one they are not worth it. And should you not see any merit in the person to whom this work belongs let the common decency of "regard for property" be your guide. The thing that is not your own you have no right to touch, whether this thing be hung before you openly or not. It is taken for granted that you have that general sense of honor.

From now on then we ask you, when a sign is put upon the bulletin board, take it for granted that the person who placed it there knew well enough what he wished to be written upon it and that he has given all the information there that is necessary for the purpose in mind.

The method of this procedure we admit is forceful, but we feel when we have in our midst such lack of human consideration and utter selfishness, the dealing must in accordance be unique. The bulletin board is so situated that every person that enters our building cannot help seeing it, and to date the "decorated" announcements have been a "black eye" to our student body. Such conduct is not fitting nor will it be tolerated in a school of the type we wish ours to be. If you are laboring under the impression that you are a genius of wit, the mistake is only too evident. The choice of place alone makes the remark lose all value. Should such talent be yours there are places in which it can be appreciated but that place is not on the bulletin board, scrawling up another's work.

When we ask who you are we do not mean the next fellow we meet—YOU! —R. O. M.

SO THIS IS SPORTSMANSHIP

The ever present question among college students or any students is: "shall literary or athletic activities come first, and receive the major attention?" Immediately upon the introduction of this topic we hear the athlete "star" defend his sport with the ever ready argument "but athletics teaches one good sportsmanship, brings forth team-work and makes co-mates out of otherwise just non-interested groups of individuals." Granting that it is, we should wish to ask, does it?

When one finds that at the end of nine successive months of this playing together these "co-mates" cannot be generous enough to show decent courtesy even to the members of their own group without the presumption to mention outsiders, the side-liner finds himself wondering if there is not something wrong with the theory or those who argue in his favor.

We do not wish to criticize, we merely wish to ask with all sincere desire of wanting to know:

Do you really think this is sportsmanship? —R. O. M.

LUTHERAN STUDENTS' UNION DELEGATE TO ST. OLAF GIVES REPORT ON MEET

Trip Thruout Is Pleasant

Knutzen Brings Detailed Report of Various Meetings in East

Arthur Knutzen who was elected by the student body of Pacific Lutheran College as delegate to the Lutheran Students Union Convention, in Northfield, Minnesota, returned March 11.

At the regular chapel exercises on Monday, Arthur Knutzen gave a report on his trip to the Lutheran Students' Union Convention. He traveled on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway; the "Columbian" on the way East and the "Olympian" on the return journey, and traversed the states Washington, Idaho, Montana, Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

"The Convention city, Northfield, is known as the 'city of cows and colleges.' St. Olaf College is situated on one of the hills of Northfield and is a very picturesque place. The West has much more beautiful scenery and landscape, having snow-capped mountain peaks and glorious sunsets but the East is more blessed in the 'one thing needful.' The spirit and attitude of the students is one of true Christianity. When dining in a cafeteria or restaurant the students say silent grace before eating and in their actions and words one invariably knows the students come from a Christian institution. They are not afraid to show their religion. They are not ashamed of their faith. In their student body meetings they enter the discussion with no fear of professing Jesus Christ and His teachings. This part can truly be called a God-blessed country."

Mr. Knutzen expressed his sincere gratitude and appreciation of his opportunity to attend a convention. During his entire stay he was the guest of Monroe Langlow, former student and graduate of P. L. C., who is attending St. Olaf College. He stated that he was entertained royally and had the opportunity of listening to the St. Olaf Choir which he enjoyed greatly.

The new officers of the Lutheran Students' Union elected at the convention are: Carl Pederson—President; Archie Kearke—Vice-President; Esther Lovell—Secretary; Elmer Runholzen—Treasurer; Mr. Koller—Press Representative.

Lutheran Students' Union Convention

Convention Theme: "What Shall I Do With My Life?"

Convention Text: "He died for all, that they who live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him who died for them, and rose again."

II Cor. 5:15. "What shall I do with my life?"

I The Basis:

(a) It is a God-given life—Rev. C. S. Thorpe.

(b) It is a redeemed life—Rev. C. S. Thorpe.

II The Challenge:

(a) It is a life with tremendous possibilities—Prof. J. N. Brown.

(b) It is a life with serious responsibilities—Dr. C. M. Weewig.

III The Purpose:

(a) It is a life intended for Christian service—Rev. T. A. Hoff.

(b) It is a life destined for immortality—Dean O. Ingvaldstad.

IV The response of the individual: (a) "My life for Christ."—Dean O. Ingvaldstad.

Friday 7:30 p.m. Opening Session Greetings—Dr. L. W. Boe, President of St. Olaf College. Al Albert Iverson, President of St. Olaf College Student Body.

Presidents Address—Mr. W. O. Rindahl, Pres. L. S. U. Lutheran Theological Seminary.

I The purpose of the Lutheran Students Union:

(a) To foster religious life at our school, to encourage positive Christian life among our students.

(b) To foster a spirit of fellowship between the students of all our schools. This is very important for the future of our church.

(c) To foster interest in our church schools. It is for us as students so to conduct ourselves that our people will see the value of our schools and support them.

(d) To create interest in foreign missions, and to place the challenge of missions, before our students.

The Lutheran Students' Union supports three missionaries in the foreign field. One of these is Rev. K. Monson, who is now at home on furlough, and has spoken at several of our schools.

II Our convention theme: "What shall I do with my life?"

Everyone must face this question, some day God will ask each one of us "What have you done with your life?" Therefore it behooves every one to consider this theme.

CHAPEL TALKS

Mark 5:35-43

Sorrow had come into the home of the ruler of a synagogue. His small daughter was dead. The Savior willing to bring back happiness to the home administered to the little girl. Accommodating himself to the situation, he spoke to her in the simple dialect of the home and made her arise. And the miracle happened.

Language is the key which opens souls, and the Savior understands them all and understands us. He can accommodate himself to all situations.

Many times in the history of the world we have had great men but they usually belong to one nation or district, Jesus belongs to everyone; no one can claim Him as his own. He belongs to the universe and understands all. That is what Peter realized when he said "Thou art the Christ the Son of the living God."

DR. HOFF

prayerfully. We should not have a "holier than thou" attitude.

"What shall I do with my life?" (II Cor. 5:15)

The Basis:

It is a God-given life—Rev. C. S. Thorpe.

We have only one life to invest; we can never live it or any part of it over again. There are two opposite claims in every life.

(1) Materialism, allied with the devil and the world; (2) Idealism, in the service of God.

God's claim on our life.

1. God has an right to claim our life. His claim is the better of the two.

CONFERENCE PLANS LAID

Initial Meet Held; Coaches Confer on Rules

Representatives Enthusiastic; Next Meeting To Complete Arrangements for Combine

At a meeting of the Coaches of the five Western Washington Junior colleges, held at the Tacoma Hotel on Saturday, March 19th, plans were made for the athletic conference of these schools. The representatives present at the meeting were: A. C. Lemon and C. H. Guest from C. P. S., A. W. Ramstad from Pacific Lutheran College and A. Ehret and Geo. Brown from Centralia Junior College. Mr. C. L. Ward of Seattle Pacific College, and Mr. Reese of the Mount Vernon Junior College were unable to attend the meeting but signified their willingness to enter such a conference.

Minutes of the meeting following: The purpose of this meeting is to organize a Junior College conference.

A motion was made by Dean Lemon that Ramstad act as temporary chairman. Motion seconded by Ehret. Motion carried.

The meeting was then called to order by the temporary chairman. A motion by Dean Lemon and seconded by Guest that Brown act as temporary secretary. Motion carried.

Mr. Ehret moved that a Junior College Conference be organized consisting of the following schools: Pacific Lutheran College, College of Puget Sound, (reserve teams), Seattle Pacific College, Mt. Vernon Junior College, and Centralia Junior College, and including the following sport: football, basket ball, baseball, track and tennis for the boys, and basket ball, baseball, volleyball, tennis, and hockey for the girls. Motion carried.

It was moved that alternate games be played in football, home and home games in basketball and baseball and one track meet to be held at one of the schools, having all the necessary equipment to hold a successful meet. Motion carried.

It was further agreed that all schools pay their own expenses in all athletic contests.

Dean Lemon supplied each member of the committee with a copy of the Pacific Northwest Intercollegiate Conference Rules which were discussed and altered to fit our conference. Time did not permit the committee's finishing all the rules. Dean Lemon moved that a committee consisting of Ehret and Brown be appointed to finish the revision of the rules and mail a copy to each school before March 29, 1927.

It was further agreed that these revisions be checked carefully by each school and any additions or corrections be sent to the temporary secretary as soon as possible.

The College of Puget Sound was decided upon as the place for the next meeting to be held within three or four weeks. A copy of these minutes were sent to each of the five schools.

Seattleites Lose To P. L. C. Girls

Hahn Team Proficient in Passing But Missed Basket Once Too Often; Score: 31-30

In a thrilling game, the P. L. C. girls defeated the Hahn Sporting Goods women's team of Seattle by a score of 31 to 31. The College "Dianas" were always just one hop, skip or jump ahead of the Seattle team. It is said that the Hahn team had not been defeated in a scheduled game until they lost to P. L. C. last Friday evening. Polly Langlow was high-point player with a total of 20 points to her credit. Perry for the Hahn team played a good game. A feature of the game was the fast and accurate passing of the Hahn team. Although their passing was good, the Seattleites did not hit the basket quite as often as did the P. L. C. girls.

DIANAS DEFEAT RAILWAY RIVALS

Exciting Contest Goes To P. L. C. Girls; Final Score Is 25-22; Last Game of Season

Again the P. L. C. girl's played the Northern Pacific "Stenogs". The occurred last Saturday evening in the college gym. Again the Dianas outclassed the Northern Pacific Stenogs—winning by a 25-22 score. The game was close and exciting but was not as interesting nor as pleasant to watch as was the game of Friday night. Last Saturday's game with the N. P. was the third and decisive contest of a three-game series. The N. P. team won the first game, the second was conceded a tie because of an error in scoring, and the last game was won by P. L. C. The contest last Saturday evening was the last scheduled game of the season.

The line-ups:

GIRLS BASKETBALL REVIEW

Thirteen games were played by the P. L. C. girls basket-ball team, ten of which were won by them. They scored a total of 431 points to their opponents 256. Last year these figures were 239 points made by P. L. C. to their opponents 110. Polly Langlow led in the number of points by individual players with 270 points to her credit. Agnes Weirson was second with 134 points and Edna Brotnov and Olga Benson as sub forwards with 113 and 111 points respectively. The basket-ball season for the girls this year has been the most successful in the history of girls basket-ball at P. L. C.

CLASS GAMES ARE RUN OFF 'MIDST CHEERS AND 'BOOS'

We don't know who started it. But—it started! What started? Wait, read, and find out! Suddenly, out of the serene atmosphere of the chapel at announcement time, challenges were hurled! On they came, stopping not for anything until it was finally arranged that class prejudices be wiped out on the basketball floor. 'Tis rumored that one of the Langlow tribe started it. Therefore it started. The basket ball tournament within the classes started. Now, are all legitimate questions answered? Yea bo! all right, Mr. Chairman, proceed! In other words, start to begin to commence.

In the first game of the class pre-meditated murder series, the College girls defeated the High School women by a final vote of 42-19. You will observe that the Judge of the case admits that the decision carries with it the vote of the majority. Persons involved:

Rev. O. P. Grambo of Ellensburg, the father of four students Palma, Clara, Peter and Milton was a visitor on Monday March 7.

The Alumni seem to have a reunion every week-end. Several alumni and former students were visitors at their Alma Mater during the week end of March 12-13. Among those here were Signe Hjermstad, '26, teaching at Lake Campbell, Martha Hjermstad, '26, teaching at Ohop Valley, Alfred Anderson, '26, employed in Seattle, Ruth Riveness, '25, employed at Canby, Oregon, Esther Angvik, '25 of Seattle, Amorette Day, '25 teaching at Aberdeen and Clifford Olson of Tacoma, a former student.

STUDENT OPINION

Knock Before You Enter Not After; It Isn't Your School It's You

So many times may be heard from a fellow-student the complaint that some of the organizations, or all of them for that matter, were the "bunk"—but does the student try to better the organization or give it any assistance whatever? Very likely not.

Fellow-students: why not back up your organizations while you have them? If any organization is not up to "par" why not do your part to bring it to a high standard rather than to tear it down. Just think what a "dead" place this would be with no organizations whatsoever. How many of you would be willing to urge your friend to enroll at P. L. C. when you could tell him of no diversion from the routine of studies?

Nothing is perfect—not even you. Put your shoulder to the wheel and push—don't drag. Let's go, students, let's go!

The following poem seems particularly fitting here. —A. S.

sioned first lieutenant and chaplain in the U. S. army on his graduation. He served with the American Expeditionary forces in France until July, 1919.

After his discharge from the army he made a speaking tour of the Pacific Coast for the National Lutheran commission for soldiers and sailors' welfare. He took a pastorate at Bremerton in 1920 also serving Parkland at the same time. In 1923 and 1924 he had a teaching fellowship at the University of Washington and is now doing graduate work there while pastor at Rhinney Ridge Church, Seattle.

Mr. Fosg when he takes up his duties in July, will devote most of his time to field work and because of his education and training will be able to carry this work on very effectively.

Vic: Why?
Olga: The sandman won't like you.

If you want to live in the kind of a school... Like the kind of a school you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip And start on a long, long hike. You'll only find what you left behind!

For there's nothing that's really new It's a knock-at yourself when you knock your school— It isn't your school—it's you!

Real schools aren't made by those afraid Let somebody works and nobody shrinks. You can make a school that was dead. And if, while you make a personal stake,

Your neighbor can make one, too Your school will be what you like to see— It isn't your school—it's you!

—The Coltonian

SACRIFICE

It isn't what you get but what you give! The meanest heart can manage to live,

But can it feel the swell of joy, That comes to one who can forfeit his "toy". And see his sacrifice the dark face light

And say—O Lord, even I'm mile Have given!
