"The Fountain of Life"

On the spacious green lawn outside Kronberg Castle near Frankfurt, Germany, a large fountain gurgles in watery activity by night and by day. Compared to the castle, bulging dark and massive behind it, the fountain seems quite small and insignificant in its constant splashing, and at times it appears to be isolated and lonely. But on a summer night, when heavy clouds have moved down from the north sea under cover of darkness without even a breeze to warn of their approach and have commandeered the countryside, then the fountain at Kronberg is happy and busy, for it is no longer alone and isolated. As though heralding some heavenly guest it welcomes the soft summer rain which disappears into its bubbling waters.

So also with that institution of higher education called the Christian College. It too, at times, seems lonely and isolated as it is placed within its limited formal framework outside the castle walls making its peculiar contribution to the beauty surrounding it. Many a distinguished guest never notices its presence, and few are they who pause by it for a moment of reflection into its waters, or hold out an open hand to feel its fine mist spray. But in that Christian College with its masonry of educational framework is found the fountain-waters of life. Drawing from all the varied sources of the world about it, it makes no claim to uniqueness in the water it uses, for whether they be from the cold high glaciers of philosophy or the coursing torrents of history, the mountain pools of the fine arts or the silent underground seepage of the sciences, they make no distinction and draw as the world draws around them. Its claim comes not then from the waters themselves, but in the way it would use and display those waters to best advantage, and it is to this end that the fountain has been planned and constructed and put into proper motion, for it is in the preconceived formal setting of the Christian College, that life, lived indiscriminately about it, can in it be caught and held in studied motion with a transparency unparalleled in a natural setting.

But the beauty and meaning of the fountain of life which is the Christian College is best seen and understood at those times when the presence of God, the giver and source of all being, spreads cloud-like over the varied geography of life on earth below it, and, whether with a clap of thunder or quietly as on a summer night, gives of his presence to the rugged terrain of humanity below. For although his presence is offered to all, it is in a special way that the Christian College recognize its refreshment and its life-giving substance, and, like the fountain outside Kronberg Castle, welcomes the presence of its heavenly guest which becomes one with its own bubbling waters.

—Rev. Robert W. Lutnes

DEDICATION

An inspiration to several generations of college students as teacher, counselor and coach, Marvel K. Harshman left his alma mater in April to take over the position of basketball coach at the State College of Washington.

During his years as a student from 1938 to '41 and as a faculty member from 1955 to '58 he was an inspiration to thousands of students, teachers and friends of the college. Always a Christian gentleman he reflected the ideals of this institution of higher learning in many walks of life.

In his undergraduate days on this campus he was one of the greatest athletes this college has ever produced. He was named to the New York Sun All America football team. For the three seasons ('39 to '41) in which he competed he was the leading collegiate scorer in football on the Pacific Coast. His greatest moment came in 1940 when he kicked a 34 yard field goal from a difficult angle to defeat Gonzaga, 16-13, in the dying seconds of a game played before a throng of 20,000 in the Tacoma Stadium.

In addition to his exploits on the gridiron he was an all-conference basketball player and a versatile track and baseball performer.

During World War II he served in the U. S. Navy as a Chief Petty Officer.

Returning to PLC after the war he was basketball and track coach and assistant in football. In 1951 he became head football and baseball coach and director of athletics, in addition to his basketball assignment.

Harshman's football team won one conference title. His basketball teams won five league championships, five district one NAIA titles, and competed five times in the national NAIA tourney in Kansas City. His hoop teams in 13 seasons won 243 and lost 122, an exceptionally fine record.

Respected by his colleagues and the student body, looked up to as a man of character and conviction, esteemed for his great contributions to the cause of Christian education, he has been a powerful, positive influence on this campus. It is with great pleasure that we dedicate this Saga to Marvel K. Harshman.

BOARD VOTES MILLION DOLLAR EXPANSION

Mr. C. Peterson

In December the Board of Trustees inaugurated the PLC development Fund. A long-range program of growth and expansion, it provided an exciting new horizon of opportunity for the College.

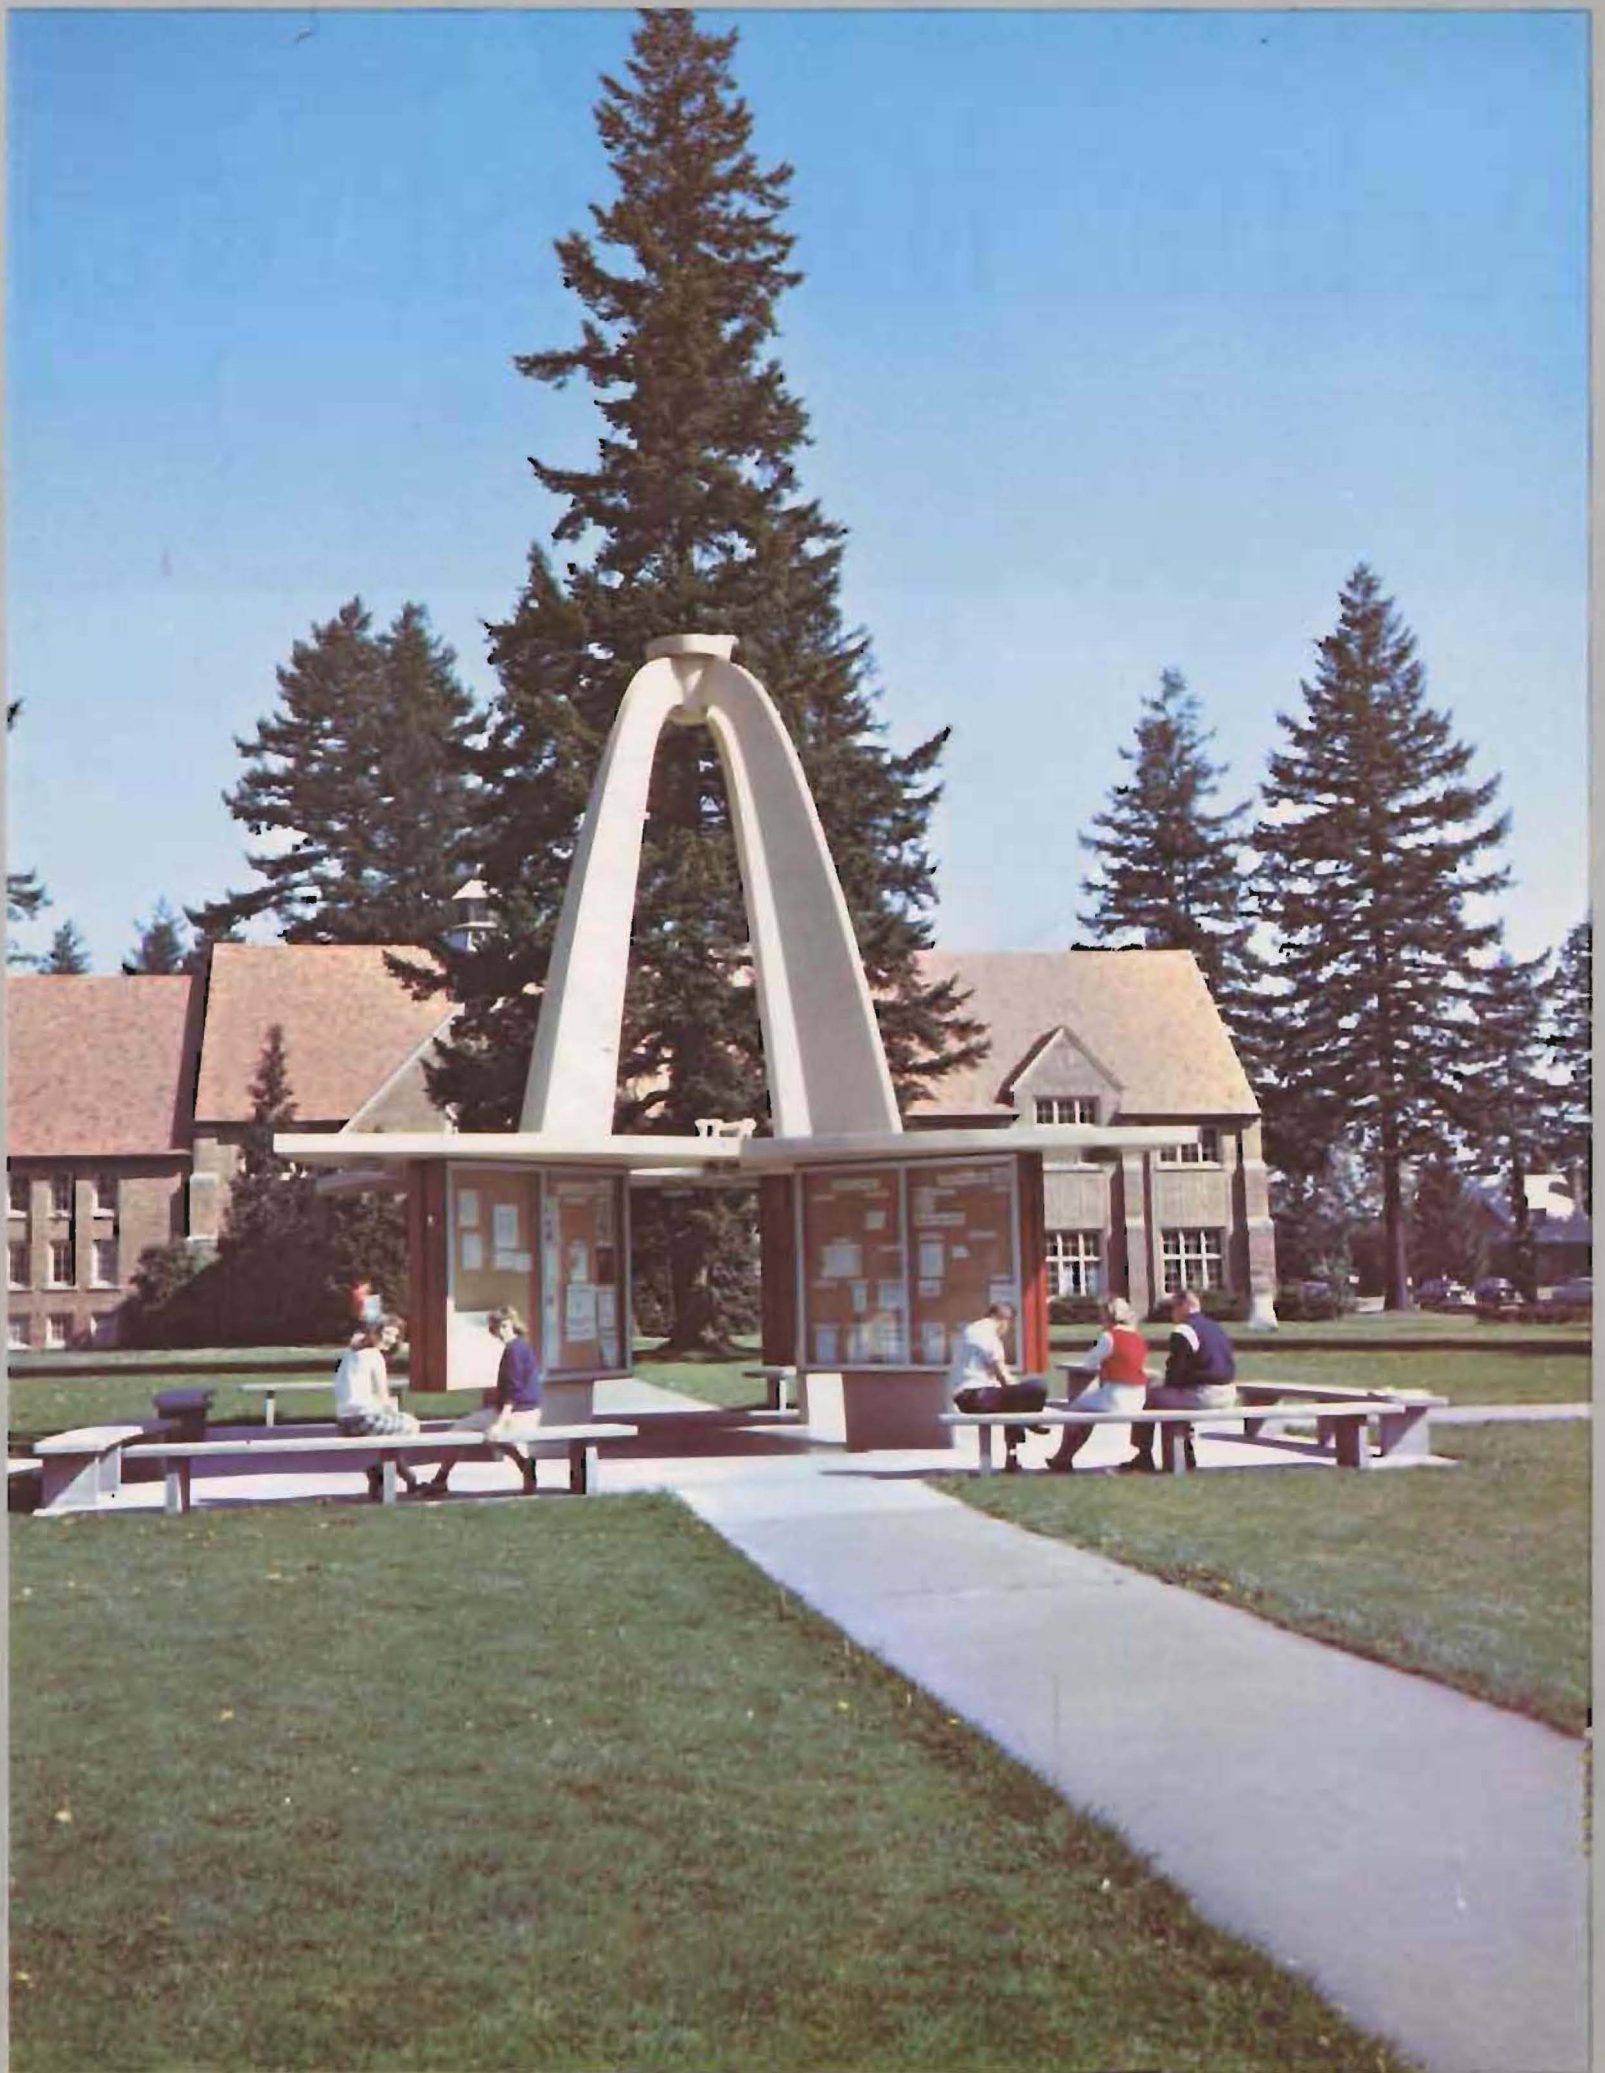

Recognizing that in the next few years the number of college-age youth will double in number, the Trustees made bold plans to provide the building and facilities that will be needed to care for these students. Included in the first phase of the plan were these Immediate Needs: An addition to Science Hall; a Social Education Annex for the CUB; a new center for the Education, Business Administration, and Economics departments to be called Tacoma-Pierce Memorial Hall and renovation of the two lower floors of Old Main for men's dormitory rooms and lounges.

A general appeal was made for $1,000,000. The faculty and staff made the first gifts totalling more than $75,000. The student body adopted as its project the new swimming pool and pledged $100,000. Alumni had a goal of $200,000. Gifts from Tacoma and Pierce County were expected to bring in $50,000. The Student Voluntary Fund composed of senior and undergraduate gifts raised ALMOST $10,000.

General Chairman for the appeal was Gerrit Vander Ende, President of Pacific First Federal Savings and Loan Association. Divisional chairmen were: Herbert G. Socolofsky, Memorial; Marv Tommervik, Alumni; Kristen Solberg, Faculty; Mrs. Anna Enge and Ken Jacobs, Staff; Harold Tollefson, Professional.

Construction of the Science Hall addition and the Social Education Annex were scheduled to begin in June so that these units might be ready for occupancy in the fall.

The million dollar appeal was the first step forward in a significant program of advancement for our college. We were fortunate to be present not only as observers, but also as participants in the most important project the College has ever attempted.

"FOUNTAIN OF LIFE"

As we look into the future we need to make our plans big. Unfortunately we will have to deal with people who cry for progress and advantage but who do not want to pay the price. We are grateful that there are some people who are willing to cry for progress and get together and pay the bill as well. As our students become members of the Alumni Association and leave our College to become a part of the "University of Hard Knocks," we must require that they carry heavier shares in guaranteeing a larger supply of intellectually mature citizens to take over and guide America's economic and social future and especially in the spiritual leadership as such. These are questions which we will have to help answer if our impact is to ready the maximum. We will have to seek for answers to these questions wisely and positively. We will need highly intelligent people to stand in our pulpits and to teach in our schools in an age when atomic energy will effect practically every department of human life. The very faith of our fathers will be challenged in an age which will be full of amazing miracles. In this America our young people must be taught with an intellectual and moral strength to face up to the problems before us.

FACULTY

Every fountain must have its source, and as each of us seeks in his or her own way the source on which we build our lives, so the faculty acts as our living water from which and on which we must build our future. Whether we choose to build on the well springs of a Science professor, or a Philosophy professor, or a Mathematics professor is something each of us must choose for himself. As the body needs water so do each of us need that living water which only our faculty can provide. The beautiful buildings and fine facilities we can see, and which are tangible, serve only as the structure of the fountain. It is the faculty who serve unselfishly not only as living witnesses to Christ but as the living water of the Fountain of Life, on which we draw our resources. From their pictures we get only a surface view. How wonderful it would be if we could look into each one of them and see that living water.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Coordinating campus activities is the main function of the Inter-Club Council. Student organizations desiring to hold meetings or social functions are required to apply through the I.C.C., which decides when and where these meetings and functions will be held. Another important duty of the I.C.C. is to see that organizations are functioning in accordance with their constitutions. Each club, organization, and class sends one representative to the I.C.C., and it is presided over by the ASPLC Vice-President.

STUDENT CONGREGATION

Serving the students during the school year and providing a church for them when they are away from home gives much opportunity for the Student Congregation to work as any congregation would. Students are elected to serve each other, and the activities such as tithing, voting, taking part in communion and so forth are all here with our Congregation. Pastor Lutnes is the full-time pastor and lives in Cromer Cottage, making him close enough to the campus to serve in every way. All the duties taken of a "regular" congregation are also taken over by the students, and help to make the Student Congregation a smoothly and effectively run spiritual service on campus.

STUDENT CONGREGATION CHOIR

Music for every Sunday morning worship service of the Student Congregation is provided for by the choir, under the direction of Gerald Bayne. Faithfully taking an hour each week to practice, these students have done a good work in making services joyful and full of praise. Many thanks to these students who so willingly and lovingly use their talents to sing praises to God.

MR. KARL E. WEISS

Just before the school year opened, in early September, Professor Karl E. Weiss was summoned by death.

Chairman of the music department and member of the college faculty for seventeen years, he was loved, respected and admired by students, colleagues and alumni.

Professor Weiss was an idealist. He was a lover of good music and art. He extolled the virtues of good culture. He reveled in the beauty of God's creative handiwork in nature. He abhorred the sordid, the carnal and the selfishness in man.

These intense drives and beliefs he imparted to student and colleague. In this way he will continue to live on in the hearts of those with whom he came in contact on this campus. Blessed be the memory of Karl E. Weiss.

Duane Moe, Editor

This year the Saga staff has been headed by Duane Moe. It was his duty to assign section editors and plan the general make-up of the book. Duane has fulfilled his office with great enthusiasm and has constantly encouraged staff members to meet their deadlines. Most of his spare time is spent in the Saga office either drawing up pages or working on mounts. It is now after nearly a year of toil that he and members of the staff can see the pages unfold in front of them and view the completed book. Assisting him in all of his various jobs was Theodora Gulhaugen who will be faced with the honor of editor for next year. She has been following Duane with watchful eyes, so her job next year will run more smoothly and efficiently. Busy keeping money in the treasury was the big task of Business Manager, James Bullock. James has made a miraculous attempt to get the Saga out of the "red." He has been constantly on the go since it was his duty to solicit all of the advertisers. In the meantime he pays the many bills that Saga is charged with. He was also chairman of the annual Saga Carnival held this spring.

Early this fall these students met and were given the theme of the book as well as general instructions from the editor. After this it was up to them to draw up interesting layouts for each page in their section. They have been planning and working on their sections all year, and now the time has come when they may see the end product. Each editor is in charge of a section, so they must draw up their own pages, write the copy, and schedule all pictures. This year's staff had to initiate several changes in the Saga, all of which made their job more difficult but improved the quality of the book. Some of these changes included writing all of their own copy and glueing the pictures down just as they are to appear in the book, instead of simply mailing the pictures down to the printer.

These are the students and others who have been assisting the Saga editors so well. With the added duties on the editors this year, the helpers had a little bigger job to do. They have helped with the typing, index, advertising, and checking on correct spelling of student's names. Many thanks to this fine group of workers who co-operated so well and spent hours of their time to make the Saga this year.

"You cover the news extensively and present it in an attractive package," summed up Mr. Duane Andrews (public relation, Minneapolis Honeywell) in his Associated Collegiate Press rating of the Fall Semester, 1957-58, Mooring Mast. That was one aim of editor David Crowner—to give the readers a weekly four page package that packed punch. And with each issue it seemed that the Mooring Mast become more and more of a real hitching post for the college.

The staff, advised by Mr. Milton Nesvig (PLC News Bureau), sent twenty-five issues to press during the '57-'58 terms, with special editions at Homecoming and the end of the year. Heading up the staff's three editorial divisions were: Herbert Dempsey, news; Marilyn Donaldson, features; and Eugene Hapala (first semester) and Dennis Marttala (second semester), sports. Mary Lou Engen was Business Manager during the year. Crowner praised them, saying, "Marilyn, Mary Lou, Herb, Hop and Dennis were the real backbone of the Mooring Mast, and faithfully spent many hours doing the majority of the work. They were the ones who organized staff members under themselves."

DEBATE

The forensic squad of Pacific Lutheran College this year competed in 8 major tournaments. The results from these tournaments show that 27 first places were won, together with 34 second places and 26 third places. Some of the highlights of the season were the exceptionally fine showing at the Western Speech Association Tournament at Los Angeles where 54 colleges and universities from the 11 Western states competed.

Again this year the team of Donald Douglas and Thomas Reeves went to the Heart of America Tournament at Kansas University where 14 schools were invited from all parts of the United States to participate in the tournament of champions. Getting through the elimination rounds with a 7 won-2 loss record makes this an outstanding showing for a school of the West.

These students further interest and appreciation of the organ and organ music. The members not only play the organ but have a deep concern for the use and performance it gives. Among the activities of this group were listening to and observing various demonstrations of organs, as well as attending organ recitals.

AMBASSADOR QUARTET

Again this summer, the P.L.C. Ambassador Quartet represented the college in nine Western states and British Columbia, singing 136 concerts. The 8th Notes, a new music group on campus last year, has become one of the outstanding groups in our music department and have been called upon often to sing for not only the activities here on campus but for organizations in the Tacoma area as well. The Madrigal singers is another one of the three major choral groups on campus that offers varied opportunities for musical expression.

The popularity of the Concert Chorus is increasing rapidly in the Seattle-Tacoma area. This year they performed at various churches in the Tacoma area, several times at Fort Lewis, and at chapel exercises at P.L.C. The Chorus was the first choral group to sing at the beautiful new Central Lutheran Church in Tacoma. This organization completed the year by recording music for the sound track of a technicolor movie to be released by the United Good Neighbors.

CHOIR OF THE WEST

Gunner Malmin

April 11-20 marked the dates of the "Choir of the West's" annual tour. It included some of Eastern Washington and parts of British Columbia. Although this was their main activity, week-end concerts at such places as Puget Island and Northern Oregon also played an important role in the life of this organization. Next year a long play record will be released which the choir recorded this year. The majority of this album will include Christmas music.

The 27 piece orchestra, under the direction of Gordon Gilbertson, gave its first performance at Christmas when it played the entire orchestral score of the oratorio, "The Christ." They accompanied the Concert Chorus and "Choir of the West" in this selection. Other performances this year included the chamber orchestra concert on March 2 with a similar repeat of that program on May 31. Also, the annual May Festival was brightened up by the music of this fine organization.

What sort of spirit could our students have produced at our football and basketball games this year without the colorful music of the P.L.C. band? But this was by no means the limit of their activities. Other performances were held at Ranier State School, McNeil Island, and First Presbyterian Church in Seattle. The highlight of the year, however, was their nine day tour in Eastern Washington, Idaho and Oregon. The year ended with their contribution to the commencement exercises.

Other dramatic activities were the Children's Theatre productions of "Flibbertygibbet" and "Jack and the Beanstalk." The Curtain Call Club again produced "A Christmas Carol" and Alpha Psi Omega produced "Mousetrap" by Agatha Christie. The final activity of drama this year was the production of the pageant at the final convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the Minneapolis Civic Auditorium on June 20th which played to some 10,000 people. This pageant, called "Seed Time," a historical pageant of the church, was written by Rev. Robert Lutnes and produced and directed by Mr. Theodore Karl. Mr. Eric Nordholm did the scenery as he has done with all of the plays except the Curtain Call productions and Alpha Psi productions.

PLC UPSETS PUGET SOUND 7-6

Although they were outplayed statistic-wise, the Lutes surprised the College of Puget Sound's favored Loggers in their annual King's X meeting. With just three minutes left in the second quarter, John Jacobson intercepted a pass and ran it back seventy-five yards to score the game's first touchdown. Tom Gilmer, who played an outstanding game on both offense and defense, dropkicked the conversion.

C.P.S. marched fifty-five yards to score in the fourth quarter. The Logger's chance for a tie died when the placement sailed wide to the right side of the conversion zone.

The Lute's determination and spirit proved to be the deciding factors in the game. "The line play of the team was much better than I expected," commented Harshman.

Pacific University's Badgers handed the Lutes their first grid loss of the season in a steady downpour of rain.

The favored Gladiators held the Badgers scoreless until the second quarter when Pacific U.'s halfback, Jack Nehring, blasted through a big opening in the Lute line and raced sixty-five yards to score. The kick for the extra point was wide and the Badgers led 6-0 at halftime.

Bob Burnside scored the second Badger touchdown shortly after the second half kickoff when he drove over from the three yard line to climax a long drive.

The Lutes lost the services of fullback Tom Gilmer early in the second quarter due to a knee injury on a punt return.

CENTRAL BLANKS PLC 20-0

The Gladiators suffered their first Evergreen Conference defeat of the season at the hands of the Central Washington Wildcats. The injury riddled Lutes were never a serious threat while their defensive forces fell victim to three scoring plays by the Wildcats. P.L.C. was able to make only four first downs and finished with a minus twelve yards in rushing. The Lute aerial arm clicked on three of six attempts for forty-one yards.

Central crossed the Lute's goal line in the first, second and fourth quarters. The Wildcats gained two hundred and twenty-seven yards on seventeen first downs and completed seven of twelve passes for eighty-one yards.

EASTERN THUMPS PLC 16-0

Poor pass defense proved to be the downfall for the Gladiators as they dropped their third straight game of the season.

The game went scoreless until one minute before the end of the first half when the Savages struck for a field goal. Eastern added two touchdowns in the second half to finish out the scoring. The first came on a twenty-eight yard pass, and the other was punched over from the one yard stripe.

The Lutes had a couple of chances to score in the fourth quarter, but couldn't break into the end zone. A sustained Lute drive died on the twelve yard line early in the period, while a later drive carried to the eighteen before being turned back by the Savages.

Calkins wins the toss and the Lutes will receive.

WESTERN EDGES PLC 20-13

After Western scored two quick touchdowns in the first quarter, the Lutes dug in and held them scoreless through the rest of the first half. PLC scored their first TD in the second quarter when John Jacobson intercepted a pass and was brought down on the Western twenty-nine yard line. Twelve plays later John Fromm went around end and scored from the one yard stripe. Tom Gilmer drop-kicked the extra point.

Early in the third quarter the Vikings picked up their final touchdown, and the Lutes closed out the scoring in the final period when Al Cantrell recovered a fumble on the Western twenty-three and six plays later John Jacobson carried the ball around end to paydirt.

PUGET SOUND HUMBLER PLC 14-0

The College of Puget Sound avenged the 7-6 setback suffered at the hands of the Lutes in their King's X opener.

After a scoreless and evenly contested first half, the Loggers marched to their first touchdown in the third quarter. Late in the fourth quarter, when the Gladiators gambled on a fourth down situation, the Loggers intercepted a Lute pass and turned it into a touchdown with one minute and twenty seconds remaining in the contest.

The Lutes had a good scoring opportunity in the first quarter when Jim Capelli recovered a fumble. The Harshmen moved the ball to the Logger's sixteen yard line where a field goal attempt by Sam Gange was wide to the left of the crossbar.

PRE-SEASON

BASKETBALL

Pacific Lutheran College opened its 1957-58 basketball season with a hard-earned win over the Buchan Bakers in the first game of the TAC Tourney. The game was knotted at 60-60 when the regular playing period ended. When the overtime ended the Lutes had shown everyone they were going to be a tough team to beat. The scoreboard read: Lutes 76, Bakers 65. The next evening the Lutes coasted to an 80-67 victory over Western Washington to sweep the tournament.

The Seattle Pacific Falcons came to Parkland to test their strength against the Lutes, and they returned to Seattle with their wings clipped 90-57.

Amazing accuracies from the field brought the Lutes their second victory within a week against the Buchan Bakers, who had thwarted the highly regarded Seattle University Chieftains earlier that week. The Glads shot a hefty .516 percentage from the floor in their 92-78 victory.

The Lutherans controlled the backboards and did some sharp shooting in going one up on their crosstown rivals in their quest for their fifth straight city collegiate hoop crown. The 87-47 victory was the Lutes eleventh straight win over the College of Puget Sound.

The Gladiators made it seven straight wins for the season by sweeping a weekend series against Humboldt State 72-48 and 83-63. In the second game big Chuck Curtis bettered his previous home floor record of 35 by one point.

The Parklanders took it on the chin in a weekend series against Gonzaga U. at Kennewick and Spokane. The first night the Lutes couldn't buy a basket and suffered a 80-64 defeat. The Bulldogs nipped the Lutes 58-57 in the second game to sweep the series.

Six former All-American maple-men paced the AAU Denver-Chicago Truckers over the Black and Gold in a hard fought battle 93-84. Chuck Curtis put on a great individual performance as he coned 31 counters. Several times the Lutes closed the scoring gap, but the superior bench strength of the Truckers spelled the difference.

Roger Iverson paced the Locals with 31 points as they defeated the Buchan Bakers for the third time of the season 81-60. The Breadmen were hot at the foul line, but their .235 percentage from the floor explains the loss when it is compared to the Lute's healthy .509 mark. The Harshmen ended their toughest pre-season schedule in history with eight wins and three losses.

Humbolt State couldn't stop Curtis.

CHUCK CURTIS

The Lutes opened their campaign in Memorial Gymnasium by trouncing the Thunderbirds by a 78-48 score. Back-board strength proved to be the deciding factor, as the locals hauled in 69 rebounds over against 29 for the opposition. Big Chuck Curtis took scoring honors with 28 points.

Curtis again led the scoring with 37 points when the Lutes invaded the Canadian Maples, to lead PLC to an 81-58 victory. Tom Sahli picked off 24 rebounds to break the PLC rebound record set by Chuck Curtis last year.

JAMES VAN BEEK

Although winning by a comfortable margin, the Lutes had to hustle to post an 81-54 victory over the Vikings at Parkland. Chuck Curtis pumped in 32, and grabbed 28 rebounds to lead the attack.

The battle at Bellingham was a bitter up-hill struggle for the locals. The score was knotted seven times during the game and Western held a 31-23 half-time margin. With some sharp shooting from the outside and Chuck Curtis' 21 points, the Lutes captured their twenty-first consecutive win in conference play.

Thomas Sahli

The Lutes rolled to their fifth consecutive city college basketball championship by bouncing the Loggers 70-54. Despite a rugged zone defense, the superior marksmanship and the backboard strength of the Parklanders proved the deciding factors. Roger Iverson paced the PLC attack with 18 points.

Although they were outscored in the second half, the Lutherans defeated CPS handily for the third time of the season. The Loggers, after falling behind as many as twenty-four points in the second half, put together several flurries to close the scoring gap, but the determined Lutes were not to be beaten.

The Gladiators won their fourth straight victory in Evergreen competition by sinking the Pirates 87-67. Chuck Curtis fell one point shy of his own school scoring record by chalking up 40 points.

At Parkland, a 97-75 victory by the Lutes gave them their twenty-fourth straight win in Conference play, which bettered the old record held by Eastern. Curtis finally broke the school scoring record with his 44 points. His total also set a new floor record and was a single point short of the Conference individual scoring mark.

After getting off to a shaky start, the Lutes settled down to win handily 87-68 over the Savages. With Curtis, Roiko, Von Beek, and Iverson all hitting in double figures, PLC was able to substitute freely.

The Lutherans traveled to Cheney and captured their second consecutive undefeated League title by scalping the Savages 88 to 50. This was the Lutes' twenty-sixth straight conference victory, and this was the fourth year in a row they have topped the League. Curtis 24 points to end the season with a record 314 points in league play.

With Central failing to score a field goal in the first 12 minutes of play, PLC got off to a quick start and then held on to outscore the Wildcats 57-45 at Parkland. The game was actually won in the first 10 minutes of play, as the visitors outscored the Gladiators in the final 30 minutes.

The Lutes captured their fourth straight Evergreen Conference crown by squeezing by the Central Wildcats 44-42. It was a dog-eat-dog battle with the Lutes putting the game on ice when Chuck Curtis scored on a driving lay-in with only 11 seconds to play.

POST SEASON BASKETBALL

Montana State ended the Lute's victory skein at 13 games when they squeezed by them 63-59, and 85-80, in a two game series at Bozeman. The second night, Chuck Curtis made 15 of 16 from the charity line to tie the school record held by Gene Lundgaard and himself.

Seattle U. trounced the Gladiators 94-60 as Elgin Baylor stuffed the basket with 51 points and pulled off 37 rebounds to better his own Seattle U. scoring record.

In the preliminary game of the NAIA finals in Washington, the Lutherans bettered Western 85-62. They earned the right to represent District No. 1 by downing Central in a "best of three" series.

The initial contest in the final playoff was a well played, defensive game. As in the conference game in Ellensburg, the Lutes edged the Central Wildcats, this time by a score of 54-51. Free throws proved to be an important factor of the game.

The Lutherans earned their third straight trip back to the national NAIA classic at Kansas City by taking the second game of the District playoff 72-50. It was a rugged contest with 40 fouls being called. The Wildcats were without the services of Bill Coordes, who scored 22 points in the first game, due to a sprained ankle. Four Lutes scored in the double figures.

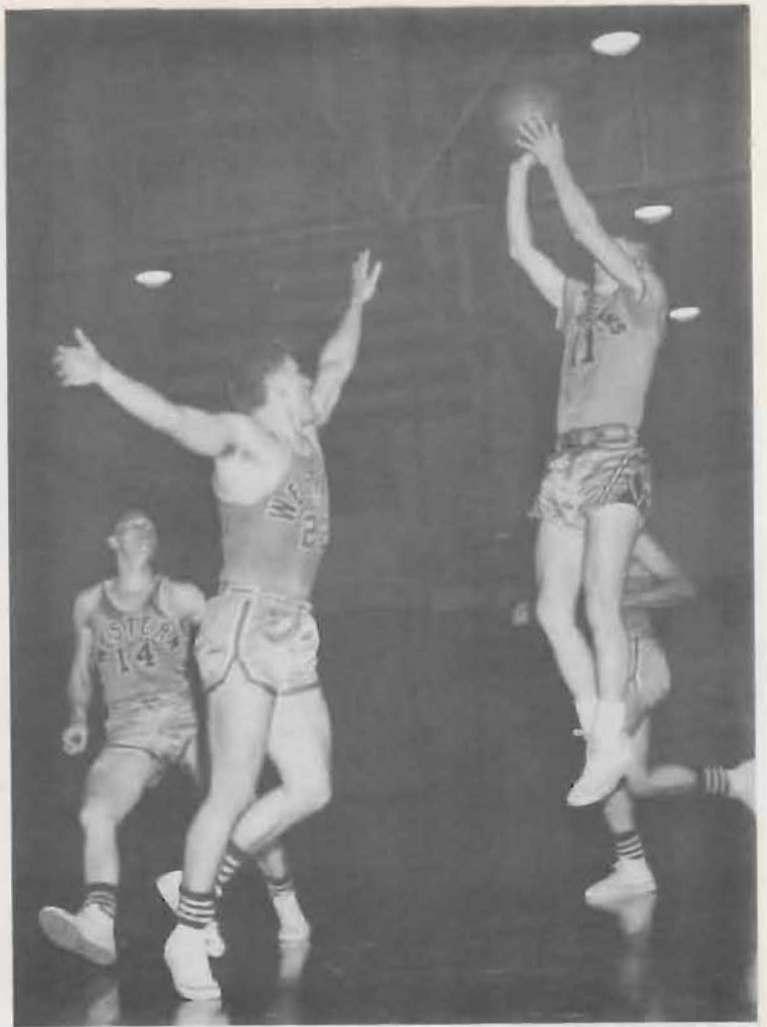

The Lutes, who were seeded fourth in the NAIA Tournament in Kansas City, came from behind in the second half to conquer Eastern New Mexico 76-63. After shooting a cool .278 per cent in the first half, the Gladiators hit 23 of 33 shots in the second period for a .697 percentage.

The Parklanders lost a tense heartbreaker in the last two seconds of an overtime period to Georgetown College of Kentucky 92-91. This was the second straight year the Lutes were eliminated from the tournament by only a one point margin (last year they were shaded 71-70 in the last nine seconds of the semi-final game with Tennessee State).

Thus ended another successful basketball season for the Lutherans. Also, it was the last game coached by Marv Harshman for Pacific Lutheran College. During his 13 years at PLC, the Lutes have compiled 246 wins against 122 losses under Harshman tutoring. Captain Tom Sahli and Lute Jerstad will also leave PLC via graduation.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity made an impressive performance in their '57-'58 season, as they piled up 12 victories against 7 losses. Mark Salzman ended his seventh year as coach for the Junior Lutes. In the first round of city league play the team came in second only to the Cheney Studs. Second round action found the Studs again in first place, giving them the trophy. The JVs finished with a tie for second place, as they lost their last contest with the Cheney-men by a slim 79-74 margin.

The young Lutes set a scoring record in defeating Acoma Car Rental, 103-53. This was 2 points better than last season's 101-78 victory over the Cheney quintet.

Dean Morrison and Ardeen Iverson led their teammates in scoring. Morrison averaged 14.7 points a game and had a total of 265 points. Iverson compiled a total of 230 points for a 12.8 points per game average.

Roger Iverson, All-Conference

Jim Van Beek, All-Conference.

The Lute track squad won two of its six meets this season. Once again the individual performance was outstanding, but the over-all team performance was hurt due to a lack of depth.

John Fromm has been undefeated in the javelin throw so far this year. He won 1st place in the NAIA District No. 1 track meet when he threw the spear 238 feet. This is the longest throw recorded in the Northwest. Fromm will compete in the NAIA, NCAA, and the National AAU events this summer. If he takes a 1st or 2nd in the AAU meet, he will have a chance to be on the American team traveling to Russia later this summer. John was awarded the George Fisher Memorial Trophy for his accomplishments as the outstanding senior athlete. Among them were his participation on the football and baseball team.

Tom Gilmer collected 35 1/5 points in the six triangular meets to lead the team and he was followed by Searcy with 32, and Lee with 30 1/4.

TENNIS

It wasn't an outstanding season for the Lute netmen, but the young team gained much through experience.

Larry Peterson, a left-handed freshman led the team in individual scoring with 4 points. He was followed by Student Coach Jim Van Beek and Ken Gaul, another frosh showing great promise, who tallied 3 points each. Others included in competition were Dave Greg, Wally Hall, Ron Walsh, and Daryl Troedson. Van Beek commented, "We were inexperienced and our record wasn't impressive, but the individual matches were close in many cases. As the season progressed we improved and won two of our last three matches. The competition was strong throughout the league with some of their first men being among the best in the state."

The team will lose the services of Student Coach Don Hall through graduation and Bob Sparling through transfer to Oregon State. In his three years of competition at PLC, Hall won a total of 18 matches while losing only four and tying two. During this year he has averaged 72.75 strokes per round.

Sparling leaves a record of 17 wins, eight losses and three ties in his three years of competition at PLC, averaging 74.84 strokes per round.

The Lutes took 2nd place in the three-day Evergreen Conference Tournament. Sparling was low scorer the first day and third lowest in the tournament. The Western Vikings bettered the Lutes by only one stroke to win the tournament.

The Pacific Lutheran College family was deeply saddened this past year by the death of five beloved members.

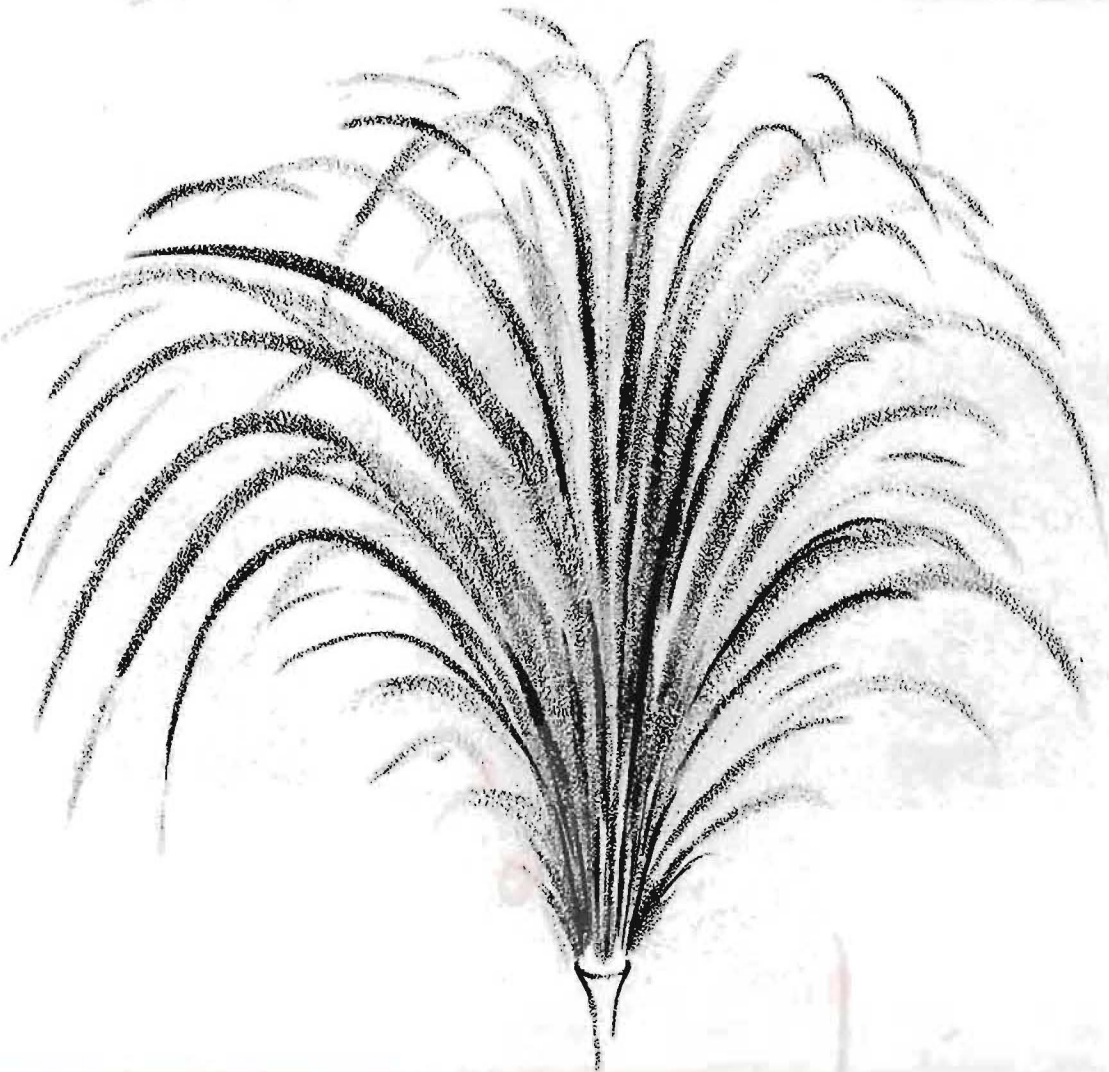

Allen Schackel of Port Angeles died November 9, 1957 in a Tacoma hospital following a week's illness.

Mrs. C. K. Malmin, housemother of Old Main passed away February 9, 1958 in a Tacoma hospital after a two month illness.

The three girls, Miriam Stoa, Diana Paul and Jeannette Olson, were killed in an automobile accident near North Platt, Nebraska, March 7, 1958 while traveling to an ELC Student Conference at Augustana College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

We rejoice in the knowledge that we have not lost these dear ones and that now they are joyfully serving their Lord in the Church Triumphant.

FOR WITH THEE IS THE FOUNTAIN OF LIFE: IN THY LIGHT SHALL WE SEE LIGHT.

PSALMS 36:9

Another year at Pacific Lutheran is completed, but not forgotten. The book which you now hold in your hands will help retain the many memories for the future. I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the persons who have made this volume possible.

The photography in the Saga was taken care of by McKewen's Studio. A simple thank you seems insufficient for the tremendous task, but to you, Donna and Mac, that thank you comes from the bottom of my heart.

Another special word of thanks goes to our publisher, Berncliff Printers of Portland. I appreciate the personal interest that Mr. Bridges took in our book and for the valuable time that he donated to help complete the ad section and directories.

I wish to thank our advisor, Milton Nesvig, for the encouragement and the helpful hints that he gave me. Your patience was very much appreciated, Milt.

One of the toughest jobs of the year was tackled by our business manager, Jim Bullock. He not only put the Saga on its feet financially, but made the Saga Carnival a smashing success and helped to revive the Minstrel Show. It was a pleasure to work along side of you, Jim.

How can a person thank an assistant editor, who is not only a top assistant, but also tackles the job of copy editor and substitutes as a section editor? Teddi Gulhaugen, may I wish you all the success in the world on the 1959 Saga.

The cover of the Saga was designed by Don Anderson. The colored picture of Christ was painted by Jay Tronsdale and the art work was contributed by Dick Landgren. Thank you for a beautiful job.

A special word of thanks is also in line for all of the section editors. To Melva Fuhr for a splendid job on the administration, and to Karen Kublank for her wonderful activities section. To Liz Heins for her almost unimaginable task of completing the student section. To Joann Apker for taking the fine arts again, and the terrific task of Patti Ahrens as she again tackled the organizations and living groups. To Jim Haaland for the difficult job of putting the sports section together.

The staff was shocked by the loss of our religion editor, Diana Paul. Blessed be the memory of one of the hardest workers on this production.

Thanks to those who assisted the section editors—Paddy O'Callahan, Marlene Lorenzen, Gordon Gradwohl, Louis Spry, Bob Mortenson, Ron Jorgenson, Coleen Therriault, Doreen Zeuske, Rich Hamlin, and Diane Newsham.

The typing of copy was faithfully finished by Jean Trzil, Irene Koch, Julie Renhard, Arlette Knudsen, Sania Issacson, Mardell Soiland, Elaine Wacker, Carol Jenson, Doreen Nelson, and Marilyn Greenman. I would like to especially thank my sister, Donna, who typed and checked the entire index.

There are many others that need a word of praise. Penthouse Studio gave us their fullest cooperation on the Junior and Senior pictures; Roy Williams and Bill Holiday filled in with needed photographs; and George Doebler sold over a thousand dollars worth of advertising.

The Saga is completed and I would like to thank the student body for selecting me as editor of this book. May this Saga be a credit to a great institution—Pacific Lutheran College.

Duane Moe, Editor

Cooperation is the secret of anything that is a success. Without the help of many, this book could not have been a success. Special help has been received from the businessmen of this area through their advertisements.

We of the Saga would like to thank them and as they have supported us, let us support them.

Congratulations to each of you of the graduating class of 1957. It is not easy to win a college degree; one has to work for it, perhaps harder today than ever before. We applaud you for having successfully earned yours.

It has been a pleasure to come to know those of you who visited our Parkland office from time to time. We hope that at one or another of our 21 branches in the state, National Bank of Washington will continue to have the privilege of serving you.

Should we have an office in the city or town of your choice, stop in and introduce yourself. And if our people can help you with local information, or business introductions, or financial advice and service, they will be more than happy to do so.

forest products for tomorrow are growing on tree farms today...

All across America, tree farm lands that were harvested to provide wood for past and present generations are green with growing trees. Rooted in rich forest soil amid the stumps of their elders, these new timber crops will supply an abundance of useful forest products to meet future needs. This pattern of harvesting and restocking can go on indefinitely through proper management of commercial timberlands.

Forestry techniques used on Weyerhaeuser tree farms, for example, are intended to maintain a perpetual balance in the cycle of tree growth and harvest. By measuring the amount of new wood being grown on company lands, our foresters are able to establish the volume of merchantable timber to be cut. After each harvest, the land is put back into production through planned reforestation programs. These practices, together with constant protection against fire, insects and disease will enable our timberlands to produce a continuous flow of wood...forever.

The prophecy of a steady rise in the future demand for wood emphasizes the importance of good forestry today. Write us at Box A, Tacoma, Wash., for a free booklet on industrial forestry, Promise of the Trees.
