UNDEFEATED GLADIATORS MEET JAYSEES

Branch Society of Phi Rho Pi's Organized Here

Washington Alpha Chapter of National Honorary Debate Club to Supervise Formation

The latest thing in organizations at Pacific Lutheran College is a debating society that will be formed in the near future under the Washington Alpha Chapter of Phi Rho Pi, a national honorary forensic society for junior colleges of which there are four members enrolled in school. They are Marie Vandenburg, Ruth Norgaard, Ruth Jacobson, and Oali Hageness. Four other members of last year's debate squad are also members, namely, Viola Taw, Fred Walter, Raymond Jacobson, and Hugh Tallent. Ruth Jacobson and Marie Vandenburg are president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the local chapter of the society.

The proposed debating society will be formed for the purpose of arousing interest in the school forensic activities as well as to give varsity debate squad experience. It will be an organization separate from the Phi Rho Pi society, but members of the latter will act as coaches and advisers to the other group. Present plans are to divide the society into teams that will hold debates among themselves throughout the year.

Prospects for a strong varsity squad are fairly good this year. Four lettermen have returned, and some good material has been discovered among the students that have enrolled this fall. Last year the debaters won seven clashes and lost five.

RALLY CREATES PEP FOR GAME

An unusual amount of pep was displayed by the students last Thursday at the bonfire rally preceding the Lincoln game. After the evening meal the students gathered in the recreation room, where they practiced yells for the game. Football men were pushed to the front to give speeches, rousing the crowd to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

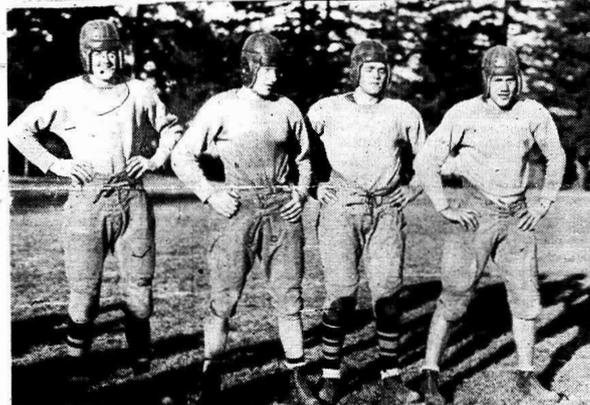

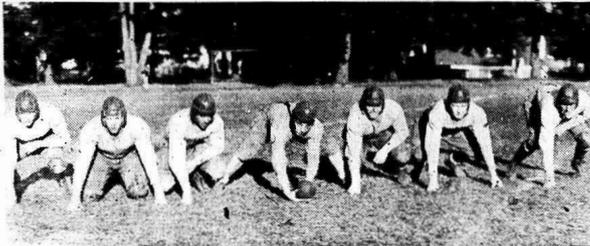

Filled with spirit, the group went to the football field to celebrate an event which had been prepared during the afternoon—the burning of an effigy called "The Spirit of Lincoln." The rain failed to dampen the fervor of the participants, and the "Spirit of Lincoln" vanished amid shouts from the lusty throats of the ardent boosters. The crowd again entered into the yelling and speech-making with much show of spirit, with Professor Beck giving a rousing talk.

First Undertaking to Help Needy in Vicinity

To help the needy in this vicinity is the first undertaking the Mission decided at a meeting held in the Recreation room, Wednesday October 15, 1930. Regarding this, Rev. Pfeuger, advocate of the organization, said: "There lies untold possibilities for good in the society. The Spirit of Christ is not only to do what we are compelled to do, but to do more. This adds power and influence to an organization. We should make our lives count in a Missionary way."

Rev. Pfeuger showed great enthusiasm for the Mission Society, and feels that its members will enjoy a successful year.

Staff of Mooring Mast Now Chosen

Hageness to Retain Editorship of Publication; May be Changes Later

Although it is not absolutely definite, since members may be added later in the semester, the Mooring Mast staff for the first half of the school term has been decided. Oali Hageness, who was editor-in-chief during the second semester last year, will act in that capacity again this year, while Stella Sorboe will work as managing editor.

The remainder of the staff is as follows: Associate editor, Frederick Mau; Sports editor, Harold Gray; Copy editors, Amelia Holmquist and Marie Vandenburg; Features, Frances Jane Lavin, Ted Evjenth, and Margaret Forath; Exchange editor, Mildred Card; Alumni editor, Ida Hinderlie; Society, Cora Goplerud; Reporters, Clara Fjermedal, Mattie E. Pease, Evelyn Arneson, Harry Southworth, Thors Rasmussen, Eric Hauke, Pauline Schlermann, Ruth Brown, and John Hopp; Typist, Freda Dubigk.

This term marks the seventh year that the Mooring Mast has been published. Before the "Saga" was published last year the Mooring Mast was the only student publication.

METHODS CLASS VISITS MRS. GOULD'S SCHOOL

Miss Fowler's Methods and Observation Class had a very pleasant experience last Friday, when they visited the classes of the Margaret K. Gould in Tacoma. This is a private school located at North Third and "J" Streets, which caters especially to exceptional children.

If the pupils are to be at Mrs. Gould's school for an extended length of time they are given a chance to do more than a year's work during one year. If they are to be there for but one year, they are held to one year's work so as to be in accord with the public school standards of Tacoma.

This school has the kindergarten and the first three grades. Mrs. Gould has a large staff of teachers, so that every child will be able to get the right amount of personal instruction. To supplement this observation, Mrs. Gould visited the class on Tuesday to answer questions and to explain the fundamentals of her system.

P. L. C. STUDY HALLS SPOTTED WITH COLOR

Early Tuesday morning the study halls of P. L. C. were spotted with color. During the day more and more color appeared. No, the halls were not being painted; it was only the outpouring of school spirit manifesting itself. In other words the long awaited "Rooter Caps" had at last arrived, and everyone was displaying his own.

The caps may be procured from Alvene Schlermann.

Hallow'en Party November First

Student Body Leaders Appoint Committees to Supervise Gatering

Preparations for the annual Hallow'en party, which will be held on November first, this year, are going ahead rapidly. The program was first scheduled for October 31, Hallow'en night, but because of a change in the football schedule that will see P. L. C. meet Aberdeen Junior College in a night contest on this date, the party will be staged one day later.

To all indications the entertainment this year will be on a par with, if not better than, those of former years. The program will contain many novel stunts and tricks that are peculiar to Hallow'en festivities.

The executive committee, consisting of the officers of the student body, have appointed the following committees to take charge of the various phases of the party.

OLSON'S ELEVEN TO CLASH WITH CENTRALIA COLLEGE

PARKLAND GRID FIELD TO BE THE SCENE OF ANNUAL CONTEST; LUTHERANS OPTIMISTIC AS TO OUTCOME; TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

By HAROLD GRAY

One of the severest tests to be faced this year by Coach Olson's Gladiator pigskin chasers will be dissected out this coming Friday, October 24, on the Parkland field, when the College varsity meets the strong Jaysees of Centralia Junior College, in the annual battle between the football elevens of these two institutions.

Throughout the entire history of Gladiator grid teams, there has been an intense desire to win this yearly battle. Last year, Coach Olson's cohorts invaded the Centralia field, but came back with more than the usual amount of scratches and bruises, besides being on the short end of a 62-to-0 score.

Team Optimistic

Alumni Meet in Trinity Church

Miss Dahl to Act as Chairman At Organization of District Group Friday

Alumni of Pacific Lutheran Academy, Columbia Lutheran College, and Pacific Lutheran College living in the territory of Parkland, Yelm, and Roy will meet at 8 o'clock, Friday, October 24, to form a Parkland Alumni Association. The meeting will be held in the parlors of Trinity Lutheran Church on the campus, and Miss Irene Dahl, '30, will be chairman. The district organization of Alumni was decided upon at the last Alumni Association reunion. At present the association consists of all alumni in one body, and it is felt that more effective work can be done with the alumni organized in local districts.

In the afternoon the P. L. C. Varsity football team will clash with the formidable Centralia Junior College eleven, and it is expected that many of the alumni will attend.

Cram's Loose-Leaf Atlas Added to List

Among the fifty books added to the Pacific Lutheran College library in the last two weeks are Cram's thirty-three dollar loose-leaf atlas of the world, and several plays.

Orders for one hundred books, including volumes for the art, science, English literature, education, sociology, and history departments, have been placed and will probably be here in two weeks' time.

D. O. R. Girls Elect Executive Officers

At the election of officers held at the D. O. R. meeting on October 9, Louise Schneider was chosen vice-president, Ruth Howard, secretary, and Anna Mikkelsen, treasurer. Mrs. A. W. Ramstad was chosen as adviser.

Anna Mikkelsen and Dorothy Lehmann were selected to represent the organization at the meeting of the Women's Missionary Federation in Tacoma on October 21.

The program consisted of a vocal solo by Margaret Forath, an article on the Shiloh Mission, read by Ruth Brown, and a report by the president on the convention she attended at Pir.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Beautiful Savior" by the girls. Dainty refreshments were served by the freshmen.

Olson's men do not seem the least bit discouraged over the result of the contest last year, but are taking an optimistic view as to the outcome of the clash this year. They are somewhat justified in this attitude, as they have won all of their games this year by comfortable margins.

To date, the Gladiators have scored 101 points to their opponents' 6. The first game of the season, which was with the College of Puget Sound Reserves, was won by a score of 39 to 0. The P. L. C. men had their own way throughout the entire game. The Navy Training School of Bremerton was the second team to fall before the powerful offensive attack of the Parkland team.

The third contest, which was played last Friday, was won by a 29 to 6 score from Lincoln High of Tacoma. This was another easy game, with the ball resting in the opponent's territory most of the clash.

Although Major Olson's squad have hopes of winning this clash, the opposition will be much tougher than any faced previously this year, so the team will undoubtedly be run through hard practices in preparation for this game.

The Jaysees have a fairly good team this year and have been having good success in their games, although they fell before the attack of Ellensburg Normal last Saturday by a 34 to 6 score. Several lettermen are back to form the nucleus of the team, so the Lutheran boys will be faced with all the opposition they will want.

Sankey Johnson and Arnie Thostenson will start the game at the wing positions. Johnson made a name for himself last year at snagging passes while Thostenson shows well on defense as well as offense. Hageness, a new man, will see some action.

Curriculum Sees Several Changes

Several changes have been made in the short course curriculum for this year, according to Professor P. E. Haug, registrar. This course is offered primarily for the foreign-born who are interested in learning the American language or preparing for American citizenship.

Mrs. Bonstead will teach the shorthand course instead of Mr. Beck, who will take over the Americanization course. Other subjects offered and their respective teachers are: Penmanship, Mr. Bardson; Spelling, Mrs. Bonstead; English, Mrs. Taylor; Arithmetic, Mr. Olson; Bible, Mr. Pfeuger.

This course began Tuesday, October 21, and will extend over a period of eighteen weeks.

A NEW GAME

Now that Professor Pflueger is a member of the faculty, the students have a chance to start a new sport. Mr. Pflueger is an authority on archery. He not only has been president of the Seattle Archery club, but he is also well acquainted with the construction of bows and arrows, and has distinguished himself with the invention of a machine for testing arrows. Archery is a very healthful sport, especially for those who can not participate in the more strenuous activities, and is a great game for developing skill and poise. Chasing arrows would undoubtedly provide exercise for the inexperienced for some time. The equipment, of course, would not have to be of the most expensive type, and the investment would be well worth making. Professor Pflueger is willing to supervise the sport, and the students would do well to avail themselves of his service.

A few more pep rallies like the one last Thursday night ought to bring back the enthusiasm that has been a chief characteristic of the school in years past. It wouldn't be a bad idea to hold a rally before every game as left on the schedule; it seemed to help the football team at Lincoln.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

How much do we observe the outdoors with its beauties? In our rush from day to day to accomplish the things that mean so much to us, we seldom stop to notice the wonderful works of art about us. The maple leaves turn red and gold, the last flowers of the season struggle bravely for existence; the once green grass gasps for breath, as if it realized that winter is coming. Yes! winter is coming, folks! Have you stopped in your busy routine to enjoy autumn? In just a few days the last leaves will fall to the ground, thus proclaiming that their mission is over. Their life, so short, yet so beautiful, so full of inspiration has not been in vain if but one human being has gained joy from it.

It's an old, old story, but it's always important. Advertising that is good this year, which is another way of saying that The Mooring Mast finds it hard to go. We wonder if it wouldn't be possible for the students to patronize the advertisers and maybe drop a little hint when they do so. "I saw your ad in The Mooring Mast." See, it's not hard to do, but it means a lot.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT AND CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

This Mooring Mast published 18 issues September to June at Parkland, Washington for October, 1929. State of Washington, County of Pierce, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared John Johnson, who, having been duly sworn according to law deposes and says that he is the business manager of the Mooring Mast, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse side of this form, to-wit: 1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor and business managers are: Publisher—Student Body of Pacific Lutheran College at Parkland, Washington; Olav Hagensen, editor, Parkland, Washington; Managing editor, Stella Sorboe; Business Manager, John Johnson; adviser, O. J. Stuen.

2. That the owner is: The Pacific Lutheran College student body.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: none.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders as they appear upon the books of the company as

Dear Ma in Pa: Oh, we had so much fun the other night. Some of the gum kids took us on a snipe hunt. Did you ever go on a snipe hunt when you were kids? It's more fun than anything but it's very hard to catch any snipes. The time for the hunt is just after dark. You go into the woods and get behind a tree and cackle. The snipe hears you and comes out of its hiding place. When it comes near the tree, you run but and grab it. None of us got any snipes the other night. We are going out again some other night. When I get some I'll save the feathers, and you can make some more pillows for Aunt Lizzie. By the way, how is Aunt Lizzie? And how is Uncle Willie's leg? The football boys have some medicine that they use when they are hurt in football. It's called Horning's and it doesn't smell very good but I guess it is pretty effective. If you'll send me some money I'll ask Mr. Olson if he'll let me have some for Uncle Willie's leg.

I tried out for a Dermatic Club Friday Night and I gave the poem about the Wreck of the old 49. Some of the kids laughed but I guess it was because they didn't realize how sad the poem was. In the part where it told of the engineer's fair haired daughter I made my voice tremble. The girls said it sounded very pitiful so I guess maybe I've got a chance.

Oh, we had a very real exciting time one night. Somebody put their foot through the ceiling over one of the rooms in the girls' dorm. The plaster fell through and some sticks and other stuff. I guess nobody knows who did it.

Ma, do you remember when you first began to like Pa? You remember don'tcha? Well, I guess there's a kid here that I like pretty well. He is very handsome. His name is Aakewesshus. I guess he likes me too because every time I go past him he laughs.

There is going to be a halloween party here and all the kids are going to dress up and so will you please send me some money so that I can get a green sash that I saw down town the other day. It will go just fine with my purple silk dress and I will wear those red shoes that I trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affairs full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity, other than that of a bonafide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

Perrinkle Feet Balls History of Eppeswash Game

In the last installment of this yarn we heard how the game was postponed. In this issue we will write how it began. The opposing team were clothed in silk raiment, white material spotted with polka dots to hide all manner of stains. At twelve thirty-one and there, thirds the coin was found hidden in the lower left heel of "warfield's shoe" where it had taken refuge from the Scots. Upon this discovery the teams were called from their game of rook, to continue their struggle for supremacy. The whistle blew and the ball was kicked or thrown by the group from Perrinkle, one of the Polkas caught the ball in his hair and walked nonchalantly to the ten-yard line, where he was thrown for a gain of 56 yards. His name will not be published because the English alphabet lacks letters to spell it. In the fray that followed, one of the referees suffered serious injuries on the thumb-nail of his right hand, necessitating the election of a new referee. On the very next play Foot Phitentele was discharged from the contest, because of tweaking the nose of the opposing player and was replaced by Jonan Johanson, a Hebrew boy from Madagascar. As it was now fourth down, and no yards gained or lost, Jake Fishernest, "The Bully of Putnam Hall," excused himself to have his fingernails manicured. The main drawback out of the game, the rest of the players followed suit. Time out was called while this necessary operation was completed. At this time the writer of this chronicle repaired to the Inn to have a sip of coffee while this class reigned. To be continued. I must have my coffee.

DELTA RHO GAMMAS HOLD REGULAR MEET Delta Rho Gammas held their weekly meeting on Tuesday October 14 at 12:30. The motion was made and carried that the president appoint a committee to visit Mrs. Ph. E. Hauge, who is convalescing from a serious operation to bring the best wishes of the club to her. The committee as appointed consisted of Muriel Soine, Dorothy Lehman, Ida Hinderlie, and Charlmy Altman. An announcement was made that those who desire the club pin, should put in their orders immediately.

The Right Answer A university student received a question during examinations that he did not know how to answer. He wrote the question on his paper and gave this reply: "God knows; I don't. Merry Christmas." The day after New Year's he received back his paper, with this notation: "God gets a hundred, you get zero. Happy New Year."

While strolling about the campus a student found an old shoe within five feet of the front entrance of the campus. After a careful survey the finder drew this conclusion—the thief used the front entrance to escape with his prey, but just as he

SOCIETY

Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad entertained a group of relatives in their new residence, Sunday, October 12. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. Sherven, Norman Tveit, Mrs. Tingelstad's brother and his fiancée, Miss Clara Myhre, a former member of the administration of Pacific Lutheran College.

Mrs. John Salater returned to her home Saturday, October 18, from a six months' trip in Norway, where she visited her many friends and relatives. Mr. Salater returned last week from Alaska where he spent the summer.

Mrs. Taylor entertained, with a waffle breakfast, Sunday morning at her home in Parkland. Guests included Mrs. Kreidler and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Olson.

The Soroptimist Club, of which Dean Kreidler is a member, entertained their national president, Mrs. Bertha K. Landis, at dinner in the Hotel Walker on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Landis gave an interesting report of the national convention in Philadelphia and of the international convention in London, both of which she attended last summer.

Among those who spent the weekend in Seattle were Miss Dorothy Lehman and Miss Berdine Knutsen. A number of students spent Sunday at the Convention there.

Miss Ruth Jacobson attended a party at the home of Miss Neida Six in Tacoma, Saturday evening, October 11.

Parkland News

The Suburban Study Club held its annual guest program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Edwards, Tuesday afternoon. Over fifty members and guests enjoyed an interesting program consisting of a piano duet by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Edwards, vocal solos by Mrs. Clifford Olson, a piano solo by Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad and quartet number by Mrs. John Xavier, Mrs. Clifford Olson, Mrs. A. Ramstad and Mrs. Elmer Hawken. An interesting talk on Iceland was given by Mrs. John Aranson Johnson of Tacoma, who attended the wonderful millennial celebration held in Iceland the past summer.

The Parkland P. T. A. celebrated "Dad's Night" in the Parkland school Friday evening. The program, which consisted of several talks and various amusing stunts, was followed by the serving of refreshments.

An enjoyable birthday party sponsored by the Trinity congregation, was held in the church on Friday evening, October 17, in honor of the oldest and most faithful couple in the church, Mr. and Mrs. Halsten. Both have shown much interest in the church and school.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Swanson, well known residents of Parkland for many years, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary with the wedding of their youngest son, Ernest, to Miss Mary Cunningham, of Tacoma, Saturday evening, October 18, in their home here in Parkland.

The Parkland Community Club, at a meeting held on October 14, decided to join the Pierce County Civic club because it was felt that the community interests would be better served by so doing.

With The Alumni

Harold Myhre, last year's honor student who registered for his last year of college here, was forced to leave school because of serious illness. A successful operation has been performed and Harold is now convalescing at the Tranquile Sanitarium, where he will remain for at least three months.

The Misses Eliot Mikkelson, Leah Grass, and Margaret Carlson, former students, visited Walter French, who recently underwent an operation in Tacoma. Mr. French is improving rapidly.

A lovely miscellaneous shower was given Monday evening, October 13, in Tacoma, in honor of Mrs. Irvin. Reynolds Jacobson, whose marriage to Reynold Jacobson '30, was a recent event. Mrs. Jacobson, formerly Mildred Nelson, received many useful gifts. The hostess, Miss Nordyck Henriksen, also a former P. L. C. student, served a delicious lunch. Those attending the shower were: Helen Tingelstad, Marie Odahl, Daggy Hierstad, Dorothy Lehman, Ida Hinderle, Irene Dahl, Berdine Knutsen, Anna Mikkelson, Ruth Jacobson, Solveig Wangen, and Cora Goplerud.

Miss Victoria Rasmussen and Mr. Arling Sannerud visited friends at the College over the week-end. The engagement of these two former P. L. C. students has been announced. Miss Rasmussen is teaching school at East Stanwood and Mr. Sannerud will graduate from the U. of W. in '31.

A former P. L. C. student, Miss Nelma Guleson, of Tacoma, was a visitor at school on Tuesday, October 14.

5 Years Ago

How long is your memory? Perhaps you can remember "why" back when, but do you know what was happening here at P. L. C. five years ago? Did you know that at that time Prof. Beck, "Our Al," was attending school here? Or that it was the fall of 1925 when Prof. Ramstad came to teach Algebra, Norse, Religion, Science? Yes, and Prof. Edwards came here from St. Olaf College as Dean of the class of 1925 which left the silver loving cups, and started the "ideal student" tradition. These are all worth remembering, but there is still another important thing which happened in that eventful year. Yes, that's it. It was in 1925, when, after having had a pre-normal department for four years, P. L. C. mainly through the efforts of Professors Hauge, Stuen and Xavier, became fully accredited in the normal department. This has meant a great deal, by a large number of students, and is being appreciated more and more.

Quite a year was 1925, don't you think?

News-ing Around

CHINESE STUDENTS AT ST. OLAF
A joint meeting of the Chinese students of St. Olaf and Carleton was held at St. Olaf's College in commemoration of the nineteenth anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic.

Speeches were given by Miss Hwo of St. Olaf, Mr. J. Liu, Mr. Chi, Mr. W. Liu, and Miss Mo of Carleton. The chairman of the program gave an introductory talk after which Hilary Chi gave a short outline of Chinese history including the founding of the Republic of China in October 10, 1911.

Professor John Bly of St. Olaf, who spent eleven years in China as a missionary, gave a short talk on Sino-American relationships and the part the Chinese students played in the liberation of China from foreign aggression.

Idea Lindsey Blainey of Carleton, concluded the series of talks. He had traveled in China in 1915 under the auspices of the Albert Kahn foundation for the promotion of international peace.

LANGUAGE DISPUTE REVIEWED
Norway's language question and the changing of the names of many of the major cities were the leading features discussed by Miss Ruth Sorlie, dean of women at Augustana College, concerning her trip abroad last summer. Miss Sorlie commented upon the intense rivalry between Norway's leading linguists. "It is getting so far now that only ridicule and personal reflections result from the warfare."

Great crowds visited Norway this year, especially Nidaros. The Americans enjoyed visiting the "Land of the Midnight Sun" for them it was so peculiar to see people lingering in the streets at midnight, seemingly in no such hurry to get home as we Americans are.

PRIMITIVE SKILL EXAGGERATED
That the skill of the primitive man in making bows and arrows has been greatly exaggerated, and that much more deadly weapons of this kind can be made by civilized archers, is the contention of a book, "A Study of Bows and Arrows," by the late Dr. Saxton Teasdale Pope, just published by the University of California Press.

Dr. Pope tells of one particular experiment with a bow from Paraguay, South America, at the University of California Museum. The heavy, crooked bow, made of ironwood, 71 inches long, drawing 25 inches and pulling 80 pounds on the string, cast an arrow 170 yards.

By perfecting the bow civilized man was able to cast an arrow 275 yards with it—Puget Sound Trail.

St. Olaf Choir Returns
The members of the St. Olaf Choir have returned from their summer tour of Europe where they have been singing in the old historic cities. They have appeared in cathedrals which it took centuries to build and in which was concentrated all the ingenuity and artistry of the master minds.

The choir gave concerts in Norway, Denmark, Sweden, and then went directly to Oberammergau in southern Germany to witness the Passion Play.

In the tour of Germany the choir visited the Luther country, including the Wartburg, where choir members saw the room in which Luther collected the Bible, and Wittenberg, Luther's hothe city, where they viewed the comprehensive Luther collection and the Schlosskirche, upon the door of which the ninety-five theses were nailed. They also visited the tombs of Luther and Melancthon—Mantout Messenger.

TOXOPHILITE DISCOVERED AT P. L. C. IN PERSON OF PROFESSOR PFLUEGER

"Archery is undoubtedly a much finer sport than golf," says Professor J. P. Pflueger, and he ought to know because he has been an archery enthusiast for many years. He would not lightly disparage the most popular sport of the day. Not only is Mr. Pflueger an archer of some note in the Northwest, but he is also an inventor of national fame and a wood-carver of no mean skill.

Some time ago he was featured in Seattle newspapers and in several scientific magazines because he had invented a mechanical archer. This machine shot arrows in exactly the same fashion every time, so that they could be trimmed and matched. Twice his colleagues of the Seattle Archery club elected him president and on November 7 will honor him with a farewell banquet at which venison shot with bow and arrow by one of the members will be served.

Discords Heard When Students Write Melodies

"What is the key to a piece in 4 sharps?" asks Mr. Edwards. One student answers, "I know; it's B flat," and the others agree; but not so the professor. He proceeds to correct them. "Stepping to the piano, he plays a 'C' and asks which degree on the scale it is. You answer, 'Dominant,' and the harmony is sweet. He thinks you've learned something. But you spell the triad 'G. C. E' instead of 'G. B. D.' and after a lecture on how to make certain discords sound right in harmony, the professor tries his hand at writing a bass solo and instructs you to write the soprano, alto, and tenor parts to make the piece melodious. Having done your best you go to class in high spirits, hoping against hope that there is no mistake for him to find. When the first look at your composition he takes out his pencil and marks 'hidden fifth.' You say, 'But, I've even doubled the fifth. How can it be hidden?" whereupon he gives you a wry look. Then he tells you that some of the voices jump around too much; that the soprano and bass should skip quite a bit, but the alto and tenor should be "snakes in the grass."

The workshop where Mr. Pflueger follows his mechanical bent, contains a number of machines which he designed and constructed. Among these are a turning-lathe, a planer, and a jig saw. Through various belt drives, they are all driven by a single electric motor.

Every Page of a memory book is full of meaning and importance. College students love to keep it—and how they will treasure it later.

It makes the most attractive and satisfactory of all gifts.

Gladiators Show Prowess to Drub Abe Ball-Toters

Coach Olson's Men Easily
Defeat Lincoln Eleven by
29 to 6; Schiermann,
Lisherness are Outstanding

For the first time this season the Gladiator varsity had a chance to show their prowess to Tacoma fans when they drubbed the Lincoln High Raisplitter by a 29 to 6 score in the Lincoln Bowl, Friday, October 17. Coach Clifford Olson's men absolutely outclassed the Abe team in all departments of the game, making eighteen first downs to the Abes' three.

The game was slowed up because of the extremely bad condition of the Lincoln grid-iron. The soft sand on the field, which was three inches deep, slowed down the Gladiator team, preventing a more decisive score. Jack Lisherness, fullback, and Alvne Schiermann, guard, were the outstanding gridmen of the encounter. Lisherness tore the Lincoln line to shreds on his line plunges, while Schiermann was responsible for a great number of the Lincoln plays which failed to gain.

The Gladiators soon hit their stride after the opening whistle and were going through the Raisplitter forward wall for large gains. A pass, Carlson to Nyman, netted twenty yards, and Lisherness took the ball down the field on several successive line plunges to the eight-yard line. Leque made three yards, and Lisherness took the ball over on two more line plays. The ball was in mid-field the rest of the quarter.

Menor Olson's team kept the ball within scoring distance of the Lincoln goal most of the second quarter but could not score until near the end of that period. The Gladiator team made first down, but when they got to the Lincoln ten-yard mark, the Abes' line held and the ball was lost on downs. After three unsuccessful attempts to score, Carlson took the ball over the goal line from the thirty-five yard mark, but it was called back because a P. L. C. player was holding. Carlson again took the ball on an end-run to the three-yard line. Lisherness again proved reliable in a pinch and took the ball over on two line plays. Lisherness also made an extra point on a play through center.

After the kick-off starting the second half, P. L. C. punted after unsuccessful in making anything on line plays. The punt was perfect, going out of bounds on the two-yard line. Schiermann showed his ability by blocking Broger's attempt to punt out of danger. Dosskey, a Lincoln man fell on the ball behind the goal line, but Parand was given two points.

After Lincoln had kicked from the twenty-yard line, Lisherness, Carlson and Leque carried the ball to the nine-yard line on off-tackle and end plays. Lisherness was chosen to carry the pignkin, and he carried it over for the third touchdown. Leque made the try-for-point. The ball remained in Lincoln territory the remainder of the quarter, but the Gladiators did not attempt to score.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, Lincoln made their only spurt of the game and made a first down but had to punt. The ball rolled out of bounds on the P. L. C. nine-yard line. When Carlson attempted to punt, a big hole in the line was left open by substitute tackle who had just entered the game, and the kick was blocked and recovered by a Lincoln player, giving the Abes their only score of the game.

After this the Lutheran team showed more spirit and took the ball from the fifty-yard line down the field on the smashes by Ware, substitute full-back, and Carlson. On the eight-yard line, a forward pass was called, and Leque tossed a pretty throw into the waiting arms of Nyman, whose feet were on scoring turf. Ware made the try-for-point on a line smash.

The game team showed the best they have this year, with the line probably accounting for the number of touchdowns. The second team line was put in the game part of the last quarter, and they outclassed the Raisplitter forward wall.

Sport Slants

By Harold Gray

After defeating Lincoln so successively and decisively last Friday, our varsity at the present time is pointing its guns toward Centralia Junior College, the next team to be played. The game will be played this Friday, October 21 on our field, so there is no reason why the student body should not be out there one hundred percent, rooting for our team.

Without a doubt, the team this year is the best that ever represented this school so we should show our appreciation by giving Coach Olson's men all the support possible. At the present time, the records show that we have won three games and lost none. The team has scored 101 points to their opponents six.

For this success, Coach Olson deserves much credit from the students of this school. Ever since football was inaugurated at P. L. C., the teams have been but mediocre. This probably has been the fault of the material with which the coaches have had to work. This year Coach Olson had eleven lettermen back and a wealth of new material, with the result that we have a team that is up to par with most of the small four-year colleges in this vicinity.

The Gladiators' first chance to play at night will be given them when they meet Aberdeen Junior College at Aberdeen a week from this coming Friday. Nothing is known of the strength of the Aberdeen team, but you can be sure that they will have a fighting team. Several ex-Aberdeen High School stars will be seen in their lineup.

If anybody deserves credit for that decisive win last Friday, Jack Lisherness and Alvne Schiermann surely do. Jack always has been one of the best defensive men in this part of the country. He was formerly a tackle, but last year Coach Olson converted him into his present position, full back. Last year he played fairly good on the offense but did not anywhere compare with his defensive work. Anybody that saw that Lincoln game can not deny the fact that he was the best offensive player in the game, besides playing his usual defensive game.

Alvne Schiermann, the other outstanding player of the contest, is a veteran at the guard berth. Most of the plays through his side of the line that were stopped as if they hit a stone wall, can be accredited to this sturdy guard. It was he that broke through the Lincoln line time after time to throw the Abes' backs for losses. He also blocked the Lincoln punt which resulted in two points for the Gladiators.

"Red" Carlson played his usual good game, but for this particular contest I do not think he can be classed with the two above players. Carlson depends largely upon his speed for his end runs, so was handicapped a great deal by the coat of sand on the Lincoln field. True, he did make several long gains but if you will check over the statistics of that game, I think you will discover that Lisherness gained the most yardage.

Faculty Students Attend Convention

Many faculty members and students enrolled in the normal department attended the Washington Educational Association convention which was held in Tacoma, Monday and Tuesday. Speakers from all sections of the United States addressed the 120 teachers present from Pierce and Mason counties at the various sessions that were held in the Jason Lee Intermediate school. The regional system of holding teachers' institutes, with instructors from Eastern colleges, proved popular with the teachers assembled.

Chapel Talk

"Didn't you catch anything?" These were not the exact words Jesus used, but mean the same that His meant.

"Not a thing," was the sad reply. "Then cast your net on the right side," said Jesus.

All of us know the result of this last venture. So many fish came into the net that the disciples were not able to draw it. The result of simple obedience!

It seems easy to think that Jesus takes an interest in the big things of life, but we find it difficult to believe that he can take an interest in the commonplace things of life. Oh, that we could bear in mind that Jesus wants to help us!

The laborer would experience a great change in his work if he had a consciousness of Jesus' presence beside him as he toils hour after hour. The housewife would probably sing or at least be happy all day if she realized that Christ was watching over her humble work.

As students, we need more than ever to realize that Christ is interested in our daily life. Difficult tasks come before us every day, but Jesus sets our feeble struggles and longs to help us through them. Fishing was merely a pastime to

Gladiator Eleven Beats Bremerton

Navy Team is Outclassed by Lutherans in First Home
Game by 33 to 0

In the first home game of the season, the Gladiator varsity squad of pignkin tossers defeated the Navy Training School eleven from Bremerton to the tune of 33 to 0 on Saturday, October 11. The game was exciting throughout, although the Navy team never threatened the Parkland goal.

In the first canto the P. L. C. men worked the ball down to their opponents' six-yard line but there lost the ball on downs. The Bremerton squad then punted out of danger. On the first play following this Leque made a brilliant run for the Gladiators, bringing the pignkin to the eleven-yard marker. Carlson then carried the ball over an end run. He also dropped-kicked successfully for the try-for-point.

In the second quarter Carlson made a pretty run of thirty-eight yards carrying the ball to the twenty-yard line. A pass, Carlson to Johnson netted ten yards and on two successive line plunges Jack Lisherness made the second Parkland touchdown. The score at the end of the first half was 13 to 0.

The Navy team punted after they had received the kick-off in the second half, to the Lutheran 24-yard stripe. Coach Olson's men then penalized fifteen yards, but punted out of danger. A series of punts was then exchanged, with Carlson having the advantage over Waaga, who did the kicking for Uncle Sam's team. Just before the end of the third period Carlisle booted a long one to the Navy safety man, who fumbled with the Gladiators recovering.

Lisherness made ten yards on an off-tackle play, but on the next the ball was fumbled, with the Navy recovering. The Navy then punted to the Parkland thirty-yard line, where Nyman took the ball and returned it twenty-five yards. Lisherness made ten more yards, and Carlson scored on the following play on a beautiful end run from the thirty-five yard line. The try-for-point failed, when Leque kicked low.

The Bremerton captain chose to receive the ball on the kick-off at Bremerton. He touched the ball as it rolled into the end zone. Captain Wolfkill recovered, but was tackled behind his goal, giving the Lutheran team two points. It was not long before Coach Olson's team was hitting their stride again, and Carlson scored on a prettypass from Nyman.

After the kick-off, the Gladiators were on the field with the first yard pignkin to the Navy eight-yard stripe. Lisherness again proved his worth by carrying the ball over on two successive line bucks. The ball was in midfield when the final gun was shot.

Carlson, Lisherness, and Schiermann were the outstanding players of the game, although the entire P. L. C. team worked in perfect coordination.

The disciples, yet Jesus identified Himself with them. Many of our hours are spent in pleasure hunting. Leisure hours are often the most dangerous hours. Many sins are committed during leisure hours. How sorrowful must be the expression of Jesus as He looks upon those for whom He died taking His name in vain and committing many other sins.

Just as Jesus supplied the disciples with a multitude of fishes, so He will provide our daily needs. However, we are not expected to sit with folded hands watching our necessities coming to us. Jesus blesses our efforts, and will give us strength for our labors.

As students, we need more than ever to realize that Christ is interested in our daily life. Difficult tasks come before us every day, but Jesus sets our feeble struggles and longs to help us through them. Fishing was merely a pastime to reached the gate he heard the voice of a "dorm" student reciting State Manual in his sleep. Thinking that he was being pursued, he did not stop to open the gate but made a flying leap over it, and in his mad rush left one shoe behind. Evidently he was too frightened to return for it.

The miscreant no doubt, did not give any sort of vehicle as the shoe was much too worn for one who drives wherever he goes. From a careful study the finder concluded that the shoe was a size 11, brown in color, heel worn thin on outside, and devoid of a shoe lace. Evidently the miscreant is of short stature, as he has worn the toe of his shoe slightly standing on tip-toe.

So keep your eyes open, fellow students, till you find a man wearing a shoe that corresponds with this shoe. Then we will soon have our old kicking post at home again; so fond "college lovers" may resume their diurnal and nocturnal pilgrimages to the kicking post as they did in days of Former Years to Victory

Wait Young and Earl Percival, both emblem winners from last year will start at the tackle positions. They both weigh around 190 pounds and would be an asset to any team. Del Mortenson will go into the game if any reserves are needed.

Alvne Schiermann and Fred Scheel will start as guards in this clash. Schiermann has undoubtedly been the best defensive man on the line this year; so much will be expected of him. Scheel is a veteran of many years and plays a good game. Campbell and Dammel may see action.

John Fadness, who played with the reserves last year, will start at the pivot position. Fadness proved that he was the man for the position during the Navy game, when he fensive playing. Cecil Scott will play exhibited some real offensive and depart time.

Bill Nyman, stand-by of the Gladiators' teams for several years, will start at the signal-bearing position. Bill showed his ability in the Lincoln game when he called three plays in thirty-five seconds, the last of which resulted in a touchdown for the P. L. C. team just as the final gun sounded. Eric Hauke is the reserve quarterback.

Evans "Red" Carlson and Myron Leque are the first choices for the halfback positions. Carlson can carry the ball to good advantage at any time, besides being able to pass and punt. Leque also passes and carries the ball. Vernon and Sanderson will be ushered into the game if reserves are called for.

Jack Lisherness, who has been a defensive star during all the years he has played for the Gladiators, has developed into one of the best offensive fullbacks in this part of the country. Jack was a tackle before he was converted into a fullback by Coach Olson last year. Marvin Ware, reserve, will see some action.
