PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF PACIFIC LUTHERAN COLLEGE, FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1950

NO. 23

Elberson, Taylor Given Leads in All-School Play

The cast of PLC's all-college play, "A Doll House" by Hendrik Ibsen, announced this week by Mrs. Schaffer, faculty director. The leads will be Stan Elberson and Joyce Taylor who will play Torvald and Nora Helmer. These roles have been double cast as the result of the outstanding interpretation of the parts by those trying out. One student will portray the character the evening of May 25, the other will act in the second performance, May 26, and straws will be drawn for the May 27 closing night.

Morry Hendrickson and Don Graham will portray Dr. Rank, family physician and friend. Bob Ericson and Dick Svare will play the part of Nils Krogstad who might be called the villain. Lee Bishop and Bev Wigen will appear as Anna, the governess of the children.

Also cast are Marguerite Eastvold as Mrs. Linden, Kathy Reule as Ellen, and Phil Thorleifson as the porter.

Phil Falk, well known senior and president of Alpha Psi Omega, student dramatics honorary, has been chosen to be student director of the production.

Henrik Ibsen, 19th century author of "A Doll House" was Norway's greatest playwright and one of the world's greatest writers.

"This play will be composed of an all-star cast," stated Mrs. Schaffer. "It is to be the culmination of a year's work."

Jon Ericson will be business manager, Andy Worley stage manager, and Howard Schull technical advisor.

Committee assignments will appear in the next issue of the Mooring Mast.

Picnic, Campus Day Tuesday, If?

By JoANN NODTVEDT

At last the big day is coming! And this time we hope that it doesn't have to be postponed because of Washington's unpredictable weather.

This year Campus Day is going to be absolutely the biggest and best ever. Starting at 8 o'clock next Tuesday morning May 2, all crews will begin in their annual raking, cleaning, and general picking-up of all paper, leaves, and rubbish-in-general on both the upper and lower campus including the College Golf Course.

Also there will be the traditional tug of war by the creek. Incidentally, the creek was dry at this time last year, so consequently there was no tug of war, but the year before last, it seems Mr. Nesvig was either thrown or pulled into the creek to make it seem a little more exciting.

"Picnic at Spanaway"

At noon a free meal will be served to everyone in the school dining hall. After this everyone goes out to Lake Spanaway, either on the school bus, which will make at least two or three trips, or by car for an afternoon of fun at the all-school picnic.

For the past three years Harry McLaughlin and Dick Mason have won the rowboat race for their class. Charlotte Mykland and Peggy Ramberg won the girls rowboat race last year. Also there will be sack races, three-legged races, and a wheelbarrow race for one girl and one boy.

There will be a picnic lunch served free to boarding club members and with the small charge of 50 cents for day students.

QUEEN OF PLC's May Day festivities will be attractive and charming Camilla Loftness, above. A senior, Camilla hails from Corte Madera, California. The royal Miss Loftness attended PLC her freshman year, then journeyed to the College of Marin at Kentfield, California, and to the University of California at Berkeley for her sophomore and junior years. During her semester and summer session at USC, Camilla lived at the Lutheran Student's house. Returning to PLC for her senior year, Camilla has been active in the Linne Society, LDR, DPK, FTA, and has been one of the two counselors for the freshman dorm girls. She will graduate this spring with a B.A. in Education. Queen Camilla will be crowned next Friday at the May Day festivities to be held on the campus.

3 Lutes Accepted For Grad Study

Dr. W. L. Strunk, professor of biology at Pacific Lutheran College, has announced that three PLC students have been admitted to the University of Washington medical and dental schools. The students are Ken Pate, dental; and Gene Strandness and Don Nothstein, medical. They will begin their course of studies at the start of the fall quarter.

Having three students accepted from PLC is in itself quite an honor, because of the fact that only 75 were admitted out of over 1,000 applications received from throughout the country, stated Dr. Strunk.

Pate had also been accepted into the University of Oregon and Northwestern University. However, he made his choice the University of Washington. He will have five more years of study in dentistry before he graduates. Strandness and Nothstein will each have five more years plus an additional period of internship.

Three steps were necessary in the gaining of these admissions, Dr. Strunk revealed. First, each applicant must have a grade average of B or better. Second, all applicants must satisfactorily pass a medical aptitude examination. Finally, applicants must be passed at an oral conference by a committee composed of the Dean of the Medical College and four or more members of the medical school faculty.

Dr. Strunk, who has worked closely with these students, states that he expects high things from them.

PLC Choir To Sing On KOMO Sunday

Sunday the Choir of the West will be heard on "Voices of the Northwest."

The choir has been asked to sing on KOMO Sunday evening at 9:30.

"Voices of the Northwest" has featured many prominent choirs in the past. The PLC choir performed on this program last year.

Friends of the choir wishing to see the program may procure free tickets from Marilyn Pflueger or Dick Svare.

Tuition To Be Upped $25 Next Fall, Eastvold Reveals

By SHIRLEY MOLTER

A tuition increase of $25 a semester will become effective next fall, stated Dr. S. C. Eastvold, president of PLC, in chapel this morning. The increase, raising the tuition for the school year to $350, was authorized at a recent meeting of the board of trustees.

A number of other colleges and universities, including the College of Puget Sound, have raised tuition as a means of meeting higher operation costs. Even with the higher fee, PLC is still among the lower rated colleges as far as tuition costs are concerned.

Costs at PLC as compared with other colleges are illustrated by the following statistics. At Reed College the tuition is $500 plus fees; Lewis and Clark, tuition $450; Pacific University, tuition $450, board $180 (at PLC board is only $130); Linfield, tuition $390 plus a student body fee of $15 and a library fee of $10, to-

8 Frosh, 1 Sophomore Display Yell Talents

Tuesday morning during chapel the try-outs for next year's yell leaders were held.

Jens Knudsen led a few yells to warm up the students. After the vigorous warm up, Del Zeir introduced Naomi Roe, Marlene Schwenke and Bob Cook, who came from across the gym on tricycles and wagons and threw boxes of "pep" into the audience.

Next were Janet Peake and Beth Allander, a tricky duo appearing in skirts and sweaters. A rise of applause went up to Marilyn Myklebust, Carol Schuler and Bob Marvonek as they burst onto the floor. Carol and "Mike" almost did burst when they did the splits. All of the groups did two yells to display their talent to the students.

Although the try-outs were held this week the elections will not be until May 9, when the polls will be open for PLC-ites to elect yell leaders and student body officers for next year.

Annual DRG Cruise Tonight

By CAROL SCHULER

This evening, 25 couples from PLC will be the captain of the Gallant Lady, a yacht, will leave the Port of Tacoma and will head for Burton in Puget Sound Harbor on Vashon Island.

Being docked at Burton, the couples will stumble to the beach (no swimwear there) and will partake of a picnic lunch. After all have finished lunch, they will stumble onto the yacht and go for a cruise and then return to campus.

Myrianne Sandin and Dorothy Schull, co-chairmen for the excursion, announced that the following girls will attend: Shirley Furseth, Lee Johnson, Marilyn Patterson, Betty Johnson, Grace Keys, Amy Brown, Anne Johnson, Margie Anderson, JoAnn Johnson, Beverly Sjoboen, and Dorothy Schull.

Those going are Shirley Molter, Naomi Roe, JoAnn Grambo, Shirley Johnson, Dolores Johnson, Betty Jacobson, Shirley Sagehorn, Carol Schuler, Myrianne Sandin, and Dorothy Schull.

The bon voyage to the DRG's is being escorted.

Lutes Drop 6-2 Clash To Loggers

Ed Predmore did it again. The College of Puget Sound sophomore started his third ball game of the year against the Lutes Wednesday at the Parkland diamond and came through with a 6 to 2 win. Glen Huffman was the loser for the Gladiator. The win moved the Loggers a half and a half ahead of the Lutes in conference standings.

Huffman started out well for the team. He struck out the side in the opening. The Lutes were equally active against Predmore in their first. Johnson was safe on error by the first baseman, but left stranded when Reiman flied out. The roof caved in on Huffman in the second inning. A combination of hits, walks, and errors accounted for six runs before Glen could get out. The Lutherans tallied runs in the last half of the second and the scoring for the day. Some forces had men on base in every inning but were unable to bring them in to score.

Well Knutson pitched the final two innings and allowed only one run. He also boosted his batting average by rapping out a single in his official trip to the plate.

Loete, of the Lutes, led the team with three hits in four trips. Johnson also garnered two hits. Hevins, Earl Birnel, and Herb Bert collected two hits each for the Loggers. Both teams got eight runs but Puget Sound got the men in to score.

LEWIS LOPER, pictured above, is the main Lute hope in the two mile this season. A veteran performer, Lewis has tried the mile and two mile both this season in an attempt to strengthen the Lute track team. He has garnered ten points in competition so far. A former Clover Park athlete, Lewis has always been one of the top distance men in the conference.

Savages Scalp PLC, CPS in Thinclad Go

With a warwhoop that would make the heaviest heart cringe, the Eastern Washington Savages flattened the PLC track squads last Saturday afternoon, by taking 9 out of 10 first places and finishing far ahead of the field with 88 2-3 points. In the dust was CPS with 11 points and PLC with 33 1/2.

High point man for the meet was Pat Whitehill who won a second in the pole vault, a second in the high jump, a third in the broadjump, and a fourth in the javelin, for a total of 11 points.

He garnered only two first places with the efforts of Harold Anker and Hank Habegger. Anker won the 131-foot dash handily and Habegger heaved a 131-foot heave to take the javelin.

Impressive individual performances were turned in by Wayne Mann of CPS with a leap of 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump, an 11 feet 9 inches leap by Pat Whitehill in the pole vault, and a 2.07 in the 880 by East-Carpine.

Tomorrow the Lutes take on the Central Washington Wildcat and St. Martin's Rangers in a regular meet at Ellensburg, Wash. Following is a summary of last Saturday's meet:

Sport-Lite

By Kerns

The results of the track meet at CPS last week show what happens when a school really gets behind a sport. Red Reese has made track at Eastern Washington a major sport. With three of the Savages' best men absent EWCE still managed to win the meet by over forty points.

The College of Puget Sound had over 50 turning out for track this season as compared to 30 at Pacific Lutheran. Too many students feel that there are only three major sports on the school schedule: football, basketball and baseball.

At PLC these students are correct. Although track is listed as a major sport the students treat it as a minor sport activity. There is enough talent on the PLC campus to put out a team that could compete on even terms with Eastern if these men would turn out.

It is true of track, as it is of the other sports—the only way to have championship teams is to get those that are capable of helping the team to turn out. Remember, however, that if you can't turn out and help in that way, you can turn out and cheer your team on. The school's cheer leaders are not the only ones that are supposed to show some spirit.
