

Plans Evolve For Revised Homecoming

"Much student participation is expected in this year's Homecoming," stated co-chairmen Bette Lou Macdonald and Bob Roiko. "Committees are working in full-swing; however, anyone wishing to help is urged to contact any of the chairmen . . . you can be used!" they continued.

Freshman girls are working strenuously under the coaching of Bob Roiko for the all-important Powder Puff game against the upperclass women. The game will be held at 9:30 a.m. Saturday on the activity field.

Several new features of Homecoming will be a mixer Friday evening, the announcement of Queen one week earlier, campus decorations requiring completion by Friday noon, and an alumni coffee hour after the football game.

Friday evening's mixer will be highlighted with games sponsored by the sophomores, refreshments sold by freshmen and entertainment featuring Ted Meyers on the guitar and Paul Templin on the trampoline. Souvenir pictures will also be taken.

October 17, during chapel, the Homecoming Queen will be announced. An alumni committee is judging campus decorations at three o'clock Friday, Oct. 24, thus requiring completion of all decorations by noon.

Originality, effectiveness, and the development of the theme will be the basis for the judging. Decoration committee chairmen should turn in themes to Carol Johnson in North Hall, C-21, or Jerry Erickson in Evergreen '35, as soon as possible to avoid conflicts with other groups.

Spurs Receive National Recognition

At the National Spur Convention held June 12-15 at UCLA, the PLC Spur chapter was named winner of the national "Most Improved Chapter Award" for 1957-58.

Marilee Andersen represented the PLC Spurs at the four-day conclave attended by more than 80 Spurs from all over the nation.

The highlight of the convention for Marilee came during the farewell banquet on the final night. At this time the national award winning Spur chapters as well as the new national officers were announced. The PLC chapter was one of three local chapters from throughout the nation to receive national award plaque.

"I hadn't quite recovered from that wonderful shock," stated Marilee, "when I heard my name announced. After everyone had stopped clapping, I had to be informed by the girl sitting next to me that I was a new national officer—Director of Region I."

This office, Marilee explained, entails coordinating the activities of the Spur chapters located in Wash-

Six Songleaders Picked for '58-59

A faculty-student committee selected six songleaders in tryouts on Wednesday night in CB-200.

Songleaders for 1958-59 are Toni Ericksen, Rita Altpeter, Nancy Olson, Charmaine Jondall, Karen Bird and Grace Helgren.

A pep band provided the music for the tryouts. The selecting committee consisted of six students and six faculty members.

A HUMBLE HORDE OF FRESHMEN receive the final stage of punishment during Saturday's kangaroo court. While fellow frosh and upperclassmen look on, one erring freshman pays the penalty for his misdeeds during the week.

Tolo Starts Tonight; Varied Events Offered

Many campus events have been planned to coincide with the AWS sponsored tolo for tonight and tomorrow night. "Gentlemen's Night Out" is the theme for the weekend.

The tolo, as traditional at PLC, entitles a girl to ask that "special" guy out for both nights, according to tolo chairman Marilee Andersen. Or a girl may ask a boy for one night only. Still another alternative is to choose a different boy for each evening. This provides the perfect opportunity to solve the problem, "How do I meet him?"

Suggested tolo activities for tonight include the style show and after that the Hawaiian Luau in the lower lounge of South Hall (see separate stories on this page about both of these events).

Tomorrow night's sequence of events could include dinner at the CUB first of all. Following that would be the football game in Lincoln Bowl at 8 p.m. against Pacific University.

After the football game still more campus entertainment will be available. In the main lounges of North, South and West Hall, games and entertainment will be going on simultaneously.

Delicious and inexpensive food will be available starting at 10:30. A waffle supper, sponsored by the Pi Kappa Delta, will be held in the CB-200. The menu includes waffles and syrup along with sausage and coffee or milk. Also included is entertainment. Roger Reep is scheduled to M.C. the show which will feature Phyllis Stevahn and Diane Monk (the freshman duet hit at the talent show).

At 11:30 everyone is invited to the singspiration in the North Hall lounge, which will end the tolo.

Incidentally, any hungry person is invited to come to the waffle feed. Proceeds from the supper will go toward helping PLC representatives finance the trip to the national Pi Kappa Delta convention and tournament next spring in Bowling Green, Ohio.

Tomorrow night's games and entertainment are under the direction of Nancy Gunderson and Carlee Sorenson, North Hall; Linda Effinger and Margie Gruger, West Hall; and Jani Rice and Joy Schnatherst, South Hall. Alice Jessen is in charge of publicity.

PLC Drill Team Follows Theme Of Western Lore

Poise, posture, and rhythm are the qualifications of the girls of the PLC drill team. Forty-two glamorous gals will march for the students and alumni at the homecoming game on October 25.

Led by Clintena Wells, the girls will re-enact the gunfight at "OK" corral. This famous gunfight, as you Western fans already know, was between Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday against the Clinton Boys. Tentative attire for the girls is Levis, white shirts and cowboy hats, in keeping with the Homecoming theme, "Spirit of the West."

The drill team will also march on November 15 for the Whitworth-PLC game. However, the theme for that game has not yet been chosen.

The drill team meets every Tuesday and Thursday evenings for an hour of hard practice. Mrs. Rhoda Young is their advisor.

The exhibition, called "The Tombstone Story," promises to be one of the highlights of the homecoming game.

Our PLC band under the direction of Gordon Gilbertson will offer a medley of songs fitting to the Homecoming enactments of the drill team on the field. All of these half-time activities will be televised on a Tacoma station, as well as the game itself.

Children's Theatre Picks 'Aladdin'

Out of the tales of the 1001 Nights, the story of "Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp" comes to the Pacific Lutheran Children's Theatre this fall.

Announcement of the play and cast was made this week by director Eric Nordholm, originator of the PLC Children's Theatre. The show will open in late October.

The show went into rehearsal last night following try-outs earlier this week. In the lead role of Aladdin will be Dean Anderson. His mother is portrayed by Jane Ross and Kaliso will be played by Joanne Van-Leirop Adora is Mavis Everette and Sig Larson is Kadee. The magician will be played by Glenn Arney.

Portraying the parts of the princess' attendants, Fatima and Noona, are Kathy Belgun and Nancy Kary. Perouse, the slave of the cave, is Doug Anderson. Jack Holl and Janice Dahl are cast as the genie of the ring and slave of the ring. Genie of the lamp and the slave of the lamp are Jon Olson and Meg Evanson. Sultan is Harry Sannerud.

"This play is magnificent with the beauty and magic and mystery of the Arabian Nights. The exotic beauty of the story on stage and the magic scenes should again intrigue our audiences of adults and children alike," commented Nordholm, as he announced and described "Aladdin."

The fall production is one of two Children's Theatre shows which the Speech Department presents each year. Last year the Scottish story of "Flibbertygibbet" and "Jack and the Beanstalk" drew record crowds with audiences of college students, adults and grammar school children.

South Hall Presents Island Luau Tonight

Bongo drums, palm trees and leis will transform the South Hall lower lounge into a Hawaiian setting tonight at 9:30 following the style show.

Entertainment and refreshments will be served by the girls in South Hall—Hawaiian food along with island hospitality. Entertainment will include ukelele duets, singing and primitive beating on the bongo drums.

A 1958 innovation, this marks one of the first times that an organization on campus has sponsored an all-school party.

The cost for the party will be 25 cents for couples and 15 cents stag.

AWS Reveals Campus Styles

Exciting new fashions will be unveiled tonight in the CMS starting at 7:30 when the AWS presents "Campus U.S.A."

New and elegant fashions from Rhodes of Lakewood will be featured. Miss Marijane Argue, Rhodes' fashion coordinator, will moderate the show.

Campus wear for men and women, ranging from sports to evening wear, will be on parade. Models from each class include Judy Helde, Diane Newsham, Susan Berger, Hope Pierce, Ken Gamb, Ardeen Iverson, Don Arnstein and Ron Sletta.

Musical selections will be a piano solo by Samuel Shen and vocal selections by the popular PLC group, the Eighth Notes.

General chairman for the show is Nancy Reinvik. Other chairmen are Alice Jessen, publicity, and Diane Repp, programs.

Fleming Consults Moliere About Script Revision

By Carol Teslow

"There is absolutely no truth to the rumor that talent agents have scouted our rehearsals and signed us up for Broadway in the spring." This statement was made by Robert Fleming, director of the Homecoming play, "The Imaginary Invalid," in a personal interview.

In reply to this, I asked Mr. Fleming what he thought of the play's progress.

"I do think we have a top-notch cast that should draw audience raves. I have been in personal touch with the playwright for the last couple of days concerning a few minor changes we are making in the script."

"That is a major feat since Moliere, the author of the Homecoming comedy, 'The Imaginary Invalid,' has been dead for a couple of centuries or so," I reminded him.

"Yes. And that brings up a good point. Although the play was written in the 17th Century, I believe the audience will find that the theme is, if you'll pardon a fairly large word, as apropos today as it was then."

"Do you think the play is funny?"

"I will not go on record as saying it's funny, dear, but I will admit we are toying with the idea of having nurses in attendance in case of injuries resulting from the audience rolling in the aisles."

"Well tell me, Mr. Fleming, quite candidly, do you thing the play is good?"

"I do think we have a great cast, a great play, and will have a great show. Now! If you'll excuse me, dear, I have to go and show Herb Dempsey, our 'Imaginary Invalid,' how to beat Solveig Leraas, our maid, with a cane. Hope she lasts, poor thing."

On that note our interview was concluded as Mr. Fleming ambled off down the hall.

New Campus Trend Starts; Bicycling Replaces Walking

by Richard Fisher

"Faster than walking, cheaper than driving," is the motto indicative of almost all who are involved in the new campus trend which students and faculty alike are taking up—bicycle riding!

It seems that overseas is a popular place to learn to ride, for both Miss Jane Smith and the Rev. Kenneth Christopherson started their bicycle careers in Europe.

Although cycling is taken rather lightly in America, the very opposite holds true in Europe, says Rev. Christopherson, a new professor in the religion department. He picked up the "habit" while studying in Norway and states that Holland has the heaviest bicycle traffic in Europe. Actual traffic jams of bicycles are common there, analagous to the traffic jams of automobiles in the United States, he related.

Ivy Hall is represented in this trend by Jan Aust, an old "pro" at this business of bicycling.

Ken Gaal does some pedaling, too. He purchased an Italian racer last summer and spent two weeks touring the Sierra Nevada mountains of California.

Mr. Richard Scott, new in the psychology department, still rides the lightweight he purchased while in the ninth grade. His father is in the wheel goods business, and Mr. Scott says it is just natural for him to ride a bike.

Bicycling on southern California campuses is popular, according to Dennis Troedson. Dennis, who attended a California college last semester, brought his bike along to PLC.

Miss Smith, drama and speech instructor, also finds cycling relaxing and good exercise. Miss Smith spent a summer bicycling and hosteling in Europe. After riding an estimated 1200 miles, she became so attached to her bicycle that she had it shipped to the States and still rides it.

Some students are lucky enough to have landladies who have a bicycle to lend to them. These lucky students include Jerry Dodgen, Allen Wahl, Peter Wang, Ed Rockwood, and Kirk Fritz.

Many an envious eye has appraised the students' bicycles. If any of you decide to join the parade of two-wheelers, follow the pattern of our experts and get a lightweight.

By Bob Fleming

Heigh ho, everybody . . . SCOOP!—I have been informed (by my usual reliable sources) that the campus police are closing in on the person who filled the pool with salad oil last week! . . . SPECIAL: Give yourself up, D. D. We all know. Signed, Bob . . . Question? If a captain goes down with his ship, does a zeppelin commander go up with his?

A big man entered a restaurant and ordered a steak for himself and his friend. When the puzzled waiter asked, "What friend?" he pulled a little fellow, six inches high from his coat pocket. "Can he walk?" asked the startled waiter. The little fellow walked across the table and back. "Can he talk?" Can he talk? Moe, tell him about the time you argued with that African medicine man."

DID YOU HEAR THE ONE ABOUT—the tourist who went up to a Bopster in New York and said: "Pardon me, sir, but could you tell me how to get to Carnegie Hall?" and the hipster answered: "Practice, man. Practice!" . . . Scientists keep talking about making a "clean" atom bomb. Isn't that something—a "clean" atom bomb! Next they're gonna be building a reclining foam rubber, electric chair.

FOR SALE: 1 box of green band aids. Made especially for use by Martians. . . . SCOOP!—Elvis will not re-enlist! . . . A musician and a bunch of his buddies were having a jam session one nite when the landlord came in. "Do you know there's a little old lady sick upstairs?" No, man," answered the musician, "hum us a bit of it."

A huge pile of statistics is available to show that business is getting better—especially for people who compile statistics . . . I know you've heard about and given to many wonderful charities—the Heart Fund, the Red Cross, the Community Chest, Mental Health—but now I'm asking you to give to eradicate the greatest killer of them all—Natural Causes!

Well, see you next week. . . . Meanwhile, if the doctor tells you that you're "sound as a dollar"—you'd better take it easy!

Evergreeners Laud Country Club Living

"Just call it the country club—where particular people congregate!" That's Darryl Troedson's enthusiastic appraisal of Evergreen Court, PLC's newest dormitory.

Darryl and 68 other PLC men inhabit this modern motel-like building on lower campus. Located on 127th street and near the college golf course, the new dorm was completed in time for the opening of school this fall.

The "H" shaped building has individual entrances and private baths.

"Quite an improvement over Old Main and Clover Creek—and a lot quieter," commented Dale Nielsen.

With the Rev. C. K. Malmn as housefather, the men of the court are a closely knit and intimate group.

"The fellows seem to have a closer relationship," explained Jerry Erickson. "Almost as good as Ivy Hall!" he added.

The lounge, in the center of the "H", is a convenient place for, as the slightly biased opinion of counselor Dave Lunde reveals, "the nicest bunch of fellows on campus" to get together.

"It's a real sharp place," said Ted Johnstone, who also explained that the men of Evergreen are working on some unique ideas to perk up social life at PLC.

Another advantage of living down yonder with the elite is, as Roger Baaken stated, "They can't keep too close an eye on us down here."

Reuben Lahti sums up the feelings of many Evergreeners with this statement, "I have always wanted to belong to a country club and I have finally achieved it in making residence in the most ideal habitat on the campus of PLC."

Chinese Fete Deocracy Today

The Republic of China commemorates its 47th anniversary today, according to Ming Yee Wang, Chinese student at PLC.

Democracy for China was won by Dr. Sun Yat-sen. The current beleaguered Nationalist government has been driven to the island of Formosa by the Communists, who overran the country in 1949.

The United States recognizes the Nationalist government, headed by Chiang Kai-shek, as the true representative of the Chinese people and supports their position in the United Nations. (See editorial).

Vital to Free World

Quemoy, a little island a few miles from the coast of China in the Straits of Formosa, is the focus of a problem important to all free people.

Held by Nationalist China, this island has suffered Red Chinese bombardment since August. Communist China, openly supported by the Kremlin, wants this little island as a stepping-stone to the Nationalist stronghold, Formosa. From there the Communist tenacles could get a strangle-hold on the whole Western Pacific.

To stymie this Communist move toward world control, which is also being attempted in the Middle East, President Eisenhower announced to the world in mid-September a forceful stand against Red aggression.

Appeasing the appetites of aggressors to maintain peace has wrought drastic consequences in the past, the President emphasized. He gave Red China three alternatives for the solution of the problem in the Far East: diplomatic negotiations, settlement via the United Nations or, as a last resort, war.

Diplomatic talks are now in progress at Warsaw, Poland. But the wily Communists are patient and determined when seeking a goal. Therefore, free people must be constantly on guard against this powerful threat. And considering Communism's clash with Christianity, this issue is especially vital to the people at PLC.

Gladiators Host Pacific U. Tomorrow

Eastern Hands Lutes Third Straight Defeat

Pacific Lutheran's glidders return home this weekend to host Pacific University's Badgers in a non-conference tilt tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Lincoln Bowl.

The Lutes dropped their third straight game last week when Eastern Washington College of Education rolled to a 21-0 win over them in Cheney.

Pacific University was beaten 27 to 14 by Willamette last Saturday on their home field in Forest Grove, Oregon.

Last year the Gladiators suffered a 12-0 loss to the Badgers, and this year are out to get revenge. The Crimson and black Badgers are members of the strong Northwest Conference and the last time they won the league title was in 1951.

Fifteen lettermen returned to Pacific University this year and they are expected to give a real battle to the Lutherans.

Tom Gibbs, a freshman quarterback at PLC, turned in an especially fine job at that position last week in Cheney and will probably start for the Lutes tomorrow night. John Jacobson, who has been playing at quarterback, will probably be moved to fullback.

Gibbs completed 9 out of 15 tosses last week against Eastern for 108 yards. Two passes were to the Lutes' big end, Chuck Curtis, for 24 and 23 yards.

Curtis also turned in a nice defensive game, intercepting two Savage passes in the fourth quarter and running them back for 26 and 17 yards, respectively.

PLC passed up two scoring opportunities early in the game last Saturday when the Savages held them on the fourth down only a half yard from the goal and a minute later when the Glads were held on the 9-yard line.

After that the Lutes saw Eastern run almost at will. Early in the second period Jacobson was tackled in the PLC end zone for a safety.

The Savages then went 91 yards from their own nine yard line in 12 plays for a touchdown. The big gainer in that drive was a 43-yard pass play from Eastern's Jim Bauer to Clark Myers. The conversion kick was good and Eastern led at half time, 9-0.

The third period saw EWCE run 24 plays while PLC ran only 6. The (Continued on page 4)

P.E. Courses Help Bowlers, Tumblers

Two physical education courses at Pacific Lutheran College are drawing a lot of attention this year. The two are tumbling, which is a new course in the curriculum this semester, and bowling.

Jim Gabrielsen, Lute football coach, is teaching the tumbling course. About 30 students are enrolled in the co-educational class which meets twice a week in the gym.

So far they have been learning how to use the parallel bars, horizontal bars, and the trampoline as well as doing flips and balancing feats on the mats.

Mrs. Rhoda Young and Gene Lundgaard are advisors for the bowling classes which also are co-educational. There are two classes with 30 students in each class.

The classes, which are for beginning bowlers, are two hour courses held on each Tuesday.

The bowlers are taught by Mr. Junge, an instructor at the Paradise Bowling Lanes.

John Jacobson Leading PLC in Total Offense

John Jacobson leads the Lutherans in total offense on the gridiron after three games.

Three Lutes are bunched closely for the rushing lead. Bruce Alexander leads in net yardage with 48, but John Mitchell has the best average—2.86 yards per carry—for the team. Jacobson is close behind with 45 yards and an average of 1.95 per carry.

Tom Gibbs, freshman passing find, jumped into the passing lead this week after he completed 9 for 15 at Cheney last Saturday. This gives Gibbs a total of 108 passing yards and a one yard lead over Jacobson in that department.

Team statistics for the Glads are not a very pretty picture, compared to their opponents' figures. PLC has run 143 plays this season while their opponents have run 224. Their opponents have netted 1020 yards, and the Lutes have only gained a total of 502.

Here is the picture of individual statistics after three games.

Three consecutive losses haven't seemed to dampen the spirits of our Lute football team as they prepare to take on the Pacific University Badgers tomorrow. Coach JIM GABRIELSEN guided the Lutes through long practice sessions all week with nary a grumble from the young squad which has as yet failed to produce but one touchdown in three games. A few new faces should be in the starting lineup tomorrow as a remedy for the TD drought as coach GABRIELSEN is going all out to find a winning combination.

While we're on the football topic let us take a moment to bemoan our miserable fate last week. Only the College of Puget Sound Loggers and the Washington Huskies came through according to our "guesses," while Washington State failed miserably in their victory try. Our Lutes were shut out for the second week in a row to give us a 2 for 4 average. This week Washington will scalp the Stanford Indians 21 to 7, WSC will humble the Idaho Vandals 28 to 13, and cross-town CPS will gain a 20 to 13 victory over the University of British Columbia Thunderbirds. rest of the scoring was done in this period with Myers going over from the five and Bauer hitting Gary Fuller for a score from 11 yards out.

Handsome Harry Deadline Monday

All campaign organizations have been notified about the requirements for a Handsome Harry nomination. Deadline for submitting the name of a candidate for the Homecoming king is Monday noon.

Nominations should be turned in to Ken Black in room 426 of Old Main.

Election of Handsome Harry will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday. "Poll tax" is one cent a vote.

Changes Planned For CUB Announcements

A new system for giving announcements has recently been employed at PLC. Each day at 5:45 and 6:30 announcements are given to the students in the cafeteria by means of the P.A. system.

According to the students in charge, Bob Gross and Art Ellickson, announcements to be given should be placed in the box in the foyer.

All announcements given must be approved by the Administration and pertain to school functions. Because this system was not intended to replace the Kiosk, all announcements must also be posted in the Kiosk.

A new microphone will soon be installed for the announcing and a slot for the announcements will be made in the door of the Student Body office.

PREPARING FOR THE TASSELS HONOR TEA are, left to right, Arlene Kinared, general chairman of the tea; Joyce Hansen; Miss Grace Blomquist, Tassels adviser; Sonja Simonson, in charge of invitations; and Barbara Jackson, working on the program.

The semi-annual Tassels Honor Tea will be held Sunday at 3 p.m., in North Hall lounge. Purpose of the tea is to recognize scholarship; therefore, all girls who earned a gpa of 3 or above during the spring semester, 1958, are invited to attend.

Entertainment will be provided by a vocal trio consisting of Audry Hart, Mary Lou Engen and Mardell Soiland; Judy Helde giving a reading; Betty Museus at the piano; and Pat Isensee playing the violin. The Rev. Kenneth Christopherson of the PLC religion department will be the guest speaker.

Other members of the planning committee are Arlene Halvor and Anna Ohrstrom, both in charge of refreshments for the tea. Advisers for the Tassels, in addition to Miss Blomquist, are Miss Junet Runbeck and Miss Patricia Thompson.

Hap-hazarding

Pacific University for the second straight year by a score of 13 to 7.

Western Washington lost the services of FRED EMERSON, Little All-American honorable mention halfback in 1957, last week when he turned up with a knee injury. EMERSON gained 188 yards the week before to lead the Vikings to a one-sided win over Oregon College of Education. This is the same fellow who led Western to a 20 to 13 victory over our Lutes last year.

Cheerless leader

Not a "rah rah" left in him! He's just discovered there's no more Coke. And a cheer leader without Coke is as sad as a soap opera. To put the sparkle back in his eye—somebody!—bring him a sparkling cold Coca-Cola!
