

Saga Staff Clears Over Seventy Dollars on Big School Carnival

Gate Receipts Total $95; Number in Attendance For Affair Is Large for Program

After all expenses have been paid, the Saga staff will have over $7000 clear profit from the annual carnival held Saturday night, according to Fred Walter, Saga business manager. The gate receipts totaled $95.64 while the total expenses amounted to approximately $2550, leaving slightly more than $7000 to deposit in the bank.

A large number of people attended the carnival to see an excellent program. Though the admission charge was only 10 cents, the various novelty booths and refreshment stands brought the total receipts higher than those in charge of the affair had expected.

The staff is working hard on the yearbook and will have it finished in a few weeks, according to Irene Dahl, editor-in-chief. As this is the first annual to be published at Pacific Lutheran College, the task has been especially difficult. It was for this reason that the staff presented the carnival in order to raise the needed funds.

The program consisted of a reading, "Over the Telephone," by Ruth Jacobson; "One-act play," "The Lowest Kipling," by dramatic club members; a clog-dance, by Dolores Roe and Nedra Dehnbil; a piano solo, by Corn Vista; a vocal solo by Elvira Hokenstad; a skit, "The Trap," by members of the dramatic club; and several numbers by the University of Washington quartet.

Young People's Luther League Holds Twelfth Annual Meet in Everett

The North Puget Sound Circuit of the Young People's Luther League held its twelfth annual convention on April 25-27, in the Central Lutheran Church of Everett. Revelations 3:11 was the basis of the convention theme, "Hold Fast to Your Baptismal Covenant."

The delegates and visitors to the convention registered at the Friday evening. The first session of the convention opened at 8 p. m. the same night, with hymn singing and invocation by Rev. Vinje, of Everett. Preceding the address of welcome given by Mr. Richard Reinholdsen, the choir of Our Savior's Lutheran Church of Everett sang "Beside Bill Waters." Then Miss Margaret Wall, Circuit president, responded for the convention. The choir of Our Savior's Lutheran Church sang "He Sleeps," followed by the introduction to the theme, "The Covenant to which we must hold fast," given by Miss Ingeborg Bolstad, 29. A sacred pageant, "The Victorious Church," presented by the local league preceded a reception for the delegates and visitors.

The second session opened nine o'clock, Saturday morning. George Lane, 30, discussed "Holding fast through the Means of Grace," the second part of the convention theme. Rev. A. M. Escabel, North Pacific district president, spoke, and Rev. A. M. Vinje closed the formal part of the session with a report of the Duluth convention.

An interesting visit to the Everett paper mill preceded the third session of the convention which began at three, on Saturday afternoon. Rev. C. K. Malmin, of the Synod's Mission of Vancouver, B. C., led the hymns and devotion. A number by the Willmaris trio was given. Miss Bertha Omsel, of Edinboro, continued (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

'THE MILLIONAIRE' TO SHOW MAY 31

All-School Play Has Real Acting

Small Audience Sees One of Best Presentations Of School

Showing to one of the poorest audiences ever assembled in the college auditorium one of the best plays ever enacted at Pacific Lutheran college was presented Saturday evening, April 27. This was the annual all-school play, "The Power," a comedy that would do ample credit to a trained thespian drew laugh after laugh from those who did come to see the three-act comedy. The participants had only one week for practicing.

The story was the life portrayal of a middle-class home. The girl, Patsy, was the poor little scrubmaid for her sister and mother. The play has a happy ending when the father "puts down his foot" in defiance of the envy poor Patsy is being over-loaded. Those taking parts were Ruth Brown, Sigrid Anderson; Ruth Jacobson, Eleanor Loftus; Fred Lee, Walter Young, Sankey Johnson, Clarence Monson, and Earl Percival.

Because of the small audience the receipts from the play were unusually small.

CHOIR RESUMES CONCERT WORK

After a short vacation, the choir has resumed its work. It has two concerts scheduled for the near future. The first of these is to be given in Seattle, Wednesday evening, May 15.

The combined Lutheran churches in Seattle have arranged for a concert to be given in Rev. Stuts church. The choir will eat an early dinner and make the trip on a special bus, returning the same evening.

The second concert is to be given in Bremerton, where the annual district convention of the Young People's Luther League will be held the week-end of May 9, 10 and 11. The choir will leave very early in the morning in order to give a concert at 9:45 in the U. S. S. New York, which is stationed in the Bremerton Navy Yard. The regular concert will be given before the assembled convention later that day.

Both of these concerts will be among the most interesting the choir has presented, and it is bent on making them the most successful.

ONE-ACT PLAYS TO BE GIVEN

"Two But," and "Not Quite Such a Goose" will be given at the Swedish Lutheran Church in Tacoma Saturday. There has been but a short time to prepare these plays, and every member of the cast has worked hard to make it a success. As several of the members of these casts are in the choir, substitutions have had to be made.

MOTHER

When of late I've sat and wondered, Friends and comrades 'bout me say, "Wonder where his thoughts are roaming, They're on dear one far away."

Yes, my thoughts did rest on Mother, That dear friend and comrade true. In my thoughts I clearly see her, Don't such thoughts oft visit you?

Who is there with pride so weakened, Who'll forget that mother dear, When the spring of joy and gladness Comes around again each year?

Can you tell me, wandering daughter, Can you tell me, wayward boy, Who can take the place of mother, Whether you have grief or joy?

Mother always understands you, Mother always knows what's best.

She's the one who will stand by you When you're scorned by all the rest, You may wander in strange countries, You may be rich or poor.

But at home's a hearty welcome, When you come within the door.

You are not so callous-hearted, 'Tis for home you do not care, For a mother's love is lasting, And she's waiting for you there.

Come on! wayward son and daughter, Mother does not live for aye, Let us show her that we love her, Let us write to her today.

Let us tell her how we love her, Let her know how high she'll rate, Let us put it off no longer, Let it prove to be too late.

—Warner Quale.

PEP GIRLS GUESTS AT GAMMA PARTY

Delta Rho Gammias gave a May Day party for the PEP Club Friday afternoon, May 2, in the Church Basement. The purpose of this party was to create a new and better bond of friendship among the girls of the College.

The room was artistically decorated in orchid and white, under the direction of Irene Dahl. The tablecloths were trimmed with strips of orchid crepe paper. Big bouquets of lilacs and orchid candles in pink and white candle-holders were an added attraction.

The following program was presented: Welcome Yells to the PEP Club, Mildred Gard.

Building Committee Doing Its Utmost to Start Residence; Dormitory And Laboratory Soon

"Work on the president's residence will probably start this week," is the announcement which President Tingelstad made on Monday. He added, "The matter is squarely up to the building committee now, and that committee is doing all it can to get things started." The committee consists of H. E. Anderson, B. L. Kirkebo and Pres. Tingelstad. Mr. Kirkebo leaves for Norway on May 22, and his place will be filled by someone who will probably be chosen at the committee meeting Wednesday evening, May 7.

When the residence is completed, the house and lots will be valued at $10,000. The upstairs will not be finished till later, as at present there are only $7,000 to spend on the project. The house, however, is being built with the idea that the construction will be permanent and will house the college presidents for many years to come.

The residence will be situated at Wheeler street and Park Avenue, directly across the street, north from "the chapel." The southeast corner of a building will be 75 feet from 5th street.

The board of trustees decided on other matters also at its last meeting. The construction of a geology laboratory will begin when President Tingelstad believes it advisable to do. The first unit of the proposed dormitory for girls may also be built when $40,000 are available.

On his recent trip East, Pres. Tingelstad received a splendid contribution to the development association. An old gentleman in North Dakota first contributed $100 and later subscribed $1,000 more to be paid at the rate of $50 a year and interest for 20 years.

Concert Tour of Middle West for P. L. C. Students

To Make Appearances in Different Churches; Travel By Means of New Ford Sedan

A concert tour of the Middle West is planned by Henry Holm-Jensen in company with Wallis Kerr, Anna Mikkelson and Corn Vista.

Mr. Holm-Jensen plans to give about sixty concerts during the period from the first part of June to the latter part of August.

The party, including Mrs. Holm-Jensen as well, plan to travel in a new Ford owned by Mr. Holm-Jensen. This will make traveling from place to place much more rapid. Definite plans as to the concert stops have not yet been made, but they plan to go through Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, and over into St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn. From Minneapolis they will go to Sioux City, Iowa and thence to Omaha, Nebraska. Coming back again from Nebraska they plan to stop at the Yellowstone National Park, where they will give a concert in the new auditorium constructed there near the geysers basin.

Mr. Holm-Jensen has written to Norwegian, Danish, Swedish, and German Lutheran churches. The concert will be sponsored by the organizations within the churches—the organizations first making a guarantee of a certain amount for expense to the party. The name chosen by the group under which they will travel is Arion. In traveling they will be known as representing Pacific Lutheran College, Nebraska. Coming back again from Nebraska they plan to stop at the Yellowstone National Park, where they will give a concert in the new auditorium constructed there near the geysers basin.

FORMER STUDENT WINS FAME AS DIRECTOR OF INFANTS' ORCHESTRA

Karl Moldrem, who was a student of Pacific Lutheran Academy about twelve years ago, has attracted considerable attention through his directing of the Sherman Thompson Baby Orchestra of Eureka, California. The Literary Digest, for February 15, contains an article about this orchestra. It says in part: "About twelve months ago, S. H. Thompson and G. W. Thompson, of Eureka, with the aid of Karl Moldrem, violinist and teacher, conceived the idea of the formation of a baby orchestra to interest the parents in giving their children a musical education."

Anderson Talks On League Work

Traces History of Various Young People's Clubs Of Churches

Rev. F. B. Anderson, field representative of the Young People's Luther League of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, addressed the student body during the chapel hour Tuesday, May 6. He spoke on the history of the young people's movement in the United States. This talk was the first of a series of three to be given by Rev. Anderson.

The speaker briefly traced this young people's movement during a period of fifty years, beginning about 1880. He mentioned in connection with it the Christian Endeavor, Epworth League, Baptist Young People's Union, Christian Young People's Union, Walther League, and the Luther League.

In tracing the young people's work of our immediate church body, Rev. Anderson stated that the Young People's Luther League was organized only thirteen years ago. President Tingelstad was the first secretary for the organization, and Dr. Brown of Concordia College was the first president. Today there are over 1,800 Luther League embracing a membership of over 100,000. Rev. Anderson listed the conventions, the Lutheran Students Union, the scholarship fund for the seminaries, the hospital at Madagascar, mission support, and publications as the greatest achievements of this organization.

At the close of the chapel hour the choir sang two numbers. Moving pictures were taken of the chapel while they were singing and of the students and faculty as they were passing from the chapel to the main building.

Your Color

Written on the gates that mark the entrance to Pacific Lutheran College are the words—"Build for Character." More important than book-learning or knowledge of science and language is character. The premier objective of this school as a Christian institution is to help its students build strong, upright Christian characters.

For this reason the College daily places before its ideals to inspire and guide us to right living. Thus, when we leave school, we should be able so to live that our alma mater may be justly proud of us.

Let us, therefore, begin here at school to practice daily the many virtues we plan to make a part of our larger life. Let us remember that small kindnesses, courtesies, and considerations constantly practiced in our everyday social life give greater weight to the character than a display of talents and accomplishments. Color all our thoughts with kindness, all our ambitions with helpfulness, all your acts with determination, and P. L. C. will have a right to be proud of you.

Only four more weeks and much work to do. Let's stick to the job.

Good Work

Hats off to everyone who visited the annual carnival last Saturday evening. Pacific Lutheran College is one school where the students and faculty are supporting their yearbook. Only the Saga staff and faculty advisors will know how much that $70.00 did.

Now, let's go after some more subscriptions.

Three in a row and from strong teams. Are those baseball men now?

What Will You Do?

When we are beset by worries we might properly try the remedy used by Samuel Johnson, the eminent English author, who brushed away a worrying problem by saying "What difference will that make six months from now?" But it would never do to apply it to the regular everyday duties that meet us in our school work. What would happen if we should say, "It really doesn't matter whether we get this psychology lesson or not, because it won't make a particle of difference six months hence." Should we take this position we should deprive ourselves of a definite goal towards which to work. The surest way of becoming a success in any field is to choose a definite objective and keep our eyes steadily fixed upon it.

Wouldn't it be much better to strike a happy medium? Don't worry about your work. Do all you can. Let the rest go, but smile all the time.

Three sessions will be held Sunday at 9:45 a. m., Prof. P. Haug, of Pacific Lutheran College, will conduct a Luther League Bible class. At 11:00 a. m. festival worship will be held with the Rt. Rev. J. A. E. Naess as preacher and Rev. The. Hokenstad as liturgist. The Pacific Lutheran College Choir, "The Choir of the West," will sing. The final session of the convention will be held Sunday afternoon. The North Pacific Choral Union, under the direction of Prof. J. O. Edwards, of Pacific Lutheran College, will sing, as will also the Pacific Lutheran College Choir. Dr. J. N. Brown will give the concluding address. His Rev. J. A. E. Haw! Haw! Heard the latest? Neither have we.

Scientists Inkwell Johnson and Sinkwell Nyman are being hailed as the greatest geniuses of the last decade. It was they who just invented the process of using the holes in doughnuts to stuff, bakers' bread. The two young geni created that it not only makes the bread much easier to digest but also makes it much lighter. Thus the housewife will be spared much drudgery where she must carry the bread for a distance of 150 or 252 feet.

Prof. Hellman: "Was that you talking in the chapel while I was speaking this morning?"
Arthur Olsen: It couldn't have been. I never talk in my sleep.

And here's a poem dedicated to millions and millions and... hundreds... and millions and... My auto. 'tis of thee,
Short road to poverty,
Of thee I chant:
I blew a pile of dough,
On you three years ago,
Now you refuse to go,
Or won't or can't,
Through town and countryside,
You were my joy and pride,
A happy day,
I loved thy gaudy hue,
Thy nice bright tires so new,
But now you're out of true
In every way.
To thee, old rattle box,
Came many bumps and knocks,
For thee I grieve,
Baby the top is torn,
Frayed are the seats and worn,
Whooing cough affects the horn,
I do believe,
Thy perfume swells the breeze,
While good folks cough and wheeze
As we pass by,
I paid for thee a price,
'Twould buy a mansion twice,
Now they are yelling 'tee'
I wonder why,
Thy motor has the grip,
Thy sparkplugs have the lip,
And soe it thine,
I, too, have suffered chills,
Fatigue and kindred ills,
Endeavoring to pay the bills,
Since thou wert mine,
Gone is my bank roll now,
No more 't would choke a cow,
As once before,
'T had I the 'mon' again,
So help me John Amen,
I'd buy a car again
And speed some more.

I'm pudner too tired to wright. You no the teachers are 'fraid us kids will get out and play in the sunshine, so they pile lots of work on us. I have to study up till me and two o'clock to stay so I'm already black around the eyes. If I stay up and study much longer I'll turn all black like a nigger. The Sags Staff gave a carnival the other nite, and it was purty good, too. First they had a program, some plays and a couple of skits—well! I was on the program but instead of politely chuckling like the audience did for everything else they laffed out loud at me! They had everything from a fish pond and fortune-telling booth to a nigger-baby galley? That nigger-baby thing was a big jip, tho—cauz first they made you stand so far away that you couldn't toss the ball far enuf to hit the nigger baby and second the nigger baby was alive and wouldn't stand still.

Just a minute—I'll look in my diary and see if anything has happened. Oh yes! last Friday nite I went thru a big boat that is to make its first trip to Alaska. It sure was a big boat, and it had only two corners—one in front and one behind. Up in the front it had two big hooks hanging out of the boat. I asked the steward if them big hooks was to catch whales with, but he said No! them was encores. They had radioed all over the boat, even had one down in the basement the steward called it a storage instead of basement so I asked if that's where steers ride. They had the cutt little bed rooms finished in different colors, but the steward called them state rooms—I don't know why they did that dumb thing, cauz none of them was named after my state. And say! they had the funnest round windows. The man called them "port holes" and I asked him why they call em that now, cauz we can't have "port" any more, since prohibition. I asked him why they don't keep the windows open and he said its an old Spanish custom to keep em closed. But your brilliant daughter figured out that they have to keep em closed 'count of the tide—cauz water might leak in at high tide. A man in the store room gave me a bag of some of the cutt little nuts, and I'm sending a couple in this letter.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thompson of Portland, Oregon, spent a few days with relatives here in Parkland. They resumed their trip to Seattle, where they visited their daughter, Thelma Thompson, a teacher in the Seattle public schools. The three drove to the Parkland Children's Home in Everett, where they surprised their three little orphan cousins. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson motored back to Portland early Monday morning.

Perhaps the most interesting session was in the form of a "Pacific Lutheran College Night" Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30. Arthur Olsen opened the program with devotion that was followed by a song by the college quartet. A piano solo by Cora Vista and a soprano solo by Anna Mikkleson were followed by an inspiring address by President Tingelstad, entitled "Helping Others to Hold Fast Through Christian Education." A number by the quartet closed the Saturday evening session. At 9:45 Sunday morning a brief Sunday School session was held. Divine services began at 10:30 a. m. Rev. Vinje conducted the service and Rev. W. H. Helms, of P. L. C. gave an inspiring sermon, using "Giving God His Chance" as the theme.

The final session of the convention began at 2:30 on Sunday afternoon, and was in the form of a choral union concert. Well known choir numbers were ably presented by the union: "Open Now Thy Gates of Beauty," "Praise the Lord, O My

Seeing as how all the dignified college students acted last Saturday night, it kinda brought me back to my childhood, and then I thought that maybe after all when you went yourself, you was a human bean. Also, the teachers are the same way. And all the older people that were there, smiled and were happy.

Did you ever know that it was so much fun trying to hit the nigger baby? Only I felt so sorry for the poor thing that I threw my balls to high or too low or something on purpose. Everybody laughed at me, thinking as how I was two dumb to know where to throw the ball. But that's once where their ignorance wasn't no blice to me, no how!

Speaking about nigger babies reminds me of the cute little red-dressed doll I got from a boy who fished it from the fish pond. It wasn't a nigger, but it was a baby, though. And it's real cute. And, do you know, somebody told me that I looked like it, or it looked like I, or vice versa. So, I was rather much thrilled and happy for about a week.

Speakin' about babies, reminds me that maybe they like to eat! Well, we're glad they do, seeing as how they helped Miss Carnival to be a success. But then as to wantin' everything, including big sticks of peppermint candy. I think our big, strong athletic boys like it even better than the sweet-toothed kids. Don't chew? (Don't you?)

Were you all scared like babies too, when you went to Paradise Alley? I was. I had to hold on tight to his hand so I wouldn't fall. Being scared wasn't an excuse, either, because scared I was, really; believe it or not! Wasn't it a clever idea?

Do you know if you're going to pass all your exams, or if you're going to marry the guy or girl you're going with now, or anything else? If you do, I bet I know who told you. The fortune teller! Well, anyway, she told me I'd always quit writing when I was through—so that's why this is the end.

PACIFIC LUTHERAN COLLEGE, PARKLAND, WASHINGTON

Jaysee's Defeat Counts Straight Wins for Season

Ragged Playing for Both Teams Marks Whole Game; Final Score 9-5; Johns N Is Mainstay

Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators made it three straight in games won this season, when they defeated the Centralia Junior College nine by a score of 9 to 5 on the Parkland lot last Saturday.

The game was rather ragged, with the Lutherans making six errors and their opponents, two. The home team had the best of the fight throughout, as Caskey Johnson, P. L. C. hurler, struck out thirteen men and held the visitors to eight hits. The Jaysee hurlers, Nystrom and Althausen did not fare so well, as the Gladiators were able to garner fifteen hits off the pair, with but six men being struck out.

The Lutherans drew first blood in the last of the first inning. Nyman walked to start the canto and went to second on Palo's pretty bunt down third base line. He then scored on Colton's timely single, with Palo advancing to third. Johnson's grounder to shortstop was muffed by Bradley, which resulted in the scoring of Palo. Colton stole second, but was forced at third base on Thostenson's roller to the pitcher. Thostenson was safe at first and Johnson at second.

Monson then hit a Texas-leaguer back of second base and the bases were full. Schiermann's double then cleaned the bases. Jacobson struck out and Percival singled. On a fast-working double steal, Percival stole second and Schiermann stole home after he had been advanced to third by Percival's single. This ended the scoring as Nyman, who was in the second time in that inning, went out. Nystrom to Jolly.

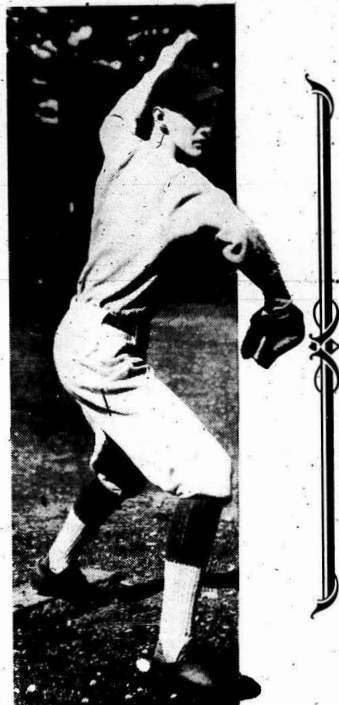

The Jaysees did not score in the first half of the second inning, and the Gladiators pushed over but one run on four hits. Palo struck out to start the canto, but Colton singled to start the fireworks and advanced to second on Johnson's single. Colton stole third and Johnson second. Colton was forced out at home on Thostenson's grounder and Johnson advanced to third, with Thostenson safe on first. Monson then singled to score Johnson, and Schiermann went out pitcher to first base, to end the inning.

The Jaysees scored for the first time in the fourth inning. Bradley hit a double, stole third and went home on an overthrow by Thostenson to third base. They also scored three runs in the first of the fifth on three hits. Ingerham walked to start the inning and went to second on James' grounder to shortstop. Jolly then doubled to bring in two runs. Nystrom got on by an error of the second baseman and Nisbet hit a fly to first base. Althausen fanned, but Bradley singled to score Jolly. Light fanned to end the inning.

The Gladiators made two runs in the last of the fourth on hits by Palo, Thostenson and Colton. The final run of the game was made in the first of the seventh inning when Jolly got on when he hit a triple to the right field foul line and scored on Nystrom's single.

Chalk Two Markers Over Lions Single

Baseballers Continue Favorable Record of Season by Winning Game

Largely through the air-tight pitching of Sankey Johnson, Pacific Lutheran College baseballers won their second game of the season on April 25, when they defeated the Bellarmine Lions by a 2 to 1 score on the Parkland lot.

The game was closely contested, although eight errors were chalked up during the encounter. McDougall, lanky chucker for the Bells, hurled a good game, but the Lutherans were able to bunch two hits in the second inning, coupled with two errors to shove over a couple of counters, putting the game on ice.

Johnson singled to start the last of the second and went to third when Frank Ruffo let Thostenson's roller get away from him. Thostenson then stole second. At this stage of the game Champagne let one of McDougall's fast ones get away from him, which resulted in Johnson's scoring and Thostenson going to third.

Berenson struck out, as did Quale, but Champagne let Quale's third strike drop, and while throwing him out at first, Thostenson scored for the final Gladiator run.

The Lions made their only run in the fourth canto. After E. Ruffo had struck out, Farley got on when Siegel erred. He then scored on Verone's long double to center field. This ended the scoring as Cham-
