Lutheran Students' Union Convention to Be at Augustana College March 10-12; Highlights Listed

Walter Young will represent Pacific Lutheran College at the convention of the Lutheran Students Union, to be held at Augustana College, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, March 10-12, as was decided at an election held after chapel last Friday morning. Walter is the seventh student to represent this school at such a convention, three boys and three girls having attended during the six years in which P. L. C. has been actively associated with the group.

The theme of the convention will be "Facing Life With Jesus Christ," based on the bible passage taken from Acts 4:29. The first part of the convention theme will be introduced by Dr. H. A. Preus of our Saviours Lutheran Church of Minneapolis, who is also an uncle of the Preus, now attending Pacific Lutheran college. Prof. Abner Haugen of St. Olaf College will speak on the second phase of the theme on Saturday morning, "Facing Life With Christ in our student problems." Prof. C. B. Yivisker of Concordia college will speak on the theme of the convention in connection with "Our every day walk."

Communion service and Divine service will be conducted for the convention delegates on Sunday morning, with the convention theme being discussed as relates our life service and world relationship on Sunday afternoon and evening respectively. A sacred concert by the Augustana Choir, greetings from Mission Field service men, and a reception Saturday evening are other highlights of the convention. A Lutheran Students Union Press Conference will be held previous to the formal opening of the convention on Friday morning, March 10, "Facing Life With Jesus Christ as Editors," by Prof. David Nelson of Luther College, and "A critical review of our college papers," by Miss Borghild Dahl of Augustana, will feature the morning meeting of this conference. At noon those in attendance will visit the plant of the Argus Leader. A representative of that publication will address the conference in the afternoon.

The purpose of the Lutheran Students Union is to further the co-operation of religious activities among the students (Continued on page three)

Pep Club Planning to Entertain Girl Alums

At a meeting of the Pep Club held Thursday, February 16, the new officers, elected at a former meeting and consisting of, President, Kathleen Porath; Vice President, Ellen Soley; Secretary-treasurer, Lila Rudd; Fire Chief, Nedra Dubick, were in charge for the first time.

The Women's Dorm Association donated cretonne for curtains in the girls' radio room in which they will entertain visiting alumnae over this week end. The president appointed Virginia Mancke, Alice Peterson and Olga Overlie to choose a name for the room.

Choir Plans for Concerts, Reunion

Paul Preus, Sr., to Investigate Possibilities of Summer Tour in California on Development Association Trip

With numerous concerts on its calendar, and plans for a prospective tour under way, the "Choir of the West" is beginning one of its busiest seasons, according to Director Joseph Edwards.

Last Tuesday evening a concert was given in Normanna Hall, the proceeds of which went to the general college fund.

For Reunion festivities the present choir assisted by former choir members will render a concert on Sunday afternoon at 3:00. A new song "Land-lighting," by Grieg, will be given by the choirs, in addition to several better known compositions.

Of interest to all students and friends of P. L. C. is a resolution passed by a committee of five from the board who were to investigate the possibility of a tour. The committee, composed of H. E. Anderson, M. H. Forde, assisted by Rev. L. Ludwig and Dr. C. R. Swanson, submitted the following resolutions to the board after a meeting on Feb. 10 in Seattle: "It was regularly decided that Paul Preus, in connection with his trip to California doing work for the development association, shall investigate the possibility with regard to a trip by the choir into the State of California during the spring or summer, and report back to the next meeting of the board (the first week in April) with the understanding that any plan developed must relieve the college from any financial liability in connection with said trip."

Mr. Preus will leave for California immediately after the alumni reunion, and on his return the board will decide whether or not the trip will be taken.

German Club Meets

A talk on German scientists by Professor Higby, featured the German Club meeting on Tuesday February 14. Club members exchanged valentines.

'Smilin' Through' Is Theme of Reunion Here This Week End

Irene Dahl, President, Announces Drama Night, Hoop Tilts, Banquet and Services as Highlights; Choir Reunion Sunday

With "Smilin' Through" as a theme, the annual reunion of Pacific Lutheran College Alumni will begin tonight, to continue out over the week end. Interesting events have been planned, according to Irene Dahl, president, which will go to make this reunion one of the largest in the school's history.

Reunion festivities will begin this evening with the regular Drama Night presentations in the college gymnasium. These will be the first plays to be presented under the new Drama Club of officers and group leaders. Tomorrow afternoon the traditional basket ball games between student and alumni teams will be played off in the gym, with Margaret Jacobson and Stanley Dahl captaining the alumni aggregations.

The college dining hall will be the scene at 7:30 Saturday evening, of the reunion banquet, at which Paul Preus Sr. will be the main speaker. The Class of 1903 will be represented on the program by Ludvig Larson, present financial manager of P.L.C.; the Class of 1913 by Miss Inga Hong; the Class of 1913 by Arnt Oyen; and the graduation Class of '33 by Stanley Core. A male quartet will sing, and Lewis G. Hunter will lead the pep band.

On Sunday morning, Rev. Theo. Gulhaugen, now pastor at Raymond and South Bend, Wash., and alumnus of P.L.C., will deliver the reunion sermon in the Trinity Lutheran Church of Parkland. At this service also the Choir will sing.

Under auspices of the 1933 "Choir of the West," all former members of the Choir are invited to sing in the second Pacific Lutheran College Choir Reunion concert. A rehearsal will be held at 1:30 p. m. Sunday afternoon in the chapel, with the concert proper coming at 3 o'clock. The program as planned includes orchestral selections, devotional, a hymn, and an address by Pres. O. A. Tingelstad. The present choir will offer several selections.

Margaret Wesson Is Editor of Saga for Classes of 1933-34

Chosen by Faculty to Be in Charge of Publication for 2 Years; Staff to Be Named Soon; No Saga This Year

Announcement is being made today by the faculty that Margaret Wesson has been chosen to edit the 1933-34 edition of the Saga. She was chosen from nominations submitted by the faculty committee on publications, because of the previous journalism experience received on the Lincolnian, annual of Lincoln High School in Tacoma.

Although no Saga will be published this spring, the staff will be chosen so that it can gather material of the 1933 class and have it ready by the end of this school year. The Saga which will be published next year, will contain the history and data of the 1933 class and of this school year.

The staff will be chosen by the Editor of the Saga; the faculty committee on publications, and a committee of Stanley Score, Nordis Arneson and Hazel Monsen. Complete announcement of the staff, which will act for two years, will be made in a later edition of the Mooring Mast.

Margaret has been active in affairs here at Pacific Lutheran College, and will be back next year, so that she will be able to see the thing through. She is manager of the debate team, associate business manager of the Mooring Mast, and sings in the college choir. Margaret has also assisted with readings at various school functions and is a library assistant. Her work on the Lincolnian merited her admittance into Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists.

Students Hear 4 Outside Speakers in Chapel; Mrs. O. G. Ellis Shows Films

Four speakers who have added interest to the chapel programs during the last few weeks are Mrs. Overton G. Ellis, of Tacoma, who spoke on student body program day last week; Rev. McClure, Tacoma monso pastor; Dr. O. H. Stetten, and Rev. E. M. Johnson.

Mrs. Ellis gave an illustrated lecture on the League of Nations, pointing out its major premises and showing why the United States should become a member. Reverend McClure, who addressed the students Monday, February 13, on the accomplishments of the negro in American civilization, cited instances in which the negro holds important positions in practically every cultural field. Dr. O. H. Stetten, vice president of the American Lutheran Conference and representative of the American Lutheran Church, pointed out in his talk that by walking the way of Christ, man is enabled to cope with the evils of the depression as well as other modern problems. Reverend Johnson compared the Christian who is directed by God to the weaver who works at his loom with his eyes on the pattern which is placed above his head to be followed explicitly and without question.

We're Not So Bad Off! After All!

Besides giving American students a holiday on February 22, 1933, George Washington did a lot of good for his country. As the first President of the United States, he started our great commonwealth on the road to success and prosperity and helped start the great wheels of federal government, which were to run for many years.

Though the American people may feel mistreated by subjection to the present economic distress, let us remember what must have been the troubled state of affairs when thirteen colonies tried to organize this country, let alone keep it running. Tariffs, disarmaments, taxes, war debts, and foreign affairs are today confronting our national directors. Better far that we should wrestle with these problems, than that we should be fighting, as in the case in the Orient.

Let us once again sit back in our chairs and count our many blessings. Let us think of the things which George Washington went through for the sake of our nation, and realize why we were given this holiday Wednesday. We aren't so bad off after all, since we have a nation, a national leader for our nation, and a God who guides all nations!

A Bigger and Better Saga

The first backward step which Pacific Lutheran College has taken on account of the present economic distress is the suspension of publication of the Saga for this year. Although the 1933 Class will have its history and data in the book to be published the following year, it will not be the same as having a book printed this year.

With this issue of the Mooring Mast, announcement is being made of the editor of the yearbook, who with others will chose a staff to act for these two years for which the annual will be published. May the Mooring Mast take this opportunity to congratulate the Editor of the Saga, and wish to that publication the greatest of success, in the task which has never yet been undertaken at Pacific Lutheran—the publishing of a yearbook for two graduating classes.

To the student body, let us not think unfavorably of the action taken by the faculty in regard to our yearbook, but rather commend them for their wisdom in so doing. With the full cooperation of the student body to those in charge, the Saga, when it is printed next year, will be one of the best of its kind. Instead of completely abandoning publication, we shall have our yearbook next year, bigger and better than ever.

Society

Ellen Soley spent last week end visiting her sister in Seattle and her parents in Everett.

At her home near Lincoln High, Kathryn Patten entertained with a party Thursday, February 9. Among the guests from P. L. C. were Nellie Olson, and Alberta Schmitz.

Alice Peterson, Lila Rudd, and Pearl Homme visited Alice's home in Seattle last week end. While, at the same time, Mary Nash visited her sister in Seattle.

Walter French and Floyd Knutzen spent the week end of Feb. 11 at the Knutzen home in Burlington.

Mr. Keith Reid's sister who has been visiting the Reid's at their home in the North End will soon return to her home in California.

Clarabel Roberts was hostess to a group of students last Saturday evening at a party in her home in Tacoma. Those from school present were Mary Nash, Pearl Homme, Irene Lüdahl, Mildred Lee, Frank Elliott, Bruce Thayer, Norman Westling, and Norman Jensen.

The mothers of several of the girls in the dorm have been visiting the school lately. Mrs. Alvnes, Mrs. Forath, and Mrs. Knutzen were the guests of their daughters, Alice, Kathleen, and Jeanette, respectively, during the past week.

Hazel Monsen and Jean Marie Fowler were overnight guests of Saffie Torresdal's last Saturday.

HAVE YOU MET?

Do you know a girl at P. L. C. who is what you'd call a real girl? There may be lots of them, but this particular young lady has dark hair, brown eyes and a million dollar smile that she's not in the least selfish with. She's rather quiet, but if you don't know her, you should get acquainted. She recently had a part in one of the Drama Club plays, and helped her group win first prize. She holds an important office in the college, and—here's where we give it away—she has recently been asking to borrow a sheet to show slides on in chapel. Guess who?

A certain young man in the school has earned the reputation of being the most helpful boy in this institution. Whenever there's work to be done that no one else wants to do, and which requires a lot of work and embodies no honor, he is always "Johnny on the spot." This rather short boy holds an office in one of the school's busiest organizations. Athletics, too, are not unimportant to him, and every boy on the team thinks of him as a pal and square shooter. Light brown hair and his twinkly blue eyes make you feel at home while talking with this young gentleman. He's popular, too, because his fellow students have elected him to a position of honor in the school.

P. L. C. to Present Program
At Puyallup High March 3

On an invitation from the high school principal, Pacific Lutheran College will put on a program at a joint assembly of the Puyallup Junior and Senior High Schools next Friday morning at 9:30. This is the first time such a program exchange has been held with the Puyallup school, according to Dean Phillip E. Haug.

The program, which is in charge of the office administration, will include musical numbers and readings.

Brexy's Corner

The prospective reunion invites reminiscence. Thirty years ago one of the editors of "The Hurricane" ("The Mooring Mast's predecessor") was the uncle of one of our present students, Lars Jensen was his name. He sent me a hand-written copy of "The Hurricane" for February 14, 1903, from which I quote, in the hope that it may make members and friends of the Class of 1903 and of other classes eager to return for a whiff of the old atmosphere:

"There being a shortage of holidays during the winter term, it was decided to utilize Lincoln's birthday for that purpose; and a better day could not have been chosen. Even Nature showed her approval of the choice by putting on her beautiful holiday dress of purest white. A beautiful and fitting symbol of the life and character of that grand and noble hero of the Civil War, Abraham Lincoln.

"The holiday was spent quietly by most of the students, but towards evening the lull in the weather was accompanied by an increased stir in the lower regions of the P.L.A. Large hosts of cakes, sandwiches, and other good things came pouring into the kitchen, bringing with them crowds of eager people into our little city.

"The space in the dining-room seemed to grow inversely as the number of people, and, ere long, every chair, table, window-sill, and radiator was occupied.

"A pile of beautiful and useful articles were brought in, and the bidding began. In a very short time the entire stock of drygoods was disposed of at top prices, making the Ladies' Aid richer by some $33.

"By this time there was a general demand for something with which to satisfy the appetite. The coffee was soon steaming on the stove, the numerous cakes reduced from whole numbers to simple fractions, and the jolly little oysters rolled merrily down the throats of the hungry crowd. But time also rolled on, and at last the warning wink was given."

Now, doesn't that sound home-like?—Welcome home!

O. A. TINGELSTAD.

IN THE CLASSROOM

Because Mr. Pflueger was in Oregon City last Tuesday and Wednesday, his Religious and Introduction to Fine Arts classes did not meet on those two days. Mrs. Taylor taught his Public Speaking class, and will continue to do so until the debate season is over.

Debate Team to Meet Centralia Monday

A call for debate trials was answered by several applicants, of whom three were chosen to be on the teams, by Prof. J. P. Pflueger, head debate coach. Negative teams are composed of Safric Torredal and Margaret Wesson, and Clarence Lemming and Clarence Ophelm; while on the affirmative teams are Jean-Marie Fowler and Hazel Monsen, and John Van Leuven and Walter Young.

The question to be argued this year is: "Resolved, that the United States should agree to a cancellation of inter-allied war debts." The men's negative team from Pacific Lutheran met a men's affirmative team from the College of Puget Sound in a practice debate here on February 13. No decision was given. J. Herman Mattman and Charles Thomas upheld the affirmative for the visiting team.

Prof. Pflueger announces that debates have been scheduled with teams from the College of Puget Sound, Grays Harbor, University of Washington freshmen, Centralia and Yakima Junior College. Probably other debates will be added to complete the schedule, according to Prof. Pflueger. The first of these scheduled debates will be held here Monday, with a team from Centralia Junior College.

Mrs. J. P. Pflueger is French Club Speaker

Mrs. J. P. Pflueger spoke to the French club February 10, on the Mardi Gras celebration in New Orleans, a festive occasion which takes place each year before the observance of Lent.

As a special token of the appreciation of the club members, the president Shirley Hecht, presented Mrs. Pflueger and Mrs. Bondy with corsages. Valentines were exchanged among the members.

For a meeting scheduled for February 24, a committee composed of Shirley Hecht, Florence Post, Jean-Marie Fowler and Hazel Monsen is arranging a luncheon with a special guest speaker.

Many people go through life with faith and hope dependent on material things rather than on those of the spirit.—Hauge.

Man is intended for the life eternal; so his greatest folly is to be satisfied with the things of this world.—Pflueger.

God has set us into the world as weavers with a pattern placed overhead for us to follow.—Johnson.

If Jesus came to earth now, we would find Him too radical for our politics, for our social system, and even for many of our churches.—Xavier.

Life is worth living when we are striving for Christ.—Larson.

A word spoken today may be the word which destroys the life of some person.—Hauge.

God comes to us with everlasting truth, and we choose to believe the fantastic tales of man.—Pflueger.

In order to see our Savior we must look down into His Word and works, and there we find Him revealed.—Johnson.

Let us not reject Christ as His own people rejected Him, but let us take Him into our hearts.—Xavier.

Being built on rock, don't think you shall escape, the storm, but know that though storms rage we will stand against it because God has given us that power.—Pflueger.

Now that we have tried everything else in the political life of our country, let us give Christ a chance.—Sletten.

In and about Christ we must weave our lives and our work every day, so that He may enter into them.—Johnson.

In educational institutions supported by the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. In 1930 the national convention was held at Parkland, where Irene Dahl, now president of the Alumni Association, was vice president of the group.

Walter, who is attending Pacific Lutheran College for his fourth year, was awarded a trophy cup at his graduation from high school in 1931 for being the greatest inspiration to his classmates. In 1930 he attended at Washington State College the convention of the Lutheran Students Association. In the Trinity Lutheran Church of Parkland, Walt has several times been president of the local league, has taught Sunday School for three years, and is adviser of the Junior League. He has shown unending interest in the Mission Society, having been its president during the fall semester. The Tacoma Luther League chose him to complete the term of Bendine Knutsen, who resigned as its president, last fall. In school activities, he has won three football letters, is on the Men's Debate squad, and will have a part in the next Drama Night presentations on February 24.

The candidates for the convention were nominated by the faculty and by the Board of Control. Others who were nominated to be delegates were Tryve Runsvold, Kathryn Johnson, Mary Louise Preus, Edgar Larsen, Clarence Roen, Anna Mikkelsen and Jesse Pflueger.

New Mooring Mast Staff Announced

With this issue, announcement is being made of the Mooring Mast staff for the spring semester. Mary Louise Preus will retain her position as editor, with the board of editors remaining unchanged except for the absence of a make-up editor through the withdrawal from school of Rachel Flint, who held this position last fall. This work will not be taken care of by the departmental editors.

Reporters for the spring staff will be Virginia Byers, Edgar Lund, Clarence Ophelm, Clifford Ophelm, Kathryn Patten, Florence Post, Alberta Schmitz and Gilbert Sydow. Gladys Swenland and Safric Torredal will be the staff typists.

In the business department, the business manager and his associate, Carl Martin and Margaret Wesson, respectively, will keep their duties. Evelyn Irwin has been chosen Advertising Manager, with Clifford Mesford as her assistant. Dalores Roe has given over her duties of Circulation manager to Evelyn Monson, last fall's assistant, who will be assisted by Jeanette Knutsen.

Although many college newspapers have been forced to cut down in size or frequency, and in many cases to completely suspend publication, the Mooring Mast will continue on its present basis as long as finances will permit. "It is the hope of the faculty advisers that students will patronize those firms which advertise with us, so that the Mooring Mast will be able to continue as a bi-weekly newspaper here at P. L. C." stated O. J. Stuen, faculty financial adviser.

Delta Rhos Entertain Pep Club With Party

In honor of the Pep Club, a valentine party was given by the Delta Rho Gamma's Tuesday evening, Feb. 14. The party was held in the reception room which was decorated in a red and white valentine motif.

Mrs. Kriedler, Miss Fowler, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Bondy, Irene Dahl, Margaret Jacobson, and Birdie Knutsen were guests.

Stunts, guessing games, and puzzles filled the evening. Margaret Wesson, head of the entertainment committee, had charge of the games, while others on the committee were Evelyn Irwin, Safric Torredal, Helen Collins, Shirley Hecht, and Irene Luldahl.

A light luncheon was served by a committee of Kathryn Johnson (chairman), Virginia Boen, Jane Williams, Helen Garbell, Dorothy Winsor, and Marian Pennie.

Swim Club Has Party At Y.W.C.A. Pool, Then At Home of Prof. Reid

On your mark! Get set! GO! Splash! and Messrs. Beck and Higby ply the waters of the tank with strong swift strokes. At the opposite end the swimmers were relieved in the relay by a group of fair mermaids.

This was the exciting scene in the Y. W. C. A. pool Friday evening, Feb. 10. We're all going to take diving lessons from Harry Pflueger. The way he tumbles off the end of the plank is simply superb. Just TRY to swim on your back and go down the length of the pool feet first. Yes, we said it couldn't be done, at first, but we did it anyway (and what a way it was, too). Clarence Ophelm and Ray Hinderle even sank so low in eight feet of water that they bounced on the bottom. They didn't have to empty the pool the next day because those Pitiful Pacificites drank all but 2 1/2 gallons which was left in the deep end.

And girls—that handsome life-guard—no one else but—Swede Willard in person.

Later the party motored (or skidded) up to the Reid home on North Yakima. Job-saw puzzles, billiards, and ping-pong furnished entertainment during the evening. Then came the eats. They were keen too, and so the whole party was a success (except Norman Westling spilled a cup of coffee, but what's a cup of coffee more or less?). Mrs. Williams Jane's mother, acted as chaperon.

L. D. R. Girls Planning Tea to Honor Mothers

In honor of their mothers, girls of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation are planning a silver tea to be given on March 17 in the college reception room. Arrangements are in charge of committees appointed by the president, Kathryn Johnson.

Rev. E. G. Svenson of Tacoma was guest speaker at the meeting of the group held February 8 at the home of Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad, with Mrs. Ludvig Larson as assisting hostess. In his talk on home missions, Rev. Svenson emphasized the fact that missions is a state of the mind. Other program numbers included a reading by Margaret Wesson and a vocal duet by Evelyn and Mildred Monson.

The Pacific Lutheran College girls continued their winning ways by defeating the South Tacoma girls, 37 to 28.

The game was marked by clever teamwork on both sides, with the Gladiators exhibiting more ability at hitting the hoop.

Gladiators Break Losing Streak; Win From Jaysees 27-22

Lutherans Stop Long String of Defeats by Win Over Aberdeen Junior College There Last Night

The Pacific Lutheran college cagers finally broke their losing streak of seven games when they downed the Grays Harbor Junior college five by a 27-22 score on the Hoquiam high school floor last night.

The Jaysees took the lead shortly after the start of the game when they converted a couple of free throws but relinquished the lead a few minutes later. Then Score sank a follow-up shot to even the count, and a few minutes later the Lutherans stepped into the lead from which they were never headed, and half time found them leading 12-11.

The second half found the teams battling on even terms. Near the end of the third period Sanderson, diminutive forward, was injected into the Gladiator lineup and dropped in three baskets in short order to give the Lutherans a safe lead for the first time, and, with but a couple minutes to go, the Gladiators went into a stall to safeguard their advantage.

Lutheran Coeds Lose To Kapowsin, 26-22

In a slow game, the P. L. C. girl basketball team met defeat at the hands of the Kapowsin team last night with a score of 26 to 22 on the Kapowsin floor. Throughout the entire first half the P. L. C. co-eds failed to click, and the half ended with a 10-6 count. The girls showed a better brand of ball in the closing minutes of the second half with Leland chalking up 12 points, but the rally did not come soon enough to overcome the opponents' lead. Leland, P. L. C., and Bryant, Kapowsin, shared high point honors with 14 counters each.

P.L.C. Bows to Bellingham Normal 32-31, Despite Rally in Second Half

The Bellingham Normal cagers captured a hairline decision over the Pacific Lutheran College hoopers last Friday night on the Parkland floor, the Vikings winning by a 32 to 31 count. The game started as a slow one-sided affair and ended up in a fury, with both teams battling for the advantage.

The Normalites went out in front, 17 to 8, in the first half, but the Gladiators rallied in the opening minutes of the second period, and the Viking's large lead began to diminish. First one team and then the other held the advantage from this point on, and the Teachers were fortunate to gain possession just before the final gun.

Sport Slants

By C. Mowen

It is written in the stars that we shall all have our bad years and no matter what precautions one may take against it, the result will remain the same. This is true of our country and our basketball season is somewhat typical—very depressing.

According to records this has been the most disastrous hoop season in the history of the school. Of course, conditions have arisen during the season which handicapped us to great extent, but it was just our luck, too, that this year our oppositions have had exceptionally good teams.

Considering everything, I think Coach Olson developed a nicer working aggregation than was expected. Even though we come out on the short end of most of the games, not one of the opposing quintets ran up a sufficiently large lead to class the game as a walk-away.

The whole trouble may have been in the inexperience of our cagers. Without a doubt they turned in work that at times equalled that of a seasoned performer, but lack of experience crops out like a bad experience and shows all.

Take Stan Score, Hal Votaw, Carl Martin, Jack Hudson, Bev Shuster, and Harold Holmberg. None of these men can contribute much hoop experience outside our school, yet they have done exceptionally well in our inter-Collegiate contests.

When old Sol's light beams down on us more directly and the birds begin to flit hither and yon, we'll begin to scratch our heads and wonder once more, whether baseball will be installed in this school once again as an intercollegiate sport.

Baseball is a great game and a clean game, but we must remember interest in this sport has waned a great deal in the last few years. Without spirit or enthusiasm not much success would result from a sport season.

Lutherans Lose Game To Centralia Quintet In Tilt There Feb. 4

The Pacific Lutheran College cagers again failed to upset the Centralia Junior College basketball team when they met them on the Centralia floor, February 4, losing the game 31 to 24. The Gladiators appeared to have the upper hand throughout the contest, but lost a couple of regulars via the foul route.

The Lutherans started off by taking an early lead and managing to hold it throughout the first half. Centralia tried repeatedly to pierce the Lutheran zone defense, but was unsuccessful. At the same time the Gladiators' scoring machine was functioning very nicely and it appeared that Coach Olson's charges had the game on ice. At half time the score stood 18 to 14 in favor of the Gladiators.

At the opening of the next period, by the accurate shooting of Stan Score, the Gladiators rang up ten points before the Jaysees could get started. Holding a 14 point lead, the Lutherans did not ease up, but appeared to work much harder.

During the latter part of the third quarter, many fouls were charged to the Gladiators. Gene Jack, who had been displaying a nice floor game, was forced to leave the game with four personals, and Jack Hudson was also disqualified.

After these men left the game, Vigar, Centralia forward, began to connect with the hoop and it was not long before the Gladiator lead was lessened, and finally overcame.

Stan Score was the mainpring for the Lutherans and also high point man of the game with 18 counters. Vigar was the star for Centralia, with 10 counters.

Rangers Beat P.L.C. In Second Match

In their second meeting of the season, on the Parkland floor February 7, the St. Martins cagers ran up against a stronger competition than they had expected, but defeated the Gladiators, 27 to 23. The Lutherans battled the Rangers, stubbornly throughout the game and made it rather difficult for the opposition to run up as large a lead as they did in their previous meeting.

The neighboring school started out with a bang, running up a six point lead before the Gladiators scored. St. Martins worked fast under the basket, but the Lutherans gathered up their forces and checked the rangy opposition for a while. The combination of Hagerly and Taylor could not be denied, and as a result the half ended, 21 to 8, in favor of the Rangers.

The Lutherans came back in the next period and nearly equaled St. Martins in scoring, chalking up 15 counters to St. Martins' 16. The Gladiators seemed helpless against the rangy Hagerly and Taylor, who were sinking baskets from all angles of the floor, Hagerly running up 16 points and Taylor 11 counters.

Hudson was high man for the Lutherans with 9 counters, Martin coming next with 7.

Gladiators Lose 3 Games in Oregon

The Oregon invasion made by the Gladiator cagers, February 8, 10, 11, did not prove to be as successful as was expected. In their first game they dropped a hard fought game to Albany College, 25 to 26. At half time the score was tied 10 all, but in the last period the Lutherans could not connect with the hoop.

Their two game series with Columbia University was also met by defeat, losing the first contest, 27 to 36, and dropping the second game, 29 to 32, in their first meeting. The Gladiators seemed lost on the big floor and were unable to make their defense function, but in the last game of this series, put up a fight that nearly upset the Cliff-Dwellers.

At the half, the Oregon quintet held a seven point lead, but the Gladiators came back in the second period and shortened this lead by three points at the final gun.

Jack Hudson, Lutheran guard, was high point man of this trip with 18 points, with Stan Score, forward, coming next with 16.

Willamette Defeats P.L.C. by 39-24 Score

Last Saturday night the Pacific Lutheran College cagers stepped far out of their class when they met Willamette University, losing the contest 39 to 24. The leaders in the Pacific Northwest Conference had little trouble in defeating the Lutherans, but in the last period encountered great difficulty in repeating their first half performance, and as a result were outscored, 19 to 12.

Capitalizing on an early lead, the Beavers started out with a bang and maintained this pace throughout the first half. The Lutherans found the visitors' defense impregnable and as a result scored no field goals during this period, but made five points via the foul route. The Beavers, by cleverly weaving the ball through the Gladiator defense, ended this period with 27 points.

The Gladiators played the leading role in the second half, by outgunning and out-scoring the invaders. By changing from the zone to the man-to-man defense, played havoc with the Beavers' attack and soon the Lutherans found openings for shots.

Score and Padness were high scorers for the Lutherans with 8 counters apiece, while the rangy Klooster for Willamette was high scorer of the evening with 14 points.
