

Hazel Monsen Will Edit Mooring Mast During Next Year

Clarence Opheim Chosen by Board of Control to Be Business Manager; Rest of Staff To Be Named Next Fall

As a result of elections held at a special meeting last Friday noon, the Board of Control announced that Hazel Monsen will be the editor of the Mooring Mast for the next school year. At this same meeting, Clarence Opheim was named to hold the purse strings of the school publication in the capacity of business manager.

The elections were held in the spring of the year this time so that work on the Mooring Mast will be able to get started immediately after the opening of the school year next fall, according to Clarence Roen, retiring president of the Student Body. Clarence also announced that this method of election, which is stated in the by-laws of the new constitution, will be used hereafter in the election of the Mooring Mast heads.

Having had previous experience on publications, Hazel is well-qualified for her new position according to board members. Besides her year of service as associate editor of the Mooring Mast, she was editor of the Stadium World, a correspondent on the Tacoma Daily Ledger, and is a member of Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for journalists. She is also active in student affairs at Pacific Lutheran, being a member of the debating squad and annual staff, and holding active participation in several student clubs here.

Clarence Opheim, will be able to carry on his new duties effectively, according to student officials, because of commercial experience had in high school and in outside work. At P. L. C. Clarence, too, was on the debate team, and holds active membership in student affairs. Hazel and Clarence are freshmen enrolled in the junior college department.

8 Grads Receive Teaching Positions

That eight students, graduates of the three-year normal course of Pacific Lutheran College, have received teaching positions for the next school year through the college placement committee, is the announcement of Dean Philip E. Hauge. Although the number of graduates placed is not as great as the number placed last year, more are expected to receive positions before the opening of the next year, according to the committee members.

As announced by the registrar's office, those who have received teaching positions so far this year include: Olga Overlie, sixth grade at Eatonville School, Eatonville, Wash.; Arthur Spencer, fifth and sixth grades at Pacific City School, Pacific City, Wash.; Benedicta Leland, Camp Four School, Bordeaux, Wash.; Frances Andrews, all grades at Purdy School, Purdy, Wash.; Frances Newton, all grades at Fox Island School, Fox Island, Wash.; and Lorraine Thoren, first four grades at Elk Plain School, Loveland, Wash. One graduate from last year's class, Mary Holmes, who is completing the third year normal course this year, is now teaching at Spanaway, Wash.

Virginia Mahncke Is New L.D.R. Head

Mrs. Preus Elected to Mrs. Ramstad's Place As Advisor at Tea Honoring Faculty Wives

As a result of elections held last Tuesday afternoon, Virginia Mahncke will be the president and Mrs. Paul Preus the adviser of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation group during the next school year. Virginia won over Hazel Monsen, the other candidate for the position. Mrs. Preus was nominated and elected for the advisory duty at the same meeting.

The elections were held at the tea which the L. D. R. girls give each year during May to honor the faculty wives who have been their hostesses during the past school year. On behalf of the group, Kathryn Johnson, retiring president, presented Mrs. A. W. Ramstad with a gift, a pewter candy bowl. Mrs. Ramstad has been the adviser of the L. D. R. at Pacific Lutheran College ever since its organization here eight years ago. At the tea, she tendered her resignation from the position. Mrs. Preus, the new adviser, has also been active in work of the Women's Missionary Federation, of which the L. D. R. is a part, so is well fitted to do the work, according to Kathryn Johnson.

Program numbers at the tea, which was held in the college recreation rooms, included vocal numbers by Anna Mikkelsen, a violin selection by Alice Peterson, a paper "What my L. D. R. membership means to me," by Mary Lou Preus read by Evelyn Monson, and a short talk on the air of the faculty wives by Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad. Ardis Aarhus accompanied the musicians at the piano.

To make up for the deficit in the group treasury, the girls held candy sales Monday and Wednesday noon.

Society Elects Pflueger

William Pflueger was elected President of the Mission Society for the coming year at the last meeting held Wednesday, May 17. The program at the meeting included devotion led by Irene Lutsahl, a "Jazz" solo by Walter Tetrad, a paper on Anna Huseuth, a missionary, by Mary Louise Preus, and a tenor solo by Edith Redt. The retiring officers are: Jesse Pflueger, president; Ardis Aarhus, vice-president; Kathleen Forath, secretary; and Arnold Grimlund, treasurer.

Install Officers, Award Letters In Last Student Meet

Roen Introduces New Board; Boys and Girls Receive Basketball Letters; Golf Letters, Prizes Given in Chapel by Dr. Tingelstad

Marking the close of student body meetings for the year, new officers and members of the Board of Control were installed by Clarence Roen, out-going president, and Dr. Tingelstad awarded letters to boys' and girls' basketball teams and the golf team, as well as presenting the prizes to the winners of the golf tournaments in chapel exercises yesterday morning.

The girls who received letters were: Alice Alvnes, captain. Dickie Leland, Olga Overlie, Jeanette Knutzen, Evelyn Monson, Dalores Roe, Alice Roe, Kathleen Forath, and Helen Collins. Olga Overlie, the manager of the team, presented Margaret Jacobsen, who coached the team and arranged the games, with a gift on behalf of the girls.

John Fadness, "Suede" Willard, Gene Jack, Harold Votaw, Carl Martin, and Stanley Score received letters for basketball.

Letters for golf were given to Alvin Lehman, Ray Hinderlie, Ted Thompson, Paul Preus, Norman Westling, and John Stuen. These awards were made not on the basis of points, as is customary, but for the number of matches played in inter-scholastic competition.

Kathryn Johnson and Alvin Lehman each received a golf club, given by the Parkland Golf Club to the winners in the boys' and girls' tournaments.

Those who took their bows as newly elected officers and members of the Board of Control were: Clarence Lemming, president; Harold Holmberg, vice-president; Kathryn Johnson, secretary; Bev Shuster, treasurer; Jean-Marie Fowler, sophomore representative; Mary Nash, second-year normal representative; John Stuen, high school representative; Ray Hinderlie, commissioner of advertising; and Paul Preus, commissioner of athletics.

Choir Ends Season

$263 Cleared Above Expenses on Annual Spring Tour

To close its season, the Pacific Lutheran College Choir will sing at the Baccalaureate services, Sunday, May 28, in the college chapel. During the past weeks, the choir has appeared in six concerts, at Lincoln High School Assembly today; May 21 in First Lutheran Church of Tacoma at the Luther League Convention of the Columbia Conference, where Dr. Tingelstad spoke; in Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Saturday, May 20; Cromwell Lutheran Church, Cronwell, Rev. Kellmer Roe, pastor, May 18; St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Tacoma, May 14, when they appeared also in the afternoon in Gethsemane Lutheran Church, Seattle, Dr. Swanson, pastor.

Director J. O. Edwards announces that the total earnings of the choir trip to Oregon, after payment of all expenses, was $263.

Noah D. Showalter, superintendent of public instruction for the State of Washington, who will deliver the commencement address at the Pacific Lutheran College graduation exercises in the gymnasium next Monday evening.

Class Night Comes Tomorrow Evening

Members of the graduating classes will present their annual Class Night program Saturday, May 27 at 8 p. m. in the college gymnasium under the direction of a committee of graduates consisting of Nordis Arneson (chairman), Walter Young, Frances Andrews, and William Pflueger.

Preceding the event is the ivy planting, at 7:45, and following it is the president's reception at which it is the custom for the parents and friends of the graduates to meet and become acquainted with the faculty members. Dalores Roe and Walter Young will plant the ivy.

Committees to complete the arrangements for the class night festivities include: Class prophecy—Gilbert Sydow, Kathleen Forath, and Trygve Ransvold; class will—Shirley Hecht, and Arthur Sivertson. The Freshman Class will be in charge of the decorations. The graduates will also present at this time their gifts to the school and to their class advisor, Dean Hauge. The committee in charge of procuring the gifts is composed of Kathleen Forath (chairman), Ethel Hagman, Dalores Roe, and Trygve Ransvold.

Student Picnic Plans Depending on Weather

Because of weather conditions, the place and type of Student Body picnic which is scheduled for this afternoon, is uncertain. In case of nice weather, the students will go to Spanaway after 2:40 for an outdoor picnic, as originally planned. Here, a group of lockers and boats have been rented, and swimming, baseball, boating and other picnic sports will be enjoyed.

The King Roller Rink has been chartered for the afternoon, in case of rain. In this event, skating will be indulged in from 3 o'clock until 8:30, at which time supper will be served in Rev. Sydow's church on 27th and Tacoma Avenue.

Appointed by Clarence Roen on a committee to plan the affair are Trygve Ransvold (chairman), Shirley Hecht, Gilbert Sydow and Georgianna McClure.

58 Students to Be Graduated May 29; Showalter to Speak

Class Night Is Saturday, Baccalaureate Sunday, and Commencement Monday; Rev. J. C. K. Preus Speaker

Completion of studies in the high school, junior college or normal departments of Pacific Lutheran College will be marked for fifty-eight students at the 1933 graduation exercises next Monday evening. The commencement program will begin at 8 o'clock in the college gymnasium. Dr. Noah D. Showalter, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Washington, will deliver the commencement address. Music on the program will include numbers by Anna Mikkelsen and the Faculty Ladies Quartet. Rev. O. I. Haavik of Seattle, president of the P. L. C. Board of Trustees, will give the invocation. Awarding of diplomas will be done by President Tingelstad.

Other events on the graduation schedule include the regular Class Night program, and Baccalaureate service, planned respectively for May 27 and 28. Details of the Class Night presentation are given elsewhere in this issue. Rev. J. C. K. Preus, Educational Director of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon in the college chapel Sunday evening May 28, at eight o'clock. Walter Ustad will sing a solo, and the college choir will give several numbers. The public is invited to all the graduation functions, according to Dr. O. A. Tingelstad.

Members of the class are:
High School Graduates
Nedra Dubig, John Hudson, Clifford Mesford, William Pflueger, Paul Preus, Donald Reid, Florey Krutts, Knut Smith, Daniel Piore, Floyd Knutzen and Myrven Lane.

Junior College Graduates
Alice Alvnes, Nordis Arneson, John Fadness, Carroll Jacobson, Elmer Knutzen, Elmer Ray Lebeck, Mildred Lee, Kathleen Forath, Mary Louise Preus, Jens Rilskheim, Clarence Roen, Trygve Ransvold, Stanley Score, Gilbert Sydow, Walter Ustad, Norman Westling, William Whalen, Walter Young and John Zackrisson.

Normal Department Graduates
Frances Andrews, Helen Collins, Shirley Hecht, Angela Jacobsen, Edgar Larson, Benedicta Leland, Carl Martin, Harold Meredith, Olga Overlie, Anna Mikkelsen, Viola Frances Newton, Ellen Soley and Dorothy Winson.

Third Year Normal Graduates
Walter French, Ethel Hagman, Margaret Jensen, Lelf Klippen, Margaret Laamers, Nellie Olson, Kathryn Palen, Alberta Schmitt, Arthur Sivertson, Arthur Spencer, Charlotte Spenser, Lorraine Thoren, Olava Waegbo and Mary Elizabeth Holmes.

Dr. Sadt Visits P. L. C.

Dr. William G. Sadt, Stewardship Secretary of the American Lutheran Conference, visited Pacific Lutheran College on Monday of this week. Dr. Sadt, whose offices are in Columbus, Ohio, was on the west coast to attend district meetings in Portland; and at the time of his visit here, was on a speaking tour of the northwest. He came to Pacific Lutheran with Rev. Butenahon of Tacoma, in whose church he delivered a talk that evening.

Thanks To The Administration

Now that the school year is over, our faculty members can at last breathe a sigh of relief, before taking up more work after two weeks. Through this year of excess strain, our instructors have borne up exceedingly well, none of them breaking down under the burden. We are grateful to them for their great kindness to us, and their willingness to understand and help in our many trivial problems. Also, we thank our faculty members, from the bottom of our hearts, for the very great monetary sacrifices made just in order that our educations might be carried on without interruption.

Our greatest appreciation, however, goes directly to our good friend Dr. Tingelstad. He has done so much for us in a silent and unostentatious manner, that we cannot neglect to thank him heartily for his many services. We students, too, are anxious about our school and hope, just as much as anyone, that we will be able to greet our faculty intact next September.

Students, Take Notice; This Means You

Students, do you know what you are doing? Do you know that your representative body has established a new precedent this spring by electing the editor and business manager of your school paper for which you are responsible. Do you know that it has set date, tuition with regard to elections without subjecting them to your approval, and that the constitution is the basis of school policies for which you are responsible. Do you know that it has set date, place, and named committees for your school picnic? If you know these things, how did you find out? By hearsay? If you don't know them, why don't you? Does not the Board of Control represent you? Have you not a right to know what goes on at its meetings?

The constitution should more clearly define the rights and powers of the Board and of the Associated Students, where their duties and powers overlap, and where they are distinctly separate. Further, it should become constitutional to read the minutes of the Board of Control in Associated Students meetings so that the students may know just what their representative body is doing.

To The Graduates

This is the season when we must bid farewell to a number of our schoolmates who are about to pass another milestone in their lives. As they leave us, we thank them for the foundations which they have laid for us to build upon, for the guidance which they have given to us, hoping that we may follow. We know that they go forth in the Christian spirit to take their places in the world. They cannot fail to spread cheer and happiness where ever they go, and in so doing, they must reap a harvest of cheer and happiness for themselves as well. We hope that they may live their lives in such a way that it may be said of each of them, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

In view of the fact that there is no Saga being published this year, the Mooring Mast staff wishes to dedicate this—their last issue of the 1932-33 school year—to the Graduating Classes.

HAVE YOU MET?

A merry young lady, medium sized, with light brown hair, dimples, and a very infectious smile. She is rather plump, and being a prospective "school marm," wears glasses. She is a member of the graduating class, is president of the French Club, and is active in the Delta Rho Gamma. For two years she has taken part in the Drama Club productions and was this year a member of one of the class play committees.

A very tall, lanky youth with dark brown hair and blue eyes, who is the president of his graduating class, who is the representative of one student unit on the Board of Control, and a member of the choir. This young man is actively interested in sports, being a two-year golf letterman and, this year, a member of the basketball squad, as well as being the first ping-pong champion of P. L. C. and participating in the tennis tournament. He has been a student here for several years and is a resident of Parkland.

PREXY'S CORNER

Now that this school year is drawing to a close, I desire to thank the Editorial Staff of the Mooring Mast and the officers and other members of the student body for their many courtesies and acts of kindness and their loyal and friendly cooperation, through a difficult year. My heart goes out to them in gratitude, and my wish for them is that they may continue to win friends by carrying on in the same fine spirit.

To the Editorial Staff, and in particular to the outgoing editor, Mary Louise Freus and to the incoming editor, Hazel Monsen, I desire to express my appreciation of the privilege extended to me through PREXY'S CORNER. Their loyalty to the College has been marked by friendliness and frankness and a deep regard for the American principle of freedom of speech, even for Prexy. They have added a beautiful leaf to my book of precious memories.

O. A. Tingelstad.

We noticed that:
 Delta Rho Gamma girls surely can eat a lot;
 Walter French picked Jane Williams a bunch of violets on the frog farm;
 Floyd Knutzen is graduating from high school (finally);
 Frances Andrews' smile is getting bigger than ever;
 Mr. Flore is tickle;
 Jack Hudson is studying harder than usual (just for impression);
 Anna Mikkelsen is grieving about leaving P.L.C.;
 Chord members are kicking harder than ever;
 Stan Score appreciates one Mrs. Nedra Dublyk;
 Carl Martin had a birthday;
 Forath hates to leave Paul Mommson behind;
 Mary Louise Preus has become quite a speaker;
 Some people (all big-shots) appear in "sissy-pants" and no socks;
 Everybody's waiting for the school picnic;
 The schools' sweethearts (all of them, and some others) are taking their last strolls on the lovers' lane to the kicking post;
 There isn't much more for us to notice, so goodbye 'til next year.

Freda Hendrickson to Be German Club President

That Freda Hendrickson will preside over the German Club next fall was the announcement after the election held at the last meeting. Retiring officers are: Kathryn Johnson, president; Janet Runbeck, vice-president; William Plueger, secretary; and Oscar Anderson, treasurer.
 The club members had a "gemuetlicher Nachmittag" on Friday, May 19, at the home of Mrs. Bondy, where they decided to give two dollars to the Pacific Lutheran College endowment fund.

Shirley Hecht and Paul Preus were described in this week's "Have You Met?"

Inspect Frog Farm

Biology Class Visits Kirstenholt Manor, Near Roy

To get an idea of the importance of the frog industry, members of Mr. Highby's Biology class went last Thursday afternoon to Kirstenholt Manor, a large frog and toad farm near McKenna, Wash. Students were shown over the grounds of the large farm, and Dr. Kirsten explained to them many of the habits and peculiarities of the frogs.
 Interest among the many things noticed on the farm was the fact that Dr. Kirsten, a noted naturalist, has several pet frogs on his desk. These, each one of which had a name, would talk, eat and eat for the students. On their farm, Dr. Kirsten and his partner make many small clay islands and houses for sale, in which frogs and toads can live as house pets. According to Dr. Kirsten, the frog industry is growing and may soon be a profitable business.
 Students were taken to the farm by members of the class who had cars. The whole of Thursday afternoon was devoted to this first field trip to be taken by the Biology class this year.

Chapel Gleanings

The people of the Old Testament times could hardly understand the meaning of the promises. Adam and Eve did not understand. Abraham did not understand. nor did Israh nor the other prophets really grasp the plan of God—Plueger.
 Any dish, any vessel which is to be used, no matter how beautiful, must be kept clean. Thus the vessel used in the church must at some time be washed so it can be used—Lucky.
 In these times, it is particularly helpful to man to be invited to partake of the peace that Christ offers—Ramstad.
 All that natural man has to live for is the favor, influence, honor and power, which cause furious competition and enmity, hatred, bloodshed, and even wars. However, if man is Christian, he follows the example of Christ, who came not to tear down, but to lift men up, whose motto was service, and whose banner was love—Plueger.

Whether we are doing our best or living an evil life, the washing of regeneration by Christ is necessary: for through that washing, we, good and bad alike, become vessels unto honor in Christ's kingdom—Lucky.
 Now we can understand what even the disciples did not see, that the hope of Mary really redeemed us to God's grace and brought us to salvation—Plueger.
 The Jews saw in Jesus a malefactor who wished to take to himself the office of the Lord in blasphemy—Ramstad.

The entrance of Christ into our lives will make us fit for His use and willing to work for the furtherance of His kingdom—Lucky.
 If Martin Luther did nothing else for man, he showed us that man is justified by faith alone, that man should fear and love God, and that thereby God's commandments become easy—Plueger.

Rev. Ramstad to Relinquish Tacoma Ministerial Duties
 Rev. A. W. Ramstad, temporary pastor at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 17th and J Streets in Tacoma, will be relieved of his duties in that connection the first Sunday in August, when Marcus Lewis, a senior at Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, Minn., will be installed as regular pastor of the church. Prof. Ramstad has been serving the church in a ministerial capacity since its separation from Luther memorial Church, after the merger a year before.
 The new pastor, whose home is in Sloux Falls, S. D., will be ordained in his own home congregation and will come immediately to Tacoma, accepting the call in Our Saviour's Church.

Keeper of the Mast

Have you been wondering all semester who was writing this unsigned column? If you haven't, you ought to have been. Any grudge for what has appeared? If you have, don't tell us, tell Margaret Weston, for she's the one who has been exposing her heart as well as everybody else's to the school.
 But this column isn't hers this week. And if you don't like what is said in this one, just be quiet about it. You see, we intend to pan everybody worth panning, and if you didn't get panned, just consider you if panned for not being worth panning. Get it?
 We'll start on the profs. The other day Mr. Hong said he could pick out his hat from among 20 others in a dark room. Now wouldn't you enjoy having Mr. Plueger pick out Mr. Hong's hat by mistake, tee hee.

And then there was the time Jean (hyphen) Marie was over at the carline, all ready to leave for Portland, when she remembered "Oh, I gotta go back to say goodbye to my aunt." And when you suppose she found her auntie? Why, in her office, of course.
 But have you heard about Prof. Xavier? He came "bounding" into the library to tell some noisy students (guess who) to be quiet. On his little hike back to his private apartment in the back he slipped on a banana peel left there by Clifford Ophelm, and tore a hole in his suit, (the coat part), so that all the stuff fell out of his pockets. Boy, was his physiognomy vermillion when those students who had been trying to study had to stop to help him pick up all the missing library cards he had been yelling about in chapel for the last two months. These absent-minded professors!

It's been bad this year for Clix, the dainty old thing, to try to boss Georgiana around as his secretary, but watch the fun next year when Clancy (that hollow-sounding name just fits him!) Lemming starts telling Kathryn Johnson what to do.
 It's funny, but it's true. Freda was so anxious to get her experiments done and impress Mr. Ramstad, that she nearly blew the whole them lab to bits. Perhaps it was because she feared that examinations were getting too close for comfort.
 Hazel Mosen and Clarence Ophelm are in line for congratulations on their election to positions of honor on this paper. Accept our best wishes for a successful year, and, incidentally, we hope that the depression will be over so Clarence can take in the pennies and Hazel can spend them.

Mr. Highby was so hopped up about beating Dr. Tingstad and Mr. Larson at golf that he couldn't think of any really brain-teasing questions for the biology exam. His students were so glad that they were going to give him a new golf club, but decided against it, fearing that his conscience might tell him that it was bribery because marks come out so soon.
 When school opened, Fritz Tayet (Imagine!) mistook Mrs. Taylor for a co-ed and asked her for a date. She arranged to meet him at the registrars office. Picture his surprise when Dean Hauge greeted him with a smile and asked him to sign on the dotted line.
 Mr. Beck is an ardent tennis and swimming enthusiast. He played several hard sets of tennis and won a shower before making out his economics quiz. May we commend him on his choice of stimulus and the results it bore.
 The other day the I. D. R. girls had a candy sale. Those in charge stated that they could have sold much more than they did. Shirley Hecht was self-appointed taster. Maybe that had something to do with the lack of quantity.

We understand that Tryg Runsvold feels slighted because all the other "shakers" have been described in "Have You Met?". Don't worry, Tryg, "only empty barrels rattle," and besides, you defy description.

We want to fulfill your wants. One day service, fast, your photo work at no extra cost and the work is done by experienced workmen at LEHMANN PHOTO-FINISHING STUDIOS, Parkland Mercantile Company

Major Returns From Humane Society as P. L. C. Mascot Thru Efforts of Jean-Marie Fowler

"Yes, but, what about Major?" Excitedly, but with no little degree of deep concern, Jean-Marje put the important question before the Associated Students of Pacific Lutheran College in their last regular meeting of the year yesterday. "We can't desert him now, when he's at the Humane Society, and he needs all of us."
 Recognizing his new duty as president of the group, Clarence Lemming made a motion that Major be adopted as the school mascot. Loud were the "Ayes" as it passed almost unanimously.
 "But more trouble, then, who's going to feed him? Can we take the money out of the Student Body treasury?" asks Jean (hyphen) Marie. Many hands went up at this, but Clarence Monson is the honored one who will be privileged to feed our schoolmascot. When the problems relative to the keeping of Major were discussed, everyone offered to help. Prof. Xavier volunteered a kennel and Harold Anderson gave the use of his car to haul it over to school.
 John Van Leuven took a group of students to the Tacoma Humane Society, where dear old Major jumped at the fence at the first sight of friends from P. L. C. That we were fortunate in getting our mascot back is evinced by the fact that a visitor had offered Major's caretaker $3 for him. And unless Jean-Marie had taken the initiative, he probably would have gotten our Major. After due ceremonies at the Veterinary Hospital, Major was returned to home, where he shall always remain. A fund, started by Jean-Marie Fowler and Virginia Mahneke, provided for a collar, inoculation, and Humane Society fees.

 After a consultation of school officials to decide whether or not students should be allowed to have a dog, the popular request was granted, under condition that he not be permitted inside the building. If the mascot is allowed inside, he must be taken away, in fulfillment of the agreement of the students with school administration officials.

J. C. K. Preus is Here

Coming as an official inspector, as well as speaker for Baccalaureate services at graduation, Rev. J. C. K. Preus, secretary of education of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, arrived yesterday morning from Minneapolis, which is his headquarters. Although classes have been somewhat disrupted because of examinations, Reverend Preus has made as thorough an examination as possible and will make a report to the Educational Committee upon his return. While he is in Parkland, he will visit his brother, Paul A. Preus, field agent at P.L.C. and his son Rolf, who has attended school here this year.

R. C. Forman Gives Talk on Character

Rev. C. E. Lucky and Rev. N. M. Ylvisaker Also Address Students in Chapel Programs

Among the outside speakers who have addressed the students in chapel recently are R. C. Forman, educational advisor of the Puget Sound Power and Light Company; Rev. C. E. Lucky, of Faige, N. D.; and Rev. N. M. Ylvisaker, executive secretary of the International Young Peoples' Luther League.
 Mr. Forman, who spoke Thursday, May 18, student body day, gave an address on character building, stating that each man should be an individual different from all of his fellowmen; and that he might be so by following a five-point plan of living—that he should not lean on others, that he should get the facts, exercise good judgment, be courageous, and be cheerful. Mr. Forman said that by following these suggestions one can attain individuality which will make him outstanding in the world of mediocrity.
 On Monday, May 15, Reverend Lucky spoke to the students, bringing the message that each man should be a vessel unto honor in the kingdom of God.
 Reverend Ylvisaker addressed the students, after his return from the District Luther League convention in Silverton, Oregon, on the place of the Christian student in the world, and the good which he may accomplish.

Camp Will Be July 23-27

At Draper's Park, Des Moines, Washington, the annual summer Bible institute will be held July 23 to 27 with Dr. Conrad Bergendoff, dean of Augustana Theological Seminary at Rock Island, Illinois, and Rev. Odd Garntaka, dean of the Lutheran Bible Institute of St. Paul as guest speakers and instructors. The camp is open to anyone who wishes to come and invites particularly Luther Leaguers of all synods under the leadership of the Augustana Synod leaguers. The cost for a week's camping is $7.00 and down, meals included.

'Suede' Willard, Mountaineer, Instructor, Athlete, Is Nucleus of '33 Grid Squad

Coach Olson Faces Job of Getting New Line; Backfield to Remain Intact: Many Prospects Reported

When all the rest of the students are happily looking forward to three months of vacation, Frank "Suede" Willard is planning with Coach Olson for the prospects of a strong Lutheran grid machine for next year. As captain-elect of the Gladiator outfit and nucleus around which the team will be built, "Suede" is accepting responsibilities right and left by helping to get new members for the squad. Already several very likely prospects have been sighted through the efforts of next year's leader.

Besides his work with the Lutheran squad, "Suede" is now assisting Coach Schwartz with spring workout of the eleven at Stadium High School in Tacoma. "Suede" graduated from there in 1930, being captain of both the varsity football and basketball teams during his senior year. After graduation he attended Washington State College at Pullman for a year, during which he won a varsity football letter.

Aside from all these scholastic athletic activities, "Suede" is an accomplished mountaineer, having won honors for bravery in this respect. For several years he has been a guide on Mt. Tacoma, and has escorted countless mountaineering parties to the summit, a height of 14,928 feet. On several occasions he has been a member of rescue parties. In the accompanying photograph, "Suede" is shown wearing the Congressional medal of honor for bravery with which the United States Government honored him after he had been one of a small party which rescued the body of a U. of W. professor from a deep crevice at the mountain. Aside from his experiences on Mt. Tacoma, "Suede" has climbed nearly all the peaks of the Northwest, including Mt. Hood in Oregon and Mt. Baker in Washington.

With such a promising captain as nucleus and mainstay for next year's aggregation, Coach Olson has taken on new fields to conquer: in adding Linfield College of McMinnville, Ore., and Albany College of Albany, Ore., to the schedule. Coach Olson declares that these schools are much the same type and size as Pacific Lutheran, so expects interesting competition. Both these schools are members of the Northwest Conference.

Coach Cliff Olson, who is facing the tough job of finding men to fill up the gaping vacancies of the line for next year's Lutheran grid outfit.

The losses of Carl Martin, Ted Cronquist, Trygve Runsvold, Bill Whalen, John Fadness, Carroll Jacobson and Stan Score—almost the complete line—have caused Coach Olson to look for new line material. Among some of the good prospects in mind is Bill Shore, a former student, who expects to return.

In the backfield, practically all men will return, so the coach expects great things from this outfit. Dutch Moe, Hal Votaw, Marv Herson, Gene Jack, and Bev Shuster are returning backfielders; while Bob Levinson and "Suede" Willard, ends, are the only linemen to come back.

Lincoln Beats P. L. C.

7-11 To End Golf Season

Suffering their first defeat in two seasons the Pacific Lutheran College golf team lost to the Lincoln High School team Wednesday by a 7-11 score in a six-man match on the Parkland Golf Course. Preus, P.L.C., and Staples, Lincoln, tied for low-score honors with sixty-nines, one above par for the course.

Scores for the matches were as follows:

P.L.C. (7)	(11) Lincoln
Lehman 0	Gustafson 3
Hinderlie 1	Staples 2
Thompson 1	D. Johnson 2
Preus 2 1/2	Nordlund 1 1/2

'Shackers' Entertained

To mark the birthday of Carl Martin, the "Shackers", Carl Martin, Trygve Runsvold, Clifford Mesford, Ray Lerback, and Clarence Lemming, held a party last Thursday evening. The "eats" consisted of a large box of cake and cookies sent to the honored guest from his home in Arlington. "Dutch" Moe was also a guest at the party.

Delta Rhos Electing

Elections for the presidency of Delta Rho Gamma for next fall are still incomplete. Because not enough girls voted Wednesday, re-elections were held yesterday. Results of the elections stood: Wednesday—Safrie Torresdal 18, Virginia Byers 14, Florence Post 14; Thursday—Florence Post 17, Safrie Torresdal 14, Virginia Byers 13.

Summer Sessions Offer 29 Courses

With a curriculum consisting of twenty-nine different courses, summer school sessions will begin at Pacific Lutheran College on Monday, June 12. This first term will end July 19; and the second term, which starts July 20, will end August 25.

According to Dean Philip E. Hauge, who is in charge of the summer sessions this year, the whole faculty will be kept during the summer. The school is open to anyone interested, but credit towards a diploma is only given to graduates of accredited high schools or their equivalents. Tuition fees for the summer sessions are set at $4 for each credit hour taken. Each student is required to pay $3 for library fees.

As announced by the summer session bulletin, the courses to be offered during the terms are: Economic Resources of the World, Public School System, School Administration, Special Projects (in education), Primary Reading, World Literature, Public Speaking, English Grammar, Play Production, Shakespeare, American History (two courses), Current International Problems, Sociology, Library Instruction, College Algebra, Principles of Mathematics, Fundamentals of Music, Harmony, Piano, Ethics, Art Structure, Handicrafts, Introduction to Fine Arts, French, German, Hygiene, Nutrition, Psychology of Childhood, Mental Hygiene, General Inorganic Chemistry, General Biology, Geography, and Nature Study.

On request of five or more students, courses will also be given in the following departments: Christianity, Commerce, Education, German, Greek, Health Education, History and Social Science, Latin, Library Science, Mathematics, Music, Norse, Philosophy, Psychology, Science, and Swedish.

Glads Again Beat C. P. S. in Golf, 11-7

The Pacific Lutheran College midnet golfers refused to be downed by their rivals Wednesday, May 17, when they gave the College of Puget Sound a second setback this season, by defeating the Loggers, 11 to 7. The match was played on the Highland Course.

Scores:

Virginia Been Is Runner-up In Girls' Battle

Kathryn Johnson is the possessor of a shiny new Kroyden public as reward for being the most excellent golfer of her sex at Pacific Lutheran College. In order to win the club, she took a match from Helen Garbell, 1 up, won from Ellen Soley by default, and in the final round defeated Virginia Been 3 up on the sixteenth hole. This is Kathryn's second season on the golf course, where she swings a mean iron. Although she is naturally left-handed, Kathryn finds it more convenient to play right-handed golf.
