Audience Enjoys Wilde Play; Curtain Call Tonight, Sat.

Central "Penthouse style" staging plus English accents plus good comedy plus impressive acting are some outstanding features of the annual Alpha Psi Omega "Theatre Night" production, Oscar Wilde's three-act, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Directed by Malcolm Soine, assisted by Bob Crumbaugh, the play began its three-night run last evening, when the first performance began at 8 in the Student Union auditorium. It will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at the same time and place.

In the cast are Stan Elberson, as J. P. Worthing, and John Rydgren as Algernon Moncrieff. Romantic interests for the two are played by Helen Jensen as Gwendolyn Fairfax, and Harriette Olson as Worthing's young ward, Cecily Cardew. Lady Bracknell, Gwendolyn's domineering, aristocratic mother, is portrayed by Margaret Kutz.

Howard Shul is cast in the part of the local parish rector, Dr. Chauceable. Governors to Cecily, Miss Prism, is played by Kathy Reule. Two butlers add comedy to the production. They are Dick Svare, playing Lane, the butler in the town house, and Murray Martin, who is Merriman, butler in the country.

The plot of the play is complicated, but all works out well to have the usual "and they lived happily ever after" ending, although the way things turn out gives the comedy a surprise ending.

Working on the production staffs and crews are John Unit, who is stage manager, and Phil Mhyre, chairman of lighting. Frances Beery is chairman of stage crew, Hazel Johnson make-up chairman, Roberta Schuessler costume director, and Rosella Albrecht is in charge of properties.

Stationery Printed For ASL Members

Alpha Sigma Lambda stationery is now available for members of the club. Plaques, including the name and year of graduation, for members have been ordered.

Plans For Spring Saga Carnival Promise Bigger and Better Event

Over 2½ miles of crepe paper decorations will be used in the adorning of the Memorial gymnasium this year for the annual Saga carnival April 29 and 31.

This fact alone should give students and faculty an idea of the bigger and better Carnival which Karl Bachner, Saga business manager and chairman of the Carnival, promises that he and his assistants are planning.

Nineteen booths have been planned so far, with more to come. Some of the concessions planned include the Big Splash, Pie-Throw, Wet-Sponge-Throw, Darts, Rifle Shoot, Fun House, a Movie Theatre, showing cartoons, and refreshment booths.

Bachner says that the prize committee is doing an excellent job in obtaining worthwhile prizes from merchants, and they should prove to be the best ever awarded. Door prizes will be given both nights of the event.

Friday night a floor show will be presented by Curtain Call club, which is planning several skits. Saturday night entertainment will be provided by the Letterman's club in the form of a minstrel show. Carnival royalty will also be crowned Friday evening.

This is the first year that the carnival will be in the gymnasium rather than outside under tents.

Band, Newnham Leaving April 15 To Tour State

Departing on April 15 on a four-day journey of communities in Washington, the band, under the direction of Harley Christopherson, will present a program of varied numbers. Cities included on the tour to the north are Conway, Stanwood, Anacortes, and Seattle.

Accompanying the band as guest soloist is Frederick Newnham, voice professor at PLC, who will sing "Southhearted Men" accompanied by the band, and "Good Fellows Be Merry" with a small orchestral assembly accompaniment.

Soloists with the band also include Noel Abrahamsen, senior music student, who will play the clarinet solo in "Concertino" by Weber, and Jeanette Foss, playing the piano solo "Dream of Olwen."

The program which will be presented by the band includes: "The American Patrol," "Clarinet Polka," "Invercargill," "El Charo," "The Thunderer," a march by John Philip Sousa, "Orlando Palandrino," "Colonel Bogey," "Sleigh Ride," "The Overture from Die Fledermaus" by Johann Strauss, and "Funicule Funicule" by Denza.

Also appearing with the concert band will be the workshop band whose members include: Noel Abrahamsen, Eugene Ahrends, Jack Howerton, Kathy Eide, Jack Enoch, Dale Keller, Don Rord, Jack Seltzer, Paul Steen, Reule Triaphia, Dick Johnson, and Corby Christmann.

The Lettermen's Chorus is scheduled to sing with the band in Seattle.

Sovik Concludes Mission Talks

The Rev. Arne Sovik, returned missionary to China, conducted a special missionary emphasis conference on the PLC campus last Monday and Tuesday.

Rev. Sovik's general theme for the conference was "The Great Adventure." The purpose of this special conference was to create missionary interest in foreign missions. Rev. Sovik travels to all Lutheran colleges in America telling of the Lutheran missionary program.

After being driven out of China in 1947, while he was serving there as a missionary, Rev. Sovik enrolled in an Eastern college for two years before he accepted his present position as field representative for the ELC Board of Foreign Missions.

PLC students will be interested to note that Rev. Sovik's mother taught at PLC from 1901 to 1913.

INDIVIDUAL KEYS

Although imitation is one of the greatest instruments used by Providence in bringing our nature toward its perfection entirely, yet if men gave themselves up to imitation entirely, and each followed the other, and so on in an eternal circle, it is easy to see that there could never be any improvement among them.

On any college campus, if at no earlier time in our life, we have a splendid opportunity to become an imitation of someone else, instead of trying by work and patience to better ourselves. For many there is the inherent weakness and tendency to become the complete imitation of those around them, if they had been poured from the same mold. This they would rather do than learn by patience the art of being an individual with the ideals and dreams of an independent person.

True, we cannot set ourselves apart from the rest of the world or the campus, for only by a firm unity can an educational institution hope to stand as a shining example of strength and promise. But still there must persist that underlying quality of personal spirit and initiative. Ambition and courage must first come from the individual before it can be applied to group unity. Only by concentrating on fulfilling our ambitions, and practicing by making the most of our talents and abilities can we ever hope to benefit our associates, whether in club meetings, school plays, or even tests.

Lincoln once said, "Every man is said to have his peculiar ambition." This is what makes one man different from another, and one man a success and another one a failure. This lesson we must learn.

To get anywhere, we must strike out for somewhere or we will get nowhere. Such an example of complete unity comprised of ambitious individuals is the Alpha Psi play cast, which has been working together for weeks. Other such groups can be found all over the campus, and it is from such individuals that the strength of this year and future days will come.

To imitate the acts and ideas of another will never give happiness or success, neither will it help us up the ladder of life. In the end it will only lead to despair and destruction. May God grant us, the students of a Christian college, to live as sincere christian individuals, and give us strength to determine our own course, instead of relying on someone else to shoulder our decisions and responsibilities. Then, and only then, can we be melted into one complete and effective campus unit.

Chapel Quotes

Pastor Roe: Love is more correct than reason; it has better understanding.

Pastor Sand: A missionary should "Go Out," because he believes that Christ commanded him to go; not because he believes that he can save the heathen from. Be a Co-laborer with Christ wherever you are.

Pastor Arne Souick: A Christian is one who cares enough about the world to do something about it. There have never been so many opportunities for Christian Evangelism as there are in the world today. We should do our work as if everything depended upon us and pray as if everything depends upon God. There is no point in planning to be a missionary on some foreign mission field, unless you are a missionary here at home.

Capt. Lundgaard:

I was not responsible for the final basket—it was the guy that passed the ball to me.

By J. G. and J. R.

In your Easter bonnet,
 With all the frills upon it,
 You'll be the sweetest lady
 In the Easter parade.

With the warm feeling of spring in the air, PLC students were seen donned in their Easter flirty Sunday. Continuing with a tying these various colors of cotton were worn during the week. Fluffy Hawaiian shirts were worn by Walt Beasdale, Garret Lund, John McBride and Jerry Carlstrom. A vision of summer was seen in cotton dresses worn by Peggy Hubbard, Amy Knutson, Mary Olsen and Dorothy Blountfield.

A constant demand was held on the golf course as well as a waiting line at the tennis courts. Some promising golfers are Hulger Nelson, Bob Lilletson, Frank Tkelwell, Jerry Varmer, Lee Annusdum and Bill Finkle. Showing off tennis skills were Jaga Astrup, Gerry Hefty, Dick Krumow, Stan Rend, and Alan Hatlen.

Al Fink, Louella Vig, Bev Pine, Delora Johnson and Marianne Pfeiffer were seen bicycling through the countryside. Horseshoe acts during the week were Bob Bildt and Don Breimo, while nearby Lloyd Eastman, Bob Ingman, Richie Gogh, Jerry Sheffels and Paul Wangamo were seen playing catch.

It seems some of the girls had green thumbs and were seen busily planting flower seeds in various boxes and cans.

At PLC it is certainly true that a young man's fancy turns to love in the spring. Three young men, namely, Arne Kjesbu, Ray Green and George Nowadnick have bestowed rings on the fingers of Marie Noren, Bev Allen and Phyllis Iavik, respectively.

The baseball team has been turning out with the warm weather as a valuable asset. The fellows have really been working hard so let's all turn out and support them in their games.

This past week the warm spring evenings have been busy with the International Debate and the play, The Importance of Being Earnest. A good turnout is urged for the play tonight and tomorrow night.

Spring at Lutesville looks very promising with the warm weather and the many activities and sport events planned.

Giving, whether it be of time, labor, affection, advice, gifts or whatever, is one of life's greatest pleasures.

Newnham-Fritts Recital Pleases Capacity Crowd

By D. B.

Two members of Pacific Lutheran's distinguished music faculty, Frederick Newnham and R. Byard Fritts, displayed their talents in recital last Friday evening in the SUB before a near capacity crowd.

Frederick Newnham, professor of voice, sang a varied program which profoundly expressed his expert musicianship. He was accompanied by R. Byard Fritts, instructor in piano, who also played Liszt's "Pianofortissimo Etude in D Flat Major" with the mastery of a great artist.

Mr. Newnham's great versatility of range was shown adeptly in his renditions of groups of English, Irish and Scotch folk songs; and the audience particularly appreciated his explanation of the background of several of these numbers.

Mr. Newnham's delightful concert included: "Ye Twice, Ten Hundred Deities," "Song of Menus to Mars," "In Youth Is Pleasure," "Pleading," "Humpty Dumpty," "There Is a Ladye," "O That It Were So," "True Is All Lags Tells Us," "Down by the Sally Gardens," "The Snowy-Breasted Pearl," "If I were King of Ireland," "Kissal's Galley," "Nancy's Hair," and "Skyc Fisher's Song."

'Bishop's Mantle' Chosen As School's Spring Production

Miss Jean McGregor, speech instructor, has announced that try-outs for the spring all-school play will begin Monday evening, April 9, at 7:30 in the SUB.

Chosen to be the spring production is a three-act comedy-drama called "The Bishop's Mantle" written by Agnes Turnbull. It is the story of a young minister and his problems and activities in his first important parish.

Dates for the presentation of the play, which will be directed by Miss McGregor, are May 17, 18 and 19.

All students interested are urged and welcome to try out. There is a large and varied cast of characters. Copies of the play script are on reserve in the library for interested persons to read.

Mrs. Little Hears Talk on German Arts

Germany's postwar arts was the subject discussed at a recent meeting which Mrs. Otilie Little, professor of German, attended at the University of Washington.

Members of Delta Phi Alpha chapter of the National German Honorary society heard lecturers Rudolf, Kuck, Klaus Lemdoefer and Count Friedrich Rechberg present talks and lead discussions upon German literature, art and music from 1945-50. The three speakers are attorneys in Germany who are in America, one on a one-year exchange, to study the judicial system.

HARSHMAN AND GOOBER WIN HONORS

The speed with which the Evergreen Conference officials are compiling the votes sent in by conference coaches with their candidates for all-star honors may set some sort of record. In fact, at the rate they are going, the winners may be announced at least by the start of basketball turnouts next fall.

Practically every college newspaper in the conference has printed its choices for honors and three leading sportswriters in the Northwest also have proclaimed their selections. On all of these "dream hoop squads," the name Gene Lundgaard, PLC, has appeared. This is further evidence that "Goobar" is truly one of the all-time greats in Lute basketball history.

Gene was included in the all-star teams of Seattle U., Western, Central, and Eastern; and sportswriters, Dan Walton, TNT; the Everett Herald sports editor; and Jack Hewins, Northwest Associated Press sports authority.

Hewins' team, which included Frank Guines, Bob Peterson, Johnny O'Brien, Leon Mangin and Lundgaard, had as its coach Mary Harshman, head Lute basketball mentor, no doubt for the magnificent job he did with the state N. A. L. B. champs this year and his over-all PLC coaching record.

Lute Netmen To Field Team

Although tennis is an unofficial sport this spring, a group of ambitious racket swingers have taken it upon themselves to organize a squad.

They will provide their own equipment and transportation for matches. Many other schools are organizing teams on the same basis, including Seattle University, Western, CPS and Seattle Pacific. Matches will probably be scheduled with these schools.

Four Lettermen Return

As in the past, the matches will consist of five singles and two doubles events. With four lettermen returning, one place will be open on the ladder. Returning felt-winners are LeRoy Spitzer, Jack Bowron, Bob Larson and Larry Nielsen, who were ranked in that order behind Lou Gabrielsen, last year's number one man.

Lou, who now is attending Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, held down the number one spot on the Lute ladder all four years he attended PLC. He placed third in the all-conference meet, losing out in the semi-finals.

Several boys who have been turning out and will be battling for the fifth spot on the ladder are: Bob Ingman, Jim Jaeger, Stan Elherson, Myron Johnson and Dave Neevig.

No letters will be awarded to the returnees but it offers an opportunity to develop your game and have some fun. Anyone interested in playing should contact one of the members of last year's squad.

Dorms To Vie For Perpetual Golf Trophy

With the absence of golf from the Evergreen spring sports schedule, Professor Frederick Newsham has an idea that will stimulate interest in the dormant sport here at PLC.

He will offer a perpetual trophy to be competed for by the club-swingers of the White and Blue dorms. This will give some 70 boys a chance at the trophy. It will be kept in the possession of the winning dorm until the next year when competition will be renewed.

The trophy will have the individual and dorm winner's names and the year engraved on it.

An ardent follower of golf, Prof. Newsham finds time, in addition to his musical commitments, to shoot in the high 70's or low 80's for 18 holes.

All boys who are interested, whether an expert or novice at the linksport, should contact Mr. Newsham. A deadline for names will be announced at a later date and then a regular tournament, double or single, depending upon the number of contestants, will be set up.

Sorry, Fellas!

The sports staff offers its sincerest apologies to Mary Tommervik and the entire baseball team, but the story on baseball didn't reach the printer in time for publication.

Gladiator Cinder Squad Short On Lettermen

The Pacific Lutheran College cinder squad will clash with the College of Puget Sound cindermen Saturday, April 14th, for the first event of the 1951 season.

Coach Harshman will have a rough time filling out his roster this year with only a few lettermen returning from last year's squad.

In the dashes, Harry Malnes and Harold Anker seem to be the only boys ready at this time. Anker, however, will be hindered with outside work and will not be able to compete in all the meets.

Anker consistently ran the 400 yard in 10 seconds flat last year, while Malnes did it around 10.2 or more. Both of these men will run in the 200 also.

Lloyd Eastman, Bill Hask, and Jim Nolleberg, three non-lettermen, will run in the 440 event.

Knutson To Run 880

Leif Knutson, who placed second in the conference two years ago in the 880, is back to show his stuff again this year. Knutson's best time was 1:56 for the half mile and it is hoped he will do as well this year.

All-state Jim Lund of Fife will be the Lutes' bid in the mile and possibly the two-mile. Lund took the top honors of the state two years ago with a time of 4:31. Duane Ulleland, letterman, is also back to run the mile.

At present the Lutes have no experienced hurdlers, either in the high or low. Ken Erickson, Summer grad, and "Gib-in" Harry Malnes seem to be the only men Harshman can call upon.

Field Events Hopeful

Only one pole-vaulter, Dale Keller, has been seen out on the track this season. He posted a better last year.

In the high-jump, the Lutes have four men who should be pushing the 6-foot or better mark most of the season, those being Bert Wells, Lute basketball star, and Freshmen Garnet Lund and Paul Garrison, and Gene Layson.

Oliver Mattsson, Bob Brase, and big Ray Green, seem to be the only men who will replace Halberger in the weights. Diet Griswald is the only hope in the javelin.

Dr. Hauge Lists Information About Advanced Education Degree

Beginning with the summer session, PLC will offer a graduate program leading to a Master of Education degree, according to Dr. Philip E. Hauge, dean.

Debate Squad Ranks High At Nat'l Meet

Returning home to PLC with an excellent rating from the National Pi Kappa Delta forensic tournament on the Oklahoma A & M campus last week were three PLC contestants and their coach, T. H. Karl.

As this largest annual forensic tournament, teams and contestants are rated according to groups, class, superior, excellent and good. Six teams are rated as each group and since there were 163 individuals from 157 schools represented at the contest, they give some idea of how high PLC is rated nationally.

In debate, Bill Rutz and Jim Ericson, PLC team, won the out of right debate. They defeated Trans Christian, which had been rated as superior state of the country, Southern Illinois which had also been a world team, and also Michigan, Nebraska, Iowa Wesleyan, Missouri, Georgetown College and Drake University. They lost to only Bowling Green and Southern Louisiana Institute.

Individually, Ericson received good ratings in extemporaneous speaking and memory. Mary Larson won an excellent rating in women's extemporaneous. Rutz was only rated in discussion, for which no ratings were given.

Karl was a member of the Organization Institute committee, besides judging events. He said that the tournament had been held in the West coast in 1952.

Student Prayer Hour Is Scheduled Monday

The next all-school prayer meeting will be held at 6:30 p. m. Monday in the SUB.

Dr. Edstrand reports that the meetings have a good spirit and have been fairly well attended. "It gives the college family a spiritual harmony that we can get no other way than through joint prayer."

Petitions have been short and varied, such as prayers for the nation, college, for the Christian emphasis here, and not least of all, the chapel. Time allotted for the prayer meeting is one-half hour. This is a rigid time so that students may plan their evenings accordingly.

University of Oslo Offers Scholarship

An all-expense scholarship in the summer school session of the University of Oslo will be granted to an American student whose main interest is in the field of economics and who has at least two years of undergraduate college work.

Announcement of the scholarship, to be known as the Norwegian American Line Scholarship, was made by the executive committee of the Oslo Summer School. The award will cover the expenses of transportation to and from Oslo, board, room, clothes and student and excursion fees.

The 1951 summer session will be held June 23 to August 4. Scholarship candidates should make application with Dean Norman Nordstrand, Oslo Summer School for American Students, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

Students can earn six semester credits for the six weeks course. The main emphasis of the curriculum is on Norwegian culture—history, language, literature, music and art. Courses will be offered on the social, economic and political situation in the Scandinavian countries.
