

School Will Lose Seven of Faculty

Several of the faculty for which PLC is justly famous will not be returning to this school next year.

Stanley Elberson will be going into private business with the Remington Rand Corporation. He will remain in residence in Tacoma.

Carolyn Nelson will be another of those who does not plan to return to the staff of PLC for the academic year 1957-58.

Jon Ericson will study at Stanford in the Graduate Honors program in the Humanities, and Ruth Moe will continue her studies at the University of Washington.

Dr. Nothstein, his work at PLC finished, will not return for the next year. Elnora Chesterman and Anthony Stampola are slated to be among the absent at the next year's roll call of the faculty.

Several of the PLC profs will be missing during the summer school sessions to continue their studies. Ray Klepsch will study at the University of Illinois. Janet Runbeck is to study at Stanford, and Herbert Axford will be at the University of Wisconsin. We should all thank the Board of Trustees for granting professors leave of absence to become better prepared to help the students at PLC to obtain the best possible education.

Class and Club Officers Named

Several clubs have notified the Mooring Mast of election of officers for next school year.

From the Education department came the notice that the name of the club will be changed next fall. The Future Teachers of America, FTA, will become Student Education Association, SEA. SEA officers for next year are Camilla Emerson, president; Sherman Russel, vice-president; Lois Erakvam, corresponding secretary; Arliss Lee, recording secretary; John Kvamme, treasurer; Georgia Ann Larson, ICC representative.

Boy Tribe was elected Mission Crusaders leader for the coming year.

Eugene Pelaker will be the senior class president next year. Other officers elected recently include Deanne Moe, vice-president; Carolyn Helms, secretary; Dean Libner, treasurer; Wendell Stokkestad, inter-club council representative; and Harold Hakken, Student Council representative.

Voted in to be sophomore class president next year was Robert Larson. Other leaders chosen include Margaret Evadson, vice-president; Jacqueline Hjemson, secretary.

Five New Members Added to Mu Phi

Spring activities of Mu Phi Epsilon included the welcoming of their two new patronesses, Mrs. John Tenwick and Mrs. Fred Hennrichsen, both of Tacoma.

Five new pledges were taken in on May 16. They are Peg Byington, vocalist; Mary Lou Engen, vocalist; Ruth Loeffler, organist; Sandra Lucas, pianist; and Sandra Schlerman, violinist.

Another activity of Mu Phi has been collecting old and new music to send to Japan. If anyone is interested in contributing music for this project, contact room 219, South Hall.

osophy and religion departments.

A well-known and well-loved figure on our campus for the past 27 years, Dr. Pflueger has influenced the lives and beliefs of thousands of students who have attended our college. Because of his friends both here at PLC and around the world, we wanted to pay this tribute for the life of service he has given to God's kingdom.

His life has been full and meaningful in all respects, for he has served as minister, foreign missionary, professor, community and world leader, and author. In 1902 he was graduated from Capital Academy, Columbus, Ohio, and since that time has attended such universities as Capital, Tulane (where he is a graduate in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene), Leipzig, and the University of Washington.

A well-versed traveller, Dr. Pflueger adds color to his Old and New Testament, philosophy, and ethics classes by relating some of his own experiences in foreign countries. Profession societies of which he is

Senior Review Tomorrow Eve

From what we hear via the Grapevine, it sounds like the Senior Class Review which takes place tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in the CMS will be a refreshing relief from studies.

The past four years spent by the class here at PLC will be paraded before the audience with narrators Bob Fleming as the devil and Wally Berton, as an angel, illustrating the good and bad aspects of the past and the future of the Class of 1957.

Joan Kittleson and Joanne Bayne are general co-chairmen of the review, which will include skits and music. Assisting them are co-chairmen, Dave Steen and Lina Tabor, Freshman Year; Cathy Johansen and Dick De Jardine, Sophomore Year; Sylvia Herrian, Curt Howland and Bill Fosse, Junior Year; and Helen Jordanger and Neil Munson, Senior Year. Handbook and Artist Series Committees Are Already Working

As the year comes to a close and students are busy gathering up the loose ends and preparing to go home, many PLCites are getting ready for next year.

The Freshman Handbook committee, under the direction of Jack Holl, has already mapped out its plans for next fall's publication. It is hoped that the handbook will be completed in time to send out to the new freshmen before they come to school.

The Artist Series committee of 1957-58 got underway at the last Student Council meeting with the naming of Milo Sherer, Pat Ahrens and Al Ostroot as junior, junior and sophomore representatives, respectively.

Final Activities Keep Seniors Busy During Last Days

Today in chapel, the class of 1957 presented a program commemorating the annual Senior Day, which marks the last chapel attendance for graduating seniors.

The Class of 1957 marched into chapel, wearing caps and gowns, to the processional strains of Handel's March from "The Occasional Oratorio." The junior marshals this year are Barbara Blotau and Dean Libner.

The program following the processional, which was played by Mr. Byard Fritts, was as follows:

Presentation of the Senior Class.

Rev. Kueth.

A scripture reading and prayer, by David Steen.

An organ solo, "Legend," Patricia Gahring.

"The Future Is Ours," Larry Lane, class president.

A vocal solo, "Beyond the Skies," Mrs. Roxie Bergh.

Presentation of the class gift, Dick De Jardine.

Singing of the college hymn.

Recessional, "The Heavens Are Telling," Marcello.

Following the program, the traditional shrub will be planted by the class president, Larry Lane, assisted by Martin Le Rud, class secretary. Robert Stuhlmueller will read the planting proclamation.

Starting with the class picnic this afternoon and continuing until Commencement on Sunday, the graduation weekend promises to be a busy one for the seniors. Included in their schedule will be:

Senior class picnic, today at 1 p.m.

Senior Review, Saturday, 8:00 p.m., in CMS.

Parents' Reception, follows Senior Review.

Baccalaureate Services, Sunday, 11 a.m., in CMS.

Senior class picture, Sunday, 2:30 p.m., in front of CB.

Fleming Sez -

Heigh ho and away we go on this, my last column of the year, or any year, for that matter. First of all I'd like to apologize publicly to Dean Wickstrom and Dean Eklund. I had no business reporting that they were going to stop necking on the campus, because now I've found out that they aren't going to stop necking after all! Dr. Eastvoid and the Dorm Mothers are going to stop necking on the campus. . . . Is it true that Mr. Falk in the bookstore rents (under the counter of course) binoculars to boys wishing to follow the progress of the various tans on the girls on the sun porches? I also reported once that they were thinking of converting the CUB into a place to house the new theater organ. But that was untrue. The CUB isn't big enough.

Say, here's a song you might like: Courtesy of Abe Burrows, it's a memory type song and goes like this: 'I am strolling down memory lane, without a single thing to remember; I am strolling down memory lane without even a dying ember. Some fellows think of their mothers, some of their girl friends behind; But I am strolling down memory lane without a single thing on my mind.' (Give you a little tug?).

A girl came up to me the other day who was mad at the world, mad at the school and especially mad at her parents. She said she'd like to do something to disgrace them, so she asked me to mention her name in my column. I won't, tho. I'd like to let you in on a secret: During awards week Dr. Eastvoid himself personally gave me a scholarship for next year—to go to CPS.

My contest for the girl with the prettiest ears, I am sorry to say, resulted in a deadlock. The response was so great (two girls) that it was virtually impossible to pick a winner. I'm afraid my column hasn't really accomplished much. Dave Lindsay still hasn't shown up with the butter. Al Ahrens is still available. Don (ug) Cornell was elected a student body officer and Bonnie, Ona and Ruth in the coffee shop still have to pick up the dirty dishes off the tables, but as the poem goes: It's better to have bumped and borne the shame, than not to have burped and borne the pain.

A final toast: Here's to the pictures on my desk. May they never meet.

Question: Do infants have as much fun in infancy as adults do--but that's ridiculous.

Poem: Roses are red, violets are blue, It's raining outside and I have blue marks on... Do you think they'd ever invite me to read my poems for the writers club on campus? Not on your life. Too deep for them). . . . Is there any truth to the rumor that Dr. Schnackenberg once climbed to the top of the chimney on Old Main? . . . Is there any truth to the rumor that the education dept. is thinking of seceding from the rest of the school (or have they already) because their students are required to take a couple of classes that aren't methods in something or other? . . . Is it true that the pre-Sem department is think of foregoing all speech courses whatsoever and instead are teaching their boys to not talk at all but just stand up and think good thoughts?

In closing I'd like to thank you for reading and supporting my column. Now would anybody like to support me? I hope I haven't offended anyone, but if I have believe me.

'57 Seniors Attend Annual Reception

Last night in the College Union Building, the seniors of the class of 1957 attended the annual President's Reception given in honor of the class by Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Eastvoid.

For the seniors, the reception fittingly touched off four days of activities to be consummated by Sunday's baccalaureate and commencement.

The seniors, many of them accompanied by their husbands or wives, arrived at the CUB at 8 p.m. The reception line was headed by Dr. and Mrs. Eastvoid and also included the faculty and administration. Refreshments of cake and punch were served. This was followed by informal fellowship which was enjoyed by students and faculty alike.

'Say It with Music' Is Homecoming Theme

Homecoming plans are now under-way, according to the co-chairmen, Karl Borsell and Teddi Gulhaugen.

Homecoming will be November 8, 9 and 10. The homecoming game will be played with Whitworth on Saturday, the ninth. The theme will be, "Say It with Music."

Committee chairmen who have already been chosen are: Verua Robinson and Ron Talley, coronation; Esther Ellickson and Jeri Du-bail, alumni banquet; Janet Chesley and Dorothy Ristat, coffee hour; Carolee Chladgren, registration; Rich Hamlin, JoAnn Apker and Don Slattum, parade; Marilyn Force and Clintine Wells, half-time entertainment; Karen Knutson and Marie Ostroot, Powder Puff game.

Wedding Bells Will Ring for Many U. L. C. Students

There is a happy little group of students at Pacific Lutheran who are now going to receive the acknowledgement or notoriety they deserve. They are those men and women who will soon be before the altar and entering the state of Holy Matrimony.

In North Hall the engagements are as follows: Lois Anderson to Ray White (indefinite); Mary Klev to Dave Johnson (indefinite); Helen Rupprecht to Herbert Fernhober (August); Flores Olson to Larry Cox (August 18); Judy Navel to Roger Westberg (indefinite); Marilyn Kaisalahti to Bruce Ayers (August 17); Carolyn Link to Dave Hawell (March 1958); Ruth Laeffler to Russell Hunter (September 1); Mary Reinertson to Bob Manson (August 26); Barbara Pederson to Denis Bilby (indefinite); Donna Olson to Pierre Scarce (indefinite); Barbara Johnson to Jerry Oisen (October 1958); Jean Willoughby to Jerry Poencet (September 7); and Leslee Rosenquist to Ray Allvin (July 13).

The men in Old Main have been busy this year also as the following list of engagements illustrates: Curtis Hovland to Rae Hulbert (August); Jack Holl to Georgia Dee Martn (indefinite); Ray Swartz to Thelma Nygaard (June 1); Russ Hunter to Ruth Loeffler (indefinite); Carl Forsch to Roseann Jacobson (indefinite); Bruce Mesford to Kay Simonson (June 8); George Fisher to Carol Lunn (June 28).

"Yes, it's been a great year!"

Will 'Space Station' Be Built?

When the drawing of the projected bulletin board first appeared in the CMS lobby, many comments were overheard. The Mooring Mast sent a reporter out on the job to collect opinions. Here in a nutshell is the story of what many people variously called the "space ship."

As I sat in chapel last week and heard Dr. Schnackenberg tell of standing watch aboard ship, I was reminded of something much on my mind during the last few days. He told of the simple task that must be done carefully and correctly lest a serious and expensive catastrophe result. I thought of the task, comparatively simple; of the committee which had the duty of choosing the new bulletin board. They have done their task carefully. But there is still the danger of a mistake. It would be no really expensive catastrophe; there would be only an addition to the campus. Would this addition be desirable? At least we wanted to try to find out. The results of our efforts will be of interest to all who want their Alma Mater to be a monument to their pride.

For over a week students were polled and the results compiled. Of the students polled, 77.5% opposed the erection of the designed bulletin board, 15% were in favor of the design and 7.5% didn't care. Of the faculty polled, 20% were in favor of the plans and 80% opposed the action.

The reasons for this opposition range from those who think a bulletin board unnecessary to those who feel this monument insufficient. In order of their appearance these reasons are:

- 1) The bulletin board design is not in keeping with the rest of the campus;
- 2) the money could better be used;
- 3) we do not need the bulletin board in such monumental form;
- 4) we do not need a bulletin board.

Lutes Knock CPS From Baseball Crown

PLC smashed any hope of its cross-town rivals to get a share of this year's Evergreen Conference baseball championship as the Lutes dropped the CPS Logger nine 4 to 3 in the opener of a twin bill played at Western State Hospital last Friday afternoon.

PLC staged its great aprising in the second inning as it pushed three big runs across the plate to forge into a 3 to 0 lead. CPS countered in the third for a lone tally, only to have the Lutes score in the bottom of the third what proved to be the winning run.

CPS Knocked from Top

The Loggers needed both wins to share the league flag with Western Washington College of Education as they entered the game tied with the Western nine. Friday's win was the first league win for the Lutes this year as they wound up the season in the cellar of the Western Division.

The second game was halted after five innings of play due to rain with the Loggers coming out on the long end of a 9 to 6 slugfest.

Lutes Ride Rangers

Earlier in the week PLC gained a split in a twin bill with the St. Martin's Rangers. The Rangers edged the Lutes in the first game, 5 to 4, but the Lutes reversed the decision in the second game as they eked out a 7 to 6 triumph. Don May, with 4 for 4, was the leading hitter of the twin bill. Chuck Curtis received credit for the Lute win.

On May 11th the University of Washington gave the Lutes rough treatment as they romped to a twin bill win at Cheney field by 6 to 1 and 9 to 2 scores.

Lute Tennisers Set New Winning Pace

This year's tennis team finished its season last week with a win over Western Washington to bring its season record to two wins and eight defeats. According to those who have been around long enough to know, this is the first time in four years that the tennis team has won a match.

The leading scorers for the netmen were Dave Lindsey, Jim Gunderson and Loren Hildebrand, each having a total of eight points.

The members of the team and their ranks are as follows: first man, Dale Schinke (senior); second, Jim Gunderson (sophomore); third, Loren Hildebrand (freshman); fourth, Dave Lindsey (senior); and fifth, Dennis Troedson (freshman).

There will be only one returning letterman next year, Loren Hildebrand, so it is hoped by the returning tennis men that next year plenty of fellows turn out for tennis so that the record will improve even more.

THANK TO
SALZMAN, SPORTS WRITERS
Dave Crowner, Sports Editor

I was certainly glad to see that the George Fisher Athletic Award was given to our ace track man, Ted Slek. With track going by at PLC almost unnoticed, Ted's work was also obscured; but I know that it was a wise choice to honor Ted.

While I have the chance, I would like to publicly commend Coach Salzman on the fine job he has done with the intramurals. I hear that this is nothing new, either—he always does a good work on the 'murals. Statistics, schedules, etc., are always up to date, and everything is always well-planned.

It has been my aim this term as sports editor both to inform you and to improve your support of our school athletics, and I hope that at least part of this has been accomplished. Those who I thank very much are the sports writers, HARRY SANNERUD, TED SLEK, JASK HOLL, DAN WITMER and GENE HAPALA.

May we next year have good support behind PLC's track, baseball, tennis, golf, and also football and basketball.

Track Closes 'Murals; 4th Floor Wins Meet

Fourth floor Old Main completely dominated PLC's intramural track meet Wednesday afternoon as it amassed a total of 40½ points. Eastern Parkland and Clover Creek Hall finished second and third with 22 and 20½ points, respectively.

Ideal weather conditions prevailed to enable two new records to be set. Dick Goodwin of Old Main third floor put the shot out 39 feet, 8½ inches to better the former record of 38 feet, 2 inches set by Hugh Marsh in 1955.

Sheldahl Sets Record

Fourth floor speedster Lowell Sheldahl streaked to a new record in the 880-yard run as he sped over the course in 2:08.6 to wipe out the old record of 2:11.5 set by Terry Brown in 1953.

Clover Creek Heads Total

The intramural track meet was the climax of the spring intramural sports schedule directed by Coach Mark Salzman. Statistics from his office reveal that Clover Creek Hall gained a total of 1030.7 points for the 1956-57 school year to take the district championship in intramural sports.

In the individual point totals Jim Van Beek replaced Duane Moe who had been the total point champion for the past two years.

Golfers Make Best Record

PLC's divoters wound up their season this week with the best record in the Evergreen Conference, 7 wins and 3 losses.

The men of the green lost a heart-breaker to Seattle University last week by the score of 4-7. This, however, is still a feather in the Lutes' cap as it is the only team to score seven points against the Chieftains. Seattle U. also is one of the four top NCAA teams in the nation, schedules meets with all the major college teams on the coast and hasn't been beaten in 4 years.

The Lutesmen are looking forward to the Evergreen Conference tournament this Thursday in Spokane. It will be held at the Indian Canyon golf course and will be medal play.

From the looks of the records, our greatest competition will come from our cross town rivals, CPS, for they are the only conference team that has beaten us. The three-men team representing PLC are Don Hall, Bob Sparling, and Jim Hill.

PLC's golf team looked very good this year, especially when it came to finishing out the individual and team averages. Low honors went to Don Hall with 72, closely followed by Bob Sparling, 75; Jim Hill, 76; Art Nerheim, 77; Jim Volgamy, 78; and Dave Harntson, 79. The team average is 74.

District NAIA Track Held June 1, Renton

Track and field athletes from eleven Washington Colleges converge on Renton High's Stadium on June 1 for the district under championships of the NAIA.

Competing from PLC will be John Fromm, who is almost a shoe-in for the javelin honors, and Ted Slek, who had been holding the lowest time for the mile in Washington's NAIA District.

Lloyd Pugh of SPO holds the mile record at 4:24, set in '56, and the javelin record stands at 202 feet, 1 inch, tossed in 1953.

A top flight field is lining up for the Renton meet if past performances have anything to show. Lyle Balderson (Eastern) and Ray Dunegan (SPO) will renew their 100 and 220 yard dash rivalry. Balderson has a :09.6 hundred while Dunegan, the defending NAIA champion, has run a :09.5 hundred.

While track and field will take the spotlight, golf and tennis competitions will open May 31.

The opening 18 holes of the fifth annual divot digging match will take place on the Earlington Golf and Country Club course. The second round will be held Saturday, June 1, also at Earlington.

Tennis will be played at Seattle Tennis Club, Friday and Saturday.

From the library to the college to a road sidewalk.
 And though it isn't a wide walk
 It seems contracted.
 And the web staffs connected
 From the Chapel-Musko-Spook to Old Mack.
 Though once badly raised up,
 Through a friendly cement-layers' dig
 Now some with happy and some
 Through no door or on antique run
 And call this quadrangle home,
 Real students, on thinking, come to agree this:
 The wide open space there
 Has a place there.
 We'd build a bulletin board
 (Though maybe on some other place moved)
 Which Frank (Lloyd) Wright would not be a sound to,
 And no Egyptian pyramidal milder would think of hauling a stone to?
 And most of our students and teachers honestly, and not smugly, think is ugly.
 For announcements, something smaller would suffice.
 A board of some sort in the CUB would be soon.
 There are many places that could be used for it.
 Except the place that's planned for it.
 And if they really don't know where to spend the money—
 That thought's rather funny—

I'm sure that Mr. Haby
 Would think no almost daily
 If we'd help him the course.
 With the volumes he lacks.
 And that unless many students also would cheer
 Didn't someone mention it was studying we're for?
 And there's certainly many a student who'd be
 Who needs more books
 To finish school.
 For if to grad schools we should send a third year,
 (As good school should
 And our school's good)
 Let's help them get their bills paid here.
 A Lucia would reader remember an alma mater—
 And those will report with have forgotten—
 Where the money goes for building the college
 And helping the ones who dig for knowledge.
 (At least that is my conjecture)
 That for building breaks of architecture,
 Rooms are made by facts like me
 But if, without thinking, they will agree
 To build that thing, we that will find
 That's clearly a different kind.

TO ACHIEVE

The ivy sends its long, green vines
 Up the side of the brick wall.
 Grasping at bricks,
 Fingering cracks,
 It goes up - up -
 toward the somewhere top,
 Toward the brighter light,
 Toward the purer air,
 Toward the clearer view,
 Toward the somewhere top.

Each tenacle-like member
 Forges its way,
 Using the wall against the wall,
 To go up - up - farther, and on.
 The tough, brown, root-like fingers of the vines
 Work into the cracks and crevices,
 the vines
 Supported only by the brick wall.
 The impassive, stolid, uncomplaining brick wall.

Then a vine works itself behind a brick,
 And slowly, irresistibly,
 Forces the brick out from its fellows,
 Out from the wall
 Down to the ground.
 And the ivy continues its ascent,
 Up - up - to the somewhere top,
 Supported only by the brick wall.

Practical Pointers on INSURANCE from your
Lutheran Brotherhood Agent
 It is a column of tips and facts on life insurance for far-sighted-looking Lutheran students.
 Reading Time — 30 seconds
You're Living in Yesterday's Future
 Another school year is about over — and whether you're completing your freshman year or are about to receive your diploma, you've probably thought, "Time sure flies!"
 Yes, days and years have a way of slipping by pretty fast — and today's income with them, if we're not careful.
 Recently, a Lutheran father who has been out of college now for twenty years told us, "All I've got or all I ever hope to have in the future for me and my family is what I've put into my Lutheran Brotherhood policies. I'm glad
 I started in college to provide for the future."
 Maybe you haven't thought much about it, but actually you're living right now in yesterday's future. Start providing today for that important future you'll soon be living in.
 Ask your friendly LUTHERAN BROTHERHOOD agent — a fellow Lutheran — to help you with your plans. Write . . .
