Saga
—1947

Pacific Lutheran College

By faith the fathers of Pacific Lutheran College laid foundations, built walls, and established for their children and many others a Christian college. The pioneers, having before them a vision of what to come, were not afraid to wield the carpenter's tools and to build.

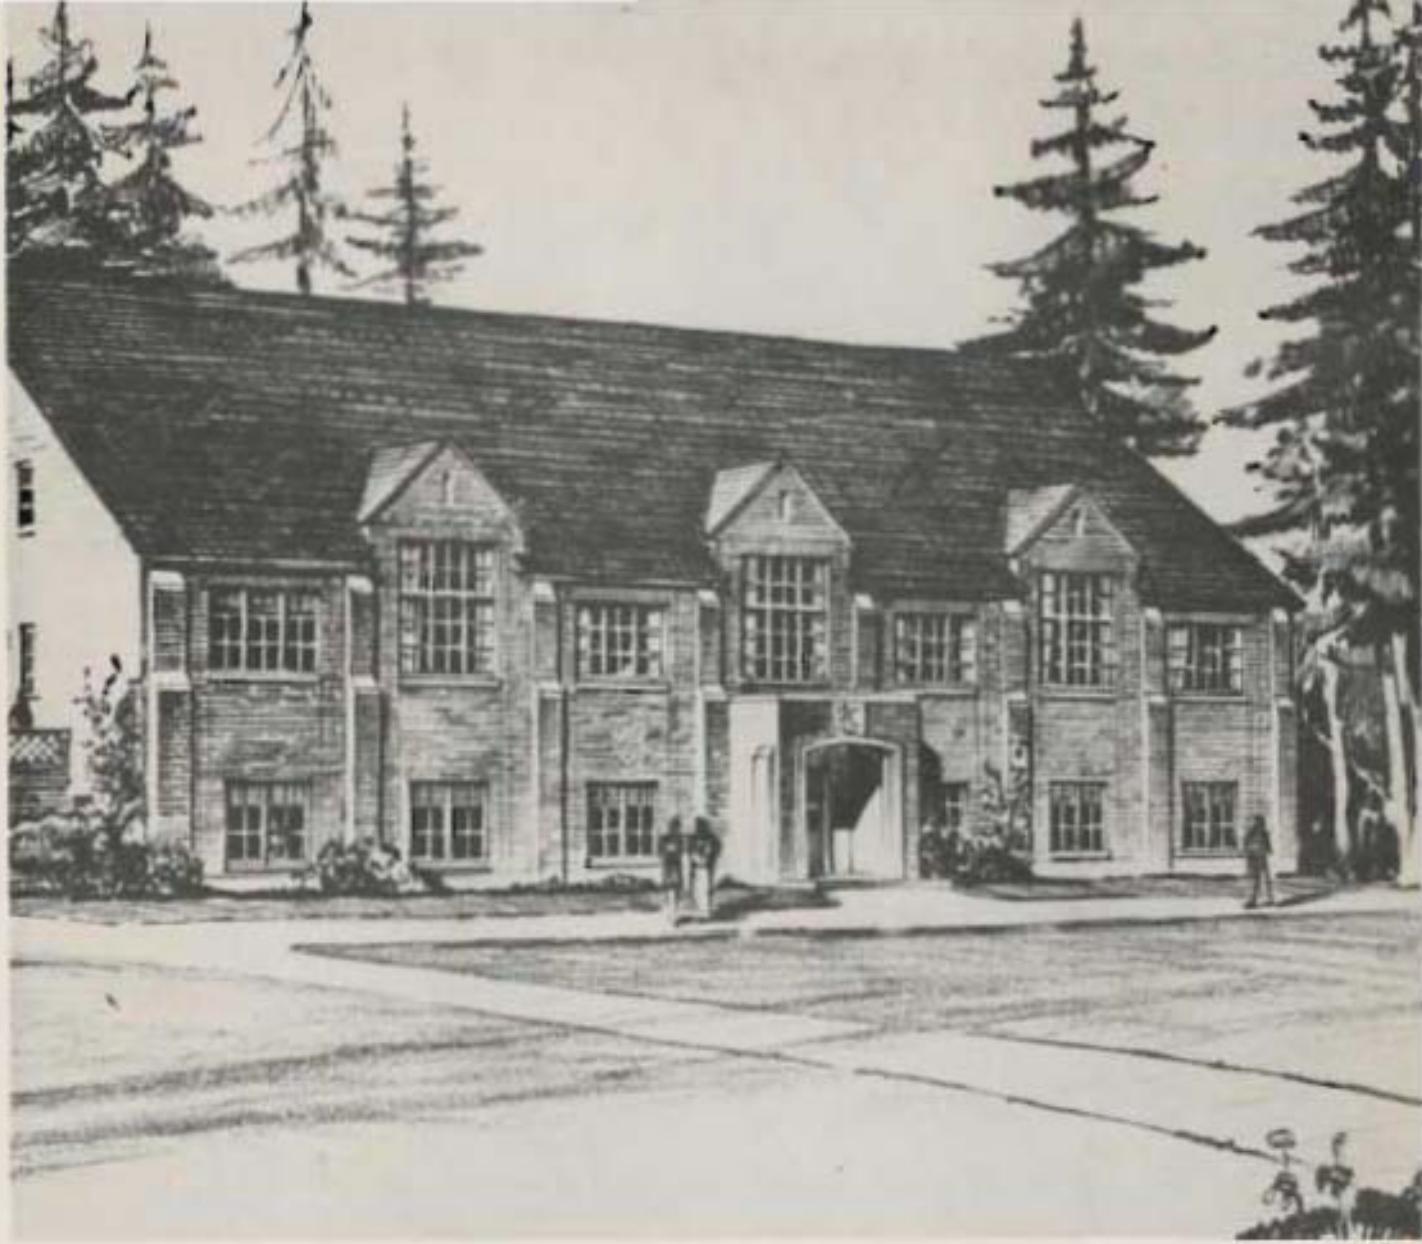

After the reverting trumpets of war comes the cry to "Rise up and build." Following the eager leadership of those who guide us, we as a college have also responded to this stirring call of the prophet — responded with the greatest building endeavor our campus has ever known.

It is fitting that we should in this SAGA of 1947 acknowledge the spirit of the issue — the spirit of building, the spirit of courage, and the spirit of progress.

The Christian liberal arts college is on trial. What has the teacher in a world of guns, tanks, ships, atomic bombs, and atomic bombs?

Morality has been tried and found wanting. It has been tested on a collision scale in Hitler's Germany, in Mussolini's Italy, and in Tojo's Japan. Brilliant minds with broad power have well nigh prostrated the universe.

War has in mind and will must be stopped here. The Christian college will have its great contribution to make in that area. The individual must be reached before the whole of society can be saved. As the oak sleeps in the acorn, so the majority, power, and dignity of one nation and the world lie dormant in the individual man.

The Christian college will bear its final test in the kind and character of its students.

and slaves. As is the master's sword, so is the college product: he is not produced for exhibition, but to reflect his desire on the fronts of truth and righteousness and, if need be, to run, wound and die until such are as king.

The Christian college is not perfect, but it aims at perfection. Accidents of world matter cannot gather. Some doors must be remained. Some educational graces are like imaginary. Certain educational difficulties are imperative. Please know all what cannot be utilized.

The Christian college will assist the student in search of the man of faith to let him to the word of God. As such he must be like David of old. He wrought boats & giant's bleeding head & took dumb tongue sold the tale.

The Christian college will compete in this marketplace by teaching academic truths in an atmosphere created by the word of God as revealed in Jesus Christ.

Dean Haage

The theme "Building" is most appropriate for the 1947 Saga.

It is appropriate because this year's student body has witnessed the completion of the government housing units, has watched the Science Hall, the Memorial Gymnasium and the government classroom buildings in the process of completion, and is now looking forward to the completion of the Student Union Building.

It is appropriate because every student attending P. L. C. is here to build better for his or her future life's work.

It is appropriate because the founders and supporters of the College are primarily concerned with the building of Christian character.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees once again takes pride and pleasure in extending greetings to the Sigma staff, the administration, faculty and students of P. L. C.

We are indeed proud of our large student body, and thankful for the fine Christian spirit that has marked also this past year. As new buildings are placed on the campus, insuring for the future a greater and better equipped P. L. C., we constantly have in mind that the motto — "Build for Character" — is fundamental, and that all efforts to improve and enlarge the facilities for student work are to serve to this end.

The Board of Trustees is proud to select the Class of 1947. We are sending on you to spread the news and fame of your Alma Mater.

God be with you, bless you and make you a blessing.

H. L. FOSS

The Alumni Association will be deviating from the traditional February Reunion this year. Plans are being made for the annual reunion May 30, 31 and June 1. This will coincide with graduation exercises at the college.

Activities will center around a music theme. We are looking forward to a joyful reunion with special programs and invitations to the alumni of the "Civie of the West." A banquet Saturday evening, May 31, at the New Yorker Cafe will highlight the weekend. Friday evening a music festival featuring alumni of the Choir of the West will be held at the college. Saturday afternoon there will be a baseball game between the alumni and seniors. There will be opportunity throughout the weekend to visit the campus and see the new buildings that are rapidly nearing completion.

The following alumni have served on the alumni board for the 1946-1947 year: Mrs. Henry Bernhard, Mrs. Stanley Willis, Willard Lovell, Bertram Myhr, Mrs. Margaret Hartman, Mrs. Theodore Cederberg, O. J. Stoen, Mrs. S. U. Xerxes, and Mrs. Shaw, Miss Anna Marn Nielsen in the faculty advisor, and Morris Forni and H. J. Dahl represent the alumni on the college board of trustees.

With "building" as a general theme for all activities of school life, the student body was quick to fall in line with a larger and more ~~enormous~~ program of events than ever before. Under the direction of President LeVerne Linnerson, the student council, governing group of the student body, has been instrumental in directing various programs to successful conclusions through the course of the school year. It has also caused the various classes and organizations to function harmoniously.

The Community Chest Drive, Football Banquet, Red Cross Drive, Sun Carnival and May Day Festivities are a few of the outstanding evidences of the work of the council. The student body meetings are the culmination of many hours of debate and discussion which occurs behind the doors of the student body office. Throughout all the student council has worked for cooperation with the faculty through Dr. Haage, the council advisor, while bearing in mind the suggestions and needs of the student body.

The council is presently attempting to inaugurate a new school spirit ring and pin in order to further traditions. As a gift to the school, the student body decided to furnish the basketball baskets for the school's new Memorial Gymnasium.

In this year of construction at PLC another important job of building has been done. The character of forty-six seniors has been molded here under an appropriate slogan, Building for Character.

Of this class of forty-six, there are sixteen entering Bachelor of Arts Degrees in Liberal Arts. The remaining twenty-four will graduate with a Bachelor of Arts in Education.

The senior class of 1947 has been led by Gerald Lader, president. Other officers were Erling Holand, vice-president; Lorraine Altmann, secretary; Reid Jensen, treasurer; Herbert Niemstedt, senior representative.

Some of the activities of the senior class were an ice skating party, a booth at the Saga Carnival, and a mixer which was jointly sponsored with the junior class.

Those "good old stand-bys," the Junior class, have completed with success and satisfaction another fun-packed school year.

Typical of those qualities which made the class outstanding were the brawn of President Eldon Kylling, the wit of Vice-president Virginius Lunde, the square-deal policy of Secretary Ruth Pflueger, and the intelligent economy of Treasurer Telma Metzger. Sergeant-at-arms Paul Lunde, together with the class greey, represented the Veteran class members and added that quality of rich experience which makes the Vets so valuable and popular on our campus.

The group is well-balanced in gender, too, having a slight lead in the masculine enrollment (18 men and 17 women).

Displaying their zeal and enthusiasm in a gay round of class-sponsored events, they highlighted the fall term by promoting an ice skating party. At the Saga Carnival in March their booths included bean guessing, peanut pitching, and a fish pond. On April 11th they combined forces with the seniors to win success in the Junior-Senior Mixer.

With another round of pleasant memories behind them, the group looks forward to the writing of their final chapter in the Saga of PLC.

Under the leadership of President Eleanor Hellbom, the sophomore class was guided through a busy year as H.C. Under officers chosen by the class were Vernon Berg, vice-president; June Apelid Simonson, first semester, and Jacqueline Klippen, second semester, secretary; Margaret Moon, treasurer, and Sad Thorp, sergeant-at-arms.

Prominent fall activity of the class was the Football Jamboree on October 18 and 19, including a bonfire, pep rally and parade before the Homecoming game. The sophomores were represented at the Sage Crystal by a bingo stand. The final class-sponsored activity was a roller skating party at Redondo on March 21.

The sophomore class boasted an increase of forty-two new members over last year's census, totaling now a population of 149 persons. H.C., largest class, having reached its halfway mark in college, looks forward to a bright future in its remaining two years.

This year's freshman class was unique in that it is the largest class ever to have been enrolled at PLC. Members of this class totaled 190 students, 211 of whom veterans, with men holding a ratio of more than 3 to 1 over the women.

Somewhat bewildered in their new environment, the freshmen succeeded in organizing their group and electing officers to guide activities for the year. Holding the president's gavel was John Leete. Larry Haage was vice-president; Bush Ciorowald, secretary; George Kylo and Darrell Sather, treasurers for the first and second semester, respectively; Marlene Pfleuger, ASB representative; and Phyllis Bryant, chairman of the activity committee. Professor Kamstad capably served as class adviser.

The frosty mixer, displaying a "seminole" theme, was the first student mixer of the year. The freshmen also sponsored the annual candlelight service after the Clinique banquet.

By the completion of the fall semester this class had "felt its wings" and found its place in the PLC family.

choir of the west

With "California, Here We Come!" as their motto, the 1946-1947 Choir of the West set forth upon a successful year.

First appearance of the choir was at the cornerstone laying for the new Science Hall, on October 16. Following this, the choir sang its annual Homecoming Concert, and also appeared in connection with the Reformation Festivals in Tacoma and Seattle.

Outstanding endeavor of the season was the nineteen-day tour of Oregon and California. On the snowy afternoon of January 30 the choristers jammed their suitcases and "slid off" to Longview, Washington, for the first concert of the twentieth annual tour. High point of the trip was the performance of the choir at the keynote session of the International Augustana Luther League Convention in Los Angeles on February 12.

Later in the spring the choir made a short week-end tour, singing in Aberdeen, Wash.; Astoria, Ore.; Puget Island and Olympia, Wash.

Soloists for this year were Ruth Jensen, soprano; Anita Norman, alto; Rudolph Johnson, tenor; and Harry Soloos, bass. Officers were Kenneth Anenson, president; John Nicolai, vice-president; Grace Elaine Gulhaugen, secretary-treasurer.

Much credit for a successful season is due to Mr. Gunnar J. Malmin, much-liked director, and to Mrs. Walter E. Young, better known as "Ma," efficient business manager.

Contributing much to the musical life at MLC this year were the Chorus, or Second Choir, having approximately fifty members, and also the newly organized Men's Chorus. Both groups appeared on various occasions throughout the community. These organizations were under direction of Mr. Malmo.

Vocalist Petersen was Chorus president for the year. He was assisted by Ted Ratz, vice president, and Verona Lee Matvienko, secretary-treasurer. Menard Hupp took over the duties of the secretary-treasurer at the second year. Officers of the Men's Chorus were Gordon Gano, president; Harry Soloor, vice president; and Odessa Autre, secretary-treasurer.

The Girls' Trio was frequently seen and heard on the campus during the year. The trio consisted of Muriel Hupp, Anila Narvaez, and Agnes Holmlund.

One of the more popular small organizations was the Men's Quartet. The quartet sang at various places during the year and took part in the informal programs on the choir loft. Members of the quartet were Rudolph Johnson, first tenor; Martin Gollaugen, second tenor; Arne Aakre, bass; and Jim Thompson, second bass.

Despite Mr. Malmin's efforts to increase membership, the "Little Symphony" remained smaller than last year's orchestra. The orchestra, however, proved that good things can come in small packages and gave several creditable performances including a chapel concert early in the school year, May Day, and Commencement exercises. They also appeared with the PLU Men's Chorus and the Norwegian Male Chorus of Tacoma in concert April 20.

With the increased enrollment this year, PLU was able to reorganize its band. Although lacking uniforms, the band made a good showing and lent spirit and color to pep rallies and football and basketball games. Aside from these appearances the band gave a short concert for the Parkland Community Club and for the Parkland Junior High School.

Arlene Cordes, faculty and administration; Herb Pfeifer, women's sports; and Elsie Frazee, snapshot editor, all took part in the publication of the annual.

Despite greatly increased costs of publication, Business Manager Walt Kunschak skillfully kept the red and black sides of the ledger balanced. In this he was assisted by Herbert Niemeth, in charge of circulation, assisted by Von Fink, and Gordon Gano in charge of advertising. Marilyn Pfleuger, Arlene Kjelso, Boose Hora, Alton Hora, Harold Haage, Orna Sischo, Ardith Olson, and Jiro Keddie helped.

Mrs. Anne Knudson advised the editorial staff; Miss Vera Orry was an adviser; and Mr. O. J. Siuen assisted the business staff.

Every other Thursday the walls of the Beard Printink Company rang with the clatter of the linotype making type for the Mooring Mast. Huddling over the forms were the editors trying to fit three inches of type into two inches of space.

Ruth Johnson, who filled the editor's desk at the beginning of the year, left them to Ardis Bredvold and Mary Shaw at the second semester. Betty Helman held the associate editor's place, being joined by Ruth Johnson in the spring.

One of the Mooring Mast's stars was Dick Wadsworth, sports editor. Biggest losses to the paper occurred when Harry Holt, PLC's No. 1 "Benchley," and Don Sloan, "sage of the sports page" who wrote the column, "Sloan's Library," graduated at the end of the first semester.

Contributing beacon was Mrs. Ruth Franck, whose individualistic heterodoxies saved many an error and "covered a multitude of sins."

Professor G. J. Stoen was business counselor. June Apland was business manager; John Nicolai, advertising manager; and Elsie Envilier, circulation manager. Arleen Cordes became business manager when June Apland caught epidemic fever and was mailed.

On December 5 and 6, Ruth Johnson, Mary Shaw and June Apland attended a press conference at Bellingham sponsored by W. W. C. E. At this meeting ten colleges including PLC formed the Northwest Intercollegiate Press Conference, which will meet twice annually.

l. s. a. council

Other than one composite LSA organization on the campus, PLU has four religious groups and a coordinating council, which make up the Lutheran Student Association local. The council, composed of two representatives from each of the four groups and a faculty adviser, is the coordinating element.

This group meets regularly to discuss the problems confronting the religious organizations and to help them coordinate their activities on the campus.

Under the leadership of Ted Reitz, president; Charlotte Mykland, vice president; Jean Harbeck, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Anna Maren Nielsen, faculty adviser, a successful and active year was enjoyed by our religious groups.

The LSA sponsored a well-attended meeting to Lutherland on October 26. LSA members gave good representation for PLU at the regional fall retreat at Lutherburg Camp at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, on November 17, and also elected fine local representatives at the regional spring conference at Colton, Oregon, on March 29. On April 1 the LSA sponsored Dr. Morris Wee, executive secretary for the national LSA, as a campus speaker.

Under the guidance of the LSA council, joint meetings of the religious groups were held, with each group contributing to some portion of the program. Many new similar activities are planned for the future.

Fireside, a voluntary group of college students, has met at seven o'clock Sunday evenings around the common room fireplace. This group which gathered regularly for socialization and fun, has an open membership. Frequent talks were given by students and faculty members.

Heading the group the first semester was Jess Thompson, president, assisted by Marceline Sauna, vice-president; Don Berg, secretary-treasurer; Harriet Noel was chairman and Semon Anderson, finance. John Nicola was president during the second semester. Leonard Staatz, vice-president; Alice Cade, secretary-treasurer; Evangeline Ordahl, vice-chairman, and Paul Hild, finance. Throughout the year Dona Voss and Charlotte Midland were LSA representatives for the group.

Meeting every other Wednesday evening, members of the Mission Society have received inspiration through missionary letters, mission reports and copies, and the practical applications of "Visit the Fatherless and Widows." Visiting has been with old folks at the Hill Home in Tatnall on Sunday afternoons and at the Midland Old Folks Home on Thursday evenings.

Officers for the fall semester were Edwin Sandig, president; Arne Aske, vice-president; Valborg Kunstad, secretary-treasurer. Spring semester officers were Theol Holland, president; Vern Mink, vice-president; and Marlene Eide, secretary. Jacqueline Klippen was Project Testament secretary, and Jean Harbeck and Ted Reitz were LSA representatives throughout the year. Dr. J. P. Ellinger served as adviser to the group.

The Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation on the campus has afforded opportunity for girls to further their religious life and to become living stones in the spiritual house of the L.D.R. The campus group works with the national, district, and circuit organizations.

Project for the year 1943 was the raising of funds for literature for South American missions. A Christmas gift was sent to the Parkland Children's Home in Everett. At the annual Mother's Day tea in May, National Executive Secretary Mrs. Njasa was honored guest and speaker.

Under the faithful advisement of Mrs. J. P. Pflueger, the members enjoyed the monthly meetings in the homes of the faculty.

Officers for the year were Alice Kjoba, president; Eva Claassen, vice-president; Ruth Toss, secretary; Noerne Shilberg, treasurer; and Betty Lou Kieke and Olae Torgard, L.S.A. representatives.

With student-planned and -presented programs, Campus Devotions met once a week for the purpose of devotional inspiration. Both day and dorm students took an active part in the work.

Officers for the first semester were Bob LeRoy, president; Silas Torrence, vice-president, and Louise Ostfeld, secretary-treasurer.

Holding office for the second semester were Harold Haugen, president; Dwight Bos, vice-president, and Blanche Kilmer, secretary-treasurer.

Charlotte Mykland and Julian Nicolai served as LSA representatives for the year, while Miss Blomquist was adviser for the group.

associated women students

Introducing the Associated Women Students — a combined group of all dormitory and day girls.

Activities for the year included the Big Sister Tea, where each freshman girl was given an upper classman big sister, thus affording all new girls an opportunity to become acquainted with both old students and new. Another AWS tea was held in connection with the annual May Day Festival, when future freshman girls were the guests.

During the year a drive was held to raise a fund for an AWS Scholarship to be awarded to one of the seniors students. An annual raffle also aided in raising funds for this scholarship.

The AWS took charge of the sale of tuberculosis crosses this year. All profits were given to the local tuberculosis hospital.

Officers for the year were as follows: President, Anita Roth; vice-president, Alice Brudie; secretary, Alice Kjesbu; treasurer, Eleanor Hellmann; chairman of social activities, Alona Heen; and publicity chairman, Norene Skilbred.

delta phi kappa

Delta Phi Kappa is an organization of dormitory girls. Devotions were held each evening helping to bring quiet and good will to all.

Cecile Gaabangen served as president, and working with her were Edna Swartz, vice-president; Dorothy Moe, secretary; Selma Gunderson, treasurer; Romola Gaabangen, social chairman; and Phyllis Nygaard, fire chief. The class representatives Alfhild Hagen, Cecile Koesten, junior; Dorgeb's Elefson, sophomore; and Alice Andersen, freshman, were part of the cabinet and also helped in making the organization a success.

Thanksgiving, Christmas and spring banquets were sponsored by the Delta Phi Kappa for the Boarding Club students. Decorating the school at Christmas and managing a lunch booth at the Sage Carnival were other projects of the Delta Phi Kappa this past school year.

delta rho gamma

Led by President Alice Kjelds, the Delta Rho Gamma had a happy and prosperous year. Vice-president Charlene Marcus, Secretary Grace Walters, Social Secretary Margaret Johnson, and Treasurer Helen Erickson assisted the president with official duties.

Red letter dates on the DRG calendar were a Christmas party held Tuesday, December 17, which was highlighted by the bringing in gifts for the Day Home; a slumber party and an ice skating party held March 28; and a slumber party in late spring.

A highly successful experiment which augmented the DRG treasury was initiated. Three girls each week were chosen to clean the Day Room. The girls were required to turn in a record of unexpected cleaning the DRG room, and the money they earned, which would have gone toward hiring a cleaner, was added to the DRG funds.

Miss Lillian Langemo, PLC library assistant, was adviser.

veterans' club

In its short life the Veterans Club VCC has become a strong and well-organized group. Elected officials for the fall semester sound Bob Thorp, president; Phillip Rothy, vice-president; Esther Ordahl, secretary; Eldon Kyllonen, treasurer; Ivan O'Andrea, sergeant-at-arms; Professor Karl Weier, faculty advisor.

Under the guidance of Cliff Lwing, master of ceremonies, the Vets' Social in November will be remembered as a well-coupled performance.

High point of the year for the club was the presentation of Andre Foulds' famous Hanuman mask, to a large crowd in the Mackland Junior High School auditorium, January 26.

With the coming of the spring semester a new group of officers were elected to carry on the work of their predecessors. Elected were Eric Holand, president; Elmer Peterson, vice-president; Jess Franklin, secretary; Ted Lufur, treasurer and George Fullerton, sergeant-at-arms.

A clever booth by the Vets' Club added considerably to the success of the Sage Carnival.

With a total of 400 students the veterans made up about 1/6th of the student body. The Vets' Club anticipates a bright and active future.

Tawasi, a men's honorary service organization, resumed its rightful place among campus activities again this fall after a lapse of four years during which time its members were performing another type of service. Tawasi, which means friendly companion, stands as a friendly hand to get behind and help promote any student activity on the campus that might call it for services.

Due to its late start in getting organized its activities have not been numerous this year. It did, however, perform a number of usual duties, the primary one being the ushering for and selling of tickets at the basketball games.

Officers for the first semester were chairman, Harry Holt; vice-chairman, Harry Sloan; and secretary, Robert Fornosa. During the second semester the club was led by Walt Kunischuk as chairman, Harold Haugen as vice-chairman, and Silas Torvend, secretary. Dean Lowell J. Sauer was the adviser.

The Lettermen's Club was reorganized during the fall semester with the following officers being installed to lead the group: president, Erling Holand; vice-president, Don Sloan; secretary-treasurer, Glenn Neal; and sergeant-at-arms, Paul Polillo. Marv Harshman and Marv Tommervik were chosen as faculty advisers.

A drive to remove all foreign letters from the campus was sponsored by the club. An intramural basketball tournament in which twelve teams participated, was sponsored by this group during the winter, the winners being the "Meatpackers."

In January, Don Sloan, a mid-year graduate, was replaced by Elmer Peterson as vice-president. Glenn Neal withdrew from school and was replaced by "Fuzzy" Willis as the secretary-treasurer.

A benefit basketball game was conducted by the club and pitted the Meatpackers against the P.L.C. "B" squad and the crowd-pleasing Ballard Bombs against the Payroll atom team.

Membership of the club doubled during the year and will continue to increase with baseball being added to our roster as a major sport. With this in mind the future of the Lettermen's Club appears very bright.

ski club

After a few years of inactivity, the Ski Club was revived and has become one of the most active organizations on the campus.

Among the activities in which the Ski Club has engaged have been week end ski trips to Mt. Rainier, mounds, and a style show. Many members also participated in a ski meet at Seven Pass.

Officers for the fall semester were Frederick Miller, president; Vernon Berg, vice-president and Mary Jane Breton, secretary-treasurer. Officers for the spring term were John Roskrem, president; Vernon Berg, vice-president; and Gladys Lea, secretary-treasurer. Mr. O. J. Sorenson served as club advisor.

The Roller Blades Skating Club was organized for the purpose of promoting interest in roller and ice skating among the students at Pacific Lutheran College. Membership was open to all students keenly interested in the sport and the roster boasted approximately thirty members.

Charlotte Martens, president; Agnes Leeman, secretary, and Arot Leo Johnson, treasurer, were the officers of the club for the entire year.

The most important function of the club this year was the all-school roller skating party at Redondo Roller Arena on January 10.

german club

Under the advisement of Mrs. Terzieff, the German Club has pursued as its goal a more complete understanding of the cultural aspects of Germany. This objective has been presented by lectures, musical selections, picture study, and group discussion, all supplementing the regular classroom study.

Officers for the first semester were Carl Fynboe, president; Ronald Joss, vice-president; Marcia Etzel, secretary; Larry Hauge, treasurer, and Lora Metzger, social secretary. Second semester officers were Erhard; Omauel, president; Dorothy Meyer, vice-president; Shirley Morgan, secretary; Delbert Zues, treasurer, and Blanche Kilmer, social secretary.

An interest in France and French, plus the superior guidance of Mrs. Terzieff, made a name for the "Le Circle Francais" after several years' inactivity on the campus. The monthly programs were designed to present French customs by lectures from French literature, music, and historical or geographical readings.

Officers for the year 1946-47 were Martha Stuckland, president; Jacqueline Stephenson, secretary-treasurer, and Vinton Wenham and Jeanette Smith, program chairman.

debate and oratory

Under the able coaching of Miss Clara Chilton, the debate club took a active place among activities after two years of absence from the campus agenda. The question under consideration for 1946-47 collegiate debating was — Resolved: Tax labor should be given a direct share in management of industry.

After playing home to students from the University of British Columbia followed by two engagements with C. P. S. drama, P. L. C. debaters participated in a Pi Kappa Delta-sponsored tournament held on the C. P. S. campus February 22. In the same month at Linfield College, McMinnville, Oregon, on February 28, March 1 and 2, the P. L. C. varsity team included Elaine Eswiller, Edna Haglund, and Jacqueline Stephenson. Walt Kuschak, Al Nordeng, and Larry Haupp, Leon Kauke, Lloyd Cleven, Marilou Haupp, and Al Scheeler; and Joe Bostwick and Ralph Haupp. A memorable event for all participants, the Linfield tournament served as an opportunity to meet students from schools of many states in the west.

In an oratorical contest January 23, Edwin Valentine won highest honors, with LaVerne Linnerup as runner-up and Phillip Nantz in third place. Gerald Ervin and LaVerne Linnerup represented PLC in oratory at Linfield College, with Marylee Strickland and Donajeanne Hollingshead appearing in interpretive contests. Honors from the Pacific tournament include LaVerne Linnerup placing third in men's oratory and Marylee Strickland winning second in interpretive reading.

Dramatic Activities

In addition to the major activities of the Music and Speech departments, students had the opportunity to appear either on Campus Radio Theatre or in several of the school plays. These activities were directed by Prof. Gunnar J. Mansin and Miss Clara J. Chason.

The year Campus Radio Theatre sponsored by Tacoma City Light, carried the following programs for PLC Homecoming Variety Show, Christmas concert by the Choir of the West, round table discussion on this year's debate subject, concert by the choir, a radio play, and the final program of the year, a joint presentation by all the Tacoma schools known as the "Musical Jamboree." These programs were all coordinated by Mr. Arnold Benum, program director of radio station KMO.

Homecoming was the setting for two one-act plays, given in the old chapel, which were received by an enthusiastic audience. The program featured a drama, "Grey Bread" by Jean Marie Lathen, and a mystery comedy, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," by A. A. Milne. Students who dramatized "Grey Bread" were Ellen Braun, Anita Norssao, Marianne Hedwall and Ruth Gulhaugen. The cast for "The Man in the Bowler Hat" included Joe Hill, Jeanette Smith, Phil Noeby, Estelle Crowley, Wes Hillman, Melvin Osterle, and Cliff Ewing.

The Theta Pi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega presented Theatre Night in the Parkland Junior High gym, March 11, 1947. The program consisted of music by the Girls' Trio and Alice Stockton on the violin in addition to the plays which were the well-known comedy take-off on psychoanalysis by Sogoo Gilspell, "Suppressed Desires," and a new, rather bizarre drama of an Irish fishing village, "Strange Road," by John Huston.

Actors in "Suppressed Desires" were Marylee Strickland, Beverly Waller and Kurt Buehlow. The play was under the student direction of Elaine Enzeller. The roles in "Strange Road" were interpreted by Eleanor Hellbahn, Jeanette Smith, Ellen Bruce and Ralph Haugen. Howard Swartz was student director.

"On Borrowed Time"

Fantasy spotlighted the spring stage with Paul Odor's play, "On Borrowed Time," directed by Miss Clara Chilcoo.

The conversational Mud uran expertly played by David Sannerud, Parkland school student. His "Gramps" was portrayed by Howard Swartz otherwise known as "The Beard." Anna Normand's gentle role as "Granny" was superbly executed as was Mary Shaw's part as the cultured Mr. Brink, alias Dutch. Penitress, the money conscious aunt, was enacted by Marylee Strickland and Marcia Giles, an attractive young lady on the premises, was Beauregene Hedwall. Ralph Haugen excelled as the soft spoken bedazzled Dr. Evans. The anxious attorney, Pilbeam, was in the hands of Rose Bischell, while Vera Fink assumed the role of Mr. Grimes, the race carlun attendant. Wes Hillman was the sheriff, and Wali Worley and Marion Read completed the cast as the two workmen.

Committee chairmen were as follows: advertising, Stan Williamson; business, Hazel Webberg; lighting, Paul Pfeifer; make-up, Eleanor Heliburn; properties, Joy Isaf; stage crew, Bob Crumbaugh; wardrobe, Elsie Enwiller; prompters, Pat Husvis and Elsie Enwiller.

COACH CLIFT OLSON

Football

Shedding khakis and bell bottoms, the Gophers took a turn back to the former life of gridiron warfare. Head Coach Olson was assisted by a squad of 85 men all or making his initial call for the fall season. As a distinct disadvantage for lack of football gear, Coach Olson spent many hours rounding the squad into physical condition and of course hunting up pads, pants, headgear and gear.

With a nucleus of returning lettermen which included Paul Holida, Dan D'Andrea, "Pete" Peterson, Erling Holland, Frank Spur and many others, the coaching staff began molding a winning combination. Head Coach Olson was ably assisted by Line Coach George Falckom and Backfield Coaches Marv Tommervik and Marv Hershman, the latter two dividing their time between pro football and coaching.

Plagued by injuries to key men, the Gophers were unable to recapture the fighting spirit that led them to Wisco titles in previous years. As the record stands the team won three home games and tied one, but the number of all-WISCONSIN team members attests to the fact that P. L. C.

Fielded a potent ball club. Four men were honored by selection to the all WISNCO first team, and three to the second team. The first team winners were Paul Polillo, end; Elmer "Pete" Peterson, guard; Don D'Andrea, center; and Frank Spear, back. Second team selections were Jack Guyot, back; Eldon Kyllonen, tackle; and Erling Holand, guard.

Leaving only five lettermen by graduation leaves Olson with a healthy outlook for the 47-48 season. With the potent talents shown by freshmen Guyot, Andrew, Weathermon, Gorud, Prout, Fallstrom, Blair, Strandness and others, coupled with the old reliable Petersen, U. Andrea, Kyllonen, Spear, and Braslie—the Gladstones should prove to be a great killer.

Departing from their usual zone-defense passing attack, the Lutes employed sheer power to dump the Neagles 26 to the Winco League opener played at Sorenson Field in Olympia. Frankie Sierleza, Little All-American, passed brilliantly for the only St. Mary's score. Jack Bratlie, Frank Spear, and Jack Goyor were outstanding for the home team.

Feeding the hard-charging Huskies on their schedule, the Olsonmen bowed to the powerful Husky "Pups" in the Stadium Bowl. Tommy Hollins gathered in Frank Spear's pass for the lone Lute tally. Exp. Bob Andrew's stellar play in this contest earned him a starting berth on the eleven.

P. L. C 12 WHITWORTH 0

In their second Winco League appearance, the Lutons traveled to Spokane to tangle with the Whitworth gridiron and emerged with a 12-0 victory. Halfback Danie Rose's lineplunges and Spear's quick kicking were highlights of the win over the Pirates.

Big Norm Sorenson, Line fullback, scored both touchdowns on straight power plays through the middle. The Lutheran linemen proved they could take it by holding the North-enders for downy on the two-yard line. The best all-round performance of the year.

COACH MARSHMAN

HARRY McLAUGHLIN

With the advent of the 1946-47 basketball season, the local fans looked forward to an interesting and hard playing season. With veterans Ernie "Gat" Perrault and Fuzzy Willis as a nucleus, Coach Marv Harshman went to work building his squad. Stellar work in the pre-season games won places on the starting five for Harry McLaughlin, brother Willie McLaughlin and Vern Morris.

In the pre-season practice games against the former colleges of Washington the team piled up a record of seven wins and no losses. Harry McLaughlin looked impressive in all of these games, slunking shot from any place on the floor. Ernie Perrault and Willie McLaughlin with their ball-handling also caught the spectators' attention.

The basketbolers were plagued with injuries and sickness throughout the season but managed to come through with a third place in the WINCO standings. The outstanding work of Sam Turman, Ross, Kaest and others kept the team up in the running when the scoring fire went out because of injuries.

National recognition was gained by Harry McLaughlin for his scoring record. In twenty-nine games, he scored 493 points which placed him seventh in the nation. He was also chosen to the first team of the All-WINCO team.

With the loss of only one man, Ernie Perrault, the outlook for the '47-'48 season is good. Recurring lettermen will include Harry and Willie McLaughlin, Vern Morris, Fuzzy Willis, Ted Kaust, Jim Turman, Ed Cramm, and Dickie Willis several rounds of free throws which the squad should wind up at the team to beat in the WINCO League.

CITY SERIES

With the City College Circus reeling from Loggers' last, the Lancers held high hopes of snatching the crown back into familiar territory. The initial tilt on December 14 proved to be an eye opener to Calabasans. With Coach John Hinrich pointing to this game, after a mediocre pre-game record, the Loggers came forward chopping the Circus down. Tallying the opening by the score of 36 to 33 the Woodmen used their height and speed to advantage. Bill Stevens being the star player of the day. Outstanding for the Lancers were Ernie Perrault and Harry McLaughlin.

The next three games of the home and home series were very close and both contested throughout, the Loggers winning all four games to sweep the series and claim the city crown.

U. B. C. SERIES

Farther up the Mountain Thunder Birds from British Columbia in their non-league games the Lutheran basketball crew came on from long and winning two decisions and dropping one. The highly-rated Birdmen took the first game on their home court by a 74 to 60 score, while the Lancers scored two wins by scores of 34 to 31 and 56 to 52. Outstanding for the coaches was Kermode, Haas and Webber while Ted Kuech came up with a stellar job at the pivot plus replacing Harry McLaughlin.

CONCAGA SERIES

Breaking into the WINCO League schedule the Zags seem out of the mountains handed the Lancers their worse defeat of the season, 47 to 17 in the highly contested return game played in the Social Armory, the Zags eked out a 43 to 40 victory in an overtime game.

over the Varsity from W.W.C.E. in Bellingham. This was definitely not the Western boys' year, and they were down 41 to 26.

On their last road trip the Lutes managed to break out, beating Whidbey 56 to 46, and losing to Chehalis 16 to 41. Throwing a scare into the Eastern ball club, the Lutes led by less than five minutes when their attack bogged down and the Cougars rallied to take the game.

After losing three games in a row the Lutes were determined to break into the win column again. This time the hapless Vikings almost upset the favored Glad, but the game ended favoring the Lutes 51 to 50.

Moving their ancient rivalry from St. Martin's for the first time this year the Lutes looked good in defeating the Rangers 58 to 55. Ernie Petersen sparked the Northerners into starting off a last minute rally by the Rangers. In the return tilt on the Parkland maples the Rangers scored a major upset and won 64 to 49.

Continuing their downward tumble the Lutes traveled to Seattle in under another embarrassing by Seattle College 54 to 47. Still trying to enter the win column the Parklanders traveled to Ellensburg to engage the then league-leading Central Washington Wildcats. The Lutes charged a mighty big ocean into the Wildcats forcing the play all the way and making Nicholson's boys work for their 49 to 52 victory.

After losing a close one to the Wildcats the Lutemans battled them all the way in the return game on the Parkland floor. Although highly touted scoring players for Ellensburg, Nicholson and Petersen, were held down, the Lutes suffered another defeat 44 to 45.

On Washington's Birthday the Gladstones celebrated by scalping the Seattle College Indians 75 to 54. Eastern Washington's WINCO League champs on their last road trip walked over the Lutes 57 to 46 with the big guns of George Gablehouse and Jim Lester firing from all angles and swishing wide shots.

In their last appearance of the season the Gladstones defeated the Wildcows from Pasco 65 to 52, with Harry McLaughlin scoring 26 points and shattering the WINCO League scoring record.

Coach Marv Testmerik traded a football for a basketball long enough during the carabs season to come up with a pretty "B" squad. During this freshman season, the team gave a chance for some men to play basketball and to learn the style of play expected of them. Not only is the "B" squad a leading squad for the Varsity but it also has a schedule of its own. Outstanding players were Ralph "Lucky" Gunderson, Bill Backman, Jim Mills, Chuck Smith, "Bob" Hailey and others.

Spring Sports

COACH TOMMERVIK

MGR. KORSBOEN

America's favorite spring and summer sport has come back to the P.L.C. campus, and with its return many ambitious ball players have turned up around the campus. Coach Mary Tommervik was greeted by fifty candidates at the initial tryout held at Harmon playground.

The lack of facilities at school has left the team at a disadvantage. Walking into cars each day, the squad take up for their daily practice. At the time of writing, the only games played were a doubleheader against Seattle College. The boys showed up fairly well considering the lack of practice. The outlook for the season was quite good.

With games fixed against C.P.S. and the Western half of the WINCO League, the team faced a heavy schedule. The winner of the Western half would play off with the Eastern winner to decide the WINCO champion.

Competition for positions on the starting nine was stiff and Coach Tommervik bemoaned the fact that only nine men could play at one time. The pitching unit consisted of Allen, Hartley, Sennett, Garner, and Lockenotte, while Rose and Falk backed up the pitchers behind the plate. Slated to be an all-light infield were Smith 2b, Bratke or England 1b, Morris ss, and Haller 3b. The outfield was formed by Carlson, Blod and Hinrichs.

golf and tennis

Gabrielson, Fuhr, Stewart, Marsik

The two rounds of the spring season passed slowly but showed signs of intense progress. The sports were both credit to the coaching of Coach Olson. The golf team has been having a modest season this spring, having carded only one win so far this year. The interest in the golf team has been intense this year and many have been the discussions that elusive white ball around. Pontiolo for this year's team were chosen through competitive matches and were held by the Jacks brothers McGough, Thompson, Gannon, Walters, and Dunn.

Facing one of the strongest competitors in the Northwest the diverse diggers have carded some surprising scores but have remained on the long end of the wagon. Coach Olson has scheduled two matches for the team promising a busy time for the polo chaps.

At press time the team was just beginning practicing for two weeks but as yet had not played any matches. Coach Olson picked the first five men by a ladder elimination. The first five are: Ned Fuhr, veteran of previous teams; Luther Gabrielson tall, rangy ne'erman; Knut Aune, Norway's popular addition to the late tennis squad; and two Texans born, Erling Marsik and Chuck Stewart.

The team is pointing toward the first game with C. H. S. and also to the WINCO conference championship. With continued practice the team should shape up into a fine competitive team.

With the return of track to the limelight as a major sport, the Lure cindermen have started out with renewed interest. With veterans such as Harry Leder, Ted Juler, Tommie Hookins and Art Larson leading the way, interest has been stirred up among the lower-class men in this greatest of all sports.

After four years of deterioration, the track was in very poor shape for a busy season, but the reconditioning has gone on and at this time the track has rounded into fair shape.

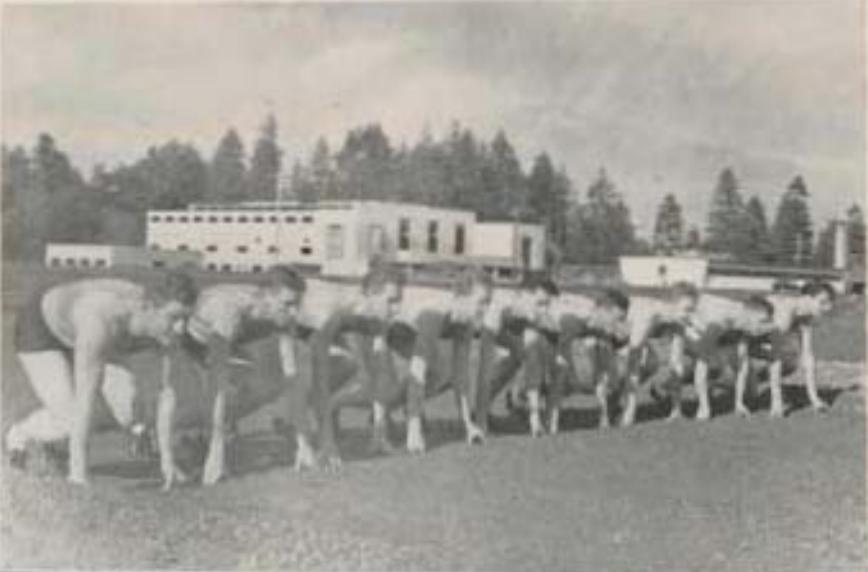

Pointing toward the Conference meet on May 23-24, Coach Marcel Hanchman had his cindermen bearing down tightly. A busy schedule was planned preceding the Conference meet and should prove ample testing ground for the Lure athletes.

At press time the Logos had competed in two meets. The first, a quadrangular meet with C. P. S., St. Martin's, and Seattle College, resulted in C. P. S. coming out on top with 58½ points while the Lutes garnered second honors with 44½ points. In the dual meet the Logos again nixed out the Glades, 69 to 62.

Led by such fresh finds as Harry McLaughlin in the high jump and javelin, Everett Cook and Del Schaefer, dasher, and Grant Hufstetler, distance, the Lutes are sounding out into a tough-to-beat track team.

The intramural sports program, which is handled by the Lettermen's Club, started with a friendly coedsoft basketball series. President Holand of the Lettermen's Club was in charge of the arrangements. All games were played in the Parkland gym on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The program gave a chance to all men in the school to participate in a winter sport.

Divided into two leagues this year the three top teams in each league played off to determine the champion. The Macie Packers, consisting of the best team among the football players, retained the crown again this year. Led by Edieq Holand the Packers won in smooth games to defeat all competition. Among the outstanding players in the leagues were Pelillo, Brasile, Loeke, Waldo Nelson, Erickson, Soren.

Plans are being drawn up for softball games during the spring. With the return to school of more lettermen and with the new gym the intramural program has possibilities of expanding in all sports both outdoor and indoor.

women's athletic association

Among the most active groups on the campus is the W. A. A., which is composed of all the girls interested in sports and the betterment of women's athletics at P. L. C. The association's goal is to foster good health, sportsmanship and leadership. Definite traits of leadership were apparent in the members elected to the executive board. Under the supervision of Mrs. Rhoda Young, this board was composed of Ruth Flueger, president; Myrtle Davidson, vice president; JoAnne Hatchman, secretary; and Anna Roth, treasurer, and the sports treasurers: Edna Swartz, basketball; Selma Gunderson, baseball; Pauline Putvin, ice and roller skating.

Charlene Martens, bowling; Catherine Yandell, Skilbred, hiking and golfing; and Dorothy Elefson, tennis and swimming.

A thrill for Freshman girls who earn 350 for sports is receiving the first year athletic award, a chenille letter which indicates they are letter-women of P. L. C. Sophomores receive a pin and Juniors and Seniors are presented with a chevron to be added to the pin. To receive an award the girl must earn 350 points. These are made by turning out for the two major sports, basketball and baseball, each giving 100 points. The individual sports, each of which tem-

In working for their letters the girls enjoy many hours of fun and frolic, which are marked with keen competition in the tournaments. The basketball season is highlighted by two All-Star teams, which are chosen from all the teams in the tournament. A challenging game enjoyed by all.

To develop the skill of prospective pro golfers and others who try just for fun, the W. A. A. sponsored a "Putting Green" at the annual Sage Carnival. The club also sponsored a roller and ice skating party, which were very successful.

Rounding out the season, the Girls had a cruise on the Sound and a typical good time was enjoyed by everyone attending.

QUEEN RUTH I

On May 1st this year, Queen Ruth Jensen was crowned ruler of the spring festivities by Mr. A. A. Mylne of Tusquam. Her attendants were Gerry Olson and Lorraine Ahola; senior: Betty Lou Kieke and Ardy Bredvold; juniors: Dorothy Ekstrom and Jackie Kippoo; sophomore: and Marjorie Euse and Beth Gosswald, freshmen. The little people were Dean Johnson, crown bearer; Kathleen Willis and Priscilla Pedersen, flower girls; and Judy Julinson, train bearer. Student Body Press, LeVerne Linnetzoo read the official May Day proclamation, announcing the holiday of spring.

The queen and her court were the honored guests together with visiting high school girls, at the AWS tea held after the coronation.

In Tacoma, Home of America's LOWEST Power Rates, IT'S NATURAL TO

Cook with Electricity

BECAUSE Tacoma City Light is municipally owned, every home enjoys the benefits of America's LOWEST electric rates. That's why we say: "In Tacoma it's natural to cook with electricity. Cheap, too -- cleaner, faster and safer!"
