DUKE ELLINGTON TO APPEAR AT HOME COMING CONCERT

Duke Ellington, one of America's foremost jazz musicians, and his orchestra will appear in concert Friday, October 22, 8:30 pm in the PLU Memorial Gymnasium. The concert, a traditional part of PLU's Homecoming, will be given in honor of the newly crowned Homecoming queen and her royal court.

Ellington, who has won more music polls than any other artist, will display his talents as a composer, arranger, pianist, and band leader. Year after year, he has taken top honors in readers' and critics' polls of highly influential music magazines. He has also taken many top honors at the Newport Jazz Festival. In 1958, the Newport Jazz Festival devoted an entire day to Ellington and his music.

The program promises to provide a wide repertoire as has always been an important factor in his popularity. Besides playing some of his own compositions such as "Mood Indigo," "Don't Get Around Much Any More," "I'm Beginning to See The Light," and "C Jam Blues," Ellington's group will play arrangements of other modern hits of today.

One writer describes it as, "The most consistently creative enterprise jazz has ever known." The eighteen piece Ellington orchestra has been continuously active for longer than any other of its kind.

Reservations can be made by contacting the information desk, LE 7-8611, ext. 230.

KNIGHT GRIDDERS HOST WESTERN WASH.
SATURDAY NIGHT AT FRANKLIN PIERCE

Finding the hospitality away from home unpleasant, the PLU football team returns home Saturday to meet Western Washington at 8 p.m. in the Franklin Pierce High School Stadium.

The Knights have dropped both of their road tests, losing to a pair of Northwest small college toughies - Linfield 17-0 and Eastern Washington 20-3. Their lone victory was in a home contest with University of Puget Sound 23-7.

Western Washington, which has played all its games at home, brings a 2-1 record into the contest. It has defeated British Columbia 12-0 and Whitworth 14-0 while losing to Central Washington 19-6.

This will be the 34th meeting between the two schools with the series tied at 15-15-3. PLU took the 1964 meeting 7-0.

Coach Roy Carlson regards Western as a "big, strong team that likes to grind out the yardage."

Heading the Viking attack is Bob Gidner, a 6-0, 200-pound junior, who ranked second in the Evergreen Conference and 30th in the NAIA in rushing last year. In three games to date, Gidner has picked up 221 yards, an average of 71.4 yards per game.

PLU stressed pass defense again this week. The Knights, who have given up an average of 147.3 yards per game through the air, were touched for 199 yards by the Eastern passing attack last week. Three of the six opponent's touchdowns have come on passing.

Carlson is hoping NAIA All-American safety Les Rucker will be back at his defensive post after missing the last two games with an ankle injury.

Defensive tackle Mike Arkell, who re-injured his ankle in the Eastern game, will probably miss the Western contest while reserve fullback Don McPherson, who suffered a hip injury in the UPS tilt, is expected to return to action.
