Give Schedule For Concerts On Choir Trip

Stops Planned At Many Places; Chairmen of Concerts Announced. Elvestrom Arranging

The schedule of concerts which the Pacific Lutheran College "Choir of the West" will give during the time it will be gone on trip to Chicago has not been completed. Mr. Victor A. Elvestrom, manager of the choir, is still busy arranging for programs.

The group of singers will leave the College on the morning of June 4 and will return to Tacoma about July 15. Mrs. J. V. Xavier will accompany the choir. It is probable that the entire tour will be made by bus.

The following are the dates, places, and chairmen of the concerts that have been scheduled to date: June 4, Spokane, Wash., Rev. M. B. Jolleff; June 5, Kalispell, Mont., Rev. L. N. Field; June 6, Lewiston, Mont., Rev. I. M. Rasmussen; June 7, Miles City, Mont., Mr. M. O. Peterson; June 8, Aberdeen, So. Dak., Mr. Kenneth Nelson; June 9, Madison, So. Dak., Dr. S. C. Eastwood; June 10, Sioux City, Iowa, Rev. N. Astrup; June 11, Story City, Iowa, Rev. Olaf Hoken; June 12, Fort Dodge, Iowa, Rev. S. F. Berge; June 13, Waverly, Iowa, Prof. Alf Swenson; June 15, Dubuque, Iowa, Rev. S. Salzman; June 16, Rockford, Ill., Dr. E. C. Bloomquist; June 17, Blue Island, Ill., Rev. Wm. Ferne; June 18, Chicago, Ill., Y. P. L. L.; June 19, Michigan City, Ind., Rev. E. Kenna; June 20 and 21, Chicago, Ill., Y. P. L. L.; June 22, Toledo, Ohio, Rev. Fred O. Schuh; June 23, Sandusky, Ohio, Rev. T. J. C. Stellhorn; June 24, Janesville, Wis., Rev. E. R. Larson; June 25, Stoughton, Wis., Rev. S. M. Toppens; June 30, Madison, Wis., Rev. J. O. Tweten; July 1, Decorah, Iowa, Rev. T. A. Hoff; or O. Glesne; July 2, Albert Lea, Minn., Rev. J. C. K. Preus; July 3, Houston, Minn., Rev. J. O. Palrud; July 5, Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. O. G. Salverson; July 6, Northfield, Minn., Rev. L. M. Stavik.

The choir is now practicing every day in order to learn its numbers better and to add several new songs to its repertoire.

CHOIR SINGS OVER KVI MOTHERS DAY

On Sunday afternoon, May 10, the Pacific Lutheran College choir, under the direction of Prof. J. O. Edwards, gave a half-hour concert on radio station KVI. The broadcast was by remote control from the Central Lutheran Church in Tacoma. Mr. Paul A. Preus announced the entire program.

As it was Mothers' Day, Mr. Paul Preus told the radio audience that the choir members were dedicating the program to their mothers. In keeping with this day, Anna Mikkelson sang "Beautiful Mother," and "The Spirit Flower." She was accompanied by Ruth Wersen.

The choir sang: Gladstone Ragdshoe, O Prairie Ye, Hosanna, Come Thou Savior, In Dulce Jubilo, All My Heart and Gospel Psalm.

Students From College Speak

On Thursday evening, May 14, a group of people from the College went to Crescent Valley, near Gig Harbor, and gave a program for the Luther League of Rev. Overgaard's Church. Mr. Ed Tingstad took the group over.

Irene Dahl spoke on "Questionnaire on Church Organizations"; Ruth Brown spoke on "God's Right to Command Men"; Leif Klippen talked on "The Importance of Getting a Christian Background Early in Life"; Marie Omdal, who was accompanied by Ruth Brown, sang "I shall Not Pass Again This Way," and "I Come To Thee." Mr. Ed Tingstad spoke on "The Common Denominator" which, he explained, was the goodness of God.

Arions Sing At Poulsbo May 8

Mikkelsen, Preus, Vocalists; Horn, Piano Solos, Talk On Program

On Friday, May 8, the "Arions" gave a concert at Poulsbo, Washington, the net proceeds of which amounted to $35.00.

Those who made the trip were: Anna Mikkelson, soprano; Claude Pellett, baritone; Ruth Wersen, accompanist; Mr. Paul Preus, and Prof. J. O. Edwards.

The program consisted of the following numbers:

Two vocal solos by Anna Mikkelson: "Prayer Perfect" and "Beautiful Mother."

Two ballad horn solos by Mr. Pellett.

Two vocal solos by Mr. Preus: "Invictus"

"Den Store Hvide Flok," a special request number.

An informal talk by Mr. Preus introducing Pacific Lutheran College to the audience.

A piano solo by Mr. Edwards.

Three vocal solos by Anna Mikkelson:

"Two Roses"

"Thoughts Have Wings"

"Spirit Flower."

After the concert Anna Mikkelson and Ruth Wersen were presented with flowers.

JUST TRY TO COLLECT ANY MONEY NOW

Have you your two dollars for the Saga? Where are your twenty cents for your Pep Club picture? Say, when can I get 10 cents from you for your Mission Society Picture? The poor students, or rather, the poor collectors who have the task of collecting money for their various organizations are getting plenty of experience. Some day perhaps they may be experienced enough to be able to follow it as a profession—in case, of course, they do not get their fill here.

It's the hard times you say? Well, perhaps. But the fact that the Saga's coming out soon and the senior play and the School picnic have a great deal to do with it—all very good reasons, but that's the price of glory.

SIXTY-THREE STUDENTS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS ON JUNE 3

A total of sixty-three students will receive diplomas of graduation from Pacific Lutheran College on Wednesday, June 3. Forty-four of these are from the college division and nineteen are from the High School. The Normal department, with a total of thirty-six, far exceeds the Liberal Arts division, which has a total of eight.

Normal Department
Anna Jane Ayers, Mildred Irene Beren, Ruth Adeline Brown, Mary Ellen Burke, Mildred Helen Card, Evans John Carlson, Morris Everett, Ford Cora Serene Goplerud, Alma Mathilda Grande, Harold Franklin Gray, Torke, Olaf Hagensen, Ida Adela Hinderle, Ruth Alfne Jacobson, John Martin Johnson, Sankey Boyd Johnson, Olga Josephine Kell, Alice Genevieve King, Leif Christian Klippen, Viola Marie Josephine Knudson, Dorothy Gertrude Lehman, Eva Marie Nelson, Ruth Camilla Norgaard, Howard Wilbert Nyman, Evelyn Dorothy Olson, Ingrid Marie Omdal, Bernard Benjamin Palo, Laurence, Earl Percival, Thora Pearl Rasmussen, Cecil Wesley Scott, Muriel Solne, Ethel Louise Stintette, Nina Novella Swanson, Arnold Kenneth Thomsen, Marie Louise Vandenburg, Solveig Marie Wangen, Ruth Marian Wersen.

Liberal Arts Division
Herman E. Anderson, Alfred N. Herge, Stella Berlie Johnson, Cora Berlie Knudsen, Mildred Clayton Quale, Magda E. Swenson, Stella Marie Sorbye, Carroll S. Svare.
High School Diploma List

Pfeuger Leads Lie Discussion

Rev. J. P. Pfeuger summed up the discussion of the topic "Can you justify a white lie" which was discussed at the last meeting of the Mission Society and continued at a meeting held Wednesday evening, May 13. Some of the members felt that a white lie could be justified and some thought it could not.

Rev. Pfeuger said that one should always follow his own moral judgment. A lie is always a sin. It violates truthfulness in itself. A lie is knowingly speaking an untruth for the purpose of deception. A white lie we think of as one told to get a person out of an embarrassing situation into which he has put himself. We should hold fast to the general principle and never tell an untruth.

For entertainment, Anna Mikkelson sang a solo, and Ruth Wersen played a piano number.

It was decided to hold a meeting Thursday evening, May 21, to elect officers for next fall. Those nominated were: president, John Hoff; Esther Westby, and Fred Maas; secretary, Hilda Simonson, and Charlotte Shoup; treasurer, Grace Holte, and Jesse Pfeuger.

Humor, Love, Drama Evident in "The Rivals," Portray Parts Well

By Thora Rasmussen
"The Rivals," a comedy of the eighteenth century, was presented by the graduating classes of Pacific Lutheran College, Friday evening, May 15. Eighteenth century costumes were worn, which made the play picturesque. The plot of the play centers around Lydia Languish and Captain Absolute, who have fallen in love. These parts were played by Ruth Brown and John Johnson, who did exceptionally well. The part of Mrs. Malaprop, Lydia's aunt, was taken by Marie Vandenburg.

She added a great deal of humor to the play by trying to use big words, the meaning of which she did not know. She had a very difficult part and showed good ability. Mrs. Malaprop decided with Sir Anthony Absolute, the father of Captain Absolute whose part was taken by Olaf Hagensen, that Lydia Languish and Captain Absolute should marry, not knowing that the two are already in love. Olaf Hagensen also proved himself to be a very capable actor in the part he played.

Display Ability
Carroll Svare, who played the part of Bob Acres, was one of Lydia's other suitors. He displayed ability in acting and added much humor to

ALUMNI MEET; DAHL CHOSEN

The Pacific Lutheran College Alumni Association board met on Sunday, May 10, at Parkland. An election of officers was held at this meeting. Miss Irene Dahl, '30, was chosen president. She will succeed Miss Martha Hjermstad, '26, who has been the head of the organization for the last three years. Other officers elected were: Alvar J. Beck, '21, vice president; Solveig Ryming, '21, corresponding secretary; Ruth Fadness, '25, recording secretary; Ed Tingstad, '20, treasurer.

Other members of the board are: Ingaborg Holstad, '28, of Kent; George Lane, '30, of Seattle; Alfred Anderson, '26, of Tacoma; Martha Hjermstad, '26, of Anacortes. Prof. Philip Enoch Hauge is the advisor of the organization.

The Alumni Association is planning to have a big home-coming rally at the College in the fall. The present project of the Association is the establishment of a student loan fund of one thousand dollars.

Visits School

Lawrence Ellingson visited school one day last week. Berger Jacobson visited his sister, Ruth, Sunday evening.

The play, "The Rivals," played by Arnold Thomsen, was another of Lydia's suitors. Ruth Norgaard took the part of Julia, Lydia's cousin, and Herman Anderson as Faulkland, was Julia's suitor.

Other members of the cast who also played their parts very well were: Jesse Pfeuger, as Fag, servant to Captain Absolute; Robert Reid, as Thomas, the coachman; Solveig Wangen, as Lucy, Lydia's maid; and Lloyd Erickson, as David, servant to Acres.

Mrs. Taylor Directs
Mrs. Louise Taylor was the director of the play, and to her is due much of the credit for the success of the play. She has had much experience in dramatics, and spent a large amount of time on this play to make it a success.

Student Elections Held Tomorrow

Candidates for Student Body offices, who were nominated at the meeting last Thursday, and who will be voted on tomorrow, are announced by the executive committee of the Student Body. For president, were nominated: Eric Hauke, Walter Young and Carroll Jacobson.

Those nominated for secretary are Evelyn Arneson and Dagny Hjermstad; for treasurer, Alvane Shierman and Harold Wogsberg; for sergeant-at-arms, Harry Southworth and Stanley Dahl.

The two getting the highest number of votes for president will be president and vice-president respectively.

New Saga To Be Issued May 25

Color Scheme to Be Black and Gold; Double Dedication to Be Feature

On Monday, May 25, the 1931 Saga will be distributed to the students of Pacific Lutheran College. With a color scheme of black and gold, both in regard to the cover and the print, and with a gold flyleaf, the annual's 112 pages will contain unusual and varied features.

A double dedication will be one unusual feature. In addition to the usual dedication of the book, each of the four main divisions of the book will be dedicated to some one who is a representative leader. In that division, a portrait of this person will appear on the division page. The main divisions are: Administration, Classes, Organizations and Athletics.

Three hundred and fifty copies of the year-book have been ordered, and they will be paid for by individual subscriptions, advertising and school organizations that have given pictures in the book. In case this is not sufficient, the student body has guaranteed two hundred dollars to prevent deficit.

SAY! WHAT'S THE IDEA OF THIRTY-FOVE

Five-love, thirty-love—what? Why should thirty love and what do they love? Oh, I beg your pardon!—That's just the way you count tennis. Thirty-five, thirty-up—hey! Thirty what up where? Oh, you're just counting.

Bewildered I tried to solve the intricate mysteries of counting for a tennis game. It's a bad enough trying to knock a poor, defenseless ball over a fishing net with a perforated paddle, but when you have to learn to count and leave out most of the numbers I'm afraid it's a little too deep for my limited understanding. But it really is fun chasing that little ball back and forth across the net—and say! does it make you stretch? Listen, girls, I lost three whole pounds in one-half hour's play one afternoon. What's that? How many needles did I get? Say—they popped out so fast I could feel them as they came and I never did try to count them. It would have been a never-ending job!

Despite its vexations, however, tennis is a mighty interesting game and the fellow who doesn't care to play tennis is missing one grand sport. So I'll take my bottle of liniment and gently caress my protesting muscles and drag myself once more to the courts to puzzle over those forty-five and try to forget that I ever learned to count by such an absurd method as one, two, three, four...

Graduates Of Normal School Find Positions

Twenty-Two Out of Thirty-Eight Placed; More Than Last Year Before Commencement

Twenty-two of our thirty-eight prospective normal school graduates have already secured positions for the coming year. Despite the general depression this season, more students have already been placed this year than had been placed by commencement time last year.

Pacific Lutheran College should be very proud and happy that her recommendations make it possible for her students to secure positions, sometimes in preference to experienced teachers. All schools are experiencing great difficulty in securing positions, but we have been very fortunate in securing favorable places, and several other placements are expected before the end of the term.

Scott Placed First
Last year, eighteen students had secured positions before commencement; 83 per cent of the entire class secured positions, one third of them after graduation. This year, 56 per cent of the graduates have already secured positions. Scott was the first of this year's graduates to obtain a school, and positions are since being filled right along.

The graduates who have obtained positions so far are: Ruth Brown, intermediate grades at Conway School, Conway, Washington. Mildred Card, primary grades at McCleary School, Olympia, Wash. Morris Ford, seventh and eighth grades at Riverside School, Puyallup, Wash. Cora Goplerud, lower grades at Chambers Prairie School, Chambers Prairie, Washington.

Hagensen At Five
Olaf Hagensen, upper grades at Five School, Five, Washington. Ruth Jacobson, intermediate grades, at McCleary School, McCleary, Wash. Eva Nelson, Douglas School, Douglas, Wash. Wilbert Nyman, principal of the Lawrence School, Lawrence, Washington. Evelyn Olson, primary grades at Lake Bay School, Lake Bay, Washington. Marie Omdal, Bay View School, Bay View, Washington. Cecil Scott, upper grades at Roy School, Roy, Washington. Ida Hinderle, Arletta School, Gig Harbor, Washington. John Johnson, principal at McMillan School, McMillan, Washington.

Banky Johnson, principal at Vineland School, Vineland, Washington. Olga Kell, principal at Rosedale School, Rosedale, Washington. Alice King, Burley School, Olney, Wash. Washington. Ethel Stintette, grade at Eatonville School, Eatonville, Washington. Nina Swanson, Rocky Ridge School, Eatonville, Washington. Marie Vandenburg, principal at Lake Bay School, Lake Bay, Washington. Solveig Wangen, Eagle O'rage School, Enumclaw, Washington. Ruth Wersen, middle teacher at Aberdeen School, Aberdeen, Washington.

PRESENT PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

The music department of Pacific Lutheran College will present a group of pupils in a piano recital on Friday evening, May 20, at 7:30, in the College gymnasium. Students, faculty, and the public are cordially invited to attend. The admission is free.

Those who will take part in the program are: Grace Holte, Virginia Davis, Norma Preus, Bessie Broten, Barbara Xavier, Ruth Ryming, Lorraine Perry, and John Erickson.

HOLIDAYS

Enormous amusement can be derived from the catalog of the College for last year that lists: Washington's Birthday, a holiday—Sunday, February 22; Memorial Day, a holiday—Saturday, May 30. And the College picnic, scheduled for Friday, May 15, was held on the day following. We wonder what the dates mentioned were holidays from.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

One requirement for graduation from College is credit in Physical Education, which consists of the various sports in season. Participation in these sports is usually enjoyed only by those who can make the School's teams and derive much glory and honor therefrom. The others either do not go or else participate with a sense of inferiority that is really not justifiable.

The one and only reason for Physical Education in a College of this kind is the building up of the physical welfare of the students, in ways that are not competitive, but in which all can derive benefit and enjoyment. Standing on the sidelines and rooting does not do the slightest good to the person so engaged. The one-sided development derived from competitive sports is not the most desirable one for the student.

The purpose of a College is to give mental training; the Physical Education is a side-issue, designed only to keep the student in good physical condition. When it transcends that designation and makes competitive sports a major issue, when it exalts some for athletic attainment and condemns to a lower plane those who cannot or will not participate, then it has usurped from the College the major place once held by the attainment of culture and knowledge, and the College becomes a sport arena in place of an educational center.

MORE INTEREST

After months of work on the part of both the editorial and business staffs, the Saga is finally coming out on next Monday. It was hard to put out a yearbook this year, for reasons well known to everyone, and the staffs deserve a great deal of credit for their work. One of the difficulties under which every activity in the school suffers has not been considered often, and yet it is very pertinent and significant.

This difficulty is occasioned by the fact that every activity must draw upon the same small group for its leaders and workers, and that there is an inter-relationship which causes confusion and conflict to some extent. This school is rather small in size, and the projects undertaken are often of such an extent as to be a credit to a much larger institution. The same students that are active in one field are also the leaders in another, and they often find it hard to give their most complete attention to any one activity.

It is to be deplored that so few must do so much work, and we hope that more students will find interest outside their regular school work. We hope that more will be interested in writing for the Mooring Mast, in taking part in Mission Society programs or in expressing opinions in Student Body meetings. It is a sign of life and interested activity when all students take part.

A SOURCE OF GRATIFICATION

Doubtless it is a source of much gratification to the administration that twenty-two of the prospective Normal Department graduates have been placed in schools. It is characteristic of the administration of Pacific Lutheran College that so much attention is paid to this most important phase of the Normal student's career, the acquisition of a post in some school.

Considering the fact that such a large number are graduated each year from the Normal Schools of the State of Washington and that such a large number of old teachers are available, it would be interesting to list the reasons why Pacific Lutheran College graduates are so readily placed, in comparison with graduates of other schools. It is true that through the work of the field men, particularly Mr. Foss, the school itself pays more attention to the placement of its graduates.

It is also true that the reputation of Pacific Lutheran College in educational circles in the State is exceptionally fine, and that the class of teachers graduated from the school have a high reputation in Washington and adjoining states. We can be thankful that we rank so high, both as a school and as a student body, and it should be our highest endeavor to live up to our reputation and to maintain our standards.

Miss Stella Sorboe
Editor Mooring Mast
Parkland, Washington

Dear Editor:
Although I have not heard from you directly as to whether or not you desire any more of my kind of humor, I am, nevertheless, today making another attempt, hoping it will meet with greater favor than did my last contribution.

For if I am correctly informed, neither the editorial staff nor the professors nor the students took any special interest in my brand of humor, but delighted, rather, in the traditional outpourings of C. J. R. T. and the trials of Peter Rabbit, the last of which to my inexpressible joy has come to a happy end.

As no two persons have exactly the same opinion about anything, it is natural that my conception of humor should not coincide with yours. Believing, as I do, that the side-splitting kind of humor is the most useful and effective, I naturally wrote as I felt and sent you what I wrote. But according to reports that have reached me, and according to the back-numbers of the Mooring Mast before me, both you and the student body believe in a milder, gentler, tamer sort—the kind that calls forth merely a smile, or at the most, a short cackle.

But, when I bethink me, this may be as it should; for I understand that a considerable number of our students are preparing to become teachers, and as such are supposed to be able to dampen their own feelings as well as those of their pupils; to manifest no sign of enjoyment, but to walk about demurely and sedately, with only the suggestion of a smile lighting up their placid faces.

This, however, I have been informed, is in direct opposition to the teachings of our esteemed professor of psychology and education, who, though he seldom laughs, has repeatedly, and I think, correctly, characterized laughter—genuine, side-splitting laughter—as a strictly human instinct, which teachers above all others should endeavor to keep alive. So that when teachers don't laugh heartily, as is frequently the case, there may be broad ground for the general suspicion among students that they are scarcely human.

But, grief, where hast thou led me? I am rambling. What I started out to say was, that inasmuch as the samples of red-blooded, rollicking humor which I sent you, and which you stuck away in an obscure column without even a heading, evidently met but a cold reception; and inasmuch as you and my other-fellow students, and, still more naturally, the professors, prefer the more pinkish type, which is far easier to produce, and which is warranted not to mar the prospective teachers' faces with laughter-marks, but to leave them as blank and expressionless as when they entered, I am now mailing herewith another installment of "humor" (Shall I call it that?) in the hope it may be more to your liking.

Respectfully,
Nemo Solus Sapit.

Pauline Schierman L. D. R. President

Pauline Schierman was elected president of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation at a special meeting held Thursday, May 14. The president is the only officer that is elected at this time; the other officers are elected in the fall.

To represent the L. D. R. at the District convention of the Women's Missionary Federation which will be held on the P. L. C. campus from June 4-7 are Marie Vandenburg, Louise Schneider and Thora Rasmussen. As the group is entitled to two delegates, one of the girls will act as alternate.

Mrs. A. W. Ramstad, adviser of the organization was present at the meeting and was given a rising vote of thanks in appreciation for what she has done during the year.

Pauline Schierman will take the place of Thora Rasmussen who has filled her position of president very capably the past year. Louise Schneider has been vice-president, Ruth Howard, secretary, and Anna Mikkelsen, treasurer.

DRAMA CLUB TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT SOON

Drama Club night will be held on Wednesday evening, May 29. Members of the society will present three one-act plays which they have been working during the last few weeks. TRAINS FOR SCOUT WORK

Dean Henry M. Skidmore, assistant director of instruction of the Boy Scouts of America, and professor at Sacramento Junior College, has conducted a survey of the college to find men who have had Scouting experience and to find if those men will be willing to serve as leaders.

The local council of the scouts is now conducting a five day training course under the head of "Scoutmastership" and is being offered by Dean Skidmore. When these courses are finished, the men continues his work by taking special courses such as life-saving and similar subjects.—Pony Express

Celebrate

A large audience gathered in the basement of Zions Lutheran Church Monday evening to commemorate Norway Independence Day, May 17, 1814. The program consisted of patriotic songs by the audience, vocal solos by Miss Mikkelsen and Mr. Preus, and an address by Prof. Hong.

Consider Group Insurance

The subject of group insurance for the faculty members of Pacific Lutheran College is being considered. As yet no definite plans have been made, but a committee, consisting of Mr. Paul Preus, Mr. Ludwig Larson, and Mr. Ole Stuen, is looking into the possibilities of such an arrangement.

Dorm Students Win Ball Game

Day Students Start With Bang But Fail to Keep Up; Cronquist, Jacobson Pitchers

In another contest of supremacy between the dorm and day students, the dormers had a lucky day and won the big baseball classic of the season by a 7-6 score. The day students started the game out with a bang by batting in three runs in the first half of the initial inning. However the dormers refused to be outdone, so they duplicated the same feat in their half of the opening canto.

Following the opening play, Jacobson, twirler for the dormers, settled down to pitching good ball and held the day students to but 2 hits in four innings and, no scoring. The day students did not support their pitcher, Cronquist, as well as the other nine, and three runs were chalked up during their half of this same period in the field. In the sixth, the day nine snapped from their slump somewhat, and knocked a lone marker across the platter. Another run was worked across in the eighth when Palo sent a hard drive out for a double, and crossed the home plate a couple of plays later.

The dormers threatened to run away with the contest in the last portion of the eighth when they connected with the ball for four hits, but they salvaged only one run from these blows. Gray hit hard for the second double of the game, and came in later on Wogberg's single.

Although there was no doubt as to the winner of this contest, the day team was not in the least satisfied by this game and think that the score did not in the least represent their skill. Their challenge for a return meeting has been offered.

Score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Dorm Students 3 0 2 0 1 0 0 1 7
Day Students 3 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 6

ORAL CLASSES GIVE BANQUETS FOR SPEECHES

Both of the Oral Expression classes held banquets at the College on Tuesday, May 12. The purpose of the banquets was to give each student in the classes practice in after dinner speaking. Mrs. Taylor and N. J. Hong, the Oral Expression instructors were guests of honor.

Mr. Covert was toastmaster at the banquet held by the fourth period class. Stella Sorboe, Ingrid Grollid, Frances Jane Lavin, and Stanley Dahl had charge of the decorations, refreshments, and clean-up. The room was decorated in red, white and yellow flowers. Each member of the class was called upon to speak on one of the following topics:

Topics Discussed
"Where Do We Go From Here?" Stanley Dahl; "My Hobby," Ingrid Grollid; "The Work of Our Oral Expression Class," Al Hauge; "What a Young Man Can Do For His Community," John Hopp; "Red Letter Days," Ruth Howard; "What a Young Woman Can Do For Her Community," Margaret Kaeland; "Just Like a Man," Fanny Lavin; "Value of School Dramatics," Kathryn Lamb; "Just Like a Woman," Alfred Lund; "The Purpose of Education," Ruth Newberg; "Two Fads," Nellie Olson; "Taxing Backloggers," Pauline Schierman; "The Modern Girl," Stella Sorboe; "The Place of the Critic," Alberta Schmitz; "In Need of Reform," William Rasmussen; "Value of Public Speaking," Harold Wogberg; "Unknown Quantities," Aralon Wajahn.

Other Classes Also
The sixth period class had as its toastmaster Mabel Jensen. Evelyn Arneson, Margaret Hilmo and Millard Quale decorated the room with flowers and took charge of the refreshments. The "ship idea" was carried out in the following talks: "Waves," Esther Westby; "Cold Waters," Harry Southworth; "Wind," Margaret Hilmo; "Monsters of the Deep," Millard Quale; "Storms," Hulda Simonson; "Compass," Ruth Goodwin; "Other Ships," Art Sivertson; "Streams," Helen Thrane; "Anchors," Evelyn Arneson; "Islands," Margaret Elliott; "Shallow Waters," Robert Reid; "Foreign Shores," Ben Palo; "Sea Sick," Clara Fjermadal.

Sport Slants

By Southworth

Well, we certainly have had quite a busy week or two this last period, everything happening all at once. The golfers are golfing; the tennis enthusiasts are tennising; the baseball lovers are baseballing; and the swimmers are swimming. And so it goes.

S. S.

At last it came. The dorm students accepted the day student's challenge to a baseball combat, and horrors upon horrors, they won the thing. Ever since that crucial battle I have been looking for a good reason for the day student's not winning. They are all agreed that they are the better players, regardless of what the score indicates. Possibly the "dayers" were in slump. At any rate, this thing should be a series arrangement and not be decided by the results of the game. Even the champions fall once in the while.

S. S.

During part of the game, a person by the name of Coach Olson umpired. And where did the dorm get their imported players? Is that sufficient reason for the day students not winning.

S. S.

Tennis has finally got started. The school tournament is under way. Be sure to play your match off as soon as possible so that the tournament will be completed by the close of the present school year.

S. S.

It is too bad that the courts were not in shape so that our tennis team could have got in a little practice before they had to play their first outside match. We have some very good players on the team, but even good players can be beaten by only fair players when they have not had the least bit of practice. Of course our players got in a little practice on the outside courts, but it was not nearly enough to bring them into shape.

S. S.

If there is any person in the school who thinks he is good enough to make the tennis or golf teams, let him not fail to challenge some team member for his place. It's yours if you can beat the person you challenge.

S. S.

That just reminds that there is still a golf tournament going on in school. Coach Olson certainly picked a choice list of ranking players as there have been several matches going on during the weeks just past but none of them have resulted in any changes over the original list. Remember to challenge one of these players if you want some real competition.

S. S.

There were several things scheduled for this week, but some difficulties arose and they weren't filled. First we were supposed to have a tennis tournament with Aberdeen last Saturday, but Saturday was a day for fishes only. So this will have to be played some other time soon. The Aberdeen divot diggers were scheduled to play on our home field Tuesday but they could not make the arrangements so we are looking for their representatives today. Mighty interesting to watch the boys in a golf tournament—try and arrange to come down and make yourself a part of the gallery.

One thing is certain—our golfers travel to Centralia Thursday, determined to repeat that former win.

S. S.

The dormers and day students had a little workout again yesterday—could not call it a game however—probably have another Thursday. The day students still think that the dormers can not repeat that former victory. Until next time for the last time try and bear with me.

Both Right and Wrong
Mrs. Taylor—"Why do you spell bank with a big B?"
Walter (with conviction)—"Cause father said a bank with small capital was no good."

Police officer to J. Z. and companion in parked car—"Don't you see the sign, 'Fine for Parking'?"
J. Z. (with a most engaging smile on his broad, fair face)—"Yes, Mr. Policeman, I see it, and I think it is fine too. That's why I parked here."

"I see," said one, "that Mr. So and So, the octogenarian, is dead—Now, what on earth is an octogenarian?"
"Search me!" replied her companion, "I have not the faintest idea; but they are a sickly lot. You never hear of one but he is dying."

Still in the Right
Miss V. (at the drug store)—"Give me some Sarabammoniac."
Druggist—"Do you mean salomoniac?"
Miss V. (with dignity)—"I believe they sometimes call it that."

Plan Tournament For Tennis Fans

With the finish of the final touches in the work of repairing the tennis courts the usual all school tennis tournament has been lined up. To date several of the matches have been played and most of the other contestants have made arrangements for the play off of the first round. The players are urged to finish their matches as soon as possible in order that the school champion may be selected before the end of the present school year. Any of the leading players in this tournament, have the privilege of challenging the members of the school team for their positions.

The tournaments pairings with the results of the matches already played are:

H. Gray, H. Tietjen; Gray 6-4; 6-4. E. Larson, Fred Mau; G. Sydow, H. Southworth; B. Rasmussen, W. Wright.
C. Mesford, A. Lund; Lund 6-4; 6-1. Lloyd Erickson, Loyal Sanderson; Padness, Dammel, T. Evjen, S. Johnson; Alice Roe, Schneider; Schneider, 7-5; 6-3; M. Hilmo, Nedra Dublig; 6-1; 6-2. Ruth Brown, M. S. Preus; 6-2; 6-1.

New Books For P. L. C. Library

From the libraries of Reverend A. Mikkelsen and Professor J. P. Munson, once of Ellensburg Normal, the P. L. C. library has received eighty books.

The books from Rev. Mikkelsen are chiefly of a theological nature and those from Prof. Munson scientific.

Among the books received are Archeology and the Bible by Barton; Collective Writings of Rev. V. Korven; History of Religions, by Hookins; a dozen books for and against Evolution, as well as other scientific books.

ATTEND CONFERENCE; PFLUEGER LECTURES

Prof. J. P. Pflueger and Dr. O. A. Twin Wins For Harbor Net Man

Lack of practice made itself quite evident in the results of the first intercollegiate tennis match when Gladiator market welders were able to score only twice in six matches, and as a result dropped the meet to the squad representing the Grays Harbor Junior College, at Aberdeen. The only wins in the match were made by Dahl and Thorenson, number 3 and 4 men, when they played hard to set their opponents down in the singles. Nyman and Anderson, number 1 and 2 positions, were not quite able to stop their rivals, and both matches were lost. The combined strength of the Harbor players was entirely too much for the Gladiators in the doubles matches. The doubles found the Harbor-men registering a pair of wins.

LAST MINUTE RUSH STARTED

Notebooks, research articles, speeches, and all manners of reports are now coming due. On all kinds of us we see work, more work, and still more work. And as we look around, bewildered, not knowing where to begin, we wonder why in the world we didn't get some of our reports in before when we had the time, and why we left it all till now, the last minute.

Almost all of us are going to have to lose some sleep before these last two weeks are over. We shall have to stay up late and get up early in order to get all our work in. But then, that's what we have to do the last week or two of every semester. So this is no exception.

UNDERCLASSMEN ENTERTAIN GRADES

On Saturday, May 16, the high-school juniors and college freshmen entertained the graduates of both the high-school and college departments at a picnic. Private trucks and cars took a large group of students to Patterson Lake, near Olympia, where they spent the afternoon in swimming, boating, and playing baseball. Although it rained most of the day, the weather was fairly pleasant while the group were at the lake. According to the graduates, the underclassmen were fine hosts.
