

MERRY CHRISTMAS

DRIVE STARTS IN OREGON CONGREGATIONS

Endowment Drive Launched in Two Congregations.

To launch the drive for the Endowment Fund in Silverton, Oregon, Sunday, Dec. 13, was made "Pacific Lutheran College Day." Members of the College, faculty and student body were present and had charge of the day's program, which was divided into three sessions. The program was presented with the aim of bringing to our church people a realization of the great work carried on by a church school, and of giving them an insight into the spirit and life of P. L. C.

The first session was held in the morning at St. Johns Lutheran Church, Rev. Lindseth's charge. The college faculty quartet composed of Prof. and Mrs. Ph. Hauge and Prof. and Mrs. Edwards sang an anthem, President Ordal delivered the sermon of the day, choosing as his topic "Christian Education." Mrs. Ph. Hauge sang a solo, "The Voice in the Wilderness." Prof. Ph. Hauge gave an address on "The Aim of the Christian College." The program was closed with a duet "How Long Will Thou Remember Me" by Mrs. Hauge and Mrs. Edwards.

The afternoon program was given in Rev. Henriksen's church to a large audience. The same musical numbers were given, with the addition of a piano solo: "Bells of Moscow" by Signe Hjermstad. Martha Hjermstad spoke on "Why I Like to Attend P. L. C." and Prof. Hauge spoke again on the same topic as at the morning session.

The evening's program was rendered to a joint meeting of the two congregations in St. John's Church—the house being filled to capacity. Signe Hjermstad played a piano solo "Concert Etude" by McDowell. Martha Hjermstad spoke on "The Religious Atmosphere at P. L. C." showing the importance of a Christian environment during the character-forming period of the individual. The faculty quartet sang an anthem. Ruth Fadness then spoke on "Activities at P. L. C.," showing the part they play in preparing an individual for life. Mrs. Hauge sang a solo: "Abide With Me," after which Prof. Hauge gave the evening's address: "The Church School." He showed how the Christian College is building the church of tomorrow. A vocal duet by Mrs. Hauge and Mrs. Edwards concluded the program.

BIBLE CLASS DEBATE METHODS OF HEALING

A debate by the Bible III class was given in the college auditorium Monday evening, Dec. 14. The question read: "Resolved, that the science of medicine is the one efficient cure for the ills of humanity." Debators for the affirmative were John Wetzel and Ed Arthur. Debators for negative were Peder Sognefest and Irene Dahl.

The affirmative asserted that surgery, X-ray, radium, antitoxin and medicine are all included in the science of medicine. Germs and especially T. B. was stressed as a danger to society which the science of medicine is successfully combating. The affirmative also greatly emphasized what the science of medicine had done and was doing for the school children.

The negative contended that medicine is not a science, but usually a combination of guesses. Statements by medical doctors showing the desiciency of medicine were quoted by the affirmative. The judges decision was given the negative by a unanimous vote.

Friday and 13 Declared Unlucky

A mental encounter was launched by the P. L. C. Debating Society Friday evening, December 4 in order to determine the value of the saying that "Friday and the thirteenth are unlucky." The question was upheld by Mr. Ed Arthur and Miss Lillian Lee while Miss Luetta Svith presented the arguments for the negative.

The affirmative began by explaining that there are no outward signs, either on Friday or on the thirteenth, by which we can attribute ill to the word unlucky. It is rather some inherited fact common to both which "gets us" some way or other. Among the many examples furnished by the affirmative in establishing their case, were the following: "To meet a black cat or to walk under a ladder is not disastrous except on Friday or the thirteenth." "Capt. Anderson, our yachting leader, turned his ankle on the thirteenth, the first basket ball game played by our team this year was lost on Friday, Friday is especially unlucky for any butcher since so many people because of their religious belief do not eat meat on that day. Friday night is unlucky for the students of P. L. C., since they must attend the Debating Society and listen to the discussion of deep political questions such as the one under consideration, and lastly Friday is unlucky for the negative as one of its speakers has failed to appear at the debate."

Considerable pseudo statistics were quoted by the affirmative. Two outstanding examples were: "99% of the criminals in our state prisons were born on the thirteenth and the other 1% on Friday, and 99% of the marriage licenses are obtained on the thirteenth."

AVERAGE I. Q. OF STUDENTS HIGH

Terman's Mental Group Test was given to the high school and college students of P. L. C. by the Educational Measurement Class Friday morning, December 4.

The results show that the average I. Q. (Intelligence Quotient) of the P. L. C. students is six points higher than that of other schools tested by Terman. Not a single student of the college and normal group had an I. Q. of below the average. The median score of each class in High School was found to be higher than the medians found by Terman.

According to the members of the Educational Measurement class, these tests will be of great value to the teachers. They will know if a student is really working or not. The ability of the student can be compared with what he accomplishes. Particular weaknesses can be pointed out and the individual can be helped accordingly. Special abilities may also be developed that otherwise might be neglected. The results of some tests proved that there are some students of but an average I. Q. that receive high grades, while others who are bright receive lower ones. This is due to the application of the student to his studies.

'KID DAY' BRINGS BACK CHILDHOOD RECollections

"The older we get, the more inclined we are to live the scenes of our youth again in our minds," must have been the thought of some of the professors and dignified college seniors when they came to school Friday, December 4. How bewildered they must have been, trying to figure out whether they were awake or not. Maybe some of them even pinched themselves to make sure that they were not dreaming. For were there not little girls to be seen everywhere one turned? And weren't they dressed in clothes that reminded one of the fashions gone by—short dresses, big sashes, hair ribbons and everything else that is "little girlish?"

However, everyone was soon reassured for these little girls came to class and turned out to be some very sober-minded co-eds, who out of the kindness of their hearts were doing their best to relieve the monotony occasioned by the routine of mere studying and reciting.

How well they succeeded is not known here but it is not probable that P. L. C. has seen its last "Kid's Day." It is also rumored that at some future day the masculine sex will disregard the elongation of its lower extremities and appear in knickerbockers with all the accessories that make up a little boy.

One report has it that there were even some college freshmen who paraded as "kids." True or not, that fact doesn't mean anything. College freshmen are only high school freshmen four years older.

XAVIER SPEAKS AT JOINT PROGRAM

Prof. J. U. Xavier delivered an address at the meeting of the Mission Society held in conjunction with the Luther League at the College Chapel, Sunday December 5.

The speaker gave a survey of religious conditions of the world. He emphasized that Europe was in a chaos. In Russia a "red" church had been established to uproot religion. Persecutions had given aid to the church so that method of uprooting religion was given up; to take its place the "red" church was established to convert people by means of propaganda. A well traveled writer has said that greed, hate, and fear rules in Europe. Ruins of churches and schools are found everywhere in the eastern and southern part of Europe. Protestants have been blamed for the war and consequently suffer. Catholicism is gaining in Germany because the Lutherans are not organized there. The conditions in Africa and Asia are also precarious, affirmed the speaker.

"We in America can be thankful for the opportunity we have in the word of God, that we can worship Him according to our conscience. Let us always walk in the light," pleaded the speaker. "In Ephesus at the time of Paul there were seven bishops but today the city is in ruins as a result of losing their first love, the light was taken away from them. So it will be with us if we neglect to walk in the light when we have an opportunity. It behooves us then as Christians to pray that the Gospel light might not be lost."

Other numbers on the program were: Scripture reading by Rev. T. O. Svare and musical selections furnished over the radio by courtesy of Mrs. Kreidler.

Book Characters Portrayed by Society

The program given by the Thespian Literary-Dramatic Club on Friday evening, December 11, consisted mainly of "book reviews." Characters taken from different books were well portrayed by the students who by this method brought out various points of the books.

The devil (Arnt Oyen) was sent to remodel "Peer Gynt" (Peter Sognefest). The devil, wore a suit with the picture of the devil on the back, but his horns could not be seen because of his cap nor could his hoofs be seen, because of his shoes. "Synnove Solbakken" (Mary Holmes) was dressed in a Norwegian costume, with her lover (Lyle Kreidler) who was very shy, was dressed in his abekiah golf trousers. "The Nigger of the Narcissus" was acted out by Olive Westby, with Torvald Nilsen as a partner. "Sylvester Bonnard" (Henry Klef) was an agent man who did not believe in the fairy (Eda Wenderle). BASKET BALL SEASON OPENS WITH KAPOWSIN

Girls Win First Game, Saving the Day for P. L. C. Boys Lose 24-15.

Pacific Lutheran College boys played and lost their first game with Kapowsin High last Saturday night in the college gymnasium.

The game was very exciting as both sides were determined to win. Kapowsin took the lead from the start, but the college was ahead at the end of the first half, the score being 9 to 12 in favor of the college. Glasso was put out on personals in the second quarter.

Kapowsin took the lead the last half and held it through the remainder of the game, the score was 24 to 15 when the final whistle blew.

Myron Kreidler and Arthur Knutson played the best game for P. L. C., while Tuttle starred for Kapowsin.

Tuttle was high point man for Kapowsin and Glasso for the College. The lineup was as follows:

- | | | | |
|------------|--------------------------|-------------|-------------|
| Command | P. L. C. | Command | P. L. C. |
| Fadden (8) | F. (4) | Coltun | Krangness |
| Chase (2) | C. (8) | Glasso | Crossetto |
| Crossetto | G. (2) | M. Kreidler | Tuttle (13) |
| Knutson | Svith | Svith | Kapowsin |
| Svith | Kapowsin | Seward | Command |
| Command | Eugene (1) | Crossetto | P. L. C. |
| P. L. C. | Sanderson for Krangness; | L. Kreidler | for Glasso; |
| Wersen (1) | for Knutzen. | Referee | Woody. |

The P. L. C. girls hoopers literally ran away from their Kapowsin High opponents defeating them 28 to 8. The score at the end of the first half was 20 to 2 and Coach Ramstad sent in an entirely new lineup with the exception of Polly Ladgiov. The Kapowsin girls then staged a rally, but could not begin to overcome the large lead. The good checking and excellent guarding together with the fast work of our forwards was enough to discourage any team. Coach Ramstad is fortunate in having such good material.

The lineup was:
P. L. C. Kapowsin
P. Langlow (14) F. (2) L. Fox
A. Wersen (8) F. (6) M. Wise
C. Knutson J. C. E. Olstrom
L. Hagen R. C. L. Sells
N. Elide G. F. Rohrs
S. Samuelson G. M. Johnson
Subs—P. L. C.: Edna Brotnov

Referee—Mrs. Ringstad.

CHAPEL TALKS

The forces at work in a Christian's life formed the important thoughts brought out by Rev. Ramsdahl in a recent Chapel talk.

He said that there is good and evil in the hearts of all individuals. These are at war, each trying to conquer men. The Christian religion teaches and brings to individuals what is best and good. Christians, although they may endeavor to live according to God's commands never attain perfection; there is always room for improvement, secularly and spiritually. The Christian religion is not to be condemned by judging Christians. The Apostle Paul is an example of one who strived to the utmost for perfection but even he could not attain it.

To be true believers men must first have a knowledge of religion. The only way to gain this knowledge is through the study of the Word of God. Secondly, they must believe and trust what they learn from the Bible which is "The Truth" and "His Word."

Wednesday, December 9, the students listened to a short, interesting Chapel talk by Prof. Ph. E. Hauge.

The chosen topic was taken from second chapter of Luke where it tells about Jesus in the temple and how his parents were anxiously looking for him. Finally after finding him, he was asked why he stayed in the temple and Jesus answered, "Wish thou not that I must be about my Father's business?"

The speaker emphasized that the business of a Christian does not only extend to this world but also to life after death. We should therefore consider the economic importance of Christianity. It is poor business to wait until we are old to become a Christian. What business man, when offered an opportunity whereby he could make a million dollars, is there that would say that it is plenty of time after I am fifty? You would say, that is ridiculous. And why? Because the chances are that when you get old you would not make the million. Applying this to the Christian life it is poor business to delay being a Christian, and chances are that if you do not make use of the opportunity when young, you will lose it when older.

HOLIDAY GREETINGS
HOLD DROP INN
Serves
Dinners, Lunches and Confections

"Peace on earth and good will toward men," is the holiday greeting which we extend to our readers. It is during this month that all Christians will celebrate the advent of our Lord and Savior—a day set aside to celebrate the birth of Christ. This was the glad tidings that came not only to the Jews, but to the whole world. The air at that first Jule-tide was filled with joy—angels were singing "Glory be to God in the highest." It is the spirit of the first Christmas that we wish to bring to all our readers.

There are many ways in which we observe this holiday, and some of the customs which we have adopted have a tendency to distract our attention from the original Christmas spirit. It seems to us that it cannot be any Christmas without gifts, Christmas trees, shopping, Christmas dinner and a number of other things that we have associated with this holiest of holidays. There are many beautiful customs associated with Christmas, thus the Norwegians are known for their hospitality, not only to human beings, but which also extends to animals—domestic and wild. A fine expression of this spirit we find at Christmas in Norway when bunches of oats are placed for the wild birds on roofs of houses, on trees and on fences.

The mere observance of customs in celebrating Christmas will not lead us aright and insure a proper attitude of mind and heart. To give and receive gifts, to have beautifully decorated fir trees in our homes and churches and to sit at the traditional Christmas dinner and other things we do and enjoy cannot put the spirit of Christ into our hearts. We have a right to enjoy ourselves and these practices are therefore justifiable, but the danger lies in that we may do so many to thus forgetting to celebrate Christmas as it originally was intended—remembering the joy that was brought into the world by the first and greatest Christmas gift.

There is not a single home, however, humble as it may be but that the Christ Child may enter in and have a place in the hearts of its members. Then and only then can we understand what Christmas really means—peace and happiness—the glad tidings are ours.—P. S.

THE NEW YEAR

We are fast approaching the mile mark of another year. This moves us to the thought of self-examinations. Looking back upon the old year we see how little we really have accomplished, how we have neglected to make use of our valuable time the way we should, and how we even have transgressed the law of kindness. When our year's experiences pass through our mind as a kaleidoscope, let us take inventory of all our shortcomings; and when we in this way find out the reason why we didn't get along the way we should, let our New Year resolutions be not castles built in the air, but a certain goal set ahead of us that is not impossible to reach. We know that we cannot all be presidents of the United States, but we can all be a little more conscientious in our work and a little more kind and considerate in our associations.—P. S.

"PEP"

To my mind pep means full of life, enthusiasm and spirit to put the "go" in things. Not only does pep deal with inter-scholastic and scholastic athletics of all kinds but it can be applied to college studies, business, or whatever trade one is pursuing.

Why not stress a little more importance on pep in our studies? Sometimes we may feel like throwing our books aside and putting our studies off but after all what did our parents send us to college for? Did they send us here to play? No! Did they send us here to acquire knowledge and take our respective places among the educated in the world? Why certainly! Let's consider our parents a little more, who are no doubt sacrificing to put us through college, and add pep to our studying.—L. H.

Shoes and Ships By Sealing Wax

By Sealing Wax
For education to provide more of an incentive for the gum-chewing habit than it offers at the present time would seem almost an impossibility. (1) Extreme simplicity of manipulation as noted in shifts of the college type, which requires only a periodical law movement between the preponderous philosophical thoughts, should inspire, even the most timid or inexperienced to the skillful operation of caustic. But when the cost of the gum itself may include the coupons, the opportunity for economy unless with simplicity in an irrefutable appeal.

Very pronounced is this vogue, and many are the variations in which it is, offered and almost unlimited are the possibilities of its development.
Of all the methods, that of the ingenue seems to be most extensively used. This is merely a uniform, perpetual motion of the jaws, unhindered by cogitation—very effective! To maintain a uniform effect the absolute lack of thought is necessary.

Another not quite as universal, but frequently heard from, is that of the more talented individual, who has progressed to the level of gum-popping. All followers of this system of procedure advise a double thickness if the material is very short, thus defining the proverbial phrase "empty cans make the most noise."

With these various opportunities of melodic progressions made available to all by the possession of one cent and a pair of blispians, no one need be without it. Try it! It is truly a good prescription. Train at school in your spare moments, or any other unoccupied time. If you are not sure study and experiment until you find out how you can and how you cannot chew, emphasizing as much smartness as age, circumstance, and occasion will allow.

Chew and attain popularity, heed not the gnashing of teeth. It is but an honest expression of jealousy.

Rev. T. O. Svare, Pastor.

Prof. G. J. Stuen was recently elected a member of the Board of trustees of the Parkland Light and Water Company to take the place made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Hall who is ill. The Parkland Light and Water Company is a mutual organization which has for its purpose the supplying of light and water to its members. It is continually expanding to give service to any resident of the district who wishes to become a member. The directors and trustees are Mr. E. H. Ellingson, president; Prof. H. H. Hauge, secretary; Mr. Crews, Mr. Ostlund and Prof. Stuen.

At a student-body meeting December 2, Lillian Lee resigned her position as girls' yell leader. Alice Davie was elected to fill the vacancy.

The assembly room of L. C. was practically filled to capacity Saturday evening, December 5 when the Ladies Auxiliary and Young Ladies' Guild of the Trinity Lutheran Church of Parkland gave their annual bazaar.

The wonderful display of fancy-work which included bandwork of all kinds was the main attraction. There were beautiful luncheon sets, bedroom sets, dresses, towels, buffet sets, dresser scarfs, and many novelties which had all been made by members of the two societies.

These articles were on exhibit and sold at stated prices for a while during the evening after which those that had not been sold were auctioned. During an intermission the following program was rendered:

Two accordion solos—Mr. Markwick.

Triple piano selection—Prof. and Mrs. Edwards and Signe Hjermstad. Cornet Solo—Mr. Pellet accompanied on the piano by Signe Hjermstad.

The fish ponds offered remarkable fish at stated prices for the evening for five cents and ten cents. Some fish proved to be croaking frogs while others were boxes of face powder.

Those people who attended were tempted by the delicious lunches of coffee, pie and ice cream which were served during the evening.

The candy booth also served as a means of appeasing the sweet tooth of many.

Approximately $250 was cleared by the societies.

Our Trip to Oregon Very Much Enjoyed

"Straight ahead—all on!" Two cars rolled smoothly along the Pacific Highway on Saturday, Dec. 12, a party from P. L. C. bound for Silverton, Oregon. The party, numbering two Hauge's, two Edwards, two Hjermstad's and one Finlason, often became so enraptured in the scenic beauty of the drive that they forgot all about such worldly things as signposts, and as a result, some "turn-backs" were necessary, but at seven that evening, we arrived at our destination, happy and hungry.

We were warmly received at the homes of Rev. Lindseth and Henriksen, where we did justice to the fine dinners awaiting us. Then we were taken to our various places for the night—some to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jensen, some to Mrs. and Miss Jorgensen and one to the home of Miss Lulu Goplerud. Here we were shown the highest hospitality and kindness. During our stay in Silverton, we met many fine people who are standing staunchly behind our school and are heart and soul in it's work. We say many former P. L. C. students, including John Goplerud—P. L. A. '03, Mamie Holden—P. L. A. '17, Arthur and Thorsten Anderson '22, Lulu Goplerud '24, and Dora Henriksen, Harry and James Thompson and Marie Corhouse.

Many young people expressed their intention of attending here next year, and were eager to hear all about our life at the College. Many subscribed to the Mooring Mast in order to keep in touch with the work P. L. C. is doing.

Monday morning arrived all too soon, for our stay had been pleasant and inspiring. But, nevertheless, we were glad to get back to P. L. C. for after all there's no place like home.

The negative contended that the belief, that Friday and the thirteenth are unlucky, is based on groundless fancies and silly superstition. It is the remains of a conviction held centuries ago when people looked for some explanation to the happenings which we now call providence. Those people imagined that the spirits made rules, which when broken brought punishment. A large number of superstitious beliefs formerly held to be true but not rejected were enumerated by the negative. A few of those were: "Stitching bow-legged to avoid bad luck, eating strick's eggs cures the drinking habit, entering a house with the left foot brings bad luck to the occupants, and the bride on taking the groom's hand first will be the ruling power of the family."

The negative further demonstrated by substantive proof that luck is to be found in "thirteen" and "Friday." If we look for it, Wagner, the great German composer, had thirteen letters in his name, he was born in 1813, he furthermore composed thirteen operas of which the greatest was finished on the thirteenth. There were thirteen colonies which united to form the United States. There were thirteen stars and thirteen stripes in the first United States flag and the same symbols remain in our present flag. The battle of Bulker Hill occurred on Friday. And the thirteenth amendment to the United States Constitution set the negroes free.

Owing to the fact that the negative lacked one speaker, the rebuttals for both sides were dispensed with. The judges decision was given in favor of the affirmative by a 2 to 1 vote.

At the business meeting which followed the debate a lively discussion was held on the possibilities of giving pins to debaters by the society. A motion was carried that pins shall be bought by the society and given to those debaters who fulfill the requirements of the society. Upon motion a committee was appointed by the president to interview the faculty advisor and with his co-operation make the rules governing the requirements to be fulfilled by the contestants for the pins. Those appointed on the committee are Edga Hauke, Peder Sognefost and Arnt Oyen.

his red nose, was acting in "The Weaver" as the disconcerted man who could not get enough to eat or drink. Harry Sannerud took the part of the emperor in "The Emperor of Portugal." Myron Kreidler portrayed the disguised patent medicine man who was explaining his patent medicine to his nephew (Walter French) in "Tono Bungay."
