Book-keeping.

In a commercial course, book-keeping is the key-stone of the arch. Our course includes journal entries in all forms, with actual practice in office work, commission, wholesale, retail,

History of the U. S .- Johnston's, or manufacturing, banking, stock companies, etc.

It is comprehensive, progressive and practical. No time is wasted in studying theories which can never be put in practice, or in copying forms that were never used in business. The first day the student begins to work out an easy, practical set of transactions. Each new set is an advance over the preceding. Transactions are not repeated until they become tedious; there is always something new.

The science of accounts is developed as rapidly as possible, until the student thoroughly understands any set of books as applied to ANY kind of business. From the beginning, interest is aroused because the student sees the advantage his studies will be to him whether he keeps books for himself or for others. He is furnished with a cash capital to begin business; he buys and sells merchandise, receives and gives notes, draws and accepts drafts, deposits in and draws money out of the bank, makes out bills, account sales, balance sheets, contracts, etc., admits partners, buys out the interest of others, closes ledger and continues the business. In fact he keeps books as they ARE kept, not as they MIGHT be, or WERE kept twenty or thirty years ago.

By not wasting any time, by giving individual instruction just when it is needed, and by keeping the student under the same teacher, from the beginning to the end of the course, we are enabled to teach this valuable science in as short a time as many require to teach a purely theoretical course.

Arithmetic.

This indispensible branch of education forms the "chief corner-stone" of business success. A portion of each day is devoted to special exercises in short methods of computing interest, discount, equation of accounts, partnership settlements, etc. The drilling on rapid and accurate addition of long ledger columns is a special feature.

Commercial Law.

Every young man should become thoroughly posted in the principles of Contracts, Negotiable Paper, Agency, Bailments, Partnership, Corporations, Guaranty, Chattels, Tender, etc., to enable him to deal justly by others and prevent others from taking advantage of him. Our Commercial Law provides for this. "Ignorance of the law excuses no one."

Penmanship.

To be able to write a plain, rapid, business hand is an accomplishment every one can obtain with proper instruction. The successful teacher is one who can point out your faults and see that you correct them.

Shorthand and Type-writing.

"This is a fast age; the world cannot afford much longer to think at the rate of 200 words a minute, and write at the rate of 25." On every hand the evidences of the importance of these acquirements are apparent. The mercamile houses and railroad companies employ stenographers by the dozen and hundreds. No office of any importance is complete without its stenographer. The demand is large and school at reduced rates. Students increasing. The thoroughly qualified furnish their own books and stationery, amenuensis may rest assured of suc-

Time to Enter.

Students may enter at any time and find work adapted to their needs.

Conditions for Admission.

Students of either sex who are willing to do the work required and to obey the rules and regulations of the school will be admitted to any class upon paying the regular tuition.

Religion.

This school is under the auspices of the Lutheran Church.

Students are earnestly requested to avail themselves of the religious instruction offered by the school.

All students are required to be present at the daily devotional exercises in the chapel unless excused by the president.

The rooms are heated by steam and lighted by electricity and furnished with chairs, tables, bedsteads, mattresses and wardrobes. Students fur nish their own towels and bed-clothes,

In consideration of the low rate at which board and room are furnished to students it is absolutely necessary that all payments be made in advance for one term.

All money paid by a student for board and room for a longer period than that during which he actually boards and rooms at the school, will be refunded to him according to the regular weekly rates, when he leaves.

The Pacific Lutheran University is a boarding school, and no student will be allowed to room or board outside, except by special permission.

OTHER EXPENSES.

and will do well to bring with them such text-books as they possess on the subjects they wish to pursue.

General Regulations.

All tuition must be paid strictly in advance for at least for one term and a certificate of membership obtained from the president, which must be presented to the teacher in charge of the class the student desires to enter.

If a student leaves school before his tuition expires he may choose either of the following settlements:

- 1. One half of the unused tuition money will be refunded to the student and his certificate cancelled.
- 2. A due-bill for the full amount of unused tuition payable in schooling, any term, will be issued to the student. This due-bill is transferrable and will be taken at its face value when presented properly endorsed.

In no case will money be refunded or a due-bill issued for a less time than two weeks.

It is an implied contract that students will cheerfully comply with the rules and regulations of the school in every respect.

A student who neglects his work, who willfully disobeys the rules laid down for the government of the school, from time to time, or whose influence is pernicious, is not wanted and will not be retained in the institution and, if expelled, forfeits the tuition paid.

Additional Information.

Location and Building.

Young men and women yearning for an education will probably not be so particular in regard to the surround ings of a school, as to its facilities for imparting knowledge. And yet, everything else being equal, beautiful surroundings are always preferred. In regard to location, our school is indeed fortunate.

The vicinity of Parkland is, as the name implies, a natural park, i. e. open prairie with groves and clusters of trees at short and irregular intervals.

The ground is such that it is neither dusty in the summer nor muddy in the

The school being located three miles south of the city of Tacoma is far enough from town to insure absolute quiet, so necessary for students, yet so near that students can avail themselves of the opportunities afforded by a larger city to hear the best music, good lectures, etc.

The building is 190 feet long and 82 feet wide. In the main part the distance from the extremity of the front steps to the outside of the toilet rooms in the rear, is 125 feet. The lig Nagtombed tommer til at flag en height is about 120 feet.

The tower on the main building, as well as the small ones on the wings, ments will receive instruction at the are vent shafts for the escape of foul air from all rooms in the building.

Through openings in the brick wall fresh air is admitted to the heating radiators, each room being thus supplied with fresh air.

The building is equipped with all modern conveniences, heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

Hints to Students.

Parkland is a suburb of Tacoma. To reach Parkland from Tacoma take Jefferson avenue electric car to Center street depot from which a steam motor makes a limited number of trips a day.

Trunks had better be left at the depot or wharf, and the management of the school will see to it that they are brought out to the University for about 50 cents a piece.

For further particulars apply to REV. B. HARSTAD, President, Parkland, Wash.
