CHOIR OF WEST SINGS CANTATA SUNDAY, NOV. 1

"The Choir of the West" will make its first outside appearance for this season at Central Lutheran Church, Sunday afternoon, November 1, at 3:00 p. m. when it will present "The Reformation-Cantata" by F. Melius Christanson. Following the cantata, Dr. Samuel Miller of the Lutheran Bible Institute, Minneapolis, Minnesota, will speak.

The solo parts of the cantata will be taken by three members of the choir. "Hear Ye, O Israel," baritone solo with choir, will be sung by Harry Solos. Patricia Iverson, soprano, will sing the aria, "My Soul Doth Magnify the Lord," and Rudolf Johnson, tenor, will sing "Come Unto Me." Accompanying the choir at the organ will be Orla Moser, organist of Central Lutheran Church, Tacoma.

"The Reformation Cantata" was written in 1917, the initial performance being the same year in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the Lutheran Reformation. This first concert was presented by a chorus of approximately 2500 singers under the direction of the composer, F. Melius Christanson, in the St. Paul Civic Auditorium and accompanied by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

The following is an excerpt from the composer's synopsis of the story of his cantata:

"As indicated by the title, this work is written in commemoration of the Lutheran Reformation. The text and the musical setting picture the historical unfolding of the divine plan of salvation, from its promise in an-

Langton Heads New Golf Club

Cries of "Fore." "Follow through with that swing." "Hurry up and let someone else get started." will soon be resounding over Pacific Lutheran's golf course as the newly established golf club gets under way behind the leadership of Dick Langton.

Aby assisting Dick will be Marcus "The Mark" Stuen as vice president, and Hartman "The Hardy" Hoff acting as secretary. The officers were elected by the 35 charter members at the organization meeting held Oct. 26. Mr. Jacobs, course caretaker, will direct the activities of the club from his post of adviser.

The plans of the club call for regular tournaments for members only. The prime purpose—that of establishing a school champion. According to the "Hardy," advertising manager of the club, tournaments will also be held with other schools and clubs. Incidentally, this club will build, the nucleus of next year's golf team.

The executive brainstormers for working out tournament plans will be supplied by the cabinet—Dick, Mark and Hoff—with Tom "Family Man" Lumsden added to make them work.

The handicap committee, composed of John Larsgaard, Gus Anderson, Jim Petersen, and Martin Gulhaugen—all chosen for their mathematical genius—has as its duties the little task of establishing the handicaps of each player so that every boy has an equal chance. It is necessary that each member turn in the score cards for 10 nines (10 rounds of 9 holes each) to Mr. Jacobs or Mr. Strombo as soon as possible so that the handicap may be established. The sooner this is done, the sooner the actual competition begins.

Anyone wishing competitive play may still join by turning in his score cards and attending the meetings held every first and third Monday of the month in Room 129 at 12:30 p. m. A good time is guaranteed to all who like the game.

New Class Presidents

Classes Pick '42 Officers

Seniors Choose Erickson To Wield the Gavel

Elmer Erickson, one of those well-known Ericksons from Kapowsin, was elected senior class president in recent elections. Aiding and abetting him in his schemes for making this last year a successful and active one, are his fellow officers vice-president, Wenzel Tiedeman, and secretary-treasurer, Doree Sachs. Official sergeant-at-arms is Noreen Stendal, who promises to fulfill her duties to the best of her abilities.

Hartman "Humorous" Huff relinquishes the gavel of the Junior class to Gerald "Personality Kid" Lider, who declares he will personally lead the concoction of a junior class mixer that will make the sophomore affair of last year (the best, by the way, ever seen on this campus) look like a bad case of bunions. Dick Langton has the responsibility of the vice-presidency, while Georgiana Atkinson handles the secretarial and financial matters. After a heated contest for the position of sergeant-at-arms, Waldo Elfson nosed out the other candidates, Rhoda Lee and Roy McKinley.

Members of the Sophomore class have entrusted executive powers to Gus Anderson, who will lead them in presenting the Saturday night Fun Fest for the students, faculty, and alumni. His cohorts on the administrative council are Nancy Lund, vice president; Ann Nelson, secretary-treasurer; and Kermit "Average Student" Dubois, who protects his colleagues from assassins in his capacity as sergeant-at-arms.

The Frosh picked George Sola (yes, he's from Everett, too.) to guide their destinies this year. Other officers elected are Betty Hatlen, vice-prexy; Joan Sattern, secretary; Eunice Torvend, treasurer; and Alvin Bodvig, sergeant-at-arms.

The high school students cast the majority vote for Norman Jensen to preside over them for the year. Other officers elected were Carole Westerdale, secretary-treasurer; Carl Fynboe, representative to council; and Charles Billingsley, sgt.-at-arms. A close race for the vice-presidential office will be decided in a second election soon between the two remaining candidates, Mary Ruth Lono and Norman Hagen.

Debaters Organize For '42 Forensics

Resolved: That PLC shall maintain the debate record established by last season's squad, was the agreement of those present at the first meeting of the debate club this year held Monday, October 19. Bud Lutnes member of last year's team, welcomed the prospective debaters and explained the various activities of the group. He said there would be plenty of debating for those who wished it, and that there would be opportunity to travel to the various tournaments on the coast. Unable to participate this year because of his defense job, Bud offered his spare time to those desiring help. Helen Church is the only returning veteran.

Mr. Glen Preilman, new speech department head and debate coach, appointed Hobert Church and Norman Holm as co-chairmen for arranging PLC's debate schedule. He also presented the two current debate questions open for college teams. The national intercollegiate radio prize debates sponsored by the American Economic Foundation will revolve on the question: Should American youth support the re-establishment after the war of competitive enterprises as our dominant economic system? The preliminary college debate question is: Resolved, that the United Nations should establish a permanent federal union with power to tax and regulate international commerce, to maintain a police force, to settle international disputes and to enforce such settlements, and to provide for the admission of other nations which accept the principles of the union.

Already signed up for debate are Keith Lile, Maynard Moen, Richard Freisth, John Baglien, Conrad Braaton, Helen Youngren, Edward Ekstedt, Norman Holm, Martin Gulhaugen, Helen Church, Roy McKinley, Al Nording, Martha Gallaher, Eunice Knutson, Herb Nienstedt, and Isabel Harstad.

The first practice debate will be a women's team versus men's team affair, held next Wednesday evening, November 4. After mid-semester exams, competitive debates with various schools are planned.

BOARD PRESIDENT LEAVES FOR ARMY

On Monday, November 2, the Rev. Alf M. Kraebel, president of our Board of Trustees, leaves for Camp McQuaide, California, where he will be inducted into the army as a chaplain with the rank of first lieutenant.

Rev. Kraebel will resign as a member and president of the Board of Trustees before he is inducted. His position will be filled by the Board at its next meeting on November 4, whose selectees will serve until the corporation meets next spring.

Rev. Kraebel has been on the Board since 1934, and has served as its president since 1935.

Rhoda I Chosen to Rule Over Homecoming This Week End

Graduates Welcomed to Weekend Festivities; Pep Rally, Grid Game, Fun Fest Scheduled

In the student election Tuesday noon the official tally shows that Rhoda Lee will reign over this weekend's Homecoming festivities as Queen Rhoda I. She, together with the rest of the school—students and faculty—join in welcoming all the grads to the campus once more for a weekend of fun and celebration. Welcome home, alumni!

The Homecoming festivities begin Friday evening at eight o'clock in the gymnasium with a snappy Pep Rally. With the emcee talents of Hartman L. Hoff, P. L. C.'s most famous and popular corn-corn-corer, leading and directing the program of the occasion, a rollicking good time is promised all who attend.

37 Boys Enlist In Reserve Corps

Dr. Jordahl, liaison agent between our colleges and the government, reports that 37 boys are now in the Enlisted Reserves, and that many more are preparing to enlist as soon as possible. 23 men students have joined the Army Enlisted Reserves, including three in the Army Air Force Enlisted Reserve Corps. The Naval reserve has enlisted 14 of our P.L.C.ites, classed either in V1 or V7.

Men students not yet enlisted look forward to service of some kind; all able bodied men are destined for the armed forces.

College students are enlisted in the reserve corps for the purpose of making themselves more valuable, through continuing their education, as potential officers. Present figures show that 80 per cent of the men in officers' training camps are college men.

Coeds, too, Dr. Jordahl points out, should be giving serious attention to preparing themselves to fill positions vital to the war effort. The government will have to use its woman power to the best advantage as more and more men are called to the armed services, and those who have taken specialized courses in fields such as health, science, business and industry education, and training for the diplomatic services and special investigation, will be in greatest demand.

P.L.C. GIRL ELECTED L.D.R. CIRCUIT HEAD

Avis Hovland, senior was elected president of the South Puget Sound Circuit of L.D.R. at their convention Sunday afternoon, October 25. The convention, held at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Tacoma, consisted of two sessions, a program, and a business meeting.

The Rev. N. B. Thorpe, the convention speaker, addressed the group on the theme, "The Abundant Life." Nancy Lund and Eunice Torvend, delegates from our L.D.R., and a number of other girls from the college attended the meetings.

The presentation of Queen Rhoda I will be the focal point of the affair. TEAM TO BE PRESENT

The rest of the attention will be centered around the Baron and his graders, who will be present to make a few speeches and to receive the promise of strong support from the rooting section for the game Saturday afternoon. Baron will be sure to get his boys in bed on time and feed them plenty of eggs so that they will be in the trim to battle the Bellingham eleven with some real Lute football.

The P.L.C. Pep Band will appear to join in the rally by leading the singing of school songs. The yell leaders will lead the assemblage in yells, practicing to perfect a cooperative rooting section to cheer the team on to victory.

CHAPEL SERVICE

A special chapel service for graduates, students, and faculty will begin at ten o'clock Saturday morning. Johnny Larsgaard is making program arrangements. Special musical numbers will be presented. Dr. O. A. Tingelstad will address the Homecoming group.

Saturday afternoon the Glads meet the Bellingham Vikings for a grid tilt in the Stadium at two p. m. Let's all be out there on the right side of the Stadium Bowl in the P.L.C. rooting section en masse to really support the team. Make the attendance 100 per cent and yell until every voice is as hoarse as a bad case of laryngitis. Those boys out on the field deserve every speck of yell power we have in us.

SOPH FUN FEST

Fun Fest time is eight o'clock Saturday evening, when the sophomores invite the whole P. L. C. family to come over to the gym for a guaranteed good time. Albert Kuhn has charge of the program and promises to muscle in a really good entertainment line-up. Burt Thorpe is tentatively listed as master-of-ceremonies for the affair. Music will be interspersed throughout the program, using the talent of P. L. C. musicians, Ebbie Johnson and Peggy Petersen will play the accordion and guitar, respectively, perhaps with a vocal accompaniment as an added feature.

STUDENTS LEAVE FOR WENATCHEE TO WORK IN APPLE HARVESTING

By MARTIN GULHAUGEN

"Heigh-ho! Heigh-ho! It's off to work we go," was the merry song heard rising over the campus at 37 service-minded students gathered in front of "Old Main" waiting for the bus which was to transport them to the orchards of Wenatchee to help in the harvest of the large apple crop.

In response to a plea from the Washington State Employment Agency, approximately 45 patriotic students—a few went by car—were granted leave of absence from the school duties to make the journey to the orchards. They left about 4 p. m. last Tuesday, and will return sometime Saturday afternoon, according to Miss Blomquist who has had charge of the arrangements from this end.

P. L. C. joins other schools in the State in this effort to save the valuable apple crop, most of which is intended for the army. The demand on colleges for help comes out of the shortage of farm labor, as a large per cent of normal farm help has been drained into war industries and the armed forces. Students, businessmen, women, and even school children have been mustered to save the perishable crops.

The government promised to pay student transportation from any school filling its quota (37 for us). This number was easily filled in the traditional P. L. C. spirit of cooperation. Each picker is paid eight cents per box of apples, and $1.35 is the daily charge for board and room.

Mrs. and Mrs. Carl Fynboe accompanied the group as faculty advisers.

from the inkwell

We college students, in what has now reached into almost a year of war, have heard from our government officials, our education advisers, our own families the same counsel. "Stay in college until the government calls you elsewhere because America will need well-trained leaders before and after victory is won." And it is good advice, given with wisdom and foresight.

We have realized the value of continuing education, those of us who are now here at P. L. C. and in other colleges across our nation. And we are reasonably pleased with ourselves for remaining in school when lucrative positions in vital war industries look so attractive and when others are going out to serve heroically and gloriously to serve in the armed forces. Others among us are proud because they find it possible both to attend classes and to work.

But, it seems to me, some of us at least have been too willing to adopt this theory and then to consider our part finished in this giant struggle for Victory. Our share isn't done in our mere presence here. We have many more things that we could be doing that would also help the War Effort.

Boys in the various reserve forces can't rest on the laurels of having passed the mental and physical examinations. It will take more effort and be a greater feat for them to keep their grades high enough to keep on qualifying.

We certainly aren't busy buying as many War Stamps and Bonds as possible. Some of us may be 10 percent club members, but our average student doesn't invest ten cents in his country and liberty as often as he feeds a nickel into a juke box or slips a couple of dimes across the counter for a tasty, but superfluous, hamburger.

LET'S INVEST IN DEMOCRACY

If you like to get a bargain, just remember this! You get a lot more for your money by investing it in Democracy rather than in things for yourself.

Then there is the scrap collection campaign for which each one of us can do his bit. Don't destroy or throw away anything that might be of value; take it to the scrap salvage. And conserve what you do have so it may last as long as possible.

Most important of all, we can pray—pray for our country, our men and women in the service, our school, our family. Our motto be this: "Not my will, but Thine, be done."

We have a lot of loyal fans in our rooting section at the games, the solid, salt-of-the-campus contingent who enjoy a good game, win, lose or draw, but unfortunately a hybrid specie seems to be developing, right on our own side of the Stadium. We are growing hot-house fans, who come to the game to be good winners, but can't take the cold breath of defeat!

Hot-house or fair-weather fans are those who don't cooperate with the yell leaders, who complain about not getting a square deal from the referee, and who live in the past, continually wishing that gridsters from other years were back.

We realize that voices get hoarse toward the last half of a football game, but we also know

"I'VE BEEN STABBED"

"ANNE NELSON LOOKED DAGGERS AT ME"

A nice big juicy secret
To my best friend I blabbed:
He told some Cannonball girl
Brother, I've been stabbed!

Some soph sold me a textbook,
Into history I dabbed,
But this year's books are different—
Sister, I've been stabbed!

One day I skipped M. Franck's class—
Thought I never would be nabbed;
But M. N. went a-hunting —
Cousin, I've been stabbed!

The kicking post I've seen but once,
But just the same I'm tabbed.
They now call me the wolf-boy—
Mama, I've been stabbed!

About her wand'ring, roving eye
To little Sal I crabbed,
Now Sally's got another pal—
Kermit, I've been stabbed!

For that last blob of butter
I reached right out and grabbed,
But Kapus was there before me—
Mrs. Kreidler, I've been stabbed!

DAY BY DAY DAZE

MONDAY

Awoke 7 a. m. Remembered Mr. Franck's threat of a geography test. Shuddered. Got back to sleep, but only with great difficulty. Awoke 10 a. m. Crawled down to the post office. No mail. Anit Norman there looking sad. No male. Ventured into the lower hall. Very dark. A pair of eyes gleamed suddenly. "Hello Virginia Katherine," I said. "Meow," said Virginia Katherine on her regular morning way to the garbage cans. Started back up into the dorm but was driven back by the swiny, schmaltzy trumpet of Harry Johnson.

TUESDAY

Met Evan Carlson coming in the front door. Said Evan, "Have you seen Ollie?" Found Johnny Otness in the library looking at a big picture book. "I know what that is," said Johnny proudly. "It's a Moe cow." "No, no, Johnny," I said. "You mean moo cow." "but he wouldn't listen." Felt a chill. Looked up. Baroness Barofsky wagged a warning. Ester M. told me about the moron who walked through a screen door and strained himself.

WEDNESDAY

Awoke at 9 a. m. Leaned out of the window and said good morning to Dean Martin, who was sitting in his window, as usual. Caught Bettsey Battssey out without her vitrol. Met Evan Carlson who said something about being a deck officer on a submarine. He also asked had I seen Ollie. Tried to study. Dorm peaceful and quiet as a bowling alley. Library air too supercharged with optics. Tried reception room. Evan came in and asked had I seen Joan.

THURSDAY

Caught Florence Rotter out without her eyebrows on. Evan asked me had I seen Ollie or Joan or both.

FRIDAY

Noticed that Kapus is Butleryng these days. Also noticed that Stan Arton's hair will be ready to braid any day now. Al Kuhn playing "Air on the G String" because he broke his A string. Fifth columnist Person wearing an orchid from a member of a certain cross-town football team.

that those boys out on the field don't quit playing when they get tired. We must all keep up, with the team, giving all that we have all through the game. And remember, we are NOT honoring the heroes of former days when we use their names in disparaging comparison with those on the present roster.

Saturday we'll meet the Bellingham crowd and it'll be a big game—the Homecoming Game. Let's be there in the Stadium where we belong and remember, till the final gun sounds, it's TEAM, TEAM, TEAM!

Now we pause to pay our respects to one of our students who has passed from this earth.

Hans Hunskor, freshman, was accidentally shot and fatally wounded while hunting deer on Whidby Island Sunday, October 18.

P. L. C. faculty and students extend their sympathy to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hunskor of Oak Harbor.

And we offer our sympathy to our fellow-student, Dick Langton, for the bereavement of his father, Mr. C. A. Langton.

P. L. C. also honors the memory of Mrs. Inger Sophie Larson, loyal friend of the college and wife of one of its incorporators. We thank her for her personal support, prayers, and unflinching friendship. She gave three children into the direct service of the school! Mr. Ludvig Larson of Parkland, a former business manager, and Mrs. Lauritz Rasmussen and Mrs. August Buschmann, both former instructors here.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Neil Hoff, prominent student leader here for three years, and substitute speech teacher until Mr. Peelman's arrival here this fall, is now in the army doing his bit as part of the recruiting service branch. He is stationed in Seattle.

John Stuen, son of Prof. and Mrs. O. J. Stuen and former student, has been a flight instructor at Pensacola, Florida. Lately he has been on the "Flight Standardization Board" whose duty is to fly with instructors at various fields and standardize all instruction of naval fliers. He has traveled with three others to Boston, Detroit and St. Louis and expects to get to Philadelphia before returning to Pensacola to make his report.

Bob Hadland, student here last year and best known for his red hair and accompanying humor, is still floating about in Northern waters as a member of the Coast Guard.

Art Baagason, a sophomore at the beginning of this year, went back to Minnesota to visit his sister who underwent a critical operation. Before he could get back he received his notice and is probably in the army now.

Freddie Miller, well known for his cheerful personality here, enlisted in the Army Air Corps as a radio operator. He left school Oct. 20, and is now at Ft. Lewis awaiting transfer to Louisville, Kentucky.

Bob Reitz, we hear, left this week to be inducted into the army.

Bill Gammon, student here in '40 and '41 put in his appearance around P.L.C. this week. Bill is a basic instructor in the Army Air Corps and is stationed at Gardner Field near Taft, California. He is home on leave and will be around until Friday.

Good luck, fellows!

Soldiers Are Partied By Delta Phi Kappas

P.L.C. boys watched with jealous eyes as the dorm girls trekked over to the gymnasium on Friday evening, October 16, to attend the D.P.K. party for a group of soldiers.

Such games as Chinese checkers and ping pong held sway until all the soldiers had arrived. Then Patricia Iverson took charge of a short program which included a tap dance and a baton twirling specialty by Georgiana Atkinson. A girls' trio composed of Milly Hoff, Hjordis Rogen, and Gloria Shumate sang "Ten for Two." Games and schottische made up the rest of the fun, with a grand march at the last to keep the boys in trim for drill. Doughnuts and cider were served to the group.

Engaged

Roses are red;
Violets are blue;
Nancy is engaged,
Boo, hoo, hoo, hoo

The above ditty expresses the sentiments of many a P.L.C. lad as he reads this article. For Cupid has again sent his love-tipped arrows straight and true. His expert marksmanship has resulted in the engagement of Nancy Lund, popular P.L.C. coed, and Pvt. Marv Loftness, former student here, now an army air corps supply clerk, stationed in Chicago.

Marv who was noted here at college for his happy sense of humor—remember him as Horsey Granger at the Soph mixer last year—has recently applied for officer's training in the armaments division of the air corps.

Cupid made another direct hit in our student body recently when Bud Lutnes, prominent P.L.C. debater, presented a solitary diamond to Betty Hanson, student last year active in choir and journalism. The young couple plan to be married sometime in December.

Betty is now working as typist in the Seattle-Tacoma shipyards. Bud, who was chosen last year as P.L.C.'s glamour boy, is now attending classes and working a shift in the shipyards. The P.L.C. family extends sincerest congratulations and best wishes to both young couples.

ALUMNI . . .

Floy Pearson, '42 has announced her engagement to Mr. David McCurdy. They will be married sometime during the month of December.

Nadine Friedline, '42, was married to Mr. Don McMillin on August 1.

Ed Pedersen, '42 was recently married to Tula Culver. He is now teaching at Cathlamet, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dahl, 37 (Norma Preus, 37) announced the birth of a baby girl, Susan Louise, born October 15.

A number of students in attendance here last year are continuing their work in other institutions. They are:

University of Washington
Elmore Buringrud, George Davis, Shirley Henriksen, Bill Ramstad, Gerhart Svare, and Julien Mattern.

College of Puget Sound
Priscilla Preus and Forrest Johnson
Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill.
Jim Anderson and Luther Livingston
St. Olaf College
Ben Dahle and Kiatcha Dahle.

Willamette
Andy Sola and Merle Palmer
Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn.
Roy Gilbertson and Byron Stephenson.

Washington State College, Pullman, Washington
Dick Wigen and Adeline Johnson
W. W. C. E., Bellingham, Washington
Bob Lee

University of Oregon
Ole Sola and Sherman Davidson (who is soon to go in the Navy).

Eunice Fuhr is in nurse's training at the Manual Hospital, Portland. Oregon Ray Pflueger is at the Capitol University. Ardis Riegle is at the Kansas State Teachers' College. Allan Shellenberger is at the University of Hawaii. Mel Sinex is attending the Pacific School of Oregon at Portland, Ore. Harvey White is at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri. Seichi Yamada is at Whitworth.

D.R.G.'s BANQUET

D.R.G. girls enjoyed their annual banquet in the day room on Friday, October 8. New officers for the year were installed and a formal initiation of the new members was held.

Lieut. Sidney Holt of the Naval Office in Tacoma spoke to the group concerning the W.A.V.E.S. Mrs. Kreidler greeted the girls, and Mrs. Haaken-son, president of Dormitory Auxiliary No. 2, told the group about the auxiliary and its work. Eva Myrtle Atkinson sang three selections. Ebbie Johnson played her accordion. The banquet closed with group singing.

Newly-Arrived

If you see Prof. Malmin strutting about the campus a bit, don't be surprised. You see, with the arrival of a husky, new nine pound, six ounce son last Monday morning, he now has a complete Malmin male trio to direct.

The newly-arrived young gentleman has been named Jon Erling. Prof. Malmin also says little Jon already has a very strong voice, which sounds like promising material for the Choir of the West of 1960.

Pride and joy of the Lono household is a five pound, twelve ounce young man who arrived Tuesday evening. This future college student has not been named yet.

P.L.C. Girl Weds

Ruthmarie Rodenburger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Rodenburger of Tacoma and a junior in the Education Department here at P.L.C., was married to Mr. Charles Tennant at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Young, on Crestview Heights near Tacoma, on Sunday, October 18. Rev. Carl Rydell of First Lutheran Church of Tacoma officiated.

At the opening of the service, candles were lighted by Helen Church and Martha Jane Gallaher, students at P.L.C. After a week's honeymoon on the young couple will reside in Tacoma, and Mrs. Tennant will continue her studies here.

Talking It Over

With ART LARSON

Before the Monday morning quarterback catches me, I had better issue my bi-weekly propaganda notes. Critics have been the rule, not the exception, these past two weeks. Washington was tumbled by California. Stanford beat Southern Cal., Minnesota conquered Michigan, and all over the nation teams have fallen. Look at Bernie Bierman's Iowa Cadets. They have one of the best service teams in the country, yet Notre Dame beat them 28 to 0—the first time an Irish eleven has even beaten a Berman coached team.

From where we stand now it looks as though Ellensburg has the Championship team this year. But it's still anybody's title. St. Martin's can be cut down by either Cheney or Ellensburg, the Wildcats have already beaten Cheney, Cheney took us into camp, and we beat Ellensburg. It's all a merry-go-round affair and no one can tell when it will stop.

This Cheney team that we played Saturday seemed to have plenty on the ball, or else they remembered the shellacking we gave them last year. I don't know where Coach Peterson salvaged all his material, but the smallest man on the Savages' squad was as big as Kylo.

A vote of many, many thanks must be given to the Lutheran Brotherhood for the swell banquet they put on for our team. They left us with the thought that, in their minds, win or lose, our squad was the best on the field.

Outstanding in the last two games for the Lutes have been Don "Bubbles" D'Andrea, George Anderson, Eldon "Wheat Ranch" Kylo, and Paul "Potatoes" Polillo. Our sixty minute boys, Anderson, Kylo, and Polillo, are holding up well but the strain is telling on them. And more than one visiting team has something to say on the impact of Bubbles.

It is reported that Irvin Liefer, Cheney's little basketball star, will be out for some time with a broken collar bone. This is interesting news to all the Winko teams.

As home-coming rolls around again we should spend some time reminiscing about former athletic stars from around these parts. Among many "greats," we remember fellows like "Sweed" Willard, Hal Yokum, Bucky O'Connor, "Fud" Fadness, the Frye brothers, "Red" Carlson, Chet Solie. And then more recently the Tommerviks, Tim, Bob, and Marv, the Taylor boys, Blair and Murray, Marv Harshman, "Goal" Thorleifson, George Broz, and many more. We hope to see all these fellows around this week-end and to show them a good time.

Lutes Defeated 14 to 6 by C. P. S.

The PLC Gladiator eleven stubbornly relinquished the city intercollegiate football title by a 14 to 6 score, to their revengeful rival, the College of Puget Sound, in a pass-slinging fracas held at the Stadium bowl, October 17. The CPS Loggers, burning from a 47 to 0 score handed to them by last year's Lute squad, opened a bag of pass plays and found the Gladiator's pass defense full of holes. Meanwhile, Baron Barotsky's boys uncocked a few lateral-pass plays to avoid a shutout.

C.P.S. Powerful
In the opening period the CPS contingent showed terrific power when they first gained possession of the ball after Jack Brattle's quick-kick to their own 17 yard stripe. Alternating pass plays with line smashes, the Loggers moved up the field like wind off Puget Sound. Jack Spencer, diminutive triple-threatener, and Darrel Swenson, Scandinavian virus flash of CPS, did the pitching while power-driving Bill Mc Masters and right halfback Gregory chewed off some long and short gains through the tough Gladiator line. Bob Maysumber, Logger right end, took a 12 yard pass in the end zone from Spencer to register the first touchdown, and added the extra point that gave CPS the lead throughout the game.

Glenn Neal, substitute center for the gold and black, started the Lute's comeback in the second quarter when he recovered a CPS fumble on the PLC 38 yard mark. The Baron's tricky lateral-pass plays clobbered the Gladiators and Ted Luter, right end, put the ball in scoring position on the 3 yard line by snatching Jack Brattle's pass. Big fullback Dick Rupert knifed through right tackle for the lone Lute score. Brattle's try for the extra point sailed wide of the uprights to give CPS a one point lead at the half time.

In the second half the Loggers dangerously threatened the Gladiators' goal line and twice the powerful Lute line held them, once on the 1 yard line and again on the 11 yard line. The Lutes marched to the CPS 9 yard line in the third quarter only to have their comeback efforts foiled by an interception. Trying desperately to get back in the ball game, the Gladiators ran about all the pass plays they knew in the fourth quarter, but again brilliant pass defense in the Loggers' backfield stopped them cold. The climax came when Darrel Swenson, CPS quarterback, snagged Brattle's pass inches from the ground to travel 70 yards for another Logger touchdown. PLC was stalled in the middle of the field when the final gun sounded.

D'Andrea praised
Individual praise goes to burly Don D'Andrea who did a whale of a job backing up the PLC line as defense fullback. His numerous and jolting tackles kept the CPS running attack pretty well under control. Both teams completed their passes to tie in that department. However, the difference showed up in the interception column. PLC stealing only one pass from the Loggers, while the CPS backfield snagged five of PLC's. The win over the Gladiators was the first since 1938 for neighbor CPS.

Glads and Rangers Meet September 7

One of the games on PLC's schedule which is being looked forward to with great anticipation by the Lutes is the second St. Martin's fracas which will be played here in the Tacoma Stadium on Nov. 7.

Still smarting from the 19 to 7 defeat at the hands of the Rangers the Glads would like nothing better than to hand Jimmy Ennis' squad a sound beating.

At the present time the Rangers are in poor shape with their two biggest threats, Frankie Sinclair and Tom Frank, on the sidelines with injuries. Last Saturday against Portland, the Lacey team was helpless without the two stars' services and were drubbed 39 to 6.

Both boys are expected to be ready for the PLC fracas, however, and if they are, the main objective of the Lute defense will be to bottle up Sinclair and Frank.

The November 7 encounter with St. Martin's represents the last time fans will be able to see a PLC home game this season. So don't plan anything for Saturday afternoon, but come on out and pay tribute to the players' appearance on the gridiron.

Wildcats Lose By 7-6 Margin

An underdog P.L.C. football team, fed on nails by the Baron throughout the preceding week, gave vent to their determined feelings against Ellensburg's highly favored Wildcats in the initial Tacoma appearance of the year, and came out of the battle with a hard-earned 7 to 6 victory.

The Central squad, with the exception of one fourth quarter drive, never seriously threatened the Gladiator goal, and the staunch Lute defenses held Ellensburg's touted Carmody, Berndt, and Kuecha at bay all during the game.

The drive which led to P.L.C.'s only touchdown was well executed and started from the Gladiator 35 yard line.

Ster Harshman started by plowing through for five yards. Two more yards by Tommy Hoskins were picked up in the second down. Then Brattle, with quick movements, thundered through for eleven yards resulting in a first down for the Lutherans on their 45. Smashing his way down the field our fullback Dick Rupert chalked up 8 yards to the Central 47. The Lutes were now cliking, and the Wildcats knew it. Hard as the Wildcats defended their lines they were, as it seemed, predestined for a crackup. The scoring play was on. Hoskins took the snap from D'Andrea and lateraled to Brattle. Facing back with extreme caution he flung a long forward pass to Luter who, amidst the surprised Wildcats, ran the remaining yards for a touchdown on the molesting.

Brattle again comes to the fore by place kicking to give the Lutes a 7 to 0 score.

Relaxing, as it seemed, on their victory the Lutes got into a rut that for a while looked disastrous.

Receiving the ball on the kick off, the Ellensburg eleven hammered all the way down to the P.L.C. 18 yard line in four plays. A play with a pass sent by Howard into the hands of Carmody resulted in a touchdown. The incompletable kick by Central left the Ellensburg eleven with just 6 points.

With three minutes left to play the victory-minded Wildcats started on their warpath and advanced to the Lutheran's 21 yard line where they were peremptorily checked till the gun went off ending the game.

Greetings From Harsh

Mr. and Mrs. Marvel Harshman and Elmer "Pete" Peterson, former P.L.C.-ites now located in Pasco, Washington, send greetings to all their friends here via Art Larson and Ster Harshman, who stopped off to see them on the return trip from Spokane last weekend. Art and Ster also took time out to watch Mary play with the Pasco Flyers. After only two weeks of football practice the Pascoettes took into camp a seasoned Walls Walka Bomber squad. Report: Harsh can still kick those field goals as well as he did in the Gonzaga tilt.

LUTHERANS TANGLE WITH VIKINGS IN HOMECOMING GAME SATURDAY

Always a big feature of the Homecoming festivities, the football game to be played on Saturday afternoon this year is between our Lutes and Western Washington College of Education from Bellingham.

Here we have two teams with mediocre seasons so far, and the game is expected to be an evenly fought affair with both teams determined to come back from overwhelming defeats last week.

Bellingham found the Ellensburg Wildcats tough meat and came out holding the goose egg in a 33 to 0 tussel at Ellensburg. The Vikings also lost a 7 to 0 verdict to Cheney at Bellingham earlier in the year when Jack Perrault ran 90 yards for the sole touchdown.

OUTCOME UNPREDICTABLE

So there is really no way to compare the two Saturday opponents. PLC has beaten Ellensburg while The Wildcats have drubbed Bellingham but on the other hand Cheney only beat the Vikings by one touchdown whereas they took the Glads by five.

Dr. Lappenbusch, Bell, coach, has been feeding his charges an extra rationing of pills in anticipation of the coming game and he is pointing toward a suitable revenge for the four straight defeats his charges have suffered at the hands of the Lutes. The Viking attack features a tricky offense with a freshman, Lowell Doud of Buckley, standing out in the backfield.

GLADS WORKING HARD

On the home front the thrice beaten Glads are working with new vigor looking toward their return to the win column. Coach Barofsky has been experimenting all week, juggling his lineup in an attempt to find a winning combination. He has even used his human battering ram linemen, Gold-ang Johnson and Bubbles D'Andrea in the fullback slot for obvious reason of power.

Tommy Hoskins cast a hopeful outlook over the home camp with his return to the active list, but the condition of Glen Holby, freshman guard, was in doubt. Both Holby and Hoskins were left at home when PLC journeyed to Spokane last weekend.

There were no injuries derived from the Cheney game and the squad with the exception of Holby and Connell, who has a bad ankle, will be in good shape for the Homecoming tilt.

Captain of the Vikings is Larry Munizka, former Puyallup player, who hides down one of the end spots. Don Neal is the Bellingham version and those some of our Bubbles. Neal weighs in at 280 pounds and overflows one of the tackle slots. Fellows by the names of Monroe, Wright and Dahl will also make themselves known to the Lutheran fans.

GLADS BOW TO SAVAGES

The Eastern Washington Savages proved to be as wild as their name when they war-danced across the PLC goal line five times to gain their first victory in four years over a lighter Gladiator squad, Saturday, October 24, at Spokane, Washington. Not once were the Lutes able to score the Easterners goal in a free admission game sponsored by the Spokane Athletic Round Table which bought out the Gonzaga stadium for the game.

3500 fans walked in without paying to watch the outweighed, invading Gladiators attempt 30 passes in an effort to even out the score. The hard-charging Savage line blocked two Lute punts to set up two of the Eastern's touchdowns. Two pass plays accounted for two more scores, and a 60 yard touchdown run by right tackle, Larry Borck, who intercepted a PLC pass in the fourth quarter ended the scoring spree for the Savages. Five different players shared in the Eastern's scoring, the outstanding play being a pass from left half Bud Threat to right half Dick Sarfain who scampered 62 yards for a touchdown.

The Lutes made 4 first downs to the Savages 10. Big Don D'Andrea, who put an estimated four Central Washington players out of action, packed the ball through the Savage line for one of the first downs. Art Larson, playing his first game of the season, substituted for diminutive Tommy Hoskins who was left in Parkland to recuperate from an indisposition. Larson sparked on a couple of fade-out pass plays.

The Gladiators were backed by an enthusiastic bunch of fans from Spokane and a high school pep band.

Lute Lassies

By RUTH WILLIAMSON

Gym is sure a lot of fun. We run and jump and jump and run. Confidentially, we're practicing for Sadie Hawkins' Day. We really cover lots of space: Only a few of us land on our face! (Witness the band-aids on various noses.) But we really love our volley ball; We're going to play a lot this fall.

With volleyball practice the center of activity now, the four teams were chosen at a recent turnout.

VOLLEY VIKINGS: Avis Hovland, captain; Betty Bates, Lillian Thorleifson, Ruth Williamson, Annabelle Birkestol, Mildred Hanson, Norma Linder, Agnes Mykland, and Ardis Severson.

SIS'S SISSIES: Cecelia Gardin, captain; Patricia Iverson, Ann Nelson, Helen Youngren, Fern Erickson, Betty Hatlen, Isabel Harstad, Gladys Polillo, and Dorothy Peterson.

VITAMIN B ONE: Lois Ludwig, captain; Helen Thoren, Lorene Garges, Doris Jurgerson, June Belew, Marybess Daddow, Mildred Hoff, Alice Kaland, Doris Herren, and Shirley Severson.

LEE'S LEAPERS: Rhoda Lee, captain; Margaret Hill, Carrie Person, Alice Pflaum, Joan Beard, Erna Thomli, Hjordis Rogren, Dorothy Neiman, Caroline Hawley, Charlene Martens, and Merle Stevens.

The gentlemen of the student body are said to have wondered if the draft board had stolen a march on them when such commands as right dress, about face! and halt! came floating across the campus recently. Calm down, fellows it isn't the army moving in, but just the girls being introduced to marching and drilling in their gym classes. Our formations may look a little ragged now, but just give us a few more lessons and we'll be teaching the WAAC's and WAVES.

Scientists Enjoy Lutherland Outing

Lutherland on beautiful Lake Killarney was the scene of a noisy and active weekend October 17 and 18 when Ster Harshman led his Linne members out on the annual house party trek. The poor scientific specimens of that locale have been resting up every since.

Upon arrival the biologists grouped together for the usual gormandizing of food. Following a life-long habit of "Eating everything set before them," they soon dispensed with the vitamin and calory side of the evening.

They next turned their attention to an initiation of the new members. Eating with walnuts in their mouths and fly paper on their feet, the initiates were soon settled down to a gluesome evening. Group singing and a Weiner and marshmallow roast around the campfire concluded the first night's frolic.

Sunday morning a devotional service was conducted by members of the society. The rest of the day was spent in outdoor sports—hiking, eating, boating, eating, playing football and baseball, and eating. The group returned Sunday evening tired, weary and (as usual) hungry.

New members inducted into the Linne ranks are Noreen Stendal, Carrie Person, Gladys Andersen, Nancy Lund, Avis Hovland, Ann Nelson, Corinne Fosso. (aren't we polite putting ladies first?) Gerhardt Ness, Wenzel Tiedeman, Roy Schmandt, Leslie Whitehead, Richard Langton, Thomas Hoskins, and Gustaf Anderson.

General chairman for the affair was Florence Hopp. She was assisted by a general arrangement committee composed of Lois Ludwig, Waldo Elfrson, Jim Petersen, and Mark Stuen.

CLUB NOTES

MISSION

Donald Erickson was elected president of the Mission Society for the current semester. Assisting him on the executive committee are Charlotte Swanson, vice president, and Betty Hatlen, secretary-treasurer.

This group plans to continue its work with the Pocket Testament League, and Jimmy Petersen has been chosen chairman of the committee to carry on this project.

At the last meeting, October 21, Prof. Pflueger, adviser of the society, explained its ideals and purposes. Marybess Daddow favored them with a piano solo.

NOON DEVOTIONS

Members of the Noon Devotional group elected Nora Kjesbu to lead them for this semester. Aiding her are Margaret Davidson, vice president, and Albert Kuhn, secretary-treasurer. Harry Solos and Georgiana Atkinson are representatives to the L.S.A. council.

Prof. Arlton has been chosen adviser for this group, which meets every Wednesday noon in the chapel at 12:30.

GLIDER CLUB

The Glider club reports that they have picked Eldon Kylo as president. Rolling along with him on the executive council are Georgiana Atkinson, vice president; Ruthmarie Rodenburger Tennant, secretary; and Paul Pflueger, treasurer.

The club plans to sponsor an all-school skate in the near future. L.D.R.

The Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation met Wednesday, October 21, to elect officers for the year. President Isabel Harstad, who was chosen last spring, presided over the meeting. Officers elected were Patricia Iverson, vice president; Ruth Knutzen, secretary; and Alice Kaaland, treasurer. Eunice Torvend and Nancy Lund represented the group at the Circuit L.D.R. convention last Sunday in Tacoma.

Avis Hovland gave a short talk on the purposes and meaning of the L.D.R.; Lois Ludwig gave an L.S.A. report and Rhoda Lee presented a topic concerning the Reformation.

Honorees for the gathering were Mrs. Carl Fynboe, newly-elected adviser, Mrs. Ruth Franck, Mrs. J. P. Pflueger, and Miss Mary Botton.

FIRESIDE

The Fireside Members met at the Senior Girls' Dormitory last Sunday evening. Donald Gilbertson, "Book store" Gilbertson (of last year) was guest speaker. Clifford Johnson favored the group with a vocal solo, accompanied by Patricia Iverson at the piano.

Rudolph Johnson was elected fire tender at a short business session, after which a marshmallow roast around the fireplace ended the meeting.

CAMERA CLUB

Marvin Shaw has been chosen president of the Camera Club for this year. He is aided by Vice President Mary Petersen, and Secretary Florence Reiman. A committee is now at work preparing a constitution for the club. Near future plans include a field trip and guest speakers.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Seven members of the Theta Pi Cast of the Alpha Psi Omega attended the Little Theater's presentation of the play, ARSENIC AND OLD LACE, Thursday evening, October 22. After the performance they adjourned to Hartman Hoff's home for a short party.

Anderson Heads Chorus

George Anderson was elected president of the P.L.C. Chorus at its second rehearsal, Tuesday evening, October 20. His supporting officers are Virginia Seaburg, vice president, and Charlotte Swanson, secretary-treasurer.

Director Schnackenberg point out that there are three facts to keep in mind about the organization. It is a training ground for the first choir; the members get fun and enjoyment out of singing; and if rehearsals prove successful the group will make public appearances. Programs planned for the coming year include a concert for the student body, singing of Christmas carols, and possible outside performances.

LIBRARY GIVEN GIFT

Mr. Julius Petersen, more affectionately known in our P.L.C. family as "Speedy Pete," has made another valuable improvement in our library building. He has recently purchased and installed blinds for all the windows of Room L 104. This gift is appreciated by the school, and will be even more enjoyed when movies are presented there.

PEERCE PRESENTED ON LYCEUM SERIES

Jan Peerce, America's foremost tenor, appeared in concert at the Temple Theater on Monday evening, October 26, under the auspices of the Civic Music Association. This concert was the first of the four concerts on Pacific Lutheran College's Lyceum series.

Mr. Peerce is the new sensation of the Metropolitan Opera and was received enthusiastically by his Tacoma audience—evidenced by the generous applause, numerous curtain calls, and audible appreciation of each of his presentations. Alexander Fried of the San Francisco Examiner has said of this artist, "Hats off, ladies and gentlemen, to a great new tenor—without a doubt the best on the American opera state!" Mr. Peerce in his Tacoma Concert definitely lived up to this comment.

Remaining on the calendar of musical events are three great artists. Bidu Sayao, noted Brazilian soprano, is being presented on November 9; the French pianist, Casadesu, is scheduled for March 3; Isaac Sterne, a rising young American violinist, will appear on March 26.

Many Events Planned For Homecoming Grads

Al Nichols may be expected to bring his trumpet along, and Rudy Johnson will bring over his singing voice unless he completely loses it at the football game.

Secret: Kuhn has lined up a corn specialty for a surprise that will keep you laughing until the kernels shake out of your ears. And some more of Larry Sawdew's impersonations are foreseen to be the laugh-provokingest scenes ever seen.

The schottische and polka will help in livening up the eventful evening. Games consistent with the traditional Halloween spirit will be part of the entertainment, guaranteeing a spooky time for all. Let's all come out to see what the sophomores can do.

Graduates are invited to attend divine services in Trinity Lutheran church across the way Sunday morning at eleven.

CHOIR CONCERT SUNDAY

The final episode in the saga of Homecoming events is the first outside performance of the 1942 Choir of the West in Central Lutheran church at three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The group will present the "Reformation Cantata" by F. Melius Christiansen. With this line-up of outstanding events calendered for this weekend, we welcome all our friends back among us for Homecoming and hope they have a grand time of it.

China Is Topic Of Chapel Talk

"The Japanese conquered Canton four years ago, but they still need a guard and bayonet on every street corner to keep down revolt among the 'conquered' Chinese there," said Mr. Paul A. Snyder in a talk given in chapel Wednesday, October 21.

Mr. Snyder, who spent seventeen years in China—he began as a teacher in a Chinese academy for boys, and was for the last five years the administrator of a hospital in Canton—told how Canton, once a city of a million people, was deserted by all but a few thousands when the Japs took over. Even today, Chinese guerrilla attacks are frequent, and as many as 30 riots may break out simultaneously in the different parts of the city.

The missionaries are taking the hardships right along with the Chinese people, and this attitude is greatly appreciated by the Chinese, according to Mr. Snyder. The Chinese he said, are staunch, brave and true.

Mr. Snyder lived under Japanese rule four years—five months as a prisoner—and finally came to the United States on the steamer Gripson, through a transfer of prisoners and nationals between the two nations.

Radio Broadcast To Be November 10

Lute talent will hit the air waves on Tuesday, November 10, when PLC will present its first program of the year on the Tacoma City Light's "Campus Workshop."

Broadcasting over KMO, the program will be co-announced by Craig Johnson and Mary Shaw. Burt Thorpe and Jeanette Burzlaff will arrange the program, and Mildred Reese "will write the script."

Norm Holm and Charles Nee, the other two PLC announcers, will be on the second PLC edition of the workshop.
