

FULL QUOTA RAISED FOR PACIFIC LUTHERAN COLLEGE IN CAMPAIGN

SUCCESSFUL DRIVE COMPLETED

Dr. Pannkoke Leaves for East; Greatest Work Attempted by Lutherans

"There is a silver lining to every cloud."
That is an old, old saying but it is a very true one, nevertheless. The black clouds have drifted away and the silver lining, tinted with the rose of hope has begun to peep through. Day is dawning for P. L. C. It will be a glorious day where pink clouds of hope shall never be dispelled by the black ones of despair.

Due to the unflinching efforts of many friends and churchmen this day has been made possible for P. L. C. An endowment fund has been created that is sufficient to assure financial freedom for a long while to come. This drive had a goal, a minimum of $250,000, but by the end of July, so satisfactory was the work, a total of $290,000 had been pledged by the staunch supporters of the school.

Come From East
The campaign was under the leadership of Dr. Pannkoke who came here from the East to plan the work and see that it was carried out. Many eminent churchmen, coming from all parts of the United States, aided Dr. Pannkoke in this work and it is due to their strenuous and continued efforts that the Drive has been so successful.

ARTISTS COURSE TO BEGIN SOON

Six Programs of Real Merit to Be Given; Famous Artists Billed to Appear

Starting October 20, the Artist Course, under the direction of Bernice E. Newell, will be presented at the new Masonic Heilig Theatre during the winter months. The course consists of six superb programs featuring world famous musicians.

Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan Opera Company baritone will give the first concert. Following him will be Sigrid Onegin, the celebrated contralto. It will be Miss Onegin's second appearance in Tacoma.

The English Singers of London are touring America for the first time and have met with outstanding success in singing old English madrigals, ballets, folk songs and canzonets. The Pro-Arte String Quartette, a Belgian ensemble that has been very successful because of its youth, enthusiasm and mastery is also touring the continent for the first time. Ignaz Friedman, Polish pianist, and Geogea Enesco, violinist are both recognized as the highest in mastery of their respective musical mediums.

Such a gathering of famous musicians is certainly a boon to the students and it is enough to find it worth while, especially student rates will be available.

NORMAL "GRADS" RECEIVE SCHOOLS

Miss Esther Sydow Teaching in Madison, Wisconsin; Miss Fowler in Montana

The Normal Department announces that all Normal graduates of 1927, have obtained teaching positions. Most of them are placed in schools in the home state. A few, however, were placed in other states, namely Montana, Idaho and Wisconsin.

Miss Arleida Allen is teaching the intermediate grades in the Conway school.

Miss Gertrude Biehl is principal of the Bensten school and teaches the upper grades.

Miss Alice Davie has left her home state to take up teaching duties at Chilly, Idaho.

Miss Dorothy Fowler is P. L. C.'s representative in the schools of Montana. She is teaching at Malta.

Miss Mary Holmes, winner of the scholastic honors of '27, is teaching near Olympia.

Miss Christine Knutzen is teaching near her home at Burlington.

Mr. Clarence Luda is principal of the Clover Creek school.

Miss Ruth Matson is teaching the 5th and 6th grades at the Quilcene, Wash. school.

Miss Nina Okanes is at the Mountain View school, north of Puyallup.

Miss Lueta Svint is teaching the lower grades in the Loveland school.

Miss Esther Sydow who was chosen winner of the 1925 Trophy Honor Cup is the farthest from home. She is teaching in Madison, Wisconsin.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT TO GET NEW APPARATUS

A valuable addition to the business department at P. L. C. is a new Burroughs Simplified Bookkeeping and Accounting Machine, which has been ordered and will be here in about two weeks. The regular bookkeeping and accounting courses will be given with the use of this machine; the students will work in pairs and make out a full set of books on the machine from the vouchers and papers furnished. This method is a great time saver and is being generally adopted more and more in the office.

Students are now taking work on the new calculator, and also on the multigraph. The three devices mentioned have made the business department modern and complete, and by learning the use of them, the students receive the training they will need to work in large offices.

NEW INSTRUCTOR BEGINS WORK HERE

Taking the place of Miss Rivesness, who was forced to resign because of illness, Mrs. Bertrand Taylor of Seattle has come to Pacific Lutheran College to take over the High School English work. Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of the University of Washington. She is a sister of Miss Stixrud who teaches in the Normal department here at the college.

While at the University Mrs. Taylor majored in English and French and also received a minor degree in Dramatic Art. Together with her degree, she holds a life educational teaching certificate. Mrs. Taylor followed up her regular work at the University with a post graduate course at the same institution. Besides her duties as a teacher, she will have charge of the Editorial division of the Mooring Mast.

Short Course Term Begins October 31

The Short Course for the year 1927-28 will begin on October 31. This course, covering five months, is given for the benefit of the young men and women who have not had an opportunity to study the English language. It is a preparatory course for entering high school and special emphasis is laid on spelling, reading, and pronunciation.

According to present plans, a special teacher will be engaged to take care of the short course work.

Mrs. Christenson Brings Good Word

In her message to the student body, Friday, Mrs. M. A. Christenson from Astoria, Oregon, brought the news that Mr. Knute B. Norwing of Fullerton, California, had consented to furnish the girls' reception room. This he is doing in memory of his deceased wife who was a very good friend and staunch supporter of P. L. C. This gift cannot be too highly appreciated when one considers how much a cheerful, pleasant reception room will add to the comfort and enjoyment of the girls.

"GLADIATORS" VICTORIOUS IN HARD CONTEST WITH SAINT LEO'S "LIONS"

MAKE PLANS FOR SCHOOL CHORUS

Prof. Edwards Announces Selections for P. L. C. Choir; to Make Spring Tour

The chorus which has recently been organized by Prof. Edwards is now complete. With forty-three members included in the group, rehearsals are being held each evening after school with both ensemble and part practices. A committee was chosen by the chorus to inquire about appropriate costume for members to wear when they go on concert tours. Some form of surplice gowns will probably be chosen.

A fine program is being arranged in view of a spring tour which will be made along the Pacific Coast, ranging from Bellingham to cities in Oregon. A definite outline of this tour will be announced later.

The chorus has a good start this year as rapid progress is already being made. With hard work and practice its success will be assured.

The members of the chorus are as follows:

- First Soprano: Esther Towe, Stella Samuelson, Verle Laha, Anna Thompson, Gladys Knutzen, Elna Trulsson, Helen West, Dorothy Zimmerman.
- Second Soprano: Jerdis Nordang, Gladys Jorgenson, Irene Dahl, Sylvia Larson, Eliot Michelson, Louise Henriksen.

- Second Bass: Olaf Ordal, Arling Sannerud, William Fowler, Sverre Omdal.

SUBSCRIPTIONS COMING IN; CAPTAINS HOPEFUL

As days draw near the 14th of October, when the subscription contest of the Mooring Mast closes, keener competition and enthusiasm are shown by the two opposing teams headed by Sverre Omdal and Arling Sannerud. So far Sverre and his workers have secured the largest number of subscriptions. Friday's reports show 40 subscriptions to the credit of Sverre's team and 25 to Arling's.

Arling is not downhearted yet. He claims, "I am very hopeful—we are going to win, there is no doubt about it," while Sverre just shakes his head and grins. The contest, however, is going to be close and the side winning will deserve the party given by the losers.

CLEAN PLAY IS A FEATURE

Encouragement From Spectators Adds Zest to Plays.

Playing a hard, fast game, the "Gladiators" defeated the St. Leo's "Lions" by a score of 14-0 in last Friday's game. The "Lions" came with victory in their eyes and minds. Perhaps it was over-confidence that caused their defeat for they had met and defeated Seattle College and Chehalis High.

The Lions fought furiously for the supremacy but were outclassed by the "Gladiators."

During the first half the issue was in doubt until encouraged by the acquisition of 2 points by a touch-back or safety, the P. L. C. eleven with one concerted rush went through the opposing line for a touchdown, Hoban carrying the ball. No other points were made during the first half, which left the score at 8-0.

The second half, St. Leo's received the ball and made a desperate effort to gain points by a wonderful offensive game. They drove the "Gladiators" back, again and again. But to no avail for they were met by spectacular plays and wonderful rushes which resulted in another touchdown. This made the score 14-0 in favor of P. L. C.

The lineup was:

St. Leo's	P. L. C.
Champagne	LE Christensen
Haines	LT Omdal
Gaudette	LG Schiel
Reecon	C Knutzen
Bing	RE Kreidler
Spattafar	RT A. Sannerud
Keere	RG T. Fodt
Lanza	FB Hoban
Belano	RH Anderson
Brady	LL Thompson
Kfesto	QB Carlson

Substitutes: St. Leo's: Lanahan for Brady; Brown for Gaudette, Quinn for Bing, Greco for Spattafar, Flynn for Lanza. P. L. C.: Hayden for Thompson, Fowler for Anderson, H. Sannerud for A. Sannerud, A. Sannerud for Schiel.

VARIOUS CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS

Mr. Hauge Is Chosen by Second Year Students; Mr. Stuen by First

Mix together the following: One quart of school spirit called down with class loyalty, one teaspoon of cooperation, blended with a pinch of individuality, and two pounds of pep. Stir these ingredients well together and take at the beginning of the school year. One dose is sufficient if not diluted. This is the recipe to be followed by the various classes this school term. At the beginning of the semester the classes met with much pep and vim and the following officers were elected.

"SAIL ON AND ON—"

Yesterday, October 12, was Columbus Day. Most of us probably gave the day little thought. If someone mentioned it was Columbus Day, we probably said, "Oh yes," and wondered if we knew what it was all about, arriving at some vague conclusion.

To be precise, Columbus Day commemorates the day when that great discoverer sighted land after the long sea journey from Spain. We take the study of Columbus as a matter of course, but much else besides facts can be learned from a study of his life. The life of Columbus, as a whole, seems to have been a continual struggle, and all his ideas met with the bitterest of opposition. While he lived, people did not realize what he had done, and he died, after persecution and ridicule from all sides, in poverty, disappointed and broken in spirit. The continent which he discovered was not even named for him. It is taking the world a long time to appreciate Christopher Columbus. —I. D.

ARE YOU A BOOSTER?

We have just begun what we want to be the most successful, the most worth while year in the history of the Mooring Mast. A paper, such as a College newspaper, may be compared to any great undertaking. Its success or failure depends not upon the individuals in charge, but mainly upon the support of the students as a whole. The Mooring Mast depends likewise upon the Student Body of P. L. C.

You may reason thusly: "I'm not on the staff; what can I do?" It is not the Editor, the journalist or the advertising solicitor who makes the paper. It is each individual member of the Student Body, joined to one staff, that will make the paper a success.

A paper cannot be made worth while unless it has the support of the entire school. A student body organization is of no practical value unless it hoists its own projects.

It is up to you to patronize your advertisers. Financially, the paper depends almost exclusively upon its advertisers. We cannot expect the business men of Tacoma and surrounding districts to advertise with us unless we cooperate with them. We must trade with our advertisers only!

The question is: "Are YOU a booster?" —G. J.

ACHIEVEMENT!

A little bit of trouble. Here and there sorrow-laden footsteps. Toil. Hard, terrible, irksome toil. Life with its cares, life with its strict, iron-clad rules. The "straight and narrow." Everything, in fact, that goes to make up the tortuous, winding, rugged trail that leads to ultimate success of achievement.

We ask ourselves: "Is it worth while?" So many times we are downhearted, disappointed, neglected by all. We become sad. We contract the "blues." Then we begin to feel sorry for ourselves.

What is the outcome? We simply force ourselves to place our faith in the old adage: "The sky is always darkest just before dawn." Not until this little saying is written on our hearts and in our minds may we achieve.

Then and then only may we know success and the satisfaction of achievement! N. S. L.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Of all the dead things in this world, there is nothing so dead as a dead school. Why? Because a school is made up of youth and youth alone, and when youth fails to create and sustain life—pep—their very institution of learning becomes a hopeless proposition.

The greatest minds in the country, the most extensive courses of instruction, and intelligent body of students—of what use are they if that "pep"—enthusiasm, is lacking? They are like the church with a spider web over its contribution box. Dead.

To attend a football game where only a few stragglers are half-heartedly watching the plays and who arouse themselves from their apathy once in a great while to give a yell, is indeed as bad as shaking hands with an Egyptian mummy. The mechanical form is there. It is true, but because the pulse of life is gone the thing is dead.

Why is it true that a strong burrah from the sideline during a critical moment in a game will spur a player on to deeds of valor undreamed of before? We know it is not the noise itself, but the spirit of determination, of loyalty, of school "pep" that the noise brings with it.

We have the spirit. We have the pep. Let us sustain and foster these that we may not become that dearest of all things, a dead school. E. T.

CHAPEL TALKS

By Dr. Hoff and Rev. Ordal

"Follow me and I will make ye Fishers of men." Jesus Christ is calling daily for Followers. How many will join the ranks of true Christian soldiers? Point out, for instance, the men and women that are admired by all, whose characters are known to be out-standing, those individuals, nine chances out of ten, have heard the call: "Follow me."

Peace cannot be found by going away from this world of sin and turmoil. There was no rest for Martin Luther even after he entered the Monastery. Those things which all are seeking, peace, rest, joy, are found only with Jesus as guide—only by following him.

Some of us have the idea that a Christian life is comparatively easy to live but this is not always the case. There are trials and temptations to be met by Christians every day.

These however, are easy to overcome with the aid of Christ to whom all cares and temptations may be taken.

the Kicking Post and our suspicions are aroused. A gray squirrel crosses the path, and to one side a flock of grouse taken departure with a whirr of wings. Life! Life! Is what we fear, to the music of the creek. All at once, it seems, we find ourselves at the goal of our wanderings—"The Fountain of Youth." Its crystal waters bubble forth like millions of mercury globes, whirl around in the spring bed, and roll down the hillside through the water creas, to join the creek in its journey seaward.

Now, we decide, is the time to test the supposedly rejuvenating powers of the liquid. It is no ordinary thirst quencher, we are told but has the power to bring us back to happier and younger days, in spirit at least, if not in form. (happily.) As we are about to lower our faces to the water we suddenly hear a musical titter titter, unmistakably that of a school girl, and eyes are drawn in the direction from whence it came. Far down the lane, on the bridge, we see two forms. Their actions indicate that the waters of the Fountain of Youth have certainly taken effect on them.

Fountain of Youth Has Great Powers(?)

Tradition and more, of it Today well amble down to the Kicking Post, of course, but stop there! I guess not! We've heard rumors of something farther on, the country that lies beyond, as it were, and find it out we shall. So after gently bringing our toes in contact with the long suffering post and imploring good luck in our search from the supposed Geni therein, we cross the stile, and proceed down the hillside, carefully picking our way through the blackberry bramble, Scotch broom and dwarf firs.

At the foot of the hill, a sight greets our eyes which adds all the more zest to our explorative mood. Clover Creek seems to have cast aside all conventions, and in her footloose way, literally gushes in many little streams through the bottom land where fruit trees, ancient fences and more brambles vainly try to block her course. Suddenly, as if pulled by some power, we turn, walk through a living arch of trees, and find ourselves in Lovers' Lane! Truly it is in keeping with its name, if love is anything like we're told it is. But having never experienced the sweet raptures (or tingles of the spine), called love, we can only guess, and content ourselves with what we heard a young but no longer innocent freshman lad say the other day, "Love's a lot o' trouble. I'm offta' women for life!"

Suspicious Aroused Spurred on by these musings we pursue the path. We notice strange carvings on some of the trees. Some of them look like the pictures on

One of the big features will be the sale of pie and candy to those who feel in need of physical support.

TEACHERS ATTEND P. T. A. MEETING

Upon invitation of the Quilcene Parent Teachers' Association, Dr. Hoff and Mr. Edwards, accompanied by Mrs. Edwards, journeyed to that city on Friday evening, October 7 in order to take part in the opening meeting of the year.

Dr. Hoff gave the main address of the evening, using as his subject the following: "The Children of Today in the Commonwealth of Tomorrow."

Mr. Edwards offered the following piano numbers: "Staccato Etude in C" Rubinstein "Scherzo" Mendelssohn "Juba Dance" Deitt

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards and Dr. Hoff were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Miller at their home and after the meeting the trio of travelers spent a restful night at "Jinger Linger Lodge" on Hood Canal a short distance out of Quilcene. The lodge is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Sutterly.

Miss Ruth Matson, former student and Editor-in-chief of the Mooring Mast is now teaching at Quilcene and according to reports is getting along very nicely in her work.

GLADIATORS TIE GAME; SCORE 0-0

P. L. C. Boys Show Ability to Play Football; Hold Centralia to a Scoreless Tie

"Aah, booyah! Aah, booyah! Pacific College! Boostah!"

Hours of merriment and yells of encouragement similar to this were very prominent at the opening of the 1927 football season on Friday, Sept. 20, when the P. L. C. Gladiators met and held the Centralia men to a 0-0 score. The game was played on the P. L. C. field and both teams were ready and eager for the fray.

The moment the whistle blew for the kick-off, the teams were at each other's throats like tigers. All through the game clean sport was emphasized and there were no complaints on that score. The teams were well matched as far as weight and ability were concerned.

The game started with the kick-off by Centralia and for the first quarter the struggle fluctuated up and down the field, neither team gaining any perceptible advantage. Yells of encouragement from both sides of the field did not seem to have any effect on the teams and the quarter ended with no gain by either side.

The second quarter was a repetition of the first but a more determined runner on the part of the players was very noticeable. Several attempts were made by The Gladiators to put the ball over the line but they all failed. Apparently P. L. C. was playing the winning game for the ball was in the enemies' field most of the time.

The kick-off by P. L. C. for the second half seemed to be the signal for a sudden spurt of energy on the part of the players. Brilliant defense and offense characterized this half but the teams were so evenly matched that at the end of the game the score still was 0-0.

Considering the time the team had to get into condition and the few practices that have been held, the work was exceptionally well done. If it continues to be as good, there is no logical reason why the boys should not capture all other games of the season.

The brilliant playing by individuals and excellent team work shown in the game proves that Coach Ramstad has judged well his men and their abilities.

Enthusiasm was roused by the two yell leaders, Lane and Langlow and their "kid." Perhaps it was not the costumes so much as the leaders themselves that caused all the merriment.

Star Basketball Player Comes Back

For a whole week the students at P. L. C. had been enthusiastically awaiting the return of Polly Langlow, star basketball forward, who graduated from the college department last year. Polly arrived on Sunday, October 8th from her home in Santa Barbara, California, to resume studies in the Normal department from which she will graduate this year.

Miss Langlow graduated from both high school and college at P. L. C. and has, during her time at the institution, shown remarkable ability in athletics. In the season of 1926-27 she scored 70 points above the national record held by Miss Stought at the time. Polly will be a valuable asset to the girls' basketball team again this year.

"Well, gang, what do you think of our football team? Rip-sporting school fighters, we'd say—more power to them all! And as for our yell leaders, pep—pepper is right! Suppose you noticed the glad rags (suppressed snickers) they displayed last game? Gerry sez the reason he carried the alarm clock is that he has a Coolidge watch—it does not chime to run. It's a good thing our football players aren't inclined to Coolidgeism. Marie E. asked Harry S. if he got hurt in the game. He replied, "No. on the lek."

We read about a long-legged sheep in the Himalayas that was able to run forty miles an hour. At which some one remarked, "That's the kind of a little lamb to follow Mary nowadays."

Yep, the World Series Games are on and over. Which reminds us of a sign we saw in the office of one of our advertisers. It read, "Any employee wishing to have the afternoon off to attend his sister's wedding or grandmother's funeral must give notice to that effect before ten o'clock on the day of the game."

Some of our teachers probably feel the same way at times, especially when a pupil pulls this old one, "I lost my book." A very original excuse when late is to say the bell rang before you got there. If the teacher is understanding and romantic, he will know you were unavoidably detained at the Kicking Post, and will not mark you tardy. Short Story.

(With apologies to the writer) A young college boy (no other adjectives are used in describing him, since "college" just about fits everything)—well, a young college boy, having been in school about a month, suddenly, to his great dismay found himself without a penny. He sent the following, telegraph. C. O. D.: Dear Dad: No mon; no fun; your son. To which his father replied: Dear son: So sad; too bad; Your Dad.

Why Artists Leave Home The great artist paused, brush and palette poised in the air. "A master-piece!" he exclaimed. "But I don't like it one bit," said the beautiful co-ed. "I'd be ashamed to have any of my friends see it. You'll just have to do it

This was the last straw. The artist became enraged. He threw his paints on the floor and shouted: "Leave my studio, young lady! I'll never paint another slicker for you as long as I live!"

One of these silly thinkers, a gatherer of statistics, says that it takes ten years for a young man to get over the effects of college life. But we've seen them wear hats and garters sooner than that.

We overheard someone remark that if people would stop talking about what they don't understand, the silence would become unbearable. Well, just to show 'em we can take a hint, we'll out, but MAKE IT SNAPPY WITH THOSE SUBSCRIPTIONS!

Basket Ball Manager Chosen At a meeting of the girls on Friday October 7, Olga Benson was elected basket ball manager for the team this year. Olga is a forward of real ability and her interest in athletics assures the girls that their choice was well-made. The choice of the boys for an athletic manager is Elmer Hauke. Hauke is from Astoria, Oregon. He is very much interested in sports.

Dr. Johnson Finds Healthy Specimens

Dr. Johnson of Tacoma spent two mornings at P. L. C. examining the girls in order to determine who would be allowed to take Physical Education. Out of about sixty girls, only five were examined. A few were found to be underweight or in need of the removal of tonsils. On the whole, the girls were healthy specimens, according to Dr. Johnson, but he advised a keg of Cod-liver oil for anyone whose weight was below par. No reducing, girls! Drink Cod-liver oil instead.

DAILY DIARY

Sept. 28. First meeting of the Dramatic Society.
Sept. 28. No wonder it has been rather windy around this section of the globe—Alfred Lund has returned to school.

Subnormal, Normal and Abnormal college Sophomores held their first class meeting.

Sept. 29. Perhaps it was the reaction of Dr. Lot-a-Pep's famous pills that caused Parkland to wake up Thursday night after the lights were out.

Sept. 30. Football game with Centralia. P. L. C. boys fought and made Centralia fight too. Initiation of new "Dorm" girls. It would have been a catastrophe if the "cats" had been corrupted with the oil and fly paper.

Oct. 1. Who says we can't have an Orchestra? Apparently we already have one.

Oct. 3. Although it was a Blue Monday it was also "Wet". Arling and Inzval—the Dorm boys certainly appreciate sweety.

Oct. 4. It's nice to be awakened at 6:15 A. M. but it's nicer to keep on snoring.

Campus Locals

The 27 graduates who were seen at the college on Sunday, Oct. 4, included Lueta Svith, Henry Kiel, Alvar Beck and Arnt Oyen.

Sunday also brought several other visitors. Miss Elma Trulson received in her guests, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Trulson and her brothers, Harold and Junior.

Mr. Anderson and his son, Alfred "Cap," were seen on the campus and Mrs. Michelson of Portland spent a couple of days with her daughter, Eliot.

Visitors during the week, Sept. 28, to Oct. 2, included: Mrs. Jack Strickland who unexpectedly surprised her friend Anna Thompson; and Mr. and Mrs. George Knutzen and family who visited their son, Elmer.

Students were pleasantly surprised by the visit of Ida Seberg and Margaret Dahl. Ida attended P. L. C. in '26-27 and Margaret was a well liked worker at the college for several years.

Rev. Bogstad was seen at the college during the week.

Miss Stixrud and Mrs. A. B. Taylor spent the week end in Seattle.

Arthur Brudvik enjoyed a visit at his home in Seattle over Saturday and Sunday.

Ingvall Felt also took leave, and with Sveve Orndal went to Seattle and then to his home in Silverdale. Elmer Hauke accompanied the boys as far as Seattle.

Miss Signe Hjermstad, Miss Martha Hjermstad, Miss Emily Maxwell and Mr. Alvar Beck visited with P. L. C. friends on Sunday Oct. 5.

Several students spent the week end at home or with relatives. Those who were gone were Evelyn

REV. HENRIKSEN LEAVES FOR SEATTLE TO TAKE OVER PHINNEY RIDGE CHURCH

Rev. George Henriksen has resigned his position here to return to his ministerial duties as pastor of Phinney Ridge Congregation in Seattle. He has, for more than a year, served faithfully as field secretary and general manager of the Pacific Lutheran College Endowment Campaign.

Rev. Henriksen came to Pacific in August 1926, from Silverton, Oregon where he had been pastor of Trinity Church for a period of nine years. As field secretary he immediately set to work to put Pacific on a broader and better financial basis and in the spring of 1927 was an important stimulus in launching the big endowment drive that made it possible for our college to exist. Conscientiously, enthusiastically, Rev. Henriksen together with President Ordal paved Sveve, Anna Thompson, Gladys Iverson, Eleanor Lofthus, Agnes Olsen and Carl Anderson.

Ed Iverson returned on Sunday night for another year at P. L. C. Arnold Thostenson is also a late arrival.

Mrs. M. A. Christenson visited with her son Walter during part of the week. While here she addressed the students at one of the chapel hours.

Miss Arleda Allen and her sister Betty were at the football game on Friday afternoon. Arleda graduated from Normal last year and is now teaching at Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Tewell and family, who are en route from Vancouver, B. C. to Los Angeles, visited with the way for the campaign, traveling to congregations all over the Pacific coast. From north to south he thought "Pacific," talked "Pacific," and above all he carried to the Lutheran people the message of their responsibility to Christian education, consequently their responsibility to Pacific Lutheran College. During the campaign itself, Rev. Henriksen accomplished that which only one of his spirit and determination can do—a big purpose.

Pacific will not realize perhaps until later years what it owes to the efforts of Rev. Henriksen and the other men of our church who saved the day for Pacific Lutheran College.

Rev. Henriksen will be installed as pastor of the Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church of Seattle in October.

Miss Stixrud and Mrs. Taylor at the college last Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Tewell is the sister of Miss Stixrud and Mrs. Taylor.

Lelah Grass had as her guest, over the week end, Miss Ida Tomstock.

Oct. 3. Prof. S. M. Wedeberg, of Yale University sends in his subscription to the Mooring Mast with greetings to faculty and students.

Marriage of Former Students Takes Place

With relatives and a host of friends in attendance, the marriage of Miss Mabel Iverson and Mr. Berger Nelson was solemnized Monday evening, Sept. 5. The ceremony was read at 8:30 by Rev. Helmdall of the First Lutheran Church. The matron of honor was Nellie Tjebstad and Adolph Nelson did the honors for the groom. Both bride and groom are alumni of P. L. C. of the Class of '25.

Credit is also due the Young People's Luther League for its valuable assistance in membership canvassing. They set aside one month for the purpose of canvassing and had covered all the congregations along the coast within that time. It was strenuous work for the canvassers, but they were men who were inspired with the true Christian spirit and a love for, or rather, the desire to see the young people have a good Christian Education.

History Interesting
The history of the Drive is very interesting. In the fall of 1925, the final decision was made that P. L. C. should have an Endowment Fund. President Ordal was sent out to the Lutheran Congregations to solicit pledges and several thousand dollars were raised in this manner. In 1926 Rev. Henriksen started his work and many members of his church gave their assistance as well. It was at this time that Dr. Fannokke was called from the East to look over the field and to offer suggestions. He became so interested in this great undertaking that he remained to carry on the good work. Thus it was that during the past summer the great purpose of the Drive was finally completed with the Endowment Fund growing larger, larger and larger. And this is not all for the "follow up" campaign is yet to be started and it is hoped that many thousands of dollars may be raised through this phase of the work. Perhaps the Fund may yet go over $350,000.

The canvassing covered the entire coast from Canada to Mexico—wherever a Lutheran congregation was to be found. This summer the work started at Parkland and branched out to the North, South, East, and West. It means a great day for the Pacific Lutheran College and for the advancement of learning.
