

Student Body Chooses Officers for Coming Year

Meet to Decide Important Plans Of P. L. C. Future

To Petition Joint Synod for Cooperation, Security of This College; Start Building Work

Several decisions that will have an important bearing on the future of Pacific Lutheran College were the result of a meeting between representatives of the College and those of the Joint Synod of Ohio, held at Spokane, Thursday, May 15. Rev. O. L. Haavik, president of the College Board of Trustees, President Tingstad and Rev. R. Bogstad went to Spokane Wednesday night to meet with Dr. C. C. Heim, president of the Joint Synod of Ohio, Rev. Ludwig, president of the Northwestern District of that synod, and Mr. W. H. Heilmann, of his school, for the purpose of securing, if possible, the continuation of the support of the synod which the college has given this institution during the past year.

As a result of this meeting the following points have been recommended: that the Northwestern District petition the Joint Synod to set aside an annual appropriation of at least $2,500 for Pacific Lutheran College; that the Northwestern District throw open its congregations for the solicitation of members for the Pacific Lutheran College Development Association; that, for the sake of fostering interest in Pacific Lutheran College, it be considered advisable to have a properly qualified Joint Synod pastor on the teaching staff of Pacific Lutheran College; that the Joint Synod have an advisory member on the Board; and that the president of the Northwestern District be this advisory member; that a committee, similar to the present Spokane College Committee, be created and instructed to function in the interest of Pacific Lutheran College; and that the District pledge itself to support Pacific Lutheran College by sending of students and in every way that will be conducive to the proper development of Pacific Lutheran College.

Other developments are also being made. The levels for the president's residence and the exact location of the house were determined by the building committee last Friday. Mr. E. Anderson of Spokane has been selected to supervise the construction, and H. E. Anderson was elected chairman of the building committee. The committee has resolved to carry out the suggestions of Architect A. Aultwisch with painstaking care in order that he may definitely establish his reputation in the West by means of his first building project under his direction at Pacific Lutheran College.

On May 12 and 13 J. O. Gulbransen of Bellingham and G. R. Haukel of Aberdeen were here and made an examination of the books and records of the College for the last year. They found the financial records in excellent condition. President Tingstad and Rev. T. O. Swarc, College pastor, are all present to the East to attend the annual convention of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, May 21-26, in Minneapolis. Rev. Swarc will serve on the credentials committee at the convention.

Miss Stixrud to Teach in Seattle

To Leave P. L. C. After Three Years as Normal Supervisor

Miss Lydia Stixrud, well-liked normal supervisor, has accepted a position in the Seattle public school system for next year.

Miss Stixrud has taught here for three years. In addition to her regular work as an instructor and supervisor she has coached girls' athletics and has had charge of dramatics. "I have taught three years here and I am very sorry to leave. I shall take many dear memories with me," said Miss Stixrud when speaking of leaving Pacific Lutheran College. One reason why Miss Stixrud is leaving this school is for the purpose of being with her mother, who has been ill for some time.

Hartley Greets P. L. C. Students

On Capitol Visit

A group of students from Prof. Bardons' sociology and civics classes were treated to a real thrill when they journeyed to Olympia and shook hands with His Excellency Governor Hartley, Thursday afternoon. About thirty students made the trip to the capitol city, going in automobiles.

When the delegation arrived in Olympia they were taken through the new building and saw the fifty-two hundred-dollar tables, the almost two-hundred dollar, cuspidors, and various other articles of interest. Some of them came away with the opinion that it was the most beautiful capitol building in which they had ever been.

After the group had explored the building, they went to call on the Governor, who happened to be an old friend of Prof. Bardons. Governor Hartley talked for a short while, giving a little history of every governor who had held office in this state.

Seniors Bring to P. L. C. Big Play, "The Millionaire"

Australian Gold Mines, Family Spirit (?), and Bit of Love Make Combination of Clever Comedy

Practices on "The Millionaire," this year's senior class play, have been going off in good shape, and the cast will be ready to present the play, May 31, in the College auditorium.

The plot deals with the experiences of a young man, Gideon Heath, played by Reynold Jacobson, who goes to Australia to seek a fortune. His relatives and friends at home are especially interested when they receive news of his owning a part in a rich gold mine, and prepare a homecoming for him. After Gideon has been home for a time, he makes it known that he is not wealthy. The natural consequences follow, and the plot is completed with a little light romance.

Reynold Jacobson, as Gideon, is supported by Evelyn Solum as Blanche Heath, Warner Quale as Johnny Heath, George Cronquist as Gordon Heath, and Eugenia Crosby as Aunt Adeline Heath, all of whom are relatives of Gideon. Viola Tas as Dorcas, Elvera Hokenstad as Lotte Pringle, Stanley Berentson as Fred Lawler and Dorothy Eberole as Blanche complete the cast.

Miss Stixrud and Mr. Hauge are coaching the play.

NELSON HONG TAKES SPORTS EDITORSHIP

Nelson R. Hong, who attended Pacific Lutheran Academy in 1918, has accepted a position as sports editor of the Tacoma News Tribune. He is a son of Prof. N. J. Hong, principal of the high school department of this school and faculty advisor of the Mooring Mast.

NEVER A BETTER, WETTER PARTY IS OPINION OF FUN-SEEKERS

"Let it rain, let it pour. I guess the weather man knows what it's raining for and it isn't going to spoil my good time." Such was the sentiment of the College students at Redondo last Friday evening.

Many sophomores and seniors voiced approval of the wet picnic, using expressions resembling: "Aren't the freshmen and juniors swell hosts?" "They think of everything, even rain." "Those cats were wonderful!" and whatnot.

Having started out from the school at 2:45 with students piled in two rented buses and all available private cars, the picnic party, food and all, arrived safely, without any accidents, at Redondo Beach, the destination. Here eight boats, rented by the hosts, awaited the over-eager guests.

Maybe it was raining some of the time, maybe it was cold, but maybe we have some hardy swimmers in our midst. "Cold or not that water was too much of a temptation!" Yet, some went home with dry bathing suits.

Donned in a blue bathing suit, Ann Mikkelson stood on the float waiting for enough nerve to jump into the icy water. Walter Young, in his street clothes, by the way, sensing her plight, gallantly strove to assist her. Gently he pushed, roughly she grabbed him, and in they plunged. Oh! Oh! His clothes evidently dried, for he wore them home.

At 5:30 the hungry students were marched into the lodge where a delicious meal awaited them. Mrs. Hinderlie, the College cook, helped the refreshment committee, which consisted of Ida Hinderlie, Evelyn Olson and Marie Vandenburg.

After dinner, Olaf Hagness, president of the freshman class, called for several impromptu talks. Warner Quale and Stanley Berentson, sang two vocal duets, after which Mildred Card led the group in yells.

The last point that Rev. Anderson presented was that the league should have a well-balanced program of activity, in which the activities are not drawn out, until they become uninteresting. The young people should have plenty to do, because they are interested in those things at which they have to work the hardest.

In speaking of the junior league he pointed out that there were three

The Mooring Mast staff offers its sincere commendation to the members of the Rev. O. J. Edwards' family on the death of a beloved daughter and sister, Florence.

Hagness Wins Presidential Race At General Executive Election

Several Attend Bremerton Meet Of Luther League

A number of students from Pacific Lutheran College, either as delegates from different leagues or as visitors, attended the seventh convention of the North Pacific District Luther League at Bremerton, Washington, May 9, 10, and 11.

A reception, in the form of a program and refreshments furnished by the local league, was held for the delegates, visitors, and pastors on Friday evening, May 10. After the reception the convention started with the main address by Dr. J. N. Brown, president of Concordia College and convention speaker.

In the second session, Saturday morning, Mr. E. Tingstad, of Kent, opened the theme of the convention, "Christian Stewardship," by his talk, "Stewardship of Time." After this meeting the members of the convention visited the Bremerton Navy Yards.

At the business meeting, Saturday afternoon, the following officers were elected: President, Rev. A. M. Krageb; vice president, Mr. Ph. E. Hauge; secretary, Miss Elvera Hokenstad; and treasurer, Mr. Ch. Solley. The main speaker of the afternoon session was Miss Margaret Wall, who spoke on "Stewardship of Talent."

Rev. O. J. Ordal concluded the discussion of the theme with "Christian Stewardship." At the chorale and final gathering of the convention Sunday afternoon, the P. L. C. Choir sang. The final benediction was pronounced by Rev. Theo. Hokenstad.

Makes $215 Gift To Student Fund

Dr. John Arnason Johnson, school physician, has contributed $215 to Pacific Lutheran College to serve as the nucleus for a student Loan Fund.

Alumni of the College at their last meeting discussed this same project and decided to carry it out in the near future. Therefore, in this organization, Dr. Johnson's fund will find strong support. Other friends of the school will perhaps aid in its development.

An interesting fact to note is that Dr. Johnson's contribution is the greater part of the medical fee he receives as payment for his services at Pacific College. The remainder of his earnings here he donated to the Development Association.

Choir Busy With Various Concerts

Three concerts have been given by the choir in the last two weeks. After an early start, the choristers traveled to Seattle, Wednesday evening, May 7, to give a concert in Rev. Stuh's church, under the auspices of the combined Lutheran churches in Seattle. A very small but appreciative audience attended the concert. The choir also sang at the convention in Bremerton, May 11.

On Sunday, May 18, the singers again sang before a full house at the First Lutheran Church, Sixth and I streets, Tacoma. The next night saw the group take a trip to Old Harbor where they performed a big concert. Next Friday the choir will sing at Aberdeen.

Percival, Norgaard, Sheel, Young to Take Places For Next Year

By Viola Tav

Olaf Hagness will lead the Student Body of Pacific Lutheran College next year as its president. The other officers chosen at the general election yesterday were: Vice president, Earl Percival; secretary, Ruth Norgaard; treasurer, Fred Scheel; sergeant-at-arms, Walter Young.

Earl Percival took the second highest number of votes for president and was elected as vice president. The remaining candidates in the race were: President, Ida Hinderlie; secretary, Thora Rasmussen; treasurer, Fred Lee; sergeant-at-arms, Sankey Johnson.

Olaf Hagness will take Warner Quale's place as president of the Student Body. Irene Dahl has been vice president; Emma Kaaland, secretary; Berger Jacobson, treasurer; and Fred Scheel, sergeant-at-arms.

The election was by ballot. The nominating committee submitted several names for each office. Informal votes were taken for each office before the primary election, for the purpose of limiting the number of candidates to three for the office of president and vice president and to two for the offices of secretary, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms, respectively.

Olaf Hagness has taken part in many school activities during this school year and is well qualified to serve as president of the Student Body. He has been president of the freshman class, editor of the Mooring Mast for one semester, a member of the school's affirmative men's debate team and a delegate to the Press Conference of the Lutheran Students' Union Convention last March.

Add 178 Books to Library in Month

During the last month 178 books have been added to the library collection according to Librarian Xavier. Thesis that Professor Guen and Xavier prepared for their Master's degree have also been acquired by the library. At present the librarians are trying to get these of all the P. L. C. faculty that have either Master's or doctor's degrees. Such a collection will be of value to students of the College.

Among the lately acquired books are:

- "Handbook of Nature Study," Comstock; "Business Management," White; "Survey of Ancient History," Lathrop; "Anthropology and Modern Life," Boas; "Dance Spots in the World Population," W. F. Thompson; A complete set of La Fontaine's works, consisting of 12 volumes, besides five other volumes of French writings.
  - "Economic and Social History of the Middle Ages," Thompson; "World's True History" in 7 volumes; "Bible Commentary" in 6 volumes; "Matthew Henry," "Bible Encyclopedias" in 3 volumes; Rev. Samuel Fellows' History of Greece in 12 volumes; "History of Rome in 6 volumes; Gibbon's History of Germany in 4 volumes; Manned; History of England in 4 volumes; Green; History of France in 8 volumes; Guizot; A nine volume set on science.
- Aside from this list there are over 100 other works on various topics.

Thank You

Another school term is now drawing to a close, and there will be but one more issue of the Mooring Mast before vacation, which issue will be published June 4. This will mark the end of the sixth school year of the paper's existence. The first copy came off the press on October 30, 1924.

Since that time the paper has been published bi-weekly to the students of Pacific Lutheran College and subscribers outside the institution. During this time the publication has improved steadily, though, perhaps slowly. This year the staff has succeeded in enlarging the paper to an appreciable degree. It has been a hard pull from year to year to publish this paper, harder than many realize. Not only has it been difficult from the standpoint of the editorial staff but, at times, financial conditions have almost necessitated the cessation of publishing activities.

At these critical moments, however, there have always been some friends who have worked and sacrificed a good deal to help smooth over the rough spots in the way. They have realized that a school paper is indispensable in a college like ours and for this reason have done everything possible to insure the success of the paper. These, our friends, we wish to thank now.

First, we have Mr. H. E. Anderson, of the Washington Hardware Company. Mr. Anderson has backed this paper, not only by giving material aid when it was needed, but also with his fine moral support from the time the first issue was printed until this present one. This winter, when it was undecided, whether or not to enlarge the paper, Mr. Anderson settled the question by guaranteeing financial aid if it should be needed.

In the Johnson-Cox Printing Company the Mooring Mast has also found a helpful friend. The manager and employees of the company have always been ready to cooperate willingly and cheerfully in every effort to improve the paper.

Then, there is Mr. Stuen, who has been a faculty adviser on the staff since 1925. He has worked and worried especially during the latter days, to keep the paper from "going on the rocks" and he has succeeded admirably. The teachers and others who have so willingly and cheerfully contributed news material to staff reporters may also feel that they have done their share in making the Mooring Mast a success.

Last, but not least, on the list are the subscribers. These are vital to the growth and success of any paper, and the Mooring Mast is no exception.

For these many friends the Mooring Mast staff has a big "Thank You."

We wonder whether it wouldn't be possible to distribute activities a little more evenly throughout the year. As conditions are, the calendar for the month of May and early June is so crowded that some things and some persons must suffer.

Hats Off!

Contrary to a seemingly growing opinion throughout the country that school spirit is best displayed by participation in athletic contests, Pacific Lutheran College students appear to be turning their thoughts and ambitions in another direction. They believe that while athletics, debate, dramatics, and other activities present an excellent opportunity for showing school spirit and advertising the alma mater, there are only some of the phases of school spirit.

The growing attitude at our school is that the basis of true school spirit at our College should be, and is, found in its motto, "Build for Character," and that character is built more by the daily chapel exercises than by any other agency.

The Student Body is to be commended for its earnest endeavor to make its members realize the value of regular chapel attendance. We say "hats off" to those who are attempting, and to a great extent, succeeding, in obtaining 100% voluntary chapel attendance. —George Lane.

Let's support "The Millionaire," senior class play, better than we did "The Patsy."

Read This

Publishing an annual is probably the most important student activity of the school year. For this reason, it could be advisable to elect next year's editor and business manager now. Since a great deal of responsibility is placed upon these two persons, they must be capable and reliable. Throughout the school year others will look up to them as leaders. It is the active student who is worthy of such position.

There are only a few days in which to consider this matter. We should begin to think of it now. —Mildred Gard.

Hellman Leaves to Teach at Hebron

Professor W. H. Hellman leaves the first part of next week to deliver the commencement address at Hebron College, Hebron, Nebraska, where he will be president next year. Mr. Hellman has been Dean of men and teacher of English and Bible classes at Pacific Lutheran College during this past year.

Thespians Present

Two One-Act Plays

An interested audience enjoyed the presentation of two one-act plays by the Pacific Lutheran College Dramatic Club at the Swedish Lutheran Church in Tacoma, on Wednesday evening, May 8. Musical numbers helped to make up the delightful program. Refreshments, consisting of strawberry shortcake and coffee were served to the audience and to the cast.

The cast of "Not Quite Such a Goose" consisted of Agnes Klippen, Harold Johnson, Cornelia Mohr, Eleanor Dahberg, and Ervin Dammell. Thora Rasmussen, Emma Kaaland, Sena Johnson, Viola Knudson, Gladys Joergenson and Gienda Waters were included in the cast of "Too Busy."

Campus Features

Wandering about the campus the reporter noticed:

Warner Quale walking on crutch s—Here's wishing you a "Speedy" recovery. Warner—About eight sophomore normal students waiting for a conference with Mr. Hauge—Lorraine Pirrey entering the library—Mr. H. E. Anderson looking over the lot on which the Presidents' Residence is being built—Mr. (Speedy) Ehemstrom going ditto—Connie Mehn and Slerid Anderson not together—Sally Wanger sadly watching the students preparing for the picnic. We're sorry you couldn't go. Sally—Mrs. Warren not in the library—Albert Kirehnhof and "Fern Hill" Terry not getting into mischief—Dagmy Hjermstad not worrying about her hair being combed—Fred Walter not carrying a brief case—Mr. Beck calling the roll in his Contemporary Civilization class in less than ten minutes.—The writer of this column not being called "Garfield."

CHAPEL TALK

"To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them."

When a building is to be erected an architect makes out the plans. Men must be hired and very often there are arguments. Now suppose each of the masons followed his own plan, using no measure or plumb line, what kind of a building would it be? It would probably end on a rubbish heap.

God has plans for you and me. We are His masons. Now are we going to follow His measurements, use His word as our plumb line, or follow our own ideas? God says "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God," but we usually turn it around and say "seek ye first the things of this world."

It is not the wealth, the position, or the amount of worldly happiness ever that one gets, but it is doing God's will that will bring the down of achievement in our lives. May each one of us follow God's own plumb line and follow the plans that the architect, God Himself, has set down for us and our lives will be like a perfect building.

League Work Is Topic of Speaker

classes of young people: First, those who are the backbone of the church; second, those who come to church but occasionally; and third, those who did belong and should belong, but who are never seen any more. The work of the Junior League is to make more members of the first class. More young people drop out of church work the first and second years after confirmation than at any other time. The supervision of the junior league work, according to Rev. Anderson, should be done by the pastor but by Junior League leaders. There should be three classes in the junior league. If possible, those who will be confirmed the following year, those who were confirmed the previous year, and those who have been confirmed for two years. To the students Rev. Anderson said, "It is vital to you that you consider and know Luther League work. The future of our church does not depend on the pastors so much as on young people. Your influence is going to be one way or the other. We are not asking too much of you when we ask you to go out and lend your support to Christ through your church. You have no bigger advertisement for your college today than that you go out and live a Christ-like, upright life in the community to which you are going."

Costs of Comedies Make Presentations

Several members of the P. L. C. Dramatic Club are included in the casts of the three one-act plays, which are soon to be presented at the College.

The cast of "Oysters" includes Dorothy Lehmann, Edna Dagland, Alice King, Inga Olson, Christine Johnson and Mabel Erickson. Harold Gray Evelyn Monson, Palmer Storlie, Ruth Norgard and Delmar Mortensen compose the cast of "The Exchange."

These two plays will be presented in the recreation room of the College Tuesday, May 27. The public is invited.

The third one-act play, "Boo" which cast included Stetla Borboe and Clifford Meador will be given as a curtain raiser or between-act skit at the Senior Class play on May 31.

Week's Schedule For Baseball Nine Has Three Games

Bellarmine, Central Junior College, and College of Puget Sound on List Of Opponents

By Olaf Hagrened

Baseball king of American sports will reign supreme at Pacific Lutheran College this week for the baseball nine has games scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons. In order to make certain that this schedule will give the men enough work to keep them busy, all three games will be played away from home. The Gladiators have already defeated all three of these aggregations but by scores that were too close to be any guarantee of victory in the coming clashes.

In their first game of the season, played on the home field, the Lutheran managed to nose out their friendly enemies from the College of Puget Sound, 3 to 2. It was an excellent game, and the Gladiators probably held the upper hand to a slight extent, but that extent was so very slight that anything may be expected Wednesday. Plummer will probably pitch for the Tacoma college.

Because the games follow each other so closely, Coach Olson has not yet decided who will pitch against the various nines. Colton, Palo, and Johnson are all ready to do their stuff on the mound and are all almost certain to see action in one of the contests.

If the Gladiators and Bellarmine Lions play half as well against each other as they did last Thursday afternoon, as they did a couple weeks ago, the most cynical baseball fan should go home satisfied. The two nines get together on the Bellarmine lot tomorrow to finish the bitter feud which started on the Parkland diamond when they met for the first time this season. The score of that game was Pacific Lutheran College 2, Bellarmine 1.

If scores are any indication that count, it should prove that anything but a walk-away may be expected when the rivals meet again. Neither squad will be willing to spare any pains in vanquishing the other unless they have completely reformed of late.

Though it is not absolutely certain who will start for Bellarmine, McDougall, Lion mound ace, will probably see action first. He pitched good ball against the Lutherans in the first game and will not be any too easy to hit.

Friday, the team journeys to Centralia to take on the Jays. When the two teams met on the Parkland lot, the Gladiators came out ahead, 9 to 3. This score was made, however, with the aid of several lucky breaks, and the Centralians will be out to see that the same thing doesn't happen again. The Lutherans had trouble in hitting Althaus, Centralia's best mound bet. In the first game and will probably have to face him again.

Sport Slants

By Harold Gray

Since the last issue of the Mooring Must but our game has been played on account of bad weather. The game scheduled with Bellarmine for last Friday will be played tomorrow, weather permitting, on the Lion court.

Although they played good ball against the University of Washington Frosh, the Gladiators lost this game by a 7 to 1 score. They were slightly outplayed, but had all the breaks against them, accounting for the score.

Altogether now, the Parkland boys have won three and lost one. Let us take a look at the teams we have run up against. Coach Olson's boys defeated the College of Puget Sound, three runs to two; Bellarmine by a 2 to 1 score, and Centralia to the tune of 9 to 3.

After that defeat at the hands of the Washington Frosh, the Gladiators boys should take the Bellarmine Lions down in short order—yes, the College of Puget Sound Loggers the next time we play them.

Up to now there has seemed to be a big hole in the infield. With the new combination of Jacobson, Nyman, Palo, and Colton in the inner gardens, and Johnson in the box, there should be a few shut-outs in the remaining games.

Besides pitching the entire four games played by our team, Johnson has gotten eight hits out of 15 trips to the plate for an average of .533. This is a good batting average in any league.

Let us now take a look at tennis for a minute. Our first interscholastic matches of the season were played a week ago today with Lincoln on the latter's court. The Gladiator men played good tennis, but were outplayed by their more-experienced opponents. However, we are looking for our men to reverse the scores, when these two teams again match their skill in a return match. Come on Molden, Anderson, Nyman, and Thustenson!

The tennis elimination tournament has also suffered owing to the bad weather of late, but all matches should be played off by the next time this paper comes out. Now it looks as if either Nyman, Thustenson, or Molden will get the championship of men's singles. In the girls' singles, it looks as if either Ruth Brown or Pauline Larson will walk off with first honors.

Come on tennis and baseball men, we are looking to you to "bring home the bacon."

Racket Wielders Lose Hard-Fought Matches to Abes

In their first interscholastic competition of the season, Pacific Lutheran College racket wielders lost a hard-fought match to Lincoln High school on the Lincoln courts May 14.

Gerhard Molden, number one man of the Lutheran quartet, lost to Bob Hull of Lincoln 6-2, 6-4. Bud Anderson of Parkland evened the score when he outdrove Scott of Lincoln to the tune of 7-5, 6-3. The best fought match of the day was that played between Bill Nyman of Pacific and Palmer Eistad of Lincoln. The Lincoln star won the match 1-6, 6-3, 6-4. Bill Weickling of Lincoln was too much for Arne Thustenson, the former winning 6-1, 6-2.

The first doubles' match brought out the superb net playing of Bill Weickling, Lincoln player. The Lincoln men, Hull and Weickling, won handily from Molden and Anderson of the College 6-1, 6-1. Nyman and Thustenson of the College were a little strong for the Lincoln players, Eistad and Scott, winning 6-3, 10-8.

Other matches have been arranged for by Gerhard Molden, tennis manager. On May 24 the Lutherans will cross rackets with the College of Puget Sound second team on the Tacoma's courts. The girls' teams of the two schools will also play. On Memorial Day the College will play a return match with Lincoln High.

The girls' team is composed of Pauline Larson, Ruth Brown, Alice Roe, Emma Kaaland, and Dolores Roe.

University Frosh Have Hard Battle

Gladiators Meet 7 to 1 Defeat In Game With Seattle Baseball Players

By Delmar Martenson
Playing a brand of ball which the Gladiators had not before this season displayed, proved to be one of the deciding factors of the game played with the University of Washington Frosh a week ago Saturday, when the Huskies defeated the Parklanders by a 7 to 1 score, at Seattle.

The inability of the visitors to hit the ball when his meant runs was another factor. After playing a bang-up game for six consecutive innings, the Gladiators committed several costly errors, which bunch with several hits by the Frosh, were the undoing of Coach Olson's men.

The encounter up to the seventh inning had been a nip and tuck affair. Johnson, and Pat, Frosh pitcher, had hurled a wonderful game, with both pitchers getting almost perfect support. Johnson was the outstanding player for the Gladiators, limiting the Huskies to eight hits and striking out six men, besides getting three of his team's seven safeties. Felt was the maiming of the home team, striking out twenty-one men, and holding the visitors to seven scattered hits.

The score:
P. L. C. 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-1
Hits 0 1 0 1 0 1 2 0 0-7
U. of W. 0 0 0 0 2 0 4 1-7
Hits 0 0 2 0 2 0 3 1-8
Batteries: P. L. C.—Johnson and Thustenson; U. of W.—Felt and Ber-Sen.

NATIONAL SOCIETY ASKS DEBATERS TO JOIN

Pacific Lutheran College varsity debaters are rejoicing, for they have been offered membership in the National Honorary Forensic Society of Phi Rho Phi. This is a compliment to the school for the number of junior colleges that have been offered membership is very small.

EXCHANGES

Rev. A. W. Ramstad, 14, of Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Washington, gave a short address in chapel last Friday morning. Rev. Ramstad is in the East, trying to raise appropriations for Pacific Lutheran College. He explained that it is the only Lutheran college on the west coast and occupies an important position in the educational program of the church. It was said that there are several St. Olaf graduates teaching at Pacific Lutheran.—The Manitou Messenger.

Rev. M. A. Christensen, 92, of Astoria, Oregon, has recently published a booklet called "One Hundred Scandinavian Jokes." The booklet includes jokes which he has heard at meetings or gatherings of Scandinavians.—College Chips.

tion held at Parkland, has been selected to take charge of the publicity department of Augustana College in the absence of E. Fred Larson, who has been awarded a University of Minnesota assistantship in the Economics and Business Administration Department. Mr. Halverson is well qualified as he has served as editor of the Mirror, business manager of the Bids, and as president of the South Dakota College Press Association. He will take charge of the work at the beginning of the next school year.—Augustana Mirror.

Rev. Carl B. Yivimaker, 17, head of the religious department of Concordia College, Moorhead, Minn., was nominated to a professorship at the Lutheran Theological Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., on March 21, at the meeting of the Board of Education of the Church Council and the faculty of the seminary. The nomination was unanimously approved and will be presented to the general convention to be held in Minneapolis, Minn., during the days between May 21-22. Rev. Yivimaker has written a number of articles which have been published by the "American Lutheran Student." His most recent article, "An Easter in Jerusalem," appeared in the M arch issue.—College Chips.
