College Purchases Two New Buses: To Sell Old Ones

Flashing the name of Pacific Lu theran College throughout the North west in the future will be the two 29-passenger buses, added to the PLC fleet during Christmas vacation.

The 1945 Flexible models will re place the delapidated transportation corps now in use. The two buses which have served PLC since 1947. will be sold.

They were purchased from the Bremerton Stage Company, which is switching to diesel buses. Twentynine passengers plus the driver can be accommodated in the reclining seats plus six in jump seats, if necessary. Powered by Buick Roadmaster eight engines, they are painted blue and white with Pacific Lutheran College in black and gold above the windows According to Ken Jacobs, plant manager, the coaches will be housed in the garage behind the gym. Thirty percent of the gate receipts and a disappointed crowd was PLC's share from the Tuesday night exhibicontest between the barnstorm ing House of David and star-studded Brewers, local outfit.

Students In Favor Of Music Festival

According to Professor Theodore Karl, the student test vote for the Music-Drama Festival was highly favorable and definite plans are now being made for the occasion

. The vote was taken mainly to obtain the amount of interest from the students in a Music-Drama festival from May 1-3, which would include five major performances and announce the official opening of the Chapel-Music-Speech building.

Tickets to the festival tentatively would be $6 a ticket for students in the balcony, adults and students under the balcony at $8.50 a ticket and $12 a ticket for seats in front of the balcony on the main floor. The tickets would include all five performances plus reserved seats. These performances would include many well-known personalities and excellent entertainment. Students filled out a question naire in chapel in which these figures were presented and the results were extremely encouraging.

Professor Karl will not be teaching classes next semester in order to de-vote his full attention to the organization and planning of this festival.

One of PLC's all-time great h sters, Harry, returned to Parkland as a member of the traveling House of David squad, backed by a barrel full of press clippings as the Beards' num ber one scorer and clown. A nearcapacity crowd turned out in hope of seeing Harry dig into his bag of tricks and put on a top-notch show, with his ball-handling and shooting wizardry. But they were disap ointed.

The Davids' foe apparently wasn't aware that the game was an exhibition, or that some 2,000 persons had come with that in mind, Consequently, in their efforts to win, they employed a two and sometimes three-man defense on McLaughlin. He was so bottled up most of the time that he couldn't think about clowning, let alone scoring. Harry's total for the night--7 points.

Many observers commented that he had an off-night. It might be pointed out that his own team-mates weren' overly cooperative in getting the ball in to him.

Ironically, most of the laughs during the so-called exhibition were produced by Mary Harshman, Harry's coach at PLC, and two referees, who were apparently the only persons on the floor trying to put on an exhibi-tunity to participate in the 1952 International Debate, January 12, will be Jon Ericson and Bill Rieke. Another capacity crowd is expected this year when PLC meets the Australian team at 8 p.m. in the Student Union Bldg.

Ericson and Rieke will debate the subject, "Resolved that Federalism is a good servant rather than a bad master." PLC will uphold the affirmative and the Australian team will support the negative.

Special attention will be focused on the debate, since Ericson and Ricke became the 1951-52 champion debate team of the 11 western states at the W.S.A. tournament held at Fresno, Calif., in November. Ericson and Ricke also attended the national tournament held at Stillwater, Oklahoma where they upheld their debate record and also participated in the international debate last year when PLC met Cambridge University.

Each year the Institute of International Education sends a debate team and the U. S. reciprocates by sending a representative national de bate winner to Europe.

The visiting team this year will consist of John Boyd Reid of Melbourne University and Robin R. Millhouse of the University of Adelaide Both team members are law students The two Australians are now touring in California, debating at University of California, Stanford, St. Mary's and San Jose. On Friday, they will debate at the University of Oregon. Following their debate here they will travel to the University of Idaho.

Ericson and Rieke, both senior division men, were chosen because of their tremendous speech and debate records. During their years at PLC they have brought honor to the campus by their many tournament vic-

The first evening is highlighted with the coronation of the King and Queen, and the performance by the TV star in the new chapel. Then the carnival will move down to the gym, where all kinds of booths, fun houses, and concession stands will be set up. Hundreds of dollars in prizes will be given away, such as radios, waffle irons, hams, spotlights, etc. The sec-ond evening will be like the first except for the coronation and there will be a different performance with a big bouquet to Mary Harshman and our Lute basketball team. The last time we went to press, way back in 1951, PLC bad lost 2 of 3 games with a lack of scoring punch. How things have changed! In a matter of one short week, the Gladiators steam rollered CPS, the touring Chico State five twice, Pacific U. and Southern Oregon. In these 5 games the Lute offense averaged 66 points per game.

In order to have all this, however, we are going to have to start working on ideas for booths now. We must also start thinking about who we want for King and Queen candidates. The Queen must be a freshman girl, the King a senior boy.

It was the next 3 games, however that branded Harshman's team as one of the best. A 12-point victory over the Willamette Bearcate, top team of the Northwest Conference, followed by a victory over Eastern's defending champs, and then that great second half which defeated the Evergreen favorites from Whitworth. Then came the Wednesday night victory at the CPS fieldhouse.

Count those victories. That's nine straight wins. In other words, we have the hottest college team in the state to root for. It will take a very good ball club to win the Evergreen title this year, and it is beginning to look like PLC has the team that could

Glads Down CPS, 53-51

The PLC Gladistors traveled across wn Wednesday night to the CPS fieldhouse and kept two big winning streaks alive, but it was close. The fired up Loggers jumped to a 7-3 lead and then, sparked by Bert Wells, the Lutes came back to take a 19-13 first quarter lead. The second quarter was with all their offense clicking. The Lutes led at half-time, 27-22.

CPS came out strong at the begin ning of the second half and took over the lead for most of the third quarter although a couple of quick baskets by Ed Brown put PLC back ahead by 44 to 41 at the beginning of fourth period. Holding a 53-47 lead with 31/2 minutes left, the Lutes decided to play a stalling game and almost gave it away. PLC missed a couple of lay-ins in those final minutes while CPS closed the gap to 2 points and missed an opportunity to tie it up in the final seconds as the Lutes held on to win 53-51.

The Gladiators won their ninth straight game in this one and made it 7 in a row over our CPS rivals. Wells and Brown played outstanding ball for the Lutes and also led the scoring as Brown had 16 points and Wells had 15.

The Lute J.V.'s added another vic tory to their string by pulling away in the second balf to paste a 59-49 win over the Logger J.V.'s. Don Krejci, frosh guard, hit 16 points in this one.

Mix With Cats For First Place

The spotlight of Evergreen Conference basketball will be focused on Ellensburg tonight as PLC and the Central Wildcats battle for the league leadership on the Cats' home court.

While the Laws were duranice East ern and Whitworth last weekend, the Wildcats defeated Western 52-47 and UBC 62-48. After a slow start, Central has been improving every week and now have a season's record of 7 wins against 5 losses. The Lutes hold an enviable 10-2 record.

Coach Nicholson will probably string along with a starting five com-posed of high seoring Ken Teller, 6'6" transfer from Wyoming U., at center; Captain Billy Lee, 3-year letterman, and Gene Keller, sophomore award winner, at guards, while the forward positions will be handled by veterans Wayne Backlund and Zebb Wedekind and freshman Bill Bahen from Yakima.

A victory for the Lutes tonight would leave them the only unbeaten team in the conference and stretch their win streak to 10 games.

PLC Scalps Savages, Top Pirates, 54-42

Coach Mary Harshman's Gladiators played their best ball of the season over the holidays in three home games. They started off with a great defensive game against the usually high scoring Willamette Bearcats. The top team of the Northwest Conference bowed to PLC by a 49-37 score as Garnet Lund and Ed Brown paced the home club with 13 and 10 points,

Last Friday night the defending conference champions from Eastern invaded Parkland in the league opener., The Savages took a 38-36 halftime lead, but the Lutes moved ahead. 51-44 at the 3-quarter mark and stayed ahead to post a 62-58 victory.

Jack Johnson, with 18 points, and Glen Huffman, with 16, led the Lutes while Ellis and Roffler looked good for Eastern.

Fans lucky enough to see the Whitworth gaine the following night saw the Lutherans at their best in a great second balf comeback, Making only 4 of 31 field goal attempts, PLC left the floor at intermission on the short end of a 22-12 score. The second half vas a different story as the Lutes hit the hoop from all angles as Hefty, Huffman and Johnson controlled the pards and Wells and Brown turned in a beautiful ball-hawking perform-ance. It was 34-34 at the third quarter and PLC won going away, 54-42. Jack Johnson again topped the Lutheran scoring with 15 points while Jack Doherty had 13 for Whitworth.
