

P. L. C. TEAMS VICTORIOUS IN DUAL DEBATE

Badger Debaters Are Defeated by Class Squads; Both Victories for P. L. C.

A dual debate was held on Friday evening, December 2nd, between the College Argumentation Class Squad and the Badger Debate Club of the University of Washington, in which the home teams were victorious. The decision was 2 to 1 in favor of the Negative Team and unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

Debate Simultaneously
The F. L. C. Negative Squad met their opponents in the chapel, and the P. L. C. Affirmative debated in the basement of the church. The judges were: Prof. Hong, head of the English Department of Lincoln High School, Miss Stitrud, of the Education Dept. of P. L. C., and Rev. Sware. Rev. Stavie, Mr. Larson, and Mr. Ramstad judged the negative debate. The chairman of the debate in the chapel was William Fowler, and Louis Hendrickson acted as chairman of the debate in the church basement.

Debaters Named
The debaters from the U. of W. are as follows: Affirmative: Don Thompson, Sebastian Abello, and Jesse Epstein. Negative: Carl Luckenath, Grant Leonard, and Percy Sachtel. Those upholding the affirmative side for P. L. C. were: Mary Fowler, Esther Towe and Arling Sannerud. Marie Espeseth, Erling Jacobson, and Gladys Jorgensen represented the negative side of the question.

Nicaraguan Question
The question for debate was, "Resolved, that the intervention of the U. S. in Nicaragua is justifiable." The arguments presented on both sides showed that much time and effort had been spent on the question. The debaters displayed remarkable ability in refuting the arguments of their opponents and all in all, both debates were interesting and worth listening to.

Good Sportsmanship
It must be said that the Badgers took their defeats in a most sportsmanlike manner and they certainly can be called "true sports" according to the code of winning and losing. P. L. C. can truly be proud of her teams which debated Friday night, as they displayed what P. L. C. is able to do in oratory.

Choose Regular Squads
The tryouts for the College Men's Debate Squad were held Monday evening, November 21, in Prof. Hauge's class room. From the members that turned out the nine chosen by Mr. Hauge to compose the squads are: Walter Christensen. (Continued on Page 4)

STUDENTS!
The first basketball game of the season will be played in the College gym on December 16, against Sumner High. A double header is on the bill. The Gladiators are on to defeat the Spartans to avenge their defeat of last year. We have to win that game. We have to have your support. Everyone at the first game!
Save the date!

Mission Society Holds Meeting

Interesting Program Is Given at Regular Meeting; Rev. Edwards Gives Talk

The P. L. C. Mission Society held its regular meeting Wednesday evening, November 30th, with the new officers in charge.

The program consisted of: song—audience; scripture reading—Arling Sannerud; reading—Victoria Rasmussen; vocal solo—Gerhard Land; address—Rev. O. J. Edwards; song and closing prayer.

Rev. Edwards in his address took into consideration the verses 43 to 46 inclusive, of Kings 1, Chapter 18.

"In this portion of the Bible we learn that God punished the iniquities of Israel by causing a drought, lasting three and one-half years. Sin is a terrible thing and God's punishment inflicted on sin is also terrible and the people of Israel were sorrowful. It was in their grief, that they came to Elijah, the Prophet, for consolation. That evening, after the people had departed to their homes Elijah and his servant went for a walk, perhaps to some favorite secluded spot where Elijah earnestly and patiently prayed. After praying he told his servant to look toward the sea for any answer to the prayer. Seven times he did this and on the seventh time, the answer came in the form of a small cloud which grew and brought to longed-for rain. "Likewise the work of a Mission Society may seem as small as a cloud but when God is in the cloud the work will be a great blessing."

BOARD MEMBERS VISIT COLLEGE

Pres. O. J. Ordal and Prof. Hauge attended a meeting of the State Board of Education in Olympia Monday, Nov. 28. Three members of the State Board visited Pacific Lutheran College on Tuesday, Nov. 29, and spent part of the morning here. They were Dr. E. O. Holland, President of Washington State College, Dean Thomson of the University of Washington, and R. T. Hargreaves, president of Cheney Normal.

The purpose of the visit was to inspect the work done by the Normal department here at the College.

DR. HOFF STARTS NEW CLASS HERE

Under the supervision of Prof. Hoff, a citizenship class has been organized for the benefit of the short course students who intend to become citizens of the United States.

The class meets ever Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in Dr. Hoff's room. The course will be practically the same as is outlined by the Federal government. A person who intends to obtain his second papers must pass an examination in this course.

Dr. Hoff is employed by the Pacific Coast Coal company and states that his course here will be somewhat similar to that used, when he teaches the coal miners. This course will be of real value to any who desire to obtain their second papers, and the short course students should make the best of this opportunity.

CHOIR MUSIC TO BE BROADCAST CAST DEC. 19

Russian Numbers Are Feature of Musical Program to Be Sung Over Station KMO

On Monday evening, Dec. 19, between seven and eight o'clock the Pacific Lutheran College choir and the Male Quartet will broadcast from station KMO, Tacoma. The program is sponsored through the courtesy of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce. The members of the choir under the direction of Prof. J. O. Edwards have been working hard on the numbers selected to be broadcast. They are having three ensemble practices of one hour every week, besides the regular part practices. The members of the choir will derive a great deal of benefit from this concert and as the practice and experience is what they need, they are eagerly anticipating the event.

The program arranged by Prof. Edwards has just been announced and is as follows:
A Crown of Grace for Man—Johannes Brahms.
In Thee O Lord I Put My Trust—U. S. Kallinnikoff.
Agnus Dei—B. Kallinnikoff.
O Praise Ye God—P. Tschakowsky.

The male quartet composed of Arthur Olson, Gerhard Lane, Franklin Lacey and Arling Sannerud will present the following:
The Fisherman—R. C. Cole.
It Came Upon the Midnight Clear—R. S. Willis.
Beautiful Savior—Unknown Composer.

The Pacific Lutheran College song composed by J. O. Edwards will be offered by the Male Octette. The members of the choir who will broadcast are:
First Soprano: Esther Towe, Stella Samuelson, Verle Laha, Anna Thompson, Gladys Knutsen, Elina Tulson, Helen Westby, Dorothy Zimmerman.

GIRLS ORGANIZE SNAPPY PEP CLUB

A real live-wire organization which probably is not known to all the students has been re-organized this year and regular meetings are being held every other Wednesday evening. This organization which was started to foster school spirit and pep among the students is called the Pep Club. Many activities have been sponsored by the club and an active interest is being displayed by the members. Usually before the games pep rallies and stunts are given to arouse enthusiasm and pep for the forthcoming game. The membership is limited to the dormitory girls. However, many plans are being considered now as to cooperation between day students and the dorm girls.

The present officers of the club are: President—Esther Towe; Vice President—Olga Benson; Secretary—treasurer—Victoria Rasmussen.

Dramatic Society Presents Plays

Interesting One-Act Plays Are Given by Members Dec. 3 for Benefit of Guild

One of the most enjoyable entertainments of the year was given Saturday evening, December 3, in the gymnasium by members of the Dramatic Society. The program consisted of two one-act plays. "Harmony Junction," a humorous act, very cleverly played by Arling Sannerud, Harry Sannerud, Gerhard Lane and Walter Christensen. "The Revolt," was a most delightful comedy and gave many helpful hints as to the proper treatment of husbands. The cast consisted of:
Pauline—Verle Laha; Grandma Gregg—Inez Arneson; Susan Jane Jones—Phyllis Grande; Kate—Marie Gardlin; Edith—Elliott Michelson; Ida—Olga Benson; May—Evelyn Sneve.

Between acts Professor Edwards played a piano solo.

CHOIR TO RENDER CHRISTMAS MUSIC

Prof. J. O. Edwards, dean of music at Pacific Lutheran College yesterday announced a Complimentary Christmas Concert to be rendered by the choir of forty-two members under his direction, on Saturday evening, December 17, at 7:45 in the Trinity Lutheran Church at Parkland.

Mr. Nils Rein, popular violinist, will assist with violin selections and Miss Mabel Bull will play an organ number. The male quartet and male octette will also appear at this time. The concert is being given for the students at the college and people living in and around Parkland. Because this concert was decided upon just yesterday, the complete program could not be secured.

NOTED SPEAKER GIVES ADDRESS

Rev. M. E. Fretheim of the Bible School of Chicago, Illinois addressed the students, faculty and friends of Pacific Lutheran College during chapel hour, November 22.

One of the most outstanding features of his address was his remarkable illustration of the cross. "As all of you know," Rev. Fretheim said, "a cross is composed of two parts. The main part of the cross points upward toward heaven, toward God while the other part, the cross-piece, points outward to either side. In these two respects a Christian should be like the cross. He should look upward to God, loving Him above everything else. Yet, he should also look outward toward his neighbors, for in the twelfth chapter of Mark, verses 30 and 31, Christ says: "And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment. And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is no other commandment greater than this."

Rev. Fretheim, accompanied by his wife, came to the west for the purpose of conducting a Bible Conference at the Central Lutheran Church of Tacoma.

BASKET BALL TURNOUTS ARE ENCOURAGING

Four Lettermen Back; New Men Are Fast; Show Remarkable Ability

P. L. C. in the next few weeks will witness some wonderful basketball games. At present, the games committee reports five games, two with Lincoln High of Tacoma, one with Stadium, C. P. S. Reserves and Sumner High. These will all be games that count and, with other games which are being arranged at present, P. L. C. will have a schedule which only a powerful team can go through.

Good Material
Have we a likely looking bunch? Look them over! Strapping, youths from P. L. C. Most of the squad have exercised during the football season, just ended and are in fine condition. Coach Ramstad does not consider this enough, however, and is working the boys hard each evening to put them in prime condition for a good season. Floor work has been on the workout list so far and four teams have been kept hard at work all the time to be ready for the opening game.

Four Lettermen Back
Four of last year's men are back in suits to show their wares. Captain "Rudy" Sanderson, has been handicapped by a bad rib, but he is now doing his old hard work expecting to lead his team mates through a successful season, "Tink" Fedt, the flashy little forward is running wild all over the floor and he surely is fast. Much can be expected from this boy and we know he will come through with the goods.

Kreidler and Omdal have started out in a way which shows that they expect to work in all the season. The new material on hand is good and competition for places will be plenty. "Red" Carlson is showing form at center. This little fellow sure can jump. Not only is he up on the tip off but at all times. He never does stay down out of the opponents way.

Guards Plenty
"Bill" Fowler, Marvin Hokiv, Hoban, and Kreidler, are working well as guards but it is too early in the season to judge the best. There is an abundance of material at guard positions and no two men will be playing there for all the games from present appearances.

Ramstad Has Tough Job
At forward Coach Ramstad will have a difficult task. Many men are out and the differences in their ability are slight. The boys are all fighting hard and wish to show their stuff and holding back is hard.

"KEEN STUFF! XMAS IS COMING!"

To be sure, it is rather premature to be editorializing about dear old Christmas time this early, but inspiration will out and we are helpless. It is not so much of Christmas we would speak but of "Xmas."

The so-called "jazz age" is responsible for many things—or changes in our mode of living. Perhaps some of these are good. In the opinion of the majority of the older generation, all of them are bad. Anyway, "Xmas" certainly must be recorded as an outgrowth of said age. We are living at a time when brevity is the soul of everything. No doubt about it.

Now it is generally admitted that slang and the desire to abbreviate words are real factors in the degeneration of any language. So now we call the most holy, most universal and far-reaching celebration of the year by a detestable, insufficient, slangy and degraded term.

Let us remember this and call Christmas "Christmas" and not "Xmas." N. S. L.

WE WANT LIFE!

The Rooters' club of P. L. C. organized last Friday and elected Walter Christenson president and Martha Cline secretary. These two, with the yell leaders and Carl Anderson, compose a committee which, with help and with support from the members of the club, will arrange for stunts, new yells and the like.

Every person at Pacific is a member of this club when he attends the meetings and this he should do, for the club is organized to keep "Mr. Pep" from walking out of our school. If we are to show real life and "zip," we must be organized. We cannot all make the teams, but we can help those who do by keeping in top place as to real yelling.

Everyone should turn out for the meetings of the "Rooters" and make for Pacific a real reputation in hoisting. A Student

:: STUDENTS' CORNER ::

Slavery, always considered an impediment to the advancement of civilization, does not confine itself to one man's making another his slave, but invades society in many different forms. The form I wish to speak of is that in which the cruel master is "can't" who, harmless as he appears to be, can do endless damage to the individual he succeeds in making his slave.

In the first place, the slave "can't" has the idea that the world owes him not only a living, but other things as well. When he sees man gaining wealth and happiness by hard work and "stick-to-it-iveness" the "can't slave" envies them and calls their success "fools luck." He himself hasn't the nerve to pitch in and do his share but will admit he's a failure before he begins and will not even try. If he as much as gets started, he will stop where he meets the first obstacle, small as it may be.

Finally, when the "can't slave" sees successful men about him, he will not admit that his life is the failure he has made it.

Unhappy indeed, and in a plight to be pitied, is the slave of "Can't."
 —Irene Dahl

Can't as we all know is a contraction of cannot which means "is not able." Can't has never done a thing except, perhaps to take up space in the dictionary.

Where would civilization have been today if its builders had stopped at this stumbling block, "it can't be done?" What system of lights would we be using today, if Edison had been an addict of "it can't be done?" What kind of a record would Lindbergh have established if he had started on his perilous journey with this idea, "it can't be done?" If this thought had been foremost in his mind, our famous Charles Lindbergh would probably have been removed from his elevated position in the sky to the fathomless person, like the one, for instance, whose favor to alibi is "it can't be done."

No sooner is this disgusting word "can't" uttered by a person, than a definite impression of this individual is stamped with indelible ink upon our minds.

—Dagmar Hagenson.

Chapel Talks

"But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed."—Isaiah 53: 1-5.

We see Christ hanging on the Cross forsaken and rejected by man. Do we stop to think of the spiritual side of life as we should?

All else vanishes at these times when we stop to meditate and think of the spiritual side of life. We as a people make a great mistake in that we accept the Bible as general truth—we do not think of the Bible as something that applies to us as individuals.

Should we not put our own names in the place of the word, "our," which is used in the verses in Isaiah.

Rev. Ordal

We as a people do not take time enough for sacred meditation of the Cross of Christ. The Cross of Christ is real. We should let our inner consciousness go back to the crucifixion of Christ as He hung innocently on the Cross, while Mary, His mother and His disciples stood sadly at the foot of the cross. Our blessings are instantaneous. Jesus doesn't forget our human sorrows. He brings blessings for the human soul. We should think of ourselves as standing under the Cross of Jesus.

New Fire Escapes Are Now Erected

Modern Up-to-Date Type of Fire Escape Located on Side of Girls' Dormitory

The new fire escape which has been under construction for the past few days is now completed, and the occupants of the girls' dormitory need no longer worry for means of a hasty escape in case of fire.

The structure, which is of modern up-to-date type, is located at the back end of the girls' dormitory. It has exits on both the second and third floors, and is safer and more suitable for girls than the old type of fire escape which was formerly in use. The addition should be regarded as a valuable one.

CLASS GAMES TO START BIG SEASON

The Basket Ball season this year will open with the class games of Friday Dec. 9 at 3:45 sharp. Four teams are playing, the High School Freshmen, Sophs and Seniors combining in one team, the High School Junior team, the College Freshmen and the College Sophomores.

The teams competing against each other are: High School Freshmen-Sophomores-Seniors versus the College Sophomores and the High School Juniors versus the College Freshmen. Winners of the two games will play against each other on Saturday and the winner will in turn be played by the faculty.

Considerable interest is taken in these games as the members of the first team will be picked from the various teams; each player therefore being on his mettle, so to speak. The students are urged to attend these games as they will be well worth seeing, all the teams having very good players among them.

PLAN TO ENTER TACOMA LEAGUE

Tentative plans are being laid by Coach Ramstad to enter the first team of this college in the City League, the league having given them an invitation to that effect. This league is known as the class "A" Association and, according to Coach Ramstad, their offer will be seriously considered. The team will either be entered by itself or else will be entered in connection with the Men's Club team. The offer is considered a good opportunity as this league will give the players a chance to secure many good games they could not otherwise get. Nothing, however, has been definitely decided as yet.

FORMER STUDENT MARRIED

Of interest to the students and faculty of P. L. C. is the announcement of the marriage of Hjalmer K. Johansen and Miss Agnes Marie Isakson. The marriage was performed on Saturday evening Nov. 26 at the Ballard Lutheran Church by Rev. O. L. Haavik. It will be remembered that Mr. Johansen was a student at P. L. C. during the year 1926-27. The couple will make their home in Seattle where Mr. Johansen is a foreman on the boat "Vouy".

Girls' Team to Play First Game on Dec. 16

The first Girls' Basketball game of the 1927-28 season will be played in the P. L. C. gymnasium on Friday evening, Dec. 16. The P. L. C. girls are playing this first game against the Summer High team. Although the team has had but a short time for practice, the game is looked forward to with enthusiasm, and as it is the opening game of the season the girls are working hard in an effort to begin the season with victory.

ORGANIZE HOOP SQUAD OF SHORT COURSE MEMBERS

Coaches, Beware! Send out your scouts. Put your team in the best of condition for your hour of combat is at hand. A new rival is in your midst and you are unconscious of his presence. He is using your weapons and you allow it. He boasts in your camps and you tolerate it. Coaches, Beware!

Why all the noise? Do you not realize that a very powerful team has sprung up in your midst of the basketball team of the Organized Short Course Students of P. L. C.? Are you not aware that this very team is practicing with your equipment and you tolerate this? They are practicing a great surprise for the regular squad and you listen not. They boast and you head not. But, Coaches, Beware!

The Short Course Students are working out every Monday night in the gymnasium under Prof. Freed, and are putting a great deal of enthusiasm into their exercise. Although the exercise is not required these boys are very much interested and turn out 100% strong. Their hard work during the summer is different from this, they say, and this is more fun. If they fish like they play the fish business will soon be extinct in Alaska. The harder the game the better these boys like it.

No pre-season training is required. The first night side were chosen and a game of basketball began. What the boys lacked in skill they made up in fun. Everyone took part and worked. Prof. Freed surely has a hard working bunch.

These little workouts will continue through the year and the boys will keep up physical fitness while they are learning new games. At that, a very good game of soccer would ensue if these boys challenged a picked team.

Nature Study Class and the poor thing (the mouse, I mean) became popular in less than no time. Nov. 29. A few of P. L. C. would-be teachers have their work under eyes of members of the State Board of Education.

Why do shots wake up some people in the morning and not others? That's easily explained, others wouldn't wake up if a cannon ball was shot right thru the head. Nov. 30. Lelah is already counting the seconds left before Christmas Vacation begins. She has it all figured out that there are only 1,900,800 seconds remaining. Wonder what her plans are?

Quintette Quips

Say, when it comes to work, basketball is nothing other than. Ye writer watched the oys the first night and the amount of work demonstrated was remarkable. But they like it and we like it so why complain?

When "Tuk" starts running he can't stop. His guards actually get dizzy watching him. He surely plays a neat, fast game.

About this Fowler man—there is nothing underhanded about his playing. A flip of the wrist over his head the ball flies. He keeps his hands and head up and plays a real game of basketball.

Chamberlain, fly-weight of the school, is out working and is giving the boys some competition. He is in the practice all the time and surely works hard.

A. Sannerud forgot that football season was over and ran away with the boys the first night.

And to think that the boys will have a nice new floor after Christmas. Who said there was no Santa Claus? Here's hoping!

A good floor will help a good team to complete a good season and we hope for the best.

Before the first practice the boys said, "Why not start practicing?" After the first practice the same boys said, "Why so much practice?"

Lament of the Columnist

In the gloaming I am searching Searching high and searching low:
Searching for an inspiration—
When one comes it must quickly go.
While the world is making merry,
Light of heart, without a fear
Think of me then, Oh my darling,
As I sit and ponder here.

It might have been better if some people had never been born but then, there are no such people.

"When dreams come true (or come): Arrival of the Ford, which reminds us:

Oleks: My boy friend sent me a picture of his new car.
-Jhanna: Oh, what kind is it?
Oleks: Just an ordinary (type).

"Well," said Laurence Hauge, as he picked up his commercial law book, "here's where I take the law into my own hands."

Hints to Debaters: The man who begins his speech by saying he is no orator, generally proves it before he sits down.

Gerry: When did Elliot say she'd be here?
-Elma: An hour ago!
Gerry: Well, I'm early.

Perhaps the only true romance an ecstasist ever has is falling in love with himself.
Overheard in Girls' day-room.

First girl: Is your Packard friend coming over tonight?
Second Ditto: No.

F. G. Dodge Brothers?
S. D.: No, dearie, this is Willy's Knight.

"Foolish is he with soul so dead who dares to write what should never even be said, "When someone told me that, it didn't bother me, but when some one quoted Longfellow—Sorrow and silence are strong but patient endurance is godlike, and said that Mooring Mast readers must be pretty salty by now I, well—Louder and funnier? Yea you are!"

At the end of the quarter some of us Probably discovered that altho' it's no disgrace to be broke, it's awfully inconvenient.

Oh whether you write in pencil
Or whether you write in ink,
Don't you think it's marvelous
To see the thots you think?

Bowman (reading a sentence in English Class): A sophomore is a student who feels like a grown man yet behaves like a still boy. (as if he were still a boy.) Now we know where his mind was:

Sverre: I came near selling my shoes.
Ingval: How'd you come near?
Sverre: Had them half-soled.

Sylvia Larson, on reading the statement of an eastern professor that married men are smarter than single ones, said, "Of course, look at the help they have."

The height of presumption and misrepresentation: Ted Eyjenth at the Centralia game singing, "Just Like a Butterfly That's Caught in the Rain."

Station P-A-C-I-F-I-C, broadcasting from P. L. C.—The Pacific Coast School of Lutheran Idealism.
"Howdy folks! The weather now-days is about as changeable as a woman. Seems as if Old Sol were having a war against the rain and there was doubt as to the victor."

"This section of the 'country called Parkland seems to be a rainy region lately, never-the-less Lindbergh coats, slickers and co. (please notice the company) make walks to the kicking post romantic (not rheumatic) regardless of the rain."
"Doc" and "Duke" say that this is a splendid time for rooting—in the mud. Soft stuff that!"

"As our good friend Shortfellow says: "There must be some gloomy days, we can't have them all sunshiny." It's fine weather, however, when a fellow has to wear hip-boots to visit his best gal. Don't forget the fact that there are rainbows and a little sunshine to cheer the gloom. Christy has a new pair of red boots, so undoubtedly the mud-puddles will be occupied until the novelty wears off, anyway it is wadin' good weather here in Washington according to Pat."

Station P-A-C-I-F-I-C signing off.
Will again be on the air on December 19 at 7 o'clock. Tune in on Station K.M.O. Tacoma.

I have to stop writing. I just got through reading what I wrote and I'm laughing so much I can't write any more. I'm not conceded! I just happen to remember that "he who laughs first and last usually told the joke."
