

Saga Receives High Rating By National Group

Receive 855 Points Out of Possible 1000; High in Mechanics; Classes, Alum Section

With a score of 855 points out of a possible 1000, the 1931 Saga was given the First Class Honor Rating by the National Scholastic Press Association.

The divisional scores are as follows:

Plan of book and theme	150
Administration and faculty	55
Album and classes	45
Organizations	20
Activities	75
School life	105
Editing and make-up	95
Financial status	50
Mechanical considerations	280
Total	855

Some of the criticisms were: A definite theme and motif were not carried out. The pictures in the athletic section did not show sufficient action. The balancing in the make-up was not exact. Fewer larger snapshots should have been used. Excellent ratings included those of Album and Classes, Financial status, Administration and Faculty, and Mechanical considerations.

Association Faces Important Period

Development Association Has 7,000 Members; Must Raise $13,500

The most important year of its history faces the Development Association as it endeavors to raise $13,500 for Pacific Lutheran College. A budget of $62,000 must be met by the College authorities, and it will be difficult to get an emergency appropriation from the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America.

The Pacific Lutheran College Development Association is celebrating its third anniversary this year, and its membership now exceeds seven thousand. V. A. Eivestrom and Professor J. P. Pflueger are working among the members of the American Lutheran Church, while the Reverend George O. Lane will canvass the Pacific District of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. Considerable support may be expected from the western half of the Rocky Mountain District, and some support from the Columbia Conference of the Augustana Synod may be forthcoming.

Rev. Lane, who has been working in Parkland and vicinity, has met with interest and encouragement. All seemed anxious to do all they could for the good of the school when it had been explained what the purpose of the drive was. Rev. Lane had many interesting experiences while calling on people. He recently enrolled the oldest member in to the Development Association. This ninety-two year old enthusiast was sitting in the room knitting when Rev. Lane interviewed her granddaughter. Before he left, the old lady asked to become an active member. This is only one of many instances of the interest shown in the project. It is just such experiences as these that prove the need of a school like Pacific Lutheran College.

Debaters Meet

On Wednesday, September 30, the Debate Club elected the following officers: president, Fred Walter; vice president, Helen Thrane; secretary, Fanny Arvola; and sergeant-at-arms, Jesse Pflueger.

Taking the chair after his election, the president asked that each member submit at the next meeting, a question suitable for debate. He appointed Clara Fjermeland and Walter Young as a committee to assign debates to club meetings and to arrange teams.

Family Sends Memorial Gift

Margaret Aaberg Dies; Family Sends Letter to School, Tingelstad Answers

As a memorial to Dagny Margaret Aaberg, a former student at Pacific Lutheran College, who died September 21, her family has given $100 to the College Development Association.

Miss Aaberg, who was born in Spanaway in 1910 and attended Pacific Lutheran College in 1928-29 and 1929-30, left many friends at the school.

The gift in her memory was accompanied by the following letter to Dr. Tingelstad:

R. I. Spanaway, Wash.
Oct. 1, 1931.

Dr. O. A. Tingelstad:
Parkland, Wash.

My dear Dr. Tingelstad: As we wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the faculty and student body of P. L. C. for kind thoughts and expressions of sympathy with us, in the bereavement of our dear daughter, "Dagny, Margaret," I take this liberty to write you and ask if you will kindly announce this acknowledgement at a convenient time under your chapel exercises or in any other way convenient to you.

In memory of Dagny Margaret, we enclose a check—$100, which you will (Continued on Page Two)

College Library Adds New Books

The Pacific Lutheran College library has added 280 new books since last year. Many of them were donated by individuals interested in the school.

"Messages and Papers of the Presidents," a set of many volumes, is especially beautiful. They were donated by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hogberg, of Tacoma.

Many new history books were donated. A set of six volumes was given by C. E. Quainton, of the University of Washington, and another set of six volumes was given by H. F. Lucas, also of the University.

The school bought many books on history of the world and of the United States. A "Polyplot Bible" in nine volumes, "The Norwegian Lutheran Congregations in America" in two volumes, a Seligman and Johnson's "Encyclopedia of Social Sciences," are some of the outstanding new additions to the library.

FRESHMEN TO HAVE MIXER OCTOBER 12

That the college freshmen would have a class mixer, October 23, was decided at a class meeting held Monday, October 12.

John Zachrisson and Kathryn Johnson will act respectively as host and hostess at the coming event.

Student Body Constitution Being Formed

A new Student Body constitution is being framed by a committee composed of Esther Westby, Harold Gray, and Millard Quale. Plans for a Student Board of Control were formed, and it was intended to make these plans an amendment to the constitution. As none could be found, the Student Body voted to have a new document constructed, and to have it include a Student Board of Control.

As soon as it is completed, the constitution will be presented to the Student Body for consideration. The committee has sent back East to find out what the constitutions of the other Lutheran schools are like, and are gathering ours after the best in the others. They are planning for the future as well as for the present student body.

Alumni Organize Loan Association

To Loan Money To Students; E. Tingelstad Treasurer; Organized in March

Although several of the recent graduating classes from Pacific Lutheran College have thought of an alumni association for loaning money to their successors, it was not until the alumni reunion last March that such an association was organized and is now an active factor in the school.

The officers of the alumni board are: treasurer, Mr. Edwin Tingelstad; president, Irene Dahl; faculty adviser, Philip E. Hauge; business manager, Ludvig Larsen. This committee is authorized to grant loans in conformity with the rules of the association.

Rules governing student loans are: Rule 1. All applicants for loans must give two persons as references, and have one responsible endorser sign the note. Application must be made on form furnished by the committee.

Rule 2. The maximum amount that will be lent any one person is $150.

Rule 3. Loans may be made for a maximum time of one year, but at the discretion of the committee, extended for another year, provided the interest is paid when due.

Rule 4. The interest rates are as follows: 3 per cent while one is in attendance at school. When one graduates or leaves school the rate is raised to 6 per cent until the note is paid.

An additional $100 has been transferred to the fund, making a total of $150 now available for loans.

The loan fund will be increased from time to time by receipts from Life Memberships in the Alumni Association.

Those wishing to obtain loans should apply to E. Tingelstad, treasurer.

President's Premises Are Being Beautified

Every observing person will have noticed the work now in progress on the premises of the President's residence. Great loads of rich brown dirt are daily piled on top of the gravel, to be again spread about by the strong arms of John Zachrisson. When thoroughly leveled and raked, it will be seeded and planted with trees and shrubbery. With this, the present barren plot will soon be transformed into a veritable beauty spot.

L. D. R. Elects

The Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation elected officers on October 6, at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Ramstad, the adviser. These are: vice president, Kathryn Johnson; secretary, Helen Collins; treasurer, Margaret Kaaland. The president, Pauline Schierman, was elected last spring. As a part of the program, Louise Schneider told about the work of the club.

Edwards Chooses Choir Members

Concert Schedule Not Definite, But Will Probably Include Trips to East or South

The personnel of the 1932 "Choir of the West" is practically determined, according to Professor J. O. Edwards, director. With many former members back, and with fine material among the new students, the choir is expected to live up to the standards of last year's choir.

The concert schedule, although not at all definite, will probably include a trip south or to the inland empire. At present the membership is as follows:

First soprano: Anne Mikkelsen, Kathryn Paiten, Dorothy Lehman, Marie Johnson, Amelia Holmquist; Ella Johnson, and Mildred Monson. Second soprano: Esther Westby, Ruth Howard, Dagny Hjerstad, Margaret Forath, Evelyn Monson, and Viola Larson. First alto: Helen Thrane, Nordis Arneson, Kathryn Johnson, Ellen Soley, and Gredrun Sjoestad. Second alto: Margaret Hilmo, Nellie Olson, Jennie Lee, Nelda Percival, and Nelma Gullison. First tenor: Alvene Schierman, Eric Hauke, Robert Monson, Frank Elliott, Elmer Knutsen. Second tenor: Jesse Pflueger, Myron Leque, Thomas Hagen, and Stanley Score. First bass: Clarence Monson, Norman Jensen, Harold Berentson, Norman Hokenstad, Godwin Rorum, and Jack Hudson. Second bass: Evans Carlson, Gilbert Sydow, Arthur Sivertson, Walter Ustad, William Whalen, Walter Wright, Trygve Runsvold, and Earl Percival.

MISSION CLUB EDUCATING BOY

Continuing last year's project, the Mission Society has decided to raise the money necessary to educate a native boy in Madagascar for one year. Devotion was followed by a reading by Dorothy La Gore, a piano solo by Grace Holte, and a talk, "The Stage is Set," by Esther Westby. This talk is the first of a series of discussions on the theme, "The Early Missionaries and Their Work," which the Society has adopted for this semester. Material for various talks to be given will largely be gathered from the Book of Acts.

NEW ENTRANCE NOW INSTALLED AT COLLEGE

A new entrance, the gift of the graduating class of 1931, greeted homecoming alumni last Saturday. The entrance, while not yet fully completed, has been a object of admiration to all who have seen it. Leaded glass, replacing former wooden panels, permits much more light to enter the front hall, while the lighter oak doors make a pleasant impression on visitors. The class is proud to point out that their gift was placed at the disposal of the school in unusually fast time.

Alumni Greeted At Homecoming Last Week End

First Homecoming Well Attended; Luther League Gives Party; Pep Rally, Game, Mixer on Saturday

Homecoming alumni were greeted on Friday evening, October 9, with a reception given by the Trinity Lutheran College for the students, faculty, and alumni of Pacific Lutheran College. The main feature of the week end was the football game with Ellensburg on Saturday night.

The entertainment by the League was held in the gymnasium. The program included short talks by Walter Young, representing the Luther League, Eric Hauke, representative of the Student Body, and Irene Dahl, representing the alumni. Following these talks, Mr. C. A. Pellet played several horn solos, the boys' quartette, composed of Bob Monson, Frank Elliott, Clarence Monson, and Earl Percival, sang a group of songs; Mr. W. C. Gregory gave a number of humorous readings; and Frank Elliott played some trombone solos.

Groups Entertain

The guests were then divided into four groups, each group receiving headbands of a different color. Games were played and contests were held between these several groups. Each team put on a stunt. The red group gave a burlesque on the summer trip of the "Choir of the West"; the yellow team showed what they thought the coming football game would be like; the blue group gave a radio program with health talks, songs, recitations, and stunts; the green team gave their impression of a faculty meeting at which a student was discussed. President and Mrs. O. A. Tingelstad led the grand march around the gymnasium, over the campus, and through the main building to the church parlors, where the Luther League served refreshments. Irene Dahl, Margaret Jacobson, Bertha Olson, and Berdine Knutsen were the committee in charge of the reception.

Mixer Sponsored

At the pep rally which followed a chicken dinner at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, the newly organized pep band played, and the yell leaders, Bob Monson and Arthur Spenser, led the group in songs and yells. A large bus and many private cars conveyed the students and alumni to and from the stadium where the P. L. C. Gladiators played the eleven from the Ellensburg (Continued on Page Three)

Luther League Plans Meetings

In an effort to interest more of the younger members of the congregation and students from the College, the Luther League of Trinity Lutheran Church is planning a series of entertaining meetings for the coming winter.

Committees are working on problems pertaining to times of meeting and types of meetings, with the understanding that the two regular meetings be of a strictly religious nature and one meeting a month be strictly social in character. It is hoped that by this means more members can be brought to more active participation in Luther League affairs. There will be an effort made to arrange discussions in which all members can share.

The Mooring Mast

SOMETHING NEEDED

There are many at Pacific Lutheran College who are interested in wrestling, in boxing, and in tumbling. These sports, while not in the limelight at present, are healthful, manly sports which deserve to be encouraged at our school.

All this leads to the fact that it is impossible to participate in these sports here because there is lacking one essential—mats. It should not be too expensive nor too inconvenient to supply the need, and the results would undoubtedly be beneficial.

Mats are an indispensable part of the equipment for any gymnasium, and if the physical education program at Pacific Lutheran College is to be successful in accomplishing its only aim, to keep the students strong and healthy, the deficiency should be remedied.

VERY GOOD

The class of 1931 is to be congratulated for getting their class gift so promptly. Instead of taking years to install the new entrance that they wanted our Alma Mater to have, they put up said entrance less than two months after school started. Good work!

A COAL

Congratulations indeed are in order for the excellent work done by the 1931 Saga staff, under the leadership of Olaf Hageness, editor. The annual proved to be a decidedly worthwhile enterprise. Freshmen and other students unacquainted with the yearbook should avail themselves of a copy, at least for inspection.

In the scoring of our Saga, the activity section was marked down because the freshman teams of football and the like were not given prominence. This criticism is somewhat unjust in that our "fresh teams" are not organized in themselves, but are parts of the varsity squads. However the book scored a First Class Honor Rating. The 1932 Saga staff has one reputation to maintain and a big goal to work toward in attempting to secure the All-American Rating.

MORE SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Alumni Homecoming, which took place last week end, was successful from many standpoints. The mixer was well attended, and the renewal of acquaintances was pleasant. Best of all, some of the alumni promised to subscribe to the Mooring Mast.

Dr. Tingstedt's reply follows:

October 3, 1931.
Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Asberg,
Route 1, Spanaway, Wash.

Dear friends:

I am deeply touched by your very kind letter of October 1, and your "in memoriam" gift of $100 in memory of your daughter, Dagny Margaret. May the good Lord bless your gift. May He be very near to you all with His comfort, strength, and hope of Eternal Reunion.

We remember Margaret (as we called her) with tenderness and kindness. She always impressed me as being serene and kind and sunny. We shall miss her greatly.

On the morning she died, I asked Miss Anna Mikkelsen to tell the student body about her last visit at Margaret's bedside. Miss Mikkelsen brought a touching message of sympathy, love and victory. It made us treasure our Christian faith more deeply and to thank the Lord for your daughter's testimony.

Your "in memoriam" gift will, in my judgment, do the most good at the present time in connection with the Development Fund. I shall confer with the business manager, Mr. Ludwig Larson, on his return from Spokane, and seek to have the gift applied in such a way that it may be a permanent memorial in honor of our beloved fellow student, Dagny Margaret Asberg. God willing, I shall report this "in memoriam" gift to the faculty and student body at the chapel exercises next Monday morning, together with your expression of thanks.

With deep appreciation and kindly regards and Christian greetings from Pacific Lutheran College and myself personally, I am

Very sincerely yours.

STUDENTS ORGANIZE

On Thursday, October 1, the third year students organized into an active class.

The following are the officers: president, Fred Walter; vice president, Mrs. Nelda Percival; secretary-treasurer, Berdine Knutson. As yet, no adviser has been selected.

The Misses Margaret Hilmo and Ellen Soley spent the week end, Oct. 3-4, at their homes in Everett.

Miss Dorothy La Gore visited friends in Stanwood during the week end of Oct. 3-4.

Myron Leque, William Whalen, and William Shore were at their homes in Stanwood, Oct. 4.

Mrs. G. A. Weerda and family, of Stanwood, spent Sunday, Oct. 4 visiting Louise and Annette Weerda.

Miss Winnie Allan, of C. P. S., and Alf Alvested and Earl Sorenson, of South Bend, visited Alice Alvested on Monday, Oct. 5.

Oct. 2, Miss Charlotte Shoup attended the birthday party of Miss Audrey Ann Dale.

Miss Louise Jackson, of Tacoma, was the guest of Dicky Leland on Oct. 7.

The Misses Hulda Simonson and Pauline Schlermann were entertained by a surprise party, Friday evening, Oct. 2. The tables attractively decorated with colored maple leaves, were arranged in banquet style. Those present were: Mrs. Kreidler, Hulda Simonson, Pauline Schlermann, Alice Alvested, Louise Schneider, Margaret Porath, Grace Holte, Margaret Elliott, Esther Westby, Margaret Kaaland, Jennie Iverson, and Olena Wagbo. Miss Kaaland and Miss Westby were the hostesses.

Rev. Carl J. Olson and his sons were in Parkland for several days last week, visiting with his daughters, Lillian and Margaret Olson.

Miss Ellen Redeen was the dinner guest of Miss Virginia La Flambay at her home in Tacoma Saturday, Oct. 3.

Miss Anna Mikkelsen had her tonsils removed last week. She returned to school on Monday.

Sophomores Award Picture Contract to Hartsook's

At its last meeting, the Sophomore class decided to award Hartsook's Studio the contract for class pictures. A committee composed of Dagny Hjermstad, Margaret Hilmo, and Millard Quale brought several types of folders to the meeting so that the class as a whole might decide which folder they would prefer.

Plans for a series of class parties to be given throughout the year were also discussed, and a committee was appointed to make more concrete arrangements.

Normal School. After the game, the Student Body sponsored a mixer in the church parlors, at which the former and the present students got together and talked about the game, and about days spent at the College. A student committee, composed of Pauline Schlermann, Margaret Elliott, and Louise Schneider, assisted by Mrs. Hinderlie, the cook, served coffee and doughnuts.

The number of alumni who were present at this first homecoming gave indications of the true P. L. C. spirit of friendship and loyalty. Some of the former students who returned failed to register. The following are the 43 who did:

Delta Rho Gammas Initiate New Girls

Friday night, October 2, was a hilarious one for Delta Rho Gamma girls. Old members of the club welcomed the new members at a party held in the church basement.

Ingrid Groid entertained the girls with some dramatic selections, and Frances Jane Lavin, accompanied by Mrs. Nelda Percival, showed her skill at rhythmic movement.

The old members of the club were served dainty refreshments by the new girls, who entertained the old members. Helen Collins gave two readings. The girls presented an impromptu pantomime. Two piano selections were given by Clara Fernestad while refreshments were being served.

The initiation ceremony was the climax. As a preliminary to this, all the new day room girls had been required to wear aprons and to roll down their stockings while at school Friday. Many shrieks and shouts of laughter were heard at the initiation exercises.

SIDELIGHTS ON PROF. JOHAN ULRIK XAVIER

We all know Professor Xavier as the College Librarian, but some of us do not know that he has a large and well-stocked library in his home.

This library is almost an obsession with Professor Xavier. History is his favorite study; therefore, he has a large collection of historical works. He reads constantly in school, at home and on the way. Twelve o'clock isn't late to him, for he reads until then almost every night. While he was working for his M. A. degree at the University of Washington, he read sometimes until three o'clock in the morning. As a result of his extensive reading he is occasionally absent-minded, for example, drinking hot water instead of coffee.

Many friends of Professor Xavier have remarked that he is very meticulous in arranging the belongings on his desk. If a ruler or pen is out of place, he will put it back to its former position. Even in the kitchen, he sees to it that all the pots and pans are in a systematic order.

While he taught at the Red Wing Ladies Seminary, he started his collection of moths and beetles. The habits of these insects are well known to him and their tiny faces are his perpetual delight.

According to Mrs. Xavier he is a "jack of all trades," being an expert at plugging leaks in pipes, repairing broken electric circuits and mending tireware. Just now he is building a play house for his daughter. He does all of his gardening and is especially fond of flowers.

MISS FOWLER GETS OLD "SAGA" OFFICE

Miss Sophia Fowler, Supervisor of the Normal Department, is now occupying her new office, which is situated in the right of the girls' reception room. The office was formerly occupied by the "Saga" staff, and the "Saga" equipment has been removed to the Development office.

High Accreditation

The report of last year's inspection by the accreditation authorities at Olympia and at the University of Washington were made available during the past summer.

The State Board of Education has, as usual, continued the accreditation of our high school division, as well as our present Normal department with the additional quarter's work as required for graduation this spring. The Junior College is accredited by the University of Washington.

Members of Pacific Lutheran College Choir Have Good Time

Copious tears, sob, and sniffles bade farewell to the members of the Pacific Lutheran College Choir last June 4 when they started on their adventurous trip to Chicago. But, for the members of the organization it was a glorious experience. Many had never been beyond the Cascade Mountains; very few had ever glimpsed the Rockies. Now they were going to taste the heat of the Middle Western plains and face the notorious "Chicago gunmen."

The forty-two songsters presented their first concert on the tour at Spokane on the evening of June 4. From then on their daily program consisted of tumbling into the bus at any time from four to six o'clock in the morning, traveling over roads of all descriptions during the day, giving nightly concerts, and tumbling into bed again unless they decided to travel all night. At Madison, South Dakota, the choir presented a concert at the church of Dr. Eastvold, who gave a series of chapel talks at the College Chapel during the last school year. At Sioux City, Iowa, the choir was met by the College president, Dr. Tingelstad.

Chicago, the goal of the trip, was reached at 2:30 on the afternoon of June 17. Incidentally, one of the first things seen by the Choir was a police patrol wagon. (Do you wonder that they all decided to be good?) On June 18, the "Choir of the West" gave a concert at the Stevens Hotel, and on Sunday, June 21, they sang with the Choral Union at the International Y. P. L. L.

After a few more flat tires, the group reached Columbus, Ohio, the easternmost point on the tour. They decided to spend only one day there, however, even though the thermometer registered only 112 degrees.

At Luther College, the group experienced a novel treat; they reached the school at 4:30 in the morning and finished their nightly chorus of snores (mostly withheld from the public) on the campus of this boys' school. A few days later they were guests of St. Olaf College.

At Bismark, North Dakota, the entire choir was taken to the state penitentiary, but after due deliberation they were allowed to leave.

The last stop of the trip was at Elensburg, Washington. At 2:15 on July 18, the choir once more set foot on the campus of Pacific Lutheran College.

Ellensburg Wins From Gladiators

Two Touchdowns in Fourth Quarter For Normalites; P. L. C. Falls in Passes

During every second of 60 minutes the Gladiators battled and fought the Ellensburg State Normal eleven last Saturday night to lose the contest by a 13-0 score. The Lutherans held the powerful Teachers at bay on the ground plays, but failed to stop the pass attack that netted both of the scores.

Throughout the game the educated toe of "Red" Carlson, dropping the old grakin out of bounds on the 2-3-4-5 and 6-yard lines, continually kept the game well within the Ellensburg territory. The Lutheran pass attack failed to function with any favorable results, and 12 out of the 14 passes went for naught. Near the end of the third period, "Red" placed the ball out of bounds on the 2-yard stripe, and then returned a short kick by the Teachers to the 19-yard line. Several plays netted about 7 yards, and the ball was then passed over the line, ending the last Lutheran threat for a score.

The Normalites started the scoring drive on their own 20-yard line at the start of the fourth quarter and drove straight down the field on a series of plays to the Lutheran's 38-yard mark. From there they took to the air and on the second try completed a pass to McKay for 20 of the yards. A five-yard penalty was given to the Teachers, but they made up this loss when another pass of 18 yards was completed to McKay. Exley stormed the line for the remaining distance. The try for point was not good. The Staters gained possession of the ball soon after the kick-off in midfield. A third pass, this time for some 35 yards, landed in Paulson's arms who ran 15 yards for the second touchdown. Suptin kicked the point.

Roy, Lincoln Lose to P. L. C. Seconds

Coach Earl Percival sent his charges into battle against the Roy High eleven and against the reserves from the Lincoln High during the past week, and both times the Lutheran reserves were able to show the other teams a little better brand of ball. Opposing the Roy High School, our seconds out-fought their younger opponents, gaining a 13-0 victory.

Last Thursday the seconds again did battle, and won a 28-0 victory over the Lincoln reserves. Rumors have it that the Lincoln seconds prove a very good match for the varsity outfit of the same school.

In both contests, Holden Hauke was a tower of strength in the backfield, ripping and tearing holes through and around the opposing lines. Sanderson proved himself a capable running mate and did some of the scoring. On the line, Sydow, Dammel, Campbell, and Anderson were doing some fine work. Hergert, end, proved himself quite a glue finger in the Lincoln game by clutching the ball to himself on two occasions, both times over the goal line for a touchdown.

Were you one of the small crowd that witnessed the Ellensburg game? If you weren't, why not? A beautiful exhibition of football was given. It is known now, that we lost, but the team needs some more support at the games. If every day student made himself responsible for bringing to the game just two, besides himself, not counting some fair member of the student body, that would help a lot. Let's get behind our team and show up with a large crowd next Friday afternoon at the Lincoln bowl. You can promise the neighbors, your aunt, uncle or brother, that the game is going to be a fight and bring them along, but not in the side way. The dorm students can do much toward advertising the game if everybody, everywhere, will let people know that one of the best football teams in the city will be in action Friday.

A little error crept into the printed football schedule. Last week's paper announced that the Aberdeen team would play in Tacoma, November 7; such is not the case. The game will take place in Aberdeen on November 7.

Say, have you noticed what the second team has been doing? If you haven't, you can look this over. In three starts the reserves won all, not being scored on once in the process. To date Coach Earl Percival has not completed arrangements for further games, but is working on several possibilities.

I believe that the achievements of one of our high school students should be brought to the attention of all. Paul Preus, Jr., took his divot digging implements out and won the President's trophy cup of the Parkland Golf Club, in the last week. Nice work.

Speaking of golf, we may have some sort of a tournament arranged soon. You never can tell what might happen. At any rate, keep your golf clubs shined up and be ready to support any golf movement that might be started.

Alumni Reunion Date Selected

Basketball, Banquet, Choir Reunion to be on Program

February 20-21 were the dates selected for the annual alumni reunion by the executive board of the Pacific Lutheran College Alumni Association, which met on October 11 to discuss the work for the coming year.

A concert on Sunday afternoon, February 21, by all who have been members of the choirs under Professor Edwards, will be a special feature of the reunion. The corresponding secretary of the Alumni Association will arrange for the concert, with the help of a committee from the present choir.

The board appointed committees to work out a theme for the usual Saturday evening banquet, at which the Class of 1932 will be officially received into the ranks of the alumni.

The customary basketball games between P. L. C. squads and alumni teams will probably be played on Saturday afternoon. The services on Sunday morning will bring the reunion to a close. They will be in charge of the alumni, and an alumnus will preach the sermon.

The board modified the rules governing the Student Loan Fund, and transferred one hundred dollars to that fund from the general fund.

They agreed that the first homecoming, held last week, was successful, and passed resolutions expressing the appreciation of the alumni to the students and faculty for the entertainment, to the Trinity Luther League for the Friday evening party, and to

The corresponding secretary of the Alumni Association, requests that all members notify the College of any changes in address. The secretary also asks that the names of various local alumni groups be sent in.

The board will meet again November 15.

"India before the advent of Christianity" was the subject discussed by Prilljof Lokengard, of St. Olaf College, at a recent meeting of the Mission Study group at that school. "Before Christianity may be firmly established in India," said Mr. Lokengard, "and prosper there to any great extent, it is necessary that the caste system be uprooted."—Manitou Messenger.

Lutherans Face Bellingham Men; Last Home Fray

Next Friday afternoon, 2:30 to be exact, the Gladiators will swarm into battle against the Bellingham Normal team in the Lincoln High School bowl. The coming contest with the up-starters, promises to be very exciting, at least for the Lutherans. When the Gladiators suffered that second defeat, after such a brilliant and valiant fight, they decided that that was to be the last loss for them this year. Next week they are going to be out there to prove their contentions, and it is going to take a good team to show more fight.

All who are interested in seeing the Gladiators in action again this season should be at the Lincoln bowl, as the remainder of the Lutheran schedule will be away from home. During the following weeks the Gladiators will play in Bremerton and at Momgouth. The schedule as it is at present will close November 7 at Aberdeen.

THREE NEW BOOKS

Three books, "Fourteen Men Who Knew Christ," by Prof. Theodore Huggenik of the department of religion, "The Second Coming of Christ," by Olav Lee, professor of Latin and Hebrew, and a new "History of the Christian Church," by Prof. Charles Qualben of the department of religion, all of St. Olaf College, have been written during the summer.

These books are not only well constructed and adequate texts for the student, but should prove equally interesting to the general reader, and the intelligent and active church member.—The Manitou Messenger.

P. L. C. Wins Game With Kitsap A. C.

In a stubborn, hard fought battle, the Pacific Lutheran College gridder came out the victors in the game with the strong Kitsap Amateur Club at Bremerton, by a 6-0 score.

The Gladiators out-smarted the Clubmen in the initial part of the game to gain the only score of the contest. The Clubmen attempted a pass on the first play after the kickoff and the Gladiators intercepted well within the Kitsap territory. After a run around end for a long gain by Carlson, the Gladiators caught the Clubmen sleeping with a fake reverse that scored the touchdown.

After the scoring, in the first few minutes, the game was somewhat of a seesaw affair, with Coach Olson's men holding the upper hand. Not once during the course of the game was the Lutheran goal seriously threatened.

Lisherness and Carlson starred in the backfield, while the whole line functioned beautifully. Kaffee was outstanding for the Clubmen.
