

Girls Decide to Have Hiking Club

Elect Margaret Elliott Chairman, Kathryn Lamb Scribe: First Hike Soon After Vacation

A Hiking Club has been organized at Pacific Lutheran College. The girls who met on Wednesday, March 16, elected Margaret Elliott chairman of the club and Kathryn Lamb scribe. The first hike, which is being planned by Clara Fjermel, Rachel Flint and Dickie Leland, will be taken shortly after the Easter vacation.

The girls who joined the club at its first meeting were: Margaret Elliott, Avalon Wojohn, Ojona Wagbo, Alice Alvness, Hulda Simonson, Esther Westby, Agnes Berge, Margaret Olson, Grace Holte, Margaret Kaalund, Ruth Howard, Kathryn Patten, Evelyn Monson, Alberta Schmitz, Bernice Schaefer, Frances Newton, Dorothy Lehman, Berdine Knutsen, Margaret Jacobson, Angela Jacobson, Agnes Langness, Edna Pollock, Dorothea Hackard, Ruth Van Hoven, Ruth Goodwin, Ruth Newberg, Marie Gardelin, Kathleen Forath, Dickie Leland, Kathryn Lamb, Clara Fjermel, Mable Semason, Frances Andrews, Evelyn Johnson, Ina Bakstun, Hildur Johanson, Marie Johnson, Amelia Holmquist, Hela Thirane, Dorothy Delmarter, and Rachel Flint.

Drama Club Groups Again Present Plays

To give "Mistletoe and Moonlight," "The Right Answer," and "Kitchen Mechanic;" Date April 1

On April 1 the Drama Club will present three one-act plays in the College gymnasium. Each of the three groups in the Club gives a play once a month. In this way the students receive practice in dramatizations.

"Kitchen Mechanic," by the Pepper Players, has for its cast Frank Elliott as John Puzedown, Shirley Hecht as Mary Puzedown, and Kathryn Johnson as Cleo.

"The Masks and Daggers" will give "The Right Answer." Those taking part are Millard Quale, Ellen Soley, Nellie Arneson, Rachel Flint, Estelle Lehman, Dorothy Lehman, Pauline Schierman, Ina Prull, Nellie Olsen, and Esther Jahr.

"Mistletoe and Moonlight," with a cast including Ruth Howard, Ruth Pochert, Clarence Lemming, Clarence Roen, Marie Gardelin, Bob Monson, Norman Westling, and Norman Rostenstad, will be given by the Tri D's.

Mr. Thoren Speaks at Luther League Meeting

Millard Quale Leads Fervent Prayer Discussion

Mr. Thoren, who is in charge of the Lutheran Compass Mission in Tacoma, spoke at the meeting of the Trinity Luther League on Sunday evening, March 20. The rest of the program included devotions by Clifford Meaford, vocal solos by Mrs. Boynton, a reading by Ted Evinth, and piano solos by Bertram Olsen. Professor Highby and Bertram Olsen were hosts at the meeting.

At the Fiveth Hour, presenting the Luther League, Millard Quale led discussion on the topic, "What Means Most to Me, Christmas or Easter?"

April 8 Is Chosen For Annual Saga Carnival

Hauke Appoints Helen Thrane Chairman of Booths

Preparations for the Saga Carnival to be held April 8, have been definitely started with the appointment of Helen Thrane as general chairman of the booth committees. She will appoint several committees to assist her in arranging for the various booths. Hoiden Hauke, general chairman of the carnival, is working hard to make this year's attraction a success.

Although there have been no definite plans made as yet, it is certain that boxing and wrestling exhibitions will be a part of the entertainment, together with fortune-telling, mystery, nigger-baby, and refreshment booths.

Plan Sunrise Service For Easter Morning

Will Be Held at 6:30 on Chautauque Grounds; Sponsored by Tacoma Lutheran League

On Easter morning, March 27, a sunrise service, sponsored by the Luther Leagues of Greater Tacoma, will be held on the chautauque grounds at Pacific Lutheran College, beginning at 6:30. However, if it should rain the service will take place in the chapel.

Three young people will discuss the theme, "He Is Risen." A joint choir, under the direction of Professor Karl West of the First Lutheran Church of Tacoma, will provide special music. There will also be vocal and instrumental solos.

Following the service, breakfast will be served at the College.

The group of people from Tacoma who will attend the service plan to meet at the Y. M. C. A. and leave from there at 6:00. At 38th and Yakima Avenue they will meet the group from the south end of Tacoma and they will all come to Parkland together.

Elmer Tveit, a graduate of Pacific Lutheran College, is president of the organization which is sponsoring the service.

Sessions of Lutheran Students Union of Interest to Delegate

by Eric Hauke

The I. S. U. Convention at Concordia College, was beyond all doubt in my mind, the greatest convention I have had the privilege to attend; greatest in inspirations, in practical Christian ideas, and in cordial hospitality. It is as Rev. N. M. Ylvisaker said: "Seldom have we listened to such gripping, inspirational testimonies. The greatest conventions of the world, with combined great speakers from far and wide, have not been more fruitful." I sincerely thank the Student Body of Pacific Lutheran College for choosing me as their delegate to such a convention.

Tuesday evening, March 1, I was taken to the railroad station by Dr. Tingelstad, and was given some last minute advice. At 8:30 the train pulled out for points East. The next forty-eight hours were spent in eating, sleeping, and enjoying the beautiful scenery. However, on account of the high cost of eating and sleeping on the train, I managed to get along without much of either until I reached my destination at Concordia College. Although I traveled alone, I found many interesting people on the train to talk to, so between talking to people who were strangers to me, and watching the scenery, I found the time went very quickly.

TO OUR STUDENT YOUTH!

Readers of the Lutheran Herald will have observed that the Young Peoples Luther League is launching a campaign for a nation-wide Vest Pocket Testament League among the youth of our church. This league is already strong in some other large young people's organizations.

The need of daily Bible reading and prayer need not be argued. It is self-evident to any Christian. This need was never greater than in the present confused and unsettled times.

The plan is most simple. Every young person—and older persons as well—carries a New Testament in his vest pocket and reads a portion of it every day. God will do the rest.

It appears to the writer that nothing could be more appropriate than that the students at our Lutheran schools take the lead in this move. By this I mean that they immediately put the plan into effect by purchasing the Testaments and proceeding to use them daily.

Friends of Pacific Lutheran College will look in these columns for reports on the progress of the campaign. Here is an unusual opportunity for student leaders to show that theirs is a Christian leadership and that it is effective in the cause of Christ.

We shall eagerly watch our College and Academy papers for reports showing which of our schools will first report a hundred per cent membership in the Vest Pocket Testament League. With best wishes for success in the effort.

In Christ,

J. C. K. PREUS,
Educational Director.

Have Easter Egg Hunt At Pep Club Girls Party

The Pep Club girls had an Easter party on Sunday, March 20. After an Easter egg hunt in the dormitory, the girls had a luncheon in the recreation room. Grace Holte and Ellen Boley played piano solos, and Dickie Leland gave a talk.

Margaret Elliott and Jennie Iverson arranged the program. Olena Wagbo, Hulda Simonson, Charlotte Shoup and Margaret Kaalund prepared and served the luncheon.

P. L. C. Heads List in University Ranking

Nineteen Schools of College Grade Were Rated

When the annual ranking of groups of students of college grade transferring to the University of Washington was completed, Pacific Lutheran College headed the list of the nineteen Washington schools. The schools were compared on the basis of grades received by the students for the autumn quarter. Pacific Lutheran College had 2,558 "honor points." The average for the nineteen groups was 2,306.

The former P. L. C. students who were responsible for the honor given our College are Ruth, Matson, Herman Anderson, and Fred Selseth. Students who transfer to the University at the end of their high school course are not included in the comparative ranking.

Delta Rho Gamma Gives Luncheon for Day Boys

St. Patrick's Day Idea Is Carried Out

The Delta Rho Gamma gave a St. Patrick's Day luncheon in honor of the boy day students at the College on March 18 in the Church parlors. Clara Fjermel, president of the D. R. G., welcomed the boys. Introduced by Willie Pfueger, Oscar Fred Anderson and Harry Southworth, in behalf of the boys, thanked the girls for their hospitality.

The program included a duet by Anna Mikkelsen and Kathryn Patten, accompanied by Frances Andrews, a novelty number by Frances Jane Levin, accompanied by Ellen Boley, and a reading by Evelyn Arneson.

Lorraine Thoren was chairman of the luncheon committee, Frances Newton of the program committee, and Nellie Olson of the place card committee.

Arneson, Schierman Have Leading Roles In Senior Class Play

Three-Act Comedy: To Be Given at College May 6; Taylor to Direct; Proceeds For Class Gift

On May 6, the Senior Class will present "The Odd-Job Man" by Iida Larimore, a comedy in three acts. Try-outs for the play, were held Thursday evening, March 17. The judges were Mrs. L. B. Kriedler, Mr. P. E. Hauke, and Mrs. L. Taylor.

The cast is as follows:
John H. Gordon Harold Berentson
Celia Gordon Evelyn Arneson
Robert Gordon Eric Hauke
Dolly Gordon Esther Westby
Helen Spencer Helen Thirane
Nora Hildur Johanson
Kitty Miller Amelia Holmquist
Gerald Page Harry Southworth
Michael Thorne Alvne Schierman

The play tells about a young man who graduates from college with no other recommendation than his diploma, six medals for swimming, and a letter from the minister back home. Complications he meets are interesting.

Nebraska Choir Sings

Sixty Singers From Midland College Give Concert

The Midland College a capella choir, from Fremont, Nebraska, presented a concert at the Central Lutheran Church, in Tacoma, on Saturday evening, March 12. The choir of sixty voices, under the direction of Professor Oscar Lyders, was on its first Pacific Coast tour. Midland College is a United Lutheran Church school.

The following were the numbers sung: All Breathing Life Sing and Praise Ye the Lord; Bach: Grave; Not the Holy Spirit; Stainer: Advent Motet; Holy Roll; Ich Dich Empfangen; a nine part chorus built on the German Chorale; Song of the Night; Oubry; The Brook; Ruskanfsky; Music in the Mine; Diet; Arkansas Carol from the opera Christian Night; Rimsky-Korsakoff; Beautiful Savior; Christianison; Let Us Cheer the Weary Traveler, a negro spiritual; motet for six parts; Dett; Fun; Fun (Jolly Christmas March) arr. by Schindler; and Wake, Awake for Night is Flying; Nicolai, arr. by Christianison.

Tingelstad Says Meeting With A. L. C. Is Success

Dr. Tingelstad's mission in going East to the meeting of the American Lutheran Conference on March 17 was successful, according to a telegram received on Monday. This mission had to do with the plans of Mr. Paul A. Preus and Mr. Victor A. Elvstrom, field men who are working in behalf of the college in the Midwest. Mr. Preus is at present coming west, while Mr. Elvstrom is working in the northern states.

To Give Radio Program

Station KWBC, (1220 Kilocycles) the radio station of the Washington State College, at Pullman, will broadcast a German program at 8:30 on Tuesday evening, March 28. Reverend H. Mau, of Colfax, and Reverend Werner Fritz, student pastor at W. S. C., will speak.

READ—ACT

On our front page we print a letter received from the Reverend J. C. K. Preus, executive secretary of the board of education of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America. It is of great moment that a movement, such as this which the Reverend J. C. K. Preus is endeavoring to further, is reaching Pacific Lutheran College. We know of no better way [that] the word of God and the spirit of Christianity can reach young people than through an organization of the young people themselves, pledged to read the revealed word of God daily.

We would suggest that the leading religious organization of the school, the Mission Society, take up the problem of furthering the movement which Mr. Preus and others are supporting. This is the time and the opportunity to show that the schools supported by the Lutheran Church in America are unique in that they count their Christianity more than a mere name; that they are not just another system of higher education, but a really RELIGIOUS group.

THE CONSTITUTION

Much discussion on this immortal document is gradually shaping a body of law that is acceptable to the Student Body. That the committee which drafted the constitution did a good job is seen in the fact that most of the important features are being passed without criticism, although in many cases amendments are being attached. Changes include the omission of the Alumni member from the board of control, the granting to the coach the right to make the recommendations for the awarding of letters, and the omission of that part of a section which set the time and date when the board should meet.

PERSONAL MISSION WORK

Many of us feel that the only mission work done in the world is done by the missionaries, who go far into remote corners of the globe and convert poor, ignorant heathen. However, this attitude betokens a slacker in the widest sense of the word, for the command of Christ to go out to all the world and preach the gospel to every creature was spoken to each and every Christian. This means that EVERY PERSON who professes to be a Christian should dedicate his life to the spread of the Gospel.

Here at school is a wonderful opportunity to help in bringing others to a true faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and it should be the duty of every person who calls himself a Christian to make himself personally responsible for the welfare of his fellow. Especially should professors and deans take this responsibility very seriously, for if a Christian school does not make an attempt to bring every student to an intimate personal relationship with Christ, it fails of its fundamental and primary purpose, and may become, in the words of Martin Luther, a BROAD ROAD TO HELL.

Nothing quite takes the place of personal counsel and admonition, especially among those who have had a slight attack of Christianity and have become immune to any more. Only those consumed by a raging fever of Christianity can pattern their lives after Christ in this time of scoffing and unbelief.

TO SELECT ANNOUNCEMENTS

A committee composed of Alvene Schlerman, chairman, Amelia Holmquist, Pauline Schlerman, Harry Southworth, and Hulda Simonson, is looking over samples and will select the cards and announcements which will be used by the June graduates.

ONE YEAR AGO

The Mission Society gave a program to raise money to educate a boy in Madagascar.

It was definitely decided that the Choir should go to Chicago in the summer.

The Gladiators ended the basketball season with eight victories to their credit.

The Mooring Mast was the only junior college paper judged at the press conference at the L. S. U. convention.

George Washington invented the cream.

IT'S JUNE AND IT'S RAINING

When we think of June,
We think of the sun,
Of warm, summer days,
And all the flowers in bloom.
We plan to go fishing,
To go camping and swimming,
We want to play tennis,
And some golf, of course.
But what is the use?
It's June and it's raining.

Look out of the window
And what do you see?
The earth so full of water,
It can't hold another drop.
The flowers tilted to drooping,
They're not pretty any more.
The tennis courts are muddy,
The golf course is flooded.
It seems just like winter,
Yet we know that it's not—
It's June and it's raining.
—Marie Gardelin.

Choir Sings for W. E. A. Meeting at Tacoma Hotel

The "Choir of the West" sang a group of five songs at the annual meeting of the Pierce County unit of the Washington Education Association which was held at the Tacoma Hotel on Friday evening, March 18.
On Sunday, March 19, the Choir gave a concert at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Tacoma, where Rev. Scobery is pastor. Professor P. E. Haug spoke.

Humor is Funny

Humor is a funny thing! Many times an otherwise unpleasant situation has been saved by some one's sense of humor popping out. What a gray, dreary world it would be if everyone was deprived of his sense of humor and was not permitted to laugh at the many comedies ever present in his life and surroundings.

That no two persons have a sense of humor in the same degree, can not be doubted. It is plainly shown by the readiness with which some laugh at an incident which may not excite others to the least trace of a smile.

It is time to get out the good old medicine bottle, Spring is here, and with it the usual diseases of "Gazing out the Window," "Skipping Glasses," "Absent-mindedness," and many others which could be put under the general heading of "SPRING FEVER."

Unless science can find a new and much needed cure for this annual disease, the old remedy—vacation—will still have to be used.

Campus Features

Wandering about the campus the reporter noticed:

By Mildred Lee
Eric Hauke back again from his trip to the East and more full of pep than ever.
Chapel attendance very good.
Flocks (or is it coveys or heads) of boys turning out for spring activities.
A group of girls in the hall gathered about Mr. Edwards, janitor.
Paul Schermerman trying to make him sing "do."
Viola Larson asking for a smile from the little gentleman.
Evelyn Arneson talking baby talk to him.
Ella Johnson jealously trying to keep him to herself.
Brick Milton trying to act dignified now that he has just had another birthday.
Avalon Wojahn receiving a letter from Art Seencer.
Rachel Flint wishing the teachers would not have so many objections to the biographies of them that appear in the Morning Mast.
Hilmar Johanson telling a funny story in the midst of a laughing group.

Ravings by Rattlebrains

Lookout everybody! I, Prof. Rattlebrain, have just escaped from my private sanitarium at Stielacoom, and from now on I will prove conclusively to you, and anyone else who will believe me, that I am the greatest detective that ever slept on duty, so watch your private affairs, students!
Daisies won't tell, but maybe the violets that Kathleen Porath and Marie Gardin found Thursday morning told, because those two little girls are positive spring is coming (somewhere).
This makes a good story although it isn't true. Louise Schneider just had a birthday and now Einer isn't as happy as he used to be. You see Einer told Louise he would send her a rose for each of the years she had lived. The florist was an old friend of the Knudsen family and for friendship's sake added an extra half dozen to Einer's order. Maybe you can guess the result.
From a good source I hear that the Bonsteads have two new additions to their family—a new Buck, and a new baby girl—Bernice Karen Bonstead—if you please!
One time while Marie Johnson was boarding in the country, she spoke to the farmer about the savage way in which the cow regarded her. "Well," said the farmer, "it must be on account of the red waist you are wearing."
"Dear me," said Marie, "of course. I know it's frightfully out of fashion, but I had no idea a country cow would notice it."
Dorothy Winsor tells us that Erling declared that if she refused him, he would never love another woman. We wonder if that promise holds true if she accepts him? Toadie-oo—The Professor.

Mrs. Elisabeth Bondy

Frau Bondy to her German classes, Madam Bondy to her French classes, and Mrs. Elisabeth Holm Bondy to the rest of the school, has a past. Not, of course, a black or lurid past, but a decidedly unusual and entertaining one. For if Mrs. Bondy had the proverbial nine lives of a cat, they could not have been filled with more varied activity.

Beginning teaching at the age of 19, she attended Kansas State Normal during her summers, and graduated from there. Since then she has been teaching and studying both in this country and abroad. She taught at the Mason City, Iowa, high school, where she organized a group of camp fire girls. She taught English and Swedish in the Hartz mountains, and Dresden, Germany, and traveled over a great deal of France and Germany. Returning to the United States, Mrs. Bondy served as head of the modern language department of the Wichita, Kansas, high school and Fairmont College, of which she is a graduate. She studied at the University of Wisconsin and took her M. A. degree at the University of Washington, where she was a member of the second sophomore rowing crew. It was at the U. of W. incidentally, that she met Mr. Bondy.

Mrs. Bondy's home for the past fourteen years has been in Seattle, though since 1929, when she started teaching at P. L. C., she has made her home in Parkland during the week. She still likes to travel, has spent three months in Alaska, and this summer hopes to take pack horses, provisions, and her two boys, Percival and Laurance, and explore the Olympic mountains. It might be advisable for the students to keep close watch on this teacher for fear she might again be seized with the wanderlust and leave P. L. C. behind forever.

Chapel Gleanings

By Agnes Berge

All He needed to have done was to stay away to escape the suffering and death of the Cross.

The necessity lay in His infinite love for you and for me.

Jesus Christ saw us in the dangers of the fire of sin and His love would not let us perish.

For our sakes, His enemies, He died that we might live.

Some hear and believe, and some hear and do not believe.

Not all who heard His voice came to the knowledge of His word.

The word of God is a knowledge that leads unto salvation.

We must be guided and enlightened by the spirit of God.

It is important that we accept and believe the word of God.

In the word of God is comfort.

They wanted to make Him an earthly King.

The influence of Christ is penetrating.

They crucified their own King.

Are we crowning Him King in our own lives?

Jesus revealed Himself as being a King, but not as a King of this world.

The final culmination of sin is death.

We are given the opportunity to become acquainted with God.

Let us not betray the Savior.

Let us learn to know Him as He is revealed to us.

For to know Christ is to love Him, and to love Him is to serve Him.

The Savior is always ready to receive and to forgive.

Christ wept in compassion over His enemies.

Are we alone shouting "Hosanna," or have we been alone shouting "Crucify Him?"

Love is the greatest thing God has given us.

Human love should include all mankind.

He lays before us the necessity of the cross.

It is the Cross that offends men.

Tells of Experiences

logical Seminary gave the opening address in which he showed the need and usefulness of the College Press in the crusade for Christ. In the afternoon, the subject "Our College Papers—A Critical Review" was read by Norris Halvorsen, also of Luther Theological Seminary. After returning from a visit through the Fargo Forum plant, an open discussion was held concerning the Lutheran Press Association, college annuals, and senior and Junior college papers. These discussions were led by representatives of the various colleges.

At 8 o'clock Friday evening the first session of the Lutheran Students Union began with a welcome by Dr. J. N. Brown, president of Concordia College, to which Carl Hanson, president of the L. S. U., responded. The necessity for Crusaders with Christ was stressed by Dr. B. M. Christensen of Minneapolis, who spoke on the subject, "In a World of Great Need."

A business session was held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at which, among other things, the delegates voted to pay half the expenses of the Pacific Lutheran College delegate, elected John Mason, formerly of St. Olaf College, but now of Luther Theological Seminary, as president for next year. After the business session, Rev. J. C. K. Preus, Education Director of the N. L. C. A., gave an address on the topic, "In a World of Great Opportunity." He said, "Unless students see the need for and do all in their power to further God's Kingdom on earth, it is written on the walls that we are through."

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the main theme was developed more fully by Miss Edith Okerlund, whose topic was, "Face to Face With A Great Challenge," and by Rev. Andrew Burgess, of Madagascar, whose topic was, "To Win a World for Christ." Miss Okerlund showed how great was the challenge that all students are confronted with as regards the future of Christianity. Rev. Burgess described conditions as he has seen them in the various mission fields. After these addresses, the delegates were divided into different groups to discuss various phases of the general theme, "Crusaders with Christ." The groups then presented to the convention as a whole these vital questions: 1. How can we best interest indifferent students in religious activities? 2. How have I been influenced by the students of Church schools in my community? 3. Can the department of Christianity at the various colleges do more to bring to students a realization of their individual responsibilities to the Church? 4. Are our students living up to the Christian education they have received at our Church schools?

At 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon, a reception was given for all delegates by Concordia College, with Mr. Victor Boe, student president, as toastmaster. A representative of each school was called upon for a short speech. At 8 o'clock Rev. Frederick Schlotz, of Duluth, gave an address on "The Student's Part."

A most inspiring part of the convention was the Student Commission Service held Sunday morning, in which about 350 students partook of the Lord's Supper. Rev. Carl B. Yivisaker and Dr. Brown, both of Concordia College, administered.

Fireside hour was held in Trinity Lutheran Church at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Orestings from the three mission fields, Zulu, Madagascar and China, were given by students who have lived in those mission lands.

Rev. E. S. Hjortlund, of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, gave the rally address at the closing session. His topic was, "The Glory of the Crusade." He stated that the reason many students were not interested in the Church was because of the tendency of many ministers and Church workers to make Christ a walking, a "daisy," and one who goes around with his hands folded and as one who needs to be defended, instead of presenting Christ as a powerful, dynamic, vital, and necessary force in one's life.

RIBBING THE PROFS

The professors are continually being "ribbed." We see jokes about them, we hear threats against them, and we see bricks hurled at them. Not long ago, after the report cards had been distributed, many murmurings were heard against this and that professor for not "doing right by" "she" and "he." Later these sentiments were forgotten, and student feeling ran smoothly again. What good did this talk do? Nothing, but nevertheless the professors had been "ribbed," and they knew it. It is human nature for students to talk, and it is, in turn, proper for the instructors to lend a deaf ear; for nothing is so useless as advice on how to handle professors. All in all, it is six inches one way and half a foot the other, because every time some high brow professor lays down the law, some low brow student steps on it.

Not long ago I heard a joke about Prof. Highby, and if I were a betting man, I would wager that it was not true. It seems that Highby had been the only witness to a hit and run mishap, and upon being asked by the officer in charge if he had remembered the license number of the car, Mr. Highby answered in these words, "I'm afraid that I have forgotten it. But I remember noticing that if the number were multiplied by itself, the cube root of the product would be equal to the sum of the digits reversed."

Then we have the one about Mr. Ramstad in faculty meeting: "The result of our discussion for the past half hour is that man has freedom of the will. I regret that I cannot continue the subject today, as I have to go shopping with my wife. But do not shed a tear for them because they seem to thrive on it. But students should also remember that the average professor is like an egg. If you keep him in hot water, he soon becomes hardboiled."

—Bob Monson.

Non-Decision Debate With College of Puget Sound

A non-decision debate between the Pacific Lutheran College boys affirmative team and the College of Puget Sound boys negative team took place on March 9. Robert Reid and Fred Walter debated on the affirmative side of the P. Kappa Delta question against Herman Matson and John Charles Thomas of C. P. S. The debate was held at P. L. C.

The Voice of the Mountain

I am the Mountain.
Above the racetraced fields I lift my head
Blend above the plain.
The guardian of the verdant land am I.
As calm and unafraid
I tower in the blue expanse above.
Blend with the misty sky.
Symbol of righteousness.
I watch the wheels of progress at my feet.
Which crush and crumble man's poor, weak attempts
At power all supreme.
For eons I have watched this everlasting battle.
Have seen the stalwart Indian give way to white man's knowledge that exceeds his skill.
The struggle is unending, but I see That science will prevail and mass become.
Thru countless victories over, the great unknown.
The conqueror over little.
Alone I stand above the forest top.
Watching the pageant rolling far below.
Across the plains, the waters, and the trees.
Alone, I still remain the symbol of all power.
That comes through might and strength.
Men now have clambored over all my sides.
And yet I still remain, and shall thru all the ages,
Unconquered and eternal.
—Bernice Schafer.

Matson, Oyen Entertain Seattle-Kent Alumni Club

The Seattle-Kent P. L. C. Alumni Club met in Seattle, March 12. Miss Ruth Matson and Mr. Arnt Oyen were the bustles and host. A new innovation was introduced at this meeting in that a short program was rendered. The meeting was opened by the singing of P. L. C. pep songs led by Gerhard Lane. A letter for "Dear Ma and Pa" written by "Your affectionate daughter, Cherobik" (alias Ingeborg Bolstad) was read by Arnt Oyen. Miss Halcyon Siegel entertained with two piano solos. This was followed by a humorous reading rendered by Mrs. Berger Neison. The last two numbers on the program were vocal solos by Miss Solveig Rynning.

The members of the gathering were then divided into groups of four and competitive games were played. Mrs. Berger Neison won the prize for having the highest score for the evening. Following the games refreshments were served, after which the gathering disbanded. This was the largest number of alumni, former students, and P. L. C. friends that had ever attended the meetings, the total number being twenty-four. The next meeting will be held some time in April at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hauge, near Kent, Washington.

Missionary Hardships Discussed by Xavier

Dagry Hjortlund, Gudrun Holstad and Grace Holte on Program
Professor Xavier spoke at the Mission Society meeting on March 10 about the hardships encountered by foreign missionaries. Other numbers on the program were a reading by Dagry Hjortlund and a piano duet by Gudrun Holstad and Grace Holte.
The students are asked to remember the envelopes which the Society distributed. They will be collected on March 23, and the money in them will go to support a boy in Madagascar.

Enrollment at Capital University, Columbus, Ohio, for the second semester, numbers 471.
