'Children's Theatre'

Another in a series of children's literary classic dramatizations will be offered by the Pacific Lutheran University Children's Theatre M rch 6-7, 13-15.
"Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates" by Mary Mapes Dodge will be performed by a 19 -member cast 8 p.m. Friday, 7 , and at 2:30 p.m. March 8 and 15.

In addition, for other performers beginning March will be offered for school children in the PLU area.

The Children's Theatre, now in its 13th year and offering its second production of the current season, was organized and is still directed by Eric Nordholm, PLU drama professor.

The hour-and-a-half production recalls the familiar story of Hans and Gretel Brinker who were riciculed by other children because of their crude wooden skates. Both, however, overcame their hardships and the story ends happily as Hans courageously skates to obtain a doctor for his ill father and Gretel wins a skating match.

Hans Brinker is played by Charles Hewitson, Portland. His sister, Gretel, is portrayed by Laurie Swanberg, Pasco. Dame and Raff Brinker are played by Sandy Sanford, Everett; and Peter Chistopherson, Seattle.

Other members of the cast are Julie Halvorson, Greg Nelson, Jim Rockom, Helen Hardke, Dave Richardt, Robert Hasselbad, Melanie Jensen, Tom Wagner, Bill Lundstrom, Margit Hokenstad, Laurie Smead, Dennis Goin, Denny MacNealy, Robert Ayres and Jim Hotvedt.

Tickets are available at the Eastvold Auditorium box office one to 5 p.m. weekdays and an hour preceding the afternoon performances. Children's tickets are 35 cents; adults, 75 cents.

Dr. Ernst Schwidder wears Marxhausen creation.

Church Artist's Work Displayed At Gallery

The works of Reinhold P. Marxhausen, associate professor of art at Concordia Teachers College in Seward, Nebr., will be displayed in The Gallery, Robert Mortvedt Library, throughout the month of March.

In additicn the artist, who specializes in creations for church display, will speak at Thursday convocation in Eastvold Chapel March 13.

Marxhausen has a mission: To change, to improve the visual arts in Christian worship; to put into churches op, pop, impressionistic art-art that speaks to modern Christians.

He will also be available in The Gallery from 2-4 p. m. March 13, for those who wish to discuss his creations and church art in general.

Many of Marxhausen's works hang in churches throughout the country. He also has two 13 by 18 -foot murals in the Nebraska state capitol.

Dr. Ristuben Earns Indian Study Grant

Dr. Peter J. Ristuben (history) has received a $$ 1,500$ summer stipend for the National Endowment for the Humanities, one of four awarded to Washington state scholars this surmer .

Dr. Ristuben has proposed an intensive study of Northwest Indians and their problems in adapting to an urbanized and industrialized society.

Dr. Peter Ristuben

In seeking to establish a definite cultural and historical background in connection with the study, Dr . Ristuben hopes that the project will also be of considerable interest to the Indians themselves, as well as scholars.

His study will include visits with the elders of local tribes, analysis of available written records and accounts, as well as research at local colleges, universities and the Washington State Historical Society.

Dr. Lowe To Head Tour Of Far East

Dr. Joseph Lowe (pol. sci.), a former Republic of China Army colonel, will lead a summer study tour to the Far East June 14-July 16.

The trip for course credit has been planned as a first-hand look at the political systems of China, as well as Japan and Korea.

A comparative analysis of these political systems will be made through an intense program of observations and meetings with governmental and educational leaders in the three countries. Free China will be exhaustively studied in Taiwan with study of Communist China conducted in Hong Kong, where contacts with the mainland are maintained.

The $$ 1,320$ price includes a $$ 100$ reservation deposit that must accompany each application. This must be made by April 1. The balance is due no later than May 1.

Membership is limited to 20 enrollees. For applications contact the registrar's office.

Knights Drop Finale To UPS, 81-73

Pacific Lutheran University Knight cagers put the wraps on the 1968-69 basketball season Wednesday, dropping an 81-73 decision to the University of Puget Sound Loggers.

The Knights opened an early 5-2 lead, fell behind and took a 16-15 lead before Dave Lindstrom put the Loggers ahead for good. The Loggers took their largest lead of the first half into the dressing room at intermission, 41-32.

In the second half the Lutes took over, but too late. UPS outscored PLU 13-6 in the first eight minutes for a $54-$ 38 lead. Then it was Lutes 13, Loggers 11 in the next five minutes. The Lutes then outscored the Loggers 18-9 and 22-12 to move within four points in the final minutes until UPS nailed on the lid with the final four points.

Sinnes, Kollar and Miller keyed the final effort with six points each after Palm kept the Lutes within shouting distance midway in the half with eight counters.

Scoring leaders were Sinnes 18 , Palm 15, Miller 14 and Kollar 10. Kollar picked up rebounding honors with nine.

With the end of the game came the end of an era. The game was the intercollegiate athletics last presentation at Memorial Gymnasium, which has served the Lutes since 1947.

PLU's cagers had a winning season that year as they have every year since, a 22 -year record that cannot now be broken.

During that period, the Knights played for only two coaches, who split their tenure evenly. Marv Harshman, now head coach at Washington State, held a 222-88 (.713) mark. Gene Lundgaard's record is now 195-98 (.662).

Four Lutes achieved All-Northwest Conference recognition on either the first or second teams.

Mike Warner saves a PLU pass during the late rally that gave the PLU Jayvees a 77-76 win over UPS.

*     *         *             *                 *

Junior forward Al Kollar 6-6, was a first team selection. Kollar hit 287 points this year and led the Lutes in rebounds with 232.

Junior forward Leroy Sinnes, 6-5, freshman center Ake Palm 6-8, and 5-10 junior guard Kevin Miller all made the second team. Sinnes led the team in scoring with 340 points, and Palm had the best freshman year of any Lute since Curt Gammell in 1962-63, scoring 275 points.

Miller was the team sparkplug and floor leader.

Kollar and Sinnes both moved within range of the exclusive PLU 1000-point club this season with one year to go.

Kollar's three-year production is now 969 points, good enough to stand ninth on the all-time list. Though records are not complete below 1000 points, it appears that Sinnes now stands llth with 844 points in three years.

PLU Dominates Ski Meet Competition

Pacific Lutheran University dominated the men's competition and finished a close second in women's events at the first UPS Invitational Ski Meet at Alpental last weekend.

Winning the men's skimeister and combined trophy was Dave Christopherson, PLU, who won the men's jumping event, finished third in cross country and finished seventh in giant slalom.

PLU swept the first three places in jumping competition with Chris Eidel and Kobey Kemple behind Christopherson. Kemple also placed ninth in giant slalom.

Other top performances were turned in by Jerry Gugel, second in men's cross country; Ragna Fotland, second in women's cross country; and John Larson, third in men's giant slalom. Jan Lenox finished third in women's cross country and eighth in giant slalom.

FRIDAY NOON MUSIC FEATURES  STUDENT RECITAL THIS WEEK

The Friday Noon Music series this week features a student recital in Xavier Auditorium March 7 at 12:30 p.m.

These weekly recitals are taped and can be heard in the main library for one week.

INTERIM PROGRAM PLANNING COMMITTEE SELECTED

President Mortvedt announced this week that the following members of the faculty have agreed to serve as a Special Committee on Interim Program Planning: Dr. Peter Ristuben, history; Dr. Burton Nesset, chemistry; and Dr. Ernst Schwidder, art.

The purpose of the committee is to study and recommend effective and exciting courses for the interim program, to be offered in January, 1970, as part of the 4-1-4 calendar.

Chaired by Dr. Ristuben, the committee will function on a full-time basis during both terms of the summer session, completing its task by September 1, 1969. However, a good part of the long-range planning, talking and thinking will be done before the end of the current semester. Careful and thoughtful planning are absolutely essential if a solid, effective interim program is to be offered. Faculty members will be approached for counsel, suggestions and ideas.
