Alumni Reunion To Feature Game, Smorgasbord, Mixer

PLC's annual Alumni Reunion for 1951 will be observed on the campus Saturday, February 17, and Sunday, February 18. A full two days of activity and entertainment is promised to the grads who come to the campus.

One of the special features of this year's reunion is the combination price of the banquet and basketball game. The smorgasbord banquet and admission to PLC versus Central Washington basketball game will both be only $1.75 to alumni, according to Betty Christenson and Helen Snyder, co-chairmen for the affair.

DRG's and Dates To Eat, Perform At "Valentolo"

Present and former members of Delta Rho Gamma and their escorts will step into a land of "hearts and flowers" in the SUB next Friday at 7 p.m. for the fourth annual Valentolo.

A Valentine theme will be carried out in the decorations and program theme for the formal ballroom-style banquet. A special program is being planned by Co-Chairmen Carol Schuler and Shirley Sagehorn.

Committees are working under the following chairman: decoration, Jackie Hainold and Lucille Wheeler; food, Marianne Stacy and Dorothy Sweet; publicity, Lois Gates and Leona Sullivan; clean-up, Rosemary Nordhagen and Martha Conlisk; programs, Carol Schuler and Shirley Sagehorn; entertainment, Marjorie Anderson and Shirley Wall.

Tickets are available at $1.75 per couple. They may be purchased from Shirley Moller and Betty Hall.

Non-Credit Greek Class Is Still Open

When the non-credit Greek course met for the first time last Monday evening, 23 students learned to read and write the Greek alphabet.

This information is available on mimeographed sheets for those who would still like to join the class, according to Prof. Keltner Row.

The class will meet for nine more sessions each Monday evening in L-117. New members are invited.

Students to Present Plays for Defense

With the cooperation of the drama students at PLC, Parkland's civil defense board may realize the funds needed for the purchase of medical supplies, according to Mrs. Al Seaman, civil defense coordinator.

The students will put on several one-act plays in March with all the proceeds going to the civil defense medical supplies fund. The performances have tentatively been set for March 16 and 17.

Spiritual Emphasis Week Here

Pastor Norman L. Hammer, founder of the famed Hollywood "Drive In" church, will be the special speaker for Spiritual Emphasis Week, February 11-16. He will speak daily at chapel and each evening in the SUB.

Believing that "a church should be part of the community," has given Pastor Hammer the vision that was needed to accomplish an amazing piece of work in a relatively short time.

The Evangelical Lutheran church called Pastor Hammer, in 1945, to begin a home mission project in North Hollywood. Since that time he has built a church that is flourishing, a parish house, organized a day school for 150 boys and girls, secured six acres for recreational facilities, including a lighted play field, and his original summer "Drive In" church.

"Take Up His Cross and Follow," will be Pastor Hammer's subject Sunday morning, February 11, 11 a.m., when he speaks at Trinity Lutheran church. He also will speak to the LSA group Sunday evening at 6:30 in the SUB.

His chapel addresses are: "Inner Propa," "The Great 'I'," "Good Medicine," "Thank God, I belong," and "Love Your Level Best."

He will also be giving evening chats in the SUB. His subjects for these chats will be: "Detour Ahead," "The Drawn Sword," "Whence Shall We Buy Bread?," "Can God Help Me?," and "Is It Worth It?"

NORDYKE MISSING

A former PLC student, Elwyn Nordyke, has been reported missing in action since November 28 by the War Department.

PLC Faculty Century Show Leaves Audience Howling

By Don Breimo

Pacific Lutheran College's faculty proved to a capacity crowd in the SUB last Saturday night that they are talented when it comes to the vast field of entertainment.

From the time of the triumphant entry of Michelle Frantz Frank's German band at the beginning, until the last note of applause by the audience at the end, the program was most entertaining, as everyone identified our illustrious faculty with the characters on the stage.

The theme of the show was "progress through the century with our faculty," and the capable master of ceremonies was Theodore O. H. Karl, head of the speech department.

The members of the band, which was directed by Dr. Frank, PLC history professor, were the musical male members of our faculty, namely Roe, Raabe, Aker, Malmis, Jordahl, Ramsted, Larson and Fritz. The music was surprisingly melodic—what, I am sure, can be attributed to the excellent conductorship.

Another musical group which will be shown is history in the "PLC Harmonizers," was composed of the faculty.

Cupid Has Helpers For Valentine's Day

Don Cupid will have many local helpers Valentine's Day, February 14, when PLC's Spurs will assist the young soldier with telegraphed messages.

Well-wishers may write their thoughts at booths in the hall of Old Main or in the SUB. Spurs will type and send messages to be read or sung—at the rate of one cent a word.

Chairmen for the day's activities are Grace Foyge, telegrams, and Harriet Olson, publicity.

A visit in chapel Tuesday, February 13, will give students a preview of the unique service provided by Spurs.

Mooring Mast Adds Editors, Reporters

Several changes and additions have been made to the Mooring Mast staff this semester, according to Mrs. Harriet Hansen, adviser.

Don Breimo, last semester's associate editor, is the new editor. Jeanne Schief will be the associate editor. Two former reporters, Joyce Gann and Judy Bergman, will take over as feature editors.

Taking over advertising solicitation are Ken Johnson and Les McKay. Dale Keller has been added to the sports staff.

New reporters include Chuck Foster, Jim McVey, Vaughn Nelson, and Doris Shaw.

Frosh, Sophs Vieing in CPS Tyro Tourney

Eighteen PLC underclassmen will be missing from the campus this weekend, as they compete with students from 38 colleges in the annual Tyro Forensics tournament at CPS.

This is the third year PLC has participated and so far the group has won the wickets once and lost by one point in the finals to Linfield last year.

Debate teams participating include Alan Hatan and Will Rieck, John Rydman and John Osborn, Charles LaQua and Shirley Francis, Janet Olson and Jeanne Schief, Lela Stark and Edith Engel, and James Klippen and Joyce Gann.

Entered in the oceanic debate are Bill Finke and Philip Myhre. Competing in individual events will be Kathryn Rude, Helen Jensen, John Waldorf and Harriet Olson.

Rev. Steinhoff Will Meet With ULC

Rev. Lawrence Steinhoff, president of the Pacific Synod of the United Lutheran Church, will meet with ULC students at 7 p.m. Monday in the SUB.

The former pastor of University Lutheran church in Seattle, Rev. Steinhoff now travels to seminaries and Lutheran colleges consulting with students of the United Lutheran church.

PLC to Observe Lenten Season

Ask Wednesday, Feb. 7, marked the opening of the Lenten season. Special attention is given, during the Lenten season, to the supreme sacrifice made for our salvation in the suffering and death of Jesus Christ.

Trinity Lutheran church will observe the Lenten season with special services each Wednesday at 8 p.m. Dr. Steen invites all students and faculty members to attend.

The Light in a World of Darkness

Ash Wednesday, February 7, began another season of Lent, which centers around Christ's last days upon the earth. His suffering, sacrifice, and resurrection.

Most of us know the significance of this blessed season, but just what as students of a Christian college or as Christians in a troubled world are we expected to do?

Marking the beginning of the Lenten season and exemplifying the purpose of an institution such as ours, Spiritual Emphasis Week will begin on our campus Monday under the direction of Rev. Hammer of Hollywood, California. Not only should we be in attendance at these "Christ-centered" meetings, but we also should pray and ask God that we might receive spiritual enlightenment during the coming weeks.

Also, each Wednesday evening at Trinity Lutheran Church and at all the Protestant churches throughout the world, excepting those dominated by a power which has placed themselves above the Almighty, weekly Lenten services will be held. Attend these services and bring a friend to hear the "Passion Journey" to the Cross and the saving word for all Christians that only through our Savior's dying upon that Hill, are we able to have life eternal.

Encourage others to attend these special services and pray that they and you might know the true meaning of John 3:16.

No matter how hopeless and dark the world may seem to us, remember "Christ IS the Light of the World."—D.B.

Chapel Quotes

Dr. Pfeiffer:

Jesus Christ opened the way by which we can really enjoy this life, because he brought assurance of the life to come.

We will never sing songs in heaven if we do not learn to sing them here on earth.

Heaven is God's home and the way tollwoven is God's way—Jesus.

No one who has walked the way prepared by Christ has ever failed to reach eternal peace.

Pastor Sauer:

When the world talks of peace it is thinking only of all the earthly freedoms and material goods necessary to enjoy life.

This world can never have lasting peace as long as it leaves Christ out of its peace conferences, for Christ alone has signed the only eternal peace treaty with His blood on the cross.

This peace comes to man through God's Word, Baptism and the Sacrament of the altar.

Dr. Attraup:

Words without actions do not mean very much; let your actions confirm your words.

How can anything happen to us if we are following God's will and doing His work.

"Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth." should be included in every prayer we pray.

Dr. Farnold:

Everyone who believes that Jesus is God will find life much more peaceful, beautiful and satisfying than those who just think Jesus was a good man. With man it is impossible to be saved, but with God all things are possible.

Tale Talk -

Last week marked the return of... students who were exhausted from... At soon as their last... was over Marion Christensen and Betty Louisa boarded the bus for sunny California. Anne Schwandt and JoAnne Schwarzwalter headed for Eastern Washington while Overmound were Darleen Hall, Clarice Gundersen and Betty Hanson. The students remaining on the campus caught up on sleep missed while transiting.

Classes got in full swing after much contemplation and deliberation over class schedules. Rumors were heard that Ray Green had enrolled in Miss Berge's advanced shorthand class and Bob Brug is taking his required Greek course this semester. We also heard Roberta Schoessler is taking Methods of Teaching Football from Harshman as her desired vocation is to return to Latsville next year as assistant line coach. Seamus Rolf Lunde is dropping woodworking for an easier course—Advanced Calculus and Differential Equations. Kenny Dungs thinks Mr. Zulauf's Marketing course will be beneficial since he, too, intends to enter the fatal step. The evening Greek class which started last Monday seems to be attracting PLC ladies as well as the masculine members of our college. Marianno Pfeiffer, Vange Kimbach, and Mona Sandvik are all planning to attend.

Besides new class schedules the new semester also brings new faces. With the enrolling of Doris George, PLC now has two of the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival princesses. Freshman Jean Harneit was also a princess. Another new fresh, Beverly Pine, isn't complaining about the cold weather as she comes from Minnesota, Montana. Hailing from the state capital is Margaret Fleming, Glenwood and friend of Mildred Foote, Jean Seberg, and Marilyn Djarf are glad to see their back in Latsville again.

While new students were arriving, goodbyes were being said to students leaving at the end of the semester. Barbara Pittenger went home to Ephrata while Louise Teich was on her way to Ritzville. California-bound were Bud Paulson and Doug Henry. Wedding plans were ahead for Janet Peake as she would wed to her friends.

Introducing Two Outstanding Lutes Who Shine In Speech Department

This is the beginning of a series featuring outstanding students in the various departments on the PLC campus. This week we want you to meet two Lutes who "shine" in the Speech department.

Freshman Shirley Francis is this week's choice for the outstanding girl in the Speech department. Shirley, a resident of Fife, has been very active in speech work in high schools as well as at PLC.

Debate and oratory work as well as being student body president filled Shirley's high school days. She tied for outstanding girl debater at the WSC tournament last year. She placed in many state debate tournaments.

At PLC, Shirley has been a leading member of the Forensics squad. She tied for first place in debate at the recent Seattle Pacific contest. As a member of the PLC team she won a demonstration debate held at the University of Washington recently.

With all her speaking talent, Shirley is an asset to PLC speech department.

John Rydgren

John Rydgren, the "Scrooge" of the PLC campus, recently won first place in the All-School Oratorical Contest. John was victorious over five

Saga Manager Asks Clubs to Pay Bills

All Saga bills must be paid by March 1, according to Karl Bachner, business manager. Checks requiring no receipt may be left at the switchboard. All accounts not closed by March 1 will be listed weekly in the Mooring Mast until paid.

LSA Members Will Hear Rev. Hammer

Rev. Norman Hammer, Spiritual Emphasis Week guest from North Hollywood, Calif., will speak to all LSA'ers in attendance Sunday evening at 6:00 p.m. in the SUB.

This will be a regular meeting of the Lutheran Students' Association of PLC, with Dr. Hammer's message the highlight of the evening. All students and faculty are cordially invited.

LOCALS WIN HOOP HONORS

Head basketball mentor, Mary Harshman, might find no more valuable material among the personnel of two local teams, the Blacksox and the Parkland Merchants. These teams are composed of PLC boys who wanted to play ball just for the sake of playing; they acquired a sponsor and entered two leagues in Tacoma. So what happened? The Blacksox walk off with the championship of the Independent League and the Parkland Merchants cop the title of the Evergreen League.

Both outfits were entered in the local Class "A" A.A.U. Tournament. The Parklanders went automatically, as a result of their championship, but the Blacksox had it a little tougher, having first to win the Class "B" A.A.U. Tournament. First of the two teams to drop out of the thirty-two team tourney were the Blacksox, who lost two straight. As of Wednesday, the Parklanders are still in the draw, having won their first two encounters. Their first triumph was over one of the tourney favorites, 38th Street, in two overtime periods. Wes Saxton, former PLC hoopster, tallied 22 points for the losers.

Many Lute athletes play for both quintets. The Blacksox roster reads like this: Stan Monson, Wally Solen, Bob Dinsmore, Bob Knutson, Bill Tollefson, Boer Kandal, Jack Johnson, Earl Nordeng and Dale Keller. For the Parklanders, Milt Hefty, Hal Schnupp, Harry Malnes, Bob Nielsen, Claude Hunsaker, Ray Tolmason and Jim Nogleberg make up the outfit.

Sayer's Players Defeat Bums In Intramural Upset

With final exams and other interruptions behind them, the intramural basketball teams get back into full swing again this week.

Last week found three forfeits, one upset and one team dropping from the league. Forfeiting games were the Lower Slobbovians to the Blacksox, Bethel to the Beavers and Bethel to the Hasbeens. The head office of the intramural teams was notified last week that the Bethel team was withdrawing from the league for reasons unknown.

The high-riding Ballard Bums were handed their first defeat of the season by the Sayer's Players, 16 to 19. Big Bob Ingman, with his superb backboard playing, along with his nine points for the game, seemed to be the downfall for the Bums.

The pre-season favorites are still hanging tough in their respective leagues. The Beavers and the Hasbeens hold down the first and second slots, respectively, in the Sunset loop.

In the Evergreen league the Hot House Boys and the Mongolians are still battling it out for the number one spot. The meat packing Ballard Bums and the Blacksox, each with one defeat, are pointing for the top berth in the Ivy league.

John Jurkovich is the league's top scorer for the season with 48 points. Bob Ingman and LeRoy Spitzer are tied for second place, each with 31 points.

LEAGUE STANDINGS

League	Team	Won	Lost

Glads Face Busy Week In Bid For N.A.I.B. Spot

All Pacific Lutheran hopes for a berth in the state N.A.I.B. playoffs will depend upon the quintet's performance in their remaining five conference tilts. The Lutes will meet three conference foes in the following week and also tackle Seattle U. in a non-conference game. Then the Harshmen will rest a week before completing the Evergreen slate against CPS and St. Martin's.

Lutheran Hopes For Tournament Berth Lowered

Eastern's powerful 5boys and the lofty Whitworth hoop fives virtually clinched berths in the district N.A.I.B. tournament as both quintets posted narrow wins over the Gladstators.

Guard Jim Doherty and his 26 points plus the rebound and tip-in ability of the Pirates' front line proved too much as they downed the Lutes for the second time, 66-54, last Monday.

Wednesday's affair was one of the tightest played and most thrilling contests that PLC fans have witnessed this year. Eastern's stalling tactics in the last three minutes paid off in victory. With four minutes remaining in the game and the score knotted at 48-48, Whitehill hit for two and his teammates added two free tosses. They then went into their freeze, which proved to be the undoing of the Gladstators.

Again Gene Lundgaard topped the scorers for both squads with 26 points. Elongated Dick Eicher tallied 13 to lead Eastern.

Lutes vs Western

Tomorrow night PLC will entertain a hot and cold outfit from Western, on their home court. In the first meeting between the two squads, a last-minute tip-in by Gene Lundgaard gave the Glads a 51-49 decision over the Vikings. Western's position in the league, seventh place, sounds as if they might be duck soup, but the Viks are always tough for the Parkland boys.

The Westerners' record might be more impressive if they had a few more Stan Petersons. Stan, a 6-foot guard, has supplied most of the scoring punch for Bill McDonald's boys this season. This three-year letter winner from Poulsbo will be the Lutes' biggest worry tomorrow night.

Landgaard vs O'Brien
The long-awaited battle between Gene Lundgaard and Johnny O'Brien will become a reality Tuesday night when PLC journeys to Seattle to take on the speedy Seattle University Chiefs. Many Lute fans had high hopes that the Glads would be the team to break the Chiefs' winning streak, however that honor went to Gonzaga. A victory over Al Brightman's five, which dumped PLC, 70-59, early in the season, would be an accomplishment, though. John O'Brien isn't the only scorer of the outfit. Leo Whittles, Ed O'Brien, Elmer Speidel, Ray Mawvel, Jack Doherty, and Bob Wigin all are deadly shots and good ball handlers, and will all give the Glads a tough time.

Play Central Next Week
A two game series with Central will wind up a busy week for the Lutherans, with a contest at Ellensburg on Thursday and the second one here Saturday night. Leo Nicholson's quintet, which last year won the district N.A.I.B. tourney, had its entire starting five from last season. The Wildcats use the fast break system, familiar to PLC fans.

School Library Adds 100 Volumes On Every Subject Imaginable

Although the library adds a few books every day, a wealth of new books—over a hundred new volumes—were added to the reference shelves this week, according to Professor O. J. Stuenkel, librarian.

There are books for the person who likes to study culture in the forms of painting, music, and reading, such as:

Concordia Choir Thrills Audience At PLC Tuesday

Singing praises to God with a fervent spirit, the elite school Concordia Choir from Moorhead, Minnesota, presented a concert under the direction of Paul J. Christensen, last Tuesday in the Memorial gymnasium.

From the singing of the firm and triumphant "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," until the last glorious phrase in "Beautiful Saviour," the sixty-one voice choir displayed an unusual technique in dashing and interpretation.

The varied program ranged from works by Bach to contemporary composers. It also included Finnish, Danish and French carols and works by F. Melin Christensen, father of the director. Displaying excellent balance and superb tone color, the choir held the audience completely throughout the entire program.

Following the concert, the "Choir of the West" and members of the Concordia Choir and Concordia Alumni joined in a reception in the SUB.

"I Remember Mama" Tonight in SUB

Because the Redondo Skating Rink burned down, the Letterman's club will sponsor several movies tonight at 8 p.m. in the SUB, instead of the originally planned skating party.

"I Remember Mama," starring Irene Dunne, and several sports movies will be shown.

Look Out, Men: Girls Take Up Basketball

PLU Women's Athletic Association is on the ball again!

Yes, they have begun a new schedule and are now playing basketball. They have chosen teams as they did in volleyball and will be playing each evening night. All girls, members and non-members, are invited to come and participate.

Clara Gunderson was chosen captain and is in charge of all games.

SAGA SENIOR PICTURES

Although most of the seniors have faithfully had their pictures taken and returned the proofs to Lutz Studio, a few must still return their proofs immediately or they will not be included in the Saga.

"History of American Painting," by Barker; "Musical Instruments—Their History in Western Culture," by Gröninger; and "A World Treasury of Proverbs from Twenty-five Languages," by Davidoff.

Or, in the real field, and the study of countries, the volumes: "The Story of the American Negro," by Brown, and "The Land and the People of Mexico," by Norralde, are interesting.

In the field of religion, and Christianity, in particular, there are a great many books published every month. These include: "Here I Stand," a story of the life of Martin Luther, which was written by Haimon; and "Why I Know There Is a God," by Ourlier.

Boys should be especially interested in "Sports—for the Fun of It," by Tunis.

List Carnival Booth Entries Immediately

Clubs desiring to enter a booth at the Saga Carnival, April 20 and 21, should make their intentions known immediately, according to Karl Becker.

Plans are being made to award a trophy for the best booth. This trophy will remain the permanent property of the club sponsoring the winning booth. Booths will be judged according to originality, attractiveness, operation and general all-around appearance.

All clubs are expected to appoint a committee of two men, if possible, whether or not they are planning to sponsor a booth, to work with the Saga staff in preparing the gymnasium for the occasion.

ALUM DROWNING VICTIM

Alfred Anderson, 27, drowned Jan. 21 when he fell off a wharf on Vashon Island into the icy water. Anderson was president of the PLU Alumni Association in the middle thirties and played on the college's first football team. He is survived by his wife, the former Evelyn Olson, and a daughter.

Plays Postponed Due to Conflict; Officers Elected

Due to a conflict in events, Curtian Call Club's contest plays, which were to have been presented tonight, have been postponed until some time in March, according to Margaret Koss and Val Johnson, co-directors. The decision was made at Tuesday's Curtian Call Club meeting.

It was decided that the plays will be presented March 17 for a Parkland civil defense benefit show which Curtian Call Club had been asked to produce at the Parkland school.

A performance of the plays, "And Silently Steal Away" and "The Monkey's Paw," also will be given at PLC some time during that week.

Other club business included election of officers.

Howard Werley was re-elected president of the club; John Rydgren, vice-president; Jean Harnett, secretary; Lee Bishop Zukauf, re-elected treasurer; Bill Finkbe, parliamentarian; and Bob Johnson and Margaret Winters, members-at-large of the executive committee.

Confirmation Class To Meet Tuesday Eve

Although the first session of the current confirmation class met last Wednesday for the first time, Prof. Kelmier Roe stated that new members may come next Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. to his home for instruction.

Fourteen students are attending the present class, which will meet weekly for 11 sessions.

Faculty Cent. Show

members of our faculty—Miss Beige, Hirdal, Tinglestad, McGeehan, Mrs. Rhoda Young, and the vivacious "Millie" Neavy. Singing "In the Gloaming" and "Last Rose of Summer" in a mood of deep feeling, the singers, dressed in traditional "Gibson Girl" dresses, provided enjoyment for everyone.

Not to be outdone, a "Barber Shop Quartet," composed of Newnam, Monson, Fritts, and Seave, harmonized the familiar strains of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" and "My Darling Clementine."

The highlight of the evening was a country schoolhouse scene depicting a ramble of our faculty members in their early educational careers. Schoolmaster Uttinger handled his pupils, "Flip," Grace, Elsie, Rhoda, Marvin, Marvel, Jess, Trygve, Robert, Kelmier, Nelson, and Robert with the "band," although Mrs. Hauver (Miss Anne Knudsen) thought that his school must be the worst in the country and stated she was going to send her son "Flip" to Pacific Lutheran Academy.

The amusing scenes of love were acted out by Miss Tinglestad and Mr. Zukauf at the turn of the century, and Mrs. Ronning and Mr. Omtson in the '30's. The first two sang a duet arrangement of "No, John!" and Mrs. Ronning sang Greg's "I Love Thee" in Norwegian.

Another scene in the '30's was presented, showing Mr. Larson at the United States Unemployment office, where he curiously found positions for the nervous Mr. Ronning, and down-hearted Mr. Ranstad, and Mr. Eklund as 'dog catcher' at PLC.

Doing solo performances were Mr. Newnam, who donned the traditional

LSA Is Host To Leadership Conference

This weekend, February 9, 10 and 11, the PLC chapter of the LSA will be host to delegates from throughout the Northwest at the annual LSA Workshop Conference.

"All regional officers and advisors and at least one delegate from each LSA chapter will attend the three-day conference," stated Roll Lund, workshop chairman and regional vice-president.

Many topics will be discussed, including: stewardship and finances, programs and meetings, membership, evangelism, officers and advisors, and the LSA's relationship to other organizations.

Delegates will attend the workshop from UW, OSC, Uof O, WSC, U of T, CPS, PLC, and possibly WWCE, CWCE, and FWCE.

Scottish kilts and sang Scottish songs, and Dr. Frank, who wore a fascinating gray skirt and declared, "He didn't want to leave the fangle."

Climaxing the program was the splitting of the atom by Dr. Jordahl. Throughout the program the scientists sat working on the U-235 matter and finally, with a large chisel and hammer, he split the atom—ending the show.

The program was well received by the audience and the faculty should be commended for their spirit and work.
