Saga Carnival Boasts Various Traditions; This Year Best Of All

PLC's annual Saga Carnival will come of legal age when it begins next Friday evening, April 20, in the Memorial gymnasium, as this will mark the 21st birthday anniversary of the event. It will continue Saturday night also.

The first Carnival for raising funds for the college yearbook, the Saga, was held in the old gym which burned down several years ago. After the burning of that building, the affair was held in the Parkland school one year, and following that, in big circus tents erected in the parking lot.

Students to Hear Preus, Koosmann and Rev. Smith

Dr. J. C. K. Preus, educational director and executive secretary of the Evangelical Lutheran church, will speak in chapel next Friday morning. Dr. Preus will be on the campus for the annual Board of Directors meeting.

Students will hear two other off-campus speakers at chapel next week. Rev. Konrad Koosmann, who will represent the California District of the American Lutheran church at the Board of Trustees meeting, will speak in chapel Thursday.

Rev. Burton Smith, Bethlehem Lutheran church, will speak Monday and Dr. S. C. Eastvold will speak on Wednesday. The regular student body day will be held Tuesday as usual.

Pan-American Day Observed In Chapel

Pan-American Day was observed on the campus yesterday with a chapel program presented by the French and Spanish clubs.

The program included French and Spanish songs sung by members of the language clubs, a reading by Don Keith, and a dialogue on the importance of knowing the Spanish language by Jim Colman and Dave Newvig.

Group Leave For Retreat At Waskowitz

About 60 students will leave at 4 p.m. this afternoon for a week-end of fun and fellowship at the regional LSA spring retreat at Camp Waskowitz.

PLC is the host to the affair which draws students from Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. The retreat program includes Bible studies, discussions, banquet, mixers, business meetings and various types of recreation.

Three PLC students will run for regional offices at the annual election. Herb Neve has been nominated for president, Art Broback for vice president and Helena Littau for recording secretary.

Students are asked to bring blankets or sleeping bag, Bible, flashlight, note books and pencils to the retreat. Cost for the week-end will be $4, plus an additional fare to the driver of the bus or car. PLC will take the school buses if there are not enough private cars available.

Camp Waskowitz is three miles east of North Bend. Students and faculty are invited to attend the retreat on Saturday or Sunday if they are unable to leave with the main group this afternoon.

Linne Society Plans Tour To Hood Canal

Hood Canal will be the scene of a spring outing planned by the Linne Society for May 4 and 5.

The week-end will include fishing for salmon, clam digging, and oyster feeds. The group also will collect biological specimens to bring back for future examination.

Mrs. Harriet Hansen and Miss Elsie Berge will chaperone the group.

DRG Makes Plans For House Party At Lake Williams

Plans for the annual DRG house party got underway this week when reservations were made for the day girls' group at Lake Williams for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 11, 12 and 13.

Shirley Wall and Anne Bray are co-chairmen for the outing. Margaret Keys and Wilma Berke are in charge of the food committee; transportation is being arranged by Betty Cruz.

Mrs. Harriet Hansen and Miss Elsie Berge will chaperone the group.

Newnham, PLC Band To Begin Concert Tour

PLC's 40-piece band, under the direction of Harley Christopherson, will leave Sunday on a four-day tour of communities in Washington. Prof. Frederick Newnham will accompany the group and present several vocal selections at the concerts.

Soloists with the band also will include Noel Abrahamson, senior music student, who will play the clarinet solo in "Concertina," by Weber, and Jeanette Foss, playing the piano solo, "Dream of Olwen."

Prof. Newnham's selections will include "Stout Hearted Men" and "Hiawatha." He will be accompanied by a small orchestral assembly accompaniment.

The workshop band will appear with the concert band. Due to a conflict in arrangements, the Letterman's Chorus will not be able to sing with the band in Seattle, as had been formerly planned.

The program which will be presented by the band includes: "The American Patrol," "Clarinet Polka," "Lovercargill," "El Charo," "The Thunderer," a march by John Philip Sousa, "Orlando Palandrino," "Colonel Bogey," "Strigh Ride," "The Overture from Die Fledermaus," by Johann Strauss, and "Funicule Funicula," by Denza.

Student Teachers To Nominate Leaders Of Rho Lambda Chi

Rho Lambda Chi members will nominate officers at their business meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 19, in L-104.

Pastor Roy E. Olson, Central Lutheran Church, will speak to the group on the topic, "Religion in the Schools."

Yesterday the student teachers sponsored a "coffee hour" honoring their supervising teachers. Dr. S. C. Eastvold, Miss Nelson, and Dr. Hau greeted the guests.

Filing Is Slow For King, Queen Of Saga Carnival

At press time this week, petitions for only two candidates for the royal positions of Saga Carnival king and queen had been received by the committee, but today is the deadline for petitions, and it is expected that several more will be turned in.

Judy Bergman is the only queen candidate so far, and Harry Mabey is the only man running for king of this 21st annual Saga Carnival, which will be next Friday and Saturday evenings, April 20 and 21. Voting for candidates will be Friday, beginning after chapel, in the hall of the SUB outside the Saga office.

Camp voting will begin at 7 a.m. Monday morning, April 16, and continue through 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when the polls close. It was erroneously announced last week in the Mooring Mast that campaigning could not be carried on in the SUB at any time. This pertains only to the time when the polls are actually open.

Saga Staff Demands Club Writeups Now

Unless club secretaries turn in their club write-ups immediately, it will be impossible for the Saga to come out on time, according to JoAnn Nordvedt, associate editor.

Club write-ups should be turned in to Shirley Eastvold or JoAnn Nordvedt. Next week the Mooring Mast will run a list of all clubs without writeups.

"The Homestretch"

One of the most important phases of a horse race, automobile race, or any race is that final breathtaking, spectacular homestretch. The time of the race when anything and everything might happen. The time when the endurance and ability of the performer is tested to the final degree.

It is during this climax that most usually the winners are separated from the losers, the best from the poor, the victorious from the defeated.

In one sense we at PLC are entering this decisional period as far as our school year 1950-51 is concerned. With only seven more weeks of school remaining, it is like that final mile in a race when the category into which we may fall is determined.

Our year at PLC has been one of the most successful in history. Our basketball team has won top honors in the athletic field, our debate and forensic squads have taken top national honors and our drama department has given us many entertaining and commendable performances. Our music department, the Choir of the West, the Band, Chorus, Orchestra, and soloists have brought recognition to our school from San Diego to the Canadian border. But how have these honors affected you? What part have you played in winning them?

For the seniors this is the final homestretch. Their careers are ending as far as college is concerned, but their race is just beginning as far as their life's work is concerned. They are ending one race and beginning a new and final one.

News as far as college deferments and the like are at times confusing, and sometimes one wonders just where he is standing in this race, but with the assurance that God is on our side, these material problems which might seem pertinent at the time, somehow dissolve.

As we enter this final mile in our work this year, let's put forth all our energy and vitality into making this our most successful year. PLC is growing in influence spiritually and academically. We have someone at the head of our college with whose help we cannot fail, but we also need the support of each and every faculty member and each and every student in this great race.

The performers are entering the "HOMESTRETCH." The crowd is tense, for soon the winners will be determined. Will you be among them?—D.B.

Chapel Quotes

Pastor Smith:
The reward of the Christian missionary is not the glamour of travel, the satisfaction of overcoming difficulties, nor the thanks he might receive from the people of some foreign land for his physical or spiritual help, but his reward is the blessing received from Christ for being obedient to His command to "Go therefore, and teach all nations."

Pastor Nordqvist:
The continuity of Christ's life was proven definitely by His many appearances during the forty days after Easter.

Christ made it very clear in His missionary command, that He would be with us always if we obeyed Him.

Christ brought each of his disciples and those with whom He worked just what they needed most. He will also bring to us what we need most if we will let ourselves be resurrected with Him.

Expressions of awe and indications of joy were shown ~~the past week~~ as citizens of Letha received their grade cards. Letha Bergquist and Harry Jacobson claimed "Spring Fever" as their reason for their grades. Bob Marvonak credits his superior grades to the inability to read. Seems as though the tennis courts and golf links rank above studying for many students on these sunny days. (You had credit hours aren't given in these courses!)

David Roe, Luther Steen, Bill Uzinger and Steve Kennedy say their studying time is taken up by their professions. They are chasing dogs to sell them dog licenses . . . to their owners, that is. Steen is planning to deposit his earnings in one of the larger banks for it seems on a recent day he earned 25 (twenty-five) cents.

Dreaming about the DPK solo has served as a distraction for both boys and girls from "hitting the books." DPK committees have been spending their time planning the "Spring Fever Tolo" on April 28. Amy Knutson is the general chairman and the program and decorations are well under way. Also planning activities are the Saga committees who are spending much time in preparation for the big week-end. Support by the entire student body is urged and competition for the booth decorations will be keen.

Bookstore Features Flashy Sport Shirts

All ~~books~~ should pick up the ~~books~~ material ordered for them by the book store, according to A. A. Mykland, book store manager.

Mr. Mykland also commented that the store has some flashy sport shirts that are especially comfortable in this spring weather. Bantam books are another item that the book store plans to put on sale.

Lutes To Enjoy Mountain Scenery At Spring Regional LSA Retreat

"Hey, wait for me!" cried Ludwig, lugging a heavy bed down the steps of Old Main. "Us, too," yelled Gerda and Ebba from the third floor of the girls' dorm. Soon a large group of Lute students were assembled with their luggage in front of Old Main.

"Oh, I wish we'd hurry and go," cried Lars. "we'll never make it to Camp Waskowitz before dark." "We're supposed to leave at four o'clock," shouted Ole. "We should be there early," said Gustaf, "since our LSA is to be the host this time for the retreat." "How far is it, Gustaf?" asked Dora. "Well," said Gustaf, "it's by North Bend and I figure we should make it in a couple of hours."

"I can hardly wait to see some of the kids I met at the last retreat from different colleges," said Gerda. "Me too," chimed in Ole. "I wonder if there will be as many there as there were last time," asked Dora. "I hope so and I surely hope we have a large representation of Lutes," replied Ludwig.

"We should with the cost only $4.00," said Ebba. "I understand it's really going to be an exceptional retreat this time and I also heard they were speaking," said Lars. "Yes, that's what I heard," said Dora. "I understand we're to have topic study as I believe, help those nine students during the week-end."

"Hey, everybody's ready to go now," shouted Pär, "so let's be off." So with shouts of farewell from their classmates the LSAs were off for a week-end of fellowship with other colleges at Camp Waskowitz.

Senior Girls Vie For May Queen Title

Seven senior girls ran for May Queen last Wednesday in one of the most unheated, quiet elections ever held at PLC.

Senior class members nominated Marjorie Anderson, Corine Aune, Lorraine Cummings, Bonnie Hees, Amy Knutson, Doris Shaw and LaWanna Wellstrand for the annual queen of May.

The top three winners in the election will be the queen and princesses and each class elects two girls to serve in the May queen's court. The May queen will rule at the annual May Day celebration to be held May 4.

The May queen winner will be announced Friday, April 27, according to Lowell Knutson, student body president.

Library Adds Books In Several Fields

Boy Scout leaders, atomic scientists, poetry lovers, and politicians will find new books in the library to suit their every need.

The library has added to its books which deal with the fields of religion, social science, language and literature, education and the natural and physical sciences, according to Fred G. S. Stone, librarian.

Five special books have been added on reading. "From Atoms to Stars" by Davidson and "The Bell Book" might prove helpful for the atomic scientist. For the poetry lovers there is "A Guide on the Art of Poetry," and "Heartlines, Poems for the People." Politicians might merit from Churchill's thoughts in "Step by Step," or from Danforth "Defense of Western Europe."

LOOSE ENDS

The Gladiator hot-swingers will have a real opportunity to test their eye and swing tonight in their opening frame with an anti-aircraft battalion nine at Fort Lewis. Pitching for the soldiers will be an ex-New York Yankee hurler, John Marshall.

An array of PLC athletes have been showing their various talents in the education field this semester and last as student teachers in elementary, junior and high schools. They teach everything from P.E. to Literature and represent all Lute sports. Some of the tutors are: Bob Brass, Harry Malnes, Harold Anker, Duane Berentson, Gene Lundgaard, Hal Schrupp, Jack Bowman, John Schindele, Ray Green, Ray Haasen, and Jack Guyot.

Seattle University recently published their all-opponent team for varsity and freshman. The name Lloyd Eastman, PLC, appeared on the Peepoles' all-opponent list. . . . Marv Harshman added a few more gray hairs to his head last week when Leif Knutson pulled a leg muscle, which may sideline the ace Lute 880 runner for the season. It's too bad one of the distance men can't run the half-mile. The cinder-burners have two experienced runners in that division in Duane Ulleland and Jim Lund. . . . Start getting your drivers and chip shots down pat now, all you golfers, so you'll be ready to enter the all-school golf tourney and maybe win a nice piece of hardware for yourself.

This year will end the reign of Eda Gabrielsen as top man on the PLC tennis ladder. With Lou Ross, the battle will once again begin for that coveted position on the ladder.

Viking Club Lists Coming Attractions

Members of Viking Club are at work on many activities for the months of April and May.

Making arrangements for the Saga rathind booth sponsored by Norse students are Norm Narsick, Marilyn Lundie, and Barbara Espedal.

A cruise, with "Corky" Christensen in charge, is planned for May 15. Theobis Starwick and Beverly Ruge are chairmen for the annual orga-board in Seattle in May.

Date Set For Golf Tourney

Competition for the perpetual golf trophy to be offered by Professor Frederick Newnam will be open to all male students of the college. Originally the competition was to have been limited to dormitory members.

Each aspirant must hold in three score cards for the nicheole College course to Newnam before May 1. The purpose of this is to establish a handicap for the tournament.

"Tournament play will begin the first week in May," stated Newnam. "By that time the greens should be in better shape, and the course is general."

Preliminary matches will consist of nine holes, but the championship match will cover eighteen holes.

The trophy will have the all-school divot champ's name engraved upon it each year. It will be his property until a new winner is proclaimed.

Don't forget competition is open to all PLC students, whether novice or expert.

Lute Net Squad In Ladder Play

Marv Harshman, in addition to his track and teaching duties, has taken on the responsibility of scheduling matches for the Lute net squad. Central, Western, Seattle U., CPS, St. Martin's, and possibly Seattle Pacific will be contacted.

The battle for the first five positions on the ladder began last week. The four returning lettermen were seeded as they were at the completion of the 1950 season. Names were drawn to determine the remaining positions. The first five men on the ladder will compete in matches. Here is the ladder as it now stands:

1. LeRoy Spitzer.
2. Bob Larson.
3. Larry Nielsen.
4. Jack Rowson.
5. Jim Jaeger.
6. Clair Niesz.
7. Stan Elberson.
8. Dave Nesvig.
9. Dave Kent.
10. Myron Johnson.
11. Bob Ingman.

Lettermen's Club Schedules Minstrel Show for Saga Carnival

Under the sponsorship of Curtain Call club and the Letterman's club, a different floor show will be presented to Saga Carnival patrons each night. Friday night, April 20, Curtain Call is in charge, and Saturday night, April 21, is the Letterman's night to perform.

The program for Friday night also includes the coronation of the king and queen of the carnival at 8, after the doors open at 7. At 8:30 the show for the evening will begin with fifteen minutes of entertainment by the girls of Delta Rho Gamma, day girls social organization. The PLC Swing Band will play several numbers.

Following this, Bill Riecke, sophomore in speech, will give a lecture titled, "How to Propose." His lecture will be illustrated by several skits, enacted by Howard Shult and Harriette Olson, Bill Finkle and Hazel Johnson, and Roberta Schoessler, Dick Swart and Stan Elberson.

Saturday evening the doors again open at 7, and the Letterman's show, which will be minstrel in nature, will begin at 8. The Letterman's chorus, directed by Gunnar Malmin, will sing several numbers, including "Mood Indigo," "Dry Bones," "Kentucky Babe," "Zerkial Saw De Wheel," and "Jimmie Crack Corn." T. H. Karl and Miss Jean McGregor, instructors in speech, will direct the "dramatic" aspects of the minstrel show, according to Rick Daniels, chairman of the Letterman's part of the floor show.

Gladiator Diamond Nine Opens Schedule Tonight

The Lute diamond nine will open the season at Fort Lewis tonight against an anti-aircraft battalion nine at 8 p.m. Pitching for the Army boys will be John Marshall, who played some ball with the Yankees before being farmed out to the Kansas City club where he performed for many seasons.

At the first of the season Coach Marv Tommervik was greeted by about 30 hopefuls. The squad now has been cut down to 21 as several of the men have stopped turning out.

The 21 men who will defend PLC on the diamond this spring are as follows: (Asterisks behind the name denote lettermen).

- Catchers: Glen Huffman*, Jack Johnson*, Neil Amend.
- Pitchers: Lowell Knutson*, Gerry Hefty*, Bob Tillotson, Milt Hefty.
- First Base: Jim Kauth, Bob Ross.
- Second Base: Art Swanson*, Dick Larson, Dale Rokey.
- Third Base: Frank Karwoski and George Nowadnick*.
- Shortstop: Ray Shibo*, Wally Fox.
- Outfield: Merle Johnson, Ron Billings, Norm Wang, Gerry Kluth, Andy Helling.

Coach Tommervik had not named his starters when this story was written. The remaining Lute baseball schedule is as follows:

- April 16, 3 p.m.—At McChord Field.
- April 25, 3 p.m.—At McChord Field.
- April 27, 2 p.m.—At CPS (Doubleheader).
- May 1, 3 p.m.—At Seattle University.
- May 5, 1:30 p.m.—CWCE (Doubleheader).
- May 8, 3 p.m.—Seattle Univ. here.
- May 11, 1:30 p.m.—WWCE (Doubleheader) here.
- May 13, 2 p.m.—CPS (Doubleheader) here.

Cindermen Vie With CPS

TRACK Sports MM

The Pacific Lutheran College track team will clash with the CPS cinder squad tomorrow on the Lute oval, with neither team expected to break any records.

CPS, as well as the Gladiators, lost a lot of topnotch material through graduation and other sources.

The Harshmen seem to be shaping up pretty well for the encounter. Harry Malnes will run the low hurdles, since Ken Erickson is on the sick list. He will also enter the 220 and 100-yard dashes and the broad jump. Harry is a three-year letterman and versatile in all events. Jans Knutson will also try to garner a few points to the broad jump.

In the 440, Al Fink and newcomers Lloyd Eastman and Jim Nohlsberg will run.

Freshman and former state high school mile champ, Jim Lund, and letterman "Curly" Ulleland will run the distance events.

Harshman is looking for a good 880 man, since Leif Knutson is sidelined indefinitely with a pulled leg muscle, a rough blow for the cinder-burners.

In the field events, Harshman has the depth, but no experience. Ray Green, Olly Magnuson, John Schindele and Bob Brass will handle the weights.

Dick Graywolf will be the only javelin entry.

A quartet of high-jumpers, including Bert Wells, Gunnar Lund, Paul Garrison and Gene Larson, will handle this event.

Letterman Dale Keller and freshman Lee Bloom will do the pole-vaulting.

As Harshman has no potential entries in the high hurdles, the latter two boys may attempt to run them.

Talented Cast Wins Praise In Three Act Wilde Comedy

By D. B.

Combining the talents of Stan Elberson and John Rydgren, two masters of the PLC stage, in Oscar Wilde's three-act comedy-satire, "The Importance of Being Earnest," the speech department presented their annual Alpha Psi Omega Theatre night last weekend, April 5, 6 and 7.

PLC to be Host To Church Music Group May 4-6

Choir directors, pastors, organists and anyone else interested in choral conducting is invited to attend the special Church Music Conference to be held at PLC May 4, 5 and 6, according to Prof. Gunnar J. Malmin. Prof. Oscar Overby, director of church music for the Evangelical Lutheran church and formerly of St. Olaf college, will conduct the conference.

The week-end's activities will open Friday evening, May 5, with a lecture by Prof. Overby. A model choir laboratory also will be held Friday evening. On Saturday sessions on different phases of church music, including presentations by Mr. Karl Weiss, Prof. Frederick Newnham and Prof. Malmin, will be given by Prof. Overby. Prof. Overby will deliver the morning message at Trinity Lutheran church May 6. A rehearsal of the massed choirs from nearby towns will take place Sunday afternoon and the public will hear a concert from the combined groups at 4 p.m. in the gymnasium.

PLC's Choir of the West and Chorus will participate in the Church Music Conference.

Lt. Heany Appointed As Liaison Officer

Lt. Harold Heany, '49, has been appointed air technical liaison officer at the American Embassy in London, England.

Lt. Heany visited his former classmates and professors at PLC recently before leaving for New York on his way to London. Since leaving PLC, Lt. Heany has been working in electronics at Keesler Field, Mississippi, and his last post of duty was at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio.

His duties in London will include acting as liaison between technical divisions in the British service as they pertain to the United States.

Lt. Heany will be joined by his wife as soon as he is settled.

It takes a baby two years to learn to talk, and fifty to seventy-five years to learn not to talk too much.

Mrs. Frisbie's BAKERY
For Good Bakery Products
710 So. 38th St. GA. 7591

The play, which is considered one of Wilde's best, was presented in burlesque style to capacity audiences all three nights and from the first blackout until the curtain call, the strong, talented cast, acting in close contact with their audience, gave a performance which will enter PLC's "Drama Log" as great!

Although the dialogue was heavy and at times laborious, each and every character portrayed his part almost to perfection. The sudden climax or solution in the third act, I believe, came rather abruptly, and that, plus dialect, and a tendency to overact in a few instances were the only flaws in the amusing production.

Stan Elberson's portrayal of Mr. John Worthing, who finally gained the name of "Earnest," was outstanding. He intelligently captured the personality of this English gentleman in a manner belittling his climatic performance on our stage.

Mr. Algernon Moncrieff, played by freshman John Rydgren, who has the apparent ability of captivating any role from Shakespeare to modern comedy, was superb. Mr. Rydgren lived his part and took his audience with him.

Supporting Stan and John in heralded character roles were Helen Jensen, Harriet Olson, Margaret Kutz, Kathryn Reule, Howard Shull, Dick Svare, and Murray Martin.

Miss Jensen's interpretation of Gwendolyn Fairfax was admirable, as was Harriet Olson's clever portrayal of the youthful Cecily Cardew.

Margaret Kutz, as Lady Bracknell, and Kathy Reule portraying Miss Prism gave their usual incomparable characterizations, as did Howard Shull in his role as Dr. Canon Chasuble.

A bright element in the production were the two butlers played by Dick Svare and Murray Martin. Both Mr. Svare and Mr. Martin could, I am sure, easily gain positions as butlers in the most aristocratic home in England after this stellar performance.

The set was attractive and the make-up and costumes were outstanding.

Both Malcolm Soine and Robert Crumbaugh should be commended on their direction and the entire production staff deserves an applause for an entertaining evening and a job well done.

New Courses, Additions To Staff Planned

Several new courses will be offered to students who attend summer session at PLC this year. Bulletins for summer sessions are out now, and some of the information contained in the bulletin follows:

Five new educational courses are offered. They are: social studies in the elementary school; remedial education; elementary and junior high school administration and supervision; school finance; and educational research.

In the education department, special appointments have been given to Richard Langton, Ph.D., from Richard public schools; Harold F. Gray, M.A., principal at Clover Park high school, and Robert C. Hall, B.A., superintendent of schools at Fife, to teach at PLC this summer.

Winners Announced In Saga Pic-Contest

With the printing of the Saga just around the corner, the staff proudly announces the winners in their recent contest for pictures of "Student Life."

Winning first prize in a contest, which drew in pictures of every and all phases of life on the Campus, was John (Bob) Bildt, a junior from Troy, Idaho. Second and third prizes went to Connie Aunie and Howard Shull, respectively. The winners are asked to pick up their prizes in the Saga office, and as for the winning pictures, you'll see them in the Saga!

Strunk Toastmaster At Linne Banquet

Linne Society members enjoyed a full evening of fun and entertainment at their annual spring banquet last Tuesday evening.

Dr. W. L. Strunk, professor of biology, acted as master of ceremonies during the program which included the presentation of a movie, "Our Water Heritage," narrated by Judge Rummel and S. B. McDonald of the Sportsmen's Club; and musical selections by Prof. Frederick Newnham and Mr. B. Fritts.

Audience Thrilled At Voice Recital Ronning Students

By Joanne Schief

Three advanced voice pupils of Gudrun Nea Ronning drew a near capacity crowd of friends, relatives and music lovers Wednesday evening in the Student Union building for an almost flawless performance.

Shirlyanne Sandin, gowned in a bronze formal, combined her knowledge of German and Swedish and included several selections from these nations. This noted Choir of the West also soloist from Tacoma sang "Widmung" (Dedication) by Schumann, "Der Schmidt" (The Smith) and "Vergiliches Standchen" (The Disappointed Lover), by Brahms; "Silent Strings," by Bartok; "Liten Karin," a Swedish folk song, and "Aa Janta aa ja" (The Maiden and I), arranged by Gustav Hagg; "Ack, Varmeland, da skona" (My Country, Thou Beautiful), by Granshow, and the aria, "O Mio Babbino Caro," from Gianni Schicchi, by Puccini.

Thrilling the audience with the smile of her lilting voice, Joan Soper, wearing a gown of delicate pink, presented a group of songs which included "Fifer June," by Molly Carew; "The Spirit Flower," by Campbell Tipton; "Where Blossoms Grow," by Sans Souci, and "Alleluja," by Mozart. She is also a member of the Choir of the West.

Jeanette Foss accompanied both the college artists.

Another outstanding member of the Choir of the West, bass-baritone soloist Don Breimo, accompanied by Marilyn Hanich, yielded his pleasing voice to songs ranging from old English folk songs to Negro spirituals. His selections included the 17th century Easter song, "Alleluia," arranged by O'Connor-Morris; "Dedication," by Franz; two folk songs, "The Pretty Creature" and "The Beggar's Song," arranged by H. Lane Wilson; "When I Have Sung My Songs to You," by Ernest Charles, "Ma Little Banjo," of the evening's entertainment. This year, many booths will be set up in the gym, including the Big Splash, Pie Throw, Wet Sponge Throw, Darts, Rifle Shoot, Refreshment booths, the fun house, a movie theater showing cartoons, and several others. Door prizes will be given both nights, and committee members have been busy for weeks soliciting prizes from merchants and businessmen.

A schedule of work for next week has been announced by chairman of the event, Karl Bachner, who is business manager of the Saga. Tuesday morning, April 17, immediately after chapel, the gym floor will be prepared, and paper decorating begun. He urges anyone with a free period that afternoon to go down to the gym and assist in the work.

Wednesday morning at 8, booth construction and decoration will begin. All booths must be completely finished by 5 p.m. Friday, the 20th, so that all will be in readiness for the gala two-day carnival, which begins with gym doors opening at 7 p.m. Friday.

by William Dickinson; "Lorraine Valley," by H. Burleigh, and "The House I Live In," by Robinson. He ended his last group with the spirited and lively "Cowboy Lere Song."

The audience expressed their delight and praise to the applause which filled the Student Union during and following the concert performance.

A nickel isn't as good as a dollar, but it goes to church more often.
