

ARMISTICE DAY ASSEMBLY HEARS REV. VAN HORN

Nils Rein, Violinist, Renders Selections of Own Composition at Meeting

Rev. Van Horn of the First Congregational Church of Tacoma gave the address at the special Armistice Day program held in the chapel, Nov. 11th. Professor Xavier opened the exercises with devotion and prayer, and Nils Rein played two violin solos of his own composition.

The theme of Rev. Van Horn's talk was "Peace." "Today," he said, "we hear a great deal about the glory of war. Numerous stories of the brave deeds of our soldiers are printed in current magazines, while the humorous side of the war is brought out in moving pictures and in stories. We know that the heroism and bravery of our American doughboys are to be admired, and we are again impressed with their wonderful spirit. But what we must work toward now, is peace. This idea can be brought about, not by glorifying war, but by instilling in the minds of American youth the horror of it all.

The World War was the greatest in history and beyond doubt the most horrible. My generation made that war. Not enough of us knew better than to do so. But you of the rising generation must be better than we were. Yours is the task of making peace.

War is a thing God hates; he has said, "Blessed are the peace-makers." Never yet has there been war that someone did not make, and never will there be peace unless we make it. We students, of the rising generation can work toward peace by creating a friendly feeling between classes, at home, and with nations abroad. Peace will not come after us; we must seek it—it is the will of God."

Rev. Van Horn closed with a poem, part of which follows: Thro' storm and sun the age draws on, When heaven and earth shall meet, For the Lord hath said that glorious He will make the place of his feet. And the grass may die on the summer hill, And the flower fade by the river, But our God is the same thro' the endless years, And his word shall stand forever.

MANY STUDENTS ON HONOR ROLL

Girls Averages Higher Than Boys; Thirty Five Make Records in Grades

The Honor Roll for the first quarter shows that a goodly percentage of P. L. C. students are doing excellent work. An interesting fact is that the percentage of girls making the Honor Roll is much greater than that of the boys. This is especially true in the case of dorm students.

There are two honor rolls: the distinguished and the secondary. In order to make the distinguished roll, it is necessary to have no grades less than B while secondary roll calls for an average of B.

Those who made the distinguished Honor roll are: Mrs. Bernice Buttorf, Irene Dahl, Dagmar Hagness, Louise Henriksen, Palma Johnson, Margaret Jacobsen, Gladys Knutzen, Jerdis Nordang, Anne Leland, Arthur Olson, Victoria Rasmussen, Blanche Rell, Arling Sannerud, Evelyn Sveve, and Esthne Tove.

Those who made the secondary honor roll: Inez Arneson, Alyce Casperson, Walter Christenson, Ruth Erickson, Mary Fowler, Verna Gano, Ida Hinderlis, Lawrence Hauge, Ed Iverson, Gladys Jorgenson, John Johnson, Chris Nelson, Agnes Olson, Olaf Ordal, Gertrude Sydow, Ladelle Winney, Mrs. Mabel Parke, Marie Eapesteb, and Sverre Omdal.

PRESENT PROGRAM AT AUCTION SALE

On Friday evening, Nov. 11th the Ladies Aid Society of the Trinity Lutheran Church held an auction sale in the church basement. The sale began at 8 o'clock and many lovely pieces of fancy work made by members of the society were auctioned.

Delicious refreshments were served. The evening proved to be a success both socially and financially.

PACIFIC LOSES TO BREMERTON IN LAST GAME

Lutherans Win Moral Victory; Strive Hard To Overcome Lead of Bremertonians

By Franklin Lacey

The Gladiators, proud holders of the Northwest Junior College Conference and undefeated champions, came back from Bremerton Saturday evening with a final page of glory to paste into their gridiron chronicle of 1927—the glory of defeat.

Victory came to the Bremerton Union High seven after a fiercely fought battle that raged up and down the field. The score was 7-0 and was piled up in that last ten seconds of the first half. But to Pacific's fighting Gladiators came the everlasting satisfaction in an eleven that "never knew it was kicked," that put in all their energy and efforts in "fight" and who closed the battle with a desperate attempt for a score that took all the stamina and energy of the Bremerton squad to check.

Many spectacular plays were displayed by both teams, Bremerton showing exceptionally good form in its end runs and ability to tackle a wet and slippery mud-covered runner. Koseha, who made the only touchdowns in the fracas on a 35 yard end run and Norman, flashy half, were the shining lights of the Bremerton team.

The Gladiators played the best game they have played this year but breaks were against them. Fowler, quarter, and Hoban, full ripped through the Bremerton line for 106 yards and again only to lose the ball when they would approach scoring distance.

P. L. C. MUSIC TO BE BROADCAST

Edwards to Take Quartette to Portland; Will Appear at Convention

Announcement was recently made by Prof. J. O. Edwards of the appearance of the male quartette at Portland, Oregon on November 26 and 27. The quartette will sing at the annual convention of the Oregon circuit of the Young Peoples Lutheran League. The members of the quartette and Prof. Edwards will leave for Portland on Friday of this week.

Reorganize Quartette

A reorganization has taken place regarding quartette work here at the college. Enough talent was available for two quartettes and Prof. Edwards began work of reorganization. In one quartette, Arthur Olson sings first tenor, Gerhard Lane, second tenor, Franklin Lacey first bass, and Arling Sannerud second bass. In the other quartette Harry Sannerud sings first tenor, Milton Grambo second tenor, Peter Grambo, first bass, and Arling Sannerud second bass.

Choir to Broadcast

Prof. Edwards also announced the first official appearance of Pacific's vested choir which will render its first concert of the year over the air via station KMO in Tacoma, on December 19 between 8 and 9 o'clock. Nils Rein will give numbers as the assisting artist to the choir. The quartette and Prof. Edwards will also broadcast. This concert will be sponsored by the courtesy of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce.

Someone told me that a Scotchman's idea of the height of extravagance is telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man. But I don't think that's as bad as McDonald, who wouldn't send his children to school for fear they'd have to pay attention.

LEAGUES HOLD ANNUAL MEET AT BREMERTON

"Saved to Serve" is Convention Theme; Lane Talks About Pacific

The South Puget Sound Circuit of the Luther League held its annual Convention on November 11, 12 and 13 at Bremerton.

Gerhard Lane, student body president, gave a short talk on Pacific Lutheran College and its advantages. "Saved to Serve" was the convention theme and the speakers carried the thought throughout. Rev. Norby from Bellingham gave many helping thoughts in his Sunday morning service. His urging thought was "Young People seek the last thought, 'Seeking to reclaim!'" "Friendship with the world is empty." Rev. Norby claimed that in God's work we needed a forgiving heart. He also spoke on "Standing up for Christ." The leading thought being "If we are ashamed of Christ He will some day be ashamed of us." In education, in home-making, and in everything Christ should be foremost.

During the convention two hours were given to the discussion of several troubling questions such as "What should be the aim or goal of the Luther League?" "How does the growth of our Church compare with that of other churches in America? Why is the Lutheran Church going to grow rapidly in the next ten years?"

The musical programs were arranged by Prof. Edwards and included some very outstanding numbers: Violin solos: Nils Rein. Piano solos: Prof. Edwards. Vocal solo: Miss Hokenstad. Reading—Miss Borgen of Seattle.

Mr. Conrad Gaard from Parkland was elected President for the coming year. Rev. Edwards of Tacoma, was elected on the Board of Directors and Prof. Edwards was elected Chairman of Music.

The Bremerton Luther League closed the convention with a social gathering at the Lutheran Brotherhood and served refreshments.

THANKSGIVING THOUGHTS RUN RAMPANT HERE

Smiles on every hand, And just why? Nine-weeks tests are o'er, Thanksgiving is nigh. Thanksgiving is coming! The very school building rocks with glee and seems to hug its brick sides with the laughter it holds. There are all sorts of good things to look forward to and now that tests are over it is no wonder that everyone smiles and looks happy. Of course P. L. C. is full of smiles, but just at present the smiles reach from ear to ear at the thought of turkey, cranberries and pie. From all appearances there will be no meek dieting going on. Soon the cook will have something to be thankful for. Speaking of thankfulness brings to mind the fact that faculty have quite a bit for which to be thankful.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Thanksgiving time is here. This is the season of the year when the old gobbler holds his place of honor at the head of our festive menus. The lowly cranberry rises to heights of sublimity to share honors with the luscious turkey. Thanksgiving today is a feast that is looked upon by three hundred and sixty four days in the year. We punish our noses and ruin our stomachs in order that we may show our appreciation to the Great Giver of Feasts for all the good things He has bestowed upon us during the year.

Can this be a mode of Thanksgiving? Is this the development Puritans looked forward to when they inaugurated this custom of giving thanks? No—surely this cannot be.

Yet, as we look about us and study these things a bit—what do we find? A race of gluttons, selfishly celebrating an annual custom! That's all it means to too many otherwise good people—an annual custom. Can you imagine Thanksgiving becoming an "annual custom" with anyone on God's green earth?

Let's all do our part in giving thanks to our Maker because we feel and wish to express our gratitude for that which we have received.—N. S. L.

ATTENTION LETTERMEN!

Last year the members of the football squad organized a lettermen's club. It functioned very well for a while and then died out. Now we have no organization of that kind within the athletic department. A lettermen's club is a good thing. It is full of good sportsmanship and fellow ship. It has been missed by those who were members last year. It cannot help but be missed by those who feel the need of such an organization this year.

Let's get together, fellows, and get organized. The girls have it all over you with their snappy Pep Club. They made a success of their organization. Why not reorganize the old Lettermen's Club and promote real sportsmanship?—N. S. L.

Chapel Talks

By Prof. Hauge

When we think of fashion there comes to mind the picture of a young lady, dressed in all the finery of the time and wearing clothes up to date with Paris fashions. It is also quite the thing to see which boy can be the most dandy at the Universities and Colleges of today, so we find that both sexes are governed by fashion. Ever so often there are changes made in the style of dress even in display windows we see shoes of a new type keeping up with style:

Is your religion a matter of passing fancy, with fashionable changes that allow you different liberties? True religion never changes for it is based on the ideas and facts that have been tried and found true. Ask yourself if fashion has changed your religion. There are many people that are groping for a religion that is up to date. With Jesus Christ as the pattern the religion will not change. It is found that there is great enjoyment in knowing that religion is not just a passing fancy and something to be changed at will, but an actuality—A steadfastly faith that can not, or rather should not, be changed.

PACIFIC AGAI VICTORIOUS ON GRIMY GRIDIRON

Win in Second Game With Centralians; Muddy Field Hampers Contest

Thursday, November 10 brought another victory to swell the unbroken list of the Gladiators' conquests when they decisively defeated the Centralia eleven at Noble field in that city. The final score was 6-0.

Although the Centralians put up a good fight, they failed to gain points as the Gladiators were "out for meat" and fought the most determined fight they have yet produced. They meant to play off the first tie with Centralia and that's what they did.

The first half was a hard-fought battle on both sides, neither team gaining any advantage while both held their own. During the second half, however, the Gladiators settled down to sterner efforts and soon had the Centralians on the jump, tearing through the line for much of their yardage and more than making first downs. When the Lutherans finally played the ball ten yards away from the Centralia line, Hoban shot a short, fast pass to Fowler who dodged the remaining few yards to a touchdown and the only score in the game. The try for point failed.

Again the Gladiators marched down the field and on a Centralian fumble, Christensen, at end, scooped up the egg and whizzed across the line only to be called back by the referee who claimed that the fumble was but a backward pass on the part of the Centralians.

The Parklandites had it all their own way in the last half but after the first score, they were unable to shove over any more and the game ended with the ball on Centralia's 25 yard line.

Rev. and Mrs. Hokenstad and Mr. and Mrs. Loftus were hosts to the members of the football team and their friends as well as to the students who attended the game at Bremerton last Saturday at a dinner which was held in the dining hall of the Bremerton Lutheran Brotherhood mission of that city.

Rev. Hokenstad said that although they have not sent very many students from Bremerton to Pacific, he wanted the school to know that the people of Bremerton stood ready to assist the school in any way they could. The students were very enthusiastic in their praise of the dinner and Bremerton hospitality.

PRACTICE GAME PLAYED BY GIRLS ARMISTICE DAY

Yells, screams and just plain noise made up the conglomeration of sounds that issued from the gym last Friday, November 11 when the girls staged their first game of the season. The two teams were selected from the girls that are turning out for the sport.

The possibilities of a splendid women's aggregation are great in view of the promising material displayed in the game. Because the center section of Jacobson's team over-powered the center section of Langlow's team, the score ended 28-2 in favor of the Jacobites. The girls are fighting hard for positions on the squad and whoever coaches will have a hard time picking those who deserve places on the team because of the wealth of material.

TECHNIQUE CLASS PRESENTS UNIQUE PLANS OF WORK

For the past several weeks the Technique of Teaching Class has been preparing two projects for class presentation. The class, which is composed of twenty-two members was divided into two sections. The first section worked on a "Thanksgiving Project" which was very appropriate for this time of the year. The second section decided upon a dramatization project. Committee and their chairmen were selected and at the different meetings of the section, reports and suggestions were given.

The Thanksgiving project was worked out upon a sand-table which had been constructed by the section members. It was done in a very effective and attractive manner. Little log cabins and Indian teepees were situated here and there on the table. Plymouth Rock and the Mayflower were also presented and the Indians and the Pilgrims were shown near their homes. The whole plan showed effort and hard work on the part of the members of this section, and much good was derived from the working-out of this interesting project.

A portion of "The Birds' Christ mas Carol" was selected and members immediately set to work upon their parts. Committees were chosen for stage properties, scenery and costumes.

On Monday afternoon Nov. 17th both projects were presented to members of the class and also to visitors who had heard about the work. The cast of the play was as follows:

Through the working out of these projects the Technique Class feels that they have really accomplished something worth while during this period.

Well, well, well! Look who's here! Doesn't it seem natural to see "Our Polly" back on the sports' page again? You are right. It certainly does!

Polly says she came back to finish up with a year of Normal but we think that she came back to shoot a few baskets for the "Dianas" on the side. How about it, Polly?

Last year she scored 68 points above the national record for individual scoring in women's basketball. Polly says she hopes to make it better this year. "Maggie" Jacobson, captain of the team, hopes so too. In fact, we all hope so!

Quilcene Defeats P. L. C. Reserves

Fast Play Is Featured on Muddy Field; Quilcene Is Only Team to Defeat P. L. C.

In a sea of mud, the Quilcene high school squad handed the P. L. C. Reserves a 7-6 defeat last Saturday on the Parkland gridiron. Both teams played exceptionally fast football considering the weather conditions and many clever plays were used to advantage.

The Quilcene eleven had traveled quite a distance and came determined to win. When they came on the field they were fighting mad and they remained that way all during the game, making a formidable bunch to beat. However, the fighting Gladiators were not out there for their health and gave good account of themselves.

The game started with a series of gains by the Quilcene backs who used trick formations—but the Reserves soon settled down to their steady brand of ball and held on their own five yard line. After a low, long kick, the P. L. C. lads held the mountaineers and started offensive play. The first half was very even and neither team was able to score although the goals were threatened frequently.

In the second half, Carlson, P. L. C. quarter, took the ball on the thirty-yard line and eluding all the Quilcene men, crossed the line for the only Lutheran touchdown. The try for point failed.

On the kickoff, a Quilcene tackle picked up the ball on his own 25 yard line and made a beautiful run when he shot down the sideline and ran the length of the field without a P. L. C. man near him. A pass over the line gave Quilcene the extra point that won the game.

Neither team was able to score again, but the Gladiators would perhaps have changed the scoreboard if they had been allowed two more minutes to play. The ball was in the Reserves' possession on Quilcene's 3 yard line when the final whistle blew.

Thostenson, Wiese, Bowman, Jacobson, Ordal, Iverson, R. Knutzen, Nelson, Anderson, Hoff, Fedt, Stenlund, Carlson, E. Knutzen, and Langlow made up the entire Lutheran lineup.

Usually, I can understand lots of deep things; in fact I even think I know why Yerna sighs so when I hand her my little say—I I could help her I would. But I heard something I can't understand; here's what: Somebody told me I was witty. Of course, I could understand that, so I just said, modest-like, "Sure, I know it." I was feeling pretty good when somebody behind me said, "Well, he's half right!" Now, just what do you suppose he meant by that?

"Awfully important," replied the egotist.

In some old Greek cities, we read that it was customary to sacrifice 100 oxen when a citizen discovered a new theorem in Geometry. Many a sophomore has felt the desecrations of it all, but few have been so inspired as to think up such reasoning as the following, of Elmer Treter's: It either rains, or it doesn't rain. It isn't raining, so it must be raining.

There was a lot of noise in the boys' dorm last nite. Everybody in the building woke up, but Mr. Ramstad said it was only Bill Nyman snoring. Jahnnle Weise says that sometimes last year Bill snored so loudly he had to go into another room so he wouldn't wake himself up.

Last week Harry Sannerud did an awful thing. He wasn't on speaking terms with a girl back home, and can you imagine what he did? Sent her an envelope filled with blank paper, the brute!

Overheard in girls' dorm:
First girl: Say, you'd better explain why you haven't spoken to me for three days.
Second ditto: My dear, I didn't want to interrupt.
(House/Cat: Meow!)

Prof. Xavier is grateful for the fact that he has so many bright pupils in his "Bugology" class. Mrs. Bailey and Mr. Freed are thankful for the coming vacation. Mr. Freed, a friend of the well known L. C. Smith and A. N. Palmer, without doubt is also satisfied to have pens and typewriters elenched for several days.

It is believed that both students and teachers will be thankful if able to come back to school without any serious mishaps over the vacation. Thankfulness is also felt thru the fact that all have such a school as P. L. C., to which they will gladly return.

The next thing on the program will be "When do we Eat?" And we will all be thankful when that time arrives on the 24th of this month.

Mrs. Taylor is thankful that she doesn't have to write a book on "Why Freshmen Should Take English." She says that the book would be entirely too long, and, undoubtedly it would.
