CONSECRATION SERVICE SUNDAY FOR SOPHOMORE NURSING STUDENTS

Thirty-one sophomore women at PLU will officially enter the PLU School of Nursing during the 12th annual consecration service Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in Eastvold Chapel auditorium.

Mrs. Eline Kraabel Morken, R.N., director of the School of Nursing, will deliver the consecration address.

Miss Josephine Fletcher, instructor in nursing, will present the class.

Mrs. June Ruth, instructor of nursing, will conduct the traditional ceremony of lighting the Florence Nightingale lamps and reciting the pledge. The service will conclude with the singing of the hymn of consecration.

A reception will be held in Chris Knutzen Hall following the service.

REGISTRATION FIGURES NEARS 1800 FULL-TIME STUDENTS

While accurate figures will not be available for a few days, it appears that approximately 1800 students will be enrolled at PLU this fall.

Figures vary depending upon which office one contacts--Registrar, Business Office or Dean of Students--since some students apparently are doing their registration in stages. However, these figures run from 1,750 to 1,792.

PROMOTIONS, TENURE GRANTED TO 14 FACULTY MEMBERS

Dr. Robert Mortvedt announced promotions and granting of tenure for 14 faculty members Thursday during the opening convocation of the 1965-66 academic year--the University's 75th.

In the College of Arts and Sciences the following promotions were made: Dr. William Giddings, associate professor of Chemistry; Dr. Martin Hillger, associate professor of English; Gene Lundgaard, assistant professor of physical education; Donald Reynolds, assistant professor of English; Johannes Schiller, associate professor of sociology and chairman of the department; Mrs. Rhoda Young, associate professor of physical education. Tenure was granted to Kenneth Christopherson, assistant professor of religion; Dr. Peter Ristuben, associate professor of history; and Schiller.

Promoted in the College of Professional Studies were: Judd Doughty, assistant professor of speech; Josephine Fletcher, assistant professor of nursing; Calvin Knapp, assistant professor of music. Tenure was granted to Dr. Gundar King, associate professor of business administration; Dr. Lynn Stein, associate professor of education and Paul Steen, assistant professor of speech.

It was also announced that advanced degrees had been granted recently to three faculty members. Harold Mackey, assistant professor in sociology, has received a doctor of philosophy degree from Washington State University. Lundgaard and Mrs. Alice Napjus, instructor in education, have received master's degrees from the University of Washington.

KNIGHTS OPEN 1965 FOOTBALL SEASON
SATURDAY AT LINFIELD, SEE 6th STRAIGHT

Victory strings will be at stake Saturday night when PLU opens its 40th football season against Linfield College at McMinnville, Ore. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

The Knights will carry a modest six-game winning streak into the contest--their longest since 1947.

On the other hand, the Wildcats, defending Northwest Conference champions, will be seeking their 24th straight home victory as well as the 100th win for Coach Paul Durham.

PLU, which won the Evergreen Conference title in 1964 will not have the opportunity to defend that crown or win another title this year. The Knights joined the Northwest Conference this year but do not play enough conference foes to be eligible for the championship.

Saturday's meeting will only be the tenth between the two schools, although the series began in 1933. The two teams have not met since 1941 with PLU winning that game 19-6 to take a 4-3-2 edge in the series.

Coach Roy Carlson considers Linfield one of the strongest teams on a tough nine-game schedule. "They are big, fast and well-coached. We will have our work cut out for us."

Ten lettermen and a junior college transfer have been named to the starting offensive lineup by Carlson.

Tony Lister, transfer from Columbia Basin Junior College, has been given the edge over three-year letterman Bob Batterman at quarterback.

Flankerback Les Rucker, halfback Morris Blankenbaker and fullback Ken Tetz return in the backfield.

Veterans on the forward wall include ends Bill White and Jeff Carey, tackles Bill and Bob Krieger, guards Jess Hagerman and Mike Roberts and center Arv Peterson.

1852 BRITISH FIRM'S OFFICE RULES
UNCOVERED; TRY THEM ON FOR SIZE!

Is the boss a bit short-tempered? Does he get irked just because you take an over-long coffee break? Does he worry you about a couple of silly little mistakes?

Be glad you're not living 113 years ago, in England at any rate.

An unusually intimate picture of office life in those days was uncovered when demolition men knocked down an old building in the town of Lichfield. Among the rubble, they found a bound, preserved document dated 1852, and headed: "Office Staff Practises."

This lays down the office rules for a firm, following the introduction of the first labor laws.

Here are some of the office rules. If you feel your job is anbit constricting, try these on for size:

"The firm has reduced the hours of work, and the clerical staff now only have to be present between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m.

"Daily prayers will be held each morning in the main office. The clerical staff will be present.

"No talking is allowed during business hours.

"The craving of tobacco, wines or spirits is a human weakness, and as such is forbidden to all members of the clerical staff.

"Clothing must be of a sober nature. The clerical staff will not disport themselves in raiment of bright colors.

"A stove is provided for the benefit of clerical staff. It is recommended that each member of the staff bring four pounds of coal each day during cold weather.

"No member of the clerical staff may leave the room without permission from Mr. Rogers. The calls of nature are per- (con't on the next column)

We are sorry to hear of the illness of DR. HERBERT RANSON's wife. She has been a patient in Tacoma General Hospital since last week and is quite seriously ill... it is hoped she can return home by next week for convalescence...MR & MRS. JERRY DODGEN, PLU grads and former head residents at Evergreen, are the parents of a baby girl, Daren Jeanette, born Sept. 7, weighing 7 pounds, 10-1/2 ounces. Jerry is working for State Farm Insurance in Uakima. Their address is 712 S. 20th Ave., Yakima.

mitted, and clerical staff may use the garden below the second gate; this area must be kept in good order.

"Members of the clerical staff will provide their own pens.

"Mr. Rogers will nominate a senior clerk to be responsible for the cleanliness of the main office and the private office. All boys and juniors will report to him 40 minutes before prayers and will remain after closing hours for similar work.

At the end of this somber memorandum, the employers put this note to gladden the hearts of their stiff white collar workers: "The owners recognize the generosity of the new labor laws, but will expect a great rise in output of work to compensate for these near Utopian conditions."
