

Wayne Olsen and Sonja Sodergard go over some lines from "The Taming of the Shrew," as Bob Fleming, Al Sylling and Nobby Anderson observe.

In a scene from "The Emperor's New Clothes," the weavers show the Emperor some of the material they have woven. Mavis Everette (on balcony), Bill Hanna, Barbara Stuhlmiller, Glenn Arney, Ron Backman, Dave Crowner and Arlene Halvor (all kneeling); Milo Sherer, Heather Stroup, Jayson Graham (standing).

Student Congregation communion services will be conducted this Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Chapel auditorium. Pastor Lutnes will give the sermon.

'Taming of the Shrew' Will Show Three Times Beginning Thursday

"All the world's a stage and men and women are merely players," once said Shakespeare. At least the part of the world known at CB-200 will become the stage for "The Taming of the Shrew" next week when Alpha Psi Omega presents this classic comedy of William Shakespeare.

"Taming of the Shrew" is being given penthouse style, with the audience seated all around the actors.

Playing the lead roles are Wayne Olsen as Petruchio and Sonja Sodergard as Katharina (Kate) the Shrew. Others in the cast are: Nobby Anderson, Doris Baschore, Don Cornell, Bob Fleming, Carl Foss, Jo Ann Hanson, Irving NYDAN, Rolly Opsahl, Lyle Pearson, Dick Rorvig, Dick Stull, Al Sylling, and Ken Torvik.

Terry Lindsey is directing the show and is assisted by Neil Munson. Committees are headed by Patti Rothkow, costumes; Jon Saine, stage; Rod Kastelle, technical advisor; Doris Baschore, tickets; Janet Turman and Bruce Mayford, concessions.

Admission is 40 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

Mothers Will Be Guests Of AWS Next Weekend

March 8, 9 and 10 has been set aside as "Mothers' Weekend" by AWS. A campus tour, fireside tea and various other social functions will be enjoyed by the girls and their "moms."

On the agenda for "Mothers' Weekend" or "Hey Daze," as it has also been named, is:

- Friday
 12 Noon—The mothers will arrive, and may register from noon till 7 p.m.
 5:30-6:30—Dinner in the dining hall.
 7:30—Fireside, time subject to change. Co-chairmen for the evening are Marlene Eichmaler and Jan Bondurant.

- Saturday

Civil Service Exams Listed

The Mooring Mast regularly receives announcements from the U. S. Civil Service Commission announcing examination dates for available positions. These would require more space in the paper than can be properly devoted to them, but all interested students may check these bulletins in the office of the Deans.

The latest information received was for a position with the Immigration and Naturalization Service Border Patrol as an immigration patrol inspector.

Further information can be obtained in the Dean of Men's office.

Next Tuesday evening will be the opening night of "The Emperor's New Clothes," latest play by the Children's Theatre of the Speech Department. The first night's invited audience will consist of teachers and others in various phases of youth work. The first public showing will be on Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Subsequent performances for the public are at 2:30 each afternoon on March 7, 8 and 9. Another performance, sponsored by the local chapter of the AAUW, will be given at 10:30 Saturday morning.

Eric Nordholm, director of the Children's Theatre, expressed great satisfaction over the enthusiasm and interest of local groups for the Children's Theatre. Notably the Tacoma Youth for Arts Council and the American Association of University Women are supporting the movement.

Assisting Nordholm in the production of "The Emperor's New Clothes" is Rod Kastelle as technical director, assisted by Tom Borstad. Eric Jordahl is electrician, assisted by Ron Talley.

Ruth Christian and her costume committee have executed some 20 Oriental costumes for this show. Jack Anderson and Delta Dorendorf compose the props committee; Rolly Opsahl, publicity. Mr. Jon Ericson is the business manager.

Forensic Squads Scheduled To Travel to Linfield Tournament

Linfield College, McMinnville, Oregon, will sponsor its annual debate tournament next weekend, March 7, 8 and 9. The Linfield event is often called the "Tournament of Champions," and is the largest invitational tournament in the West. Approximately 40 schools attend each year.

PLC won three Sweepstakes at Linfield last year: Junior Division Sweep, Senior Division Sweep, and Grand Sweepstakes.

Mr. Jon Ericson said: "PLC has always figured in Sweepstakes contention."

Leaving on Wednesday for the three-day event, will be Profs Theodore Karl and Ericson; Bette Lou Bronice, Cal Capener, Herb Dempsey, Don Douglas, Dick Kraiger, Bettelou MacDonald, Neil Munson, Jerry Olson, Jeris Randall, Tom Reeves and Jim Traynor. Delores Nimis will attend as an alternate.

'Mr. Roberts' Billed For Saturday Night

Tomorrow night, Saturday, March 2, the student council is sponsoring a showing of the motion picture, "Mr. Roberts." Curtain time will be at 8 p.m. Admission is 35c a single and 50c for couples. There will also be a snack bar where refreshments will be on sale.

The picture will be the first of a series of movies sponsored by the student council in hopes of raising funds for the purchase of a cinema-scope screen and projector.

"We hope this program will be a big success," said movie chairman Karl Forsell. "For the future we have ordered such big name films as the "Glenn Miller Story" and "A Man Called Peter." With the advent of the new screen and projector we will be able to offer the students a finer quality of pictures both from the entertainment and educational viewpoint."

Bronice, Munson, Reeves Cop Sweepstakes

PLC's winning combination of Bette Lou Bronice, Neil Munson and Tom Reeves took the top prize at the Portland Town Meeting, and so another Sweepstakes trophy was crowded into the Speech department's trophy case last week.

This year's win was the seventh for PLC out of the nine years the Town Meeting has been conducted. Don Douglas also rated high as a moderator for the speaking panels. Prof. Theodore Karl accompanied the group on the Portland trip.

Starting next Wednesday evening—Ash Wednesday—and continuing each week through April 10, Lenten services will be held in the CMS at 7 p.m. Pastor Lutnes will conduct these meetings.

Married Couples Organize New Club

The Married Couples Club received ratification of its constitution on Feb. 3. Merle and Joan Metcalf were elected chairman couple; Carl Leibig, ICC representative; and Pastor Lutnes, advisor.

Discussions and speakers are planned for Sunday evening meetings which will be held at 8 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge.

A Dirty Shame

The snow has all disappeared into the ground and the grass should be beginning to quicken within its roots.
 Personally I feel that anything on the campus, whether animal, mineral or vegetable, which shows an interest in growing or making something of itself should be given every opportunity and encouragement to do so.
 But, (and now comes the rub) how much of a chance does the lawn have that is knee-deep in gum and candy wrapper, discarded letters and class notes, and unread Mooring Masts?
 While the snow kept falling, the litter in front of the CUB was covered and re-covered, but now the snow is gone and the mess is un-covered. With the empty cups cleared off of the tables inside and the trash picked up outside, our CUB could become a more attractive place for everyone.

Dr. Ford Directs Genetics Research for Leader Dogs

by Norma Cunningham
 Butler, Indiana's loss was PLC's gain when Dr. Lee Ford became associate professor of Biology here. Dr. Ford has a dynamic personality and a zeal for her life's work that would be hard to match.
 Odd as it may seem, Dr. Ford's vocational choice was public accounting and auditing before she became interested in biology and more specifically, genetics. Genetics is a branch of biology dealing with heredity and variation among related organisms.
 Dr. Ford received her master's degree in genetics at the University of Minnesota, and from there went on to Iowa State College, at Ames, Iowa, where she received her Ph. D. Since then she has taught and done research at Gustavus Adolphus, St. Peter, Minnesota; Anderson College, Anderson, Indiana, and the University of Alberta, Alberta, Canada.
 Besides being a teacher, Dr. Ford is also a research scientist in the field of genetics. She is the director of the Shamrock Collie Research Laboratory located at Butler, Indiana. At the present the Shamrock Lab is sponsoring a Smooth Collie leader dog program. To this program Dr. Ford gives her time and talent without pay.

 Operating as a very small and unknown group for seven or eight years, the Shamrock Laboratory officially organized and was recognized in January, 1956. It is a cooperative effort of some 100 Collie breeders and owners who contribute work, services, dogs, care, training and records without pay. They are scattered throughout the United States but keep in contact thru direct correspondence.
 German Shepherds are most commonly used as lead dogs for the blind. Collies, the laboratory discovered, have several advantages

Letters to the Editor
 (The opinions expressed in this letter are not necessarily those of the editor, but they might be.)

Dear Sir:
 I am writing to you in regard to a column in which my name appeared. This column needs no introduction, just material. This will be the fourth time that Fleming's column has appeared in this particular paper, which proves that you haven't been particular enough. I have heard it rumored around that since "Fleming Sez" appears in this paper it can no longer be sent through the mail. Is this true?
 I understand that there has already been a letter written to Fleming which reads as follows: "Dear Mr. Fleming: I read your latest column while taking a bath. That makes two of us that are washed up."

Fleming claims that he is a self-made man—just another example of unskilled labor. I must admit that I am waiting rather anxiously for his new book called "How To Be Happy Though Single," an autobiography which should be at the bookstore any day now.
 Let's face it, Fleming. I've read funnier stuff on Burma Shave signs with the last post missing.
 Yours for better journalism,
 DON CORNELL

Dear Editor:
 One of the biggest problems on this campus is just how to let the right person know you'd just really like to go out with him. Just what channels must one go through?
 If it were elsewhere than PLC one could think the reason were in part monetary. But coffee only costs a dime, and many, many things can be attended by showing the right card. We have lounges, some with TV, the library with the catacombs and quite a few places to visit on foot. When something "extra big" does come up on campus the fee is always nominal.
 Every girl has at least one fellow she would just "give almost anything" to be able to go out with, even for coffee (love that liquid!).
 For the most part we on this campus are all mature persons so we should be able to discuss this in such a manner. There must be some way that a girl can, without chasing, let the "right guy" know.
 Perhaps a suggestion would be to have once a month in one of the dorms (women's) a get-together, where the only way a fellow could attend is by invitation from a girl. This could also be a way to help the social life on campus kinda liven up. Let us hear some ideas from Old Main, et al.

He sez: "Could you give me refuge for tonight, sir?" The clerk sez: "No, go away!" The knight sez: "Please, kind sir, just for tonight?" The clerk sez: "I told you no." (Then looking over the desk, he sez): "Say are you riding that dog?" The knight answers: "Yes." The clerk sez: "Well, that's different. I wouldn't turn out a knight or a dog like this."

Did you hear the one about the musician who made up an orchestra of 49 violins and a drummer? For weeks they practiced until the night of their first concert arrived. The leader came out to the podium, raised his baton, but suddenly the drummer jumped the gun and let loose with a terrific cymbal crash. The conductor threw a fit. He ripped the music in half, stamped on the pieces and hurled his baton at the stage. Then he looked around and said: "All right—who's the wise guy?"

Runners Still Lead; Tossing Test Opens

Following Monday night's win over the 3rd Floor East intramural basketball squad, the Road Runners now hold down first place in the Major League with 14 wins and no losses.

In other Monday night action in the Majors, Western pulled out of a third place tie with the Prairie Dogs by defeating the Dogs 57-54. Jim Ruff tallied 18 points for the Western crew.

Zag Named Lutes Foe

Gonzaga was named definitely as the foe of Pacific Lutheran for the play-off March 4, 5 and 6, at a committee meeting of the NAA Region 1, last Tuesday.

Chairman Ken Furman from Seattle Pacific, Mr. Leo Appleton of Central, and Dr. Alder from Whitworth College voted unanimously to pitch the Bulldogs against the Gladiators.

It was also decided for certain that the schedule, which determines what team will go to the Madison City play-offs, should be played at Gonzaga University's gym.

Left just after PLC last the Zags in the play-off, the Lutes took 3rd place, 76-61 and 30-12. Those who have won regular games during the season and will probably start for Gonzaga are: Bob Turner, 4-1, and Norm Trauba, 30, forwards; Dave Tri, 6, and Charles Redman, 2-9, guards; and Mike Gordon, 4-6, center.

With Gordon Hofferbacker bucketing 23 points for the victors, the Gay Goofs downed Clover Creek 54-48.

Free-Throw Contest Begins
In conjunction with the intramural program, this year's free-throw contest has begun, with tossing taking place between intramural games. Each contestant is given 100 attempts at the basket.

A run-down of the sharpshooters finds these five men the highest for last Monday night: Carole Oron Dahl, 85; Frank Waterworth, 77; Jerry Evanson, 72; Terry Gohnick, 72; and Fred Mastad, 71.

CARRYING OFF Coach Marv Harshman is the enthusiastic PLC varsity basketball squad which has just won the Evergreen Conference crown by defeating Western on February 14 in the Lute gym.

Bakers, Lutherans Compete Tonight

For the third and final time this season, the rampaging Parkland five will be pitted against the outstanding AAU basketball power in the Northwest, the Buchan Bakers of Seattle. The Bakers are the only team who have halted the Lutes, doing so 87-75 at the season's beginning. On January 12, the Gladiators avenged the loss by an 80 to 63 count. Coach Harshman welcomes the game as a test for the squad against top flight competition. On Tuesday, Bob Roiko, who has an all-time record of 30-10 for the PLC, will be available for the first time since the occurrence of the 87-75 record should be available to the team on Friday.

Considerable interest has been shown in the game. The Bakers have played on practically even terms with the 5th ranking team in the nation, Seattle University, and have a 10-0 record in the Northwest AAU loop.

The following predictions of the game's outcome were offered to this reporter. Senior Bob Prun picked the Lutes 85-75; Jim Traynor, a sophomore, favored the locals 85-80; Earl Leubker, Tacoma News Tribune sports writer, said "PLC by 3"; Mr. Buchan, president of the bread company, chose the Bakers, 85-72. Professors Olson and Ramstad backed the Lutherans by scores of 80-80 and 81-74, respectively.

Lutes Finish League Contests Holding Impressive Records

Pacific Lutheran's mighty Gladiators closed out their Evergreen Conference play with a spotless 12-0 record, and ran up an impressive 24-1 win-loss tally all told.

Besides the twelve league victories, the Lutes swept away ten pre-conference wins against college competition, took one game from the Northwest Bakers and one from the Lutheran Alumni team.

PLC boasts the only team in the State of Washington, and the nation's statistics, that has been undefeated in college play, holding a 22-0 record.

In these 22 games, the Glads have hit for 42.6% from the floor and 65.7% from the free throw line, with an offensive record of 76.3 and defensive tally of 56.3.

Also bringing home laurels for PLC was the Junior Varsity squad, which came up with a 14-3 record, and took the second half crown in the City League.

Spring Competition Begins March 15

Spring sports of baseball, track, golf and tennis take the athletic spotlight at Pacific Lutheran beginning March 15.

Coaching the baseball team will be Marv Harshman; on track and golf will be Mark Saltzman; and heading up the tennis crew will be Milt Nesvig.

Practice for the baseball men may not start on the fifteenth, depending on the weather; however, the other three sports will probably commence workouts at that time.

Those going out for spring sports make arrangements with the respective coaches at the time of turn-outs.

Plans Underway To Enter Float

With daffodil time just around the corner, PLC students are again busying themselves with the designing and planning of the annual float entry in the Daffodil Parade.

The parade, held in conjunction with the Tacoma, Puyallup, Sumner Daffodil Festival, will be on April 1, having for its theme, "Melodies in Daffodils." In keeping with this, PLC's float will be titled, "Somewhere Over the Rainbow."

For the past three years PLC has won first place in the Educational division. Commenting upon this, Don Cornell, this year's general chairman, said, "If we hope to do as well as we have in past years we must have the wholehearted support of the student body, both in spirit and in work. There are many vacancies on committees yet to be filled. Those interested in the design and art work are to see Jay Trossdale and Sue Hatch, while those interested in construction are to contact Jerry Hanson. We have drawn up tentative plans but these are not necessarily definite."

Figures that add up to benefits for you
Some time ago we told you in this column that "the sooner you start, the lower the premium...the greater the benefits."
To demonstrate, let's look at some actual figures for a $5,000 endowment policy which matures at age 65—

Age	Annual Premium	Money You Get at 65*	Profit Over Premiums	Years Protected
20	$100.00	$8,408.10	$3,908.10	45
25	117.60	7,937.60	3,233.60	40
30	140.65	7,516.40	2,593.65	35
35	171.90	7,066.20	1,909.20	30
40	215.65	6,649.60	1,258.35	25
