

Formal Reception Of Students Given By P. L. C. Faculty

Vocal and Piano Solos, Stunts, Yells, Grand March, and Refreshments Occupy Program

Students of Pacific Lutheran College were entertained by the faculty in the recreation room Saturday evening, September 28. Mr. Hauge, dean of the school, presided during the program.

Dr. Tingelstad opened the program by giving a formal welcome to all the students of P. L. C. This was followed by a group of vocal solos by Mrs. Clifford Olson and two piano solos by Mr. Edwards, which were enjoyed very much.

Mr. Beck then announced that each class would meet in a separate room to rehearse for a stunt and a yell, which were to be called for ten minutes later. These all went off in good fashion and were very comical. One of them was a mock trial in honor of Mr. Beck. Everything turned out all right, though, when the professor was found not guilty of negligence, while he was accompanying a lady friend to the kicking post.

Following these stunts the students all lined up for the grand march, which was led by Mr. Beck and Miss Martha Hjermstad. The grand march ended in the dining hall, where light refreshments were served. The yell leaders, George Lane and Kenneth Horst, led the student body in the "Alma Mater" song and a group of yells in honor of the faculty.

Board Discusses Development Plan

Alumni to Have Homecoming Day Nov. 16; Both Former and Present Students Invited

At a meeting of the P. L. C. Alumni Board, September 29, plans for the work of the alumni toward the development of Pacific Lutheran College were discussed.

To arouse interest among the alumni, it was decided that Saturday, November 16, be set aside as Alumni Homecoming Day. This gathering is not to replace the Annual Reunion but to establish closer contacts between the school and its former students, contacts which, the board believes, must be maintained if the Alumni Association is to do effective work.

On the day of the homecoming a football game will be played on the local field. In the evening a mixer will be held, where former and present students will have opportunity to renew old acquaintances and form new ones, and where the development projects that have been discussed by the executive board will be presented. All former students are urged to attend this homecoming. The members of the alumni committee in charge of arrangements are Martha Hjermstad, Solveig Rynning, and Irene Dahl.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Martha Hjermstad, '26, president; O. J. Stuen, '27, vice president; Ruth Fadness, '26, corresponding secretary; Solveig Rynning, '21, recording secretary; Alvar Beck, '27, treasurer; Philip E. Hauge, faculty representative. The other members of the board are Myron Kriedler, '26, Norris Langlo, '28, Ingeborg Bolstad, '28, and Irene Dahl, '27.

PROGRESSIVE DINNER PARTY GIVEN FRIDAY

A Progressive dinner party was given Friday evening, September 27, from 5:30 to 7 o'clock.

The first, a soup course, was given at Rev. T. O. Svare's home. The main course was given at Mr. Ph. E. Hauge's home. From here the party went to Mr. O. J. Stuen's home for the salad course.

The party adjourned to the Trinity Lutheran church parlors, where pie and coffee were served. This was followed by a program.

Short Course to Start October 21

Will Benefit Those Who Wish to Learn English Language or Prepare for High School

The beginners' short course in English will start on Oct. 21, 1929, and will continue until March 8, 1930. This course is for the benefit of men or women who have not had the opportunity of studying the English language, or who wish to prepare themselves to enter high-school classes.

Most of the information about this course can be found in the 1929-30 catalog, as follows: "Young men and young women who, from want of opportunity, or failure to improve it, or from other causes, have been deprived of an education and thus handicapped in their work, will here find an excellent opportunity to make up much of what they have lost. While elementary in its nature, the instruction is designed, not for children, but for young men and women. Care is taken that a student may learn to read well, spell correctly, write a good hand, and be thorough in arithmetic.

"Another feature of this department is the special course for foreigners. The college receives into this department foreign-born men and women of all ages and stages of progress. The one who has just arrived from Europe, and who is unable to speak a single word of English will in this department find suitable classes, and he who has acquired some knowledge of the English language will also get the instruction he needs. For the benefit of foreign-born students who desire to prepare for American citizenship a special class is given in the history and government of the United States."

The subjects offered will be Bible, 2 hours a week; beginners' English, 5 hours; spelling, 5 hours; arithmetic, 5 hours; penmanship, 3 hours; reading, history, and civics, 5 hours.

COLLEGE ENTERTAINED BY LUTHER LEAGUE

The faculty and students of the college were guests at a reception given by the Luther League of the Trinity Church last Sunday evening in the church parlors.

The program was as follows: Address of welcome by Mrs. G. Haakenson, to which Warner Quale, president of the student body responded; two vocal solos by Miss Solveig Rynning; a piano solo by Miss Emmy Coltum; a reading by Dorothy Lehmann; a humorous recitation by Miss Ruth Fadness.

The rest of the evening was spent in a social way, with Ida Hinderlie leading in the games. A light lunch was served later in the evening.

DEAN OF MEN HAS MUCH EXPERIENCE AT OTHER SCHOOLS

Rev. W. H. Hellman, the new dean of men, graduated with the first class to leave Hebron Academy, Hebron, Nebraska. From here he went to Capital University, where he received his B. A. degree in 1918. Then he attended the Theological Seminary at Capital University for three years.

Mr. Hellman's first pastorate was at Port Angeles, Washington. After having held the pastorate for a while he went to Washington State College, at Pullman, from which he received his Master's degree in 1927. While at Washington State College, he was the first Lutheran student pastor and was an instructor in the English department.

From Pullman, Mr. Hellman went to Spokane College, where he remained for two years, serving in the capacity of vice president, and head of the English Department.

With the closing of Spokane College for this year, Mr. Hellman has been transferred to Pacific Lutheran College and is acting as dean of men.

When asked how he likes it here, he answered, "I am very well pleased with the Coast, and have every reason to believe that Pacific Lutheran College will experience a successful year."

At a spirited meeting of the college and normal sophomores, September 28, officers were elected for the coming year.

The following were chosen to lead the Class of 1930: president, George Cronquist; vice president, Dorothy Ebersole; secretary-treasurer, Anna Aasmot; sergeant-at-arms, Stanley Berentson. Mr. Ph. E. Hauge was unanimously elected as class adviser. Although no other business matters were brought up at the meeting, the executive committee has already begun to lay plans for the coming year.

Pacific Lutheran College Orchestra has been again organized and is having regular rehearsals. The orchestra was first organized November 14, 1928, and participated in a number of college functions during last year.

The membership is as follows: Earl Percival, Gordon Atchley, Inga Goplerud, Wallace Kerr, Glenda Waters, Harold Gray, and Edwin Hauge, violins; Dorothy Ebersole, viola; Sigurd Holland, cello; Kenneth Horst, flute; C. A. Pellet, Lloyd Erickson, John Goplerud, cornet; Gilbert Sydow, Viola Knutsen, saxophone; George Lane, Conrad Kirchoff, Waldemar Larson; mellophone; Murie Soine, Carroll Svare, trombones; Thoren Christensen, drums; Ernest Walter, tuba; Cora Vista, piano.

YELL LEADERS CHOSEN

After tryouts had been held, George Lane and Kenneth Horst were elected yell leaders at a special meeting of the student body on Friday, September 27. Their competitors for the positions were Ruth Brown and Ruth Norgaard.

A motion to the effect that new yell leaders be elected after the football season carried.

Start Conference Arrangements Now

Northwest Lutheran Students To Have Meeting in Seattle Sometime in January

Mr. Arthur Hillman and Rev. Lundblad, of the University of Washington, were visitors at the college Friday, September 27, for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the Northwest Lutheran Students' Conference to be held at Seattle sometime in January.

Mr. Hillman, president of the Inkwell Club, an organization of Lutheran students at the University, is chairman of a committee of arrangements for this conference. The other committee members are Berold Holton, of the University of Oregon, and Irene Dahl, of Pacific Lutheran College. These three represented their respective schools at the convention in Spokane College last January.

The convention in Spokane was the first meeting of Lutheran students in the Northwest, and was the first step toward organizing a union of which all Lutheran students of both church and state schools in Idaho, Washington, and Oregon will be considered members. At the January convention in Seattle a constitution will be adopted and officers elected. The students also hope to affiliate with the National Lutheran Students' Association.

It should be noted that this Association is not the same as the Lutheran Students' Union, of which this school is also a member. The latter is made up of only the schools of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, and its convention, to be held here in March, is described in another article in this paper. The National Lutheran Students' Association, on the other hand, is composed of all Lutheran student organizations, regardless of synodical connections.

Leading Schools of Luther League to Send Delegates; Visitors From All United States To Be at Parkland

According to word recently received by Doctor Tingelstad from the Rev. N. M. Yvissaker, executive secretary of the Young Peoples' Luther League, the 1930 Lutheran Students' Convention will be held here March 7, 8, and 9.

This decision by the executive committee ends a suspense that has existed among students and teachers since the invitation to hold the convention at Parkland was extended by the P. L. C. delegate at the Canton, South Dakota, convention last March. Owing to the distance between P. L. C. and most of the other church schools it was not deemed advisable at that time to accept the invitation before the student associations of the various schools concerned had considered the matter. The Reverend Yvissaker stated in his letter to Doctor Tingelstad that the four main colleges, St. Olaf, Luther, Concordia, and Augustana, Lutheran Theological Seminary at St. Paul, and some of the academies have already decided to send delegates, thus assuring the success of the convention.

In his letter-officially accepting the invitation, Mr. Morris Wee, president of the Lutheran Students' Union, says, "It gives me a great deal of pleasure to make this tardy acceptance on behalf of the Lutheran Students' Union of the kind invitation which was made by your representative at Canton, South Dakota, last spring, to hold our next annual convention on the campus of Parkland." Choose Staff for This Year's Paper

Number of Regulars Reduced to Half of Former List; Good Work Expected

With only half the members it had last year, the staff of the Mooring Mast for this year has now been chosen and has begun its work in earnest. According to the editor, the chief reason for reducing the size of the staff was to enable him to saddle responsibility on fewer shoulders and thus accomplish more and better work.

The first issue of the Mooring Mast, which was published on September 24, was put out by a tentative staff of seventeen members, from which the regular staff was chosen. Those who were not placed on the staff may contribute stories to the paper.

The members of the editorial staff are: John Goplerud, editor-in-chief; Olaf Hagelstad, associate editor; Harold Gray, makeup editor; Margaret Holmberg and Stella Sorboe, copy editors; George Cronquist, sports editor; Irene Dahl, exchanges; Hugh Tallent and Cora Vista, features; and Inga Goplerud, miscellaneous.

The business department consists of: Gerhard Molden, business manager; Miriam Heimdahl, circulation manager; George Lane, advertising manager; and Beanca Jorgensen, typist. The faculty advisers are N. J. Hong and O. J. Stuen.

THE MOORING MAST

Published every two weeks during the school year by the students of Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Washington.
Subscription, one dollar per year.

OUR ADVERTISERS

From issue to issue of this paper local business concerns have faithfully given us their advertisements. Perhaps you have not stopped to consider the value of these in the publication of the Mooring Mast. Probably you have not realized that they are there for your benefit. Such, however, is the fact. Through their support only can we make a success of this paper.

Let us, therefore, with broad intelligence scan the ads on the pages of this paper and purchase preferably from our advertisers, always making mention of the Mooring Mast. Let us also suggest Mooring Mast patronage to non-advertisers as opportunity affords. Let us show our advertisers that we appreciate their support by patronizing them.

CHOIR

Not everyone realizes that P. L. C. has the only choir of its kind West of the Missouri River, one of a capella singing. For the past two years it has gained considerable fame along the Pacific coast through its tours each spring. This year, through harder work and through the fact that many of the old members have returned, the choir will be able to make its tours earlier and thereby gain time for more local engagements later in the spring.

The choir, whose membership has been reduced to forty to simplify transportation, is a progressive-appearing and melodious-sounding group that can be relied upon to play its part in making this musical season one of which we can be proud.

The Mooring Mast extends to this organization and to its inspiring director its wishes for the greatest success during the coming year. The choir belongs to the school, and the good work it accomplishes will represent the spirit of the school to which it belongs. New students will be attracted, and the good will of the people increased towards our Alma Mater.

The function of the choir is to sing. Let those, therefore, who can help in no other way at least boost the enterprise of this organization by which the spirit of P. L. C. can most directly reach the people.

FIR T VICTORY

Pacific Lutheran college has won its first football game of the season. Our men played for their school in a manner that makes us feel proud of them, and the victory was fairly won.

Didn't it make a fellow's heart just hop around as if on fire every time one of the boys waded through the opposition for a touchdown? It's a wonder some of the students escaped going to the hospital after all the excitement, to say nothing of the dignified professors. The spirit manifested by the students was the kind that would make almost any team win a game.

There are more football contests to come, many of them harder than the last. Let's keep up the old fighting spirit, and in this way aid the team toward further victories.

Speaking of advertising reminds me of George Lane (lucky boy to be recognized in the "footlightment" department), and that reminds me of philosophy class. Dr. Tingstad liked the selling of knowledge to an attempt on the part of the aforementioned fellow to sell five barrels of air for five cents.

Philosophy certainly is interesting. We learned that Socrates liked to talk to anyone who would listen to him. Another bad trait old Soc had was a faculty for asking questions.

By the way, does the above statement bring to your mind any one of your acquaintance? Yes, there must still be a few followers of the Socratic school among us.

Political science is another source of knowledge. Bud Anderson informs us that "Philadelphia was the largest state at the time of the Constitutional Convention."

Mention was made of "Red Tape" in Political Science, but we were not told how it was made. I guess it must be knit from political strings.

Indeed, classes are wonderful. Early morning recitations included. It is a great life if you don't waken.
That will be all for this time. Yours till contented cows give shaving cream.

Lutherans' Fight Wins Over C. P. S. To Score of 19-9

One-Sided Game for Gladiators Throughout; Loggers Score Touchdown Last Minute by Intercepted Pass

Displaying fight and determination equaling that of any former Gladiator eleven, the 1929 edition of the Pacific Lutheran College football team got away to a good start when they took the C. P. S. Reserves into camp last Thursday on the home lot, to the tune of a 19 to 9 score.

Pronounced the very first whistle the Lutherans resorted to a very successful serial attack which netted them 178 yards during the four quarters. Out of the twenty-one attempted passes, ten were completed. The Logger Reserves tried an entirely different brand of football, relying on line plunges and shift plays of the Rockne style for their principal gains.

The fireworks began about five minutes after the starting whistle when Joe Glasco, big Parkland half, heaved a long pass to Red Mitton, who made a wonderful flying catch and fell behind the Reserves' goal line for the first count of the game. The kick for extra point failed.

In the second quarter C. P. S. scored a safety when Johnson dropped a poor pass from center and was tackled behind his own goal line. The play continued to seem "W" up and down the field with neither team seeming to have the edge. With only about two minutes to play before half time the Gladiators completed two long passes and took the ball to the Reserves' two-yard line, where it rested as the whistle sounded.

The Parkland boys came back in the third quarter even more determined than before and started another serial onslaught, which brought them to the C. P. S. two-foot line. Their fight, however, was cooled off by a 15 yard penalty, and they lost the ball when a pass fell incomplete over the Logger line.

Keeping up that fighting spirit which is necessary to win football games, the local boys managed to count twice in the final frame. The first counter came when Glasco intercepted a C. P. S. pass and romped over the chalk line, aided by wonderful interference. The try for point failed. Not long after the Gladiators were again marching down the field when a blocked punt gave them possession of the ball on the Logger Reserves' 33-yard line. Completing one long pass, and making continual yardage on line plunges, the Gladiators were again in scoring territory. Johnson, on an off-tackle play, rammed through to make the count 18 to 2. Sanderson crossed the line for the extra point on another off tackle play. At this point Coach Clifford Olson, sent in several of his second team. With but one minute to play, Neyhart, of the Reserves, intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards to score their first touchdown of the game.

Between halves our new coach, Clifford Olson, was presented a large elephant (not a live one) as a gift from the men on the team.

A good-sized crowd witnessed the game. The new pep band helped to give the occasion a real collegiate atmosphere.

Middies of Lincoln Lose to Reserves

Passing and End Runs Show Up Well; Few Thrilling Plays Made During Game

Playing an excellent brand of football, the Lutheran reserves snowed under the Lincoln High School Inter-medies on the local gridiron by a 13 to 0 score. The game was featured by several long passes and a like number of end runs.

Receiving the opening kick-off on his own 20-yard line, Bartlett, flashy little quarter for the Rallsplitter middies, ran through the entire reserve team to the Lutheran 20-yard line where he was downed by Berentson. The first quarter, however, had no other sensations except an occasional end run by Ben Palo. The second quarter opened with the Lutherans on the offense, more than ever determined to score. Their efforts were rewarded when Palo threw a perfect pass into the waiting arms of M. Quale, who ran 20 yards to score the first touchdown of the game. Palo made a beautiful drop kick for the extra point.

The third frame had very few thrills except when Lincoln recovered a fumble on the Lutheran's 12-yard line. The Parkland line proved itself to be a brick wall and took the ball on downs. Again in the fourth quarter the Reserves came back to score. A long pass from Palo to W. Quale put the ball on the Lincoln 12-yard line, where Sanderson crashed through for another counter. Try for point failed.

Express Spirit of School
Is Aim

The rules and regulations governing the Pacific Lutheran College Hymn Writing Contest have now been drawn up by Mr. W. H. Hellman, Mr. N. J. Hong, and Mr. V. E. Elvstrom. The contest opens immediately and closes at midnight, January 31, 1930.

The object of this contest is to stimulate interest in the writing of a hymn that will distinctly express the spirit that should characterize Pacific Lutheran College. In order that it may truly be a hymn, the verse and music must be of a devotional nature.

Following are the rules:

1. This contest is open to all persons interested in Pacific Lutheran College.
2. All entries must be original.
3. Any contestant may submit as many hymns as he chooses.
4. Hymns should be limited to three stanzas, with or without chorus.
5. While the contest is being conducted primarily to secure the verse, contestants may also submit the musical score. Verses and score, however, will be judged separately.
6. Three judges, yet to be named, will determine the winner. Under the rules adopted the judges will reserve the right to reject any or all entries.
7. The winner will receive the sum of twenty-five dollars.
8. The contest closes at midnight, January 31, 1930. Entries postmarked after this time will not be considered.
9. All entries must be addressed to the Hymn Contest Committee, Pacific Lutheran College, Parkland, Washington.

Campus Locals

Ingeborg Bolstad, '28, who is teaching next term, was a week-end visitor, September 28 and 29.

Rev. H. O. Svara, brother of Rev. T. O. Svara, spoke to the students at the chapel exercises September 28. Luella Portland, of Silverton, Oregon, visited Cora and Inga Goplerud Monday afternoon, September 30.

Last week several boys, thinking they were going to get their pictures taken, were "waterbagged," instead, on the south steps.

Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Poes and Mr. and Mrs. B. Tengelstad, of Silverton, Oregon, visited the college Monday afternoon, September 30.

The Freshman dorm girls don't seem able to go without powder a single day. The Sophomores found that out last Thursday.

Peter Plotz spent Friday, September 27, at P. L. C. before leaving for Washington, D. C., where he will prepare for foreign service.

At a meeting held last Monday noon, Olaf Hageness was elected president of the college and normal freshman class.

WORKOU WEAK POINTS OF TEAM FOR TIGER GAME

With one victory under their belts, the Pacific Lutheran College Gladiators will leave their home next Friday, November 11, to enter the lat, of the Stadium Tigers.

The entire week will be used for hard workout in order to put the local eleven in shape for the game. There will be special instruction for the backfield in the art of carrying the ball, in order to avoid the great number of fumbles which were made in the game with the Loger Reserves from the College of Puget Sound. Some time will also be devoted to tackling any blocking, as the team did not work as well as it should have in these departments. Passing will also be practiced so that even better results may be obtained against the Tigers than were those secured against the C. P. S. Reserves. There is a possibility that Coach Olson will give out some new plays for the game.

The Tigers, who defeated Pacific Lutheran College last year, seem to be just as powerful this season. "Swede" Willard and five other lettermen are back to bolster up the north end eleven. Carl Anderson, a former P. L. C. backfield man, is filling the right-guard berth on the Stadium team.

"This will be a real test for my team. Taking everything into consideration, however, I cannot see why we can't return with another win tucked away. We are going over there with a victory as our objective, and we can assure the entire school that we will give our best efforts toward that end," says Coach Olson.

The game will start at 3 p. m. and will be played in the Tacoma Stadium.

Practically Decided On School Annual

Committee Make Conditions for Students to Follow; Faculty
To Choose Editor

That Pacific Lutheran College is going to have an annual this year provided that certain conditions are met by the student body, was the decision of the committee composed of Mr. Hong, chairman, Mr. Hauge, and Mr. Larson. The committee considered the publication of an annual feasible, provided the following conditions are met by the student body.

(1) Individual students must give their support in advance in the sum of $240, which will mean that every student buy an annual.

(2) Each member of the college and normal graduating class and each high school senior must become responsible for an additional copy.

(3) The student body as an organization must become responsible for $200. The committee suggests that the editor-in-chief be chosen by the entire faculty so that the person best fitted for the position may be chosen.

This matter was taken up and announced at the meeting of the college and normal graduating class and high school seniors which was held yesterday noon. It will also be brought up for discussion at the weekly meeting of the student body tomorrow.

A "sorting over" party was given by the school librarians last Friday evening to which the entire faculty was invited. The courses were old magazines and papers of the library store room. About half the pile was gone over, some of the material being kept for reference and other been condemned to the junk pile. Mr. Xavier expects to sell about half a ton of old papers when the work is finished.

The Morning Mast wishes to acknowledge its error in omitting the advertisements of George Knutsen's Barber and Confectionery Shop and Dah's Grocery in the last issue.

"It's Greek to me," can no longer be an alibi for three ambitious college sophomores George Lane, John Goplerud, and Hugh Tallent—who under the direction of Dr. Tengelstad, are taking up the study of Greek this semester.

The class got a late start on account of the late arrival of two of its members, and it is meeting six times a week until the work is made up.

The beginners' course in Greek has not been taught at P. L. C. for approximately fifteen years, and according to Dr. Tengelstad it is a valuable addition to the courses offered. It is also one of those required at Luther and St. Olaf Colleges.

LUTHERAN CONVENTION TO BE HELD AT P. L. C.

Pacific Lutheran College. The unanimous approval of the Church Council and the manifest interest of our church school here assures us of a representative group of delegates and, I hope, a blessed convention. . . . Interest is awake here; it will be all the more so by March. We hope that enthusiasm on the Pacific coast will help the interest here to result in a thoroughly representative delegation, and we anticipate a very enjoyable and fruitful convention."

It is the general opinion among church workers here that a conference of this nature will mean much to Pacific Lutheran College. Not only will there be several notable speakers, but delegates will come from all parts of the country, thus bringing this institution into closer contact with the other more centrally located schools of the church.

This national convention will be the fifth in which P. L. C. has had a part. In 1926 Martha Hjerstad, '26, present president of the Alumni Association, was the first P. L. C. delegate, and Arthur Knutsen, '27, Artington Bannerud, '28, and Irene Dahl, '30, were in turn representatives during the three following years. The delegates have always brought home to the students reports of the spirit which prevails at such gatherings of young people. Students here this year may count themselves fortunate in having the opportunity of taking part in such a convention.
