Co-directors Complete 3rd Annual Drama-Music Festival; Luise Rainer Will Star In Play Tonight With PLC Students

Karl Weiss

Theodore O. H. Karl

- - A Tribute - -

To Karl E. Weiss and Theodore O. H. Karl, co-directors of the Third Annual Pacific Lutheran College Drama-Music Festival, we, the students, wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge and thank them for their many efforts in bringing to this campus another fine example of the type of culture for which PLC is fast becoming known.

In addition to their heavy teaching load and many extracurricular activities, Mr. Karl and Mrs. Weiss have found time to do the thousands of details such as phone calls, personal contacts, radio and TV shows, which are a necessity for a Festival success.

They have tirelessly and often thanklessly brought to completion another tremendous success. Thank you, directors, and we are looking forward to the Fourth Annual Drama-Music Festival.

Our thanks also go to President S. C. Eastvold and the entire Drama-Music Festival Committee, who have greatly helped to establish an annual Festival. A special tribute should also go to the Festival Core Committee, which has worked with Mr. Karl and Mr. Weiss toward Festival success.

With a student cast of twenty PLC-ites, Luise Rainer tonight will play the title role of "Joan of Lorraine."

In charge of the stage are Mark Freed and Dick Griswold, with Roald Feness in charge of lighting. Ann Neilson is in charge of costumes, and Miss Alice Moe and Marian Christensen are in charge of makeup.

"Joan of Lorraine" is a play with in a play with all the cast having two parts. Scenes of the play about Joan of Arc are interspersed with scenes of the production of the play. The main character of the play is portrayed by Luise Rainer, who plays the part of Mary Gray on stage and the part of Joan of Lorraine in the play that is under production within the main play. Thomas Swindland plays the part of the director of the play whose stage name is Jimmy Masters. The other main part of "Joan of Lorraine" features Glenn Johnson as Les Ward. His stage name is Dauphin.

The play is based on the life of Joan of Arc. The main problem of the play deals with the controversy of the type of person that Joan of Arc was as interpreted by the playwright (Luise Rainer) and the director (Tom Swindland). A minor problem of the play deals with financial troubles backing the play.

"The play is extremely interesting and is something different from anything PLC has done previously," said Director Theodore O. H. Karl.

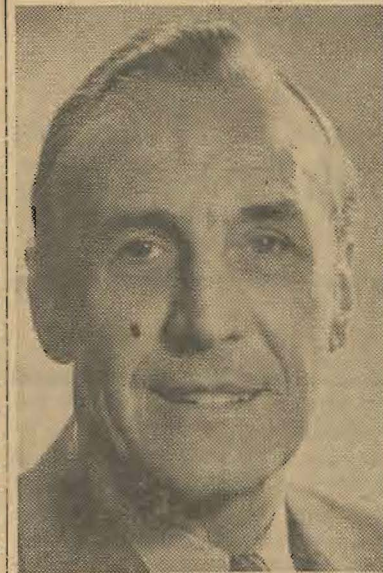

Richard Rhea Wins Cover Design Contest

Richard Rhea was announced as winner of the festival cover design contest sponsored by Karl E. Weiss and Theodore O. H. Karl. The winning design will be used for the cover of the Drama-Music Festival programs, and Richard Rhea will receive one festival ticket as the prize.

The last day of the Drama-Music Festival, May 8, will consist of two performances by the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Stanley Chapple. Dr. Chapple was on the campus May 3 to rehearse the soloists and chorus in preparation for Saturday's program. As usual, his presence inspired the members of the chorus and soloists.

Saturday morning at 8:30 the Seattle Symphony Orchestra will arrive for a joint rehearsal of both programs. The afternoon performance this year has unusual interest. It opens with Mendelssohn's delightful "Overture to Midsummer Night's Dream." We shall then hear the "Prelude Irmelin," by the English impressionist composer, Frederick Delius. Then we shall have one of the highlights of the program, the playing of Mozart's "Symphonia Concertante," in which William Bailey will be the violin soloist and Vernon Jackson the viola soloist. This is one of Mozart's greatest works. Then immediately following the intermission, the "Carmen Suite," by Bizet, will be played. Then we shall have the unusual opportunity of hearing a first performance of a symphonic work by a young American musician who at present is a member of the faculty of Annie Wright Seminary, Miss Emma Lou Diemer. The orchestra will play the "Second Movement of Symphony No. 1," by Miss Diemer. To close the afternoon's program, the Festival Chorus and Mr. Newnham join the orchestra in the "Coronation Scene from Boris Godunov," by Moussorgsky.

Art Work Is On Display In Old Chapel

"Art Today" is the official title given to the professional works now on display in the Old Chapel building.

The collection of works is from Tacoma and vicinity, collected by Professor George Roskos, and from Seattle and vicinity, collected by Jarvis Reed of the University of Washington Art Department.

Practically all the paintings and sculpturings are for sale, with the exception of the works by George Roskos. Prices range anywhere from $20 to about $300. There is a total of some 65 paintings and six or seven sculpturings.

Local artists, most of whom have had their work exhibited extensively, include: Franz Gerstal, Tacoma artist; Frances Chubb, art instructor at CPS; Mrs. Vera Erickson of Tacoma; Mrs. Gordon Alcorn; Albert Lindecker of Steilacoom; and Mrs. Buelah Hyde from Lakewood.

$50,000 GIVEN TO COLLEGE BY KNUTZEN

When the college board of trustees held their annual spring meeting here Thursday they received an unusual and very welcome surprise.

The board passed a resolution congratulating Chris M. Knutzen, Burlington, one of the board members, on his 80th birthday, which he celebrated recently. They also passed a resolution thanking him for his contributions of over $30,000 to the college in recent years.

In thanking the board for their action, Knutzen then announced he has pledged the sum of $50,000, payable on demand, to the college.

Among Knutzen's contributions to the college are the elevator in Old Main and the Chris Knutzen radio studio in the C-M-S.

Knutzen is the grandfather of Kerma and Ronald Knutzen, and the grand uncle of Adrian and Richard Knutzen.

P.L.C. Greets You . . .

We at Pacific Lutheran College wish to extend a very special welcome to all who are here for the first time visiting us this weekend. We hope you will find PLC a pleasant place to be and will see it in its true light—what it really is: a Christian college and the best of its kind.

To all others—welcome back, and enjoy yourselves. With the Drama-Music Festival you are seeing PLC at its best and attaining one of its highest aims.

Mother's Day . . .

Why is it when this day in May rolls around, everyone suddenly remembers they have a mother. Your Mother's Day gift on May 9 will be rather shallow and callous if it isn't followed by the love and attention due your mother. Of course, every mother likes the thought that she is especially remembered this day, for it belongs particularly to her. But don't you agree that you just can't buy something for your mother, mail it, and forget it. Remember your mother every day, not only on May 9.

Thank You . . .

To all who participated in any way in the third great Annual Drama-Music Festival, the students give their humblest thanks. This Festival brings something necessary to PLC—something that leaves us with a good feeling. Let's hope there will be many more.

Happy birthday, Phyllis Bergren! We hear you had a surprise birthday breakfast party. Too bad, it would have been a nice surprise if the girls over at Cramer hadn't burned the pancakes and made the coffee boil over! There was so much noise and so many pungent odors fumigating the rooms that the only surprise was that anyone got out of there alive!

Everyone knows that the FTA picnic over at Cramer Cottage was a big success last Sunday evening. Driving by, we saw a few familiar people playing volleyball and still more stuffing their fat faces with their little greasy, grubby paws. Aside from the huge holes tracked on the lawn by the packs and the rooms deplastered by the ardent ping pong fans who couldn't find any available tables, therefore resorting to tennis, Cramer Cottage is functioning normally again.

Did you know that Barbara Thorson joined an Air Force Reserve unit? Last weekend the commanding officer of her squadron called up Barb and told her she'd have to fly the new flying boxcar in the big McCord air show because the regular pilot had become deathly ill. (He had sclerotic nerosis and a phobia for crowds). Naturally Barb said she would since she had already completed her three weeks' correspondence course in aeronautical flying, therefore being completely qualified. Taking off into the wild blue yonder, Barb got the gear shifts mixed up and started in reverse instead of low and ran over 10,000 people. (She still says that on page 22 of her manual the gear pattern coincided with the diagram). That's the life of a pilot, I guess. You can't make a perfect take-off all the time.

If you ever get a chance, go down to Ivy Hall and see the wonderful intercom system they have for talking between the rooms! At first you probably won't recognize where they are but if you ever see a piece of cloth tacked somewhere on the wall, take a look behind it and see the intricate mechanism in the wall! It looks just like a hole in the wall but of course everyone knows that it's just that the wiring system is so minute you can't see it!

Our question of the week is: "What is your opinion of a Selfpork Nairatelorp?"

Margo Tappero: "It sounds like Mr. Lawless' fiancée."

Martha Coolick: "Something strictly from hunger."

Lucille Wheeler: "Something from Mars."

Barbara Thorson: "Sounds like something the cat drug in!"

Joyce Genz: "Looks like an eclipse of the sun or something."

Janet Carson: "Sounds like another name for some teacher that gives too many tests!"

Darleen Holl: "A seldom heard narrative!"

Ilene Drivstuen: "It's a four-legged peacock!"

Salome Kaskinen: "Sounds like a new Russian weapon!"

Winnie Mitton: "What language is it? Does it make any sense backwards? Does it mean PLC?"

Linda Fant: "It must be the kind of haircut that Bob Sebo and Rodger Bjerck have!"

Harriet Taegae: "I don't want to show my stupidity."

Mrs. Holstad: "Must be something that the Sophomores are!"

Carolyn Hoogner: "I certainly wouldn't want it for breakfast!"

Lorraine Schmich: "A disease and mental frustration of the left bicuspid!"

Anita Schnell: "Kill it quick before it multiplies!"

June Sather: "It sounds like a bark of a dog when it itches its fleas!"

From the Clubs . . .

The Alpha Sigma Lambda banquet will be held at the Top of the Ocean Thursday evening, May 13, at 6:30 p.m.

Chicken a la Smorgasbord will be served at $1.80 per plate.

Speaker for the evening is Mr. Pemperton, manager of J. C. Penney in Olympia. Roger Arestad is in charge of ticket sales and Jack Hoover is master of ceremonies. Members and guests are invited.

According to Ruth Heino, president, the Spurs banquet will be held Tuesday evening at the Top of the Ocean at 6:30 p.m.

Seven Students Will Receive Nurses Degree

Seven senior nursing students will receive certificates from Emmanuel Hospital in Portland, Oregon, May 23 at 4:00 p.m. in the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

The students receiving the certificates are Marie Bloomquist, Charlotte Brandt, Gloria Evanson, Ruth Hansen, DeLora Johnson, Luella Vig, and Shirley Wulf.

The girls will then spend six weeks in the Firland T. B. Hospital in Seattle, and then return to Emmanuel, where they will finish training the latter part of September. Before becoming registered nurses, the girls must take State Board exams in October.

L.S.A. To Give Picnic at Wapato

Phil Wigen will be installed as president and Dick Knutzen as vice president at the L.S.A. all-school picnic to be held May 9 at 2:30 p.m. in Wapato Park.

There will be a wiener roast and various games will be played. Rides will be leaving from Old Main about 2:30 o'clock.

The L.S.A. has been invited by Luther Club of the University of Washington to hear Otto Brammer speak in the University Lutheran Church in the evening on May 9. Mr. Brammer is working with the Division of Student Service and will speak on L.S.A. work in the U. S. He will start speaking at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in attending should contact Bud Lester, Phil Wigen, or anyone on the L. S. A.

MAY 4 CHAPEL WINNERS

Two lucky people were the winners of the Lucky Chapel Seat drawing Tuesday. They were Peggy Harpster and Larry Peterson. Peggy won a Ship and Shore shirt from Laurinat's and Larry won a shirt from Madden's Men's Shop.

Proletarian Profiles

By Steen-Roe-Utzinger

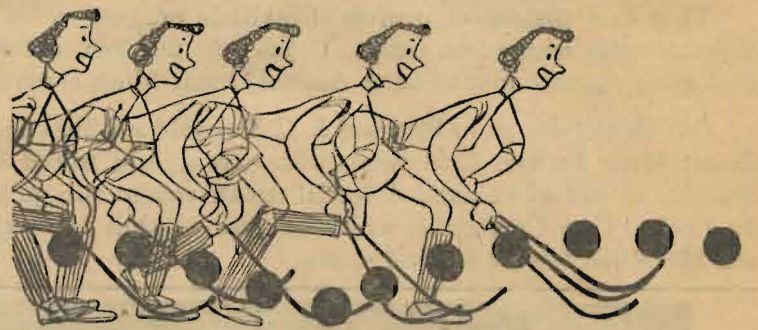

This author has just received an authenticated rumor that LaWanna, the voice, Huber has recently consented to become a candidate for the dubious office of yell leader for the coming school year. This authenticated rumor may or may not be a figment of Lu's warped imagination, but it is most certainly grounds enough for us to dedicate our wholehearted column to this noble, dignified, happy-go-somewhere, will-o-the-wisp. Lu's qualifications are diversified, if nothing else. She's got the only voice in Sacramento that can be heard on Garfield Street on a hot summer evening. When the country's civilian defense program called out for volunteers, this vociferous lass answered with a call that qualified her immediately for the job of a part-time Siren, but this soon proved dangerous for the radar broke down trying to pick up an invisible object which they heard breaking the sound barrier overhead. Lu's promised to unveil a new form of yell leading, if elected. The only hint that she will give is to "watch the bouncing ball."

LaWanna is majoring in speech here at PLC, and she plans to become a disc jockey upon graduation or expulsion. She'll probably get a job, too, because she's perfectly able to broadcast without the aid of any electronic devices. I can see it now: "Huber's Humdrum Harmonies."

Lu is a transplanted Washingtonian, but she still has roots in Everett. She hadn't planned on moving to California, but due to the Korean conflict she thought she would do her bit by volunteering as a U.S.O. hostess at the port of debarkation in San Francisco. This training in the fine art of fleecing soldiers of their overseas pay helped immensely in training Lu to work in the Coffee Shop. She can be seen working diligently one or two hours a week, picking up ciggy butts from the SUB floor.

Until the perfection of bigger television screens Who'Wanna is devoting her time and talents to a radio program which has as its end the usual commercial. Through the airways this program of propaganda and nostrums is persuading the waifs and churls of the street to come to PLC and see the world through the eyes of a doormouse. Although it is mere tissue of lies Lu loves tissue and is looking forward to a lifetime of transparency.

Statistics have proven that we have many avid readers. Some read the column twice, some thrice, and a few only once, but none, no not one, has ever read this prose backwards. Note: we do not try to fool our readers with the reversed endearments. Just news is our motto, the pure unadulterated news.

"From the Bench"

By Ted Sick

Never in baseball history has anybody had a day at the plate like Stan Musial. In a doubleheader between St. Louis and New York, the Cardinal slugger stepped to the plate 10 times and was retired only twice all afternoon; he blasted five home runs, one single and walked the other two times. His comment, "You can't smile much when you lose." (His team lost the second game of the twin bill 9-7 after winning 10-6 in the opener).

As the date for the Conference track meet draws near, it is interesting to note the best performance to date. Bob Ward of Whitworth has put the shot 47 feet, 9 and one-half inches. Jergins of Central has thrown the discus 104 feet. Don Gaarder's 9.8 hundred still remains unequalled in our conference. Myron Rassmuson, Eastern Washington, was clocked at 21.8 for the furlong. Jerry Swan of Western has the best mile at 4:29.

This year the Conference track and field meet will be in Tacoma, either here or at Lincoln Bowl. PLC is also host for the conference golf and tennis play. The dates for these top-notch sport attractions are May 21 and 22.

I'll make my prediction as to how the track meet with CPS will come out tomorrow. The most conservative estimate I dare make would be PLC 67, CPS 62. Being optimistic, I would say PLC 74, CPS 51.

How about that "Hole-in-One" contest next week, which is sponsored by the Letterman's Club. The hole is situated in such a place so that anyone could drop a ball in the cup. Just a nice easy 9-iron shot could win a fine prize for you.

PLC Golfers Lose 2 Matches

PLC golfers dropped two matches in the past week. On April 31 they lost to CPS, 10-5, at the Fircrest links; on May 5 the U. of W. frosh outpointed PLC, 10½ to 4½. Bill Rowe, top U. of W. player, fired a sub-par 70 on the Jackson Park course in Seattle, the best round of the afternoon.

Ed Larson had the best round for the Parklanders, a 75. The other scores for PLC were a 77 by Len Nelson, a 78 by Bob Romnes, an 83 by Jerry Benson and an 80 by Dave Hestenes.

The following matches have been scheduled by playing - Coach Len Nelson:

- May 7—Centralia at Brookdale.
- May 10—Western at Bellingham.
- May 12—CPS at Brookdale.
- May 13—U. of W. Frosh at Brookdale.
- May 18—Centralia J.C. there.

Christensen to Direct Annual Senior Review

Once again it is time for the annual Senior Review. This year it will be held in the C-M-S auditorium on May 14, at 8 o'clock. Marian Christensen is the director of the cast of sixty seniors. The script written by Marian and Joyce Genz is entitled "Portals of the Past," and will contain flashbacks on what has happened during the last four years of college to this year's Senior Class.

Marian urges everyone to come out and see the best wit and talents the class has to offer. She thinks this year's program will be better than ever, but the students must judge that. During past years the senior classes have put on excellent entertainment, so we are hoping for a lot from the class of '54.

PLC Baseball Team Takes Bremerton; Johnson Winner

The Lutes came from behind and then staved off a Navy rally to win Friday's contest 6-5. Ron Johnson worked the first five innings and received credit for the victory, his initial of the year. Gerry Larson pitched the last four frames.

The winning Lute runs were scored in the 7th frame. Jim Ball scored Frankie Karwoski from third base with a sacrifice fly. Navy receiver Hart dropped an infield pop-up and Ron Billings scampered home from third with what proved to be the winning run.

Billings and Karwoski were the batting stars of the day with three hits apiece. Karwoski picked up a double and a pair of RBI's while Ron's three singles accounted for one run.

Tennis Squad Loses C.P.S. Match, 5-2

Bill Medin and company paced College of Puget Sound to a 5-2 match win over PLC Tuesday afternoon. It was the second win for the Loggers over PLC's club. Bill Johnson, playing in the number 5 spot, picked up the Lutes' only win by defeating Dave Berg 6-1, 7-5. In doubles play, Johnson and Jaeger defeated CPS's Shalin and Berg 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Pete Luvass gave conference champ Bill Medin a real battle in the main singles match. Set scores were 7-5 and 6-2, Medin.

Scores: Medin over Luvass 7-5, 6-2. George Pearson over Bruce Hille 1-6, 6-4, 6-1. Bill Rush over Jaeger 6-4, 6-4. Jerry Schalin over Ivan Seppala 6-2, 6-4. Bill Johnson over Dave Berg 6-1, 7-5. Medin and Pearson over Hille and Luvass 6-2, 3-6, 7-5. Jaeger and Johnson over Berg and Johnson 6-1, 7-5.

Duel Meet With CPS Saturday

Powerful Fort Lewis bolstered over three Washington colleges in a track and field meet. The Fort Lewis team, bolstered with many ex-college stars, accumulated 125 points to PLC's 17½, CPS's 15½, and St. Martin's 3 points. Some of the better performances in the 880 (F.L.) 9:08 in the 100.

Huge Bob Woods, the 6 foot, 5 inch 260-pound basketball center who is familiar to the Lute J.V. hoop team, threw the shot 47 feet, 9½ inches. The Fort relay team posted a 3:23 mile relay, breaking their own record. Dan Grogan, ex-Clover Par kstar, was the only winner among the collegians. He took the mile run in 4:32.4.

This Saturday PLC tangles with CPS in what promises to be a close meet. The Lutes have a little bit more depth than the north enders.

Lutes Trim Western

Marv Harshman's Lutes kept in the running for the Western Division title by trimming the Western Washington College of Education Vikings in both ends of a Tuesday doubleheader, 4-3 and 5-4, the last contest lasting 10 innings.

Clutch performances were the rule rather than the exception in both games. Vik infielder Jim Gard singled home two runs to tie the first contest in the top of the 7th. The Lutes came back to win in the last of the frame, however. Freshman first baseman Bob Olson's fly to right fell out of reach of the right fielder when he slipped on the grass. Ole wound up on third. Brian Price ran for Olson and Gary Sambila walked and stole second. After Dwaine Brandt grounded out, Vik chucker Don Sobjack intentionally passed Karwoski to load the bases. Sobjack proceeded to strike out pinch-hitter Vern Hanson, but Ron Billings whacked the first pitch to right center to score Price with the game.

In the tenth frame, Ball popped up for the first out. Ross doubled to left center but Bob Olson grounded out for the second out. Dick Larson, who made five errors, redeemed himself with a sharp single and Ross dented the plate with the winning run.

Hole-in-One Tournament To Be Held Soon

The Hole-in-One Tournament this year will run from May 10 through May 15, after chapel until about 4:00 p.m. The tee-off will be on the hill right beside the Student Union Building overlooking Clover Creek and the green will be located on the north side of Clover Creek flat.

Daily prizes will be given to the extent of about three dollars. A grand prize for the fellas will consist of a forty-dollar radio. Enthusiasm is being worked up through Mrs. Young's physical education classes for the girls' active participation in the tournament and plans are being made to award a twenty or thirty dollar prize for the girls, depending upon the number of girls participating.

The prices will be three balls for twenty-five cents for the fellas and four balls for twenty-five cents for the girls.

The contest will be sponsored by the Letterman's Club. Benefits will be shared partially with the tennis and golf teams who are getting no financial help from the school, and a movie projector for the athletic department will be bought with the remaining part.

This is the third annual Hole-in-One Tournament, so let's have a good turnout and join in the fun.

A.W.S. To Give Lawn Party Soon

This year, instead of having a tea, A.W.S. is having a lawn party on Thursday, May 13, at 3:00 p.m. The purpose is the tapping of Spurs, pinning of Tassels, presentation of Scholarship Awards, and installation of new A.W.S. officers for next year.

Dr. Eastvold Back From Trip

Dr. S. C. Eastvold returned to the college campus May 2 after his tour in Oregon and California.

He spoke at several conferences and conventions during the trip. They were the American Lutheran Church Convention of the California district in Sacramento, the Augustana Lutheran Conference Convention in Berkeley, California, the Woman's Missionary Convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the California district at Santa Monica, and at a special convention for the high school young people at Pasadena. About 350 students attended this convention in Pasadena.

Dr. Eastvold also made speeches at several minor conferences and for appointments. Many of these were at Ashland, Oregon; San Francisco, Santa Barba, San Bernardino, and Pico, California.

He made a visit to Hollywood to preview the new television program entitled "It Happened to Me," under the direction of Rev. Norman Hammer. During his stay in Hollywood he also met the characters in the Missouri Synod television program of "This Is My Life."

When Dr. Eastvold was asked by a member of the staff at Redlands College in California about what would be the future of the Christian College, he answered, "Keep to the dual program of a high academic standard with definite and positive Christian influence and you will be here fifty years from now. If you fall in either one of these your future is doubtful."

The best way to get rid of a noise in your car is to let her drive.

Delivery of Saga Scheduled For Mid-Summer

Delivery time for the 1953-54 Saga will be some time shortly after July 15.

Phyllis Grahn, Saga copy editor, urges any students who have had a change in home address since second semester registration to notify the Saga office.

Approximately 106 pages are already in, and some one hundred more are being sent this week, which leaves the spring sports pages and graduation pages yet to be completed. There will be 15 pages of duo tone this year, five scene pictures and the entire royalty section will be in blue, white black duo tone.

Due to the increase in size of this year's annual, the covers will not be padded. These covers will be navy blue with gold.

All organizations are urged to get their bills paid as soon as possible.

Seattle Symphony To Play Saturday

The evening performance will open with the Overture to Humperdink's Hansel and Gretel, followed by Five Variants of Dives and Lazarus by Vaughan Williams. Then the orchestra will play Symphony No. 5 (The Finale), by Dvorak. The Drama-Music Festival will close when the festival chorus and soloists join the orchestra in Mendelssohn's great "Hymn of Praise."

The performances sound very impressive and will present a cross-section of many types of compositions which should appeal to a critical musical audience as well as those who listen purely for the joy of hearing good music. The Seattle Symphony Orchestra has been here before, so there is no doubt that their performance will be fine. The Festival Chorus will add color and variance to the program and the soloists, the Rev. Rueben Redal, Marguerite Thompson, and Ann Carter, will add much to the performances also. This joint performance will close the Drama-Music Festival of 1954 with the dash of brilliance it deserves in adding culture to the campus and community.

A law professor brought a copy of his final examination to be mimeographed in the mimeo office. The girl read it and said, "Sir, this is exactly the same examination that you gave last semester."

"Yes," replied the professor, "but I changed the answers."

Initiation Is Over For Pi Kappa Delta Members

The past week has been one for unusual activity on the campus. The students under those cute bonnets bearing the school colors are aspiring Pi Kapp members. They have been fulfilling the regular pledge duties such as washing cars, delivering impromptu speeches in some of the craziest places and bowing to Pi Kapp members.

Following are statements made by some of the pledges: Margaret Canis said, "It was charming, simply charming. I enjoyed every minute of it. I'm still a pledge, you know."

Said Bill Finkle, "I took a little nick out of the mirrors in the dining hall, but it was for a good cause."

This cryptic statement was uttered by Paul Jordan: "I always wanted to deliver a speech in front of Old Main. What a speech situation!"

One of the initiates this season is Mr. Stan Elberson, assistant instructor in the Speech Department. He said, "As far as the initiation is concerned, I got off easy but feel very honored, for I have looked forward to this for some time."

Pi Kapp advisor, Prof. Theodore O. H. Karl, said, "To us in our department this event is one of the highlights of the year and we look forward to bringing in deserving new members."

Formal initiation ceremonies will be held at the joint Pi Kappa-Alpha Psi banquet on May 21.

Thompson New Trinity Pastor

Erling C. Thompson was installed as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Sunday morning, May 2, at services in the Chapel-Music-Speech building.

Pastor Thompson was installed by the Rt. Rev. H. L. Foss, president of the Pacific District of the Evangelical Lutheran Churches. Reverend Foss also gave the installation address.

The liturgist for the service was Reverend J. L. Redal, who has been acting pastor of Trinity for the past few months.

The Trinity Lutheran Choir, under the direction of Frederick L. Newnham, sang "Built on a Rock," by F. Mellus Christianson.
