

Cheer Leader Hospitalized; May Be Inactive 60 Days

An announcement from the home of Marianne Stacy, energetic pep leader, revealed this week that she underwent a major operation at Tacoma General Hospital at 9:30 a.m. last Monday. She is expected to be confined to her bed in the hospital for a period of from two to three weeks, and she will be forced to remain inactive for the balance of the semester.

Health Service Finds Tumor

During the general physical check-up of all PLC students by the Student Health Service, it was discovered that Marianne was suffering from a tumor. Doctors that were consulted recommended its removal after x-ray pictures confirmed the findings of the SHS doctors.

The last performance of Marianne as a member of the pep team, at least this semester, was at the PLC-CPS grid game last Saturday. At that time she had already made preparations to enter Tacoma General for the necessary surgery.

Team Loses Ardent Fan

The loss to the athletic teams and to the student body will be felt in the absence of Marianne Stacy, who has always been one of the outstanding rooters for the teams. Her active participation in cheer leading, and her never-tiring efforts on behalf of the teams and the sports fans, has endeared her to the hearts of all loyal PLC students and followers.

She looked upon our competitive sports teams as her own, and no one was more dejected when they lost, or more elated when they won than "Stace," as the students affectionately dubbed her. "Stace" was always there first with congratulations for a win, or a "better luck next time" after a loss.

No Replacement

As of press time the cheer leaders had not resolved any definite plans about someone to replace Marianne until she can resume her activities. The possibility exists, however, that there will be no replacement until Marianne can return to resume her position on the rooster squad.

There are still twenty-five issues of the Mooring Mast to be published this year. That is one hundred pages and five hundred columns; a lot of room for improvement. Stick with us.

Plans Progress For Homecoming

Extensive plans for the annual Pacific Lutheran College Homecoming weekend, October 28 through 30, were announced by co-chairmen Giz Rosin and Phil Falk yesterday.

Highlight of festivities will be the crowning of the Queen during half-time of the PLC-Whitworth grid classic. Every candidate for Queen must be backed by a petition with fifty signatures. The Homecoming Committee will accept the petitions after October 12.

Another feature of the gala affair is the colorful parade composed of floats constructed by the various clubs of the campus. Co-chairman Falk suggests that every student organization start planning their float for the parade. Prizes of ten, and five dollars will be awarded to the sponsors of the first and second place floats, respectively.

Fifty-seven in "Choir of West" As Group Plans For Spring Jaunt

Prof. G. J. Malmin, director of the Choir of the West, announced recently that the choir now includes 26 new members among its total of 56, of which 31 singers are girls and 25 are men.

At a recent rehearsal, the choristers elected Louis Brunner, senior from Tacoma, president for the coming year. Dick Svare, a senior from Parkland, was elected to the position of vice-president, and Marilyn Pflueger, a senior from Parkland, was tabbed as secretary.

Plans Not Complete

Although the plans for the annual choir trip are not complete, it is known that the voices of the Choir of the West will be heard in cities and towns of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, North and South Dakota, Iowa, and Montana. The choir will leave Parkland on March 17, to en-train for Minneapolis, where they will arrive three or four days later. The group will make Minneapolis a "point of embarkation" to other points which will be reached by bus, and at the conclusion of their engagements will return to PLC by train.

Easter at Home

The trip will be so arranged that the songsters and their director, Gunnar J. Malmin, will be able to spend Easter at their own homes.

The complete list of choir personnel, which is subject to change, is as follows:

First soprano—Edna Haglund, Jean Hesla, Annie Isaaksen, Kathryn Reule, Delores Wallen, Helen Enger, Eleanore Hansen, Helen Huswick, Caryl Roeder, and Joan Soper; second sopranos—Doris Johnson, Helen Kyylo, Lois Swanson, Lee Bishop, Helen Hedjn, Linnea Johnson, June Ny-steen, Carolyn Rea, and Laura Sperstad; first alto—Corinne Aune, Marie Haglund, Dorothy Molund, Glenna Nelson, Marilyn Pflueger, LaWanna Wellsandt; second alto—Ruth Moe, Beatrice Konop, Marilyn Hanick, Evelyn Mikkelsen, Maria Ogren, Louise Stephenson; first tenor, Leif Knutson, Charles Martin, Jim Williamson, James Gibson, Merlyn Zier; second tenor—Ronald Josi, Harold Luvaa, Ludwig Siqueland, Walter Braafladt, Dick Svare; first bass—Harold Jensen, Mahlon Read, Marcus Reitz, Rolfe Brandt, Stan Monson, LeRoy Spitzer, Luther Steen, Dave Knutson; second bass—Robert Baird, Jason Boe, Louis Brunner, Bill Saas, Don Breimo, Arnold Gregerson, Richard Johnson, and Bill Williams.

Thirty-two Turn Out For Debate; Plans Revealed

By Donald Graham

The largest turnout in the history of PLC's tournament-speech squad met last Tuesday afternoon in M-215. A total of thirty-two aspiring debaters met with Mr. Karl for the first time this year. Twelve of the group were from last year's squad, while twenty were signing up for the first time.

Mr. Karl explained the type of work done in forensics and the kind of training which would be received. "Above all," he said, "anyone who remains on the squad must be the kind of person whom we will be proud to have representing PLC." The only other requirement, according to Mr. Karl, was that the members of the group be willing to work hard.

Mr. Karl then outlined the program for the year. The first tournament will be held at Stanford University in Palo Alto, California. The squad will then compete at the Tyro tournament held at CPS, and from there will travel to the Linfield tournament in McMinnville, Oregon. Everybody who turned out was promised a chance to participate in at least one tournament. The events at these tournaments will include: Debate, oratory, extemp, impromptu, and experimental speaking; interpretative reading; student congress; after-dinner speaking; and acting. The topic for debate this semester was announced as, "Resolved: that the United States should adopt a Marshall Plan for the Orient."

The erstwhile debaters were divided into two sections for the purpose of deriving the greatest benefit from the experienced members of the squad. The two sections will be captained by Lou Innerarity and Donald Graham. Assisting them will be Hyman Fisch and Larry Hauge. The group under Donald Graham includes: Bob Johnson, Malcolm Soine, Alan Hatlen, Bill Rieke, Morrie Hendrickson, John McBride, Gay L. Ness, Julius Eneboe, Bill Finkle, Mary E. Larson, Jo Ann Nelson, Joyce Taylor, and Beverly Wiggin. Under Captain Lou Innerarity were: Jon Erickson, Bob Erickson, Glenn Clark, Jack Malmin, Herb Neve, Val Johnson, Howard Worley, Leon Peerboom, Lenora Surface, Margaret Kutz, Marguerite Eastvold, Harriet Olson, Jan Olson, and Lillian Leikauf.

It was announced that positions on the squad will be held open for a short time so that those who could not attend the meeting Tuesday will still have an opportunity to enter.

Mr. Karl said that he did not know whether or not he could ever again have so successful a squad as he had last year, but with a lot of interest and hard work by all concerned, he feels that this year's squad will be able to meet their responsibilities as a competitive squad representing the college.

PLC Prexy on Tour

Dr. Eastvold journeyed to Miles City, Montana, two weeks ago, where he delivered his first address the following Sunday, in the interest of the United Christian Educational Appeal for a $2,000,000 building fund.

Glasgow, Montana, was the location of Dr. Eastvold's September 23 address and October 2 will find him having Sunday dinner in the fair city of Kalispell. The locations of his weekday addresses are unknown at the present time, but October 4 has been set as the date of his home-coming.

Cleven Senior Prexy; Others Elect Soon

Senior Results Termed An Upset; Juniors, Sophs, Frosh Name Slates

Lloyd Cleven's election to the position of president of the senior class was announced this last week, and the information received by the Mooring Mast from a "usually reliable source" indicates that the result may have been an upset in senior class politics.

The new senior class president is no newcomer to the field of politics at PLC. He is now serving as president of Pi Kappa Delta, speech honor society.

The vice-president for the fall semester is now Leif Knutson,

Curtain Callers Join APO For Two One-acts

The Curtain Call Club, a campus dramatic group, turned out 85 strong for the first meeting of the semester last week. The main purpose of the meeting was to fill those offices that were vacant for different reasons. Robert Ericson and Evangeline Ordahl were elected to the executive council, and Hyman Fisch was voted in as the new parliamentarian. Lou Innerarity was disqualified for the treasurer's post by his membership on the student council, and Beverly Wiggin was elected to fill that position.

The first project of the year will be a joint production of one-act plays with Alpha Psi Omega. A meeting of the joint activities committee of the two organizations selected Vern Fink and Wal Worley as directors of the two one-acts that were selected for presentation during the homecoming festivities. Assistant director to Vern Fink will be Joyce Taylor, a fifth year student who is attending PLC for the first time. Miss Taylor graduated recently from the University of Washington, and has been active with the Lakewood Players. The assistant to Walt Worley will be Ed Dorothy, who has been active in dramatics work and Curtain Call Club for the last three years. Howard Worley will serve as stage manager for both plays, one of which will be The Dear Departed by Stanley Houghton, with the other being The Twelve Pound Look, by James Barrise.

with Shirley Ravang winning the post of secretary, and Swain Arneson taking up duties as treasurer. Milt Fuhr is now representing the class at ICC meetings as representative to that group for this semester.

Juniors Pick Slate

The Junior class met in M-109 last Tuesday to nominate officers for this semester. They tabbed Bob Brass, Ronald Bucholz, Bob "Stretch" Ferguson, and Lowell Knutson for presidential candidates, and nominated Harold Malnes, Kenney Moe and Bert Morris to compete for the office of vice-president. The bids for secretary were entered for Maria Ogren, Marie Haglund, Doris Shaw and Maguerite Eastvold. Competition will be heavy for the post of treasurer with Helen Hedjn, Ray Tobiasson, Glenn Evanson, La Wanna Wellsandt, and Margie Anderson slated to be on the ballot. The representative to the ICC will be chosen from a list composed of Bob Ericson, Sue Carpe, Bonny Heen, and Wes Benson. Rolfe Lunde was elected to the post of student council representative last spring, and will serve for this semester.

The elections for the class officers will be held on Monday, and voting tables will be set up according to a plan that will be announced in chapel Monday morning.

Sophomore Nominations

With three nominations for president, the sophomore class listed their slate of candidates after a meeting last Wednesday. The three are Jon M. Ericson, Don Reiman, and Milo Hoiland. Vice-presidential nominees are Mary Ann Wick, Bob Knutson, and Lillian Leikauf.

Seventy Freshman Girls Undergo Twenty-four Hours of Initiation

By Lillian Leikauf

Green bows, pale faces and looks of wonderment identified the 70 Frosh girls last Wednesday, when the rough and ready Sophomore girls took on the job of initiation. Although the occasion lasted only one day, the Sophs managed to put the Frosh through the paces from 1:00 in the morning till 10:00 that night, and provide some entertainment for the entire student body.

For some reason, the girls didn't like the idea of being dragged from their beds at 1:00 in the morning, being marched through the dimly lit halls of Old Main, and finally ushered into the girls lounge, where they put on an impromptu show for the Sophs. Edna McCall was very amusing as she tried to solve the problem of sitting on the floor and dangling her legs over the side. With the help of a few other Freshie girls, she finally succeeded. (There are now two holes neatly sawed in the floor of the girls lounge, right above Mother H.!). Natalie Lund and her two roommates were called on the carpet for creating disorder on the freshman floor during the week before initiation. Eleanore Hanson didn't seem to be enjoying herself as much as others, so she lead the whole group in a rousing cheer for the Sophomore girls. Then the Sophs gave the Freshies all the instructions for the initiation period, which could last indefinitely, they told the gals. Filled with fear and trembling of the upperclassmen, the "young 'uns" filed back to their rooms to sleep for the rest of the night in peace (and beds filled with corn flakes!).

A party for all the newly-initiated Freshmen was held Wednesday night in the SUB. Paddles, mops and pails were on the stage to lend the atmosphere but were not used after Miss Hedahl gave the Sophomore girls "the word" on initiation. Marilyn Hanich played two numbers on the piano as part of the freshman program. Jan Oisen read a selection, "The Waltz," representing the Sophomores. Refreshments were served after each Freshie had received a scroll welcoming her into the DPK and saying that the initiation was officially over. The Frosh returned to the dorms to resume their usual life on campus as fully initiated students of PLC.

Arm-Chair Quarterbacks

(Written Monday Night)

After two long days of listening to the arm-chair quarterbacks explain how they would have played last Saturday's game against CPS, this beleaguered person is convinced that they couldn't have done much better. Okay, so we didn't look good against CPS, but the football team knows it as well and better than any of the rest of us.

Why so much fuss? Well, evidently the student fans, and our friends from hereabouts were beguiled into thinking that our new material plus our returning lettermen were going to smash over all opposition. That wrong prediction is understandable from the point of view that they are naturally anxious to see PLC win, and also from the standpoint that our turn-outs have looked promising both in material and in numbers. So, they have a right to be disappointed, and who isn't, including of course, the team, but the many rumors and conjectures about the "worst mistake that was made," and the "one person to blame," are a lot of malarkey (not a Scandinavian term).

Everybody knows that things weren't right, but we also know that the team didn't lose on purpose, and that whatever is wrong is for the coaches and the team to straighten out. The fact that PLC hasn't taken a defeat like that one in ten years should be an indication that all is not lost, and that the other games throughout the season are still to be played, and won. There is nothing wrong with our football team that can't be straightened out, and the greatest majority of the students are confident that the situation will be corrected, whatever it is. The minority who play their football with coffee-wet fingers on the tables of the SUB coffee shop and the Parkland Grill mean no harm, and are probably looking for an answer, but the fact that the team was looking for the answer today is the most encouraging thing to the student body.

The team is still "our team" in the hearts of the students, and will still be if they lose every game they play, and as one of the PLC intelligentsia remarked today, "The guys who feel they know how to beat CPS should turn out for football, even if we are short of new jerseys."

Campus Quips

By Bob Johnson

Do you know Willie Muse? Well, Willie is the checker king in the SUB lounge. All veterans (of checker tournaments) are cordially invited to his daily, noon class.

G.I. student in cafeteria line last week: "Ma'am, could you please take the gas out of these beans?"

Prof. Raun (the fellow who speaks 21 languages) is rapidly becoming Americanized. In French class last week he referred to a certain personality as a "hep character."

The peanut vender was the only satisfied person in the PLC bleachers Saturday night. Peanuts protect gnashing teeth!

We sincerely regret that Luther Steen is out of the football lineup. He cut his leg throwing a block on a church bulletin board!

In anatomy class the other day, Dr. Strunk was outlining the effects of death on protoplasm. Dr. Strunk: "When the body dies we can say that it probably loses its soul, but what does a dog lose when it dies?"

Student: "Its bark."

Hallucinations

By Bob Ericson

Let this column be the first voice to be lifted in righteous indignation. A fraud has been perpetrated upon the students of Pacific Lutheran College! It is disgraceful and very discouraging. A tradition is being undermined. Because of a very misleading bit of information printed in the little white handbook, the freshman girls have become a very unmanageable bunch. I quote from the handbook: The boy " . . . walks around the kicking post three times, kicks the girl and kisses the post." The post has never before received so much affection or the freshman girls so little.

Seen at the CPS game: Too much. A man who arrived late and left early missed two touchdowns.

Best of luck and a speedy recovery to Marianne Stacy, peppy and popular little cheer leader who is "out of the game" temporarily because of illness.

Last week this column mentioned a dog named "Stinkin' Sam." Results have been seen. Some would-be-comedian painted Sam's name in red across his patchy tattle-tale gray back. Maledictions upon you! May you, too, become mangy and flea-bitten, brainless one.

M M Staff Is Appointed

Lou Innerarity, editor of The Mooring Mast, today disclosed that most appointments to positions on the M.M. staff have been completed. Associate editor for the coming school year will be Robert Ericson, who was editor a year ago. Ed Hanson is the business manager, and co-advertising managers are Dorothy Bromfield and Jo Ann Nelson.

Editorial Staff Selected

Sports editor is Bob Ferguson, Kathryn Reule will be in charge of features. Society editor will be Marlene Schwenke and the position of religion editor will be filled by Alan Hatlen. Kenneth Bryant will take the copy editor's spot, assisted by Edna McCall. Editing the speech and language arts news will be Don Graham. Carol Schuler will edit the drama and music news.

Verne Blauvelt will have charge of make-up.

Special writers are: George Torgerson, Lillian Leikauf, and Glenn Clark.

Sixteen Reporters

On the reportorial staff at present are sixteen persons. They are: Glenna Nelson, Helen Bromfield, Bill Morgan, Don Gannon, Luther Kroenk, Steve Kennedy, Jo Friday, Helen Enger, Olive Knutson, Roy Berg, Bob Johnson, Barbara Johnson, Stan Kuern, J. Nelson, F. Biery, and Jon Ericson.

Religious Groups Elect - - Set Plans

Election of officers and highlights of the Ashram, Lutheran Students' Association convention in Interlocken, Michigan, will be the main points of the Sunday evening meeting of LSA in the auditorium of the Student Union Building, Elaine Eide, president, announced this week.

Luther Stgen, Marilyn Pflueger, Caroline Johnson, and Miss Anne Knudson, who traveled to the Interlocken convention, will mention a few of the interests of the convention.

Verne Lavik, speaker at the first fall semester meeting of the Mission Society, gave a concise, comprehensive description of the work of the World Mission Prayer League, an independent Lutheran Missionary group. He emphasized the fact that the main purpose of the WMPL is to reach those portions of the world where the gospel is unknown and where no mission work is being done. Mr. Lavik discussed some of the areas that have already been opened to the gospel through the work of the League, and then pointed out that larger areas, because of remoteness or native hostility, are still closed. His presentation was directed as a challenge to all those who are interested in foreign mission work.

Fireside announced this week that they have withdrawn from the Lutheran Students' Association council, such a decision being reached by the Fireside members during their last regular meeting. Rolfe Lunde, Fireside president, explained that "this action permits the present LSA council, composed of all religious organizations, to dissolve and reconstitute."

Herb Neve led the "Singspiration" while Lowell Knudson presented the evening's meditation. The next meeting of the group is scheduled for this coming Sunday evening at 6:30, in the Student Union Building.

A Singspiration, led by Allan Laurson, highlighted the first meeting of Campus Devotions, Thursday noon.

Pastor Knorr has been asked to act as the club's adviser.

K. Lucas To Head Tassels

Tassels, the senior women's honorary, had its first meeting of the year in the Girls' Lounge, Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. Miss Hedahl, advisor to the group, began the meeting with a small introduction to the organization.

Kay Lucas was elected chairman to lead the group this year and Beverly Wiggin was chosen to the secretarial post. Dolores Langset is the Inter-club Council representative for the group.

Plans for the Homecoming Queen's float will be under the leadership of Char Mykland, who is working with the rest of the girls to make plans and to take care of the arrangements for the float. Tawasi will assist in the decoration of the float.

Campus to Glow

The heretofore night-darkened campus of our alma mater will soon be resplendent in floods of light which will issue forth from ornamental lamps. The lamps are to be placed where the various holes have been dug around the campus, and will extend from Old Main to the gym.

The announcement that the lights are in the offing has stirred comment all the way from "good" by some of the girls, to "Aw, nertz" by some of the night-riders of the self-styled and commissioned "Freshman Welcoming Committee." Most of the dissenters are taking consolation in the fact that at least they will be able to see who they are trying to talk into going out by the kicking post, and might benefit from the lights themselves.

On and Off with the Sun

The fanciest feature about the new lighting system will be the automatic switch-on-and-off setup where the lights will go on when the sun goes down, and when the sun comes up again they will automatically go off.

The lights will have a beautifying effect both at night and in the daytime, for the lamp posts are expected to be a worthwhile addition to the general campus landscape.

Gladiators Lose First Evergreen Tussle, Score 12-0

CPS, Eastern Rated As Top Teams In League; Whitworth Is Dark-horse

Looking back at the games that have been played in the Evergreen Conference, the Loggers and the Savages of Eastern already seem to be standout ball clubs.

The Loggers showed what they had in the 27-0 win over the Lutes last Saturday night, while Eastern stood out by taking Montana State, 26 to 9. Last year, Eastern won that game by a small 13-6 margin. The CPS-Eastern issue, however, should be decided shortly. The Loggers and Savages meet in Tacoma, Saturday, October 8th.

Teams Lagging

The rest of the teams seem to be lagging somewhat . . . with the exception of Whitworth, who is a dark-horse so far. The Pirates notched their second straight win last Saturday by downing St. Martin's 20-0. Stopped on the ground, the Pirates cut loose through the air, which was very effective against the Rangers. Passes accounted for two of the Pirates scores, while an intercepted Ranger aerial accounted for the other. Whitworth definitely is the team to watch.

Northwest conference teams added more defeats last week-end to the non-too-impressive Evergreen's early season record.

CWCE Beaten

The Willamette Bearcats trounced a listless Central Washington College eleven, 23-0. For Central that was the second straight whitewashing. They lost to Portland University in their opener, 23-0.

The Whitman Missionaries squeezed past the University of British Columbia 6-0. The only score of the game was in the first quarter. After that initial score the game became a tight close-to-the-chest contest, with neither team showing spectacular plays nor long passes.

Pacific University came from behind in a second half rally to defeat Western Washington 33 to 13. The win was Pacific's first, having played to an inconclusive 20-20 tie with the Lutes two weeks ago.

The results of last night's game will serve to increase the problem confronting Coach Tommervik, pictured above, in fielding a game-winning team against other conference opponents.

"Time Out"

By Robert W. Ferguson

Last Saturday night in the Lincoln Bowl the Lutes were soundly spanked by the Loggers of CPS, 27-0. It was a defeat that loyal Lute fans had never seen in the last 10 years. The Glads were outcharged on every play and when they got hold of the ball they never could seem to get rolling.

As I was leaving the bowl I talked to some of the spectators and they were surprised at the lack of the fight and spirit that was so prevalent in the teams that represented the school before. They seemed to play lifeless ball and never had their hearts in what was going on. A few of them probably had some stardust in their eyes, and were shocked when CPS scored their first touchdown, and they never did recover from it.

This is the same team we played against last year, to which we tied and lost a close one to. So many people think that we should have played better ball this year. We should have, too, and if the players get some of that spirit in them we will be able to win some games yet and still take the Evergreen crown. The student body has been criticizing the players to a certain extent, and some of them don't know what they are talking about. But I think that the coaches know what is wrong and that the situation will be changed; anyway, it should be. We have the makings of a good team and we have some good players, and if they get a lot of fight in them you will see a different team. Look what they did at PU when they came from behind to tie the game!

The game is over and no alibies. We must win from now on. We are playing for keeps and to do that we must get on the ball.

Two Assistant Coaches Added

PLC Gladiators added two new assistant coaches to the athletic department this year. They are Elmer "Pete" Peterson and Leo Gaume.

"Pete" Peterson is no newcomer to the school, having played here before the war and in 1946 and '47. He first started in 1940 and was center on the team coached by Cliff Olson. Two young halfbacks by the name of Tommervik and Harshman were starting on their way up the ladder at that time. In 1941 "Pete" played center. His most thrilling moment was during the PLC-Gonzaga game played in the Tacoma Stadium. He not only intercepted five passes but centered the ball for the field goal that won the game for the Glads. To this day that game is still talked about as the greatest football game to be played in the Northwest.

The war came and he entered the Navy, where he served for four years. After his discharge he returned to PLC to play guard on the '46 and '47 teams. In 1947 he was co-captain with Don D'Andrea. That year the Lutes played in the Pear Bowl where they won another thrilling game.

"Pete" was elected all-conference guard in '41, '46, and '47. Last November he married Myrtle Davidson, who now teaches at Jason Lee Junior High School in Tacoma. Pete plans to coach and teach biology after he finishes his fifth year.

Leo Gaume, the other assistant coach, first played football at Pe Ell High School, where he also participated in baseball and basketball. In his last year he was captain in all three sports. He entered CWCE in 1938 and after one year transferred to CPS and then left with others for the Army. He served four years, two of which were in Europe, and after his discharge he went to work and did not think of going to school again until this summer. He is finishing his work here but feels that his football days are over as he is 30 years old. Leo is a great asset to the team, and with Pete there, too, the boys really get a workout.

In a do or die battle last night, Central downed the Lutes by the score of 12-0. Both touchdowns were made by Beardsley, the Wildcats' right half.

In the second quarter Jurkovich kicked the ball from his own 10-yard line and Beardsley, making the catch on his 20, came all the way back for the first score of the game. On this run-back, he had very good field blocking down to the last yard. The try-for-point, made by Kier, guard, was no good.

The Wildcats' second tally was in the third quarter, when, after a long drive from their own 40-yard stripe, Beardsley went over again. The kick by Doran again was no good.

The Lutes seemed to have all the breaks against them throughout the whole game. They would be in scoring territory and the ball would be fumbled. There were 3 minutes left and the Lutes had the ball on the Wildcats' 5-yard marker. Again old Brother Fate came into the picture, one of the team had gone off the wrong side, when being brought out of the game and we were put back 5 yards. A pass was then tried, but it was incomplete, losing all chance for a Lute TD.

Intramural Sports To Re-organize

The men's intramural program is to be organized under a new setup this fall. Men interested in playing will be arbitrarily put in groups in which they will remain for the time that they are in college. The program will be directed by physical education majors in their senior year. Plans are underway to have 8-man touch football, and possibly tennis and volleyball, the latter to be played outdoors, if possible. More information is to be given out in the near future.

CPS Tops Glads 27-0

Sparked by speedsters Bob Robbins and Mel Light, a powerful Logger grid team ground out a thorough 27 to 0 win over Pacific Lutheran College at Lincoln Bowl, Saturday night in the second annual "King's-X" meeting of the two schools.

A capacity crowd watched the Maroon and White tally once each in the first, third, and twice in the final period.

It was CPS almost from the opening whistle as Mel Light, on the fourth play of the game, slipped through left tackle, veered toward the Logger sidelines, and outraced the Lute secondary to pay dirt. Len Kalapus' boot for point was good. During the remainder of the first half, however, the Lutes held the Puget Sound forces at bay.

The second Logger TD came shortly after the opening of the third quarter. In seven plays the defending Evergreen Conference champs rolled from their own 44 to the PLC 9.

At this point it was Light again, taking a pitchout from Heirick, and scampering around right end to touchdown territory.

Two More for Loggers

With only three and one-half minutes of play remaining, the Loggers scored again as the result of Dale Larson's interception on the Lute 20 of Gene Strandness's pass. Buford hit left guard for the last two. The try-for-point was no good.

Still not satisfied, CPS counted again on the last play of the game after a sensational twisting punt run-back by Mel Light placed the ball on the Lutheran 14. Murdock went the last four. Len Kalapus kicked his third extra point of the evening, making the final score 27 to 0.

PLC Fails to Impress

Lute scoring opportunities were few. The deepest penetration of Logger territory occurred in the third period when Freshman Chuck Forsland recovered a CPS fumble on the Logger 25. However, the Lutherans were able to advance only two yards before the Heirickmen took over on downs.

The Lute's main offensive weapon, the aerial attack, failed to register. The Glads gained only 57 yards in 26 tries. Faring even more poorly on the ground, the Norsemen netted only 28 yards to the Loggers' 34.

Although the Lutherans were outplayed, they were not out-fought. Veteran tackle Carl Hatley and Freshman end Leland Amundson are particularly deserving of mention.

Rally Delights

With your permission we bring you now to the unopen theater of the SUB, where we shall re-relate the happenings therein—namely last Friday's Pep Rally.

(As you can indubitably tell, this starts out as a fish tale.)

Between Lutefishes splatting their somewhat breezy way through the unstimulated air, rabbits inconsiderately interrupting to cause the paging of Dr. Strunk, and the drummer in the jazz band "going to town," we settle down for the program.

Jimmy McKee, with his red bow tie and black face, mimicking Larry Parks' singing "Mammy," tucked two encores in his derby—"Toot-Toot-Tootsie, Goodbye," and "Rosie, My Posie."

The College Jazz Band had everybody beating out the rhythm to "Lady, Be Good," "You're the Cause of It All," "Blue Skies," and "How High the Moon?"

Al (old dependable) Kluth played incidental music at the beginning of the rally and also a composition for organ.

The members of the football team bashfully sprinted onto the stage to be introduced and in honor of them, a football pantomime to the "tune" of the "Night Before Christmas," was given to bring to a close the first Pep Rally of the season.

Cross Country Training Set

A group of PLC track aspirants are turning out under the tutelage of assistant track coach Ed Fischer for cross-country running. This has not been a part of the PLC athletic program in the recent past but is done in some other colleges. It provides an excellent opportunity for trackmen not turning out for other sports to get in some preparation in the fall for the spring turnouts.

Some time in the latter part of November this training will be culminated with a cross-country meet which will probably be held at Vancouver, B. C. PLC-ites turning out for this event include Leif Knutson, Jack Henderson, Duane Ulleland, and Bob Belland. There are some others including a couple of Frosh whose names were unobtainable by press time.

Moen Announces Band Meet; Tells About New Instruments

The PLC Band, under the direction of H. G. Moen, is in the process of organizing its roster of activities for the school year. In addition to the members of last year's band, several new freshmen have turned out this year. Included in this category are Charlotte Brandt, clarinet, 8 years playing experience; Joyce Ferguson, cornet, 8 years; Roy Berg, clarinet, 9 years; Roland Tobiasson, trumpet, 4 years; Natalie Lund, flute, 6 years; Norman Sorenson, cornet, 6 years.

In addition to playing at the football games, the band's main focus of attention is pointed toward its fall concert, which will be given in November. Rehearsals have already begun on this music. Plans are also being made to accompany the football team on its jaunt to Western Washington at Bellingham, next Saturday night.

New band equipment added this year includes two Conn Sousaphones, a new bass drum, snare drum, and

Dorm Girls Meet, Elect Officers, Hear Of Improvements

Election of officers was the main item of business on the slate at the first meeting of Delta Phi Kappa, an organization composed of all girls living in the dormitory. The club met Monday evening in the Viking room with Marcia Etzel, who was elected last spring to head DPK, presiding.

Chosen to fill the officers' chairs were: Jeannette Larson, senior, vice-president; Phyllis Isvick, sophomore, secretary; Louella Vig, freshman, treasurer; Carolyn Johnson, sophomore, Inter-club Council; Connie Aune, junior, social chairman; Thelma Staswick, Louise Stephensen, Pearl Jacobson and Delores Wallen, freshman, sophomore, junior and senior representatives, respectively.

Miss B. Hedahl, dean of women, and Mrs. V. G. Holstad, housemother, made announcements concerning use of laundry facilities, stating that another dryer will be here soon. They also stressed the importance of practicing courtesy in relationship with students, faculty, and others.

After the adjournment of the business meeting, Miss Aune led in devotions.

accessories. Other equipment will be added as the band expands.

Mr. Moen welcomes additional players in all sections of the band. Whether you've played recently or haven't touched a horn for some time, get in the swing of things and join the band. There are several fine instruments available at this time for use, if you don't have an instrument. If interested, see Mr. Moen in room 107, Old Main, and an audition will be arranged.

Big-Sister Tea Enjoys Success

The annual "Big-Little Sister" Tea opened this year's social program for the Associated Women Students. Ivy and fall flowers bedecked the auditorium of the Student Union Building where a record crowd of 225 big and little sisters, faculty members and friends gathered.

Glenna Nelson was Mistress of Ceremonies of the program at which greetings were given by Mrs. Holstad, Miss Hedahl and Mrs. Kreidler. Representing the senior and junior classes, Dorothy Martenson and Helen Hedin rendered organ background music. Joan Soper, sophomore, sang a soprano solo and Marilyn Hanich, freshman, played the piano. A greeting of welcome was given to the four displaced persons on our campus—Ivi and Elvi Nukk from Estonia, Arijia Abers and Inari Dermanis, both from Latvia.

Pouring at the tea were Mrs. Eastvold and Mrs. Kreidler. Committee chairmen were: Food, Elaine Eide; program, Glenna Nelson; publicity, Mary Ann Wick; invitations, Joyce Larson; clean-up, Norma Johnson; big and little sisters, Margie Anderson.

Biology Outing at Point Defiance Park

On Tuesday, October 4, the Linne Society will sponsor an outing to Point Defiance Park. Transportation is to be provided for those who have no private means of reaching the park, and the buses will leave from in front of the Science Hall at 4 p.m.

The outing will consist of a conducted tour of the museum and aquarium which will be followed by a wiener and marshmallow roast on the beach. Officers and members are expected to have the opportunity to get acquainted during the affair. The society emphasized that all old and new members, and any other persons desiring to attend, are entirely welcome to participate in the outing.

The Linne Society is a club for any person interested in the biological sciences, and it was stressed that those persons wishing further information concerning the affair or the society may contact any of the following people: Wes Benson, John Hewston, Marilyn Pflueger, Paul Asper, Armin Rosine or the adviser, Dr. Leraas.

CLASS ELECTION

Ernie Templen, and Dwight Seymour. Tabbed to vie for the post of secretary are Jackie Nelson, Rosella Albrecht, and Duane Tollefson. George Nowadnick, June Nysteen, and Verne Rockstad were named for election to treasurer, while Lillian Leikauf, Art Broback, Paul Braaffadt, and Steve Kennedy make up the possibilities for ICC representative.

The election for sophomore class officers will be held all day today. All class members are urged to vote for their choice.

Frosh Nominate Thirty

With the nomination of officers for the coming year, the freshman class began its first venture into the field of politics at PLC, on September 27, in the Old Chapel.

Del Zier, student council president, presided over the meeting and stressed the importance of selecting and electing active students, and ones that will conscientiously carry out their respective duties.

The members of the class nominated for the office of president were: Lloyd Anderson, Dick Johnson, Dave Knutson, and John McBride.

For vice-president: Jack Day, Jack Malmin, Stan Worley, and Bill Rieke were nominated.

The office of secretary will be filled by either John Dabos, JoAnn Nelson, Naomi Roe, Dorothy Sweet, or Marilyn Wallace.

Nominations for treasurer included: Mary Arnold, Bob Gregerson, Bob Marvinak, Jean Ryan, and Betty Shaw.

Inter-club Council representative: Earl Hagen, Barbara Jonson, Janice Johnson, LeRoy Johnson, Herb Neve, and Marilyn Patterson.

For the student council representative the frosh chose: Beverly Allen, Don Breimo, Joan Gardiner, Ruth Hanson, Stan Kvarn, and Harriet Olson, to run.

The election will be held in the corridor of Old main on a date that is yet to be announced.

Associated Student Body

During the last two meetings of the Associated Student Body Council, several items of business were considered. Among these were the new constitution of the Inter-club Council, and a request by the Mooring Mast for more funds with which to publish pictures of students and their activities. Both of these items of business were postponed until today when the main item of business will be the ICC constitution.

Voting Booths

A committee of one has been established by the ASB Council to have voting booths constructed in time for the election of Homecoming Queen.

The appointment of Luther Steen as the one-man committee came as the result of past considerations and as a result of a discussion held at the regular Council meeting last week.

The booths, three in all, will be found in front of Old Main, on the gravel walk just off the main library building entrance, and at the junction of the paths between the science building and the SUB. If necessary, an additional booth will be established in the ASB office in the Student Union building.

Homecoming Committee Reports

The Council also heard the report of the Homecoming Committee which was delivered by "Gez" Rosin, chairman, and Phil Falk, assistant chairman. The problems of the committee were discussed, and the Council approved an expenditure of some $105 for apparel costs.

Editor's Election Discussed

The Council discussed the advisability of electing the editor of the Mooring Mast on the same basis by which the Business Manager is selected. The Council ended in disagreement on the details of the plan to the extent that Chairman Del Zier appointed Sig Skartlund and Luther Steen to investigate the manner by which other schools select their newspaper editors, and to report their findings to the Council. In the case of the election of the Mooring Mast editor, an amendment to the constitution would become necessary as the Council has no authority to control the editor's appointment at the present time.

Replacements Voted

The other business discussed by the Council was the replacement of games in the SUB lounge, and the replacement of the now well-worn megaphones that are still in use. Both types of replacements were approved by the Council, and such replacements will be effected at an early date.
