PACIFIC LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY

DR. LOHMAN TO LECTURE ON CRIME, ITS CONTROL

Dr. Joseph D. Lohman, dean of the School of Criminology at the University of California at Berkeley, will be the guest lecturer for the second Social Life Series program Wednesday.

An outstanding authority in the fields of education, sociology, criminology, public administration and labor management, Dr. Lohman has served on almost numberless local, state and national committees. He is currently a member of the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime and the Research Advisory Council of the California State Department of Corrections.

Other positions he has held are chairman of the National Capital Planning Commission in Washington, D.C.; director of the American Correctional Association and a member of the National Academy of Arbitrators.

Dr. Lohman served as Sheriff of Cook County from December 1954 to December 1958. During this period he conducted a major clean-up campaign on crime in the Chicago area. He was elected Treasurer of the State of Illinois in November 1958 and held this position until he was appointed dean at California.

He will present three lectures at PLU. At 9:50 a.m. he will speak on the topic "The Changing Face of Crime;" at 3:30 p.m., "New Problems in Crime Control;" and at 8 p.m. "Crime and the Community."

All sessions, which are open to the public free of charge, will be held in the Eastvold Chapel auditorium.

KNIGHTS ENTERTAIN VIKINGS
IN NAIA PLAYOFF BATTLE; K.C. BERTH
AT STAKE

History repeats itself this weekend. A few names have changed and the site is different, but PLU and Western Washington meet for the third time in four years to determine the District I representative to the NAIA basketball championship in Kansas City, Mo., arch 9-14.

The first of the best-of-three games series open tonight with the second game scheduled for Saturday. A third game, if necessary, will be played Monday. All games, which start at 8 p.m., will take place in Memorial Gymnasium.

WWSO earned the right to meet PLU, the regular season Evergreen Conference champion, in this year's district playoff by defeating the Knights, 81-63, in the finals of last week's conference tournament.

PLU stopped the Vikings twice on its way to a 10-0 slate in conference play, earning 73-66 and 79-62 victories, but could not match the defense-minded Western squad in the tournament finale.

WWSO, which was listed as tenth in the nation in team defense according to last week's NAIA statistical report, held the Knights to their lowest point total of the season. In 22 games, the Vikings have yielded an average of only 60.4 points per game.

Marv Fredrickson, who reinjured his knee in last Friday's semifinal game with Whitworth, is still a doubtful performer. Otherwise the Knights should be ready to go.

Faculty and student passes are not valid for the playoff since it is an NA function, not a PLU activity. Gen'l admission tickets per game sell for $1.25 adults, $.75 students, and $.50 children and $1.50 for reserve seats.

Faculty members, who had reserve seats during the regular season, can obtain their reserve seat for $1.25 per game.

LARRY HAUGE, director of alumni relations, will fly to San Francisco this afternoon to spend the weekend at an Army Reserve staff conference at Camp Roberts, California. While in the Bay area he will also call on alumni leaders there.

SIDNEY SHELVER, admissions counselor, is on a two week trip contacting prospective students in northern Idaho and western Montana.

We have a budding author in our midst. WILLIAM BETTS, a sophomore and father of four daughters, has an article, in the current issue of "Cascades," a monthly slick magazine of Pacific Northwest Bell. The piece is entitled, "Wagon Train West to Freedom." Betts, whose wife Audrey is a PLU grad and local school music teacher, works full-time and attends here part-time.

FLORENCE QUAST, retired director of food services, recently returned to her home at Warm Beach following an 11,000-mile motor trip of the U.S. She plans to embark on a trip to Europe in March. She will fly from New York to Paris, spend two and a half months seeing the continent and return by boat sometime in June.

DOROTHY PAYNE, instructor in music, recently presented a piano concert in the Moreland Presbyterian Church in Portland.

DR. G. NDAR KING, business department, has been quite busy. He recently gave a talk entitled, "Of Students, Schools and Ships," at a meeting of the Tacoma chapter of the Propeller Club; conducted a workshop and presented the "Bennison Motors Case" for the Sales and Marketing Executives of Tacoma (a series of taped problems for this program were recorded by PAUL STEEN'S TV students). His future engagements include an address on "Trends in Materials Management" at a Regional Conference of the National Association of Purchasing Agents and a discussion of PLU's Tacoma Management Training program at a meeting of Pierce County Training Directors.

JOHN HELGESON, instructor in religion, spoke to the Lakewood Kiwanis Club last Monday evening. His topic--"Can the Churches Get Together?"--was an in-depth interpretation of the history of the ecumenical movement.

LINKA JOHNSON, registrar, and J. E. DANIELSON, director of admissions, will attend a meeting of the Washington State Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admission Councillors today at the University of Washington.

VIRGINIA LOY, coed who attended here last year, reigned as Queen of the Snows over the annual Whitefish Winter Carnival held in the Montana city recently. Virginia hopes to return to PLU next fall, we have heard.

DR. BURTON OSTENSON took a group of biology students to a regional conference of the Pacific Northwest Bird and Mammal Society last week in Portland. The district convention will be held on our campus April 11.

Several have asked if DAVID BORGLUM, freshman from Los Alto, California, is related to the famous sculptor who carved the heads of the presidents in granite at Mt. Rushmore, S.D. David's grandfather was a cousin of the sculptor.

NORMAN D. FINTEL ELECTED DIRECTOR OF ALC'S BOARD OF COLLEGE EDUCATION

Norman D. Fintel, 39, was elected executive director of the board of College Education of the American Lutheran Church at a meeting of the board in Minneapolis last Friday (Feb. 21). Fintel, who has been acting director since last August, succeeds Dr. Sidney A. Rand who left the post to become president of St. Olaf College.

Fintel has been a member of the Board of College Education staff since 1960. From 1951-60 he was director of Public Relations at Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa. He was graduated from Wartburg in 1951, and in 1959 he received a master of arts degree from the University of Wisconsin.

LCA-ALC TWIN CITY SEMINARIES MAY UNITE THEIR CAMPUSES

The possibility that Northwestern Theological Seminary, Minneapolis (LCA), will relocate to the campus of Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, moved one step closer last week when the ALC's Board of Theological Education approved the proposal. The Board voted to recommend to the ALC's biennial convention (to be held next October) that land be leased to Northwestern and that plans be worked out to integrate certain teaching and non-academic activities.

Northwestern, located in Minneapolis, has been studying the problem of campus relocation for several years.

Dr. C. H. Zeidler, Northwestern's president, said if the proposal wins approval by the ALC convention next October, the LCA school will expect to build a structure that will provide classrooms, administrative offices, and space for the school's library.

Dr. Alvin Rogness, Luther Seminary president, said that the present plan is to maintain the independence of the two schools, but there is a possibility that some courses, not in the core curriculum, could be offered on an integrated basis and that other campus activities could be undertaken jointly.

Present enrollment of Northwestern is about 100, and of Luther slightly over 500.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATERS INVADE PLU CAMPUS 1,000 STRONG

Don't be alarmed! We are not being invaded. The thundering herd of high school students you see roaming the campus are here for battle, but only in the more refined version of it--t rough debate and other areas of forencis.

There are somewhere between 700 and 1,000 students taking part in the 11th annual high school debate tournament, but as to the exact number no one knows as yet. They are afraid to count them.

This is the largest tournament of its type to be held in this area. High schools from throughout Washington, Oregon and Idaho are participating.

It would prove worthwhile to attend one of the many sessions. A schedule of events is located in the CUB lounge.

The event is being hosted and directed by the PLU Pi Kappa Delta chapter.

AGNES RUMMER RETIRES TODAY AFTER FOUR YEARS IN P. R. OFFICE

Mrs. Agnes Rummer, veteran of over four years on the university staff, has reached retirement age and is leaving the University employment as of today.

Mrs. Rummer, who loves to travel, will leave shortly on a five or six month's jaunt which will take her all over the nation. She will head first for California, then across the southern part of the country to Florida where she will visit with her son, Bruce. From there she will go up the east coast as far north as Quebec and then return home across the northern part of the U.S. She expects to return in July.

The daughter of an itinerant Lutheran pastor, the Rev. Anton Horn, Mrs. Rummer was born in Goldendale, Washington and lived in several Pacific Northwest communities. After her marriage she lived in Davenport for a number of years and her family of two sons and two daughters was reared there. In later years the Rummerts also lived in Dallas, Ore., and Vancouver, Washington.

Prior to coming to PLU she worked in the base library of Phalsburg Air Force Base in France, where her son, Bruce, who is still in the Air Force, was stationed. Since coming to Parkland she has lived in an apartment in the home of her daughter, Gloria, and son-in-law, Arne Pederson (Education). Her other son, Robert, lives in Portland, and her other daughter, Polly, lives in Spokane. Mrs. Rummer has 12 grandchildren.

Last night ladies of the staff gave a retirement party in her honor in the home of Anna Enge.

Mrs. Rummer worked in the registrar's office when she came to PLU in 1959 and she has been in the Public Relations office as a secretary since February, 1960. Good bye, Agnes. May the Good Lord be with and bless you.

SHOULD TACOMA-PIERCE COUNTY CONSOLIDATE? POSSIBILITY TO BE DISCUSSED TUESDAY NIGHT.

An unusual and interesting discussion of local government will take place Tuesday during the Young Democrat Club meeting. The session will be held at 8 p.m. in room 207 of the Administration Building.

Featured guests will be David Rowlands, Tacoma City Manager, and Harry Sprinker, Pierce County Commissioner. Faculty and staff are invited to attend the meeting.

CORRIDORS, CANCER, CIGARETTES, CLEANLINESS

--Or maybe the above heading should start with "Cigarettes" for they seem to affect the other three. We'll let the Presidential commission and the daily press talk about cigarettes and cancer. What we want to stress is the connection between cigarettes and cleanliness in our corridors at PLU. To achieve cleanliness it requires maintenance expense. This expense is increased considerably by careless smoking habits. When disposing of cigarettes (or cigars for the non-cancer smoker), smokers are urged to use the cigarette urns which are found in most hallways, rather than using the floor.
