

KnighTletter

VOL. 2 NO. 9 PACIFIC LUTHERAN UNIVERSITY December 4, 1964

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. HAUGE TO BE HELD SATURDAY AT TRINITY

Funeral services for Mrs. Philip E. Hauge, who died Thursday, will be held Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Hauge (Margrethe Jessen) had been confined to her home and was under treatment for Parkinsons disease for the past 10 years. She died in a local hospital where she had been a patient since September 1.

Born in Kjerteminde, Denmark, she came to the United States as a young girl with her parents. Her mother died in Milwaukee, Wis., and she returned to Denmark where she lived with her grandparents and went to school. She returned to the U.S. and took nurses training at Lutheran Hospital in La Cross, Wis. where she received a diploma and qualified as a registered nurse.

She then became dean of women at Red Wing Seminary in Red Wing, Minn., and later taught at Gallaway College in Arkansas.

Mrs. Hauge came to PLU in 1917 as a teacher of music and secretarial sciences. She held that post until 1922 when she was married to Dr. Hauge, who is academic vice president and dean of the college of professional and graduate studies.

The Hagues were married in Minneapolis, Minnesota on July 1, 1922. After the marriage she taught part-time at PLU, where her husband was on the faculty, as he joined the University staff in 1920.

At PLU Mrs. Hauge directed the student chorus until 1927 when Joseph O. Edwards joined the faculty and founded the Choir of the West.

(continued on page 3, column 1)

COLORFUL LUCIA BRIDE FESTIVAL SLATED FOR SATURDAY EVENING

The colorful Lucia Bride Festival, sponsored annually by the Spurs, Saturday evening will usher in a series of Christmas observances on campus. The program will start at 8 o'clock in Eastvold Chapel.

Other events coming up include the music department's Christmas program Saturday and Sunday evenings, Dec. 12 and 13, at 8, the dramatic presentation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" Dec. 16 at 8, and the Christmas candlelight service Thursday, Dec. 17, at 10:00 p.m.

Garbed in Scandinavian costumes, the members of Spurs will open Saturday night's festival program with a candlelight procession and singing the Italian song for the Swedish rite, "Santa Lucia."

Kent Hjelmervik, student body president, will crown the Lucia Bride. The identity of this person is not revealed until the coronation. Finalists for the honor are Tarina Kirkeeng of Las Vegas, Nevada, Rebecca Baseler of Gladstone, Ore., and Karen Schlatter of Seattle. All are freshmen.

The program will also include Christmas music, community singing and folk dances.

Following the program the Lucia Bride will go out on the campus quad in front of the chapel and throw a switch to illuminate the 100-foot campus Christmas tree. Background Yule music will be provided by the Brass Choir.

Scandinavian cookies, breads and coffee will be served in the Classroom building auditorium. Admission for the event, including the refreshments, will be 50¢ for adults and 25¢ for children.

DR. ROBERT MORTVEDT (president) and DR. ERICH C. KNORR (Arts & Sciences) attended the meeting of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools in Portland Tuesday and Wednesday. . . DR. ROBERT C. OLSEN (Chemistry) is attending an evaluation meeting of National Science Foundation projects for Undergraduate Research Participation Institutes in San Francisco. The meeting opened Thursday. . . MARGARET WICKSTROM (assistant dean of students) was a guest on KTNT's "Town Topics" last week. Miss Wickstrom talked about the activities of the AAUW. She is president of the Tacoma chapter. . . DR. EARL GERHEIM (biology) has been appointed as the PLU campus coordinator for the Arts and Sciences division of the Republican party. . . DR. RICHARD LANGTON (dean of students) represented PLU at the retirement banquet of Dr. Joseph A. Chandler, executive secretary of the Washington Education Association last Wednesday in Seattle. Dr. Chandler holds an honorary doctor of laws degree from PLU. . . DONALD PATTIE (biology) is a member of the board of directors of Tacoma Zoological Society. . . J. E. DANIELSON (admissions) is on a two-week trip to Montana contacting prospective students, pastors, and high school counselors. . . O. M. JORDAHL (physics) will attend the Washington State Section meeting of the American Association of Physics Teachers at Pullman, Washington, Saturday, Dec. 5. Papers to be presented at this meeting will deal with recent research and problems related to the teaching of Physics. . . Congratulations are in order to Mr. & Mrs. John (Nancy) Kleberg on the birth of a daughter, Kathryn Ann, at 11:28 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 18, in Tacoma. Nancy worked in the bookstore until recently. . . GAIL DURHAM (foreign languages) took a header on the ski slopes over the weekend and is hobbling around with her right leg in a walking cast. The torn ligament will confine her skiing activities to the arm chair for a few weeks. . . DR. MORTVEDT spent Thursday and Friday of this week in Seattle soliciting support from industry for the independent colleges of Washington. . . A DEAN BUCHANAN (business manager) spent Monday through Wednesday on the same type of mission over in central Washington.

(continued on page 3, column 1)

Faculty using films should return them to the Library immediately after use. If they reach the Library after 4 p.m. and cannot be mailed out that day, it may result in an extra day's rental charge. This may be especially serious on Fridays if the film must wait until Monday to be mailed, resulting in several day's extra charges. Therefore, all persons are urged to return films to the Library as promptly as possible.

* * *

Everyone is reminded of the University family Christmas dinner next Wednesday, Dec. 9, at 7 p.m. at the Top of the Ocean. Because of the large number of people on the University staff, it is essential that guests be limited to spouses. In order that proper reservations can be made all persons who CANNOT attend are requested to call the President's secretary, ext. 212, by Monday.

* * *

All members of the University family are eligible to purchase reserve seats for all home basketball games at a discount. This ticket, which regularly sells for $15.00 to the general public, is available to university personnel for only $5.00. It assures you of a reserve seat for each game plus a reserve parking space close to the gym. With the construction of the new swimming pool parking will be a premium this year.

* * *

The Bookstore will have an advance sale of tickets for the PLU-UPS game next Tuesday at UPS. Tickets can be purchased now at the Bookstore.

* * *

We have had current problems with heating various rooms in the Administration Building. We are trying to correct the difficulties as soon as we can. Meanwhile, individuals who tamper with the controls complicate the problem. Please leave to the heating engineer, the adjustment of all controls requiring tools. Report heating difficulties to the Assistant Business Manager, ext. 241.

* * *

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. HAUGE (con't)

Mrs. Hauge was an accomplished soloist and taught voice. She was a member of the Faculty Wives Quartet which sang at school, church and public functions throughout the Pacific Northwest during the era of about 1925 to 1945. Other members of the quartet were Mrs. Clifford O. Olson, Mrs. A. W. Ramstad and Mrs. J. U. Xavier.

Active in church and community life, Mrs. Hauge was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church where for many years she was director of the choir. She founded the junior choir there and taught Sunday School. She was president of the Parish Guild for several terms.

She was a member of the Soroptomists Club of Tacoma and the Parkland Drama Club.

In addition to her husband she is survived by a son, Lawrence J., who is director of alumni relations at PLU; a daughter, Mrs. Janet C. Carlson, of Centralia; two brothers, Peter J. Jessen of Astoria, Ore., and Walter Jessen of New Lisbon, Wis., and seven grandchildren.

The family requests that memorial gifts be channeled to the Organ Fund of Trinity Lutheran Church or the general scholarship fund at PLU.

Funeral arrangements are being held under the direction of Dryer Mortuary, and interment will take place in Mountain View Cemetery.

* * *

ROUND TABLE

ALLEN LOVEJOY (ass't to the bus. mgr.), BUCHANAN and the big three of student personnel services (LANGTON, WICKSTROM, JOHNSON) spent Thursday on the Western Washington campus in Bellingham touring the dormitory facilities in Vikingland. . .they are getting ideas for the new women's dorm which must get on the drawing boards soon if it is to be started in 1965. . .CONGRATULATIONS to two of our staff members who were married recently. CAROL BECK (bus. office) is now Mrs. James R. Alphin and PHYLLIS PETERSON (Dean of Students) is now Mrs. Douglas Mjorud.

* * *

CHOIR TO GIVE CONCERTS SUNDAY AT MCNEIL ISLAND, FORT LEWIS

Professor Maurice H. Skones will take his 63-voice Choir of the West to McNeil Island and Fort Lewis Sunday for three concert appearances.

At 2 p.m. the choir will give a Christmas program in the main auditorium of the Federal Penitentiary on the island out in Puget Sound, and at 3:30 the group will appear at the Camp. A supper will be served prior to their debarking on the 5:30 boat for Steilacoom.

The main chapel at Fort Lewis will be the setting for their 7 p.m. concert, an annual event on the military installation.

Several other Christmas appearances are scheduled for the choir. Monday, Dec. 14, they will sing at the annual Christmas tea of the Association for Childhood Education to be held at the Idlewil School. The next day they will sing for the Downtown Kiwanis Club, and on Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the Bank of California.

* * *

BASKETBALL FORCES OPEN SEASON THIS WEEKEND AT ELLENSBURG

Knight basketball followers will get an opportunity to see how their young team can perform under fire when the men of Lundgaard open their season at the Evergreen Conference Tip-Off Tournament in Ellensburg this weekend. Play started last night when the Lutes were slated to meet Whitworth in the first round of the eight-team event.

If PLU won they will meet the winner of the Central-Seattle Pacific tilt tonight. If they lost they will play this afternoon against the loser.

* * *

DECEMBER BIRTHDAYS

| | |
|------------------|-------------|
| Clayton Peterson | December 7 |
| Ethel Holmes | December 8 |
| Erich Knorr | December 11 |

* * *

Wayne Aller, who was an instructor in psychology from 1962-64, pens a letter from Beirut where he accepted a position as instructor this year at the University of Beirut. Following are some excerpts from his letter:

"The weather is warm and humid. We've yet to have a cloudy day. The highs have ranged from 82 to 79, the lows from 78 to 73 -- with relative humidity always between 65 to 95 per cent. I wouldn't mind a little western Washington drizzle about now."

Some of the interesting experiences of the Allers include: one a roadblock, "On our way into the city from the airport we were stopped by an armed roadblock of about 8 soldiers--Sharon and I were scared--no words were spoken. Our driver simply turned on the overhead light, stopped, and in about 10 seconds we were on our way again. We were told that this was S.O.P. since the attempted coup here in 1958." Secondly, the pray-calling method employed by the mosques, "We got to our room the first night about 3 a.m. and were almost asleep when this terrible, loud, poor quality record just about blasted us out of bed. At the time we didn't know it was a record and thought maybe the country was being invaded and this was an alarm. I stepped out on the balcony and saw that it was coming from a mosque about a block away. Just then another one started at a mosque a block-an-a-half in the other direction. These records, calling the faithful to prayer, are played 5 times daily. (One of the times happens to be 4 a.m.) A few big mosques use live criers."

Wayne's impressions of Beirut are as follows:

"First, I'm sure its the noisiest city in the world; next, it's the wildest and has the worst drivers in the world; and then, there's its overall physical appearance and the people.

"The noises come from (a) chickens on little farms sprinkled throughout the city, (b) little push-cart peddlers yelling out what they have to sell, (c) dogs --at least where we live there seems to be a lot of them running loose and barking all night, (d) the aforementioned mosques (e) thousands of cars honking all the time and people yelling (f) and then all this noise echoing back and forth in the canyons of stone and concrete which composes the apartments.

"The traffic in Beirut is unbelievable! There are 700,000 people with about as many cars per person as the U.S. Average. Yet there are only 3 traffic lights or stop signs in all of Beirut as far as I know. So when you approach an intersection you honk repeatedly and bluff the next guy out. Arm signals and right-of-way have no meaning. All of these people learned to drive from French taxi cab drivers, I think. A few streets are one-way, but even that doesn't mean too much.

"Ninety per cent of Beirut's people live in apartments and the average apartment building is about 9 stories high--with many 12-18 stories. Then there are several fabulous hotels along the sea. This gives the city an impressive skyline. The mountains rise from the edge of the city--in fact the city extends up into the mountains--all the roads up are lined for miles with villas summer homes, shoper, night clubs, etc. The lights from all this are beautiful at night.

"Most of the people in Ras Beirut, where we live, are fairly westernized, although maybe 10 % of the Moslem women wear black hoods completely over their heads and black dresses and about 10 % of the men wear either white gowns or white head dresses.

"Teaching conditions have been fairly grim so far--not enough books on order so students without books, no equipment for experimental psychology which I'm teaching this semester, and no handouts for students and trouble getting them done because of only one secretary and mimeographer for the entire faculty--50 strong. This is really a mission school. The psychology holdings of the library are very weak with about $70 per year to spend. The campus is attractive, but small, and the girl's English knowledge is very limited. The Educational standards of the entire Middle East are very low."

Wayne's address is: Wayne K. Aller, c/o Beirut College for Women, Box 4080, Beirut, Lebanon.

* * *