ALUMNI GATHER FOR REUNION

Graduates and former students of Pacific Lutheran College will gather on the campus for their annual reunion Friday, February 8 through Sunday, February 10. For the last three years the reunion has been a one-day affair, but this year the alumni are returning to their former three-day schedule.

Starting off the activity for the week-end will be a basketball game in the Parkland gym with Cheney.

A tentative schedule for Saturday includes an afternoon get-together with punch and cookies served in the Viking Room. Later the alumni will gather in the chapel for a general assembly where a musical program will precede the business meeting.

The third big event on Saturday will be the reunion banquet in the College dining hall. The 1946 senior class has been invited to this banquet and at this time will be accepted as official members of the Alumni Association.

After the banquet the group will adjourn to another basketball game with Cheney which will take place at 8:30 in the Parkland gym.

In keeping with the usual custom, an alumnus will be the guest pastor at the morning services held in Trinity Lutheran Church. Special musical numbers are being planned.

The annual concert will be given by the "Choir of the West" in Trinity Church at 3:00 under the direction of Professor G. J. Malmin.

Dr. Steen Accepts Call To Parkland Church

Dr. E. B. Steen of Menomonie, Wisconsin, has accepted a call from Trinity Church here in Parkland.

For the past ten years Dr. Steen has been pastor of Our Savior's Church in Menomonie. Arriving here with his wife and five children soon after Easter, he will begin his duties as pastor of Trinity Church and also as college pastor.

Dr. Steen was a recent visitor on our campus and a guest speaker in our chapel. He succeeds the Rev. N. B. Thorpe who is now pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Santa Barbara.

Travelers Return to PLC After Precarious Trips

Traveling was a precarious business for those PLC-ites who had to journey long distances home for the holidays, judging from a sampling of student travelogues.

Helen Marie Lund drove home for the holidays to Bountiful, Utah, along with her fiance, Don Anderson, who is just out of the Army and will begin school here next semester. After driving through the treacherous winter weather of the Rocky Mountains, Helen arrived home safely, only to spend several days ill in bed.

La Vonne Densow and Donna Jean Brammer, traveling to Genesee and Gifford, Idaho, respectively, told of digging into Christmas funds to order a full course chicken dinner, with all the trimmings, just to be able to sit down for a

Dean Hauge Returns to PLC Staff

Lt. Col. Ph. E. Hauge has returned to his position of Dean at Pacific Lutheran College after serving in the army air corps for over three years. Dean Hauge has been affiliated with PLC as Dean and Registrar since 1926.

Dr. (Lt. Col.) Philip E. Hauge, who has now resumed his duties as dean and registrar of PLC, emphasized to your reporter that, despite the many changes that have taken place during his absence, returning to the College is definitely "returning home."

Dr. Hauge pointed out that he first came to PLC at the conclusion of World War I. Now, returning to the campus after three and a half years of participation in the second global war, he feels more than ever the importance of the work of this school as a Christian institution.

Dean Hauge expressed appreciation of the complete cooperation of his colleagues, the administration, and the students. He especially commended the capable work of Acting Dean Harold Romning during his absence, and his willing assistance at his return.

He was much impressed by the changes made during his absence, but is still more interested in the future progress. He expressed the hope that PLC, even in the fulfillment of its formidable expansion program, will never become self-satisfied.

NEW SCHOOL DOCTOR

Dr. J. L. Vadheim, new school doctor, will be at school Tuesday, January 29, from 10-12 a. m. and Tuesday, February 5, 10-12 a. m. He will examine all students whom he has not previously given a checkup.

Concordia Choir To Present Concert

Choir From Moorehead, Minnesota Will Appear Tuesday, Feb. 5

Students and faculty members of choir conscious PLC are looking forward to the local appearance of the Concordia College a capella choir, directed by Paul J. Christiansen, which will appear in concert at Central Lutheran Church, Tacoma, Tuesday, February 5, at 8:15 p. m. The local concert will be sponsored by the PLC Dormitory Auxiliaries, with Mrs. Cliff Olson as chairman.

The 62-voice choir from Moorhead, Minnesota, is devoting three weeks to a concert tour from Minnesota to the Pacific Coast and into Canada. This is its 26th annual tour.

Director Christiansen, son of the well-known choir director and composer, F. Melius Christiansen, is a graduate of St. Olaf College and holds the Master of Music degree in composition from the Eastman School of Music. He is known in the East as composer of orchestral music and in the Middle West as director of acapella choirs.

Three groups of sacred songs will be presented by the choir. Introducing the first group will be Tchaikowsky's "O Praise Ye God," followed by a motet for double chorus by Johann Sebastian Bach,

Pres. Eastvold Appoints Building Committees

Three faculty committees have been appointed by Dr. S. C. Eastvold to work with the Board of Trustees in planning for and locating future buildings on the campus.

Working with the architects and the administration on the science hall is a committee composed of the three science instructors, Dr. O. M. Jordahl, Dr. W. H. Schaefer and Prof. A. W. Ramstad. On the gymnasium committee are Coach Cliff Olson, Dr. J. P. Pflueger and Mrs. Walter E. Young.

Prof. L. J. Satre, Miss Grace Blomquist, and Prof. A. E. Fritz are on the committee planning for the girls' dormitory.

Prof. E. M. Akre heads another committee, which will work out a future landscaping program. This committee includes all the members of the faculty not otherwise appointed to special duty in the building program.

College Given Funds for Tower Chapel, Elevator

At the very top of Old Main a miniature Tower Chapel will be located some time in the future. This chapel will be the gift of an at present anonymous friend of the college. During the hour of dedication, the friend has promised to allow his name to be announced.

Among the friends of PLC is Mr. Chris Knutzen of Burlington, Washington, who has presented a gift of $10,000.00 for the purpose of installing an elevator in Old Main. The six floors of this building, including the ground floor, make an elevator necessary both for passengers and for freight. The elevator is expected to be ready for use in September, 1946.

Returning Veterans Are Offered Scholarships

Young men whose college educations were interrupted by the war are enrolling at PLC in increasing numbers. In the neighborhood of 100 veterans are expected to be enrolled by the fall term of 1946, according to President Eastvold.

Special scholarships, in the form of free tuition, up to and including six hours of work, are available to the wives of attending veterans. The Administration is making efforts to improve the housing situation for returned service men and their families.

Finis

With this issue I pass the pen to my successor and cast a deep sigh, half of relief and half of sorrow — relief from haunting the staff reporters when their stuff fails the deadline, and from dodging our staff adviser when my own editorials are still aborning; sorrow to be leaving the cooperative editorial staff, the bustle of M. M. week, and Mrs. Franck's blue pencil.

I bequeath to the new editor, Alice Brudie, the headache of composing headlines and the pleasure of being initiated into the Press Club of Parkland (the initiation being a trip to Park-and-Shop for a never-to-be-forgotten, delectable dish called Skyscraper).

And so, like Father Time, I hobble out of office and once more join the reading throng.

It's Not Catchy

Are you skinny, run-down, tired, listless? Do you jump at the sound of every bell or suffer from insomnia and headaches? You do? Ah-h-h-h! Hm-m-m-m . . . Just as we thought! You are a last-minute crommer suffering from an acute case of "quizitis Worriosis."

Now don't get panicky—(we've never lost a patient yet) but the illness must run its course this time; however, since one attack does not guarantee immunity, may we suggest the following precautions for the future. (1) Regular study hours every day, supplemented by readable notes; (2) reviewing at the first signs of forgetfulness. This method is the only reliable preventative for the disease — short cuts being advocated only by quacks and lazy students.

What Shall We Spend Ours On?

You've seen him—the little boy with the rusty nail and string stuffed pockets—equally conscious of the new vacancy left by a tooth and the ten brown pennies clutched in his hand. You've seen him shift from one foot to another before the candy counter—his tongue exploring the tooth hole and his eyes wandering reflectively over the counter. Ten pennies to spend—all his—but what for? Carmels, suckers, jelly beans and gum drops—what shall he spend his ten pennies on?

What has that to do with PLC? We have something to spend too! We have about 350 days of a brand-new year to spend but the question is—"What on?" Let's pause for a minute, like the little boy at the candy counter, and decide just WHICH aims, WHICH goals, WHICH values, we will try to buy with our budgeted coins.

Looking Ahead

It is natural as one year draws to a close and another begins, to take stock of our past accomplishments, and to look ahead to further possible achievements.

As the plans for the coming year are being made, we pay tribute to those who have made this past year so successful, with regard to the expansion of Pacific Lutheran College.

We can be confident that the year 1946 will be filled with achievement, when we remember that during the last two years more than three hundred thousand dollars has been raised for the college expansion program.

A science hall, new gymnasium, new girls' dormitory, sewage disposal plant and a college shop are among the campus projects, the plans of which are nearing completion. The sum of $70,000.00 has been budgeted by the Board of Trustees for the science hall, a three story structure in which the present gymnasium will be incorporated.

The gymnasium and girls' dormitory are expected to be ready for use when school opens in September, 1946.

The execution of the present plans for expansion and improvements will depend upon the spirit in which the challenge of fund-raising is accepted by Christian friends of PLC.

ELECTED PRESIDENT

Miss Anna Marn Nielsen, director of teacher training at P.L.C., was elected President of the Washington State Council of Administrative Women in Education at a meeting of that organization, held Thursday, December 27, at the Gowman Hotel in Seattle. Mrs. Ruth Bethel, Acting County Superintendent of Pierce County, was chosen secretary.

WITH THE LUTE IN THE SERVICE

Sergeant Clarence Monson, ex '34, who has been overseas 2 years and 3 months, arrived in San Francisco November 20 from the Pacific theater. Before receiving his discharge at Fort Lewis, however, he suffered a relapse of malaria and for a time was confined to Madigan General hospital. Clarence, former student in the College of Education, will enroll at PLC the second semester for his senior year. Before entering the service, he taught at McKinley School in Tacoma.

Recent visitors on the campus were Bill Jolly, ex '41, and Donald Sloan, ex '42, both of whom have served with the Merchant Marine. Bill, home on leave in Tacoma, plans to continue in the service, while Don, recently discharged, will attend PLC the second semester.

Robert Herness, College of Education, '42, will begin teaching school December 3 in East Olympia. Recently discharged from the Naval Air Corps, Bob made a cross country trip from Maine to Washington by car. Mr. and Mrs. Herness (Dorothy Fristo, ex '41) are the parents of a son, Robert Jr.

Earl Platt, '41, will coach senior high school athletics and teach some elementary work in Winlock, Wash., where he has accepted a teaching position. Earl started teaching on December 3.

"Chuck" Billingsley, high school student body president, '44, is another former student who will resume his studies here this coming semester. An Army Air Corps cadet for two years, he has just been discharged from Chandler Field, Arizona.

Harvey Tollfeldt, ex '42, plans to enroll at the University of Washington next semester. Harvey was discharged November 15 from the Army Air Corps, where he had received special training as a radar pilot. His sisters, Lois and Louise, are now attending PLC.

 Census reports from the gym classes show startling increase in the normal population—just before exams! Hm-m, "Never do today what you can put off till tomorrow" seems to be the motto of more than one Lute Lassie.

GLADIATORS DOWN SEATTLE PACIFIC

PLC's Gladiators started the new year on a victorious note as they defeated the Seattle Pacific College quintet by a score of 53 to 30 in a game played at Seattle January 4.

The Lutes scored first as Gene Harkness sank a field goal seconds after the opening whistle sounded, giving them the lead which they held throughout the contest. The haltime score favored the Lutherans by a 27 to 12 lead.

The game was a hotly contested affair all the way with the players spending a good part of their time on the floor scrambling after the ball. A total of 47 fouls were called, 25 against the winning Lutes.

LUTES AGAIN DOWN SPC

Winning their second game in as many days from the Seattle Pacific College five, the Gladiators toppled the Seattle team by a 44 to 27 count on the Parkland maples January 5.

The game was a repetition of the previous night's contest as the Lutes took an early lead and were ahead during the entire affair. Haltime found the victors enjoying a lead of 17 points, 32 to 15. Personal fouls were again numerous, totaling 39, 8 less than the previous night's amazing 47.

Ernie Perrault, the Lutheran's stellar guard, led the individual scoring with 17 points, Harkness and Mills, 7 each, and Neal and Hauge, 4. Substitutes ran up a total of 5 points.

Lutes Drop Thriller To Bellingham, 50-40

Coach Marv Harshman's PLC Gladiators almost stopped the high flying Western Washington College of Education Vikings on the Parkland maples last Saturday night.

Although the Lutes finally were defeated 50 to 40 they fought until the final gun and probably caused more than a little anxiety on the Bellingham bench.

The Lutherans were out to even up a 63 to 30 defeat suffered two nights previous at the hands of the same opponent and they came very close to turning the trick, much closer than the final score indicates.

Getting their offense rolling early in the game the Gladiators were in command of things during the entire first period, enjoying a 27 to 17 lead at haltime. They were able to hold the lead during ten minutes of the final half. Here the superior reserve power of the Vikings made itself felt. While the Lute regulars were tiring from the terrific pace, Coach Lappenbusch was able to send in his starting five to take charge of the game. The regulars slowly overcome the Lute's lead and then surged out in front and went on to win by 10 points. But they had to work for every basket they scored right up to the final gun.

Kids Will Go "Gaga" Over Pictures in Saga

"Sagas. Sagas, who wants a Saga? Can't leave school in May without a Saga." Hey, that's rather early isn't it? The calendar says it is only Jan. 18. What's the catch?

The "catch" is simply this, that unless you order your Saga now and make a down payment of $1.50, you will have to leave school at the end of the term minus that indispensable record of your campus year.

And now that you've earned your $1.50—or did you say you had the whole three dollars and fifty cents—now what? Well, you can hand it over to one of the Saga salesmen who will call on you personally. So start "digging" when you see any one of these collectors heading in your direction—Selma Gunderson, Daphne Hellman, Norma Lemke, Joan Satern, Carolyn Severeid, Ken Douglas, Erl Nordeng, and Cal Watness. Ken Storaasli is in charge of this crew.

Ruth Jensen, business manager of the Saga, says that anyone who wants to help on the business staff should offer his services. Now that solves the problem of what to do with your extra time, O.K. so you don't have much extra time? Well, just offer your help anyway.

Concordia Choir

"Be Not Afraid," "The Kingdom of God," a chorale arranged by F. Melius Christiansen, "Father Most Holy," and Gustav Schreck's "Advent Motet," complete the first group.

In the second group are "We Have No Other Guide," adapted from the Russian liturgy by Shvedov; the "Lost Pleiad," by the director, Paul J. Christiansen; "Exaltation," by F. Melius Christiansen; "Evening," by Zoltan Kodaly, and the chorale, "From Heaven Above," arranged by F. Melius Christiansen.

The third group will include "Clap Your Hands," "Lullaby on Christmas Eve," and "Praise to the Lord," by F. Melius Christiansen; and a melody of the Znamen tradition, "Glory Be to God," by Sergei Rachmaninoff.

Optional numbers in the repertoire include "The Three Kings," an old Catalan nativity song; "Den Store Hvide Flok," by Edvard Grieg, and F. Melius Christiansen's "Beautiful Savior."

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from Miss Grace Blomquist. The prices are 75 cents for students and $1.25 for adults.

Travelers Return

couple of hours in the dining car. June Apland and Melvin "Tiny" Osterli traveled by train to Patterson and Sacramento, California, respectively; and despite the customary discomforts of present day train travel they were "just happy to be home."

Carol Drew had the choice of standing up or sitting on her suitcase all the way home to Gardner, Montana. Her travelogue mentions a constant diet of cheese sandwiches (presented by admiring soldier passengers) and nine days spent at home in bed with the flu.

Evidence that there is still a manpower shortage could be seen in the passenger list of a group traveling to Spokane in the car of Dolores Keller's father, the Rev. M. H. Keller. Roll call was answered by Lorraine Lundquist and Norma Lemke, on their way to Missoula, Montana; Gudrún Holm, who went on to Idaho; and Vera Buth and Dolores Keller, who live in Fairfield, Washington. The one lucky boy to ride along was Calvin Watness of Spokane!

Borghild Olberg went home by train to San Diego, California, and returned with her husband, First Lieutenant Joel Olberg, on leave from the Marines. Also among those who journeyed to San Diego were Borghild's sister, Valborg Rustad, and Vernon and Doris Berg. As a result of radiator trouble with the car Vern was driving, he had to stop about every three miles to drain the radiator into a small tin can.

Miss Clara J. Chilson was welcomed by four feet of snow and 15 below zero weather upon her arrival by train at her home town, Webster, South Dakota. But like a true Midwesterner, she thrived on the sub-zero temperature, and returned to sympathize with the flu victims among the home guards.

LaVerne Linnerson, who traveled to Omaha, Nebraska, had an enjoyable time at home, and doesn't seem to remember how he got there or came back. 'Nuf said.

The Mooring Mast wishes a speedy recovery to Louise Tollfeldt who has been ill with the flu.
